The content of the enclosure, a reprint of a November, 1968, article in "The Crisis" magazine of the NAACP was discussed on 1/15/69 with [redacted] Both stated they had previously read this article and agreed 100 per cent with its content and are of the definite opinion that responsible Negro leadership, certainly in Kansas City, Mo., should proclaim their views (along the same views outlined in the article) who oppose any seeding or growth of black extremism in Kansas City, Mo. They recall discussing this need between themselves and with [redacted] recently because of an apparent increasing mood nationally and to some extent locally to adopt and/or carry out publicized Black Extremist views and activity elsewhere in the country. [redacted] as well as other racial sources in the Kansas City Division continue to state there is no known actual forming or existence of a Black Extremist group. However, the seeds of possible Black Extremism are believed to be dormant in the Kansas City area in the mood of several Negro youths.

Counterintelligence Operations in Effect
Against the Black Panther Party (BPP)

An anonymous letter is being sent to [redacted] in which it is set forth that the BPP has made statements in closed meetings that when the armed rebellion comes the whites in the PFP will be lined up against the wall with the rest of the whites. It is hoped this will cause friction between the BPP and the PFP.

A three-month subscription to the "Black Panther Newspaper" has been sent to the Black Panther Party, Box 2967, Custom House, San Francisco, California, 94126, from a deceased Negro. In the same envelope is a $1 bill in the preprinted envelope for the Newton-Cleaver Defense Fund with a Los Angeles address indicating that the Los Angeles BPP has been soliciting donations and converting to own use. It is hoped this will cause disruption between the BPP of Oakland, California, and Los Angeles.

Counterintelligence Operations

Referenced letter pointed out that the BPP objected to [redacted] use of the BPP to spread Communist Party (CP) ideology. The BPP is considering the possibility of expelling [redacted] from the BPP. The Los Angeles Office is considering what action might be taken in this regard to cause further disruption within the BPP.

Succinct summary of Black Nationalist Movement in Indianapolis Division:

A. Nation of Islam (NOI)

The NOI has noticed an appreciable drop in total attendance in the Indianapolis Division, with a total of about 140 to 145 persons attending meetings. Responsible for the drop in attendance is the South Bend mosque which before had 100 to 125 persons, and which now has been having only 50 persons in attendance.

There are seven cities in the Indianapolis Division with temples or mosques and they are Evansville, Fort Wayne, Muncie, Gary, Indianapolis, East Chicago and South Bend. Evansville, East Chicago, Fort Wayne and Muncie are all struggling with only four to six members. Muncie no longer has a place to meet which adds to their existing struggle. Indianapolis had 27 members and Gary has about 45 members at present. The only two mosques are #31 in South Bend and #33 in Gary, Indiana.

The NOI groups in the Indianapolis Division have not caused or planned any violence to date, but the possibility for such is always present. The ministers of the groups in Indiana received their instructions from NOI headquarters in Chicago, Illinois and adhere to the teachings of ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, their leader.

B. Radical Action Project (RAP)

RAP, also known as Black Radical Action Project (BRAP), continues to operate in Indianapolis and are now at a new location, 2264 North Meridian Street, Indianapolis [redacted] continues to [redacted] RAP has received several grants or funds from various church and civic organizations and is presently the most financially sound group in the Indianapolis Division. RAP has used their funds primarily to help the black community to date by giving toys to children at Christmas, food at Thanksgiving, and helping to pay defense attorney fees for various Negro persons who have been arrested. In addition, their funds help to keep [redacted] and the other leaders of RAP financially well endowed. [redacted] RAP also runs an Afro-American Book Store and Art Shop, which is on the first floor underneath RAP headquarters, which is on the second floor. [redacted] of the book store. The book store also helps to aid RAP financially.

RAP to date has operated within the framework of the law and no violence has been attributed to them. As long as they continue to have funds, it is felt that they do not pose a threat of violence; however, should this change, a given incident might change their present attitude. The size of their organization at present is approximately 20 persons at most who are considered active.

C. Black Panther Party - Indianapolis Chapter (BPP)

The BPP is located at 113 West 30th Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, and as of the last several months has been the most active organization in Indianapolis. The BPP initially had a large following when they began in about October, 1968, but now have only about 10 to 20 persons who are active. There has been dissention among the leaders since its inception with the former Minister of Defense leaving the organization. The present [redacted] Negro male, born [redacted] mentioned above.

The present Minister of Defense [redacted] is presently the spokesman for the BPP in Indianapolis and from all appearances seems to be taking over control, with [redacted] moving into the background. All activities of the BPP have been followed by letter sent every other week.

D. Afro, Afro-American Student Association (AAASA)

The Afro, Afro-American Student Association, at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana, was formed during the first semester of the 1968-69 academic year, with [redacted] as the organizer. [redacted] writes articles for the IU "Spectator", weekly newspaper of Indiana University, but does not write concerning the AAASA. The organization has had meetings but has not proposed any demonstrations or made any demands on the university. A similar group formed in South Bend, Indiana, also has very limited activity. They proposed a picket line and demonstration to be held at the UCLA vs. Notre Dame basketball game, which was nationally televised; however, school authorities stated that they could demonstrate in the lobby only and not on the court where the television cameras were or they would be arrested. The group, therefore, did not proceed with the demonstration as they could not get in front of the cameras which was what they wanted.

1. Operations under Consideration

Plans under consideration at this time include continuation of interviewing the active members of the various organizations and, in addition, to try to continue to promote the jealousies and differences of opinion of the various groups and leaders through informants and interviews.

2. Operations Being Affected

Contact with [redacted] has been continued with the purpose of helping to keep the various groups and leaders of the community separated, thus not allowing a mass uniting of the Negro or black community. Other operations have included encouraging the jealousy between the BPP and the other various groups, as the BPP was rapidly gaining popularity. The Negro community was made aware, however, of the misuse of these funds by the BPP through informants and other groups and, therefore, their membership has fallen from over 200 persons to about 15 active members which they now have.

3. Tangible Results

Despite the fact that Indianapolis has about a 25 per cent Negro population, the fact exists that the various Negro organizations have not united to date and no major disturbances have taken place.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

In interviewing various members of the different organizations, successes of their competition are pointed out in a way so that they become more jealous of their brothers in the other black organizations. Using informants in this manner has also helped to add to the animosity between the various groups and has served to further help keep the groups from uniting.

For the information of the Bureau, the 1/18/69 issue of the "Forward Times", leading Negro newspaper, Houston, Texas, carried a two page article including narrative and numerous photographs relative to a social event which was held by Houston NOI Mosque No. 45. The photographer for the "Forward Times" newspaper was authorized to photograph and prepare this article by RAYMOND 5X WATLINGTON, the NOI Minister at Houston.

It is felt that this is an opportunity to conduct a counter-intelligence move against the NOI and the following proposal is being made:

Ticklish Assignment Turns Warm

by EDDIE WATSON, Staff photographer

WHEN I accepted the assignment from the Managing Editor and noted a ticket to a banquet, my first thought was of a good meal. After noticing where and by whom the banquet was being given, I thought I had better go home and eat.

You see, my ticket was for a Muslim banquet at the Houston Mosque!

I was assured by my Managing Editor, Varee Shields that the ticket was to get me and my camera into Mosque #45 on Polk Avenue. I started to take my old camera on this assignment because I had heard so much you-know-what about the Muslims. I thought about what I had read about the Houston Muslims kicking the white press out of a meeting not too long ago.

After letting the FTimes office staff know where I was going, I started getting all kinds of advice. Some said there would be no meat served at the banquet. Some said I would be searched before being allowed to enter. I was told to keep my eyes open, but not to ask too many questions.

I went home and told my lovely wife that I was going to attend a banquet and would have my dinner there. She was elated because she would not have to cook.

I looked at the ticket and noted that the banquet started at 6:00 p.m. and wondered why I was told to be there between 6-6:30 p.m.

I left home in plenty of time to be there at 6:00 p.m., but I drove slowly to kill as much time as possible.

When I finally arrived, I was met by a man who showed me where to park. I got my camera and pack, put extra film in my pocket, got my pad and locked my car. As I reached the door to the Mosque, I discovered that I had forgotten a pencil. But the man who had helped me park gave me his pen with the compliments of the Muslims. The man had been very nice--every reply had been "Yes sir," "No Sir."

Two men in black suits opened the Mosque door for me and on the inside I met my contact. I was expecting somebody to stop and search me, but that did not happen.

Minister Raymond X, my contact, shook hands and invited me inside the banquet room. I asked when the major speech would begin and was told it had been given.

RAYMOND X carried me directly to the guest speaker and had him to stop eating and pose for a photograph. The minister told me it was all right to take a picture of any kind that I wanted to and that he would help me identify them.

Minister Raymond X also told me he would show me how the men were honoring the women. He said that the men were all working in and around the banquet room, and that all the women had to do was sit and the men would serve them.

All the Muslim women there wore long dresses and something like a scarf on their heads. Even the little girls wore something on their heads.

I tried to get a glimpse of the food, but the serving had just started and I could not see anything but some black roll-type bread.

I asked Raymond X if I could go and see where the food was being prepared. I was carried upstairs and got a good look at the food. I did not recognize any pork.

I talked my way from table to table and answered questions such as: What newspaper did I represent? What I would do with the photos? Everybody said, "Yes sir" and "No sir." The Muslim sect is very courteous and polite, even to members of their own group.

AFTER WALKING around and taking pictures here and there, I was ready to eat. The men and women smiled, but were involved in little conversation at this point.

I went upstairs alone and told one of the white-coated waiters that I wanted to eat. I was asked my choice between beef or turkey. I had roast beef, two vegetables and one black roll. I was offered coffee, but declined graciously. I had apple pie with breaded crust for desert. I enjoyed every bit of the food.

After eating, I went downstairs for more photos. Everyone was very kind and courteous.

A band from San Antonio was there and playing. There was no dancing. But from the expressions on faces in the audience, everybody enjoyed the music, talking as they did so.

JUST THEN Raymond X asked me if everything was all right. I assured him it was and that I would like some pictures of the women. He said he would send them out into the hallway for photos. In the hallway was a small table set buffet-style with the usual things--potato chips, olives, crackers, devils eggs. The only drink I noticed was water and coffee.

The honored women came out into the hall and I was told lovely Beverly X was their chief in Houston. I found out that there were three women chiefs--they're called Captains--from other cities present.

As I arranged the women for pictures, I would sometimes use my hands, putting one hand on a woman to place her in position to make better photo composition.

After the second photo and hand action, a man walked up behind me and whispered in my ear that it was a sin for me to touch their women and not to put my hands on them. I thanked him and never looked backed to see who had given the advice.

My photo session was soon over because I had already taken over my quota. It was almost 10:00 p.m. and the dinner was scheduled to be over at that hour. So, I started packing my equipment and there stood Minister Raymond X asking if I had enjoyed myself.

The Mosque door was opened for me and I was out in the good night air. I took a good big breath of air and started for my car. And behold, there was a man in a black suit walking with me. The man waited until I locked my camera in my car trunk and saw me off. The man in the black suit was very kind and courteous. He said goodnight to me.

HO--HUM. . it was just another night, nothing unusual--unless touching the wrong woman is unusual.

Buffet Dinner Honors Muslim Women

Houston -- Nearly 300 Muslim and non-Muslim visitors were on hand to partake of a 15 course buffet dinner given in the banquet room of Muhammad's Mosque #45, 3400 Polk Ave. Airlines and automobiles brought many of them from such cities as Dallas, Tyler, San Antonio as well as Shreveport, Lake Charles and New Orleans to participate in honoring the M.G.T. & G. C. C. (Muslim girl training and general civilization class) of the above mentioned cities.

M.G.T. and G. C. C. is the name given to the training of Muslim women and girls in North America. In these classes they are taught how to keep a clean house, how to rear their children, how to take care of their husbands, sew, cook and in general how to act at home and abroad.

The Muslim followers of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad feel that the woman should be treated in a way to show the world how much the men love and value them. . .Most Muslim women do not work at outside jobs. The Muslim husband feels that it would be better for him to have two jobs than to deprive his children of the necessary companionship of their mothers.

Minister Raymond X, who conducts most of the lectures at the Mosque, told a FTime reporter that the dinner was given and served by the F.O.I. (men's training class). He stated further that it is because of the fact that the Muslim women dress in a way to please their husbands alone, that they are held in such high esteem.

"In a day of mini skirts and micro minis, it is refreshing to see modesty in women," Raymond X noted.

Minister Isaiah Karrien of Muhammad's Mosque in Dallas, Texas was the guest speaker. He delivered a forty minute lecture, on the need for the black men in America to learn to respect and value the black woman in the same way that he, the black man, has been taught to value and respect the "other man's (white) woman."

He also pointed out the fact that it was from this same M.G.T. class that heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali got his present wife.

The fifteen course dinner was masterminded by brother Lieutenant Sam X, who has twelve years experience behind him as a "Chief Cook".

Prime rib of beef, chopped sirloin of veal, individual broiled red snapper, smoked turkey, wheat bread and muffins, baby meat balls, salads, deviled eggs, baked potatoes, garden peas, cheese wedges, kosher salami, dips and spreads were some of the foods on hand.

For the four hours that it took to serve the complete dinner, the guests were entertained by a Muslim musical aggregation named "THE MAGNIFICENT SEVEN". The group is headquartered in San Antonio, Texas and is reputed to be one of the best all-around musical combos in the southwest.

Tunes made famous by such notable artists as MILES DAVIS, JAMES BROWN, JOHN COLTRANE, WILSON PICKETT, FREDDIE HUBBARD, MUDDY WATERS, THE SUPREMES and ART BLAKEY were vehicles through which the "seven" demonstrated their versitility.

Relet suggested an anonymous letter be sent Nation of Islam (NOI) Headquarters in Chicago, Illinois, complaining about a newspaper photographer taking pictures of an NOI function with the minister's permission. The purpose of the letter would be to embarrass the local NOI leader.

The Bureau feels that the NOI thrives on publicity and this letter would not have the intended effect. The NOI newspaper freely identifies NOI members and publicizes their photographs and the NOI has never advocated secret membership.

Therefore, your suggestion is not being approved at this time.

In the event information is received concerning any activity of this nature, on a timely basis, the information concerning the fictitious name along with the true name of the individual stopped will be furnished to the local police department provided Bureau approval for same is received.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

The operations which have previously been authorized by the Bureau concerning KENNY DENMON have been effected. The results of these operations will be reported in this letter under Tangible Results section. [redacted]

A second operation which is currently in effect is the mailing of the article written by CATHERINE BASIE which appeared in the "New York Times" on 9/18/68, to prominent Negro businessmen in the San Diego area. No tangible results, to date, have been realized from this activity. [redacted]

He is not engaging in any type of black militant activities and the BPP members are forbidden to mention DENMON's name either during or outside of their meetings [redacted]

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Reports are just beginning to come in from informants in both the BPP and US organizations in San Diego concerning the killing of two BPP members in the Los Angeles area on 1/17/69. It would appear that the above activity will even further split the factions of the US group and the BPP.

It also appears that KENNY DENMON has been completely neutralized not only as far as his BPP leadership is concerned, but any participation he might have in the black militant movement. The BPP in San Diego has now been taken over by [redacted] As a result, counterintelligence action directed both at [redacted] has been requested and will be put into effect immediately upon receipt of Bureau approval.

Philadelphia has received permission to have informants circulate rumors about money being stolen from Black Coalition. The following is furnished for the information of the Bureau. This has been furnished the Bureau under separate cover entitled Black Coalition.

Black Coalition is completely broken up because of a fight between Black Institute and other members of Black Coalition. Black Institute is composed mainly of members who are friendly with and follow [redacted] many of whom are RAM Members.

[redacted] of Black Coalition, has been dismissed from his job. The PHPD have identified a police officer who has been undercover with [redacted] of Young Militants. Through testimony of the officer, 11 men have been arrested on various charges including robbery, all of whom are connected with the Black Institute.

It is felt that rumors circulated by Philadelphia informants and sources helped to break up the Black Coalition.

Remylet 1/16/69.

The following counterintelligence measure as regards to the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) is recommended by the Atlanta Division:

I. BACKGROUND

The financial condition of the SNCC has been in a continuing decline since June, 1966, when STOKELY CARMICHAEL was elected National Chairman and coined the slogan "black power." The election of H. RAP BROWN as chairman in June, 1967, did not develop the leadership, program, or policy for the organization required to bring it into the avenue of acceptance by the general public or other civil rights organizations.

In June, 1968, the Central Committee felt SNCC should be reconstructed by equalization of responsibilities by creating 10 deputy or vice-chairmen. To date it appears this new endeavor has failed to breathe any significant financial life into the organization.

[redacted] of the Atlanta Office of SNCC, sensing that an open appeal by SNCC for financial support would not be received favorably, decided, probably on his own initiative, to make appeal for a contribution to SNCC by utilizing a name other than SNCC, believing such an appeal would be fruitful.

Apparently working on this theory [redacted] prepared a lengthy letter setting forth the financial need for an organization involved in a civil rights endeavor in Atlanta. [redacted] referred to this organization as the Afro-American Society of Greater Atlanta. This letter was sent to the National Episcopal Church in New York City requesting a grant of $30,000 which would be used in setting up such an office in Atlanta.

It is reported that the National Episcopal Church favorably considered this request and sometime in January, 1969, will make $34,000 available to the Afro-American Society of Greater Atlanta.

This grant is known only to a limited number of SNCC associates in Atlanta which raises the question of [redacted] intention of following through with his original stated purpose once the money is received.

During staff meetings of SNCC which were held in Atlanta [redacted] was expelled from SNCC because of Black Panther Party activities and while in the office [redacted] was physically beaten by a propouent of the SNCC theory because of his [redacted] support of the Black Panther Party. Despite this beating, [redacted] subsequently appeared during the staff meetings and pled for reinstatement in SNCC. Action on his request was deferred until the staff meeting scheduled for [redacted]

II. PROPOSED COUNTERINTELLIGENCE MEASURE

It is proposed that the following anonymous letter be handwritten by a specially selected person, probably a relative of an Agent, and addressed to [redacted]

This letter, by bearing a New York postmark, would divert attention from local SNCC associates as to author of the letter.

III. OBJECTIVE

It is known to the Atlanta Division that although [redacted] do not get along too well and any letter coming to [redacted] partment for [redacted] n Atlanta, opened by either [redacted] would, in all probability, be

It is believed t[redacted] money, coupled with the desire to get back into SNCC, would cause [redacted] need for them to approach [redacted] or an explanation of the inference contained in the letter or else request [redacted] in requesting reinstatement in SNCC. Should [redacted] active support cooperate, [redacted] ould obviously attempt to discredit [redacted] and thereby deminish his [redacted] in Atlanta. f the SNCC Office

IV. RECOMMENDATIONS

It is requested that the above letter be approved for preparation and executed by the Atlanta Division at the earliest possible date. Information copy forwarded to New York as proposed for site of mailing of above letter in event Bureau approval obtained for Atlanta to prepare the letter.

As the Bureau is aware, in the last two years Miami television station WCKT, [redacted] has produced three special documentary films with the cooperation of the Miami Office of the FBI, under our various counterintelligence programs. These three films dealt with the Ku Klux Klan, the National States Rights Party and more recently the "New Left."

These efforts on the part of WCKT were well received in the community and have been most instrumental in keeping the activities of these groups constantly before the public and has gone a long way in diminishing their effectiveness in the South Florida area.

These three documentaries were produced by Channel 7 with the approved counterintelligence assistance of the Miami Division and these are considered to be most outstanding counterintelligence accomplishments.

[redacted] WCKT, Miami, has expressed an interest and made inquiries relative to the possibility of doing a similar documentary involving the activities of the Nation of Islam (NOI) in the South Florida area. The Miami Office feels that this offers an excellent opportunity for the production of a film similar to those previously produced and most certainly could go a long way in bringing the activities of the NOI to the attention of the general public and in that manner drastically curtail their activities, particularly in Dade County.

As the Bureau is aware, there is a wealth of public-type information that could be made available as investigative leads, etc., to assist Channel 7 in the production of such a documentary. Over the years, the Bureau has brought to the attention of the field various public publications and other material which would be of great assistance in such an undertaking.

RACIAL INT. SECT.

Locally in the Miami area, there are certain aspects of the operation of the local Mosque (Mosque #29) which would be of interest and lend itself to such an undertaking. These avenues of possible inquiry involve the fact that the Mosque here in Miami has purchased a sizable former church for approximately $160,000, which makes quite an impressive edifice. This, of course, would lend itself to a documentary-type program. Additionally, CASSIUS CLAY (MOHAMMAD ALI) allegedly contributed substantial sums of money to the NOI in Dade County, which likewise would be of considerable public interest. Recently, information has been developed in connection with the NOI in Dade County that two female members, who are active in the local NOI Mosque, are both school teachers in the Dade County School System. Here again, the exposure of such activities would be most enlightening to the general public and could go a long way toward hampering future activities of the local NOI group.

Another aspect of considerable interest, of course, would be the finances of the NOI, noting that they take considerable sums from each member on a weekly basis and contribute nothing to the general welfare of the black community or the local NOI membership.

If such an undertaking is approved by the Bureau, the Miami Division can assure of the complete cooperation and security as far as Channel 7 is concerned and this Division is confident that such an undertaking could be successfully carried out without any embarrassment to the Bureau and the Bureau's interest in this matter would not in any way be revealed.

The Miami Division requests that authority be granted under the Counterintelligence Program to conduct further discussions with [redacted] relative to the production of such a documentary film, after which more precise information will be given to the Bureau relative to identifying what documents and/or information will be made available to [redacted] In this connection, the Miami Division solicits any suggestions the Bureau may have in connection with available material which would lend itself to being used in the production of such a film.

(NATION OF ISLAM)

Reurlet 1/22/69.

Authority is granted to enter into preliminary discussions with [redacted] WCKT-TV, Miami, Florida, relative to the production of a documentary film concerning the Nation of Islam (NOI). Insure [redacted] understands, as in the past conversations with him concerning counterintelligence activities, that Bureau cooperation with him is strictly on a confidential basis.

In your conversation with [redacted] stress the importance of exposing and ridiculing NOI money-making schemes which milk members in order to fill the coffers of Elijah Muhammad who lives in elegance amid palatial surroundings. In this regard, seek out public source material which will expose the NOI practice that requires a member to purchase large quantities of NOI newspapers even though the member may not be able to sell them.

Keep the Bureau advised of the progress of your talks with [redacted] and his progress relative to the production of the documentary film. Submit to the Bureau, for specific approval, any public source information you desire to furnish to him.

Brothers Fight for Black Republic

More than 40 years ago, Marcus Garvey stirred hundreds of thousands of American Negroes and attracted several million dollars in donations with the idea of a mass return to Africa. His movement flourished for a time, but ultimately failed.

Today another force is trying to lead black people out of white America. Founded by Pontiac attorney Milton Henry, his fiery brother Richard also of Pontiac, and a collection of embittered black intellectuals from the urban North, the Republic of New Africa (RNA) wants to take its people south.

Its demands: Five southern states and $400 billion in reparations for three centuries of black suffering.

The RNA, rooted in the cold, final logic of secession, would seem to be a movement of powerful portent for American race relations, if so much of its strength were not merely on paper in the fluid rhetoric of its founders.

During 1968 the republic received substantial publicity in national publications and on television. But despite the attention focused on RNA and its aims, its following and finances are judged meager at best by those who have watched it closely.

THE HENRYS will not talk numbers and dollars within the republic, but some outsiders close to the operation estimate its national following at perhaps less than a hundred, its Detroit support as little as a dozen or two.

One Detroit area lawman labels the republic "a joke."

It isn't quite that, nor is it just a passing aberration of black passion. Reparations and secession or evacuation from the United States have been on the minds and tongues of radical black people for years.

The men of RNA may be right when they say more black Americans than ever before are convinced further attempts at co-existence with white men will solve nothing. Those who oppose the RNA, black and white alike, are inclined to concede its potential appeal to separatist-thinking black Americans.

As long ago as the 1920s, Garvey's movement was substantial for a time. But Garvey was a better promoter than are the Henrys.

The two brothers have been involved with organizational protest since the 1940s, under such title s as the Group on Advanced Leadership (GOAL) and the Malcolm X Society, sustained largely by their own press consciousness and volubility.

But they never have been able to muster a large followings

Milton Henry — Brother Gaidi, first vice - president of RNA and the top republic officer in the United States—is 40, a graduate of Yale University law school, a son of the 1966 National Urban League Family of the Year, a former Pontiac city councilman and one of the better better trial lawyers in southeast Michigan. He is a successful man by all the standard measures.

his brother and alter ego, Richard — Brother Imari, RNA minister of information —is 38 and until very recently was a technical writer at the Detroit Tank Arsenal. Both are well educated, thoughtful and articulate.

Both want to secede from the union and take with them as many black people as they can.

They claim that their movement is strong and growing.

THEY WILL BE forcing their own hand next month. Sometime around the Feb. 21 anniversary of the assassination of Malcolm X, they say the RNA will conduct a secession plebiscite among the black people of Brooklyn's troubled Ocean Hill-Brownsville district, scene of New York's bitter fight over community school control.

"Ocean Hill-Brownsville is ripe for a separation vote," Milton Henry says.

After that plebiscite, which the Henrys expect to win, "there is a good chance the American government will be talking seriously to the republic before the end of 1969," Richard Henry claims.

His brother says: "We've never given our historical consent to be governed by the United States. When we can demonstrate this by a fairly conducted plebiscite, then other nations of the world will join us" in applying pressure to Washington and perhaps the World Court and United Nations General Assembly.

RNA thinks logic alone should be sufficient to convince white Washington that a separate black state is an answer to many problems. But they also say their followers will fight guerilla war if that is what it takes to gain the five southern states in which they would form a black North American republic.

RNA has formed a cabinet and developed a national conference attracting about 300 secessionist black radicals to Detroit in March. It is trying to administer its own tax system, theoretically collecting three percent of the corporate and personal earnings of its followers.

IT SAYS IT has an armed, trained military group, the Black Legion. But the legion's effective size is questionable.

Most of all, RNA has a body of rhetoric which asserts that the creation of a black republic on once-American soil is neither a paranoid fantasy nor a very unusual idea, but a viable answer to racial conflict.

"We are no different from the French Canadians, the northern Irish or the Jews in Central Europe," Milton Henry says. "And I don't see anything sacred about this country in its present geographical form . . . If the United States has any justification in paying the American Indians for their land . . . indeed, the same argument has to obtain for black people who lost their lands in Africa and worked the land here."

The Henrys don't like the Garveyist idea of a return to Africa — for some logistical reasons such as the expense of mass transplantation — but for some philosophical reasons as well.

"We don't mind accepting the role of de-niggerizing and re-Africanizing black men, but the black man's problems here shouldn't be reflected back on another part of the world," Milton Henry says.

"We feel there are reparations due from the United States. Some nationalists say we should take the whole southeast quadrant of the country."

The states the RNA wants are Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina. If negotiations with the State Department are not sufficient, the RNA has an alternate plan for taking over the Old South.

It involves sending Black Legionnaires to selected southern counties with black majorities, to be sure enough votes are mustered and counted to elect black sheriffs carrying the power to create a "legitimate military force" by appointing deputies.

Then the legion would hopscotch through the five states, working through the electorate to establish a political hold on the land they want.

Milton Henry says there are enough men and arms in the Black Legion to pull it off.

RNA HAS conducted some arms training through Detroit's Fredrick Douglass Shooting Club, but Henry says the preparations are only defensive in anticipation of trouble from southern whites.

"No one likes war," he say. "Some say the Prussians did. I don't ever believe that. And I'm not any damn Prussian. I'm an African. I'm not interested in war. I'm interested in life."

The Henrys, who stepped from middle-class comfort into the vanguard of their own brand of revolution, brush aside suggestions that other skilled, successful black men, comfortable in the American system, will not follow them to New Africa.

"The movement can't go back," Richard says. "Most black people eventually will see the value of nationhood. The support we have among those people who aren't now separatists will be demonstrated very soon."

They repeatedly liken New Africa to Israel. Richard Henry says: "After the Israelis opened their medical school, they began producing some of the best papers in the world. The Jews not only sent money, they sent talent."

Talent like that would flow to New Africa as well, they say, and they don't care what color their professionals might be so long as they can be trusted.

BUT THAT WORD "trust" is beginning to turn back on the republic in recent weeks.

An anonymous letter was circulated among some Detroit RNA members last month, suggesting that money collected to buy southern land and finance the legion might simply be paying for Richard Henry's traveling expenses.

Since leaving his job at the arsenal, Richard says he has been working full-time for the republic."

He and Milton both have made numerous trips on RNA business, one to an African meeting with self-exiled black radical Robert Williams, nominal head of the RNA, now spending most his time in Red China.

How Success Paved Path To Secessionist Movement

What carries a man to the psychological border of the land he thought was home, and what makes him step across?

Milton Henry can't name a particular day when he passed over the line. He only feels that despite professional success, something has been desperately wrong with his life, and that flaw is far from unique among men of his color.

He grew up in Philadelphia, son of a postal employe and one of 11 children, totally committed to the mainstream of American life and behavior.

"Every middle-class value — our mother and father preached and taught it," Henry says. "Get in the system, obey all the laws, do things to help all people, be a success as an individual.

"My mother would fly the flag on the Fourth of July. She made it a sacred holiday. I remember my mother taking us through Independence Hall.

"All the myths — we had it all."

In 1941, at 22, Henry enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and volunteered for flight training. It was in the segregated, wartime military that the facts of being black began to fall hardest on him.

"I had some terribly traumatic experiences, especially in the South," he said. "I remember it was Nov. 11, 1941, Armistice Day, when I arrived in Montgomery, Ala. We had a parade, and I could hear the white people on the sidewalk saying: 'Look at them niggers. They sure look good'."

Henry said the men of his segregated unit at Maxwell Field found themselves shut out or made unwelcome in the base's recreation areas and dining facilities. "I had some terrible fights," he said.

ONE OF THE WORST occurred on a Montgomery bus. "The driver told me to move to the back. I couldn't do it. We argued, and I gave him a bust on the chin. Then that rascal went under the seat and pulled out a pearl-handled gun." Henry grappled with him and finally was helped by some British cadets in training at the same base. "If they hadn't come, I guess he would have put a bullet in me right there," Henry said.

In 1943, Lt. Henry was transferred to Selfridge Air Base near Detroit and, while serving with the 553d Army Fighter Squadron, became involved in a series of disputes with officers finally leading to a court martial and dishonorable discharge.

The charges were being absent without leave and showing disrespect for superior officers. One officer testified at the court martial that Henry told him: "All revolutions have been initiated by minorities. Remember the French revolution and the Russian revolution. In each case it was the minority who ruled, and some day I, too, will be in a position to dictate."

Henry was 25 when he was bounced from the service. "I guess the Army should have thrown me out at that point," he says with a slight smile. "I was ready to get in that plane and go up and just unload on the first city I came to."

After the discharge, a friend persuaded him to apply to Yale University law school rather than pursue the path to the ministry that he had envisioned.

Excelling in his entrance examinations, Henry was awarded a scholarship and worked in school dining rooms to pay his way through.

DURING HIS schooling he was Connecticut state chairman of the 1948 Henry Wallace presidential campaign and was active in a black crusade to end military segregation, which was finally ended on orders from President Harry Truman that year.

After graduation, he returned to Detroit. "It was a beautiful city in the 40s. I liked the way black people lived, in open neighborhoods, in single-family homes. It's not much like that now."

He took up criminal-law practice and later moved to Pontiac, where he was Oakland County chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and for six years was a member of the Pontiac City Council.

It was hardly a peaceful time, though. His abrasive courtroom style and open race consciousness irked judges around the state. He was cited for contempt a number of times and accused of tussling with police officers, although never convicted of a crime.

He became known, especially to the black accused, as an effective and hard-working attorney.

Then, six years ago, Henry and a group of men interested in African housing development traveled to Africa.

"My whole life changed then," he said. "I found myself. Something mystical happened.

"I got off the plane in Dakar and instead of white people trampling me the way it had been in New York, there were black people trampling me. Everyone was black—immigration, the police the whole thing. I almost cried. For the first time I saw black people being a part of things."

HENRY TRAVELED through a half-dozen black nations on that trip.

"In Liberia we saw huge rubber plantations, and the people there were black people who looked just like the people back home. And we were there," he said.

"In Ghana I took off my western clothes and put on robes and sandals and walked the beaches. Maybe life was like that several centuries ago. I was asked whether I had any idea what tribe I had come from. I couldn't say. It left me with an empty feeling because the man who asked me could relate his whole tribal background.

"You start analyzing all you see, and you find the totality of a civilization."

HE HAS BEEN back to Africa four times since then, once in the company of the late Malcolm X. He has met with African governmental leaders, has walked the land.

Milton Henry does better than most black people in the U.S., yet he has become a secessionist, a revolutionary.

He insists: "No black man in this country is rich enought to be free. The hotels on occasion still are booked up to Barry Gordy (millionaire founder and head of the Motown recording empire).

"I could do without a television and a floor in my house if I could have the freedom of the people I saw in Tanzania living on dirt floors."

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Memorandum

TO DIRECTOR, FBI (100-448006)

DATE: 1/22/69

FROM SAC, CHICAGO (157-2209) (P)

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
(NATION OF ISLAM)

Reurlet, 1/7/69; Chicago letters 12/24/68 and 1/14/69.

ReBulet has been thoroughly studied and discussed by the SAC, the Supervisor, and Agents familiar with facets of the NOI which might indicate trends and possible future direction of the organization. The Bureau's concern is most understandable and suggestions appreciated.

Over the years considerable thought has been given, and action taken with Bureau approval, relating to methods through which the NOI could be discredited in the eyes of the general black populace or through which factionalism among the leadership could be created. Serious consideration has also been given towards developing ways and means of changing NOI philosophy to one whereby the members could be developed into useful citizens and the organization developed into one emphasizing religion - the brotherhood of mankind - and self improvement. Factional disputes have been developed - the most noteable being MALCOLM X LITTLE. Prominent black personages have publicly and nationally spoken out against the group - U.S. District Court Judge JAMES BENTON PARSONS being one example. The media of the press has played down the NOI. This appears to be a most effective tool as individuals such as MUHAMMAD assuredly seek: any and all publicity be it good or bad; however, if the press is utilized it would appear it should not concentrate on such aspects as the alleged strength of the NOI, immoral activities of the leadership, misuse of funds by these officials, etc. It is the opinion of this office that such exposure is ineffective, possibly creates interest and maybe envy among the lesser educated black man causing them out of curiosity to attend meetings and maybe join, and encourage the opportunist to seek personal gain - physical or monetary - through alignment with the group. At any rate it is felt such publicity in the case of the NOI is not overly effective.

As the Bureau is aware the NOI several years ago organized Progressive Land Developors, Inc., and more recently United Dynamics Corporation, both incorporated in the State of Illinois. Both have well known NOI officials as officers - ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is not shown as involved in either. The professed purpose of these groups is economic in nature and gives no appearance of being religious in nature.

Activity by these groups was most limited until the past year to year and one half ago. Since that time the NOI has invested heavily in business properties in the Chicago area and in land in Michigan and Georgia. It was noted publicity regarding formation of these two corporations by the NOI was limited throughout the United States - only two articles have appeared and both dealt briefly with Progressive Land Developors, Inc. buying land in Michigan. Both articles were published in cities other than Chicago.

[redacted] contacted this office and volunteered data to the effect he had been surveying NOI business ventures and wanted to write an article about same but needed assistance. Bearing the above facts in mind re the two corporations, the Bureau was requested to give permission to furnish [redacted] with pertinent public record material relating to ownership of these non-religious ventures with emphasis on the fact it appeared membership monies were possibly being misused. The Bureau granted permission and [redacted] was given all possible assistance. At this time he is working on his article and assures this office he will advise us of the article and its publication. Re Chicago letters set forth full details. It is hoped that publicity emphasizing NOI non-religious ventures will cause factionalism among the leaders and discredit them among the black community and the organization's membership.

ELIJAH MUHAMMAD is sole leader of the NOI claiming to have been so appointed by ALLAH. He further claims to be the only divinely appointed leader of all black people in America. His "gimmick" in creating an aura of mysticism has been proclaiming the black man to be God and the future ruler of Earth; branding the white man as the Devil whose future lies in his destruction by ALLAH through the forces of nature; and a call for a separate state or territory of their own or equal justice and equal opportunities in the United States if they cannot have separate territory. These "gimmicks" would be most attractive to many black people in the lower economic strata who would want to hear the white man condemned and castigated because of their own plight. Of course, the development of a seemingly large following would also attract the opportunist - a black man who would profess to believe MUHAMMAD's teachings but is really out solely for personal gain. As is apparent, MUHAMMAD has created through the above an almost fanatical devotion to him on the part of his following; however, this devotion and subservience is purely voluntary as members are specifically instructed to leave if they cannot follow all of the "Laws of Islam" The turnover is constant and while many have left because of the NOI's demands they still believe in his teachings.

ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, as far as is known, has not designated, or even shown a preference for, an heir apparent. With two exceptions the national leadership is composed of members of his family. All are dependent on MUHAMMAD and the group for their livelihood. Over the years various members of the "Royal Family" have been in the favor of MUHAMMAD only to fall by the wayside because they dared question MUHAMMAD's edicts. A prime example of this would be WALLACE MUHAMMAD who was until about 1964 considered most likely to be the heir apparent and MUHAMMAD himself indicated ALLAH might be communicating with WALLACE. Of course, WALLACE subsequently was suspended by his father because he refused to believe W. D. FARD was ALLAH. It is still believed WALLACE MUHAMMAD is the only member of the "Royal Family" who could give proper spiritual guidance to the organization. No one has emerged as a successor to WALLACE insofar as this sphere of activity is concerned.

Recent indications are that HERBERT MUHAMMAD is closest to MUHAMMAD. He is self-stated to be MUHAMMAD's personal aide. He has illusions of running the NOI from "behind the scenes" when MUHAMMAD passes on.

There is no indication HERBERT himself will be able to guide the flock spiritually nor is there any indication as to how he plans to accomplish same. He is interested only in such financial gain as the membership will make available to him.

In our opinion there is no one presently in the NOI who will be able to replace MUHAMMAD and the mystical spell he is able to cast on some members of the black race. This must be done to insure survival of the group.

Further, there is no means at present to determine who will succeed MUHAMMAD. Past experience has shown he does not particularly trust any of his sons or daughters and they could be in favor one day but completely in disfavor the next. HERBERT MUHAMMAD is as susceptible to this as any.

It appears the NOI is headed on a collision course for a factional split after the death of MUHAMMAD. The power struggle could well develop among members of the "Royal Family" and could well involve some of the more prominent NOI ministers who could well align themselves with a certain member of the "Royal Family" or could entertain illusions of "ruling" a segment of the NOI. It is not beyond the realm of possibility that anyone of MUHAMMAD's more prominent ministers could make a power play on MUHAMMAD's death. At present, however, MUHAMMAD seemingly has all of them totally subservient to him.

As mentioned earlier, the spiritual aspects of the NOI must be maintained to keep the group going. It is recalled that when MALCOLM X LITTLE defected and later was murdered, many dissenting NOI members sought out WALLACE MUHAMMAD for spiritual leadership. When WALLACE MUHAMMAD returned to his father on another occasion and was presented to NOI members gathered at an Annual Muslim Convention in Chicago he was wildly acclaimed. It is felt WALLACE MUHAMMAD is still warmly thought of by his father as he is the only son or daughter who is not monetarily motivated. It is known MUHAMMAD still asks about WALLACE.

It is further known WALLACE is adament in his belief W. D. FARD is not ALLAH. WALLACE is acknowledged clandestinely by members of the "Royal Family" and is friendly with many of them. He is thought to be held in esteem by NOI members despite his suspension. It is not beyond expectations that he could be sought out for support in a power play by a member or members of the "Royal Family" or by various NOI ministers to be a figurehead or the leader. His beliefs are the brotherhood of mankind and self improvement with no hate for other men.

WALLACE MUHAMMAD is well aware of this and maintains his contacts.

The above is pure speculation but factual data can only be obtained as time passes and events occur. At this time proper courses of action can be planned and implemented.

ReBulet refers to legal action against the NOI on the death of its leader and asks such questions as 1) Does MUHAMMAD have a will? 2) Is the NOI incorporated? 3) In whose name and where are NOI bank accounts? 4) In whose name are NOI assets such as mosque buildings, MUHAMMAD's home, etc.?

There is no information available as to whether or not ELIJAH MUHAMMAD has a will. This would be information available only to MUHAMMAD and, possibly, an attorney.

MUHAMMAD's Temple No. 2 of the Holy Temples of Islam is shown as being an Illinois corporation at the Cook County Recorder's Office, Chicago; however, there is no evidence of same on file with the Secretary of State, Corporate Section, Springfield, Illinois.

Bank accounts maintained by MUHAMMAD's Temple No. 2 in Chicago are in a state of complete flux at present. Accounts both savings and checking have been maintained for several years in the name of MUHAMMAD's Temple No. 2 at the South East National Bank (all having balances of under $1,000.00); at Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago (all now closed); at the American National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago (unavailable due to bank policy). ELIJAH MUHAMMAD was not shown as being authorized to draw on any of the above accounts. Rather those authorized to drawn included officers of the Temple - any 2 of 4. Only one bank account was located for ELIJAH MUHAMMAD. It was a savings account contining less than $5,000.00 and was in the name of ELIJAH and CLARA (his wife) MUHAMMAD.

NOI properties have been closely followed by this office insofar as title holder, evaluation, etc., are concerned. MUHAMMAD's Temple No. 2, including the University of Islam No. 2; is in the name of MUHAMMAD's Temple No. 2; various business ventures purchased by the NOI are in the name of Progressive Land Developors, Inc., or United Dynamics Corporation (both described above) as are land purchases in Michigan and Georgia. So far as can be determined NOI properties are in one of the above names. The exception to this are MUHAMMAD's residence at 4847 South Woodlawn; his residence at 2118 East Violet Drive, Phoenix, Arizona; and a residence at 1122 Staples Street, N.E., Washington, D.C., which are in the name of ELIJAH and/or CLARA MUHAMMAD at present.

Chicago's experience insofar as MUHAMMAD's legal advice is concerned dates back to 1959 at which time ELIJAH MUHAMMAD on legal advice tempered his teachings against the white man and the government, both synonymous in NOI teachings, to avoid prosecution. At that time he demphasized religious aspects in the NOI and commenced emphasizing economic benefits to be derived by the black man who joined the organization It appears, based on NOI land and business ventures in the past two years, MUHAMMAD is implementing monies accrued over the from the membership and from appreciation from properties sold. His success or failure in these business and farming ventures remains to be determined as they have only been in effect for a year or so.

Over the years MUHAMMAD's legal involvements have been closely followed. He has been represented by numerous attorneys and evidently seeks out advice on new endeavors. IRS has reviewed the NOI and some of its officials but results were negative. Income Tax Returns filed by such individuals as HERBERT MUHAMMAD, who made substantial money as manager of CASSIUS CLAY, were reviewed and no discrepancies were noted. It was noted attorneys executed these returns. Perhaps the most significant factor is recognition of the NOI as a religion by USDC and subsequent court, both Federal and State, approval for NOI services in Federal and State prisons.

Chicago has no source in Probate Court, Cook County, Chicago, and has not considered the development of same due to the many scandilous allegations relating to political appointees and their associates in this area. It is not deemed advisable to approach such a person as the Bureau would be in an extremely embarrassing position if there were the slightest leak that the Bureau was involved in probate of any estate.

Chicago, as the Bureau is aware, has always been on the alert for methods by which the NOI could be directed or disrupted. As is evidenced by the present cooperation with [redacted] this policy continues.

Chicago continues its contacts with its sources whose identities are known to the Bureau and feels these sources will be of possible extreme value at the time of the demise of MUHAMMAD. At this time appropriate recommendations will be made.

Rev. King-Founded Group Closes Its Two Local Offices

Spokesmen for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in Philadelphia and Atlanta, vehemently denied that Rev. James Orange, leader of the Philadelphia Christian Leadership Conference, had been "run out of town" by local militants.

An informed source told the Tribune that Rev. Orange left town last Tuesday night, presumably headed for Atlanta.

The source went on to say that the reason for Orange's alleged "exodus" was threats from a militant group and their charges that he had "misused black people and showed disrespect and disregard for the goals of the late Dr. Martin Luther [illegible]

While not carried out under this program, Newark has been conducting interviews of BPP members on an increasing scale, and information received from informants indicates the interviews have had a disruptive effect and been a cause of great concern to the BPP.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

Time Now To Speak Up On Behalf Of America

(Reprinted from the Crisis, official magazine of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People)

The deepening schism within the Negro community over tactics and goals, gleefully fostered by insensitive and irresponsible news media, is headed toward a major internal crisis requiring each of us to stand up and be counted. Differences among black folk in this country are not new, but a new ingredient has been added — the attempt by a small minority of black extremists to force compliance with its views and tactics. This nihilistic minority professes disdain for all "white" values while at the same time invoking and utilizing, as instruments of controversy, the worst practices of the most benighted stratum of white society, to wit, obscene name-calling, threats, intimidation, suppression of opposing views, and violence.

The emergence of this swaggering band of black extremists demanding abandonment of democratic methods and goals and a reversal of the trend toward integration must be met head-on by the vast majority of Negroes who reject the minority's tactics and goals. To be sure, the new mood has been generated by white America's historic racism. In turn, the new black mood nurtures further white racism . . .

On our part, as on the part of white folk, there is urgent need for strong and unequivocal re-affirmation of our commitment to the democratic process as a means of attaining, here in our homeland, full, equal and unfettered rights for America's 22 million black folk. This means a repudiation of the nihilism of the extremists who are shrilly and insistently espousing apartheid; racism, including anti-Semiticism; intimidation and violence.

Most fatuous of the extremists' exhortations is the call for "black revolution" — the seizure of power by the Negro minority. Any revolution remotely possible in this country at this time would not be one that advances the position and cause of Negroes. Rather it would be a revolution of the Right suppressing not only the black community but also curtailing the basic liberties of the total society. . . .

Notwithstanding the evidence that the Negro masses remain committed to the program and tactics which have brought substantial gains in the struggle for equality, the voices within the Negro community which publicly express this majority view have been few and often, lonely. Partly this has been because of a tendency on the part of the news media to by-pass spokesmen for the majority and to project the minority spokesmen as the authentic voices of the Negro community. There is the additional factor that responsible leaders who speak out against the extremists have traditionally been reluctant to speak out publicly in opposition to other black spokesmen.

But the time has come for speaking out loud and clear lest the entire race be branded as hate-mongers, segregationists, advocates of violence, and worse. The silent majority must let its views be known not merely in polls but also in print on the rostrum, and via radio and television. The time for silence or muted voices is past. The extremists must be answered promptly and forthrightly in the name of the majority. Their racism and anti-Semitism condemned and repudiated. The infantilism of their "governments in exile" exposed and scorned. Their advocacy of Jim Crowism rejected as retrogressive. Their suicidal call for violence disavowed. . . .

To make the record clear, let us repeat again and again so that none need be unaware of the Truth: Black America rejects and condemns separation, racism, intimidation, suppression of free speech, and violence. Let it be known that the preachers of hate, the defeatists afraid to compete in the open market, the name callers who substitute epithets and slogans for reason, the exhorters who summon Negro youth to death in futile shoot-outs with the police and the military —let it be known that these media-created "leaders" are not our spokesmen.

Dissent, protest and militancy, yes. Intimidation, disruption, suppression of free speech, extremism and violence, no!

The time to speak up in no uncertain terms, to rally the silent black majority to a constructive program of responsible militancy and resistance to extremism, is now. Tomorrow may be too late.

Wilkins Raps 'Black Studies' Drive, Says NAACP May Sue

NEW YORK (UPI) — The drive for black studies programs and black student dormitories on college campuses was described as a "Jim Crow" concept yesterday by Roy Wilkins, who said he would go to court if necessary to block their implementation.

Wilkins, head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said demand for "autonomous" black studies programs and dormitories for blacks only was tantamount to setting up of "racially based Jim Crow schools" and that NAACP lawyers believed the use of tax money for this purpose was unconstitutional.

Wilkins, who spoke to about 200 NAACP representaives at the 60th annual corporate meeting of the association, said he was not against courses of black studies being taught in high schools and colleges. In fact, he said, the NAACP had supported such programs.

But, Wilkins said, "We are opposed to their (black students') dormitory proposals and their autonomous black studies programs. If we can't find a plaintiff (to bring suit) ... we will sue on the basis of our belief that tax funds cannot be used" to create segregated facilities.

Negro students and white sympathizers at a number of colleges and universities across the country have clashed with administrators on the dormitory and autonomous studies issues.

Wilkins, who in the past has called for Negroes to oppose black extremism, said Negroes had suffered "too many heartaches and shed too many tears and toomuch blood in fighting the evil of racial segregation to return in 1969 to the lonely and dispiriting confines of its demeaning prison."

He warned that "if some white Americans, torn and confused by today's clamor of some black students, should accede officially to the call for separate dormitories and autonomous racial schools within colleges and universities, there will be court action to determine anyone's right to use public tax funds to set up what are, patently, Jim Crow schools."

The 67-year-old civil rights leader said that Negroes live in a white world and that "Negro boys better learn what the white boys are learning."

If young black students want to help their race advance, Wilkins said, they should study harder, get their degrees and go out to bring advances.

On 2/7/69 I personally viewed the final edited version of the one-half hour film program, "Wild Grapes". This film will be shown at 7:00 p.m., 2/9/69, [redacted] Channel 8, Tampa, Fla.

The film is an excellent production fully exploiting the Junta of Militant Organization, Students for a Democratic Society and Student Protest Demonstrations at Tampa-St. Petersburg, Fla. and represents maximum results of this program.

At end of viewing [redacted] was asked if he would make available the film for closer examination by Bureau representatives. He advised that he was most receptive to this idea and if the Bureau would furnish him with one-half hour of video TV tape, he would reproduce the film for the Bureau and they could retain the copy as their own.

Re Jackson let to Bureau, 11/27/68.

QUARTERLY PROGRESS LETTER

The following significant changes in the overall Black Nationalist Movement in the Jackson Division have occurred in recent months:

Jackson informants advised that a liberation school called the Black and Proud School was initiated in the Georgetown ghetto area of Jackson in the late fall of 1968. This school is [redacted] Jackson SNCC activist, and attendance varies from 20 to 35 students at classes which are held in an abandoned building at 1:30 p.m. on Saturdays. Attendants are Negro youths, mostly boys, ages 10 to 14. Subjects at the school at present include black culture, black history, black political awareness, mathematics, and some agricultural training. There are four instructors at the school other than [redacted] and these include [redacted] is on Jackson Division Security Index and Agitator Index; [redacted] is on Jackson Division Agitator Index.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Reference is made to Jackson letter to the Bureau, 2/11/69, wherein 12 separate incidents were reflected concerning activities at Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Mississippi, which occurred in the past six months. These incidents were reported by a Jackson on-campus informant and although serious in nature, no action was taken by school authorities. The Jackson Division, in above referenced letter, requested Bureau approval to contact [redacted] of the Jackson Daily News to have him publicize incidents at the school, protecting the identity of the Bureau as the source, which articles would be written hopefully to highlight the total lack of discipline at the school, the existence of black extremists, and separatist proponents on the campus and apparent rampant criminal behavior by many students.

It is noted that the Political Action Committee (PAC) is a black extremist group at Tougaloo College which is affiliated with SNCC. [redacted] is on the Jackson Division Agitator Index, as is [redacted], who is also a Tougaloo College student. [redacted] is a former [redacted] who graduated from Tougaloo College in [redacted]

As of this date, Bureau approval has not been received to go ahead with contact re this above suggestion submitted by the Jackson Division.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Reference is made to Jackson letter to the Bureau, 1/15/69, wherein the Jackson Division submitted a suggestion which involved the forwarding of an anonymous, spurious letter to [redacted] which letter reflected information that [redacted] to local law enforcement officials in the Summer of 1968 in order to finance a trip to Europe.

Bureau approval was obtained to forward this letter, and it was subsequently prepared by the Jackson Division, mailed to the Atlanta Division and mailed to [redacted] from Atlanta on 2/7/69.

anti-establishment, and anti-law enforcement speeches and told the crowd that the FBI had informants at Tougaloo College in great numbers, many of whom were probably present at the rally. [redacted] indicated that at least 15 students were informants at Tougaloo College. Both [redacted] by their anti-FBI comments, indicated that they were very concerned about FBI interest in militant Negro activities. [redacted] who followed [redacted] as a speaker, gave an anti-white speech which was very subdued in tone. The informants advised that [redacted] who actually sponsored the rally, did not speak at all. It is surmised by the Jackson Division that the subdued nature of [redacted] speech and the lack of a speech by [redacted] may possibly have been connected to the forwarding of the above-mentioned letter re [redacted]

IV. OTHER DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

A. For many months, Agents of the Jackson Division have been disseminating information [redacted] and the fact that he carried a concealed weapon in his belt. As a result of this dissemination, state and local agencies in Mississippi, especially the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol (MHSP), Hinds County Sheriff's Office, and Jackson PD, provided emphasis to their patrolmen to be on the watch for [redacted] should he violate any law and to thoroughly search him should he be arrested on any charge.

Officers of the Jackson PD spotted [redacted] at a Jackson tavern on 1/20/69. He was arrested by them on drunk charges and subsequently searched. During the search, a .38 caliber pistol was found in his belt, and marijuana cigarettes were found in his clothing. He was charged with drunkenness, carrying a concealed weapon and possession of marijuana. The latter charge is a felony and this matter will be presented to a local grand jury on 3/3/69. SPENCER paid fines on the other two charges and has appealed his conviction in this regard.

B. In recent weeks, Jackson Agents determined from an [redacted] that black extremist [redacted] Source also periodically publicized this matter whenever an occasion for publicizing at the campus became possible. In no small measure, authorities at the school subsequently contacted the Madison County SO and signed a complaint charging [redacted] with the theft of one television set and attempted theft of another. This warrant is presently outstanding, and all appropriate local and state authorities have been advised of the warrant outstanding and are aggressively attempting to locate and apprehend [redacted] within the next few days.

Re Columbia letter to Bureau, 11/29/68.

I. SUMMARY OF CHANGES SINCE REFERENCED LETTER

There have been two changes within the Columbia Division since re letter. A new group has been organized at Clemson University and this group is the "Student League for Black Identity". This group is composed of Negro students at Clemson University and Columbia has opened an investigation to determine the groups' aims and purposes and also to identify the leaders.

The second change is that the Black Awareness Coordinating Committee (BACC), at Greenville, S. C., [redacted] has declined in its influence and is now inactive in the Greenville, S. C. area.

The other black groups in South Carolina, which continue to be active are the BACC group at South Carolina State College, Orangeburg, S. C. and at Voorhees College, at Denmark, South Carolina, and also the Association of Afro-American Students, (AAAS), at the University of South Carolina, (USC), Columbia, South Carolina. These groups continue to be active on the campuses of their respective colleges and Columbia is following their activities and is keeping the Bureau advised of all pertinent developments.

Columbia would also like to point out that at the present time there are no Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee members residing in Columbia, S. C.

Other militants formerly active in S. C. continue to remain inactive within the state of South Carolina. Investigation has determined that [redacted]

II. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

1. The NOI in Columbia continues to build its new Mosque, however, construction continues to be extremely slow and it appears it will be several months before final completion. Columbia continues to follow this construction closely and at the appropriate time will recommend to city building inspectors that they inspect this building to insure that all building codes are being complied with.

2. [redacted] in the high schools of Columbia, S. C. This matter is continuing to be followed closely and to date there has been no problem of a racial nature in Columbia, S. C.

Both of these sources continue to advise the Negro students that when they see problems developing to immediately call conferences to discuss these problems and to keep the problems from expanding.

3. [redacted] previously mentioned was placed on [redacted] and re-admitted [redacted]. It has been determined that this subject is classified 1-A by Local Board 40, Columbia, S. C. and Columbia through its established sources has brought this fact to the attention of the State Selective Service Board and within the past week a letter has been addressed to [redacted] ordering him to report for a physical examination in the future. Columbia is following this matter closely.

III. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

The USA, Columbia, S. C., has advised that he desires no additional investigation of the Black militants who were allegedly using a fictitious telephone credit card since he did not believe that this was a violation of the Fraud by Wire Statute. State authorities who conducted an investigation in the same matter with regard to violation of state statutes have advised that their investigation has been completed, but that no prosecutive action is being contemplated at this time.

Columbia has developed informants in The Association of Afro-American Students, USC, The Black Awareness Coordinating Committee at both South Carolina State College and Voorhees College and has excellent informant coverage at Benedict College and Allen University, both Columbia, S. C. These informants are furnishing current information regarding activities at the various educational institutions of the above groups. As a result of this information, it has been brought to the attention of the State Selective Service that [redacted] classified 1-A by his Local Board in Columbia, S. C., and the State Selective Service Board has just instituted action to order [redacted] up for a physical in the immediate future.

that engender the need for the Black Panther Party here in San Diego. Those who accuse the Black Panther Party of erroneous activity are the ones bent on destroying its leadership. On the west coast, some 10 members have been killed in the last year. And in defense of our lives, some 8 pigs have been killed, according to information that has been received from reliable sources.

"Any kind of indictments (grand jury or federal) that are planned to try and make mass arrests and murders of Panther members is no more than the murder of Bobby Hutton a year ago and the murder of 'Bunchy' and John Huggins in L.A. last month. Don't expect the Black Panther Party to say anything in public about what we are going to do. What we're doing first is informing the community what we all should expect, that is, we all must defend ourselves when attacked by pigs and pork chop cultural nationalist niggers. The community can stop the pig power structure and their pork chops by denouncing them as atrocious, murderous, greedy men, bent on exploiting the black community (that's Black Capitalism, what Karenga and the US organization use). And capitalism put us in slavery, and it's got all other oppressed peoples in semi-slavery in this country, from the students and workers, to the employed and massive unemployed black peoples. /s/ "[redacted]

For the information of the Bureau, the "bald headed US organization niggers" referred to [redacted] The "pork chops" and "pork chop cultural nationalist niggers" apparently refers to a caricature which recently appeared in the BPP publication published in the San Francisco area.

The "planting of marijuana" referred to by [redacted] seems to indicate that he feels the warrant for the possession of marijuana upon which [redacted] was arrested was a new charge and, in effect, admits that there was at the time of [redacted] arrest marijuana in [redacted] residence.

As of one week ago, the BPP in San Diego was so completely disrupted and so much suspicion, fear, and distrust has been interjected into the party that the members have taken to running surveillances on one another in an attempt to determine who the "police agents" are. On 2/19/69, this information was furnished to the San Diego Police Department with the suggestion that possibly local Motor Vehicle Code laws were being violated during the course of these "surveillances."

As a result, [redacted] was observed violating a traffic law and stopped by the San Diego Police Department. On a routine search of the vehicle, burglary tools were observed and [redacted] was placed in custody.

The Parole Office was again contacted, made aware of the situation concerning [redacted] arrest, and a parole hold for investigation has now been placed against [redacted]

The California State Attorney General's office was also contacted, apprised of the situation, and are currently attempting to have [redacted] parole revoked due to the fact that the bylaws of the BPP require a member to possess a firearm. [redacted] would logically be required to possess a firearm, and this would place him in violation of his parole along with being in violation of the California state law which prohibits a convicted felon from possessing a firearm.

In addition, the fact has been brought to the attention of the [redacted] is currently on probation and the local Probation Office apparently refuses to act concerning [redacted] membership in the BPP and his recent arrest in Los Angeles.

For the information of the Bureau [redacted] was out of the San Diego area without the permission of his Probation Officer and subsequently lied to his Probation Officer about being in the Los Angeles area without permission.

As a result, the San Diego Office of the State Attorney General has sent a representative to Sacramento and is presently attempting to have [redacted] probation revoked through their headquarters in Sacramento.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

At the present time most of the current leaders of the BPP in San Diego have either been neutralized or are presently incarcerated.

As a result of this situation, pressure will be continued against the BPP in an effort to maintain their current demoralized disorganized condition.

V. ADMINISTRATIVE

For the information of the Bureau, the following accomplishments have thus far been achieved through the efforts of the Counterintelligence Program as it applies to the BPP in San Diego:

1. [redacted] in San Diego, was first removed as leader, then reduced to a clerical position, and then completely ousted from the party. He was also forced to resign his high-paying position at the Philco Ford Foundation and still appears to be neutralized. It continues to be forbidden to mention [redacted] name by members of the BPP either inside or outside of meetings.

2. Five members of the BPP were arrested in Los Angeles, California, on 1/24/69. Two weapons and numerous rounds of ammunition were confiscated at this time. As a result, no new BPP members have been taken into the party to date and all current members suspect one another of being "police agents."

3. The BPP has not, since 1/14/69, had a meeting hall. They have been forced to meet in private residences and each meeting can only accommodate a very small number of the membership.

4. [redacted] is presently in custody and it appears as though he will be incarcerated for a considerable period of time.

5. [redacted] custody. Therefore, she is no longer in the BPP and is receiving the necessary prenatal and medical attention in regard to her condition.

6. [redacted] has been arrested and is presently confined. Efforts are presently being made to have his parole revoked and have him incarcerated for a period of years.

7. It is anticipated that [redacted] will be arrested for probation revocation in the very near future.

8. At the present time the BPP in San Diego is completely demoralized and disorganized. Current members have been reduced to conducting surveillances of one another in an effort to determine who the informers in their midst are.

To date, no Bureau informants have been placed in any serious jeopardy and none have been exposed.

Re SI lets to Bureau 12/3/68, 2/11/69, and 2/13/69.

Regarding the book, "Ghetto Rebellion to Black Liberation" by CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Communist Party U.S.A. functionary mentioned in previous letters, the Springfield Division is now, and has been for several months, in regular receipt of orders received for this book from the Baker and Taylor Company, distributors, Mommence, Illinois. To date, all orders have come from public institutions such as schools, universities, and libraries, and therefore, offer no counter-intelligence opportunities.

During the month of February, the following incidents occurred in the Springfield Division involving the arrest of numerous militants:

Springfield airtel to the Bureau dated 2/5/69 concerning [redacted] reported the apprehension at East St. Louis, Illinois, of this individual by Special Agents of the FBI. [redacted] was noted for his advocacy of shooting persons [redacted] engaging in violence. At the time of his arrest, [redacted] was also wanted by the East St. Louis, Illinois Police Department, which, was frankly, reluctant to attempt to apprehend him after he had escaped from a sergeant of that department and fired two shots at the officer when the latter attempted to catch him.

[redacted] a Negro ex-convict who has figured prominently in the activities of the Local Association for Black Action (LABA), an organization which recently was involved in boycott of schools at Decatur, Ill., by Negro students, was arrested by Special Agents of the FBI

[redacted] and members of the Decatur, Illinois Police Department at his [redacted] filed by Special Agent of the FBI, with violation of the Federal Bank Robbery Statute, which arose from the armed robbery of the Northtown Bank of Decatur on 12/16/69. Bond was recommended at $25,000.

Information was received from sources in the Chicago and Springfield Divisions, that several members of the notorious Black Panther Party (BPP) had travelled from Chicago, Illinois to Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, on the weekend of 2/7-9/69, for the purpose of engaging in organizational activities on behalf of the BPP. Close continuous liaison was effected between Special Agents of the FBI and local authorities, which assisted in identifying these individuals to the local authorities.

Two Panthers were arrested Friday night, 2/7/69, at the Illini Union, University of Illinois, for disorderly conduct. An altercation which occurred at a local hotel resulted in the arrest of one of the Black Panters and, subsequently, on the following day, the remainder of the Party was arrested on charges of defrauding an innkeeper when they attempted to beat their bill at the Holiday Inn located in Rantoul, Illinois. Some of the charges placed against these individuals were disposed of through fine and costs, and some charges are still pending against them. Through close, continuous liaison, authorities at Urbana, Illinois, vigorously pressed charges against these Black Panthers wherever legally possible and to the full extent of the law, notwithstanding some of their activities had been only misdemeanors. It is their opinion that through charging these Black Panthers whenever they are caught in infractions of the law, they may discourage them from making Champaign-Urbana a headquarters for their Black Panther recruiting activities. Information gained during their incarceration at the Champaign County Jail is still being processed for intelligence purposes.

On 2/13/69, this Division forwarded to the Bureau [redacted] original sampler of the signature of [redacted] It is anticipated that in the future, copies of his signature can be put to effective counterintelligence use.

Re Los Angeles letter to Bureau, 11/29/68.

1. Operations Under Consideration

The Los Angeles Office continues to follow closely violations of the Anti-Riot and gun control laws by black nationalists to determine if these individuals might be prosecuted under federal and state laws.

A survey of toll calls of various black nationalist leaders is continuing under present Bureau policy with the results of these reviews being considered for action under the Counterintelligence Program.

An analysis is being made of the income tax returns of various black nationalist leaders to determine if a counter-intelligence technique might be utilized.

The Los Angeles Office is considering what counter-intelligence use might be made of the article from "The Crisis" magazine of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which was furnished by the Bureau.

As the occasion arises, consideration will be given to the possibility of pointing out certain individuals in black nationalist groups as being police informants, particularly if some member or members should be arrested on the basis of information which might have been furnished by tipsters.

The Bureau will be requested to approve any specific counterintelligence operation arising out of the above.

2. Operations Being Effected

An anonymous letter was sent to [redacted] Los Angeles, setting out that the Black Panther Party (BPP) plans to kill the whites in the PFP when the Revolution comes.

A three-month subscription to the "Black Panther Newspaper" was sent to the BPP, Box 2967, San Francisco, California, from a deceased Negro. In the same envelope was a $1 bill in a preprinted envelope of the Newton-Cleaver Defense Fund with a Los Angeles address, indicating that the BPP in Los Angeles had been soliciting donations and converting to their own use. It is hoped this will cause disruption between the BPP of Oakland, California and the Los Angeles Chapter.

Members of the black nationalist groups are continuing to be interviewed in the hope that this program will cause some concern and disruption among the members of the black nationalist groups.

3. Tangible Results

[redacted] complained to Special Agents of the FBI that the FBI was harassing and intimidating "US" members by interviewing them. [redacted] indicated that "US" was keeping a file regarding the FBI's interviewing "US" members.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

Friction continues between the BPP and "US" in the Los Angeles area and members of the BPP have made attempts to assassinate "US" members in retaliation for the slaying of two BPP members by "US" members. There has been some talk among Black Student Union (BSU) members and BPP members that the BSU would support the BPP in its activities. This situation will be followed closely by the Los Angeles Office for any counter-intelligence possibilities.

Based on this analysis, it is the feeling of Chicago that no effective counterintelligence opportunity has presented itself in that period, and consequently no counterintelligence proposal is being submitted at this time.

Chicago will again submit a letter under this caption in two weeks in accordance with prior Bureau instructions, unless it appears that a counterintelligence proposal should be submitted prior to that time.

The anonymous mailing suggested in referenced Chicago letter, approved in Bureau letter, 2/20/69, has been handled in accordance with Bureau instructions on 2/24/69. The Bureau will be advised of any tangible results.

3. Tangible Results

No information has been developed by Birmingham indicating that its prior effort at a counterintelligence operation against the NOI which was made in October, 1968, achieved any reaction.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

On October 6, 1968, Muhammad's Mosque opened a cafe at 1617 - 4th Avenue North, Birmingham. Appropriate licensing officials have been contacted and it appears that the cafe is closed adhering to all pertinent city ordinances.

The mosque is now in the process of opening a shop on 4th Avenue North, Birmingham, in order to give the sisters in the MGT employment. This matter will be followed in an effort to ascertain if applicable laws are being complied with.

Muhammad's Mosque, Birmingham, Alabama, sells "Muhammad Speaks" on the public streets of Birmingham. Inquiry has determined that the mosque paid the necessary license fee for the half year which ended 12/31/68. It has not yet renewed its permit to sell newspapers, however, it has a grace period which runs until 2/31/69, to renew the license. This matter will also be given attention.

The following counterintelligence proposal although somewhat involved, is believed would create considerable disruption among the BPP organization nationwide.

It is proposed that the FBI Laboratory duplicate the letterhead which was incorporated in referenced LHM and instead of the text contained therein substitute the following text:

"The Black Panther Party is now engaged in a life and death struggle with the pig authorities. In order to successfully combat the forces which are attempting to destroy us, all chapters are immediately instructed to forward a minimum of $500 to Central Headquarters in Oakland, California. This money will be used for a defense fund for HUEY NEWTON and ELDRIDGE CLEAVER and other necessary expenses in connection with our struggle. These funds should be furnished no later than April 15, 1969 and should be sent to P.O. Box 0000, Oakland, California. It is also suggested that San Francisco utilize the services of a bearded Negro agent or informant to rent [redacted] and would logically have the mailing addresses of all BPP chapters in the U.S.

It is felt that this communication should be mailed from Oakland, California by the San Francisco Office and in the event the BPP is able to obtain the name of the individual renting the P.O. Box this will further disrupt the leadership of the BPP in California. In the event some chapters forward money to the box it can be retained or destroyed.

Houston believes that as soon as the BPP headquarters gets wind of this letter which has been distributed throughout the country all of the leadership will be under suspicion and there will be no apparent way to alleviate these suspicions even if they determine the fact that the P.O. Box is rented under the name of [redacted]

As the Bureau is aware offices having BPP chapters have been required to submit BPP addresses in their area and these would be available for utilization in this matter. Further if the Bureau feels this proposal has merit the [redacted] which is a mimeographed letter will be forwarded to the Laboratory for duplication in line with the above.

No further action being taken by Houston pending receipt of specific Bureau instructions.

Advise of results and submit your recommendations for further use of this technique if deemed advisable.

NOTE:

New York recommends duplicating the type of post cards used by the head of the Republic of New Africa in New York City to schedule meetings. The Republic of New Africa is a black extremist, separatist organization. This technique would be used, on short notice, to cancel or reschedule a meeting for disruptive purposes. A technique involving the use of Republic of New Africa stationery in another city seriously disrupted the group. Use of this technique could have the same effects.

Re Bulet to Albany, 3/4/68, and New Orleans letter to Bureau, 11/27/68.

For the information of the Bureau, [redacted] has replaced [redacted] as coordinator of this program.

NEW BLACK NATIONALIST ORGANIZATIONS

Since the submission of referenced letter, there have been several significant developments in the Black Nationalist field in New Orleans.

The Black Peoples Party for Self Defense, which was a loosely organized group, became affiliated with the Republic of New Africa (RNA) in December, 1968. As a result of this affiliation, the organization in New Orleans changed its name to the Black Liberation Army (BLA) and has raised its membership from eight to approximately fifteen. [redacted] Between 1/18-19/69, three members of the BLA attended an RNA conference in Detroit, Michigan, following which [redacted] the Southern Region, which includes Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, and Southern Georgia. Currently, the RNA-BLA is attempting to organize a Southern Regional Conference for June, 1969, in New Orleans, Louisiana.

On 1/17/69, 250 Negro students at Fortier High School began a boycott of classes at that school demanding that they be permitted to form a Black Student Union. These demonstrations continued through 1/24/69, during which 50 students were arrested for violation of local ordinances. It has been determined that these demonstrations were instigated by [redacted] an organizer in New Orleans for the National Anti-Draft Union (NBAWDU), a SNCC front group. I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Newark by letter dated 2/18/69 requested the Bureau to consider authorizing the mailing to [redacted] derogatory report regarding him, which had come into the possession of the Cincinnati Office.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

No specific operations being effected since Newark letter 11/29/68.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

Newark by letter dated 10/2/68 advised the Bureau that Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) funds were apparently being misused and were financing black nationalist groups such as the BPP in Jersey City, N.J. This information was disseminated to OEO by the Bureau, and an OEO investigation resulted in corrective measures being taken which it is felt have contributed to the recent decline of the BPP in Jersey City, N.J.

Per Bureau instructions, Newark by letter to New York dated 11/14/68 furnished the names of responsible Negroes in the Newark Division who were to be mailed a newspaper article which set forth the fears of Count BASIE's wife regarding the BPP. Due to its nature it has not been possible to assess the results of this operation.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Recently, there has been a decline in the BPP in New Jersey, and it appears to be following the pattern of other black nationalist groups in the state, such as the UNITED BROTHERS and the BLACK COMMUNITY DEFENSE, which appeared on the scene, were quite active for several months, and then faded into a dormant or semidormant state. In regard to the BPP, the national leadership is cognizant of the BPP weaknesses in New Jersey and is attempting a reorganization. This matter is being closely followed.

"Terrible Things Going On"

What's So Wrong With Muslims?—Clay

By DAVE BRADY
Washington Post Sports Writer

"You take Sonny Liston," Cassius Clay was saying here, "he's the champion of the world, and that's supposed to take in America.

"But when he tried to buy a house in a segregated neighborhood down here he was turned down. The white people don't want integration; I don't believe in forcing it, and the Muslims don't believe in it.

"So what's so wrong about the Muslims. They're not the ones getting locked up, so they must not be doing anything wrong. They're not out on the streets fighting, trying to get in places where they're not wanted.

"Sure, I talked to the Muslims' meeting, and I'm going back again. I like the Muslims."

The challenger for Liston's title was granting the first interview about his interest in the Black Muslims while a trainer massaged him at the Fifth Street Gym, where Clay is getting ready for the Feb. 25 bout.

Clay addressed a meeting of the Black Muslims on Jan. 21 in New York, interrupting his training schedule. Previously, all questions about Clay's talk were referred to Arch Robinson, the challenger's personal public relations man.

"The Muslims don't believe in drinking, smoking, taking dope, commiting crimes. They teach you to be clean.

"There's some terrible things going on in this country. A lot of them are happening to the Negro.

"In Cleveland, the Negroes tried to integrate and you could see what happened, the white people hit the Negroes and the Negroes hit the white people . . . bam-bam, bam-bam," Clay said as he rose up to a sitting poisition and alternately flailed his fists wildly and protected his face with crossed arms, as if in panic. "The whole world sees this.

"I SEND Bundini (Drew Brown, a trainer) downstairs to get me some tea," Clay continued, "and they refuse to serve him. I go down and when they see 'Cassius Clay' they want to serve it then, only because I'm Cassius Clay.

Father Clay Deplores Muslims

. . . Speaking of Cassius, his father, Cassius Sr., says the fascination of the Black Muslim movement for Cassius and his 20-year-old brother, the powerful Rudy, is a deadly thing and against all the teachings of their family and friends.

CLAY.

"Cassius was approached when he wasn't grown, three years ago," says his father. "They flatter him and make him feel ashamed if he says anything or eats anything or does anything they don't tell him to . . .

"When this fight's over I've got to talk to those people and get them out of his life . . . You take that 'Malcolm X,' he came down here and persuaded Cassius to go to that New York meeting in January, although he had turned them down. Rudy is even more impressed by them and it ain't right. I'm saying they're nothing but another model of Father Divine and all the others that have trafficked on poor, ignorant minds for their own power and glory and profit.

"What those Black Muslims preach shams the Christian religion and what our boys have known to be the truth all their lives . . . There's nothing wrong with either of them a good, quiet think won't cure . . ."

THE MIAMI NEWS
Miami, Florida
Date: 2/2/64

"I tell my boys — don't start any trouble. I believe in stepping aside if I'm not wanted. Two little Negro kids go to a white school and the other kids don't want them? The two Negroes shouldn't be sent."

Wasn't 'stepping aside' something like quitting the fight for his rights?

"What rights?" Clay asked. "I know what it's like to travel in the South — and in the North, too. You don't know how your chauffeur lives, what he says, what he thinks.

"But he knows how you live because he sees it. He hears you talk and knows what you think.

"You just don't know what the Negro in America is thinking about and that's why a lot of you are scared. Liston mixes and I get criticized for staying among my own kind. That's all right with me."

Were organizations like the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality wrong for seeking integration?

"They have a right to do what they think, but I'm not going to get killed trying to force myself on people who don't want me. I like my life. Integration is wrong."

IS CLAY an actual member of the Muslims?

"I was born a Muslim, I'm told. My race is descended from the people in Egypt . . . Africa whose religion has always made them Muslim.

"It's funny — the Africans are treated better in this country than the American Negro."

"There's 160 million white people and 20 million Negroes. Now do you think that the white people are to say, 'Here, I'm quitting my good job and giving it to you?' There's not even enough jobs for the whites.

"I'm not mad at the white people. If they like me, I like them. Milton Berle has invited me to the hotel where he is performing, so I'll go. But I wouldn't go there if I wasn't wanted.

"I know this talk about liking the Muslims is going to hurt the fight promotion and thereby cost me some money. But money is not a God to me. I don't care."

Dad Says Cassius Muslim 'Prisoner'

By PAT PUTNAM
Herald Sports Writer

Cassius Clay's father said here Thursday his son joined the Black Muslims four years ago at the age of 18, just a few weeks after he had won the Olympic light-heavyweight championship in Rome.

CLAY JR.

"They have been hammering at him and brainwashing him ever since," said Cassius M. Clay Sr. "He's so confused now that he doesn't even know where he is at. They've ruined my two boys; they should run those Black Muslims out of the country before they ruin other fine young people."

Clay's father, a 51-year-old ex-Louisville, Ky., sign painter, said Rudy, his youngest son and Cassius' constant companion, also is a member of the anti-white sect. The elder Clay now resides in Miami.

"The Muslims tell my boys to hate white people; to hate women; to hate their mother. And then they tell them to love Muslims and give their money only to the people they love. They deal only with the ignorant colored people."

It was pointed out that Cassius seems far from ignorant.

"They got Cassius when he was 18 with just a child's mind. They taught him to fight God's sword. The Muslims call me dead because I believe in God.

"I tell them they are the ones who are dead. I say to them, 'God's Will will be done' and it makes them angry. I tell my sons they can't make it without God; that people try but they can't.

"All those Muslims want is money. They worship one man: Muhammad (sect leader). He hypnotizes them and has them so they can't think. All the words that come out of their mouths are his words. He completely dominates them. They might as well be in prison."

Cassius is slated for Army duty after his Feb. 25 title fight here with Sonny Liston. Won't that make a difference?

"No," Cassius Sr. said. "The Muslims told him he shouldn't fight for his country, that it would be better if he goes to jail. I told Cassius that if they want somebody to go to jail, then let them go. I don't think Cassius wants to go to jail very much.

"Malcolm X (leader of the New York temple) came down here. Cassius paid for everything. You should have seen them all; they did everything but bow and kiss his feet.

"I said, 'Who's this?' I told Malcolm X that my grandparents were Christians; that my parents were Christians, that my wife is a Christian and that I was a Christian. And that we would all die Christians. He just sneered at me.

"They made me so mad I threatened to whup three of them. I just can't make my sons see. Cassius told his mother to go home last week. She did.

"I've moved out of his house in Miami; I don't want to be near those Muslims. I went over there this morning and they were playing those Muslim records. I got mad and walked out. That's all my boys do: talk Muslim, talk and listen to Muslim records.

"There are at least five good boys in Cassius' house," Clay Sr. said. "They are Howard Bingham (photographer), Drew (Bodine) Brown and Solomon McAteer (assistant trainers), Jimmy Samuels (chauffeur) and Cody Jones (sparring partner). That Bodine give Cassius hell all the time about those Muslims.

"They tell my boys: don't swear, don't mess with women, don't smoke, don't drink, don't do anything. But I met two Muslims I knew in downtown Columbus (Ga.) a few months ago. And one asked me where he could buy some marijuana.

"I said, 'What?' They say, 'You know, tea, marijuana.' I told them they were Muslims and weren't supopse to do things like that. They say, 'We're only human. We do those things behind closed doors.' And those are the kind of people keeping my boys in some kind of a prison."

Cassius Sr. said the Muslims already had been given a considerable sum of money by the 22-year-old heavyweight challenger.

"He gave them $700 one time. And they come down here on vacation, stay at the Hampton House and it costs him $100 a week or more. And he paid for that Malcolm X's vacation.

"Isn't that something, that 'X'? They wanted me to change our last name to X. I laughed at them. I told them I had a good Christian name and it would stay that way. I told them that after a person learned to read and write, he don't have to use any X.

"That made them angry.

What The Black Muslims Are And Want

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

THERE ARE a number of contradictions in the Black Muslim situation which, among other things, is bringing notoriety (with, probably incidentally, considerable box office value) to the upcoming Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston title fight.

Pennekamp

The sect to which Cassius is publicly assigned is headed by Elijah Muhammad, self-styled messenger of Allah whose No. 2 man and principal spokesman is Malcolm X.

It can trace its history irregularly and with lapses to the days of African greatness, economically and culturally. It is on that theme that leaders such as Malcolm X contend—not for integration with whites, but for separation and dominance.

Islam ("There is no God but Allah, and Mohammed is his prophet") was their original religion and they want to restore it, maintain it and live under it.

WHITE MEN, they hold, coveted their wealth and overwhelmed them in Africa, causing them to lose their "dominant role in world progress," says Morroe Berger, professor of sociology at Princeton, in Horizon.

"The Islams," he adds, "came to Africa earlier, and they became one with the Africans; the Christians came later and remained strangers to Africa —many of them knowledgeable, charitable, and sacrificing, but even the best of them strangers."

Uprooting of the culture became complete with slavery. Within 300 years more than 10 million were captured and exported to America with millions of others going elsewhere.

HOWEVER, the trend of the Islamic faith is traced through the acts and conduct of some of them, although Berger points out that most of the population in the time of Africa's greatness remained pagan despite their Muslim leaders.

WPA writers in Georgia relayed this quote from the great granddaughter of a prominent Muslim slave:

"They was very particular about the time they pray and they were very regular about the hour. They bow to the sun and have a little mat to kneel on."

There is sharp division among Negroes as to the Black Muslim's place in their life and until recently the movement operated largely in the shadows with only occasional outbursts.

Usually these involved Malcolm X, who is regarded as Elijah Muhammad's spokesman.

There is interwoven in their objectives a "Back to Africa" movement which Malcolm X holds should be financed by the federal government, the money to be regarded as the debt the United States owes the race for the free labor it extracted from Negroes in slave days.

MALCOLM X's visit to Miami and the interest it helped to arouse in Clay's reputed affiliation apparently signals the end of a "suspension" which was imposed on him by Muhammad following the shooting of President John F. Kennedy.

At that time he characterized the assassination as an instance of "the chickens coming home to roost.

"Being an old farm boy myself," he said, "chickens coming home to roost never did make me sad."

Muhammad issued a statement that Malcolm did not speak for him in that instance and the latter was quoted as saying that he should not have said it.

BERGER quotes Muhammad:

"We are not asking for land that originally belonged to the European people. We are asking for the earth that originally belonged to us.

"We are going to have a place on this planet that we can call our own. I don't care where it is; whether we are going to have an isle in the Pacific or Atlantic oceans, or if we have to pick up a piece of this country, we are going to have some land.

"We are not waiting for a Moses to come and tell us that he will lead us to any promised land; the earth is our promised land and we are going to take some of it."

MUSLIM PRAISES CLAY

'X' Marks The Champ

By WILLIAM TUCKER
Reporter of The Miami News

Malcolm X, the temporarily mute voice of the militant Black Muslims, was in town today with a conviction that Cassius Clay already is the champ — win, lose or draw against Sonny Liston.

Malcolm X has been ordered by the Muslim's "prophet" and boss, Muhammed X, to keep his mouth shut until March 1 for intemperate remarks made after the assassination of President Kennedy.

But through an associate, the tall, 38-year-old "prime minister" of the Black Muslim movement definitely claimed Clay as the sect's very own.

"Cassius is the champion because he lives clean and he thinks clean — he is one of the few Negroes we can look up to with adulation who is also accepted by the white community," Malcolm X said.

Cassius, after making friendly remarks about the Muslims, was warned by his advisers to cease and desist and he has promised to stay away from politics and religion in his voluble statements.

His father charged the Muslims were out to [illegible] Cassius for all the publicity they could get.

Malcolm X, who is staying at the Hampton House on NW 27th Avenue, is known to have visited Clay's Miami Beach training quarters several times and pronounced the challenger to be "looking great."

Tomorrow, he indicated through an associate, he may go to see Liston work out but he takes an unenthusiastic view of the champion.

"Cassius doesn't drink, he doesn't smoke and he doesn't chase women," Malcolm X was quoted. "And today, he no longer has to make all those wisecracks to draw attention."

The sports writers at first built up Clay as "Jack Armstrong, the all-American boy, but when they began to speculate on his religious beliefs he turned into the villain," Malcolm said through his spokesman.

"It is a dangerous thing when a sports writer or columnist allows himself to fall into the trap of not being objective, and letting it discolor his report of the fight itself," he was quoted further.

Malcolm X was not communicating what other activities he might be up to in this area, such as recruiting members for the Muslims, who have a Temple here.

"The main part of a tree is the roots, and they remain underground," was the answer relayed from him.

The Muslims have claimed as many as a million members nationally but other sources trim them down to 10,000 hard-core members. They believe steadfastly that integration is not the answer.

"Equality, yes," Malcolm X was quoted. "But it must be within ourselves to make ourselves equal, and that cannot be forced by cramming us into schools with whites.

"If I make myself equal and a white man wants to associate with me, fine; if he doesn't that's fine, too.

"But when we try to teach that, the integration leaders say we are teaching hate. They think we are troublemakers because we don't pretend that the problem is being solved, through forced integration.

"I am saying that the problem is getting worse, not better. And when warmer weather begins to appear in the North the problem is going to get worse in 1964 than it was in 1963."

Cassius 'A Proud Muslim'

'Religion Is Islam; True Way'

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

"All I want is peace — peace for myself and peace for the world," the newly crowned heavyweight boxing champion, Cassius Clay, said Thursday in revealing that he is a member of the Black Muslims.

"My religion is Islam," the 22-year-old Louisville fighter said. "I believe Allah is God. I think this is the true way to save the world, which is on fire with hate."

Clay, famed for his glib tongue as well as his sharp fists, said he had made an extended study of the religion over a period of months and was convinced that it is "the truth and the light."

Clay, who stopped the formidable Sonny Liston in the seventh round of their 15-round title fight here Tuesday night, was relaxing at his temporary quarters when he was told that the leader of the black supremacy sect, Elijah Muhammad, said in Chicago that the [redacted] champion was a Black Muslim.

"That is true, and I am proud of it," Clay said, with obvious deep feeling. "But what is all the commotion about? Nobody asks other people about their religion. But now I am the champion, so it seems the world is all shook up about what I believe.

"You call it Black Muslims, I don't. This is a name that has been given to us by the press. The real name is Islam. That means peace. Yet people brand us a hate group. They say we want to take over the country. They say we're Communists.

"That is not true. Followers of Allah are the sweetest people in the world, and there are 750 million of them — in Africa, Asia, all over the world.

"They don't carry knives. They don't tote weapons. They pray five times a day. The women wear dresses that come all the way to the floor and they don't commit adultery. The men don't marry white women.

"All they want to do is live in peace with the world. They don't hate anybody. They don't want to stir up any kind of trouble. All the meetings are held in secret, without any fuss of hate mongering."

Clay acknowledged that his religion, which he said has brought him an "inner peace," was responsible for his sensational upset victory over Liston, an overwhelming 7-1 favorite.

"God was with me — I couldn't have done it without God," he added.

The new champion said he was disturbed to find that the Islam group had drawn the fire of integrationist forces among the Negro people.

"We believe that forced and token integration is but a temporary and not an everlasting solution to the Negro problem,' he added. "It is merely a pacifier. We don't think one people should force its culture upon another.

"I get telephone calls every day. They want me to carry signs. They want me to picket. They tell me it would be a wonderful thing if I married a white woman because this would be good for brotherhood.

"I don't want to be blown up. I don't want to be washed down sewers. I just want to be happy with my own kind."

Clay said it was only nature that people of like culture and heritage should live together.

"Animals in the jungle flock together," he said. "Mexicans, Puerto Ricans, Chinese and Japanese all live better if they are together.

"I don't like hot Mexican food and I would be unhappy if somebody made me eat it. At the same time, you may not like what I like. If you don't like it you shouldn't have to accept it."

The youthful, boyish-faced fighter, descendent of a Kentucky slave, said he resented some people attaching "dire motives" to his Islam connections.

"I am a good boy, I never have done anything wrong," he insisted. "I have never been in jail.

"I like white people. I like my own people. They can live together without infringing on each other. You can't condemn a man for wanting peace — if you do, you condemn peace itself."

Negro Leaders Blast Cassius For 'Naivete'

Miami Herald
Miami Florida
2-29-64

By Herald Wire Services

Three Negro leaders expressed their displeasure Friday over Cassius Clay's avowed membership in the Black Muslim movement, calling it "a delusion, a disservice to his race, nation, and the world."

The Rev. D. E. King, pastor of the largest Negro Baptist Church in Kentucky, said the heavyweight boxing champion is "not helping the soul of America."

Lyman T. Johnson, president of the Louisville chapter of the NAACP, said he hopes Clay "will shake himself out of this delusion, lest he ruin his chance to be a great champion."

He said that Negro leadership here is "embarrassed for Clay, who is naive."

And Louisville attorney Harry McAlpin, a member of the State Board of Education, had this comment:

"Clay has a right in our democratic society to be a Black Muslim or a blue goose. He has a right to speak and say whatever he may choose. It is regrettable, however, that he has chosen to speak as a wise man on a subject in which he shows a great naivete."

The Black Muslims advocate separation of races.

SEN. Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.) told the Senate Clay probably has talked himself into serious trouble with Negro integration leaders.

As a result of his segregationist views, Clay now will be subject to "harassment, humiliation and insults such as he has never experienced," Russell said, adding:

"He will pay for this. He will need a higher degree of courage than when he climbed into the ring with (Sonny) Liston."

With obvious approval, Russell quoted Clay's views about persons of the same race and religion peacefully living together.

"But I have great sympathy for Cassius Clay now," the senator said. "He will never be invited to the White House to see the president of the United States."

He said other Negroes who feel the need of the "compulsion of federal power" to live and try to force their way into places barred to them "have the ears of the highest leaders of this country." He said most of the violence in recent demonstrations has been caused by these leaders of "so-called nonviolent associations."

By contrast, Russell said, he knew of no such violence caused by the Black Muslims, who believe in racial segregation.

Muslims Are Making X-Champ of Cassius

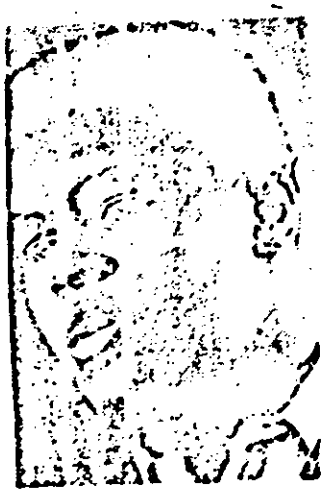
NEW YORK — (AP) — Cassius Clay, the world heavyweight champion, said Thursday that the next time he is introduced in the boxing ring, the announcer will point to him and cry out: "Cassius X."

It is the logical next step in the metamorphosis of the brashly talkative Negro fighter under the careful tutelage of Malxolm X, a leader of the Black Muslim sect.

In the presence of Malxolm X, Clay is a subdued young man.

"Allah is the greatest!" replies Clay's boast "I am the greatest!"

Many Black Muslims — who claim to be an American offshot of Islam — have adopted "X" as a last name, rejecting surnames their forebearers acquired from white families for whom they were slaves.



Cassius X
. . . marks the spot

Clay, descendant of a runaway Kentucky slave, was asked if he, too, would make the name change now that he has announced his Muslim membership.

"Yes," he replied. "The next time they introduce the heavyweight champion of the world, they will say: 'In this corner, ladies and gentlemen, the heavyweight champion of the world, Cassius X."

The 22-year-old Clay has been almost constantly in Malcolm X's presence since arriving in New York Sunday.

Although the fighter has accommodations at a Harlem hotel, he has been a house guest at the sect leader's Long Island home. Clay plans to fly to Louisville, Ky., his home town, Saturday.

Clay defers to Malcolm X for advice and said his religious mentor will accompany him on a planned visit to Africa and the Middle East and a pilgrimate to the Islamic holy city of Mecca.

Awed Army Drops Clay Mental Case In Pentagon Lap

By Herald Wire Service

WASHINGTON — Predraft mental tests taken by heavyweight champion Cassius Clay in Florida are being forwarded to Washington for "processing," the Army said Wednesday.

The Army said "a determination of his acceptability will not be known until the processing is complete, sometime in the near future." The forwarding of Clay's tests to Washington was regarded as unusual.

The Defense Department has declined comment on reports that Clay flunked the Army mental examination, the Louisville Courier-Journal said Wednesday.

The newspaper, in a story from Washington, said the department was asked about reports the 22-year-old Louisvillian failed by a small margin to pass his psychological tests.

The Courier-Journal said that Clay was given two psychological tests so that Army officials could satisfy themselves "he did not flunk deliberately in an effort to evade military service.

"His failure, the Army psychologists are reported to have found, was a case of honest failure, not the work of a malingerer. It is presumed another mental test will be given Clay soon," the newspaper added in the story by Robert L. Riggs.

Riggs also wrote that the fact the examination is being administratively processed "is taken to indicate that he did not make a passing grade the first time around. It is evidence of the sensitivity of the Clay induction case that the records have been sent from Florida to Washington."

The Army refused to go beyond saying that his draft board will be notified when a determination of his acceptability has been made.

In New York, where he visited the United Nations Wednesday, Clay was asked to comment about the report. He said, "I ain't got nothing to say about that. If they say I failed a physical, I guess I must have. But I don't remember it."

Atwood S. Wilson, former principal of Central High School in Louisville, said Clay received a regular four-year high school diploma in 1960.

"I gave it to him myself," Atwood said, "he had an average of about 73 for the year."

'I'm Prophet, Like Moses,' Says the Champ

CHICAGO (UPI) — Heavyweight Champion Cassius Clay, proclaiming himself "a prophet, like Moses," met Saturday with Black Muslim Leader Elijah Muhammad (Poole) "to learn from my teacher."

Clay, who claims he has been a Muslim for more than four years, apparently has broken with Malcolm X, the former No. 2 man of the Muslim movement who has begun organizing a politically oriented Negro nationalist movement.

Clay said during an airport news conference after arrival here that he opposes Malcolm X's suggestion that Negroes organize "rifle clubs" and begin to "fight back in self defense."

Clay said, "I'm against that. There are too many rifles. There are too many airplanes. I hate nobody. Hate is ignorance. I don't believe in violence."

Clay carried a thick wooden cane, carved like a totem pole. "It's the kind of cane that Moses carried. I'm a prophet like Moses. My predictions come true," he said.

Clay said his Muslim name is "Muhammad Ali" and I'm a true follower of Elijah Muhammad. I face east five times a day." He wore a red and white Muslim pin in his lapel.

Clay said he didn't know whether Malcolm X "has split off or not" from the Black Muslim movement. "I'll have to find out."

He said he was dining with Elijah Muhammad, the wispy, oriental-looking Muslim leader, but declined to reveal the site of the meeting. "I want peace and quiet," he said. "You reporters make more of a fuss and are more concerned over a righteous, clean living person like me, but you don't do anything about (ex-Heavyweight Champion Sonny) Liston, with the type of life he's had."

IT'S OFFICIAL: ARMY TURNS CLAY DOWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today that heavyweight champion Cassius Clay failed his second pre-induction examination and is "not qualified for induction into the army under applicable standards."

The Army made no mention of which examination Clay failed, although it is presumed it was his mental aptitude test. Rumors have been heard for several days that he failed the mathematics portion of the test.

The Army said only:

"Tests given Clay included measurement of aptitudes for various skills needed in military service."

Clay was given a second test last Friday after it was determined that the results of his first pre-induction examination taken at Coral Gables in January, were inconclusive.

Ex-Cassius Puts Senate Sparmates On A Single Stool

By LEE WINFREY
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Muhammed Ali, the hardest-hitting Moslem since Saladin, probably never thought he would become a factor in the Senate's civil rights debate.

Winfrey

Muhammed, you'll recall, was known as Cassius Clay until he heard the Muezzin cry and saw the sun glowing golden on the peaks of the minarets. His conversion to the Black Muslim faith is the cause of his congressional prominence.

Muhammed, as a card-carrying black segregationist, would no more marry a white man's sister than he would eat a piece of pork. This has endeared him to Sen. Richard Brevard Russell of Winder, Ga., who thinks the boy is vastly underrated as an amateur sociologist.

When the World Boxing Association made noises like it was going to take Muhammed's heavyweight title away and let four Christians hold a play-off for it, Russell hit the Senate floor immediately in the champion's defense.

"INTOLERANT, narrow-minded and bigoted," Russell called the WBA bigwigs. "Nothing could better demonstrate the grip of intolerance on this country," he said.

He spoke slowly, as though to assure correct pronunciation of all the liberal-sounding words. And when he had finished, Lo! who should rise to agree with him but Sen. Jacob Koppel Javits of New York City.

"I agree with the senator on this matter," Javits said forthrightly.

"Perhaps it is a good thing to demonstrate to the country," the balding Republican said, that he and the veteran Georgia segregationist "can see eye to eye on a question such as this without inhibition."

It's no wonder the WBA threw in the towel. George Lincoln Rockwell might make a good run at the Presidency with bipartisan support like that.

THE SENATE subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly, which is investigating Muhammed's victory over Liston, is not likely to go down in history as one of Congress' most tigerish.

The reluctant dragon at the head of it is Sen. Philip A. Hart of Mackinac Island, Mich., who is not sure that boxing is a sport worth saving.

Hart won fame last year as "the housewife's friend" when he carried the ball for a truth-in-packaging bill. Among other things, he counted all the cherries in a cherry pie to demonstrate how shoppers were being shortchanged.

It's a far cry from that to the hard cases who are currently confronting the mild-mannered Hart. If some of Liston's cronies ever bellied up behind a cash register, many supermarket shoppers would probably switch stores.

Hart's subcommittee is doing fairly well so far, though. Much of the chicanery behind the Clay-Liston promotion seems so obvious Little Orphan Annie could scarcely overlook it.

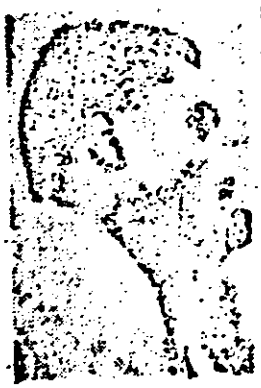
Muslim Claims Cassius; Champ Angry, Silent

By PAT PUTNAM
Herald Sports Writer

The Black Muslims claimed Cassius Clay Wednesday night, less than 24 hours after the controversial 22-year-old from Louisville had won the heavyweight championship of the world.

Silent through a confusing month of charges and countercharges, Elijah Muhammad, leader of the segregationist black supremacy sect, Wednesday night "identified" Clay as a Black Muslim.



Rudy Clay
...he's a member

"I'm glad Cassius Clay was brave enough to say he was a Muslim," Muhammad told a crowd of 5,000 at the sect's annual national convention at Chicago. "I'm happy that he confessed he is a believer."

Clay, still in Miami, was less than happy with Muhammad's unveiling. The new champion refused to even discuss it.

"He doesn't want any part of this," said Howard Bingham, Clay's photographer. "The phone's been ringing all night long and he won't talk to anyone. It's making him angry."

Earlier another Clay associate, Archie Robinson promised that Clay would make a statement. "In an hour," said Robinson, who then made himself unavailable.

At the time Robinson said Clay was unavailable "and even if he were here I'm sure he wouldn't want to comment on it."

Wednesday morning Rudolph Valentino Clay, the champion's younger brother, said in Chicago that he was a member of the Black Muslims. But he refused to answer for his brother.

"If you want to know about Cassius," said Rudy, "go ask him."

Muhammad's claims to Cassius' "confession" were not quite accurate. The champion has never answered the question, yes or no.

The closest Clay came was when he told a reporter: "I was born a Muslim. I'm told. My race is descended from the people of Egypt . . . Africa whose religion has always made them Muslim."

On Feb. 6, Clay's father, Cassius M. Clay Sr., said both his boys were Muslims: that Cassius had joined the group when he was 18 "and has been brainwashed ever since."

Cassius was silent then, too. His only comment was "no comment."

With the pressure the Muslims are putting on him, it is doubtful if he can stay silent much longer.

Miami Muslim In Fracas

LAS VEGAS — (UPI) — Four admitted Black Muslims, arrested for disturbing the peace during the heavyweight title fight, failed to appear in justice court Tuesday and forfeited $25 bail each.

The defendants told arresting officers they were body guards for Heavyweight Champion Muhammad Ali, as Cassius Clay prefers to be called. They were arrested when they marched to the $100-a-seat ringside area, stood with arms folded, and refused to move.

The defendants were Robert Deckard, 35, and Delano Grant, 28, both of Los Angeles; Otis Perlotte, 36, of Miami, and Isaac Starks, 40, of Oakland, Calif.

When the Muslims failed to appear before Peace Justice James Brennan Tuesday afternoon, bail was forfeited and the case closed.

Clark County sheriff's deputies were starting to force the four Black Muslims away from ringside Monday night when one of them yelled the Muslim call for help. About 15 other apparent Muslims converged on the deputies.

CITY ORDER

Muslims Face Arrest

By MORTON LUCOFF
Reporter of The Miami News

The City of Miami will arrest persons going into a Black Muslim temple at 1711 NW 57th St. for occupying a building without a permit.

The City Commission today directed the action after hearing complaints from a Negro minister and two neighborhood residents.

The Rev. P. W. Williams, pastor of St. Luke Baptist Church, 1790 NW 55th St., said, "We're kind of afraid of them. We think of them as the Ku Klux Klan of our color."

Rev. Williams, Mrs. C. M. Johnson, 1745 NW 57th St., and Mrs. Lucy Stanbeary, 1731 NW 57th St., complained to the City Commission because of the parking situation resulting from people going into the Muslim temple.

Rev. Williams said, "We have in our neighborhood a group of people undesirable as we think of them. They are in violation of the zoning regulations, according to what I had to do to build a church."

He said great numbers of people go into the temple and they park their cars in private driveways and in front of people's homes.

"Some become belligerent when asked to move," Rev. Williams said. "We're kind of afraid of them."

City Manager Melvin L. Reese said his office had been working on this problem for months. There is no occupancy permit for the building and he said the power has been turned off.

But the minister said, "No, sir, the lights are on."

Commissioner M. Athalie Range, the commission's only Negro member, said she had received many complaints and businessmen and homeowners are "afraid to ask these people not to park."

Miami's building department director, Robert L. Ferencik, said the city has been having problems with this place for a year and "We've had rough going and have had them out two or three times."

Reese said the building is rented to the Muslims, and they've been served with notices of violations for not having an occupancy permit.

"They threw them on the ground," Reese said.

Black Muslims Lose Meeting Place

The Black Muslims were minus one meeting spot today because of a ruling by Miami Judge Gerald Tobin. Tobin found Benny Gibbons, owner of a building at 1711 NW 57th St., guilty of permitting meetings there without a city use and occupancy permit. Building inspector Kevin Gordon, who said Gibbons told him he was a Muslim member, stated a permit was refused some time ago because the structure did not meet building code requirements.

The Black Muslim Is Neat Polite And He Smiles

By BILL BARRY
Reporter of The Miami News

Many people fear the Muslims. They are equated with terror. They are mysterious. This is the second of two articles examining Miami Muslims — how they explain themselves and how others look at them.

The Negro boy stood with his back to the store wall on downtown Flagler Street. He carried a pile of newspapers under his arm.

He wore the uniform of respectability: clean shirt, a tie, a jacket. The shoppers hurried by him. He tried to sell them Muhammad Speaks, the Muslim newspaper.

Some of the people cursed him. "Dirty Muslim," they called him. Others pushed him off. A drunk stopped to jabber at him. Even Negroes skirted him — they looked at him with suspicion and distrust.

The boy smiled. He remained calm and polite. He didn't sell many papers. He is the Fruit of Islam — Muslim youth — its strength, its hope. It is possible that he hates while he smiles on the street corner. It is possible that he is merely waiting until it is time to strike and kill. Anything is possible. But he did not show hate. And he did not exhibit violence. He tried only to sell his newspapers.

A Negro teacher said: "A man who hates has got to show it. Look at the faces of avid Ku Klux Klansmen. Hate shows. I don't believe these Muslims hate. Maybe they have learned the trick to hide it. But I doubt it. I just don't think they feel hate."

In the beginning of the movement, Elijah Muhammad preached that the white man owed the black man a separate nation. "We believe that our former slave masters are obligated to maintain and supply our needs in this separate territory for the next 20 to 25 years — until we are able to produce and supply our own needs."

In a sense, he was asking for what the United State is now doing for many "underdeveloped nations" — some in Africa. He said that every black man and every black woman should have the freedom to accept OR reject a land of their own.

Later, he was charged with preaching black supremacy. He said: "We do not want to separate because we think we are superior. We believe that we are inferior. How else could we be after so many centuries of slavery? We want independence because the white man does not want us to have peace and security here.

"We cannot get along with whites in peace and security. We believe our contributions to this land and the suffering forced upon us by white America justifies our demand . . . give us our own nation."

In the beginning, that was the main Muslim theme. It is significant that now Elijah's minister in Miami, L. Bey, says: "I am, after all, an American. I was born here, raised here, obey the laws . . . This is my nation."

And it is significant that now Elijah says: SINCE you're not going to give us a separate nation, we demand equal justice under the laws and equal employment opportunities NOW. Give us EITHER freedom, justice and liberty, he says, OR give us our own nation.

Sitting in the Nile Restaurant in Miami's Negro district on a hot day, the Minister said: "People do not want to understand that this is a divine work. Moses had his people. Jesus had the Jews. Elijah has his Negroes. Didn't Moses want separation from the Egyptians?"

The Minister said that he believes there will be a separation between whites and blacks. But the one he talks about is not the one Elijah first preached.

The one he talks about is more spiritual than physical. He said: "The righteous people will be resurrected after death — the death of the mind, not the body." The righteous people are the Negroes, he said. And what is going to die is the Negro's old knowledge of himself as the white man's slave . . . the poor man . . . the dirty man . . . the man who does not know how to act properly and decently.

THE MIAMI NEWS
Miami, Florida
Date 4/25/61
Ed.

The Minister said he believes the Negroes are the righteous people because of Elijah's teaching. Elijah's teaching says: "It has been written that God would choose the rejected and the despised. We can find no other persons fitting this description more than the so-called Negroes of America."

The Minister also believes in a physical separation. But it is not the same as Elijah once preached. The Minister said: "We feel that there will always be friction and jealousy between the two races. We feel the black man should be with black people. He should have his own places. We don't oppose blacks being with whites if they want it. We just feel that if the black man had his own places that is where he would go — with his own."

That is not quite the same as seeking a separate nation. As in all revolutionary movements — religious or not — time forces change. The Catholic Church is almost 2,000 years old and, as the recent Ecumenical Councils proved, it is still changing.

In the Muslim beginnings, Elijah was called a prophet. Now he is called a messenger.

The aged patriarch, in tones rooted in the Georgia farmland where he was born, talks about America as if he were not a part of it: "We recognize and resepct American citiens as independent peoples and we respect their laws which govern this nation." But Elijah's minister says: "This is my nation."

The differences between the two men are significant. The elder represents the first zealous days — the ideal. The younger minister is a symbol of the maturing present — the practical.

The future is the boy selling newspapers on the street corner.

Elijah once said: "You white men are our worst enemis. We have no other enemy because we live only with you." Some Muslims probably still look at the white man as an enemy . . . but many do not.

The Minister said: "We are not hostile to the white men." But in the last issue of Muhammad speaks, white Uncle Sam was pictured as a snake crushing the world. In the news columns there are frequent disputes about what Muslims should and do believe.

The contradictions are confusing, especially to outsiders. And some of the secrecy of the Muslims does not clarify. It hides.

The white man often fears the Negro and he is not likely to understand that which he fears. He avoids it. He is apt to fear the Muslims more. But he can't avoid the fact that the Muslims are there. His interpretation of them — a threat — perhaps causes some of the misunderstanding.

Many Negroes are also afraid of Muslims. They are not sure what they stand for. They think, like many whites, that the Muslims stand for violence.

One Negro teacher said: "The Muslims are still building their ideology. Not all of them are sure yet what they believe. That is characteristic of a movement in its adolescent, changing state."

The teacher once asked a 17-year-old Muslim: "Do you hate white people?" The boy said: "No."

"Why not?" the teacher asked. "You're supposed to, aren't you?"

The boy said: "Well, you know. . ."

It was the same answer that Eddie the barber, a recent Muslim convert, gave. But maybe that is not as significant as the fact that neither the boy nor Eddie seemed to know that his leaders say they are NOT supposed to hate whites.

Eddie the barber's friend said: "The Muslims have some good points. Eddie doesn't smoke anymore. He doesn't drink. He gets along with his woman. He's never had these things before. They've done something for him as a man."

One Negro's explanation of the Muslims and Elijah Muhammad was this: "Elijah Muhammad is a very rich man. He has many businesses. He is like Father Divine, Sweet Daddy Grace. . ."

But another said: "You can't have an organization without money. Every church takes up a collection. Every religion has business ties. The Muslims did not invent these practices."

And Muslims say that members who break Muslim rules are no different from Catholics, Protestants or Jews who break the rules of their own churches.

"Muslim meetings are like any other church," one Negro said. "Except they search everybody for weapons — even little boys."

The Minister said that there is nothing sinister about the meetings. "We read from the Bible — and the Koran. We teach people how to pray. We teach them how to keep their bodies clean, their minds, their houses. There's no hollering, no shouting. There's no singing and no music. We teach people how to be respectful and lawful."

Other Negroes are invited to attend services every night except Monday. That is for members only. The men dress in ties and jackets. The women wear conservative dresses. Neatness is demanded of all Muslims.

The Minister said: "People think we are trying to hide something when we say we don't know how many members we have. We're not. They come and they go. There are maybe 400 or 500 men, women and children. But that's only a guess."

The Negroes who fear and mistrust the Muslims could find out exactly what the Muslims stand for. They could go to the meetings. But they are mostly busy becoming middle class Americans. They are buying wall-to-wall carpeting, color televisions. They are getting their children educated; they are planning additions for their middle class houses.

They do not have time for the Muslims. Perhaps that is a danger, perhaps not. But it is most difficult for a white man to find out exactly what the Muslims are.

Perhaps it is only what Elijah once said: "If we sit over there in that house across the street, peaceful all day and all night, after awhile that worries you. You will send someone around to see what is going on over there in that house . . . It's the white man's way of starting trouble.

"We're not sitting over there in that house planning anything. But we are trying to plan peace for the house . . ."

Keeton Outlines Their Objectives

Black Muslims Have Homestead Believers

Black Muslimism, which advocates the violent overthrow of the U. S. government and believes the Negro will rule, has a well-knit organization in Miami, but only a few dedicated believers in Homestead, a student of the movement said Friday.

Joseph Keeton, a sergeant on the Homestead police force, who has made a study of Black Muslim beliefs and activities, revealed highlights of his findings in a talk before Homestead-Gallaher Lions Club at a luncheon meeting Friday.

Keeton was introduced by City Manager Olaf Pearson, a member of the club, who told the audience the racial situation in Homestead is quiet and cautioned them not to begin circulating rumors to stir it unnecessarily.

In his talk, Keeton touched on civil rights movements, and said his only criticism of them is that they aren't spending time and money to combat the Black Muslim organization which preaches segregation.

"Black Muslims believe that Negroes are the original people of the earth and are dedicated to the eradication of four 'devils' — the white man, smoking, drinking and swine," Keeton said.

"Originally it's members had to kill four white people to earn their lapel buttons; now they can get the button

"They eat only one meal a day, pay an assessed 20 per cent of their earnings to the cult, and when they join, drop their last names and use X instead.

In 1962, there were at least 30 known temples or mosques in the United States; today there are over 150, one of them, Mosque 29, located at 1711 NW 54th St., Miami.

The cult believes it will begin the War of Armageddon, against the white man, in 1970, and has Fruit of Islam organizations, similar to the Nazi Gestapo, in all major cities where there are mosques, Keeton said.

Congressman Adam Clayton Powell is "a backer and good friend" of the cult; in fact he is pictured and-or quoted in about 90 per cent of the issues of "Muhammed Speaks," a tabloid newspaper which the organization produces.

The paper comes out weekly and is sold door-to-door and at peak traffic locations in Negro areas all over the country.

Local people can get a copy by driving up to Lucy Street Bar, where a sidewalk vendor sells them for 20 cents each on Saturday afternoon and evening, the Homestead sergeant added.

Miami's Fruit of Islam organization is headed by Sam Saxton, bodyguard to Cassius Clay. Saxton comes to South Dade, and is almost always addressed here as "Captain Sam," Keeton revealed.

He was among nine out-of-town Muslims present at a recent meeting at a Negro barber shop at SW Fourth Street and Fourth Avenue.

National Leader of Muslims To Dedicate Mosque in Dade

National Muslim leader Elijah Muhammed will address Miami Muslims Oct. 2 and dedicate the sect's new mosque, which once housed a Christian church.

Muhammed, chief spokesman for the controversial Negro sect, will speak at the opening of the Muslims' Miami headquarters, purchased last week for $135,000, a Muslim spokesman said.

The Muslim mosque is the former Seventh Avenue Church of Christ at 8245 NW Seventh Ave. It was purchased from church trustees Sept. 12, according to Miami attorney Henry Arrington, who acted as trustee for the sale.

Arrington said he completed the purchase under the direction of local Muslim leader Lucius Bey and the organization's Chicago headquarters.

The Muslims were forced to find a new meeting place in April when the city sought an injunction to prevent them from meeting at their old temple at NW 57th St. and 17th Ave.

The city took action after area residents complained Muslims were parking cars in their driveways.

The new meeting place has more than an acre of parking space, and all possible zoning problems were ironed out with the city before the sale was completed, according to Arrington.

Muslims' New Home Wins OK

The Black Muslims, ousted from their old temple last spring, have been assured that their new home — Seventh Avenue Church of Christ — meets Miami's zoning laws.

City Attorney Richard Stone told Henry Arrington, the Muslims' lawyer, that zoning regulations permit the church to be used as a temple.

The Muslims moved from their old temple at NW 57th St. and 17th Ave. after the city sought to enjoin them from using it because they had no occupancy permit.

The city's action followed complaints from neighbors that the Muslims parked cars in driveways while attending services.

In a letter to Stone, Arrington said the new temple at 5245 NW Seventh Ave. has an acre of off-street parking. He added there are no houses on the block, adding "the people of the Muslim faith do not conduct anything but quiet, dignified services."

Muslims Seeking New Home

By ROBERT RENO
Herald Staff Writer

Miami's Muslims may be considering a Christian church as their new home.

Forced from their old temple at NW 57th St. and 17th Ave. by the City of Miami, the Muslims are said to be dickering for the Seventh Avenue Church of Christ at 5245 NW Seventh Ave., soon to be vacated.

Attorney Henry Arrington said he is negotiating for purchase of the property "as a trustee." But he declined to identify the persons for whom he is acting.

"I will make that known later," he said. "I can't say now whether it is the Muslims or whether it isn't."

He said a price hasn't been mentioned yet, but that he expects the deal to go through in two weeks.

In April the city sought an injunction to stop the Muslims from meeting at their old temple on the grounds they didn't have an occupancy permit. Neighbors complained that Muslim worshippers parked [illegible] their driveways.

The action was dropped when attorneys for the Muslims said they would agree to find a new meeting place.

Miami's Evicted Muslims Are Buying New Temple

By BILL BARRY
Reporter of The Miami News

Miami's Muslims are buying a new temple.

It is the Seventh Avenue Church of Christ at 5745 NW 7th Ave. The purchase is expected to be completed within two weeks.

The Muslims were evicted from their temple at NW 57th Street and 17th Avenue by the city officials last April. Some neighbors complained that the Negro organization created a nuisance.

The City Commission was told that the Muslims blocked neighborhood driveways with their cars and that they became belligerent when they were asked to move.

Some neighbors, however, denied that the Muslims created any nuisance. They said the Muslims seemed to go out of their way to be polite.

At any rate, the City evicted them because they did not have an occupancy license for their building.

Attorney Henry Arrington lims. But the Miami minister confirmed that he is handling the deal for the Muslims.

He said it was too soon to discuss price but it has been reported that a $15,000 deposit has been made on the property.

Church minister Henry Gilbert said the prospective buyers, "have not identified themselves to me." He said that the negotiations are being handled by Arrington.

The church is expected to hold only two more Sunday services in the building before the deal is closed.

The Muslims are nationally known as the Black Muslims. But the Miami Minister of the group, L. Bey, said recently: "We are black men, but not Black Muslims. Just Muslims."

The aim of the organization, he said, is to better the black man's condition by making him better himself.

He denied that hate of the white man or violence against any man is part of Muslim creed.

Crowds Attend Muslim Dedication; Hear Muhammad

On Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, I entered Mosque No. 29, located on NW 53rd St. and 7th Avenue. I decided to go because of curiosity. Any time a group of Negroes shell out $135,000 cash for a building, this interests me, especially a religious sect, such as the Muslims.

Upon entering the building I was directed toward the basement, where I was superficially searched on the stairs leading to the basement. From there I was asked to go into the basement. I was asked to remove everything from my pockets, except small change. The Muslims searching me asked if I had attended a Mosque before. I told him, no. He then told me that he was not trying to offend me by searching me, but that it was standard procedure to search all visitors to the Mosque. At this point I was thoroughly searched. In fact, I was asked to open my vest and put my hands over my head.

After being searched, I was marched with a group of other male visitors into the main chapel which is located on the second floor. A number of male registered members of the sect were quietly asked to move to make room for the visitors. The women visitors sat behind the sisters of Islam on the pews located to the left and eight of the center pews where the men were sitting.

Muhammad had begun speaking when I arrived in the main chapel. I could hear him; however, it was very difficult for me to distinguish what he was saying. The chapel was packed. There were no empty seats to be found. A number of members were standing in the rear of the chapel. It was terribly hot. The air condition was on the blink. The windows were then opened and this released the humid condition somewhat.

As I glanced several times across the crowd, I recognized several professional people in our community. I guess most of them were there for the same reason I was—curiosity.

Several times during Muhammad's sermon or speech there were cries from the audience of "Yes sir, teach us," and "beautiful." At one point during the sermon I was able to make out what Muhammad was saying. He said: "I want to lead you to a land where you can be rich. I don't want to lead you somewhere, where you can be poor." At the conclusion of his sermon he introduced the new leader of the Miami Mosque.

As Muhammad left the platform the crowd began shouting, "All hail to Allah, the Almighty Elijah Muhammad." Then the leader of the Miami Mosque asked the crowd how many of them wanted to be free and wanted to join the Muslims. A large number of visitors shouted "Yes," and cards were passed out that read "I wish to accept my own. Put my name down in the book of life." At this time, I left the chapel without filling out a card. I must say that all of the Muslims were very polite and courteous. In fact, they even asked me did I remember where I parked my car on my way out.

Miami Mosque Entertains Top Black Professionals

By Thomas Sharrieff

MIAMI, Fla. — The followers of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad recently held their first social-religious function in Muhammad's Mosque No. 29 here, which was a pre-Ramadan Banquet hosted by members of the Muslim Girls' Training and General Civilization Class. Many of the city's top black business and professional men and women attended and enjoyed the affair.

THE NEW and spacious temple was dedicated recently by the Honorable Elijah Muhammad, Messenger of Allah.

Troy

The banquet featured a series of poems, plays and musical selections. Also enjoyed was a most effective prayer scene, with a cast consisting of Sisters Anna Lois X, Mildred X, Karen X, Karweemah X, Mubaarah X, Arleyah X, Dorothy 2X and Resaalah X. Guest speaker was Sister Nettie X, national captain of the M.G.T. and G.C.C.

Minister Troy Bey, featured speaker of the evening, electrified the audience with a heart-warming message concerning the Honorable Elijah Muhammad's program for the elevation of the 22 million so-called Negroes in America.

MINISTER Troy informed the audience that the Messenger of Allah had dedicated the new Mosque, not only to the Muslims of the community, but to the so-called Negro population of Miami.

Among the many distinguished black business, professional and civic leaders present were, Attys. Henry Arrington and Jesse McCrary; Mrs. Maxine Thurston, director of leadership development of the Urban League; Mr. Lee Black, of the Community Relations Board; Drs. Edwin Shirley and Carl Yeager, Sr.; Mr. Talmadge Fair, executive director of the Urban League; Mr. William Wynn, of the United Fund; Mr. Sonny Wright, local broker, and many other distinguished leaders of the black community.

Awards were presented Lieutenant James 9X and Lieutenant Willie 3X for outstanding sales of MUHAMMAD SPEAKS newspaper.

The beautifully decorated dining room featured music by the Noble Watts Jazz Quintette, augmented by musicians from the mosque, Brothers Guy X, Elvin 'X and Ernesto X.

LIEUTENANT James 9X and Brother Nathan X. of Muhammad's Mosque No. 29, gathered up 3,000 copies of MUHAMMAD SPEAKS and journeyed to their hometown, Montgomery, Ala., and sold every copy within three days.

Minister John Muhammad Addresses Miami Mosqu

MIAMI, Florida — The resplendent, newly - dedicated Muhammad's Mosque No. 29 here was the scene of a welcomed surprise visit by Minister John Muhammad, brother of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad recently.

AS THE GUEST speaker, Minister Muhammad delivered a powerful lecture on "The Time and What Must Be Done for the So-called Negro."

He attested to the fact that despite many trials and tribulations, the Messenger and his followers have withstood strongly after 36 years of hard struggle and that this, indeed is the black man's only hope and salvation.

Minister Muhammad also reemphasized the fact that the Honorable Elijah Muhammad is the last and only Messenger of Allah and that his warning to join unto one's own kind should not be taken lightly.

He later introduced his entourage, which consisted of his son, student - Minister Wali Muhammad and his new son - in - law. Minister Hasty Shabazz, Minister of Muhammad's Mosque in Tampa, Clearwater and St. Petersburg, Florida.

THE STIRRING and lightening lecture by Mi ter Muhammad resulte 44 lost-founds accepting own.

Still later, Minister hammad eommented o rapid progress made by ister Troy Bey, Ministe Mosque No. 29 and the for a dinner given in h of Minister Muhammad

Re IP letter to Bureau 2/10/69.

The Indianapolis Chapter of the Black Panther Party has been attempting to cause the students at Crispus Attucks High School in Indianapolis to strike, as was the plan of the National BPP which was made known recently. IP [redacted] (PROB) became aware of the fact that the BPP in Indianapolis was going to pass out literature at the high school. They also intended to have one of the BPP members go to the high school on the pretext that he was interested in night school. They had him wear the BPP uniform, thinking that he would not be permitted even to enter the high school; they then would have some issue to bring up and might be able to start some kind of an incident. The local police were made aware of these plans as well as the Principal of Crispus Attucks High School. As a result, the members passing out the literature were requested to leave the building as they could not pass out literature in the school building. BPP members left with the exception of four, who were students at Crispus Attucks High School, who continued to pass out literature after being advised not to do so by the principal. These students were then expelled from school. The police who were present at the high school most of the week of 2/17-21/69, allowed BPP member to approach the school and enter to inquire about night school without bothering him, and the plans of the BPP to start some sort of incident by this means were foiled.

Further possibilities to disrupt plans of the BPP if possible will be watched for in the future and possibilities for counterintelligence action will be considered.

The two chapters of the Black Panther Party (BPP) located in the Omaha Division at Des Moines, Iowa, and Omaha, Nebraska, continue to be inactive with no regular meetings of these chapters having taken place in recent [illegible]. As pointed out in referenced letter, information was received on January 28, 1969, that the chapter in Omaha as of that time consisted of only approximately six to eight individuals, and regular meetings of this chapter had not been held since November, 1968.

The above information regarding the inactivity on the part of the Omaha chapter was further substantiated when [redacted] was interviewed on February 18, 1969 [redacted] Omaha BPP, continued to have a few followers. However, she considered the BPP in Omaha was almost out of existence.

No counterintelligence accomplishments under captioned program have been obtained during the past two week period, and because of the inactivity of the BPP chapters in this division, it is not felt that intelligent recommendations can be made at the present time concerning counterintelligence measures aimed at crippling the BPP.

This matter will continue to receive close attention and any suggestions for counterintelligence activities at a future date against the BPP or its leadership will be submitted by separate letter.

(UNITED BLACK BROTHERS OF SYRACUSE, N.Y.)

Reurairtel and letterhead memorandum [illegible]
dated 1/27/69 captioned as above.

Information set forth in referenced [illegible] as set forth in your LHM dated 2/11/69 captioned [illegible] indicates captioned organization, which is in the process of formation in your territory, is receiving considerable funding from the Syracuse Area Council of Churches. A source of your office has further indicated he is of the opinion that if funding from the above organization was eliminated, the possibility exists the organization might fail to achieve its desired ends.

In view of the above and inasmuch as captioned group, although ostensibly founded as a community civil action group, is actually following the basic tenets of the extremist Black Panther Party, it would appear an excellent opportunity exists for the Bureau to severely hamper and/or negate the organization's programs and activities through a well-thought-out counterintelligence program.

This program could possibly take the form of a published news article appearing in a local publication kindly disposed to the Bureau in which the true nature of this organization is exposed together with its receipt of funds from the Syracuse Area Council of Churches.

"Muhammad Speaks" volume 8, number 21, 2/7/69, page 2, which came out on 1/31/69, sets forth an "Open Letter to the Chicago Tribune" from ELIJAH MUHAMMAD. MUHAMMAD thanked the Tribune and [redacted] for "truthfully told the public what we are striving for which will rid clashes and enmity between black and white."

The 'Chicago Daily News," Blue Streak Edition, [redacted] page 6, sets forth an article titled "Black Muslim Goal: a strong economic base" [redacted]. In essence the article concerned itself with the economic programs of the Black Muslims and their investments. It reflected, in part: "For more than a decade, Americans have been watching the growth of the Black Muslims and wondering what they were up to. There has been an aura of mystery about the devout followers of ELIJAH MUHAMMAD. Some blacks and most whites could not lose the nagging fear that the Black Muslims and their Nation of Islam were violence prone and preachers of hatred towards whites. It seems clear now that MUHAMMAD and the thousands of austere, rigidly polite Black Muslims have been up to just what they have been proclaiming: separation of the races and the development of a firm economic base... The Black Muslims' systematic acquisition of land and real estate and their opening of numerous business establishments have been largely overlooked because of more dramatic developments in the social revolution of black Americans..."

The article goes on to state how the Muslims had vaulted into the headlines Tuesday when three gunmen fled with $23,000 in cash from the home of [redacted]

In this connection three gunmen invaded [redacted] home on the afternoon of 2/4/69 and made off with $23,000 cash as well as papers believed to relate to Muslim business deals, and jewels. This made headlines or near headlines in all Chicago papers, both relating to Chicago's large dailies and papers catering in general to the Negro community. It has not been mentioned in "Muhammad Speaks" as of this date. Conclusions

There is no accurate way to calculate the effect of the article in the 'Chicago Sunday Tribune," [redacted] on a long range basis. It is apparent MUHAMMAD does thrive on good or bad publicity. The article can be interpreted both ways. It is felt it shows the NOI is more a business than a religion. It shows, for the first time, to the American public exactly what the NOI has been doing in the last several years. It airs in public two corporations formed in Illinois by the NOI which are apparently not religious in nature and which may be of interest to Internal Revenue as was mentioned in referenced letter. It pinpointed funds available to NOI members, especially officials, which, be it good or bad, makes them a target for every thief in Chicago or in other cities where NOI ministers reside.

Another aspect of this venture is as follows:

A review has been made of captioned program as it relates to the Black Panther Party (BPP) in your division.

Your lack of participation in captioned program is typified by the fact you have not submitted any concrete suggestion and/or recommendation to disrupt BPP activity in Baltimore. This is true despite the fact you were instructed by letter dated 11/25/68 to submit bimonthly letters to the Bureau containing counterintelligence recommendations against the BPP.

The growth of the BPP in Baltimore has been characterized by its close association with Soul Patrol (SS). The SS has lent its support and cooperation to the BPP. It is apparent that the cleavage of these two black extremist organizations would be most beneficial from the [redacted] of the Bureau.

is a disgruntled BPP member has not been proved, it would be desirable from a counterintelligence standpoint to place the blame for the attempted arson on members of the [illegible]. If it is practical to generate differences between the BPP and the SS by the above method, then you should submit your recommendations to the Bureau to implement it providing such action will not endanger Bureau informants.

Submit your recommendations to the Bureau by letter dated 3/3/69 and take no action without prior Bureau authority.

NOTE:

On 2/13/69 an unidentified Negro male was seen running from the BPP headquarters building in Baltimore shortly before a fire was reported in the building. The only damage was partial burning of a table which had a display of Black Panther literature on it. Rumors among members of the BPP is that they believe that [redacted] was the one who caused the fire because he was disgruntled because he was ousted from the BPP. It appears that this incident may present an opportunity for counterintelligence action to cause a split between the BPP and the SS.

Information was received from sources in the Chicago and Springfield Divisions, that several members of the notorious Black Panther Party (BPP) had travelled from Chicago, Illinois to Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, on the weekend of January 7-8, 196[illegible] for the purpose of engaging in organizational activities on behalf of the BPP. Close continuous liaison was maintained between Special Agents of the FBI and local authorities assisted in identifying these individuals to the local authorities.

Two Panthers were arrested Friday night, 2/7/69, at the Illini Union, University of Illinois, for disorderly conduct. An altercation which occurred at a local hotel resulted in the arrest of one of the Black Panthers and, subsequently, on the following day, the remainder of the Party were arrested on charges of defrauding an innkeeper when they attempted to beat the bill at the Holiday Inn located in Rantoul, Illinois. Some of the charges placed against these individuals were dismissed of through fine and costs, and some charges are still pending against them. Through close, continuous liaison, authorities at Urbana, Illinois, vigorously pressed charges against these Black Panthers wherever legally possible to the full extent of the law, notwithstanding some of their actions had been only misdemeanors. It is their opinion that if charges these Black Panthers whenever they are caught in fractions of the law, they may discourage them from establishing Champaign-Urbana a headquarters for their Black Panther recruiting activities. Information gained during their incarceration in Champaign County Jail is still being processed for intelligence purposes.

The above is for the information of the Bureau. These cases are being followed, where pertinent, under the individual case captions.

Re Miami letter to the Bureau, 11/29/68.

The Black Nationalist Movement within the Miami Division has not changed significantly since submission of referenced letter.

The United Black Students (UBS) are active at the University of Miami as well as the North Campus of Miami Dade Junior College and they appear to be the only well organized group in this area with Black Nationalist tendencies, other than the Nation of Islam (NOI).

The activities of the UBS seem to have centered mainly around the establishment of courses in black culture and history at these colleges. Additional courses in these fields have been added to the curriculum at both colleges and UBS members have expressed satisfaction with the present progress.

There have been no Black Nationalists added to Miami's Agitator Index.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Bureau authority was granted by letter dated February 5, 1969, to enter into preliminary discussions with a Miami TV station relative to the production of a documentary film regarding the NOI. This TV station has indicated an interest in preparing such a program with Bureau assistance and on a strictly confidential basis.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

Miami's interview program of members of the NOI appears to have had some success particularly concerning factionalism within the group between the Minister and former Captain. In conducting interviews of the NOI members, Miami is attempting very discreetly to increase the differences and problems existing between the Minister and former Captain.

The Bureau advised by referenced Bureau letter that a similar program had just been approved for another office and suggested Miami's request be resubmitted in 60 days if conditions warrant.

The Minister of Mosque 29 continues to have difficulty with some members of that Mosque, particularly the [redacted] who had been expelled from the NOI and who is now currently acting as [redacted]

Information has been received from informants that both the [redacted] blame each other for attempting to undermine their authority within the NOI and it is evident that both wish to see the other expelled from the NOI.

This, together with previous rumored extra-marital activity on the part of the Minister would certainly have the effect of weakening the Minister's position within the organization.

There is no reason to believe that the submission of this letter at this time would cause any embarrassment to the Bureau.

Re Chicago letter, 1/28/69.

Information has only recently been received indicating that the local BPP has been approached by a group identifying themselves as representatives of a faction of the Vicelords, old and well established Negro youth gang on Chicago's west side. This group, led by [redacted] offered to join the BPP, giving up their former identities as Vicelords. Representatives of the BPP were somewhat reluctant to accept this group immediately, and FRED HAMPTON, Deputy Chairman, BPP, suggested a coalition be formed for the present. It was not clear just which Vicelord group [redacted] Vicelords represented, or how many people were involved.

[redacted]

A subsequently scheduled meeting between [redacted] his cohorts, and [redacted] not take place on [redacted] as intended, due to the travel to and incarceration of most of the local BPP leadership in Champaign, Illinois, over the past weekend.

Chicago maintains a closed 157 file on [redacted] reflecting him to be an old Vicelord from the early [redacted] tive days of this gang, but as of as far back as 1966, [redacted] longer active in or influential with the Vicelords because [redacted] of his advanced age [redacted] has been [redacted] Chicago Office of the FBI (1966) where he was interviewed by the SAC, and several SAs involved in racial matters, regarding his knowledge of west side racial and gang problems. He has been an employee [redacted] and in general it might be considered that he has assumed an elder statesman type role lately gangwise. It appears very doubtful that [redacted] street-wise as he may be, represents any significant segment of the Vicelords.

Whether or not this is so, it appears that an effort to further raise an element of doubt regarding [redacted] is in order, noting his previous contacts with authority. The following letter is therefore proposed for mailing to the local BPP office, addressed to [redacted] stating as follows:

"Dear Black Brother:

I just heard some street talk about [redacted] to get up tight with the Panthers. He may say he's a [redacted] but some brothers that know [redacted] think he's one of Buckner's spies and has been for years. I'm a Lord, and I'll stay a Lord, but watch that mother. His skin is the only black thing about him. Ask him if he works for the pigs, and watch him squirm. He don't talk for many Lords either.

Keep up the struggle, brother."

The above may possibly compromise [redacted] in the eyes of the BPP, even if only a suspicion of his intentions are raised.

As will have been noted, the above source in effect initiated a rather successful counterintelligence move more or less on the spot, as a result of careful indoctrination and instructions from the contacting SA. In this regard, the source also enabled Chicago to further harass the local BPP when he provided information, [redacted] reflecting that FRED HAMPTON was to appear that even[redacted] at a local television studio for a videotaped interview with local television personality HOWARD MILLER. The [illegible] was to be aired the following day.

Chicago was aware a warrant for mob action was outstanding for HAMPTON in his home town, Maywood, Illinois, and the above information regarding his whereabouts that evening was provided the Maywood Police Department, with a suggestion that they request the Chicago Police Department to serve this arrest warrant. This was subsequently done, with HAMPTON arrested at the television studio, in the presence of 25 BPP members and studio personnel. This caused considerable embarrassment to the local BPP and disrupted the plans for HAMPTON's television appearance.

The mailing of the above letter will avoid Bureau authority. Chicago, however, will continue to capitalize on opportunities as they appear to inhibit local BPP activities, in such instances as referred to regarding HAMPTON.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

No information pertinent to this category has been developed since Seattle letter, February 3, 1969.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

None.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Investigation is continuing in the Seattle case entitled, "Unsubs; EDWIN T. PRATT (Deceased) - Victim, Civil Rights", SEfile 44-405, and interviews with a number of prominent Negro civil rights leaders have been conducted and reported. Investigation is currently being undertaken including contemplated interviews with more militant Negro leaders including some who have been sympathetic with the Black Panther Party and other more militant type Negro groups. During the course of these interviews every effort

Re: New Haven letter to Bureau, 1/6/69.

The following is being submitted for Bureau consideration under the Counterintelligence Program pertaining to Black Nationalist activities:

As the Bureau is aware, in the Greater New Haven area many of the so-called leaders of militant Negro activity have long criminal records and are frequently arrested by the local police.

As examples [redacted] having been convicted of possession of heroin and was sentenced to one year in prison.

The HPA is a black militant organization located in the Hill Section of New Haven, a predominantly Negro neighborhood. This organization has been the recipient of public funds in the past and is continually attempting to obtain additional public funds. Individuals active in the HPA are also active in the Hill Neighborhood Corporation, which is being financed by a $105,000 Model Cities Program grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Re Omaha letter to Bureau, 1/27/69.

Black Panther Party chapters in Omaha, Nebraska, and Des Moines, Iowa, the only chapters of this organization in the Omaha Division, continue to be inactive and no regular meetings of these chapters have taken place in recent months. Information was received on 1/[illegible]/69, from a source close to [redacted] chapter of the BPP, that the Black Panthers in Omaha currently consist of approximately six to eight individuals. Source further advised that the BPP in Omaha has not held regular meetings since late November, 1968.

No counterintelligence accomplishments under captioned program have been obtained during the past two week period and because of the inactivity of the two chapters in this division, it is not felt that intelligent recommendations can be made at the present time concerning counter-intelligence measures aimed at crippling the BPP.

This matter will continue to receive close attention and any suggestions for counterintelligence activities at a future date against the BPP or its leadership will be submitted by separate letter.

Re Newark letter to Bureau 1/27/69.

During the past two weeks, no counterintelligence measures were aimed against the BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP).

No accomplishments were obtained during previous two-week period under captioned program.

A current analysis of the BPP in New Jersey reflects it is in a semidormant state with little activity and declining membership.

[redacted] It is believed that these efforts will be strongly resisted by local leaders. This situation is being closely followed for any logical counterintelligence activities.

Newark continues to pursue an aggressive interview program which is believed to be one of the most effective measures which can be utilized at this time as it causes concern to the leadership, disrupts the membership, and provides an opportunity to develop additional informant coverage.

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated 10/25/68 under the BLA caption; Chicago letter dated 12/[illegible] under the Counter Intelligence caption (BLA omitted) [illegible] Chicago 0-1 received Chicago 1/29/69, regarding [illegible] intelligence as related to the BLA.

In brief summary, Bureau letter of October 25, 1968, was instructional in nature as relates to the BLA, with a request to Cincinnati for a counter intelligence proposal regarding a subject of that office who did not [illegible] her position with the BLA known. Chicago letter of November 12, 1968, referred to the BLA, among other local black nationalist groups, and pointed out that Chicago did not feel that the BLA was of the size or significance in the Bureau at present to warrant counter intelligence consideration.

Chicago continues to regard the BLA in this light. The basis for this feeling is its present stagnant condition, the apparent disinterest on the part of the black community, its failure to attract any significant following or membership, its continuing struggle for minimal operating expenses and its most recent inability to organize and hold meetings of its executive group in either Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, or Lexington, Kentucky. The BLA in reality appears to be little more than a personal vehicle for [redacted] Since the CORE dissidents, who in most part comprise the BLA, had in reality no other organization to go to, they appear to be committed to the BLA as the only local avenue through which they can remain alive in an organizational sense. There is continuing dissension and dissatisfaction among those who are affiliated with it, because of its obvious ineffectiveness to this point, and those who continue to associate with it continue to be those who for several years formed the nucleus of the old Chicago CORE.

In view of the above, Chicago continues to regard the BLA in the same light as in the letter of December 12, 1968, and no counter intelligence proposal is being submitted. This matter will however continue to be closely followed, and in the event the circumstances surrounding the BLA appear to materially change and a suitable counter intelligence technique appears evident, Chicago will promptly submit same for Bureau approval prior to any local action being taken.

BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Reurlet 1/31/69.

Referenced letter suggested sending [redacted] concerning gun registration to extremists. [redacted] handled by the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division (ATFD) of the Internal Revenue Service.

This matter was discussed at length by Bureau Liaison with representatives of ATFD who in turn discussed it with their staff.

On 3/5/69 ATFD advised it is not [redacted] of the counterintelligence potential of this suggestion; however, ATFD does not feel implementation of this suggestion is feasible at a headquarters level.

ATFD representatives advised that ATFD is not a centralized organization and headquarters does not have the authority to dictate to its local offices. Also, [redacted] this suggestion might hamper investigative efforts in individual cases.

Memorandum

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI (100-448006) DATE: 1/31/69

FROM : SAC, PORTLAND (157-347) (P)

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Portland submits the following information as a possible counterintelligence program suggestion relative to black extremists and/or black extremist sympathizers.

During November, 1968, the Portland Office of Alcohol and Tobacco Tax (A and TT) 225 U.S. Courthouse, mailed to approximately thirty persons, both male and female, in the Portland and Eugene area a copy of the enclosed "Public Notice" concerning required gun registration under the new Federal law. Along with the enclosed leaflet were several xerox copies of local newspaper articles relating to provisions of the new law. The envelopes used were regular Internal Revenue Service franked envelopes postmarked Portland.

The recipients of the above were known to the Portland FBI as extremists, close associates and sympathizers of extremists, and/or persons who have made public statements prophesying racial violence. Mailings were made to the latest, most up-to-date addresses of the recipients or in some cases in care of a close associate, and in the latter case this appeared to have an additional worthwhile effect.

Enough time has now passed to assess the effects of the mailings. A and TT has advised that there has been no publicity through any media and no adverse effects to the agency whatsoever. About six persons telephoned Portland A and TT, obviously shaken and nervously asking why they received the leaflet since their inquiry disclosed that no universal mailing was made. A and TT responded that since the Government desired that all possible information be made available on the new law, the leaflets were sent to persons who might be especially interested in its provisions--to insure that they were informed. A and TT continued that if the caller desired any further information, an agent would personally contact the caller if the latter would furnish his name and address. In each instance with request of name and address the anonymous telephone caller immediately hung up.

A and TT has observed that since the mailing some recipients in whom the office was interested as extremists and possible gun law violators have been entirely inactive.

Although the registration period expired 12/1/68 A and TT is authorized to receive as "abandoned" firearms for which registration was required. Portland suggests that a second small form or form letter be attached to the leaflet "Public Notice" containing a statement similar to the following:

"Although the period allowed under the new Federal law expired on December 1, 1968, for registration of certain firearms or other devices, such firearms and devices may be turned in to the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Office without penalty. Should such a firearm or described device, unregistered, be found in your possession, it can be seized and you can be prosecuted."

Portland has been informed by A and TT that the above statement is correct. The enclosed form 3807 is utilized by A and TT to receive such property.

Portland suggests that field offices can furnish lists of desired recipients with the most recent address possible to the Bureau and mailings for [illegible] most effect should take place from Washington, D.C. Of course, consideration should be given to mailing the leaflets to informants along with other extremists. In connection with the suggestion, Portland notes the following:

In the present investigation of extremists the Bureau becomes aware of these potentially dangerous individuals but the individuals themselves usually do not know of the Government awareness and hence feel secure through anonymity. The interview program accomplishes the same end but with incomparably greater expenditure of manpower and with risk to agents involved. The psychological effect of this program can be enhanced by further mailings of similar public announcements in the future.

Portland FBI and A and TT know of no adverse effects from the local mailing. Portland has noted that a number of individuals who associated and gave support to extremists no longer do so, possibly as a result of the mailing. This is especially true of female recipients.

This suggested program would possibly have a similar effect on other extremist groups, such as Minutemen, etc.

The term "machine gun" as used in item (6) of this notice means any weapon which shoots, is designed to shoot, or can be readily restored to shoot automatically more than one shot, without manual reloading, by a single function of the trigger. The term also includes the frame or receiver of any such weapon, any combination of parts designed and intended for use in converting a weapon into a machine gun, and any combination of parts from which a machine gun can be assembled if such parts are in the possession or under the control of a person. (The term includes "unserviceable" machine guns as well as machine guns previously determined to be "DEWATS".)

The term "destructive device" as used in item (3) of this notice means: (1) any explosive incendiary or poison gas (A) bomb, (B) grenade, (C) rocket having a propellant charge of more than four ounces, (D) missile having an explosive or incendiary charge of more than one-quarter ounce, (E) mine, or (F) similar device; (2) any type of weapon which will, or which may 4686 of Title 10, United States Code; or (d) any other device which the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate finds is not likely to be used as a weapon or is an antique or is a rifle which the owner intends to use solely for sporting purposes.

The term "firearm" does not include an antique firearm or any device (other than a machine gun or destructive device) which, although designed as a weapon, the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate finds is primarily a collector's item and is not likely to be used as a weapon.

The term "antique firearm" means: (a) any firearm not designed or redesigned for using rim fire or conventional center fire ignition with fixed ammunition and manufactured in or before 1898 (including any matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar early type of ignition system or replica thereof, whether actually manufactured before or after the year 1898); and (b) any firearm using fixed ammunition manufactured in or before 1898, for which ammunition is no longer manufactured in the United States and which is not readily available in ordinary channels of commercial trade.

In response to Bureau instructions contained in Bureau letter to Baltimore, 11/25/68, the following information is being furnished.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

No new operations not previously brought to the attention of the Bureau are being considered at this time.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

No information pertinent to this category has been developed since Seattle letter, January 20, 1969.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

None.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

In connection with the investigation of Seattle case entitled, "Unsubs; EDWIN T. PRATT (Deceased) - Victim, Civil Rights", SEfile 44-405, a number of prominent Negro civil rights leaders have been interviewed. In most cases these responsible Negro leaders have been completely cooperative and it is felt that a successful conclusion in this case will result in a number of established contacts in the Negro community who can possibly be utilized in Cointelpro in the near future.

The next biweekly letter will be submitted by February 17, 1969.

ReBulet to Baltimore dated 11/25/68.

For the information of those offices which were not in receipt of referenced letter, instructions contained therein placed a requirement upon those offices to submit a letter to the Bureau under the counterintelligence caption every two weeks. The biweekly letter consists of proposed counterintelligence measures aimed against the BPP and accomplishments obtained during the previous two-week period. This requirement is now being extended to additional offices which have pending cases on the BPP. Those offices listed below which do not have pending BPP cases should so advise the Bureau.

For the information of all recipient offices, the BPP has publicly embarked on a series of steps designed to create a new and better image of itself. As part of this program, Bobby Seale, BPP chairman, has announced he is conducting a purge of the party. This purge includes expelling "Police agents" (police informants) from the BPP. [redacted]

Letter to SAC, Albany
100-445006

This presents an opportunity to further plant the seeds of suspicion concerning disloyalty among ranking officials in order to further disrupt and exploit BPP fears in this regard. This should be done in such manner as to preclude endangering Bureau informants; moreover, counter-intelligence in this regard should throw off suspicion [redacted]

The "Central Committee" of the BPP is attempting to assume total power over BPP affairs on a national scale, to the exclusion of BPP leaders in other parts of the country. This is a sensitive area since many local BPP leaders such as [redacted] local leaders present leadership, speaking and potential abilities which are more impressive than those of Bobby Seale.

Additionally, the spending of BPP funds by officials of that organization is a sensitive point among BPP members which presents an exploitable avenue for counterintelligence action.

These and other vulnerabilities of the BPP should be the subject of hard-hitting imaginative counterintelligence proposals which will render this black extremist organization ineffectual. You are again reminded that all counterintelligence actions must be approved at the Bureau prior to taking any steps to implement them. The next biweekly letter in this matter is due at the Bureau by 2/3/69 for those offices previously required to submit same.

Re Los Angeles letter to Bureau dated 1/15/69.

Counterintelligence Operations in Effect
Against the Black Panther Party (BPP)

An anonymous letter was sent to [redacted] of the Peace and Freedom Party (PFP) setting forth information that the BPP had made statements that white PFP members would be lined up against the wall with other whites when the armed rebellion takes place. It is hoped this will cause friction between the BPP and PFP.

A three-month subscription to the "Black [illegible] Newspaper" was sent to BPP headquarters, San Francisco, California, together with a $1 donation for the Newton-Cleaver Defense Fund with a Los Angeles address. It is hoped that the BPP in Oakland, California, will think that the Los Angeles BPP is collecting a great deal of money and not advising the Oakland BPP of same.

BPP members are continuing to be interrogated in the hope that this program will cause some concern and disruption among the members of the BPP.

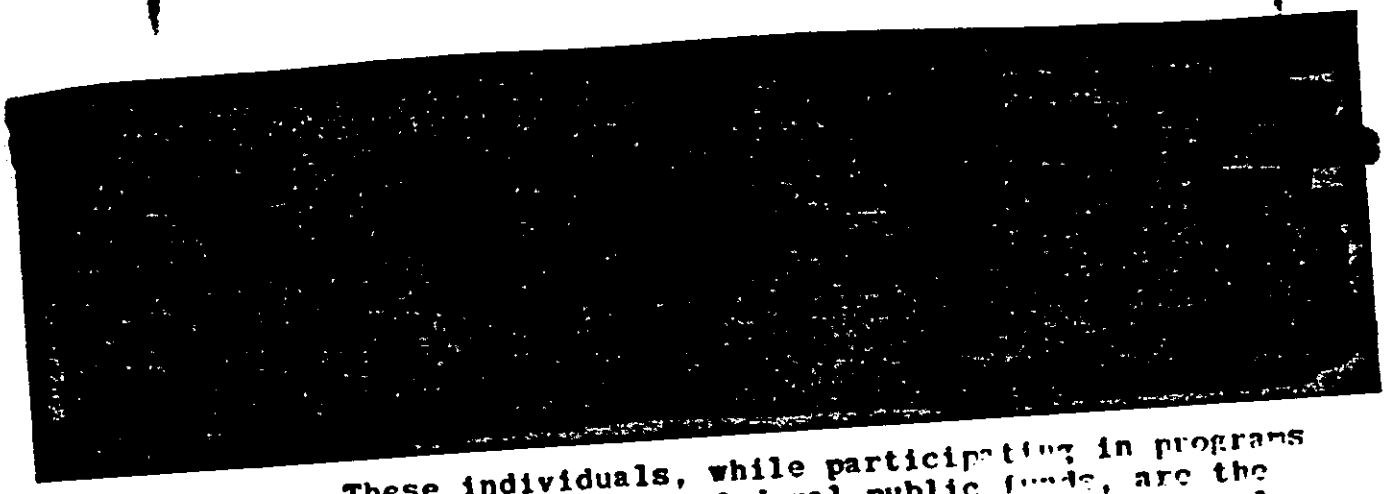
In accordance with the suggestion of the New York Office, Los Angeles will give consideration to the preparation of an anonymous letter containing information that [redacted] might have tipped off the police. The Bureau will be requested to approve any suggestion made.

The Los Angeles Office continues to follow arrests of members of the BPP for violations of the Anti-Riot and Gun Control laws to determine if any of these individuals might be prosecuted under Federal or State laws.

Accomplishments Obtained

There has been no reaction to the operations now in effect reported by sources.

170



These individuals, while participating in programs financed by local, state and federal public funds, are the individuals who are the most outspoken critics of the local, state and federal governments and the ones that are advocating racial violence. It is believed that every effort should be made to bring the activities of these individuals to the attention of the tax-paying public through every available media.

In this connection, it is also noted there are indications that the Black Panther Party is becoming active in the State of Connecticut and the New Haven Office is of the opinion that similar publicity concerning this organization, as well as its members, should aggressively be brought to the attention of the public.

In furtherance of these objectives in connection with captioned program, it is noted that the New Haven Office has established an excellent relationship with [redacted] conducts a daily television news broadcast as well as periodic editorial. He also is in considerable demand throughout the State of Connecticut as a public speaker, addressing many church, civic and other groups and is in a position to inform the public of the true nature, motives and activities of the above-mentioned individuals and organizations.

The New Haven Office, with Bureau approval, anticipates furnishing [redacted] information concerning the Black Nationalist Movement in Connecticut, as well as nationally, which he can then use in his television broadcasts and his public appearances. Every effort will be made to insure that information furnished to [redacted] will in no way be identified as coming from the FBI, nor will the confidential nature of any sources be jeopardized.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE (BIP)

Re Sacto to Bureau dated 1/29/69.

Sacramento, in its daily contacts with the Intelligence Division of the Sacramento Police Department, [illegible] learned the Black Panthers in the area and identified [illegible] cars, either owned or being utilized by them. The Police Department, upon suggestion from the Sacramento Division, maintains a list of these various automobiles and when the opportunity is presented, several of these automobiles have been pulled over for minor motor vehicle violations, such as one taillight not working.

Sacramento feels that this is an excellent harassing technique and does afford the Police Department an opportunity to obtain background and other information concerning the various individuals who may be occupants of the stopped vehicles.

Agents handling racial and related matters in Sacramento discuss, on a weekly basis, measures which might be utilized in this program. At such time that a useful technique is favorably considered, authority will be appropriately requested from the Bureau to utilize such technique.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALISTS - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

For the information of the Bureau, Article VI, Section 11460, of the California Penal Code, deals with para-military organizations. This section deals specifically with any group which engages in instruction or training in guerilla warfare and sabotage.

In view of the fact that the Black Panther Party (BPP) has held "firearms practice" along with a recent television interview of [redacted] stated, among other things, that the BPP "has an army," it would appear that the BPP would come within the purview of this statute.

In accord with authority granted by Bureau letter to San Diego, 1/30/69, concerning possible violations of local laws by the BPP, the above situation has been brought to the attention of [redacted] and favorable consideration received by [redacted] and he is presently discussing the matter with his superiors in Los Angeles and Sacramento.

The plan being formulated is, once a prosecutable case is developed, to conduct simultaneous raids on BPP headquarters in San Diego, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. The raids would result in the arrest of as many BPP members as possible along with the seizure of all available weapons in the possession of BPP members.

In view of the fact that the Bureau has, by far, the greatest amount of information concerning the BPP, it is felt that the Bureau could be of vital assistance in effecting a prosecutable case in conjunction with the local authorities.

Therefore, Bureau permission is requested to furnish all of the non-confidential and public source information in the possession of the San Diego Office to [redacted] on a confidential basis.

Permission is also requested to furnish [redacted] with selective confidential information which could be utilized by [redacted] as lead material to develop his own witnesses and evidence.

Absolutely no information will be furnished which could in any way compromise or jeopardize any Bureau informant. The Bureau, of course, as the source of the information will be held in strict confidence.

It is felt that, even if actual prosecution is not successful as far as convictions are concerned, the raids in and of themselves will exhaust and demoralize the BPP on a statewide level.

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Rebulet 1/24/69.

It is agreed that the ROY WILKINS article on "black studies" drives on college campuses presents excellent arguments from the intelligent negro point of view and should be recommended for mailing to school administrators where there are black militant groups. This office requests Bureau permission to make an anonymous mailing of this article.

CARL ROWAN wrote the attached article in a similar view and it is believed worth consideration to be included with the above mailing. Bureau authorization for this action is also requested.

Rebulet 1/28/69 concerning the Detroit BPP and the suggestions that a letter be written from the BPP headquarters to the Detroit group demanding that it acknowledge the leadership of the Berkeley Office and pay dues. The followng is observed:

It is not known if the Detroit BPP is actually part of the national BPP organization. In the report of [redacted] in [redacted] entitled [redacted] made use of the regular 10 points of the BPP and the familiar "Power to the people" motto, which would indicate at least a close affinity of ideas with headquarters. The report indicates that the BPP is having difficulty getting started in Detroit and therefore, its efforts to date might not have aroused much interest in headquarters. As far as is known, no dues are exacted by headquarters from any chapter. [redacted] may indeed be happy to accept leadership from Berkeley if they would give it to him. In view of the unsettled situation in Detroit, a creditable letter would be difficult to compose and its value would be questionable at this time.

As a suggestion along this line, however, the central BPP raises money by having branches and people around the world subscribe to and read the "Black Panther", the BPP newspaper.

This office may be in a position shortly to determine where those issues are mailed to, and if none are going to Detroit, have our source suggest to the Party leadership that efforts be made by the Party to have these outlying districts take for sale quantities of the paper.

It is believed that this approach is more in keeping with the method of operation of the BPP which ordinarily does not write letters, (they use the telephone extensively), would be legitimately handled and also should have appeal to the BPP leadership as a money raising possibility. If in the process this attempt by National Headquarters to have places like Detroit take and sell papers and remit the proceeds to Berkeley had the effect of irritating the Detroit people, then this would be a useful end product. It is believed this idea has merit and its possibilities will be explored and reported further.

In the overall BPP picture, from various sectors word is being received that the BPP leadership is convinced that police agents are responsible for many of the misfortunes presently befalling the Party. The nature of the average BPP member is such that he often does things that are incredible, even to fellow members, and immediately he is accused of being a police agent. Every opportunity should be exercised by all offices to exploit this tendency whenever it presents itself. It is noted that bulet of 1/30/69 (Bufile 100-445006) page 2, paragraph 1 deals with this suggestion.

Re Pulet 2/3/69, under same caption, but in [redacted] (BOBBY SEALE), attention is called to paragraph 3. It is agreed that the December issues of "Black Panther" containing similar material would seem to present possibilities as to fraud accusations.

As suggested in paragraph 2, same letter, dealing with money matters, recent information has come to our attention that the BPP in New York was suspicious of the role of [redacted] in such a confused manner that the members could not tell what was happening to the money. Also, a lawyer named [redacted] This is being sent to New York with a suggestion a local plan be developed to further this suspicion.

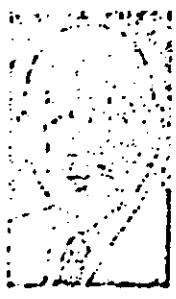
CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) — Americans of all races must feel a measure of both anguish and dismay over the campus eruptions led by black students.

People who have spent lifetimes trying to destroy an iniquitous, demeaning system of racial segregation now see black students demanding separate dormitories, trying to force institutions to add other trappings of racial separation.



People who have fought doggedly to pry open all colleges and universities to make it possible for black youngsters to have access to the greatest liberating force known to man — knowledge—now see these youngsters acting as if they already know it all. The students want to select the professors, pick the courses, and exercise "autonomy" over their "black sections" of universities.

Men who have labored courageously to build up a network of laws to give every American the protections essential to a civilized society suddenly see the children for whom they labored resorting to campus lawlessness and destruction with childish and arrogant abandon.

The anguish is penetratingly painful when a good man like Dr. Courtney Smith, the president of Swarthmore College, dies of a heart attack apparently brought on by days of wrangling with the black dissidents on his campus.

CONCERNED

MILLIONS of Americans surely are provoked to ask some higher and wiser force what it is that afflicts these black separatists and inflicts this turmoil upon our colleges and our society.

I got my best clues as to what afflicts the students when a black militant followed me from the campus of the University of Chattanooga to the airport because he wanted to talk about his confusion, his hang-ups, his lack of any sense of direction.

"I used to hate white people so much I wouldn't even wear a white shirt," he said. "But here I am now in a predominantly white university. For a 23-year-old poor black man with four children, I'm lucky to be there. And I'm learning that there are some whites who are honest and decent, though I'm not able yet to say this to my fellow black militants."

I listened to this young man speak of his confused feelings about "capitalism." He is sure he could make it in business, but "we students sit around and talk about the cruelness and injustice in society and we ask if it is not inherent in the capitalist system." But he is quick to concede that he knows of no system any place where men do not manifest their frailties in some measure of dishonesty and injustice.

He admits that his fellow black militants are as confused as he, and he reflects thoughtfully on the question of why anyone should turn over part of a university, or leadership of a civil rights movement, to people who admittedly don't know where they want to go.

The more I talked to this man and some of his militant colleagues, the more I sensed that life is a bitter anachronism for thousands of today's young Negroes. They are preoccupied with the laudable goal of achieving "black dignity." But what they have not come to understand is that people may be brutalized, abused, demeaned as a group, as a race, but people achieve dignity as individuals. Because Negroes have been abused as a race, these campus dissidents think that through some kind of group or mob action they can achieve some kind of mass "dignity" for a whole race.

Several of the young militants concede what I already knew: that most of them are so worried about being recognized as "real men" that they have become rigid lackeys of the least thinking element on campus. The young man who followed me to the airport admitted that he found nothing more than being castigated as an Uncle Tom.

UNCLE TOM FEAR

SO WHEN the chief campus revolutionary says, "Black brother, are you going to be a real man and help us take over the administration building and break up some furniture?" he sees no alternative to participation than the awful fate of being called an Uncle Tom or a "house nigger."

Few of these youngsters are mature enough to sense that this name-calling is a mark of intellectual poverty, or that it is more a mark of manhood to tell a fool to go packing than to acquiesce meekly in whatever absurdity he proposes.

The nonsense snowballs because of white guilt and white timidity. School officials cannot in good conscience move with brute force to stop these uprisings because they know that clustered among the absurdities are legitimate demands of black students which, if met, will benefit the university as a whole. Many college presidents are unable to explain why they have never been able to recruit a black professor but the football coach keeps turning up hordes of black athletes.

NEED FOR COURAGE

THIS TRAIN of campus violence and hostility is now approaching the point of insanity, and it must be halted. It can be halted if college administrators will muster the courage to meet legitimate grievances — and if black Americans who are not confused or hardened by pseudo-intellectual hang-ups will speak out.

It will take voices of black men who do not fear name-calling, because they harbor no doubts about their manhood, to convince these youngsters that the violent tactics they employ in the name of racial pride are really manifestations of self-hatred, and that the sheepish way they follow the loudest demagogue is not manhood but the "boy" quality that they have been taught to despise.

Dear Brother and Sister:

It has recently come to my attention that you have shown an interest in the Black Panther Party in Detroit. By indicating an interest in the Black Panther Party I assume you are interested in joining an organization whose goals are to eliminate white aggression and control of black people and their communities.

Because you are interested in black independence, I would like to advise you of a better organized and more realistic approach to this goal than that offered by the Black Panther Party. In the past the Black Panther Party has not helped black people but has bled the black community of respect and has organized prostitution and crime. It threatens with violence black businesses who do not wish to support them and through acts of terror bring the wrath of the white cop on the innocent black community.

Our idea in the Republic of New Africa is to form a separate nation which in no way depends on or has alliance with white USA. A nation where black people live with their own culture, independence and pride and where all black people live in peace with each other. You are invited to become a citizen of the Republic of New Africa.

Reurlet 2-11-69.

Relet requested authority to contact [redacted] established newspaper source regarding a possible article [redacted] Jackson College and the Tougaloo College Political Action Committee (PAC).

The Bureau feels that this counterintelligence action should be confined to data showing extremist activity by the PAC, since Tougaloo College, per se, is not a counterintelligence target.

You should resubmit your recommendation setting forth data regarding extremist activity that would be given to your newspaper source. No counterintelligence action should be taken without Bureau's authority.

NOTE:

Jackson recommended advising a newspaper [redacted] on a confidential basis of activities at Tougaloo College including criminal activities, freshman hazing and the use of drugs. It is felt we should limit data furnished to that which can be directly related to the PAC, an affiliate of the Black extremist Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee (SNCC).

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Re Jackson let to Bureau, 2/4/69.

The following is a counterintelligence proposal of the Jackson Division submitted for Bureau approval:

I. BACKGROUND

Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Miss., is a private, predominantly Negro, denominational, four-year college which is located in a rural area about five miles north of Jackson. [redacted] early 1960's, Tougaloo College has been a very liberal school and as such, has been staging area for civil rights and militant Negro activities in Mississippi.

At present, a student group called the Tougaloo College Political Action Committee (PAC) is a Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) affiliate of about 30 members which is active on the Tougaloo campus and recognized by the school faculty. [redacted] who is on the Jackson Division Security Index and Agitator Index.

Tougaloo College, over the past years, has sponsored and provided lodging and related accommodations for many [redacted] controversial, subversive and Black Nationalist speakers such as [redacted] STOKELY [redacted], H. RAP BROWN and others.

The school presently has an enrollment of 710 students. The faculty has several white professors, however, is predominantly Negro. In the past, school officials as well as students have been reluctant to allow any law enforcement representatives on campus property unless it was a most serious matter, usually involving trouble originated by ultra-right elements in Mississippi.

Time magazine in the Education Section of a recent issue devoted an article to four Negro colleges in the South which it said were progressing very well and rapidly as outstanding Negro institutions. Among the schools mentioned in the article was Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, Mississippi.

Due to the fact Tougaloo College is on private property, local and state authorities are reluctant to go on the campus unless invited on the campus by school authorities; local agencies do not have informant coverage of activities on the campus. Any information re various disturbances on the Tougaloo College campus has been provided to local and state authorities by the Jackson FBI office.

II. RECENT ACTIVITIES

901

The following noteworthy incidents or activities which occurred at Tougaloo College in recent months have been reported [redacted]

1) On 9/13/68, during Freshman hazing, several upper classmen forced a young Freshman to eat the bark off a tree on campus. This Freshman became quite ill and was rushed to a hospital under sedation. No actions were taken against anyone re this incident and no serious effort was made to identify the persons responsible.

2) On the evening of Sunday, 9/29/68, and the evening of 10/6/68, gunshots were fired by unknown students or persons within the Tougaloo College campus.

3) In the early Fall of 1968, the on-campus cottage of a faculty member was ransacked and vandalized by students who thought this individual was a racist as he had displayed a Confederate flag near his cottage.

4) The Tougaloo College PAC in mid-October, 1968, distributed petition demanding the removal of two liberal white professors who they claimed were "racists". As a result of pressure and intimidation from PAC members and other Negro students, three white faculty members terminated their employment with the school at the conclusion of the first semester of the current school year.

5) On 10/29/68, Negro students walked out of an economics class on campus claiming that language used by the economics instructor was obscene.

6) On the evening of 12/5/68, numerous students burned many books in a bonfire on campus which were written by white authors. The book burning was a protest to highlight the fact that students wanted more black-authored books on campus. This book burning incident was instigated and promoted by PAC members and witnessed by several hundred students, many of whom added books to the bonfire.

7) In early 1969, one Negro male student was discovered in a compromising position in a closet of the women's dormitory on campus with a white female student. Neither students were dismissed from school, and the Negro male later was involved in the beating of a Negro female student at the school.

8) On the evening of 1/22/69, vandals on campus broke three large glass bulletin boards at three locations on the campus.

9) In late January, 1969, three to four Negro male students took a Negro female Freshman student [redacted] off the campus and raped and/or pistol whipped her. To known legal action has been taken against these perpetrators by school officials nor have they reported the incident to local authorities.

10) During the first week of February, 1969, an unknown student, believed to be an independent Black Nationalist on the campus, attempted to steal a television set from a campus building late in the evening. He was discovered in the process of doing this and several shots were fired at him by students; however, he dropped the television set and escaped. Injuries unknown.

11) During the current school year, some faculty members have had marijuana parties at their on-campus cottages, attended by students and non-students.

12) On 2/5/69, HERBERT APTHEKER, W/M, Communist Party USA national committee member, spoke on the Tougaloo College campus at the invitation of the college Social Science Dept. He was accompanied on the stage during his speech by two faculty members and two student leaders. One of the student leaders is affiliated with PAC.

III. COOPERATIVE CONTACT

[redacted], a daily evening paper which is distributed throughout Mississippi, has been most cooperative recently when he wrote an article on the

IV. REQUEST FOR BUREAU APPROVAL

It is suggested and recommended that [illegible] approval be granted to contact [redacted] to make arrangements to have an article or a series of articles prepared. The accuracy of the articles would be closely reviewed before publication and steps will be taken to insure the Bureau is not disclosed in any manner as the source of information in the article.

No Jackson source or informant will be compromised by dissemination of information related above re incidents at Tougaloo College in the past six months.

V. OBJECTIVE

It is anticipated that the above article or series of articles will result in many Mississippians being appraised of the serious situation which exists at Tougaloo College due to militant Negro elements and to a lack of discipline. Also, it is hoped that the article will indirectly embarrass school officials to the point where they will feel action should be taken to improve discipline at the college and to restrict some activities of black extremists. Additionally, it would be desired that the article or series of articles could do much to change Tougaloo College from its present position of a campus where "anything goes", and which could be capitalized upon as a place for possible racial violence in Mississippi in the future.

*Re Bureau airtel, 1/7/69, to Albany and various offices, enclosing a copy of an article from "The Crisis", NAACP magazine condemning Black Nationalist Extremists; and re Kansas City reply letter, 1/16/69, to Bureau.

Said article from "The Crisis",was quoted 2/7/69 in full, as the lead Editorial in the Kansas City Call, Kansas City, Missouri weekly Negro newspaper. This Editorial begins on the front page, alongside a news photograph of leaders of the new Kansas City, Missouri BPP Chapter. A second Editorial, also appeared, captioned, "Don't panic!", the purport of which was not critical of the new local Panther Chapter, viz excerpts:

"As long as the youths affiliated with the group keep their activities within the law (and they purport to be forming lawful, legitimate goals and aims), citizens can go about their daily activities as usual"-----. "We hope that we can avoid a serious confrontation between the Panthers and the police such as those which have occurred elsewhere".

No specific counterintelligence action against the Kansas City, Missouri BPP Chapter is proposed at this time in view of the following:

Prior to the appearance of the above Editorial, both [redacted] Kansas City, Missouri, stated they felt responsible Negro leadership in the community should take a stand as outlined in the lead Editorial. They will inform, as liaison sources, whether additional action may be considered as helpful.

An article dated 2/10/69, in the Kansas City Star, daily Kansas City, Missouri newspaper, reflects efforts by the Kansas City, Missouri BP Chapter, within a week of its publicized forming and recruiting of members, to present a good community image. The article announced a BP rally 2/16/69 from 3:00 to 5:00 PM at Gregg Community Center in Paseo Park, 17th Terrace and Paseo, Kansas City, Missouri, to discuss "1969 - Conflict or Cooperation". The discussion would center around the role of the black community in Greater Kansas City, according to [redacted]. The article stated panel discussion would be followed by a film about the BPP featuring HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, and ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, Minister of Information, and 1968 Presidential candidate. [redacted] stressed that all interested persons would be welcome at the meeting, and a minimum donation, asked at the door would be contributed in part to the HUEY P. NEWTON Defense fund.

News exploitation, represented by the above article, along with the two balancing editorials (above) 2/7/69 in the Kansas City Call, points up the difficulties of timely counterintelligence activities against the local BP Chapter as long as it presents an image or fact of proposed Negro community help and cooperation in the absence of specifically indicated propensity or plans for racial disturbances or violence.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

A request has been prepared for Bureau approval to spread a rumor throughout the ranks of the Black Panther Party (BPP) in San Diego that the reason [redacted] police by furnishing information.

Another request has been submitted whereby an anonymous letter will be sent to [redacted] was in jail in Los Angeles.

A request is also being prepared to develop information concerning a restaurant in San Diego which is reportedly serving liquor to members of the BPP after legal hours and without a license. The plan is to have the restaurant raided after hours with the resultant arrest of the owner and BPP members.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Five members of the BPP have been arrested by the Los Angeles Police Department on information furnished by the San Diego Office of the FBI. Evaluation of these arrests are still being made. Tangible results thus far observed appear in the following section of this letter.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

[redacted]

In accordance with permission granted by referenced Bureau telephone call to San Diego 1/23/69, five members of the BPP were arrested by the Los Angeles Police Department on 1/24/69. They were charged with possession of weapons and armed robbery.

was also arrested and the arresting officers found 17 rounds of 9mm auto. ammunition in his jacket pocket.

Located behind the front seat of the vehicle in which the above individuals were riding was a fully loaded 380 caliber blue steel automatic Beretta Pietro [illegible] in Italy. An additional 50 rounds of .45 caliber automatic bullets were located on the right rear floor of the vehicle.

It is reported, although it has not yet been verified, that all five BPP members except [redacted] have been released from custody.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

There appears, at the present time, to be a split developing between the older (age wise) and younger members of the BPP. The younger members are objecting to being told what to do by the older members and are objecting to the control of the party by the older members. This situation is being closely followed for potential effective action under the Counterintelligence Program.

[redacted] still appears to be completely neutralized concerning any black militant activities. His current activities are being very closely scrutinized and if any indication develops concerning re-activity or the possibility of his attempting to go underground, appropriate counterintelligence action will be requested. [redacted] is reportedly falling out of favor with several members of the [redacted]. Attempts are being made to verify this information, determine the cause, and request appropriate counterintelligence action. It is felt that counterintelligence action previously requested against [redacted] if approved, will further alienate him, particularly with the younger segment of the party. This, of course, being due to the fact the girl he is reportedly sleeping with is only 14 years of age.

Black Muslims Set Their Sights on the Supremacy of Capitalism

By WILLIAM JONES

The Black Muslims, a Chicago-based black supremacy cult, have launched a multimillion dollar investment program in the last year aimed at building a strong economic base for their anti-white teachings.

During a year when black capitalism became a major political issue, Elijah Muhammad quietly directed the purchase of farms, restaurants, grocery stores, bakeries and a warehouse that will house cold storage units and an offset printing plant.

Setback from Church

He also suffered a setback when the Muslims were turned down on their offer to pay 4 million dollars for a south side Greek Orthodox church they planned to turn into a national headquarters.

All of the financial moves are part of a coordinated effort in the next 10 to 15 years to control 2 million acres of land that will include Muslim-built housing and industry, according to the aging leader of the religious sect.

National adult membership in the organization, which seeks territorial separation from the rest of the nation, is estimated at 7,000 to 8,000. Muslim leaders refuse to discuss membership totals.

More significantly, the Muslims are at work creating a corporate network separate from the holdings of the sect. They have acquired properties in Chicago, Georgia, and Michigan, for example, United Dynamics corporation and Progressive Land Developers, Inc. The corporate directors of the two organizations make up a Who's Who in the Muslims.

Malcolm X Slain

The large-scale expenditures also mean that Muhammad has apparently more than survived the widely publicized split in 1964 when Malcolm X left the sect to launch his own black nationalist movement. Malcolm, who was suspended by Muhammad, was shot to death Feb. 21, 1965, as he was about to address 400 of his followers in a Harlem ballroom. Three men who identified themselves as Muslims were convicted of the slaying.

It is no accident that the only reading material in the living room of the Muslim leader is the latest edition of the Wall Street Journal.

And Muhammad, who has portrayed a philosophy that white people are "devils" and "savages" into a multimillion-dollar empire, is eager to talk about his financial ventures.

"This is our first step," said Muhammad, a diminutive, almost frail man who wears conservative suits and calls himself as the only divinely inspired leader in the black community.

"We have lots in mind but this is our first step. We can't really say we are in business until we make a success of it. We are trying to give people something that will please them. If we want to do something, we can't sit on the curbstone and spit tobacco juice and think we have something. We have to do what the white people did. They didn't come here and sit around. They worked and changed it from a wilderness. We want to show the white man we can do something for ourselves."

Muslims Supply Funds

Funds for the economic venture are provided by Muslim members, who reportedly are assessed a minimum of 10 per cent of their wages. Muhammad denies there is any assessment of his members and says they give "mostly what they can give."

"We don't have enough employment yet among ourselves," he said. "Therefore, we seek jobs where we can get them."

Muhammad spoke during an interview in the living room of his elaborately decorated home at 4847 Woodlawn av., after a tour of Muslim businesses by a reporter and photographer. In keeping with his latest business ventures, the organization has employed a press agent, who conducted the tour.

The Muslims continue to maintain an air of super security around their leader, a holdover from the days immediately following the assassination of Malcolm X, when there were reports Muhammad would be slain in retaliation.

TV Scans Visitors

As visitors approach the home, they are picked up on the front sidewalk by a closed circuit television that follows them into the building. There is no longer a physical search, but a group of "aids" wait in the hallway and accompany visitors into the living room.

There, John Ali, the Muslim national secretary, inquired what questions would be asked of Muhammad. The interview was approved several days earlier with the understanding that only business operations would be discussed.

Finally, Muhammad entered and claimed he was surprised that any large newspaper would be interested in his group.

Refuses Photographs

The photographs of the business operations were permitted and even encouraged, Muhammad refused to be photographed during the interview.

Among the recent business acquisitions of the sect discussed during the interviews were:

1. The Salaam restaurant, 8300 Cottage Grove av., the pride of the organization, opened last March in the old Chesterfield Bank building. The building was purchased and completely renovated along with a grocery store across the street at a cost of 1 million dollars, according to Ali.

It is the most elaborately decorated of the Muslim businesses and features a $10,000 revolving sign that gives the time and temperature. A few yards away is an 80-foot silver pole that supports the crescent and star of Islam.

No Alcohol Served

The combination restaurant and coffee shop seats 350, but in keeping with Muhammad's teachings, no alcohol is served and smoking is prohibited.

About 30 of the 45 employes are Muslims, according to Ali, who indicates the organization hires non-Muslims for key positions where technical know-how is needed.

"Our people who make $100 or $150 a week will go to the Loop and spend $8 for a steak just to be with the rich. On Monday morning he may have to borrow carfare to get to work. That's why we built the restaurant," Muhammad said.

Steak at the Salaam is priced from $5 with the most expensive item on the menu an "Arabian char broiled tenderloin" for $6.25.

Two Farms Purchased

2. A 1,430-acre farm in Albany, Ga., and a 1,000-acre farm in Cassopolis, Mich., were purchased in February for $500,000. The Georgia property includes a canning factory and grain elevators, according to Ali, and the Michigan farm will specialize in poultry and egg production. Muhammad describes the farms as the beginning of a move to "take the people back to the land."

3. Your Super Market, 8215 Cottage Grove av., is the start of what Muhammad describes as a large-scale venture into the retail grocery business. Another grocery store acquired earlier by the sect is at 614 E. 71st st. Muslim products grown on the farms and made in their bakeries are sold under the "Your" label.

4. A series of buildings from 426 to 440 E. 79th st. house the sect's newspaper, Muhammad Speaks, and a combination bakery shop and coffee shop. Two other bakeries are at 370 E. 71st st., and 3940 State st.

Claims 335,000 Circulation

Muhammad claims a national weekly circulation of 335,000 for the newspaper, his primary platform for preaching the Muslim doctrine and a prime source of revenue.

The building at 634 E. 79th st. once housed the newspaper but will be razed and a new office building constructed on the site, according to sect leaders.

5. The most recent purchase is a warehouse at 26th and Federal streets that will eventually be converted to a cold storage facility for farm produce and an offset printing plant for the newspaper.

The newspaper also serves as an indicator for outside observers of new and expanded business ventures of the sect.

Want Ads Watched

In recent weeks, help wanted ads have appeared for seamstresses, power machine operators, and clothing cutters. The move apparently is aimed at expanding the operations of Temple No. 2 Clothing store at 553 E. 79th st.

Muhammad himself has indicated that "in the next five years we hope to be building houses for ourselves and to be manufacturing new clothes."

Another full page ad points up the problems faced by the sect in staffing its operations. Addressed to the patrons of the Salaam restaurant and Your Super Market, the ad announced that "soon we will have the proper laborers, who will give you proper and lovely service, as you desire. We have to experiment with those who claim they are qualified for such service . . . forgive us for any past disservice in these two establishments."

Offer to Buy Church

When the Muslims offered to buy the SS. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox church, 7251 Stony Island av., in December, it marked another effort by the sect to expand its Chicago headquarters. They placed one million dollars in escrow in anticipation of a favorable decision, but were later turned down.

Ali said the site would have been used for the sect's national headquarters, now located in Mosque No. 2, 5335 Greenwood av. The Greenwood avenue building also houses the organization's school, which has an enrollment of 350. Classes are held for grades 1 thru 12 at the University of Islam, with boys and girls attending separate sessions.

A non-Muslim who taught briefly in the school described it as "well run with no discipline problems." She said she taught while awaiting certification in the public school system after coming to Chicago from another state.

Describes Children

"Before I was hired, I had dinner with Muhammad who attempted to determine my attitude toward whites," she said.

"Once I began teaching, however, I observed no reference to violence or race hatred. The students are peaceful in their outward reactions and there are no discipline problems.

"They use quite a few students from the University of Chicago as teachers. I remember one girl in particular taught math classes while she was working on her Ph.D. One or two students have obtained scholarships to all-Negro colleges in the south. This is what they strive for, admittance to all-Negro schools."

The mosque, which houses the school, is one of 47 scattered thruout the country. The is incorporated as a separate operation, its officers are generally the same as those controlling the new corporate ventures of the sect.

Son Manages Clay

Islam bodyguard unit, appears as president and director in corporate records. Others include Ali, James Anderson, also known as James Shabazz, who is the assistant minister of Mosque No. 2; and Herbert Muhammad, one of Muhammad's sons, who also serves as the manager of Cassius [Muhammad Ali] Clay, former heavyweight boxing champion.

Tho Muhammad's name does not appear as a director, there is little doubt in the minds of observers that he is the leader of all business operations as well as the religious aspects of the organization.

It was Muhammad who guided the sect to financial solvency since he took over in 1933 on a platform that demands among other things territorial separation from whites at government expense and freedom for all Muslims now serving sentences in federal penitentiaries.

He has headed the movement for most of its existence, tho it was founded in Detroit in 1930 by W. D. Fard. Fard is said to have told his followers that he came from Mecca [now in Saudi Arabia], the birthplace of the Prophet Mohammed, who is buried in Medina, Saudi Arabia.

Makes 'Haj' Pilgrimage

Elijah Muhammad says he had made the "Haj" pilgrimage, as it is called, to both cities, which all Muslims strive to do.

Fard reportedly was a peddler of silks who sold himself in the Negro community as one who knew how Negroes live in their African homeland. Elijah Poole, as Muhammad then was known, became attracted to Fard's movement while working in Detroit, where his family had moved from Georgia. He later disavowed the surname Poole, saying it was not his name nor his father's but that of "the slave master of my grandfather."

Fard disappeared in 1933 and his fate is unknown. But each year on Feb. 26, Muhammad and his followers mark the birth of Fard, whom they call "the Great Mahdi [Allah] in the person of Master Wallace Fard of Muhammad."

Demonstrate Fighting

In the past these sessions held in the Coliseum have included demonstrations in stabbing, strangling, weightlifting, boxing, and how to choke dogs.

Muhammad then takes the stands and harangues against integration, "white devils," intermarriage among the races, and surnames imposed on Negroes by their slavemasters. He then departs for a vacation with his wife, Clara, in their home in Phoenix, Ariz.

In 1942, Muhammad was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on a charge of advocating sympathy for Japan, but his subsequent prison term from 1943 to 1946 was served for violation of the selective service act. His son, Wallace, was sentenced on a similar charge in 1960.

This same cartoon also appears in the 1/4/69 issue of this publication. This cartoon has been suitably marked with the names of individuals in the Boston area in line with the [illegible] described counterintelligence action.

As the Bureau is aware, there is a current takeover of the Ford Hall Administration Building at Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass., by black students, which has received considerable publicity in the news media, locally and nationally. At least two of the black students involved in the takeover are believed to be members of the BPP, Boston; and their affiliation with the BPP is undoubtedly known to other Brandeis students and probably to some of the faculty.

It is therefore felt that it would be more timely to direct a counterintelligence program to the current Brandeis situation rather than to Northeastern University at this time.

300 Whites Give $250,000 to Blacks

By CROCKER SNOW Jr.
Globe Staff

The Black United Front of Roxbury is benefiting from "no strings attached" contributions averaging $1000 apiece from 300 Greater Boston whites who have established a novel Fund for Urban Negro Development (F.U.N.D.).

F.U.N.D. was set up confidentially last April after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King to make both white capital and white talent available for use as the black community of Boston sees fit.

Numbered among its members are Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, Harvey Cox of the Harvard Divinity School, state Rep. Francis W. Hatch (R-Beverly), Stephen Sonnabend of the Hotel Corp. of America, George Lodge of the Harvard School of Business Administration, and Rev. Jack Mendelsohn of the Arlington Street Church.

F.U.N.D. has been officially designated a "charitable organization" to which donations are tax deductible under a precedent-setting ruling by the Internal Revenue Service.

"F.U.N.D. believes that black power is a positive voice and representative of the majority of people living in Roxbury," read an early hand-out soliciting membership. "Black power means a nurturing of self-respect and dignity among black men."

The group was developed by two young Boston businessmen, Ralph Hoagland and Sheldon Appel. From inception they chose to work with the Black United Front because it "represents positive black power."

The Black United Front is a coalition of community organizations in Roxbury including the Congress of Racial Equality (C.O.R.E.), the Urban League, the South Alliance and Local Area Planning Action Councils (A.P.A.C.). The United Front Foundation was subsequently set up to channel and disperse the white contributions.

More than $300,000 has been raised by F.U.N.D. to date and $180,000 turned over to the black leadership.

There are more than 300 persons on the F.U.N.D. list, which requires $1000 for full membership, $500 for associate or $100 for community membership.

Newsletters are distributed bi-weekly to members outlining briefly how the money is spent.

Most expenditures to date have been in small amounts for the fostering of community organizations in Roxbury and to help individual black businessmen, entrepreneurs and shopkeepers.

Hoagland, in explaining the philosophy last Spring, wrote: "F.U.N.D. is a totally responsive organization. It initiates only two things: creating money and creating human resources. Both on call.

"It has already provided and will continue to provide, Boston's black community through the Black United Front with no-strings attached, money — no white controls, advice or helpful hints —" to be spent according to its own priorities."

It is this principle which sets F.U.N.D. apart from other organizations and foundations which donate funds to the black community, but reserve the right to determine how the money will be spent.

F.U.N.D.'s original donation came last May 12 when a check for $75,000 was turned over symbolically to United Front leaders and then held for dispersal through the foundation.

On Dec. 14, a general membership meeting was held at the Somerset Hotel at which Stokely Carmichael was the scheduled speaker.

Carmichael did not appear, and Bryant Rollins of the Urban League took his place. Leroy Boston, Charles Turner and George Morrison of the United Front and Rev. James Breeden, Arthur Scott and Clarence Dildy of the United Front Foundation also spoke.

Hoagland's appeal to the primarily white crowd of about 500 at the meeting was largely emotional.

"We are trying to raise money to repay a debt," he said. "People are not reasoned in prejudice, so you're not going to reason them out of it."

The F.U.N.D. operation has been confidential until now due to fear of raising false expectations in the black community, and a lack of any significant achievements to date.

Having announced a goal last Spring of "half a million dollars by Summer for the utilization of the Black United Front," Hoagland was pessimistic last month in reporting what F.U.N.D. had actually raised and dispersed.

"We have to perform in the next three or four months in a big way or forget it," he said.

Original members pledged not only $1000 but also a day a week of their time deposited in a so-called "skill bank" for use as requested by the Roxbury community.

Hoagland admitted at the general meeting that this notion of F.U.N.D.'s largely professional membership thereby providing "instant business heritage" to the black community was little more than good idea so far.

F.U.N.D. was classified as a charitable organization by the Internal Revenue Service last Summer: "providing relief to needy individuals by assisting them in establishing themselves in life; however if such loans or grants are made for the purposes of starting or acquiring a business, they will be made to an individual who will operate it in the economically disadvantaged area in which he resides."

It is the first organization in the nation to be so classified by the I.R.S. based on the wording of an historic trust fund set up by Benjamin Franklin 200 years ago.

F.U.N.D. contributions are made through the United Front Foundation set up last August with seven directors elected by the Roxbury community and six from the United Front and associated organizations.

Meetings of the Foundation are held every Monday night to consider requests coming from the Roxbury community.

Though most F.U.N.D. money to date has come from individuals, it has solicited corporation support as well.

In this, it competes with the Boston Urban Foundation announced by Mayor Kevin White last May with a $36 million pledge by local insurance companies and banks for ghetto development.

So far, the Urban Foundation has raised $250,000 of this, and is shooting for $2 million within a year for distribution with normal discretionary strings attached.

F.U.N.D. officers committed to the novel "no strings attached" approach are Hoagland, president; H. Peter Karoff, vice-president; Stephen Crosby, administrator; Ila Cooper, executive secretary; Anthony Pilkington, technical [illegible] committee; Brooks Whitehouse, large gifts committee; Vil[illegible] committee; [illegible] Education Committee.

300 Whites Give $250,000 to Blacks

By CROCKER SNOW Jr.

The Black United Front of Roxbury is benefiting from "no strings attached" contributions averaging $1000 apiece from 300 Greater Boston whites who have established a novel Fund for Urban Negro Development (F.U.N.D.).

F.U.N.D. was set up confidentially last April after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King to make both white capital and white talent available for use as the black community of Boston sees fit.

Numbered among its members are Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, Harvey Cox of the Harvard Divinity School, state Rep. Francis W. Hatch (R-Beverly), Stephen Sonnabend of the Hotel Corp. of America, George Lodge of the Harvard School of Business Administration, and Rev. Jack Mendelsohn of the Arlington Street Church.

F.U.N.D. has been officially designated a "charitable organization" to which donations are tax deductible under a precedent-setting ruling by the Internal Revenue Service.

"F.U.N.D. believes that black power is a positive voice and representative of the majority of people living in Roxbury," read an early hand-out soliciting membership. "Black power means a nurturing of self-respect and dignity among black men."

The group was developed by two young Boston businessmen, Ralph Hoagland and Sheldon Appel. From inception they chose to work with the Black United Front because it "represents positive black power."

The Black United Front is a coalition of community organizations in Roxbury including the Congress of Racial Equality (C.O.R.E.), the Urban League, the Louth Alliance and local Area Planning Action Councils (A.P.A.C.). The United Front Foundation was subsequently set up to channel and disperse the white contributions.

More than $300,000 has been raised by F.U.N.D. to date and $180,000 turned over to the black leadership.

There are more than 300 persons on the F.U.N.D. list, which requires $1000 for full membership, $500 for associate or $100 for community membership.

Newsletters are distributed bi-weekly to members outlinging briefly how the money is spent.

Most expenditures to date have been in small amounts for the fostering of community organizations in Roxbury and to help individual black businessmen, entrepreneurs and shopkeepers.

Hoagland, in explaining the philosophy last Spring, wrote: "F.U.N.D. is a totally responsive organization. It initiates only two things: creating money and creating human resources. Both on call."

"It has already provided and will continue to provide, Boston's black community through the Black United Front with no-strings attached, money — no white controls, advice or helpful hints — to be spent according to its own priorities."

It is this principle which sets F.U.N.D. apart from other organizations and foundations which donate funds to the black community, but reserve the right to determine how the money will be spent.

F.U.N.D.'s original donation came last May 18 when a check for $75,000 was turned over symbolically to United Front leaders and then held for dispersal through the foundation.

On Dec. 14, a general membership meeting was held at the Somerset Hotel at which Stokely Carmichael was the scheduled speaker.

Carmichael did not appear, and Bryant Rollins of the Urban League took his place. Leroy Boston, Charles Turner and George Morrison of the United Front and Rev. James Breeden, Arthur Scott and Clarence Dilday of the United Front Foundation also spoke.

Hoagland's appeal to the primarily white crowd of about 500 at the meeting was largely emotional.

"We are trying to raise money to repay a debt," he said. "People are not reasoned in prejudice, so you're not going to reason them out of it."

The F.U.N.D. operation has been confidential until now due to fear of raising false expectations in the black community, and a lack of any significant achievements to date.

Having announced a goal last Spring of "half a million dollars by Summer for the utilization of the Black United Front," Hoagland was pessimistic last month in reporting what F.U.N.D. had actually raised and dispersed.

"We have to perform in the next three or four months in a big way or forget it," he said.

Original members pledged not only $1000 but also a day a week of their time deposited in a so-called "skill bank" for use as requested by the Roxbury community.

Hoagland admitted at the general meeting that this notion of F.U.N.D.'s largely professional membership thereby providing 'instant business heritage" to the black community was little more than good idea so far.

F.U.N.D. was classified as a charitable organization by the Internal Revenue Service last Summer: "providing relief to needy individuals by assisting them in establishing themselves in life; however if such loans or grants are made for the purposes of starting or acquiring a business, they will be made to an individual who will operate it in the economically disadvantaged area in which he resides."

It is the first organization in the nation to be so classified by the I.R.S. based on the wording of an historic trust fund set up by Benjamin Franklin 200 years ago.

F.U.N.D. contributions are made through the United Front Foundation set up last August with seven directors elected by the Roxbury community and six from the United Front and associated organizations.

Meetings of the Foundation are held every Monday night to consider requests coming from the Roxbury community.

Though most F.U.N.D. money to date has come from individuals, it has solicited corporation support as well.

In this, it competes with the Boston Urban Foundation announced by Mayor Kevin White last May with a $6 million pledge by local insurance companies and banks for ghetto development.

So far, the Urban Foundation has raised $250,000 of this, and is shooting for $2 million within a year for distribution with normal discretionary strings attached.

F.U.N.D. officers committed to the novel "no strings attached" approach are Hoagland, president; H. Peter Karoff, vice-president; Stephen Crosby, administrator; Ila Cooper, executive secretary; Anthony Pinkman, technical skills committee; Brooks Whitehouse, large gifts committee; Wil[illegible] Education Committee.

(CHRISTOPHER CARAMBO)

United Press International (UPI) recently furnished a news item noting that Christopher Carambo was [illegible] of 65 black students who barricaded themselves at [illegible] University. The item noted that Carambo's mother appeared at the barricaded building, called for her son to come out, and finally entered the building and brought him out.

Boston is requested to advise concerning this incident, furnish background information on Carambo and his mother, advise whether this received extensive local publicity, and furnish counterintelligence recommendations regarding this situation. No counterintelligence action should be taken without Bureau authority. Handle any inquiries through established sources.

Mother Enters Brandeis Hall to Get Son Back

WALTHAM, Mass. (UPI) — It was a lesson well learned for Christopher X Carambo: never underestimate the power of a woman especially — when the woman is your own mother.

Carambo was one of 65 black students at Brandeis University who for eight days have barricaded themselves in the school's communications center at Ford Hall and refused to come out. They are protesting alleged racist policies.

But Carambo's mother marched up to the barricaded building Tuesday afternoon, determined to get her son back. She pounded on the door of the three - story brick building with her umbrella and then tried to climb in a window.

No luck.

Finally in desperation and anger she called out, "Christopher Carambo, you come out of there. Come out! I haven't seen my son in a week. I don't believe in black power."

Carambo did not come out, but one of the other black students apparently relented, because soon the door opened and Mrs. Carambo went inside.

She reappeared a few minutes later — with her son.

The following is a 90 day progress letter submitted per instructions in Bureau airtel to Albany, Et al, dated 3/4/68:

1. Operations under consideration.

Presently Detroit is attempting to develop the best possible means of counterintelligence action against the newly formed Black Panther Party (BPP) of Detroit. In this regard Detroit is considering writing letters to respective BPP members utilizing the stationery of the Republic of New Africa (RNA) and pointing out in these letters to the recipients that the BPP is an unsavory organization which does not represent the interests of the black man.

Further, Detroit is attempting to develop ways of creating suspicion among Detroit leaders of the BPP with respect to their financial sources and loyalty to the Party, and an attempt will be made to indicate that certain individuals are cooperating with local law enforcement officers. All concrete suggestions developed will be submitted to the Bureau for prior Bureau authority.

At the present time Detroit is awaiting results of the mailing of an anonymous letter to members of the RNA, which letter suggested that [redacted] is using RNA funds for his personal use. If results are determined to be favorable, Detroit will consider submitting a recommendation for circulating a similar letter to other RNA members in other cities.

2. Operations Being Effected.

3. Tangible Results.

Detroit believes that counterintelligence action taken against [redacted] and "The South End", Wayne State University's official school newspaper, has had favorable results, however, it is difficult to measure since public resentment against the newspaper "The South End" has grown and continues to grow rapidly. It is believed that Detroit's anonymous letters mailed to the Governor of Michigan, Board of Governors at Wayne State University, and other state officials played a major part in the reducing of "The South End" yearly allotted funds by $10,000.00.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest.

Investigation of the BPP of Detroit has failed to establish a connection with the BPP in Oakland, California, indicating that the Detroit BPP is at the present time an independent organization. Detroit

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the following anonymous letter be mailed to the Manager of WSTV-TV from Steubenville, Ohio. The letter reads as follows:

"Dear Sir:

"As long time residents of the upper Ohio Valley, we have been very interested in WSTV-TV as it has such a pervasive influence in our area. Your station has in large part been a positive factor in the progress of the area and your programming has always consisted of a responsibility balance between the national and local events. WSTV has always, we feel, fairly reflected the public interest.

"Frankly, the compelling reason for this letter is [redacted] We feel that by supporting [redacted] and giving him a forum for his views, WSTV is encouraging civil disorder, violence, and is directly leading to the undermining of the citizens' confidence in government, both local and international.

"To support our charge, you need only review some of his programs and note the importance of many of his seemingly innoculous statements and reflect upon them.

"We think that it behooves you, as a public broadcasting facility, to take cognizance of [redacted] activities and pronouncements. To help you in this matter, the following information is being brought to your attention:

"On February 17, 1969, the "Black Panther," the official newspaper of the Black Panther Party (BPP), carried an article by [redacted] which was a cleverly disguised piece of propaganda concerning Huey Newton, who is, as you know, a founder of the BPP. Newton was convicted by a California court of killing a police officer. We do not feel that a man who eulogizes Newton should have a forum on television for the further dissension of his views.

"The BPP calls for its members to arm themselves, use their guns and start a revolution. They openly claim that they will use guerrilla tactics and overthrow the American Government. To check on this, you need only to subscribe to or read one issue of their newspaper.

"Can you be sure that ROBE, an organization that [redacted] belongs to locally, is not really a chapter of the BPP? He has openly criticized the Community Action Council, COMBAT and the NAACP. By criticizing these groups and causing people to question their actions and integrity, he poses as the only individual who truly has the black man's interests at heart. This, you know, is false. Will he not some day turn on you also? Is he not now calling upon his followers to arm themselves and create a disturbance in our schools and at our athletic contests?

"We think it would be most illuminating for you to determine why the trustees, all black, of the Phyllis Wheatley Association, no longer allow [redacted] to use their premises for his meetings with high school students. We feel you should determine who the black militant hate mongers are whom he introduces into the community. Why has Taylor so antagonized many of his colleagues in the civil rights field?

"Thank you for your consideration in this matter."

The Cincinnati Division, at Steubenville, Ohio, recognizes that it will be more effective if this information could be given to a personal contact at the television station. This is not being considered as the risk of exposure is too great for the following reason:

There is a great deal of prostitution and gambling in the Steubenville area and two announcers, who work for the television station, are involved in these matters. It is felt that the anonymous letter technique is the more prudent approach at this time, and therefore it is recommended.

It is felt that by bringing this information to the attention of the television station, they will have to consider its implications.

They have numerous alternatives, but it is hoped that they will consider terminating subject's [redacted] contract at a suitable time after a preliminary inquiry reveals the facts in the letter to be true. If they do not make an inquiry and do not consider terminating [redacted] services, it is felt that they at least will show the letter to [redacted] and it is felt that this will cause him to tone down many of his statements.

FOLLOW UP

Depending upon any tangible results obtained from this letter, the Cincinnati Division could send the same letter to various advertisers with a different forward, and requesting them to withdraw their advertising from WSTV-TV. In connection with this follow up, the Cincinnati Division would utilize as enclosures anti-sematic statements made by Black Nationalists.

It is recommended that the Bureau approve the above measure to be instituted by the Cincinnati Division at the earliest possible date.

In connection with the submission of biweekly letters in captioned matter, it appears that Special Agent personnel of your office have made considerable progress in disrupting the extremely violence-prone Black Panther Party (BPP). It is suggested that you may wish to analyze this matter to determine if their achievements should be recognized in some form. At the conclusion of your analysis, submit recommendations for suggested action if appropriate.

NOTE:

San Diego has aggressively pursued a policy of disrupting and neutralizing the local chapter of the BPP in San Diego through Bureau-approved counterintelligence maneuvers. In view of the achievements in this regard, it appears that Special Agent personnel may merit some sort of recognition. A recommendation along these lines is being left to the discretion of the SAC in San Diego.

ReBulet to TP, 2/19/69.

[redacted] advised his station has no facilities to reduce video tape film to 16mm motion picture film. He advised that to his knowledge all local stations forward video tape for reduction to 16mm film to WTTW, Chicago, Ill. who performs this work in approximately one to two weeks, depending upon their work load, at a cost of $6.00 to $11.00 a minute of running time. He pointed out that "Wild Grapes" lasts 27 minutes running time and accordingly, the cost for reduction of the tape to film would run approximately $180 to $300. [redacted] pointed out that his firm would be glad to forward the tape for the Tampa Division to WTTW, Chicago, to have the item reproduced.

The program "Wild Grapes" presents interviews with black militants who are associated with the Junta of Militant Organization, St. Petersburg, Fla., interviews with college presidents at Florida Presbyterian College, St. Petersburg, and University of South Florida, Tampa, Fla., as well as interviews with students of the New Left movements on campus at the University of So. Fla., and interviews with individuals residing Tampa, Fla. who have been involved in protest demonstrations locally. In addition the film presents portions of a speech made by Vice President SPIRO T. AGNEW at the Bayfront Center Auditorium, St. Petersburg, to a group of college students who were demonstrating against the war in Vietnam and contains his public comments rebuking this group. Additionally the film contains very pertinent comments by [redacted] which support the U.S. Government and rebukes militants. The film also reviews documentation published by the Junta of Militant Organization and contains pictures of protest demonstrations at Tampa, Fla. Quotations from the Director of the FBI from public source material are also included.

The editorial comments throughout this film support anti-demonstration, anti-riot and anti-militancy attitudes and is done on a high level which would be acceptable to any type audience.

[redacted] also advised that the outages which are on 16mm film, which consist of interviews not incorporated in the program, are available to the FBI for copying. These films will be obtained, reviewed by Tampa and forwarded to the Bureau. However, they will not contain the program "Wild Grapes" as edited.

Tampa Division would recommend that the tape be reduced to 16mm film as this program should be of benefit to racial schools conducted by the Bureau, showing at In-Service or new agents classes as well as a possible item to be furnished a field division who is going to utilize such procedure in a counterintelligence effort. It would not appear that the cost involved is prohibitive and Bureau permission to proceed with having [redacted] forward the "Wild Grapes" video tape to WTTW, Chicago, for reproduction on 16mm movie film at a cost of approximately $300.00 is being requested.

NOTE:

The program "Wild Grapes" was presented on WFLA TV, Tampa, Florida. It has interviews of black extremists associated with the Junta of Militant Organization, St. Petersburg, Florida, as well as interviews of New Left leaders. Editorial comment during the program brings out the extremist nature of this organization. The program was prepared with the assistance on a confidential basis of the Tampa Division as a counterintelligence measure. Tampa recommends obtaining a copy of the program for showing at In-Service classes and for possible use of other offices considering similar counterintelligence operations. We concur, in addition, the film should be useful for briefing purposes. Cost of reproduction, which will be handled by our established source at WFLA TV through a commercial firm, will be between $180 and $300. It is necessary to obtain a 16mm print of this film for our purposes as equipment for viewing the program on video tape is not readily available.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALISTS - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

ReHOlet, 11/18/68.

I. Operations Under Consideration

By letter dated 2/26/69, Houston Division proposed a counterintelligence measure directed against the Black Panther Party (BPP) nation-wide which proposal dealt with a communication directed to the various BPP chapters throughout the country requesting a minimum of $500 be sent to a Post Office Box in Oakland, California which box would be rented in the name of one of the officials of the BPP. It is felt this proposal if put into effect would cause considerable distrust among the BPP and in particular the leadership of the BPP which reportedly is undergoing considerable financial difficulties. No action is being taken on this proposal pending specific Bureau instructions.

II. Operations Being Effected

No specific counterintelligence operation is currently being effected against the Black Nationalist-Hate Groups in Houston other than to continue to capitalize on well placed informants within the NOI and within the group attempting to establish a BPP chapter in Houston. In this regard informants have reported that as a result of the recent trip to Chicago for the National NOI Convention, the male members of the contingent were put in a hotel room, four persons to each room and were charged $10 a piece per night for their lodging. This money was given to [redacted] of the Houston contingent and it was determined by the membership that the room rent was only $18.00. Members have inquired and continue to be unhappy with the fact that [redacted] will not account for the extra $22.00 which he apparently pocketed and continues to tell members that it is none of their business what happens in the Mosque. This consternation among the membership will continue to be exploited through appropriate handling of informants. It is pointed out also that through the control of well placed informants within the group attempting to form a BPP chapter in Houston, no chapter has been formed to date and it appears that the persons who formerly desired a BPP chapter in Houston are losing interest in this endeavor.

III. Tangible Results

Results of counterintelligence action in the Houston Division have been considerable friction developing among the NOI members and leaders because of money matters and also a significant result as regards the BPP is the fact that no BPP chapter has been formed in Houston to date.

IV Development of Counterintelligence Interest

No outstanding development of a counterintelligence interest has developed in the Houston Division; however, well placed informants within the black nationalist groups have been instructed to remain alert for a possibility of counter-intelligence action against the black nationalist groups and in the event additional counterintelligence actions appear feasible, the Bureau will be advised.

Re Memphis letter to Bureau dated 11/29/68.

90-DAY PROGRESS LETTER

I. COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The Memphis Office is on a continuing basis attempting to develop informants within the ranks of the known black militant organizations within this Division and has made repeated efforts during the past 90 days in sending logical and willing potential informants into meetings of these organizations in an effort to have these potential informants recruited into these black militant organizations. These efforts are continuing and it is contemplated that within the near future one or more of these individuals will be accepted into the black militant organizations known as the Invaders and the Black Knights.

Due to the success of the counterintelligence program whereby the Memphis Office has been furnishing to a reliable newspaper source of the Memphis Office information regarding the black militant organization known as the Invaders, as set out hereinafter, the Memphis Office is giving consideration to increasing this type of counter-intelligence activity and a preliminary contact has been made with a representative of the Memphis "Commercial Appeal" who has always been cooperative with this Bureau in an effort to determine his interest in writing articles exposing the Invaders organization and the Black Knights organization such as the articles that have been written recently and appeared in the Memphis "Press-Scimitar," the afternoon daily newspaper. This contact appears to be receptive and, if after the next contact with this individual he appears cooperative, Bureau authority will be requested to "leak" information of a derogatory nature regarding the Invaders and other black nationalist militants to this reporter.

II. COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Interview Program

The Memphis Office is continuing its policy of interviewing any Negro who is known to associate with any black militant group at Memphis, Tennessee, immediately upon ascertaining his identity and provided no Bureau restrictions are in effect which would preclude interviewing this individual. It is hoped that such an interview program will serve two purposes, one, the development of potential informants, and, two, will keep this individual from perhaps becoming a confirmed and active member of any black militant group at Memphis, Tennessee. There is evidence that these initial interviews which are general in nature and merely point out to the individual being interviewed the dangerousness and the anti-Negro position of these black militant organizations and on several occasions, it is known that these interviews have resulted in the potential member of the Invaders and/or the Black Knights having nothing further to do with these organizations.

The exchange of information on a daily basis with the Intelligence Unit of the Memphis, Tennessee, Police Department, which has resulted in numerous arrests, not only of black militants at Memphis, Tennessee, but also members of the newly formed chapter of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) at Memphis State University, is continuing and has proved beneficial to both the Memphis, Tennessee, Police Department and to the local FBI Office. Due to the informant coverage of the Memphis Office in a photographic sense, the Memphis Office has been in a position to obtain photographs of most, if not all, of the current members of the Invaders and as a result has been able to furnish the Memphis, Tennessee, Police Department copies of these photographs which have been of great assistance to the Police Department in policing this Invaders group.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS

The "leaking" of derogatory information regarding the Invaders and their plans to a trusted newspaper source has resulted in almost daily articles exposing the activities of the militant group at Memphis known as the Invaders. This expose of Invaders activities has resulted in numerous results, not the least of which has been the willingness of merchants at Memphis, Tennessee, who have been subject to what amounts to extortion by members of these Invaders being willing to come forward now and testify against these individuals in court. These newspaper articles have exposed the Invaders as being young thugs preying on their own race and have shattered the illusion among the Negro populace of Memphis that the Invaders are interested in helping their own people. This series of articles was culminated by a full-page article by [redacted] in which [redacted] set forth an outline of activities of the Invaders, those that have been arrested with their crimes, and the identities of the victims of these crimes, Summarizing paragraph at the end of this article pointed out that the majority of crimes committed by these Invaders had been against people of the Negro race. This article has resulted in numerous calls by responsible Negroes at Memphis, Tennessee, to both the FBI at Memphis and to the Memphis Police Department indicating that they no longer have any sympathy for this Invaders group. There have been several instances where Negroes have offered their services to the Memphis Police Department in an effort to combat this Invaders group.

Care is being exercised to insure that information furnished to [redacted] is information that could be obtained at various public meetings or through public sources if an interested person was at these meetings or knew where to look for the information.

Information being received recently from RI(PRCB) (Ghetto) sources of the Memphis Office indicates that these articles written by [redacted] have resulted in widespread disillusionment with the Invaders on the part of the Negro populace at Memphis, Tennessee.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

During the past 90 days, through cooperation with authorities of the Intelligence Unit of the Memphis, Tennessee, Police Department and the administrators of Memphis State University (MSU), the newly formed SDS Chapter at MSU has been unable to secure a charter and some 11 of their members have been arrested charged with possession or use of marijuana. Nine of these members were arrested as a result of information obtained from Bureau informants and furnished to the Vice Squad of the Memphis Police Department. This tactic has resulted in the inability of this SDS Chapter to secure a charter at Memphis State University, has caused a great many of their former members to drop out of this organization, and has rendered this organization at the present time inept.

While this is not directly connected with the black militant hate groups, it should be pointed out that every effort is being made on the SDS Chapter at Memphis to recruit Negro members and they are working hand in hand with the Black Student Association (BSA) at MSU which is a cell or a branch of the over-all Black Power organization at Memphis known as the Black OrganizingProject (BOP).

Two informants have been developed in this SDS Chapter and are active members of this SDS chapter and counterintelligence activities directed against the SDS members, particularly with regard to their use of marijuana, is being continued by the Memphis Office.

The Memphis Office is making every effort to be alert to any counterintelligence operation that might disrupt or embarrass local black militant activities at Memphis, Tennessee.

The Bureau will be kept advised of all developments.

Re SL let to Bureau, 1/8/69.

The following information is submitted regarding counterintelligence activity (Black Nationalist) for the previous 90 days in accordance with Bureau instructions:

1. Operations Under Consideration

By communication dated 2/14/69, this Division requested permission to send an anonymous letter to [redacted] accusing him of infidelity. Appropriate follow-up action was also requested in that communication. Should such action be taken it is anticipated that it will cause considerable concern to [redacted] and the Black Liberators to the point of adversely affecting their plans and activities.

St. Louis is currently awaiting Bureau authority for the above action.

2. Operations Being Effected

Bureau authority was received in communication dated 1/30/69, for the Baltimore Division to send an anonymous letter to [redacted] accusing [redacted] of possibly being an informant for the Federal Government. Baltimore has not yet advised this Division of when the letter was sent, although it is presumed that the action has been completed.

This counterintelligence activity was proposed by the St. Louis Division in order to widen the rift between [redacted] and prevent any reconciliation, since [redacted] cannot run any type of successful operation without [redacted]

3. Tangible Results

Past and current counterintelligence activities of this Division directed toward the destruction of the close ties that formerly existed between [redacted] have met with success.

[redacted] made bond on his local assault charges and was released in mid-January 1969, while [redacted] was out of town. [redacted] and his brother [redacted] immediately "took over" the organization and "spread the word" that [redacted] was out of the organization forever.

When [redacted] returned to the area, he took up residence in E. St. Louis, Illinois, and had no apparent contact with the Black Liberators. Finally [redacted] came to St. Louis on 1/31/69, and at a joint press conference with [redacted] announced he was resigning as [redacted] According to the announcements, [redacted] replaced [redacted] at position, and [redacted] a Black Liberator that [redacted] never trusted) would become the [redacted]

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

As the Bureau is aware, a local dissident group of CORE called ACTION is drawing close to the Black Liberators. ACTION publishes a newspaper every two weeks and ten copies of it are furnished the Bureau under the caption: "BLACK NATIONALIST MOVEMENT - PUBLICATIONS RM" Bufile 157-8580. While the newspaper has relatively little circulation and interest in the Black community, it can be expected to improve its stature. At present the newspaper promotes racial hatred and attemps to direct all Negro complaints in the direction of the "hunky establishment" and "police pigs".

This Division is considering the best way to blunt the effectiveness of the newspaper and the activities of ACTION. Bureau aurthority will be requested when such a plan is formulated.

As the Bureau has been advised, [redacted], is a close associate of [redacted] and if not already, is fast becoming his "financial angel." The New Haven Division has confirmed that [redacted] travelled with [redacted] to Bridgeport, Conn., in Feb. 1969, and [redacted] into the program which was presented to Negro audiences there.

Just how this can be used in a counterintelligence activity against [redacted] has not been resolved although it is something which should be considered by both the St. Louis and Springfield Divisions.

It is almost unknown among the Black community here that [redacted] has not been publically photographed with him, to the knowledge of this division. Blacks who have [redacted] are generally not held in high esteem by the Black militants in this area.

Pitt Hires Black Leader

Howze To Recruit Negro Students

The University of Pittsburgh has enlisted a black militant to co-ordinate a recruiting drive for "qualifiable" black students backed by an $65,000-a-year scholarship program.

The financial aid plan — launched last summer along with a stepped-up search for prospective Negro scholars — has been renamed the Malcolm Martin Marcus scholarships.

3 Men Honored

That name honors black leaders Malcolm X, Dr. Martin Luther King and Marcus Garvey.

The University-Community Education Program announced at the same time its selection of Sam Howze of the Hill District to co-ordinate its search-and-scholarship efforts.

Howze, 25, also known as Sala U Din Saif Salaam, is chairman of the Afro-American Institute, which promotes black history and culture study.

$0 Grants Available

Fifty Malcolm Martin Marcus scholarships—each worth up to $1700 a year—will be awarded to needy and potentially-able students this summer.

Thirty of the grants will go to black students from Allegheny County, 10 to black students from outside the County and 10 to members of other minority groups such as Puerto Ricans or Mexicans.

These students, identified as needing academic help to enter college, will be brought to the Pitt campus for a special preparatory program in the summer.

A Pitt spokesman pointed out that the search for black students extends beyond the Malcolm Martin Marcus scholarship project, which is backed by foundation grants.

He said Pitt hopes to have 200 blacks among the entering freshman class this fall. This figure would nearly double the number of blacks among last fall's freshmen.

Hill Leader Testifies

Unloaded Weapon Was Unknown, Howze Testifies

By PERRY McMAHON

Black militant Samuel Howze testified today he didn't know his gun was loaded when he—and it—were seized by police last Jan. 10.

Howze, 26, named last week to coordinate a drive to recruit student applicants for $38,000 worth of University of Pittsburgh scholarships, is on trial in Criminal Court.

The defendant, who also uses the name Sale U-Din Said Salaam, is charged with violation of the Uniform Firearms Act and driving without a license.

Goes On Stand

On the stand in his own behalf, he said he had picked up the German Luger he had owned since 1967, from a friend who had offered to clean and test-fire the weapon. He identified the friend as Richard Brock of Wilkinsburg, who, he said, is a fellow-member of the Derry Gun & Rod Club near South Park.

He said Mr. Brock, 33, has a firing range in his basement.

Howze said he had picked up the gun that morning, and checked in at his job at Western Psychiatric Institute, where he was a member of the Hill District mental health team.

He said he later persuaded his cousin, Ronald Howze, to drive him to a meeting of United Black Power.

When he emerged from that session, he said, two officers whom he knew, James Moore and James Carter, waved to him and requested his driver's license. He said he had none.

Gun Falls

He told his attorney, Byrd Brown, that the police discovered the gun when it fell from a brown bag as they towed the car away.

This version, however, conflicted with testimony by Officer Moore, who said he saw a brown leather holster between the front seat. He said the gun was loaded with one clip, and had an empty clip in the holster.

Howze said he didn't know the Luger was loaded, and the only time he was confronted with the evidence was when Inspector Horace McDaniel brought it to his cell and asked, "Is this your gun?"

Trial Recessed

Judge Joseph F. Weis recessed the trial to hear arguments between Asst. District Attorney William F. Manifesto and Mr. Brown.

Howze was appointed chairman of the Pitt scholarship recruitment committee by representatives of six organizations — United Black Front, Forever Action Together, United Soul, Together Inc., Concerned Citizens and the Afro-American Institute.

He is chairman of the Institute, a Hill District group organized to promote black pride.

Howze is not enrolled at Pitt, but Dr. Donald Smith, director of the University Community Education Program, said his appointment resulted from a decision to enlist "grass roots" representation.

After Attorney Brown asked to file briefs, Judge Weis took the motion under advisement.

2. With reference to the incipient Black Panther Party (BPP) organization in Washington, D.C., being formed by [redacted] WFO is following a general policy of establishing contact with BPP members or prospective members within a reasonably short time after they have been identified as such. The purpose of these interviews has been to determine the attitudes of the individuals, to attempt to further the coverage of this group through source development and to serve notice on the leaders of these BPP members of the active investigative interest of the Federal Government through the FBI.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

1. As a result of information received from sources that [redacted] announced he was forming a Black Panther Party in Washington, D.C., and that persons interested should sign up at [redacted] and advise of his activities.

Another reliable source of WFO reported that [redacted] organization was not affiliated with the Black Panther Party in Oakland, California, and that STOKELY CARMICHAEL, Prime Minister of the BPP, advised his associates in Washington, D.C., to stay away from [redacted] Based on this information, a phone call was placed to [redacted] from New York City wherein the caller told [redacted] that he was calling to advise [redacted] not to use the BPP name and to stop his organizational activities. Although [redacted] did not seem disconcerted by the call, it is noted that the following week he released a press statement which said in effect that his organization was not recognized by the BPP and that his organization would be called the Black Defenders until such time as it was approved by the national BPP office.

2. [redacted] himself was interviewed on a number of occasions in recent weeks as a Potential Racial Informant. These contacts were terminated on 2/20/69, when [redacted] expressed anger and resentment to the contacting agent, indicating that interviews of his members and prospective members were seriously impeding his efforts to establish a viable BPP in Washington, D. C.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF A COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The Bureau was previously advised that the New School for Afro-American Thought (NSAT) was involved in an internal power struggle for control of the school. Sources of WFO familiar with NSAT have advised that a more moderate group intent on stressing the educational function of the school has taken control and that the more militant clique no longer frequents the NSAT.

[redacted] arrived in Washington, D.C., to confront [redacted] and advise him to desist in his use of the BPP name. He also told [redacted] to forward any monies solicited by using the BPP name to the national office of the BPP in California.

Since the departure of STOKELY CARMICHAEL, the Black United Front has been involved in an internal struggle for control by various members. It appears unlikely that the BUF will survive as a viable organization unless a strong leader is elected in the forthcoming BUF elections.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

ReBulet to Albany 1/30/69.

In accordance with relet, the following is hereby submitted:

Inasmuch as there is currently no recognized chapter of the Black Panther Party (BPP) in Washington, D.C., WFO intends to take the following action in the event an attempt is made to form such a chapter:

WFO is prepared to infiltrate any incipient BPP organization with informants who will thereby be in a position to grow with the organization and place themselves in a position of leadership.

Thereafter, WFO intends to identify and interview all members and prospective members with the threefold purpose of 1) further identifying members of the organization and determining the extent of their black extremist attitude and involvement, 2) possible informant development, and 3) making the individuals and the chapter aware of the interest of the FBI in the BPP.

This has proved effective in the past in connection with the attempt of [redacted] to form a BPP chapter in Washington, D.C. [redacted] as reported as saying recently that he was very agitated by the fact that the FBI had been interviewing all of the members of his organization, which has since become virtually inactive. In addition, a member of the Central Committee of the New York BPP is reported as saying recently, according to a Baltimore informant, that a BPP chapter could not be organized in Washington, D.C., in the near future because there are too many FBI men "snooping around."

Inasmuch as the above methods have been successful to a considerable degree, it is suggested that they might be effective in other areas where BPP chapters are in the formative stages.

Enclosed for the Bureau are two copies and for Springfield one copy of a letter to [redacted]

The following counter-intelligence activity is being proposed by the St. Louis Division to be directed against [redacted] He is [redacted] and [redacted] The activity attempts to alienate him from his wife and cause suspicion among the BLACK LIBERATORS that they have a dangerous troublemaker in their midst.

BACKGROUND:

Her husband, on the other hand, considers himself a "ROMEO" and he frequently enjoyed the bedroom affection of various Sisters of the BLACK LIBERATORS, including [redacted] How [redacted] actually feels about his wife is a matter of conjecture, but it is highly probable that he wants no problems at home that would detract from his Black Nationalist Work, or cast a reflection upon him with the white ministers in the area who are sympathic and previously helpful to him.

EXPLANATION OF LETTER:

The enclosed letter was prepared from a penmanship, spelling, and vocabulary style to imitate that of the average Black Liberator member. It contains several accusations which should cause [redacted] great concern. The letter is to be mailed in a cheap, unmarked envelope with no return address and sent from St. Louis to [redacted] residence in Cairo. Since her letters to [redacted] are usually sent via the Black Liberator Headquarters, any member would have access to getting her address from one of her envelopes. This address is available to the St. Louis Division.

Her response, upon receipt of this letter, is difficult to predict and the counter-intelligence effect will be nullified if she does not discuss it with him. Therefore, to insure that [redacted] and the Black Liberators are made aware that the letter was sent, the below follow-up action is necessary:

St. Louis will furnish Springfield with a machine copy of the actual letter that is sent. Attached to this copy will be a neat typed note saying:

[redacted]

"A mutual friend made this available without [redacted] knowledge. I understand she recently recieved this letter from St. Louis. I suggest you look into this matter.

God Bless You! "

This note would give the impression that somehow one of [redacted] close friends, probably a minister, obtained a copy of the letter and made it available to [redacted] The above material is to be mailed by the Springfield Division at Cairo, Ill., anonymously in a suitable envelope with no return address to:

[redacted]

Although [redacted] is now living in E. St. Louis, Ill., he did use the above address when arrested in St. Louis in Jan., 1969, and it was printed in local newspapers. Mail will reach him at the above address since it is the residence of [redacted] a close associate of his.

SL: 157-5818

ANTICIPATED RESULTS:

The following results are anticipated following the execution of the above-counter-intelligence activity:

1. Ill feeling and possibly a lasting distrust will be brought about between [redacted] The concern over what to do about it may detract from his time spent in the plots and plans of the SNCC. He may even decide to spend more time with his wife and children and less time in Black Nationalist activity.

2. The Black Liberators will waste a great deal of time trying to discover the writer of the letter. It is possible that their not-too subtle investigation will lose present members and alienate potential ones.

3. Inasmuch as Black Liberator strength is ebbing at its lowest level, this action may well be the "death-blow."

RECOMMENDATION:

Bureau authority is requested to initiate the above-described activity.

Remylet to Bureau, 12/2/68.

There have been no counterintelligence programs or operations developed by the Buffalo Division during the past three-month period.

The black nationalist organizations, as set forth in referenced Buffalo letter, are essentially unchanged and Agents being responsible for captioned program are continually vigilant for opportunities to effect some form of counterintelligence. It is pointed out that the racial situation of the Buffalo Division continues to be tranquil and no counterintelligence programs have been presented.

[redacted] In connection with the Nation of Islam (NOI) as reported in referenced Buffalo letter, a careful watch was made in connection with the finances of [redacted] which would have likely placed him in a compromising position, however, the situation has given little concern to membership at MM 23 and they accept his financial problem with blind obedience.

In connection with the Black Panther Party (BPP), Rochester, New York, the development of this chapter remains unchanged. A majority of the BPP members at Rochester have been identified and pursuant to a target interview program, a substantial number of these persons have been interviewed. Interviews have had a disturbing influence on the membership and organizational activities.

FROM : SAC, Indianapolis (157-761)

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Succinct summary of Black Nationalist Movement in Indianapolis Division:

A. Nation of Islam (NOI)

Since the last letter the NOI of the Indianapolis Office has remained fairly stable in membership neither gaining nor losing an appreciable amount of members. The NOI has approximately 140 persons attending meetings, at a total of seven temples or mosques. There are two mosques which are located in South Bend and Gary, Indiana, mosques number 31 and 33 respectively. South Bend remains the largest with about 50 members, Gary having about 45 members. There are temples located at Evansville, Fort Wayne, Muncie, Indianapolis, and East Chicago, Indiana, which continue to struggle for existence.

No violence had been caused or proposed by members of the NOI in the Indianapolis Division, however the possibility always is present. All of the groups in Indiana adhere to the teachings of ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, their leader.

B. Radical Action Project (RAP)

RAP, also called BRAP for Black Radical Action Project, continues to operate at their headquarters located at 2264 North Meridian Street, Indianapolis. [redacted] and the [redacted] operated and owned [redacted].

[redacted] brother to [redacted] In February or March, 1968, RAP received a grant from the Episcopal Church in New York City for $47,000.00. The payments were made to RAP in quarterly payments with the last payment being received 1/31/69, for $11,840.00 which was deposited in their account. At present it is not known if they will receive funds from some other source after the above has been spent or if the organization will be closed down for lack of funds. The bookstore owned by RAP is not yet making a profit and able to stand in on its own, but requires funds from RAP to help it to continue to operate, so they will not be able to rely on it for funds.

RAP has been operating legally in the past and has tried to establish Negro owned businesses and help Negroes to find employment. They also have taken a strong position in opposition to police harassment and brutality and frequently approach the police department with complaints when any member of any of the black organizations is arrested. Estimated membership is about twenty active members. RAP has not been considered to pose a threat of violence to the community but if their funds stop they may become a possible threat.

C. Black Panther Party (BPP)

The BPP is the most active organization, or has been in the past several months, operating from their headquarters at 113 West 30th Street, Indianapolis. The [redacted] They presently have between fifteen and twenty active members with about fifty persons who are reportedly connected with the BPP. [redacted] however both [redacted] been doing more speaking for the BPP in recent weeks. [redacted] has had less to say but still is apparently in charge.

47

In the last two weeks the BPP has been concentrating on two high schools in Indianapolis with predominantly or almost total Negro students in attempts to get them to strike. They have been unsuccessful in their attempts but they have on several occasions possibly had a part in getting the students and faculty stirred up by passing out literature, and asking to speak to the students.

All activities of the BPP are followed in a bi-weekly letter.

D. Afro-American Student Association (AAASA)

The Afro-American Student Association continues to exist at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana, and at Notre Dame University, South Bend, Indiana. However the organization has not engaged in any activities at either university since last letter. They have made no demands of the universities or issued any statements as an organization since last letter. These groups are being followed closely in the event they do become active.

1. Operations Under Consideration

Plans to interview all members of black extremist organizations even though they are not active are being considered, which it is felt may produce information of value and possibly help in the development of informants. Prior to this only active members have been considered for interview. It is felt that this also may particularly effect the BPP in driving some of the more inactive members away and causing the BPP leaders some fear.

2. Operations Being Effected

Attempts to interview active members of the BPP have been made in addition to active members of the other black extremist organizations. Through these interviews with other groups valuable information has been gained even though the person being interviewed did not know he was furnishing information of value. In addition in the BPP one of the officers was interviewed and developed as an informant and he furnished information concerning his trip to the National BPP Retreat held in Oakland, California in November, 1968. All possibilities to use informants to gain information leading to arrest of members is being utilized as well as in any other areas of counterintelligence.

3. Tangible Results

The black extremist groups in the Indianapolis Division to date have not been united or have not become sufficiently strong to cause any major incidents or disturbances. Although the possibility is ever present no violence has been encountered from these groups.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

None, other than the development of informant who was officer of the BPP through interview as mentioned above.

[redacted] that only five Negro teenagers attended the showing of the above film; however, several faculty members attended the showing. [redacted] felt this was due more out of curiosity than actual interest in the BPP.

This is one of the many showings of the BPP films in the Denver area in both high schools and junior high schools, in addition to colleges and universities in Colorado. According [redacted] the film has been well received by both Negro and white students and faculty, namely at the college level. An example is the [redacted] for showing the film at the "Black Awareness Week", conducted at Colorado University and Temple Buell College, Denver, Colorado, during the week of 2/10-14/69. [redacted] stated that sometimes the film was shown to audiences free of charge, but the BPP obtained donations after the showing, which again shows the film was well received.

[redacted] said the BPP films have since been returned to BPP Headquarters in San Francisco, California; however, requests are still being received to show these films to various groups in Denver.

Referenced Bureau letter dated 1/23/69, advised Denver from the counterintelligence proposal dated 1/2/69, that the Bureau is currently following Denver's suggestion which had been previously proposed from the field. To date Denver has not received material from the Bureau to be distributed showing the true intent of the BPP. The best opportunity to distribute this material would have been while the BPP film was being shown in the Denver Division. Not once during the showing of the BPP film was anything said regarding the true intent of the BPP or the criminal backgrounds of the BPP leaders. The Bureau is requested to expedite this counterintelligence technique.

Denver has no new counterintelligence proposal at this time.

FROM: THE MANUAL HUMAN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

On Thursday, January 9, The Human Relations Committee is sponsoring the showing of a 35 minute film entitled, HUEY NEWTON'S BIRTHDAY. It will be shown at 4:00PM in the auditorium.

Perhaps some of you are familiar with Huey Newton. He is one of the founders of the Black Panther Party, and the film is a narrative that depicts the goals, concepts, and programs of the Black Panthers. You may be asking yourself by now, "So what?"

The Black Panther organization is indeed a vital part of the Black community in nearly every major city in America, including Denver. Many people, including teachers, dismiss them as hate and fear mongers and refuse to accept the fact that they are now and will continue to be, an organization that influences thoughts and actions of both White and Black America. We believe that no teacher in a predominately Black school like Manual can afford to miss this film which provides insights into the organization and its members. The film was secured through the Black Panthers, and there is a small fee for its use. We hope you will donate a small offering to cover the cost. However, don't stay away because you don't have any small change.!

The film will be shown to students on Friday in the auditorium at 4:00PM for a fee of 35¢.

(BLACK PANTHER PARTY)

Reurlet 3/3/69.

For your information the Bureau is currently preparing a compendium of facts concerning the criminal backgrounds and activities of the Black Panther Party (BPP) and its members. It is the Bureau's intention to widely distribute this material on a national level by furnishing it to friendly news sources on a strictly confidential basis.

It is felt that the above should have a more profound impact on the public than locally distributed background information concerning the BPP. However, if you are of the opinion that public source material concerning the BPP in the Denver Division can be incorporated into a pamphlet, as you previously suggested, and distributed locally without tracing the source to the FBI, you may resubmit your recommendation in this regard. Include in your recommendation a sample of the pamphlet you desire to distribute.

Take no action without prior Bureau authority.

NOTE: By letter dated 1/2/69 Denver suggested that the Bureau prepare a leaflet concerning the true revolutionary and criminal aspects of the BPP for anonymous distribution in the Denver area. At that time Denver was advised that the Bureau was then preparing a counterintelligence action similar in nature to its suggestion, and therefore Denver's recommendation was not being adopted. In relet Denver states that the best time to distribute this type material is when the BPP is active.

1. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Boston is considering reproducing the article which appeared in "The Crisis" NAACP magazine issue of November, 1968, a copy of which was furnished Boston by reairtel dated 1/7/69. Boston contemplates mailing the reproductions to approximately 70 persons whose names appear on a mailing list of prominent black people in the Boston area which list was compiled by Boston. Among these is the editor of the Bay State Banner, a Negro newspaper published in Roxbury, Mass. The reproductions would be set out as the work of a ficticious black organization known as Black Americans for America (BAM) or a similar name.

This would be followed by similar items or facts refuting some of the ficticious statements made by Panthers and other militants.

In this regard, the Baltimore office has been able to effectively control the activities of the BPP.

With regard to the attempted burning of the BPP headquarters on 2/13/69, blame for this incident was placed on [redacted] a BPP member who has been expelled. It is felt that in view of the fact that there is a sufficient amount of friction between the SS and the BPP, it would not be practical at this time to generate additional differences as it may tend to endanger Bureau informants. However, the Baltimore office will be alert for any situations that arises from which an effective counter intelligence measure be instituted.

Number One shows [redacted] with a list containing the [redacted] which have been crossed off. The names of SEALE and WALLACE remain on his list.

Number Two indicates that BOBBY SEALE is simply [redacted] and is in complete control of all factions of the BPP. This is a sensitive area since it is reported that many local BPP leaders feel that they are more qualified to control their own groups than is SEALE.

Number Three suggests that possibly SEALE is himself a "police agent" and, in addition to demanding substantial amounts of money from the local BPP membership, is also passing information on to local police authorities. This caricature is aimed at BOBBY SEALE's announced program of purging the BPP of informants.

Number Four attacks a very sensitive point among BPP members in that there is a prevalent feeling that the individual member chapters are being exploited by SEALE. The drawing depicts SEALE extracting his 50% from the local BPP chapters and in effect returning them to a subserviant role within the BPP framework.

Number Five [redacted] who is [redacted] as being a "paper tiger." It is felt that the paper tiger terminology is in keeping with the BPP's espousement of MAO TSE TUNG's teachings.

The cartoons will be mailed anonymously one at a time, one week apart. Five copies of each cartoon will be sent to BPP offices on a weekly basis.

The Bureau indicated in referenced airtel that the resident addresses of local BPP leaders should be obtained from the BPP newspaper. A complete review of BPP newspapers available to the San Diego Division has failed to reveal any resident addresses of any BPP member. Therefore, the following information is being requested of each receiving office:

Provided it will no way jeopardize informants, each office is requested to furnish San Diego the names and home addresses of the five most prominent leaders or a suitable substitute of the local BPP in your area. Each office is additionally requested to furnish the address of the respective BPP headquarters in your Division.

Since Minneapolis letter of 12/2/68 there has been no racially-oriented violence in the Twin Cities, Minnesota, area, where practically all Negroes in this Division reside, with the following exception: In January, 1969, there was a one-day take-over of the Administration Building at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, by the Afro-American Action Committee, a University of Minnesota-approved campus organization. This take-over was to present demands on the University generally for the purposes of setting up Afro-American courses and obtaining more scholarships for minority races. This demonstration ended with the intervention by the police and the University agreed to meet most of the demands. Sources to this point have indicated no program on the part of this group to incite racial violence.

As of this writing, there are no active Black Nationalist hate groups operating in the Minneapolis Division except the Nation of Islam, whose membership remains constant and which group has not been involved in any local racial disturbances. As mentioned in MPlet 2/18/69, there has been an effort on the part of two individuals who attended the Black Panther Party retreat in California in November, 1968, to establish a chapter of the Black Panther Party in Minneapolis. As of this date, there has been no information developed that such a chapter does exist. Minneapolis has close informant coverage in the Negro community and will continue to follow closely the activity of the few militants in the Division who might possibly be involved in organizing a Black Panther Party.

Detroit believes that an effective means of combating the Black Panther Party (BPP) in Detroit or any other city that has a BPP still in the infant stage, would be to create resentment against the BPP in black neighborhoods and destroy any good reputation or image that the BPP is trying to develop.

Detroit believes that a successful approach to this would be mailing letters to numerous black businesses in black neighborhoods demanding financial support for the BPP and indicating that any refusal could result in an accident to the place of business. This letter would infer something similar to the selling of protection. The letter would carry the BPP insignia and bear the "Michigan Black Panther Party" letterhead. The letter would not be signed by any individual and would contain no BPP address, but would indicate that a BPP representative would contact the business shortly.

Detroit believes that such a letter, if distributed widely, would receive publicity in local newspapers, thus alarming the responsible black neighborhoods in Detroit to the techniques of the BPP and in turn creating a bad image.

The majority of the Negro students are members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), which operates a Chapter at Ferris State College (FSC) and is a recognized campus organization.

On the evening of 3/3/69 263 Negro students were arrested when they refused to leave a school auditorium. The Negroes had stated that they had refused to leave the auditorium because they feared for their safety.

"Let's start moving on this thing right now before it gets bigger. [redacted] has stated no racial discrimination was involved in the mass arrest of 263 Negro students. He further said the principle involved is simple and clear. He stated as follows: "It's that no group of students, black or white, can take the law into their own hands for whatever rationalized purpose and deliberately flount or break the law'. This is pretty clear to me the way the President summed it up.

"As a parent of one of the students at Ferris State I want my son to get an education and I don't care to see him getting beat up in the process when he would only be an innocent by-stander by some of these violent students who are illegally protesting.

"I write this letter as a concerned parent and I am sure there are hundreds more who feel like I do. So let's have our Government leaders, politicians, and responsible Civic leaders get behind President Spathelf and let him know that we support him in what he is doing for the good of all the students in the school.

Yours truly,

The name of [redacted] is fictitious and no address will be utilized. It is presumed that the letter will thus receive more attention than an unsigned anonymous letter. It will be mailed from Detroit. This letter will be typed on commercially purchased stationery and the usual precautions will be taken to insure it cannot be traced back to the Bureau.

No action will be taken in this counterintelligence matter until authority is received from the Bureau.

It is believed that this letter could possibly result in causing positive action to be taken by responsible individuals to curb the action taken thus far by the protesting students. Based on [redacted] activities, he would have to be considered as an influential figure in the area of black nationalist activities in Detroit.

The above-mentioned comments regarding [redacted] suspicion of subject being an FBI informant, currently points out that this is a most desirable situation for counterintelligence. As a counterintelligence measure, Detroit proposes the following anonymous letter be sent to SNCC Headquarters, Atlanta, Georgia, with a postmark of Inkster, Michigan, a heavily populated Negro community:

"Dear Bro.

"I see this cop loving nigger meeting around the Wayne State campus quite a bit lately. It would surprise me none if he ain't feeding information to those racist Feds, those pigs who wear the white shirts and hats. Something else about this fancy talking nigger is all the bills he carries around. Where does he get all the green stuff when he ain't got no big paying job. He used to talk to me about SNICK action but now it looks like he is giving those honky cops stuff about us blacks. Do something about this electric nigger who the Establishment turns on and off when it wants.

The comments of Atlanta are requested concerning the advisability of this letter. This letter will be prepared in longhand with several spelling and grammatical errors. The letter will be prepared on locally purchased commercial stationery and mailed in a locally purchased, stamped envelope. Every precaution will be taken to see that the letter cannot be traced back to the Bureau.

It is believed that this counterintelligence technique could render great harm to the subject's reputation and standing in the black nationalist community. Further it could cause dissension between him, Detroit SNCC leaders and the BPP. Further it is conceivable that if the information utilized in this technique got back to the "Michigan Chronicle", he could lose his job with this publication.

No action will be taken in this counterintelligence technique pending receipt of Bureau authority. The Bureau will be advised of any tangible results.

Most Honorable Elijah Muhammad

I am a Muslim woman. For more than a year I have been faithful to the word of Allah as revealed by you his holy messenger. It is by the teachings of Allah that I know I am one of the chosen people. I am no ones servent no longer.

Each and every time I go with my husband to the Mosque in Miami and we pays as much as we can. I try to helpus save so we can help you with your work. I know now that only as a MUSLIM will I be saved when we comes to the judgement day. Thit is why I write to you now and hope I will not be a lost soul forever for what I have done. I have not told my husband because I am afraid he will kill me or the minister if he finds out. But every time I go with him to the Mosque and the minister is there I want to stand up and tell every body there that I am a lost woman because there is no hope for me that Allah knows what I have done

I must know if you will guide me because I now know [redacted] is a bad man. He told me my husband was bad for me because he was not like a true man should be and that I was chosen by Allah to be a leader of Muslim women. Then he said he would not let my husband in the Mosque if I wasnt his wife and that is only why h can come because I was chosen. And he said Allah would like us together because my husband was not chosen by Allah like him and if I got a child from him Allah would smile on it like it was his own son.

But now I know it was all lies because my husband is a good man who believes in You and Allah as much as me. And he is clean and has not done wrong like me. And if it was like the minister says that Allah would smile on us why dd I feel so bad and want to die? I know that Allah knows but I want You to know he has lied to me and maybe others. If I am lost please do something for them so they can live as they must. I will always be true to the word of Allah from now on. I will pray for a message from you.

II. - OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Evaluations of the arrest of five BPP members in Los Angeles on 1/24/69, are still being made. Tangible results thus far observed appear in the following section of this letter.

An anonymous telephone call was placed to the parents of [redacted] concerning her pregnancy. Some results have been noted and appear in the following section of this letter.

Facts concerning [redacted] involvement with a girl who has not yet reached her majority has been made available to the San Diego County Probation Office.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

When [redacted] returned to San Diego on 2/7/69 after his [redacted] he found [redacted] became extremely upset with [redacted] and, according [redacted] internal dissension is very evident among the leaders of the BPP in San Diego at the present time.

As a result of [redacted] arrest in Los Angeles on 1/24/69, his being armed at the time of his arrest, and his involvement with a girl who has not yet reached her majority, he is currently facing imprisonment for a period of two to ten years, as a result of probation revocation proceedings. [redacted] advised that [redacted] has hired a "very expensive attorney" and if it is indicated to [redacted] that he will be sent to prison under the above proceedings, he will undoubtedly flee.

An anonymous telephone call was placed to the [redacted] authorized in Bureau letter to San Diego 1/30/69. The call showed concern for [redacted] welfare due to a lack of funds available to [redacted] who was [redacted] The parents showed extreme concern over a previously unknown situation. The immediate result was that [redacted] was forced to return home to live. The call was also beneficial from the standpoint that many people now know throughout the Negro community that [redacted] a BPP leader, is responsible for the difficulty being experienced by [redacted] This has taken on added significance due to the fact that, according [redacted]

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Internal dissension in the BPP in San Diego appears to be increasing on almost a daily basis. This appears to be attributable to a major degree to the authorized counterintelligence activities being utilized by the San Diego Office. The BPP members are currently in a state of confusion and feel that no one within the party, including the leadership, is any longer trustworthy.

V. ADMINISTRATIVE

For the information of the Bureau, the television interview of [redacted], appears in the last half of side one of the enclosed tape cassette along with the first portion of side two.

It is requested that the enclosed tape be brought to the personal attention of [redacted] who has expressed a specific interest in this particular tape.

The Bureau is also requested to review the tape in the light of possible utilization in the counterintelligence and racial briefing programs of other divisions. It is felt that the interview of a BPP leader who describes the BPP as being armed, having an army, being anti-capitalist, being pro-Chinese communist, and advocating a bloody revolution, would be of particular value to the west coast offices. It is also felt that it would be of value to the Chicago Division in view of their recent intensification of BPP problems. Possible uses of the tape could be in the playing for Negro businessmen meetings, racial briefings for local law enforcement, and, possibly, through airing of select television and/or radio networks.

If the Bureau concurs, it is requested that the Laboratory Division prepare sufficient copies of the tape and distribute such copies to the appropriate offices.

Re Indianapolis letter to Bureau dated 2/24/69.

In April, 1968 through June, 1968 several individuals formed a group in Indianapolis, Indiana, and called themselves the Black Panthers, although they were not affiliated in any way with the nationally known Black Panther Party. In June, 1968 they were arrested when attempting to burglarize the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, in Indianapolis in an attempt to obtain weapons. Since that arrest however, the Black Panther Party Chapter in Indianapolis affiliated with national organization was formed. It has supported the individuals arrested and had several fund raising projects to obtain funds for their defense. Last week, in March, 1969, FBI agents testified in local case against individuals who were arrested last June, and in addition a former informant of the Indianapolis Office testified. Three persons have been in jail since June, 1968, and two were found guilty of burglary, and sentenced two to fourteen years, as a result of informant's and agents testifying. In addition to the burglary charge the subjects were acquitted on a conspiracy to commit murder charge in which they had discussed possible plans to murder the chief of police in Indianapolis, and another officer of the Indianapolis Police Department.

Further possibilities to disrupt BPP activities and plans through informants and possible arrest by local authorities will be watched for, and utilized whenever possible.

The following counterintelligence recommendations are being submitted to the Bureau for consideration under captioned program:

1. As the Bureau is aware, investigation at Syracuse, N. Y., has disclosed that the United Black Brothers are being funded, in part, by the Syracuse Area Council of Churches, who are apparently unaware of the criminal element within the United Black Brothers organization. The current [redacted] has vehemently expressed the opinion to [redacted] that he believes that many people connected with the Council of Churches are "far to the left of the center." [redacted] is in a position to attempt to have any funding of the United Black Brothers by the Council of Churches terminated. It is felt that [redacted] could contact [redacted] on a confidential basis and advise him of the true nature of the United Black Brothers of Syracuse and of the criminal backgrounds of their leaders, such as [redacted] The purpose of such an interview would be to steer [redacted] thinking into the channel that such funding should be ended as soon as possible. This could be accomplished without involvement of the Bureau.

2. The president and [redacted] a source who, on previous contacts with Bureau personnel, has expressed his admiration of the Director and his associates. [redacted] has cooperated with the Bureau in the past and it is felt he could be approached regardingthe possibility of printing a discrediting article about the United Black Brothers of Syracuse. It is not known what reaction [redacted] would have to this suggestion, but he could be depended upon to afford complete confidence to any such contact by the FBI.

3. Investigation at Syracuse, N. Y., has disclosed that there are presently 8 members of the United Black Brothers organization who are recipients of monthly welfare payments. These monthly checks average about $100 each, and [redacted] is receiving approximately $90 of each check. It is felt that [redacted] Onondaga County Welfare Department, could be confidentially apprised of the true nature of the United Black Brothers Organization in an attempt to terminate this source of funding.

Albany is of the opinion that implementation of the above recommendations would be a method of hampering the activities of the United Black Brothers organization and insuring that the organization fails to achieve its desired ends.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

ReBulet to Albany, 1/30/69.

Pursuant to instructions in referenced letter, Buffalo has given consideration to various counterintelligence measures which might possibly be applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) chapter recently established in Rochester, N.Y. It is desired to point out that this chapter is presently highly disorganized, is made up of very few members, and has no funds with which to operate. It lacks any kind of leadership against whom a planned counterintelligence project could be operated.

The Buffalo Office has conducted a series of interviews of known members of the Rochester chapter of BPP, and extremely close liaison is maintained with the Rochester PD, Special Intelligence Unit, in connection with the BPP. The latter unit has kept a close watch on the activities of this chapter, and the interviews are believed to have effectively kept this chapter off balance during its formative stages.

The above chapter has surrendered its headquarters at 400 Joseph Avenue, Rochester, having rented this space in October, 1968, and failed to pay any rent since November 1, 1968. They are presently seeking a new headquarters but have not thus far been successful. Consideration has been given to calling attention to members of this chapter the various acts of financial mismanagement on the part of some of the top leaders of the BPP, including KATHERINE CLEAVER, wife of LEROY ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, who appeared with the latter at the time he gave a talk at the Xerox Corporation in the Summer of 1968. It is felt, at this time, that the present disorganized and bankrupt state of the Rochester BPP chapter is such as to mitigate any real effect of spreading a rumor about the conduct of national officers because this chapter appears to be very remotely connected and/or interested in the actions of the more highly placed BPP leaders. This suggested counterintelligence move will be kept under consideration for future use if this chapter becomes more formally organized.

The inactive status of the Rochester BPP chapter at this time does not seem to present any effective counterintelligence operation. Buffalo will continue to follow this matter very closely and will keep the Bureau advised of its recommendations.

Re Chicago letter dated 2/25/69, above caption.

As in referenced letter, developments within the local Black Panther Party (BPP) have been reviewed from the standpoint of the formulation of an effective counter-intelligence device.

Based on information which has been obtained since referenced letter, a productive counter-intelligence opportunity has not presented itself.

No tangible results have been reported by Chicago sources relative to previous Chicago counter-intelligence suggestions regarding the BPP.

The Bureau has been previously advised under this caption of the [redacted] on a mob action warrant from Maywood, Illinois, the arrest having been effected as a result of the alertness of [redacted] and information provided [redacted] trial, in Maywood, has since been held and he has been found innocent of these charges.

Since referenced letter Chicago has also advised local police authorities, specifically the Gang Intelligence Unit, Chicago Police Department, of the violation of the terms of his local probation by a local Black Panther officer, in that he was arrested in Springfield, Illinois, in February, 1968. The information was also provided to probation authorities, however, in neither instance was there any interest expressed in pursuing this matter by local authorities.

Chicago will remain alert to various facets of local BPP activities, and where a suitable opportunity presents itself, an appropriate communication will be forthcoming.

Re Bureau airtel to Detroit, dated 2/26/69.

[redacted] a member of the League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW), and [redacted] who has not been identified as a member of this group but who could be considered a strong sympathizer and supporter of the group, have been the subjects of inquiry of this office by "The Detroit News", a Detroit daily newspaper.

Due to information furnished [redacted], regarding [redacted] attendance at the Italian Socialist Party for Proletarian Unity Convention, in Naples, Italy, [redacted] employment at "The Detroit News" was terminated on 2/28/69. [redacted] employment was terminated with [redacted] inasmuch as he falsely claimed he was on sick leave at the time of his attendance at this Convention.

[redacted] known leader of the LRBW, is presently employed by "The Detroit News" as a truck driver, however, he is under suspension for wrecking two of their trucks.

On 3/10/69 [redacted] telephonically contacted the Detroit Office and furnished the following information:

[redacted] was formerly employed by "The Detroit News" as a "jumper". He was separated from this employment by "The Detroit News" approximately ten days ago due to an unauthorized absence and left in what [redacted] termed as a "bad frame of mind". [redacted] advised that on 3/10/69 the head of the Labor Relations Department of "The Detroit News" received an unsigned letter indicating that a black revolutionary union had been formed among employees of the newspaper and would begin protesting alleged racism on the staff of the newspaper. The letter further set forth a number of instances of this alleged racism occurring at the newspaper. This letter appeared to be postmarked on 3/7/69.

[redacted] further advised that it was his personal opinion this group would be a counterpart of the "Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM)" currently plaguing the Chrysler Corporation in the Detroit area. [redacted] offered that he would cooperate fully with the Bureau in any manner so desired by the Bureau.

A xerox copy of the above-mentioned letter is attached.

Detroit in the past has experienced an extremely favorable relationship with [redacted]. During April, 1967, [redacted] was responsible for publishing a series of articles relating to the United Klans of America, Inc. activities in the Detroit area, which materially lessened the Klan's effectiveness in the Detroit area. The Detroit Office, with the permission of the Bureau, assisted [redacted] by furnishing him information regarding the United Klans of America, Inc. which he included in his series of articles.

Detroit will be alert for possible future counterintelligence techniques through the utilization of those sources mentioned above in the hope of furnishing information to the "News" which may have a disruptive effect on and lessen Black Nationalist influence in the Detroit area.

Consideration is being afforded this matter at the present time toward developing effective counterintelligence techniques against the LRBW. No action will be taken by Detroit without first apprising the Bureau of techniques proposed and receipt of Bureau approval for the implementation of these techniques.

Mr. Hildebrant: Labor relations Detroit News

Let it be resolved,

In as much as we have evidence of individual complaints, and broad patterns of racism, and discrimination; in as much as this said racism, and discrimination was enacted by the employer; in as much as this said racism, and discrimination was enacted by the employees against their employees with the knowledge and in some cases in connivance with the lackeys of the employer; and in as much as this said racism, and discrimination has manifested its self into acts of physical violence, personal malice, and oppression thereof, toward black people and other minority groups, there is now in existence a News Revolutionary Union Movement.

This movement will:

1. fight racism by the employer, and document those acts
2. fight racism by the employees, and document those acts
3. move to have supervisory, and managerial positions open to black people and other minority groups, starting with the circulation dept. and working on up
4. fighting violations of civil rights, and national labor relation laws
5. fight white racism

Finally, the News Revolutionary Union Movement is a coalition of Black, and white workers, who have dedicated themselves to fight white racism, and unfair labor practices by any means necessary.

Recent developments in the counter-intelligence field, wherein specific accomplishments were made, are as follows:

[redacted] he was relieved of his post by BOBBY SEALE in late 1968 and eventually went to Los Angeles. Prior to this he had been arrested, then released, by the San Francisco Police Department on charges of robbery and attempted murder in November, 1968. This episode provoked SEALE into making derogatory remarks about several Panthers involved. Although only a technical violation, an alert Agent of this office called this to the attention of the California Parole Board. When [redacted] left a hospital without leave, while revokation of his parole was being considered, the State Board ordered his arrest, which occurred in Los Angeles. involvement in the same case as [redacted] tioned above. In a recent interview with [redacted] as present in the beginning and [redacted] voiced his dissatisfaction with the leadership of the BPP and indicated that he and [redacted] ght start their own Party or at least some kind of organization. It is believed that tension between [redacted] and the party was heightened by the counter-intelligence work of this office, and also [redacted] long stay in jail, which embittered him against the Party, care about because the Party was suspicious of him and would not put up bail money for him. As a result, we may see a serious break in the Oakland militant communists if an opposition party among the dissidents available, is started.

Still in the contemplative stage is an attempt to utilize [redacted] who is in the area in one of the two ways or in both ways.

It is believed that the present situation as set forth above presents counter-intelligence opportunities and this will be carefully and promptly exploited.

[redacted] advised this office of the desires of [redacted] in their filming of Berkeley riot scenes. The Panthers are paid money as "extras" and are put in picket lines to satisfy the film-makers. This action is considered highly desirable inasmuch as [redacted] is constantly involved with firearms and membership in the NRA may possibly lend an air of legitimacy to these activities.

(3) Tangible Results

As a result of information made available to an established contact at the "Pittsburgh Press," concerning [redacted] mentioned above, an article appeared in that newspaper on [redacted] in an unfavorable light.

(4) Developments of Counterintelligence Interests

As is being experienced on a nationwide basis, racial agitational activities in the Pittsburgh area are presently being conducted for the most part in schools, both high schools and colleges. Two high schools in the Pittsburgh area have recently experienced racial outbreaks and there have been short takeovers of property at two colleges in Pittsburgh by black students, during the current academic year.

As a result of these activities, the Pennsylvania State Legislature is presently considering a bill to increase the penalties for such takeovers of schools by students.

The present indication is that the Legislature will probably pass the law, however, there is strong indication that it will be vetoed by the Pennsylvania Governor. It also noted that the bill is generally opposed by academic leaders as an infringement of academic freedom.

There are presently two black student organizations on college campuses in the Pittsburgh area: The Black Action Society at the University of Pittsburgh and the Black League of Afro-American Culture at the Allegheny Community College, Pittsburgh. The activities of both of these organizations are being considered from a counter-intelligence standpoint and any recommendations for specific action against either organization will be submitted to the Bureau by separate letter.

There have been no further significant changes in the overall Black Nationalist movement in the Pittsburgh area since the submission of referenced Pittsburgh letter.

The Boston Office contemplates the setting up of a "paper" organization, under a suitable name, which will keep the responsible Negro ghetto community ostensibly informed of activities of the Black Panther Party, Boston (BPP-B), whose activities are undermining and damaging the Negro community as a whole. This "paper" organization will operate through a blind post office box with suitable security measures taken, through which anonymous mailings will be made to selective Negro businessmen and responsible Negro citizens in the ghetto area. These mailings will include posters, which can be posted up, and which will contain selective information concerning the activities of the BPP-B which will be designed to arouse animosity of the responsible Negro community against the BPP-B.

[redacted] reported that many of his Negro customers have been complaining of housebreaks at residences in Roxbury, as well as purse snatchings. It was reported on Page 17 in the February 2, 1969 issue of "The Black Panther", official newspaper of the BPP, that [redacted] were arrested on 1/21/69 for purse snatching, possession of marijuana and receiving stolen goods. The Intelligence Unit of the Boston Police Department has advised that these charges have been dismissed. I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

At the present time there are three proposals awaiting Bureau evaluation. Two of these involve the placing of anonymous telephone calls and the third concerns a protest to the attorney representing the San Diego City Unified School District.

In addition, due to the favorable results thus far observed concerning the mailing of cartoons to Black Panther Party (BPP) members, additional cartoons are being prepared. Upon completion they will be mailed to the Bureau for evaluation.

Due to the recent seizure of what appears to be the complete records of the BPP in San Diego, additional requests, as the results of the review of these records, are anticipated.

Information has also been received that DAVID HILLIARD, Chief of Staff, BPP, San Francisco, has ordered [redacted] In view of this, consideration is being given toward crediting [redacted] with the formulation and mailing of the cartoons which [redacted]. It is felt that this

Reactions from the San Diego area are just beginning to come in and will appear in Section III of this letter. Repercussions are still being noted concerning [redacted] confrontation by [redacted] Attempts are still being made by the California State Attorney General's office to have [redacted] parole revoked and this situation is being very closely followed.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

The Los Angeles Police Department was advised of the sentence and immediately placed a hold against [redacted] stemming out of his 1/24/69 arrest in that city. This hold will preclude [redacted] being sent to an honor farm or released on parole prior to the completion of his entire sentence.

A felony warrant charging [redacted] with being a convicted felon in possession of a firearm, was obtained at Los Angeles by theSan Diego office of the State Attorney General on 3/7/69. This warrant was obtained as a direct result of [redacted] having been arrested in Los Angeles on 1/24/69 on information furnished through the Counterintelligence Program concerning the fact that the Black Panthers were travelling to Los Angeles and were armed.

On 3/10/69 [redacted] was arrested by the warrant obtained by the State Attorney General's office with the assistance of the San Diego Police Department. In addition to the arrest of [redacted] an individual who has thus far been unidentified and who was in the house at the time, was arrested for possession of marijuana.

In addition, and of prime importance, is the fact that at the time of the arrest a briefcase was confiscated and determined to contain what appear to be the entire San Diego Branch of the BPP records. These records were apparently the property of [redacted] who has been staying at the [redacted] residence. The records were immediately made

These include private notes of [redacted] has had with other members of the party including [redacted] weekly reports submitted by BPP officers, lists of BPP officers in San Diego and numerous other cities, and letters exchanged between various BPP offices. As a result, the local San Diego authorities are presently seeking felony warrants for the arrest of [redacted]

At the present time the records are being very carefully reviewed and will be reported in the first BPP letterhead memorandum after completion of the review.

At the same time the felony warrant was obtained concerning [redacted] a misdemeanor warrant was obtained for [redacted] in connection with and as the result of his purchase of the hand weapon found in [redacted] possession on 1/24/69. [redacted] has currently dropped out of sight but when he is located he will immediately be arrested by the San Diego Police Department. Some members accused [redacted] of having drawn and mailed them as a result of [redacted] close association with the white community. Others accused [redacted] of having drawn and mailed them due to the fact that he recently left the BPP and joined the US organization, coupled with the fact that [redacted] is a fair artist. [redacted] has also been mentioned as suspect but informants could furnish no specific reason for this suspicion.

There was also a brief discussion that the San Diego Police Department could have mailed the cartoons but this was dismissed because the police department would not like to see a direct confrontation between US and BPP. [redacted] also advised that the final consensus of opinion around BPP members is that the US organization is responsible and the cartoon depicts an attack of the BPP by US.

The BPP is presently conducting a vigorous "investigation" in an attempt to determine the source of the cartoons.

[redacted] stated that the members originally thought that the SanDiego Police Department may have sent them out to provoke a confrontation between US and BPP. [redacted] continued that this idea was almost immediately abandoned and that the cartoon has the BPP members "completely paranoid." [redacted] continued that the members are "shook up" and "afraid." They feel that US is "ready to move against the panthers now."

[redacted] also stated that the Oakland and Los Angeles parties are completely disgusted with the San Diego Branch. Oakland reportedly sent a car from Oakland to San Diego and took back the machine gun which had formerly been given to the San Diego Branch along with "most of their rifles." The weapons were all taken back to Oakland. Both Los Angeles and Oakland are reportedly "completely" through with the San Diego Branch of the BPP.

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Re Albany letter to Bureau, 1/9/69, and Bureau airtel, 3/4/68.

The following information sets forth the summary of the Counterintelligence Program for the Albany Division as requested in referenced Bureau airtel:

1. Operations Under Consideration

The United Black Brothers of Syracuse has been established as a militant black nationalist organization in the Syracuse area posing under the public front of being a self-help organization for needy Negro men. A large portion of financial support from this organization is derived from the Syracuse Council of Churches. The Albany Division is considering approaching an established contact within the Syracuse Council of Churches and exposing the United Black Brothers as a black hate group in an effort to end the financial support being received from the Council of Churches.

The Albany Division is further contemplating the possibility of publicly exposing the United Black Brothers through the use of the "Herald Journal", a Syracuse, N. Y., daily newspaper in which there is an established source of the Albany Office. It is felt that discrediting articles regarding the United Black Brothers would bring this organization into public view to expose it as the hate group it actually is.

Investigation has revealed that various members of the United Black Brothers are on State Welfare and that a portion of these welfare checks are given to [redacted] It is being contemplated that an Albany source employed in the local State Welfare Office be contacted regarding this use of welfare funds as a possibility in exerting pressure on these welfare recipients regarding their activities with the United Black Brothers.

2. Operations Being Effected

There are no operations presently in effect in Albany.

3. Tangible Results

Not applicable at this time.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

The Albany Division feels that if prominent individuals in the Syracuse area are made aware of the true nature of the United Black Brothers, they will exert their influence in such a way to cause the United Black Brothers to possibly fall due to lack of public and financial support.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Re Chicago letter (quarterly progress) dated 12/12/68.

Set forth hereinafter is the periodic progress letter concerning captioned matter, as directed in Bureau airtel March 4, 1968, under the captions as instructed:

1. Operations Under Consideration

Since the above referenced letter, Chicago has continued to closely follow local developments in the Black Nationalist field, with the development of effective counter-intelligence techniques constantly in mind. Although all facets of Black Nationalist activities and groups are so considered, the local Black Panther Party (BPP) chapter and its activities continue to receive particular attention. This is due to the admittedly violent and militant nature of the BPP, as well as the volatile nature of the individuals who compose both its leadership and membership.

Chicago is under Bureau instructions to submit on a two-week basis a counterintelligence proposal regarding the BPP, and since referenced letter a number of specific proposals have been submitted and approved. Chicago has prepared and mailed four separate anonymous communications, concerning [redacted] approved Bureau letter December 10, 1968), [redacted] approved Bureau letter January 30, 1969), [redacted] (approved Bureau letter January 30, 1969, and [redacted] (approved Bureau letter February 20, 1969.

Since referenced letter Chicago also has requested and received Bureau authority to utilize [redacted] a counter-intelligence activity directed against the Nation of Islam (NOI). [redacted] has apparently [redacted] officials, attended and reported on their recent annual convention, and was the object of an attempt by an official of the NOI to force upon him $1000 as a token of NOI appreciation of articles relative to the organization. The purpose of our previous contacts with [redacted] in this connection was to provide him with background information relative to the non-religious aspects of the NOI, its business ventures and financial dealings.

At the NOI convention, and subsequent thereto, NOI officials have made statements critical of MALCOLM X, describing him as an example, as one of "the worst enemies" of the Muslims, meaning by inference black people. A story regarding these attacks on MALCOLM at the convention was [redacted] and subsequently appeared in the "Tribune". A [redacted] has since advised that the NOI attacks on MALCOLM have generally produced unfavorable results within the Negro community on the south side, particularly since the NOI in many quarters is still regarded as responsible for the death of MALCOLM.

Accordingly, Chicago will shortly submit, by separate communication, Bureau authority to recontact [redacted] relative to possibilities of further exploiting the NOI attacks on MALCOLM, directed at further reflecting unfavorable reaction toward the NOI.

At present Chicago has no further specific counterintelligence proposals under consideration. Another letter regarding the BPP, however, is due for submission March 24, 1969.

2. Operations Being Effected and Tangible Results Obtained

Reference has previously been made to the specific counterintelligence actions initiated by Chicago. As yet no information has been received by Chicago reflecting tangible results of these actions.

A detailed analysis of the use of [redacted] was set forth in Chicago airtel of February 17, 1969. In short, it was noted that the NOI was shown publicly as more of a business than a religious group, and articles authored by him may have had the effect of rendering NOI officials vulnerable to robbery efforts, as in the case of [redacted] February 4, 1969. The [redacted] is being considered.

Chicago has also continued to advise local authorities of instances where local Black Nationalists, particularly BPP members, appear vulnerable to arrest on local charges. Along these lines Chicago letter of February 10, 1969, set forth specific information whereby [redacted] was arrested just prior to a television appearance, through efforts of a Chicago BPP source and Chicago Special Agents. The arrest was an effective source of embarrassment to the BPP; however, [redacted] was subsequently found innocent, in jury trial, of the mob action charges for which he had been arrested.

Additionally, information has regularly been disseminated by Chicago to other Bureau offices for local dissemination in instances where Chicago BPP subjects have travelled elsewhere. Specifically local BPP subjects have on several occasions journeyed to the University of Illinois, Champaign, Illinois, and their activities there have resulted in numerous arrests. Prior knowledge of the presence of these subjects, their purposes and identities, have been of great value in alerting local authorities to the potential for violence represented.

One of those local BPP members arrested in Springfield was determined to be on probation on local Chicago charges. Inasmuch as the arrest represented a violation of this probation, the information regarding the arrest was made available to the appropriate Chicago Police authorities, and probation authorities. Unfortunately, both expressed a lack of interest in taking any action in this matter.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

As in the recent past, the most significant area of development continues to center around the activities of the local BPP. It has suffered from organizational and factional problems, as well as financial difficulties, and has yet to prove its ability to serve as a cohesive or unifying influence in the local Black Nationalist community.

As concerns the remainder of local Black Nationalist, individuals and groups, the situation continues to be fragmented, with none appearing of sufficient stature or influence that the divergent groups are willing to sacrifice their own limited objectives, or independance, for the sake of a united front.

Background is being conducted concerning members of the BPP at Greensboro, N. C., a number of whom are reported by informants as being of high school age. Upon developing the identities and background of the members, proposals will be submitted concerning counterintelligence operations in the Greensboro, N. C., area. Under consideration at the present time is a program wherein after identifying youthful members, proposals will be sent to the Bureau in each specific case requesting permission to interview the parents of the youthful members. It is noted that [redacted] and while there, obtained information that interviews of youthful BPP members and their parents, which interviews apparently gave the parents information concerning their children's activities, had caused a decrease in BPP membership in the New York City, New York, area. A proposal in this regard will be submitted as soon as the necessary information is obtained.

STUDENT NONVIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE (SNCC)

This is to recommend that information concerning a grant being solicited under subterfuge by the black extremist organization SNCC be furnished [redacted] Atlanta, Georgia, on a confidential basis.

Memorandum W. C. Sullivan to C. D. DeLoach 2-13-69 indicated the National Episcopal Church (NEC), New York City, intends to furnish the Afro-American Society of Greater Atlanta (AASGA) funds totaling $34,000, ostensibly for the purpose of improving race relations in Atlanta. However, AASGA is actually a front name for SNCC.

It has been ascertained that [redacted] who is in [redacted] at Atlanta, did receive $34,000 in the name of AASGA. The NEC subsequently questioned whether AASGA was a bona fide organization and retrieved the $34,000 to further consider this matter. Jenkins has expressed the opinion NEC will re-issue the funds in a few weeks with the knowledge AASGA is actually a SNCC organization.

SNCC is one of the most notorious black extremist organizations in the country. Under the leadership of Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown it has advocated a black revolution through violence and guerrilla warfare. The fact the Episcopal church is even considering furnishing funds to SNCC is outrageous and it is believed publicity about this matter would cause the church to cut off the grant. Our Atlanta Office has advised that [redacted] which publishes two Atlanta daily newspapers, is a trusted friend of the Bureau to whom we can furnish public source material on a confidential basis. Atlanta assures that [redacted] will not reveal FBI interest in this matter and that the Bureau will not be embarrassed.

This is to recommend counterintelligence action to expose financial chicanery by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in getting a grant from a foundation.

We learned that [redacted] late Martin Luther King, Jr., who founded the SCLC, was in contact with [redacted] regarding a $75,000 gift or grant from the Field Foundation. [redacted] was a Communist Party organizer in the 1930s and reportedly a genius in manipulating Party funds.

[redacted] arranged with [redacted] to have [redacted] match a $75,000 grant from the Field Foundation because the Field Foundation would not approve a matching grant from the SCLC itself. [redacted] said that the SCLC will later reimburse [redacted] foundation. [redacted] foundation is called the Freedom Foundation although the source interpreted the name as Frida phonetically. It is believed we should expose this financial chicanery by anonymously advising Representative Wright Patman (Democrat - Texas) in general terms so as to protect our source. Patman, Chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, is currently conducting hearings on the financial dealings of foundations.

Dear Representative Patman,

Since you are holding hearings on foundations, I thought you would be interested in a fraudulent scheme involving the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Field Foundation and the Freedom Foundation.

Information has come to my attention that the Field Foundation in New York City, a legitimate, well-known and respectable foundation has been approached by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference for a grant of $75,000. One of the conditions of the grant from the Field Foundation was that a matching grant must come from another foundation. It is my understanding that an under the table secret deal was arranged for the Freedom Foundation to furnish the matching grant with the understanding that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference will later secretly return the money to the Freedom Foundation after the grant from the Field Foundation is received.

I can't sign this for obvious reasons, but I thought this kind of deal by foundations was the sort of thing you are investigating. This kind of manipulation smells and I hope you will be able to look into it and represent us taxpayers who are at the mercy of such double dealings on the part of, we hope, a relatively few unscrupulous manipulators.

The Freedom Foundation is not the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. My understanding is that it is located in New York City.

The primary purpose of his talk was black nationalism and the entire talk concerned primarily the recruitment of the high school youth into the Black Panther Party (BPP).

It will also be pointed out to [redacted] that [redacted] is an active member of the BPP and is apparently attempting to induce young high school boys and girls into becoming active members of the BPP.

It is felt that [redacted] will maintain the information in the strictest confidence and will lodge a protest of his own with the San Diego City Unified School District officials.

It is hoped that in this manner invitations for BPP leaders will either be held to an absolute minimum or completely precluded as they concern the high schools of the San Diego area.

Counterintelligence Operations in Effect
Against the Black Panther Party (BPP)

At the request of the San Diego Office, the names and addresses of five important members of the Los Angeles Black Panther Party were furnished by the Los Angeles Office in order that certain caricatures concerning the Black Panther Party could be mailed to these individuals in the hope that this will create further dissension within the Black Nationalist movement.

Interviews with members of the BPP are being continued in the hope that a state of distrust might remain among the members and add to the turmoil presently going on within the BPP.

Counterintelligence Operations
Under Consideration

All arrests of members of the BPP continue to be followed, looking for violations of anti-riot and gun control laws in order to determine if any of these individuals might be prosecuted under Federal and State laws.

Accomplishments Obtained

During the past week, a BPP member was critically wounded, reportedly by "US" members, at a rally near the Carver Junior High School, which had been involved in student strikes. In retaliation, it is believed that BPP members fired into the home of a member of "US" without doing any injury to this individual.

During the early morning of 3/17/69, an individual was shot near the residence of [redacted] an "US" official, and six individuals believed to be "US" members were arrested.

There is no indication that the above incidents were the result of any of the counterintelligence programs aimed at the BPP; however, they do indicate a definite disruption within the overall black nationalist movement and causing a great deal of consternation within the black community.

This is to recommend [redacted] for an individual letter of commendation in the above-captioned case for outstanding performance as set forth hereafter.

On 2/4/69, [redacted] placed an anonymous telephone call to local Black Panther leaders in the San Diego area, complaining of the apparent ignorance of [redacted] a Black Panther Party leader in San Diego. Specifically, [redacted] had appeared at a local San Diego television station and was interviewed by one of the news commentators. [redacted] made rash and outlandish statements regarding planned programs of the Black Panther Party and the interview actually resulted in [redacted] making a "fool" out of himself. As a result of this call, informants in the Black Panther Party stated that a great deal of consternation and distrust of [redacted] was brought about on the part of Black Panther Party members.

On 2/25/69, [redacted] placed an anonymous telephone call to Black Panther Party member [redacted] at which time [redacted] was told that [redacted] was responsible for the arrest of five Black Panther Party members in Los Angeles on 1/24/69. For your information, reports concerning the cartoons mailed in the San Diego are currently being received through San Diego sources. They indicate that the cartoons of [redacted] have caused a great deal of confusion and apprehension, particularly concerning who could be responsible for the cartoons. Several individual BPP members who have defected to the US organization or who have ties with the white community have been discussed by active BPP members as suspects. The local police department was also mentioned as suspect but this theory was almost immediately abandoned. The general, and final consensus of opinion at this time, is that the US organization is "now ready to move" against the BPP.

In addition to the mailing of the cartoons to individual BPP members, two envelopes, each containing three cartoons, are being mailed to the various BPP headquarters.

Copies are also being mailed to local underground newspapers in the San Diego and Los Angeles areas.

In the event recipient offices feel additional members should be on the "mailing list" or if it is felt inclusion of local underground newspapers would be of benefit, it is requested that the appropriate names and addresses be furnished to San Diego.

Caution should be exercised that the furnishing of names and addresses of individuals will in no way jeopardize confidential sources.

(BLACK PANTHER PARTY)

Re Detroit airtel, dated 2/19/69, and Bureau letter, dated 2/28/69.

As a counterintelligence technique, Detroit is submitting the following letter:

"Brother:

" Our Black Panther Party in Detroit is now functioning as a black militant, trained, well-organized, highly efficient group capable of maintaining peace and order in our ghetto neighborhoods.

"Of special interest to you as one of our black business brothers trying to survive in our black ghettos from both a safe operating standpoint free from interference and at the same time realizing a fair profit, we would like to offer you the following information on our newly formed business security program:

"1. The Black Panther Party has recently organized a staff to adequately furnish protection of our black business brothers operating in our black communities. This staff would insure your business is not hampered by black men's stickups or arson (this should be handled by the anti-black Detroit Police Commissioner Spreen and his white oriented cops who over protect white businessmen and over-react against our black brothers.

The above letter will be sent to numerous black people operating businesses in the Detroit black ghetto area. The names and addresses of these people will be obtained from personal observation, and through ads in the "Michigan Chronicle", a weekly Detroit publication which caters to a minority group. Names and addresses will also be obtained from Bresser's Directory.

This letter will be prepared with a Black Panther Party letterhead.

Pending receipt of Bureau approval for the dissemination of the above-mentioned counterintelligence letter, Detroit proposes as a counterintelligence follow-up activity relating to this matter a letter to the Editor of both "The Detroit News" and the "Detroit Free Press", Detroit daily newspapers. This letter would be signed by one of the recipients of the BPP letter and would be of a bitter nature complaining about paying "protection money" to the Detroit BPP. This letter would read as follows:

> "As a respected and fearless black businessman operating a business in the black community in Detroit I deeply resent receiving a letter from the Black Panther Party which to me smacks of a 'shakedown'. I pay taxes and operate my business above board. I treat my customers fair and don't gouge them when they buy from me. So why should I be singled out by the Panthers who have as much as said pay and join up with us so your store doesn't get broken into or burned down.
> "I am sending along with this letter a copy of a letter I received from the Panthers which is too long to include in my letter to the Editor.

"I sincerely hope your newspaper will expose the Black Panther Party for what they are trying to do to me. I am sure other Negro business people have received the Panther's letter but are probably scared to expose these dangerous thugs for fear they will be hurt."

This letter would be written in longhand and signed by one of the recipients of the BPP letter with his name and address.

As another proposed counterintelligence activity relating to this matter, Detroit recommends the following after the aforementioned letter is published in the letters to the Editor. This letter would be a reply from [redacted] who is the recognized leader of the BPP in Detroit. This proposed letter would be also directed to "The Detroit News" and "Detroit Free Press" and would read as follows:

"Let me go on record as flatly denying that the Black Panther Party of Detroit as an organization or that any of us leaders or members of the Black Panther Party in Detroit, have ever disseminated any literature to organize black businessmen in Detroit to safeguard their businesses and prevent them from suffering physical harm. We of the Black Panther Party, and I as their chief spokesman, vehemently deny any participation in the action referred to in the letter to the Editor as published in your issue of _____, allegedly received from a Detroit black businessman.

"Further allow me to state that the Black Panther Party does not advocate violence but rather that we are interested only in the survival of the black people and securing our rights and being treated as dignified, responsible citizens. As for myself, I do not advocate the overthrow of the U. S. Government by violence or through any other means. I would not participate in any activity which would be inimical to the best interest of the United States Government.

"This obvious smear against the Detroit Black Panther Party which I, as their representative, believe is unwarranted and in extremely bad taste, is only another way in which people are trying to do away with the Panthers.

"It is my fervent hope that this letter will alleviate any fear people have of the Black Panther Party and will encourage people to understand us in the proper perspective.

Detroit BPP"

It is to be noted both "The Detroit News" and the "Detroit Free Press" in their issues of 6/13/64 and 6/14/64 contained articles relating to [redacted] travel to Cuba where he and other individuals advocated destruction of the United States Government. Inasmuch as this is public source information, this could be brought to the attention of "The Detroit News" and "Detroit Free Press" people in an anonymous letter.

The proposed letter would be submitted under [redacted] signature and would be typewritten.

All of the above-mentioned letters will be prepared on locally purchased commercial stationery and mailed in locally purchased stamped envelopes.

Every precaution will be taken to see that this letter cannot be traced back to the Bureau. It is believed that the aforementioned letters could cause considerable consternation to the BPP and [redacted] and would serve as a disruptive action in the entire operation of the Detroit BPP.

No action will be taken in this counterintelligence technique pending receipt of Bureau authority. The Bureau will be advised of any tangible results from this proposed counterintelligence action.

The Bureau has carefully reviewed the proposed anonymous letters set forth in relet and is of the opinion that an undertaking of this scope should not be further considered until such time as in-depth informant and other coverage of the Black Panther Party (BPP) is obtained. In this regard, it is likely that in the very near future, the BPP may engage in criminal practices in the ghetto area of Detroit. The sending of the first letter recommended by you in relet could possibly suggest to the BPP a course of action which it would be willing to undertake.

You are encouraged to continue to think along counterintelligence lines and to resubmit recommendations aimed at disrupting the BPP when you believe the opportune time has arrived.

NOTE:

In relet Detroit recommends a counterintelligence maneuver involving the mailing of three anonymous letters which are expected to discredit the BPP publicly. Letter number one would be anonymously mailed to reputable black businessmen in the Detroit ghetto. It contains a veiled threat by offering protection from Negro hoodlums for a price. The second anonymous letter would be a follow-up to the first and mailed to local Detroit newspapers in which a recipient of a first letter would complain about paying "protection money" to the Detroit BPP. The third letter would be a sequel to the second and also addressed to the local Detroit newspapers. It would be signed by [redacted] in which [redacted] flatly denies that the BPP sent letter number one to Negro businessmen.

The third letter also states that the BPP is a nonviolent organization and in effect persuasively defends BPP objectives. Authority to mail these letters is being denied in view of the fact it is not believed that the overall effect of the mailing will actually hurt the BPP. Moreover, the Detroit Office does not have good informant coverage of the BPP at this time and is in the process of obtaining technical coverage of the BPP. Until Detroit has a sound knowledge of BPP objectives locally, it is not believed that a counter-intelligence action of this nature should be authorized.

BLACK NATIONALIST MOVEMENT IN THE PORTLAND FIELD DIVISION; CHANGES

Since referenced letter of 12/2/68, a Black Panther Party (BPP) group has been formed in Portland and another in Eugene, Oregon, but neither is recognized by the national BPP. No official contact or communication is known to have taken place between these groups and the national, definitely not between the Portland group and the national. "Membership" fluctuates with each meeting but in the Portland group average is around twelve persons attending. The latter group is in the talk and educational stage at meetings with no organized violence attributable to it. Members or persons attending the Portland group have a propensity individually for violence but the group as a whole currently, because of top leadership, will refrain from violence.

The Eugene group which appears to have come into existence during latter February, 1969, is in a similar formative stage, and the [redacted] believed to [redacted] an extremist who has a definite potential for violence.

[redacted] the February, 1969 "captain" of the Portland BPP are both on the Agitator Index and the Security Index and are the two individuals in Oregon with the most propensity for racial violence. [redacted] and is a former [redacted] He is under indictment at Saginaw, Michigan for "preparation to burn" in connection with a racial disorder in 1967. [redacted] has been a continuous instigator of radical student and racial disorders on the UO campus and in the City of Eugene.

[redacted] is being paid by Portland State University (PSU) in connection with a Black Studies Community Project. During 1968, he was publicly known as a BPP organizer, is currently active in the Portland "BPP" and definitely favors racial violence, having privately admitting a fire bombing in Portland.

(1) Operations Under Consideration:

By letter of 1/31/69, Portland suggested mailing to known extremists, nationally, warnings concerning recent Federal gun law restrictions -- this mailing for the purpose of advising extremists that the government was aware of their activities. Portland is awaiting Bureau recommendation to this proposal.

Portland previously has submitted suggestions for a "West Coast Committee for a New BPP" and is awaiting San Francisco's response.

(2) Operations Being Put Into Effect:

Portland is currently intensifying investigation of [redacted] recent purchases or attempted purchases of firearms which may be in violation of new gun control laws and will take advantage of every opportunity for prosecution.

Portland has received information that [redacted] has stolen luggage from Portland Air Terminal. Portland will be alert and is coordinating with an informant for [redacted] next trip to the airport.

(3) Tangible Results of Counterintelligence:

Portland has infiltrated the top leadership of the BPP group in Portland and is definitely able to control its activities. Through this infiltration, Portland has been able to keep racial violence, at least that instigated by the BPP and BPP associates, at a level greatly below that of surrounding major cities.

The purpose of the caricatures is to indicate to the BPP that the US organization feels that they are ineffectual, inadequate, and riddled with graft and corruption.

Most of the caricatures are self-explanatory to individuals who are familiar with the activities of the BPP. For clarification, however, BOBBY SEALE is the BPP Chairman with headquarters in Oakland, California. Explanations concerning the caricatures are as follows:

Number One shows [redacted] with a list containing the names of [redacted] which have been crossed off. The names of SEALE and [redacted] remain on his list.

Number Two indicates that BOBBY SEALE is simply using [redacted] and is in complete control of all factions of the BPP. This is a sensitive area since it is reported that many local BPP leaders feel that they are more qualified to control their own groups than is SEALE.

Number Three suggests that possibly SEALE is himself a "police agent" and, in addition to demanding substantial amounts of money from the local BPP membership, is also passing information on to local police authorities. This caricature is aimed at BOBBY SEALE's announced program of purging the BPP of informants.

Number Four attacks a very sensitive point among BPP members in that there is a prevalent feeling that the individual member chapters are being exploited by SEALE. The drawing depicts SEALE extracting his 50% from the local BPP chapters and in effect returning them to a subserviant role within the BPP framework.

Number Five depicts [redacted]." It is felt that the paper tiger terminology is in keeping with the BPP's espousement of MAO TSE TUNG's teachings.

Bureau approval is requested to reproduce the enclosed caricatures and thereafter distribute them to all offices who currently have an active BPP membership. In view of the fact that San Diego is not aware of the size or effectiveness of the various BPP memberships in the different field offices, the Bureau is requested to advise San Diego the number of copies which should be sent to each Division. This, of course, is contingent upon Bureau approval for distribution of the above mentioned caricatures.

You should reproduce these cartoons in sufficient numbers to send several cartoons each to known BPP offices in the field divisions listed above as well as to Panther officials whose resident addresses can be obtained from the BPP newspaper.

Insure the mailings are made under secure conditions in commercially purchased envelopes which cannot be traced to the source. Re Buffalo letter to Bureau, 3/11/69, and Bulet to Albany, 1/30/69.

In accordance with instructions set out in referenced Bureau letter, Buffalo has given consideration to Counterintelligence matters which could possibly be applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) Chapter established in Rochester, New York.

The Rochester Chapter has recently completed its probationary period, required by the National Headquarters of the BPP in Oakland, a period of six months and is awaiting its charter as a regular BPP Chapter. As of this date, the Chapter does not have a headquarters in the Rochester area. It has been contemplating two locations for a new headquarters and is presently attempting to raise funds to make the initial rental payment.

Based on information available, the Chapter is in a highly disorganized state and is made up of some one-half dozen individuals, who are active in the organization. It lacks any organized leadership against whom a planned counter-intelligence project could be operated at this time.

As pointed out in referenced Buffalo letter, consideration has been given to calling attention to members of this Chapter, the various acts of financial mismanagement on the part of some BPP leaders including KATHERINE CLEAVER. At this time it is felt that the disorganized and bankrupt state of the Rochester BPP Chapter is such as to mitigate any real affect of spreading a rumor about the conduct of national officers because the Chapter appears to be only remotely connected and/or interested in the actions of the leaders.

Regarding the possibility of dispatching [redacted] to visit HUEY NEWTON at the California Men's Colony in an attempt to discredit present BPP leadership and drive a wedge between NEWTON and SEALE and/or HILLIARD, it was learned that the California Men's Colony no longer allows anyone except ten individuals whose names appear on a list to either write or visit NEWTON. This policy was recently instituted due to the unusually large number of visitors requesting permission to visit NEWTON.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
(BLACK PANTHER PARTY)

Re Chicago letter, 3/10/69, and Houston letter, 3/17/69, both under above caption.

Regarding the counterintelligence proposal set forth in referenced Houston letter, Chicago feels this suggestion could result in the creation of internal friction in Black Panther Party (BPP) leadership, and sees no reason why it should not be utilized. In connection with the local BPP, there are no funds available to provide BPP headquarters, and in all likelihood, the immediate reaction would be a telephone inquiry regarding such a request. The fact that little, if any, funds would result is immaterial, and in fact, the size of the sum in question would serve to alert BPP officials of this matter more expeditiously. Chicago does not have intimate knowledge of the inter-relationships of the BPP upper echelons, and consequently, is not in a position to have any real basis for estimate of possible reactions. Even if it were suspected that such was the result of "enemy" action, as long as this is not provable in any way, Chicago feels the effort is worthwhile.

In connection with local BPP affairs, a Chicago source who is close t[redacted] who formerly was [redacted] position in the BPP here, has advised that [redacted] n recent days has expressed concern for his personal safety, since current BPP leaders, principally [redacted] are "out to get him". [redacted] The motive for this is obscure, however, most probably is an exageration by [redacted] of the degree of jealousy and rivalry between himself and the above parties. [redacted] s known to have made such remarks in the past, to inflate his own importance, and to disguise the fact that he has never been as influential in local BPP affairs. as he had hoped to be.

Dear Bishop [redacted]

Although I am not a member of your church I would like to comment on the action of an individual who I recently met at a social affair.

This person who I later came to know as [redacted] claims to be [redacted]

At this social affair [redacted] who was obviously intoxicated was loud and boisterous and when introduced to me commented to the effect that he had met enough "kikes" in one evening.

Although I do not put much stock in the ramblings of a drunk he did go on to state that he thought as a Jew he would be interested in knowing my reaction to a scheme he had in which a black man socks it to a Christian white man. [redacted] went on in great rambling detail as to how he was pulling this great swindle and essentially the idea he stated is that the Episcopal Church without knowing it is going to give about $35000 to some old black friends of his down in the south.

[redacted] told me that this $35000 is going to be used as he said not to build a monument for Martin L. King but to see that the boys can celebrate Sept. 26, in a proper fashion. This date amused me and I asked him what is Sept. 26. He replied Man, that is the day the Jew Canoes go on sale. This of course means an expensive Cadillac automobile. What gall for him to say this to me!

He seemed to take great delight in telling me that with this $35000 he and his friends would be able to buy good liquor, good clothes and big autos.

I believe he referred to this group of friends as the "Afro-American Society of Atlanta".

[redacted] stated that if he can put this one over he thinks he will be able to sell Cardinal Cooke the Brooklyn Bridge. He mentioned some of the Atlanta gang as being such individuals as [redacted] and others in the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

I have heard of [redacted] as being a black radical and I know that she was really the sounding board for many of Stokely Carmichael's anti-semitic statements.

As a Jew living in a world and particularly in a city where there are violent anti-semitic feelings present I cannot let an incident such as the one described above pass unnoticed. I kind of feel that I am an activist and that I will do things when they have to be done. When [redacted] stated in the midst of one of his anti-semitic tirades which took place the night I met him that he had received great acclaim in the New York Times for saying such things in the past sometime around February, 1966, I went to the New York Times and what did I find in the February 9, 1966 issue the following article listed on page 26 of that issue of which I have enclosed a xerox copy for your perusal.

I do not know of what action will be taken on this matter, if anything will be done at all, but being an activist, I am taking the liberty of sending a copy of this to the [redacted] because I believe that this matter should be related to as many people as possible.

Finally I would like to state that not only as I said before that I am an activist but I am a realist as well and being a Jew who runs a business in a ghetto area you can see very well why I cannot furnish my name or address after describing the things I have heard and saw [redacted] do.

A Jew who believes

The Bureau's attention is invited to the fact that the information contained in the "New York Times", page 26, 2/9/66, is substantially the same information as reported in this letter and furnished by [redacted] A copy of this article can be furnished to the Bureau if the Bureau so directs.

Bureau approval is requested to place above mentioned counterintelligence measure into effect.

Atlanta is requested to advise New York of any pertinent developments.

School Talks

By Black Panthers Barred

Sheldon Cites Militant Group's Language At Western

By ALVIN P. SANOFF

Dr. Thomas D. Sheldon, the city school superintendent, has banned representatives of the Black Panther party from speaking in the city schools.

Dr. Sheldon said yesterday that his decision was taken because of a recent incident at Western High School involving representatives of the black militant group.

Parents Complained

The Panthers appeared before a club at the school and "used the type of language that shouldn't be used in public schools," the superintendent explained.

"They said things that were anti-societal in general," he added.

An aide to Dr. Sheldon said school officials have received many complaints from parents about the presentation made by the Panthers.

However, the aide, Francis X. Trainor, coordinator of public information, for the School Board, added that many of the youngsters who heard the Panthers speak apparently were not disturbed by their language. But there were some youngsters who were upset, he said.

In a memo dated March 21, about 10 days after the incident at Western, Dr. Sheldon imposed the ban on the Panthers.

He wrote all school principals: "... It has recently come to our attention that the Black Panthers organization scheduled for a school club subjected the audience to obscenities and suggestions such as should not be tolerated in any of our public schools.

"Principals are therefore advised that this group should not be scheduled in any school activity," Dr. Sheldon concluded.

In the memo, Dr. Sheldon also said that "principals are vested with complete authority to approve or disapprove permission for speakers to participate in school activities. This authority necessarily implies an obligation to ensure that persons scheduled to address student groups will be of good moral character and will so report themselves as not to result in disruption to the regular school programs, or to reflect a negative image of the parents and citizens of our city."

The superintendent said that in order for a principal to decide whether a speaker meets these criteria, the name of the speaker should be submitted to the principal "well in advance" of the scheduled appearance.

School officials said that except for the ban on the Panthers the memo did not contain any changes from accepted school department policy.

The memo was an attempt to clarify this policy in view of the [redacted] In [redacted] in Baltimore [redacted] was reportedly a member of the American Youth for Democracy and in [redacted] was reported to be a member of the Young Progressives of America. While attending [redacted] College, [redacted] during [redacted] reportedly joined the Communist Party.

During February, 1969, [redacted] spoke before the combined social studies classes of [redacted], who are white student teachers from Harvard University teaching at Eastern High School, Washington, D.C. [redacted] told the students that the capitalistic system is not for black people and alleged that the U.S. Government is in the process of building concentration camps in the U.S., that there are eight or nine such camps already in existence and the Government intended to launch a program of genocide against the blacks in the U.S. [redacted] encouraged all black sisters to accept Government jobs in grades 2, 3, 4, and 5 that "whitey" will offer and thereby place themselves in positions where they can obtain copies of all Government communications so that the blacks would be in a position to establish their own government. This talk was highly profane and inflammatory and designed to stir up the students. His remarks were well received.

[redacted] while in [redacted] when he arrived in Washington, D.C., was never identified as being a member of the Communist Party although he has a history of being associated with a number of communist or communist front organizations. Among these are the Youth Action Union where he attended numerous meetings in July through November, 1963, including Marxist discussion classes. He was also observed during this period to be present at fund raising activities in support of the "People's World," then the West Coast communist weekly newspaper. In 1965, he actively supported activities of W.E.B. DuBois Club in Los Angeles. In [redacted] was arrested at San Francisco State College and charged with trespassing and disturbing the peace in connection with demonstrations.

As indicated in referenced communications and the above, these are two instances in which black extremists have recently sowed their seeds of hate before young impressionable high school students. These lectures are presented under the guise of black studies programs and it would appear that there is no effective way to counteract these extremist activities except through wide spread publicity in the local news media. From information obtained by WFO, it appears that the teachers are permitted to invite anyone of their choosing into the classrooms without prior concurrence of the school principal or others in authority. It is obvious that this situation presents a very grave risk to an already tense racial situation in that it virtually negates informant coverage because of the tender age of the students involved and the nonexistence of an organization subject to penetration by racial informants. In short, any teacher sympathetic to the aims of black extremism can invite guest speakers into his classroom where the activities would only be known to the teacher, the speaker and the students involved.

It would appear that an effective way to counteract this situation would be through a series of indepth articles by a friendly local newsman. Ideally, the articles would include interviews of [redacted] the three [redacted] at Eastern High School, and also [redacted] Interviews should also be conducted with a representative number of high school principals, the District of Columbia school superintendent, as well as members of the school board to determine the extent of their knowledge of these Interviews might also be conducted with parent-teacher groups, moderate Negro civil rights leaders, as well as representative samplings of parents for their reactions to lectures of this nature.

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU

The Bureau is requested to give consideration to the above for the purpose of preventing high school students from being exposed to black extremist preachings in an atmosphere which is one sided and unrebutted by the truth.

Seized Black Panther Party (BPP) records are presently being reviewed and appropriate requests for counterintelligence action are anticipated upon completion of the review.

The BPP finally managed to rent the Rhodesian Club at 2907 Imperial Avenue, San Diego, which will be utilized for a meeting hall. A request will be forthcoming to have the San Diego Police Department and local health inspectors examine the club for health and safety defects which are undoubtedly present.

Efforts are being made to determine specifically what [redacted] activities, as they relate to the BPP, are, after which appropriate counterintelligence action will be requested.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Two Bureau approved cartoons have, to date, been mailed to the various field divisions. Any reactions noted in the other divisions have not yet been received by the San Diego Division.

A Bureau approved anonymous call was placed to [redacted] has named him as a police informer to protect his [redacted] No results thus far have been observed. Repercussions are still being noted as a result of the Bureau approved anonymous telephone call placed to the mother of [redacted] which appear in the following section of this letter.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

Reaction concerning the mailing of two cartoons to BPP members appear to be convincing the recipients that the US organization is responsible and is attempting to disrupt the BPP prior to "moving in" and "taking over" the BPP. Several members have quit and/or have been expelled from the BPP and at least one, [redacted] is attempting to join US.

This resulted from the fact that [redacted] got "fed up" with the numerous raids by the police concerning suspicions that [redacted] was in the possession of marijuana and dangerous drugs. These raids resulted from the fact that [redacted] who has been going with [redacted] has been reported by informants as using and generally being in the possession of marijuana. [redacted]nother for the benefit of the BPP. This could logically have been due in large part to the fact that the BPP has been so discredited and disorganized in San Diego that it is virtually impossible for them to obtain funds and/or backing.

Due to the fact that [redacted] has himself been accused of being a police informer from several quarters, he has launched out at numerous individuals, accusing them of being informers. This appears to be an effort on [redacted] part to take some of the suspicions from his shoulders. The latest individual to be so attacked by [redacted]

[redacted] has been expelled from the BPP under suspicion of being a police informer. He is currently hanging around one of the local "teen posts" and attempting to join the US organization.

[redacted]

In view of previous Bureau directives concerning violations and possible violations of local laws by leaders and members of the BPP, on 1/10/69 information was furnished that three individuals who were possible members of the BPP were involved in a car theft ring. This information first came to the attention of the San Diego FBI Office from [redacted]

225

Due to the fact that the individuals involved were believed to be members of the BPP, information was furnished to the [redacted]

It was learned that the vehicle in which they were riding, a 1964 Cadillac, had been reported stolen in San Diego the previous day. Subsequent investigation has determined that these three individuals have been responsible for the theft of three Cadillacs in San Diego and have transported these vehicles to Los Angeles for resale. All three have been arrested as a result of information furnished through FBI informants and the Counterintelligence Program.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

[redacted] has recently been taken back into the party "for a specific purpose." He is reportedly not the leader of the BPP but appears to be working in conjunction wit[redacted] It is felt at this time that his primary function will be to attempt to solicit the support of the white community for the BPP. This development is being closely followed by the San Diego Division for possible counterintelligence action.

BI-WEEKLY LETTER - PROPOSED COUNTERINTELLIGENCE AGAINST
BPP CHAPTER, KANSAS CITY DIVISION

No specific counterintelligence activity against the Kansas City, Mo. Black Panther Chapter or members is recommended at this time.

Detailed information on chapter activity from 3/13/69 - 3/27/69 was furnished the Bureau by LHM dated 3/31/69 captioned "Black Panther Party (BPP), Kansas City Division, Racial Matters" [redacted]

As previously informed, the [redacted] continues a close surveillance of the Kansas City, Mo. BP Chapter Headquarters, officers and members, in the area of the headquarters located at 2221-23 Lydia, Kansas City, Mo.

[redacted], Kansas City, Mo. BP Chapter, were respectively indicted by a FGJ at Kansas City, Mo. based on complaints of the Alcohol Tax and Firearms Division, Kansas City, Mo., for violation of the Federal "Gun Control Laws", and released on bond for an omnibus hearing, separately, before a U. The NYO feels that the suggestion submitted by the Houston Office certainly has merit.

Due to the disorganization of the BPP people in the NYO area, it is unlikely that they will be able to come up with $500.00. But the fact that BPP Central Headquarters is requesting such an amount might cause dissention within the group and might cause them to wonder what the Central Headquarters would do with the money.

[redacted] the NY BPP would probably be upset over such a request since the BPP Central Headquarters failed to raise bail money for him when he was recently jailed.

Perhaps we could also use the format set forth in BPP letter to all chapters dated 1/26/69, to expel other selective BPP members from the organization.

In the event that the Bureau approves the Houston suggestion the letter can be sent to the following locations in the NY area:

Counterintelligence Operations in Effect Against the Black Panther Party (BPP)

No new counterintelligence operations have been placed in effect against the BPP since the date of referenced letter.

Interviews with BPP members are being continued in an effort to create distrust among the members and therefore cause disruption within the BPP.

Counterintelligence Operations Under Consideration

Activities and arrests of members of the BPP continue to be followed, looking for violations of anti-riot and gun control laws to determine if these individuals might be prosecuted under Federal and State laws.

Accomplishments Obtained

Informants in the BPP have reported no reactions to operations in effect by Los Angeles Office or San Diego Office. Informants have received no comments on the cartoons mailed by the San Diego Office.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

BACKGROUND - PROBLEM

There are a number of civil rights and racial groups in the Steubenville, Ohio, area, and the sentiments of numerous individuals who belong to these groups remain questionable. Inasmuch as one aspect of our job is to identify extremists in these organizations, the following plan is broached. This plan is suggested because of the difficulty and obvious pitfalls in accepting an informant's determination as to who is an extremist, when there have been no overt acts.

The secondary problem which exists for the field is the testing of the aggressiveness, range, and scope of the informant net in a certain area. It is the belief of the Agent who handles racial matters in Steubenville, Ohio, that it would be wise to test this apparatus before an actual outbreak of civil disorder, so that it can be evaluated and changed if necessary. A similar problem or doubt always exists and that is: "Could a conspiratorial type meeting take place within an area covered by an RA or Headquarters city without the office being aware of it?"

It is recommended, therefore, that the following letter be prepared on Black Panther Stationery, which could be supplied by the Bureau Laboratory, by Cincinnati, in respect to addresses andmailed by the San Francisco Office. The letter would be sent to approximately 75 people in the Steubenville, Ohio, area. This letter will be mailed from San Francisco, California, so that it reaches the Steubenville, Ohio, area one or two days before the scheduled meeting.

The letter would read as follows:

"Dear _____,

We are presently preparing to enlarge the mass base of our party and we will be sending a representative to the Steubenville, Ohio, area on April 26, 1969, to meet with you and other individuals whom we feel have the necessary revolutionary spirit to form a chapter of the Panthers.

We feel that black men everywhere should buy arms and learn to use them, because we do not intend to simply change the society, we're going to overthrow it. We will have Black Power and we will have it now. BLACK MEN SHOULD BE BLACK PANTHERS.

Our man will be in Steubenville, Ohio, on April 26, 1969, at 3:00 P.M. He will hold a meeting across the street from the Baptist Temple on Fernwood Road in Wintersville, Ohio. This is an empty lot and public land. If the pigs should question you as to the reason for your gathering you are to say it is only a religious revival meeting. We will settle with the pigs later.

As you can see, we have done our home-work well, our advance men have been in the area, heard about you, and we know you are on our side.

Signed _____"

It is felt that this letter is sufficiently inflammatory and subversive in both tone and content that it would only attract those individuals who are subversive and/or have a propensity for violence.

The area where the meeting is proposed to take place is in the [redacted] a very reliable friend of the Bureau, and it could be arranged so that no embanassing incidents took place. The area is ideal for photographic surveillance, and all cars going into the area can easily be identified. The meeting, of course, will be covered by selected sources. There will, however, be no real meeting, unless someone seizes leadership on an impromptu basis. The land is public land where many groups have meetings, and there is no problem of trespassing.

FOLLOW-UP

Upon identifying those individuals who might attend, Cincinnati will open a case, develop background, and interview each. This procedure would have two objectives: (1) It would let these people know that they have been identified, and that the Bureau is aware of their attitudes and actions, thus hopefully causing them to cease some of their activities. (2) Cincinnati at Steubenville, Ohio, would be afforded an excellent opportunity for developing better informant coverage.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It is recommended that the Bureau approve the above measure to be instituted by the Cincinnati Division as soon as possible, noting that it would be most effective if used before the summer months, which have traditionally been disturbance prone.

The Bureau appreciates the thought and ingenuity which Cincinnati displayed in relet, however, the Bureau cannot approve your suggestion. If a meeting such as you propose was held and, as you note, someone seized leadership and violence erupted, the Bureau could be vulnerable.

NOTE:

Cincinnati suggested sending a spurious letter from the Black Panther Party to about 75 possible agitators in the Steubenville, Ohio area, inviting them to a meeting. The letter was worded in such a way that only those with a propensity for violence would attend the meeting. Thus, through a surveillance, Cincinnati would be able to identify those with a propensity for violence. This suggestion has merit, however, as stated above the Bureau would be vulnerable if violence erupted from this meeting.

Based on lack of activity on the part of the leaders of the BPP, against whom a planned counterintelligence project can be directed, no opportunity has presented itself to implement a counterintelligence program.

Concerning information set out in referenced Bureau letter, based on the situation in Rochester, it is felt at the present time it would have no effect on the function of the BPP in this location. It is felt, however, that any opportunity to discredit leaders of the BPP would cause dissatisfaction among its membership.

The situation in Rochester is currently such that there is no active BPP organization, and it does not present any threat of becoming a formidable organization. The organization, since it was formed in the fall of 1968, when it had far more appeal in the Negro community, has since lost much of this appeal. It has done nothing tangible to forward the aims of the BPP.

Buffalo will continue to follow the matter closely and keep the Bureau advised of its activity.

1. Operations Under Consideration: Relet pointed out recent developments which suggested a rift within the Connecticut Chapter of the Black Panther Party (BPP). Local informant coverage to date has failed to note the presence of hard feelings between [redacted] and [redacted] It is felt, however, that there is a definite jealousy on the part of [redacted] and a resentment on [redacted] part to the fact that [redacted] was sent to Connecticut to establish a Chapter among [redacted] The play for recognition on [redacted] part may be seen in the fact that [redacted] who made the press releases for the May 1, 1969, "Free Huey" demonstrations held at New Haven, Hartford and New London, Conn. The overt activity on the part of [redacted] as well as the information provided [redacted] confirms the possibility that counterintelligence action at this time may be appropriate.

Bureau permission is requested to make an anonymous telephone call from New Haven to National BPP Headquarters identifying the caller as a friend of [redacted] and alleging that [redacted] has been degrading [redacted] causing internal dissent in the State Chapter, not listening to the needs of the local negro population, and probably siphoning off party funds for his personal use. He said that his reason for believing this is that [redacted] was released very quickly after a recent arrest even though there were other warrants outstanding against him.

[redacted] has also advised that he has taken certain disruptive tactics against the Black Panther group, such as very close surveillance by members of his unit on an around the clock basis and whenever any of the officers on his unit talk to any member of this group, they will be asked about the BPP. He believes that this has been one of the reasons for the recent decline in activity of the BPP.

In view of the above, it is believed that the best counterintelligence measure to be taken by the Bureau would be to interview [redacted] regarding his activity with the BPP. Accordingly, Bureau authority is requested to interview him.

Kansas City has furnished a vicious pamphlet which consists of cartoons ostensibly published by the BPP. These cartoons can be colored and portray such scenes as the murders of policemen and other racist scenes. Kansas City suggested that this information be disseminated to friendly and interested members of the National Association for Advancement of the Colored People in Kansas City. Leads were set out to determine whether BPP leaders are publishing these coloring books as a project of National Headquarters. Therefore, the possibility exists that the original group has become defunct, and a new BPP is being organized. We have opened cases on [redacted] and all other known members of the group.

[redacted] has done absolutely nothing toward organizing a BPP group in Cincinnati. There is no BPP chapter in Cincinnati, and this informant will be aware of the formation of any such chapter if and when it is formed.

No information has been received indicating further efforts on the part of [redacted] to form a BPP chapter in Steubenville, Ohio.

Cincinnati continues to follow organizational activities of the BPP in the Cincinnati Division very closely, and we are opening separate cases on all persons who have any known contact with the BPP in any way. These cases are directed toward determining if the persons are members of the BPP, and have committed any acts which could lead to prosecution according to guidelines set forth in Bureau airtels.

All Agents handling BPP matters are familiar with Bureau instructions and San Francisco requests.

COMMENTS RE COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

Cincinnati has no recommendations re counterintelligence program in connection with BPP chapters at this time as we have no chapters.

[redacted] has made contact with BPP members in Columbus. He has advised that the BPP has been doing nothing since the BPP moved out of their Oak Street address in Columbus. He was told this period of inactivity has been spent screening a number of undesirable people from the membership. The source was not able at that time to obtain the number of persons who had been screened out, but he was told there were many of them.

CI 157-2346

When and if the Columbus chapter of the BPP is again formed, Cincinnati will consider the situation as set forth in reBulet 4/23/69, as a potential for counterintelligence to disrupt the chapter.

A specific counterintelligence proposal concerning [redacted] will be submitted [redacted] as per instructions contained in Bulet to San Francisco captioned, "Counterintelligence Program Black Nationalists - Hate Groups, Racial Matters - BPP," (Bufile 100-448006).

At the present time only nine active hard core members remain in the Black Panther Party (BPP) in San Diego. Information has also been received tha[redacted] is several months in arrears in his car payments. A request will be submitted to the Bureau under separate communication to disseminate information to a GMAC field official to effect the repossession of [redacted] vehicle.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

The Bureau-approved cartoons continue to be mailed on approximately 10-day intervals. Tangible results thus far observed appear in the following section of this letter.

Information concerning the [redacted] has been confidentially furnished to the [redacted] of the [redacted] That detail has established two undercover colored policemen in the restaurant in an effort to obtain sufficient evidence to effect a raid. To date, these officers have made inroads but have only been able to observe the selling of "near beer", which is not a violation of local law. It is felt that it will take several weeks before these officers are sufficiently accepted by the patrons of the restaurant to the point of being served hard liquor, offered the sale of the available pills, and invited to participate in the gambling activities. Once this is achieved, appropriate arrests will be made.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

Concerning the distribution of the Bureau-approved cartoons, the San Francisco Division has reported that the San Diego caricatures which have arrived at various locations have surprised and angered the BPP recipients. Recipients do not know the source and have blamed first the US organization in Los Angeles. However, they are not certain of this and also think it may be the CIA or FBI who are responsible. In any case, according to [redacted] comment among the BPP members.

[redacted] has advised concerning the cartoons in San Diego that "everyone is shook up and afraid because of receiving the cartoons."

[redacted] He has gone to Los Angeles on several occasions and has indicated to the BPP officials in Los Angeles and Oakland that the BPP members in San Diego are unhappy with [redacted]. In turn, the Oakland and Los Angeles Branches of the BPP feel extremely disgusted with the San Diego group.

[redacted] in retaliation of verbal attacks by [redacted] has accused [redacted]." As a result, [redacted] and [redacted] are at each other's throat on almost a daily basis at the present time.

[redacted], as a result of the Bureau-approved anonymous telephone call to him, [redacted]. Both of them recently sent written complaints to the Los Angeles Headquarters of the BPP against [redacted].

[redacted] has beaten up [redacted] in the BPP office in San Diego due to the fact that he suspected [redacted] of being a police informant.

Concerning the surveillance which was conducted by the [redacted] as a result of information furnished to them on 4/30/69, contained in San Diego airtel to the Bureau 4/30/69, the following results were observed:

The caravan, consisting of 16 individuals, left the BPP office promptly at 7:00 AM, and no opportunity existed to effect any arrests concerning these individuals. To date, no information has been received from either the [redacted] or the [redacted] which indicated that either of these departments effected any arrests.

By airtel dated 4/30/69, the San Francisco Office has reported that [redacted] BPP in San Diego was reportedly not attending any of the lectures he had promised to attend. An individual who was not identified was reporting to headquarters about [redacted] and said that [redacted] had told him that he was not putting up with "a lot of crap" and was quitting the BPP. This individual advised BPP Headquarters that they should count [redacted] out of the party.

As indicated on the first page of this letter, the total hard core active members of the BPP in San Diego has now dwindled to a total of only nine individuals. There is continual chaos, malcontentment, and fighting within the party on almost a daily basis. As a result, the party appears to be extremely ineffectual in San Diego at the present time. It has been reported that both Oakland and Los Angeles are extremely upset and unhappy with the way the BPP in San Diego is being operated.

The Kansas City Office is alert to counter-intelligence areas mentioned in Bureau letter.

Generally, the small Black Panther Chapter's activity is image building (1) primarily as publicized benefactors of the poor, by feeding hungry school children, (2) less effectively, as vanguards of Black Liberation, protecting Negroes against police harrassment and white discrimination. and using selected Negro leaders to reveal to others and to publicize the concealed revolutionary character of the Black Panthers and various members. Item (2), to date, presents less vulnerability for counterintelligence action due to small chapter membership, inaccessibility to the chapter's bank account data, and some publicized pending local and Federal prosecutions against the chapter's tight-knit leadership; prosecutions involve past possession of guns, rather than threats or armed violence.

It appears that numerous Black Panther chapters are participating in the national Black Panther Party Breakfast Program, with more or less favorable publicity, as a recent April issue of The Black Panther newspaper, official publication of the National Black Panther Party, devoted several pages to photographs and articles on numerous cities where BPP chapters are participating in their local areas in the "breakfast program".

Counterintelligence proposals as to the Kansas City, Missouri, BPP chapter's "breakfast program" were made in paragraphs four and five, page two, of Kansas City Air Mail letter, 4/22/69, to the Bureau, dual captioned as instant letter. The Bureau's views on those proposals will be appreciated.

Pages three, five and six of Kansas City Letterhead Memorandum, 4/28/69, captioned Black Panther Party, Kansas City Division, reflected among other things, the problem of countering favorable publicity, and of educating the naive, as well as the fact that Time Magazine may feature a favorable article as to the Kansas City, Missouri's chapter's participation in the "breakfast program".

Paragraph one, page two, of Kansas City letter 4/11/69, to the Bureau, captioned Counterintelligence Program, Black Nationalists - Hate Groups, Racial Intelligence, points up the problem of favorable counterintelligence action through publicity handled by news reporters who sensationalize questionable police tactics and who humanize so-called victims, such as Black Panthers. In Kansas City, Missouri, the Kansas City Star, leading white daily newspaper, and a few so-called respectable Negro leaders have the "soft glove" policy of keeping communication open with the Black Panther chapter, so as not to jeopardize future contacts and news releases.

Paragraph four, page three of Kansas City Letterhead Memorandum 4/28/69, captioned Black Panther Party, Kansas City Division, reflects the concern on 4/25/69, of three top Negro leaders in Kansas City, Missouri, over the delayed, difficult process of educating the naive and others to the concealed unpublicized violent doctrines of national BPP represented by the local BP chapter.

On 5/1/69, the problem of local counter-publicity and educating the naive was again confidentially expressed separately by the same three top-concerned Negro leaders, knowledgeable liason sources in Kansas City, Missouri.

The next day, a courageous editorial dated 5/2/69, denouncing the BP, appeared on the front page of the Kansas City Call, weekly Negro newspaper, Kansas City, Missouri, copy of which is attached for information of the Bureau, San Francisco, Baltimore and Seattle. The BP chapter's only open reaction to the editorial was a peaceful visit on 5/3/69, to the Kansas City Call offices by two Black Panthers; they were not threatening, but indicated future good relations with the Call might be jeopardized by the Calls oposition.

In view of the Calls editorial position, and [redacted] it is further

[redacted] possible publication after first clearing with [redacted] (see the attached copy of Sacramento letter, 4/4/69, [redacted]

If the Bureau approves this specific recommendation, it is suggested the Sacramento Office be advised to clear release of [redacted] letter to [redacted] with the [redacted] and advise Kansas City.

Due to national publicity, attending the national BPP Breakfast Program, the Bureau undoubtedly has considered the inherent difficulties of a national counterintelligence program to counter the flood of BPP image seeking propoganda, by releasing documented public source data as to the revolutionary objectives of the national BPP. However, such releases by high authorities for local dissemination could not be ignored (e.g., statements by the President, the Attorney General, testimony of the Director), such as the quotes of Mr. JUSTICE THURGOOD MARSHALL in the Kansas City Star, 5/5/69, though MARSHALL in his position could hardly name the Black Panthers (copy attached for Bureau).

As noted in re NY letter the NYO sent out 32 postcards to RNA members in NYC area advising them to attend meeting of all members at Hotel Diplomat, Saturday, 4/26/69, at 2:00 PM.

[redacted] advised that the RNA members received stamped cards advising them of the meeting scheduled for 4/26/69. An RNA member called [redacted] to verify meeting and [redacted] stated that she did not schedule any meeting on that date. They deduced that police department had stamp duplicated and scheduled meeting to get all RNA members together so they could make mass arrest. [redacted]

At another meeting of RNA all members were requested to submit handwriting specimens with their own pens and in the exact words used in postcards. The RNA officials are trying to determine if this "trick" could have been pulled by an RNA member.

The NYO plans to schedule additional meetings of the RNA, as conditions warrant. The Bureau will be kept advised.

Re Omaha letter to Bureau, 4/21/69.

The Black Panther Party in Omaha under the leadership of [redacted] is apparently in the process of reorganization. This organization recently sponsored the organization of BANTU at Technical High School, Omaha. Based on information received, [redacted] is attempting to interest young Negroes, especially, in the Black Panther Party; however, to date he has had little success in recruiting youth to his cause.

In connection with the Black Panther Party chapter in Des Moines, Iowa, this organization in mid-April, 1969, held a public park rally, which rally resulted in a racial disturbance when police officers questioned [redacted], BPP, who was speaking to the public gathering when police arrived.

As indicated in referenced letter, the BPP in Des Moines has been in recent conflict with a Des Moines street gang over control of the Negro community. This situation continues and it is expected that this situation will eventually result in counterintelligence measures being utilized in taking advantage of the situation.

Although no counterintelligence accomplishments have been obtained under captioned program during the past two-week period, it is anticipated that recommendations concerning counterintelligence measures aimed at crippling the BPP in the Omaha Division will be submitted in the near future.

This matter will continue to receive close attention and suggestions for counterintelligence activity against the BPP or its leadership at a future date will be submitted by separate letter.

Concerning Bureau letter to San Francisco April 23, 1969, Sacramento has no information pertaining to Panthers not respecting Party doctrine concerning the protection of black women. The only information in the Sacramento Division pertaining to expelling of Panthers, is that relating to the Black Panther Party in Vallejo, California, which will be covered below. Pertaining to counterintelligence in the Sacramento Division, Sacramento was not able, because of the time element, to secure Bureau approval as the opportunity presented itself rather unexpectedly, and the case Agent, using outstanding aggressiveness and imagination, took advantage of the opportunity. As the Bureau is aware, the Black Panther newspaper dated March 31, 1969, contained an article noting that 25 members of the Vallejo Branch had been expelled. [redacted]

[redacted] He recruited a number of Panthers for that Chapter. [redacted] presently in the California Medical Facility (a prison), where he is serving a sentence after being convicted in Solano County, California. [redacted]

There has been some dissent between the followers of [redacted] who are principally the ones who have been expelled from the Black Panther Party -- and the followers of [redacted] apparently only has approximately eight (8) members in the Black Panther Party at the present time and is not popular in the black community.

On April 24, 1969, [redacted] was being interviewed in jail by [redacted] s well aware of the fact that [redacted] is a friend of [redacted] and one of those expelled from the Panthers. [redacted] was telling [redacted] that [redacted] is not trusted by many blacks and it is felt that he is cowardly, etc., etc. During this interview, [redacted] "inadvertently" let it slip to [redacted] that [redacted] had probably informed on [redacted] and caused his arrest and subsequent conviction. As is noted above, this was an opportunity seized upon by [redacted] with no time to secure Bureau approval.

[redacted] has been furnishing coverage on the Black

Panther Party in Vallejo, California. Several days after [redacted] remark to [redacted] advised the handling Agent that he had heard in the black community and among the Panthers that there was some indication that [redacted] was responsible fo[redacted]being in prison.

Sacramento feels the above will cause additional dissension in the Panthers in Vallejo and markedly reduce their effectiveness.

Sacramento will follow up any additional possibilities in this area.

Re Indianapolis letter to Bureau, 4/21/69; and Bureau letter to San Francisco, 4/23/69.

In referenced letter to San Francisco, the Bureau requested comments regarding the counterintelligence possibilities in connection with the conflict in Berkeley, California, between the Black Panther Party (BPP) and a group of dissidents led by [redacted]. The aforementioned conflict has not been an issue in the Indianapolis Chapter todate. [redacted] in referenced letter charged that the BPP changed their beliefs every day and it has been noticed that the BPP in Indianapolis changes their beliefs in order to serve their present purpose. The turn of events in Berkeley has had no known effect on the BPP in Indianapolis and there are no known counterintelligence measures which could be taken in that regard.

It has been observed that the BPP in Indianapolis has changed their beliefs to suit their purposes and in that regard a recent incident occurred when the BPP spoke on the Indiana University campus at Bloomington, Indiana. On the campus among other political parties there are two racial parties opposing each other. One is the Revolutionary Student Party (RSP) and the other is the United Students' Movement (USM). The RSP has all white candidates, while the USM is a black and white coalition group and has black candidates included in their party. The RSP recently invited the BPP in Indianapolis to the Indiana University campus to speak in support of the RSP in the hope of dividing the vote of the black students on campus. Thus the BPP in Indianapolis went to the campus and supported the RSP not knowing what they were doing, and actually opposed the black students on the campus who were involved with the USM. At the meeting when the BPP was speaking some black students pointed out to the Panthers who spoke what they were doing, and that the RSP was not interested at all in the black people and that they had invited the BPP only as a political move to try and divide the black students. In comment the BPP members from Indianapolis explained that they support anyone who supports them and they did so in this case to the detriment of the black students.

By a separate letter the Indianapolis Office is going to make a request of the Bureau to send an anonymous letter from Bloomington tothe central BPP Headquarters in Berkeley, California, pointing out the way the [redacted], are acting, [redacted] namely [redacted] that being either out of ignorance and being unprepared or else inopposition to the black people and students which is inconsistent with BPP policies. It is felt that this might help to stir up problems between the local chapter and the National Headquarters of the BPP, and would be a possible counterintelligence move of value.

Re Newark letter 4/21/69 and Bureau letter to San Francisco 4/23/69.

During the past two weeks, no counterintelligence measures were aimed against the BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP). No accomplishments were obtained during previous two-week period under captioned program.

Regarding referenced Bureau letter to San Francisco, the Newark Division at the present time has only one BPP chapter, Newark, showing any significant operating ability.

The Newark chapter has had a strained relationship with the BPP National Headquarters in Berkeley, Calif., almost from the time it was organized and insists on maintaining an almost completely autonomous role. For this reason it is not believed that internal problems at the national level in California will have any real effect on the BPP in New Jersey at the present time or present an opportunity for meaningful counterintelligence.

In regard to San Francisco, it is felt that disruption of the BPP could be aided if San Francisco could through press and television arrange to have the dissidents led by [redacted] given a continuing opportunity to air their views.

BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE - (BLACK PANTHER PARTY)

The activities at the recent National Council meeting of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and current activities of SDS members in the Chicago area indicate that a potentially strong alliance is forming between SDS and the Black Panther Party (BPP). It is the opinion of Chicago that this is a potentially dangerous situation that could provide SDS with the capability to provide major acts of violence through the volatile BPP.

This alliance is a primary target of counter-intelligence action in the Chicago Division. The following action is recommended:

1) Through BPP informants and other Black Nationalist informants plant the idea that SDS is exploiting the BPP, by trying to use them as "cannon fodder" for a white revolution. The recent shift in SDS policies would be evidence of this. In December, 1968, SDS adopted the position that youth should be considered as a class, and urged the formation of a "worker-student alliance," which ignored the oppression of blacks. In March, 1969, SDS shifted to a statement denouncing "dual oppression" of blacks and support of the BPP.

SDS can be attacked as "white revisionists" who have sold out, by siding with Unions which "sold out" the workers in the West Coast dispute with Standard Oil.

The concept of white students studying in universities while Black Panthers are going to jail or being killed in the ghetto would be encouraged.

The BPP can be encouraged to see itself as a mercenary army fighting a black war for white liberation. It can be pointed out that once the revolution is over the BPP will pose a threat to the new white power structure and will be suppressed by the white army that will have developed.

2) If the BPP accepts the above, but does not break with SDS they can be encouraged to "exploit" SDS by making further demands on them to "prove their loyalty." Increased demand for funds and free printing of BPP literature could place pressure on the strained finances of SDS.

3) If the situation develops, SDS may be encouraged to adopt a position of accepting BPP exploitation as a necessary payment for the mercenary army, which would serve to re-enforce BPP charges.

Under present circumstances, SDS is giving complete, al most slavish support to the BPP, which would jeopardize the standing of any SDS informant who criticized BPP. If there is any wavering of the SDS support of BPP, informants would be used to aggravate any developing split.

It is felt that BPP will be receptive to charges of white exploitation, and may react strongly to it, thus weakening or disolving the alliance with SDS.

Bureau authority is requested to implement the above program and to continue action to widen the split as it occurs.

Chicago will follow this matter closely and recommend further action as appropriate.

40

In addition to the above, recent articles in the Guardian present an additional counterintelligence opportunity.

Enclosed is one copy of New Left Notes (NLN), April 24, 1969, edition, and one copy of the April 26, 1969, Guardian.

On page 2 of NLN is a reprint of an article by JULIUS LESTER, which originally appeared in the April 19, 1969 Guardian.

This article questions the SDS, BPP alliance, challenging the right of SDS to issue their statement of support for the BPP.

On page 7 of the enclosed Guardian is an article by CARL DAVIDSON, a leading SDS theoretician, pointing out the truth of LESTER's statements.

The Bureau is requested to photographically reduce the two articles and print them on unwatermarked paper. It is noted this technique would be within the capability of a student group desiring to reproduce and distribute such articles.

Chicago would then distribute these reprints to a wide cross-section of black militants and SDS members to plant seeds of doubt, and open discussion of this BPP-SDS alliance.

These fliers would be marked to indicate they were being distributed by a group called "Students Against All Racism."

Chicago could anonymously distribute approximately 150 copies of such a flier. As this action would not necessarily be limited to the Chicago area other offices might desire to utilize these fliers.

Chicago could mail additional fliers if other offices supply mailing lists. If the Bureau feels that wider distribution is desireable they are requested to provide copies to other offices and request mailing lists to be forwarded to Chicago. Additional fliers would then be required for Chicago.

Chicago continues to be alert for additional opportunities in this area and will submit additional recommendations.

Presentations by the BLACK HORIZONS THEATER OF PITTSBURG

About the Grassroots Players. . .
The Grassroots Players Inc., is a free Black theatrical group composed of Brothers and Sesters from the Jackson area. Our goal has been to cultivate out people through the art of dramatic interpretation. We hope to one day be instrumental in establishing a Black Reportory Theater in Jackson.

The two productions we will perform today are: "We Beautiful People" and "The Black Man Sounds Off". Both plays were by the director, Willie Lewis, who is a freshman at Tougaloo. "We Beautiful People" is a dance-poetry and dialogue about the trials and problems of Black people since 1619. "The Black Man Sounds Off" is about a group of Blacks who do not believe in the dream of their leaders but who are now ready to seek their revenge against the pigs of the U.S.A.

The Georgetown Liberation Players are members of the Black and Proud School in Jackson. The brothers are between the ages of 8 and 15. The Georgetown Liberation School exists so that as brothers and sisters we can begin to learn how to unify Black people and as Bro. Malcolm X taught us ". . .get our black minds back". The Black and Proud School is a branch of the Jackson Human Rights Project.

The play "The Uncle Toms" is written by a young brother from Newark named Herbie Stokes. Brother Stokes has had many of our experiences and is therefore in spirit a member of the Black and Proud School.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Bayard Rustin, a Negro civil rights leader, says educators should "stop capitulating to the stupid demands of Negro students" and "see that they get the remedial training they need."

"What the hell are soul courses worth in the real world?" asked Rustin, who organized the civil rights march on Washington in 1963. "In the real world, no one gives a damn if you've taken soul courses. They want to know if you can do mathematics and write a correct sentence."

Rustin spoke with reporters briefly before addressing a breakfast of the American Jewish Committee.

He said black students were "suffering from the shock of integration" and were looking for "an easy way out of their problems" by demanding separate dormitories and special study programs.

Counterintelligence Operations in Effect Against the Black Panther Party (BPP)

No new counterintelligence operations have been placed in effect against the BPP since the last bi-weekly letter.

The BPP members are continuing to be interviewed in an effort to create distrust among the members with the view to cause disruption within the BPP.

Counterintelligence Operations Under Consideration

With regard to information set forth in Bureau letter to San Francisco dated 4/23/69, Los Angeles has had no information of any dissident group within the Los Angeles Chapter of the BPP. There is, however, a power struggle among the top officials of the Los Angeles BPP as to who the leader should be and this has caused some internal problems.

The Los Angeles Office has no specific recommendations or proposals for counterintelligence at this time with regard to the situation at San Francisco. Consideration will be given to this matter and the Bureau and San Francisco will be advised of any counterintelligence proposals.

Reurlet 4/28/69.

Relet was the quarterly counterintelligence letter reporting the status of the overall program. The suggestion you are considering, starting a newsletter to counter black extremist propaganda, should be submitted in a separate letter; refer to Bureau airtel to Albany 3/4/68, page five.

In submitting your suggestion, include a draft of the first suggested newsletter. Also furnish details regarding the possibility of renting a Post Office box. In past counterintelligence actions, the Bureau has encountered some difficulty over the rental of a Post Office box in a completely secure manner. Investigation within the Baltimore Division has indicated that members of the SDS and members of the Black Panther Party (BPP) have been making efforts to cooperate with each other, presenting the problem of a possible coalition between these two extremist groups.

As a counter intelligence move aimed directly at both of these groups the following move is suggested and Bureau authority is requested to implement this action:

BPP sources of the Baltimore Office should be directed to suggest or imply to BPP members that the SDS consists of a corps of elite white chauvinistic students of upper middle class who would like to exploit the militant potential and strength of the BPP and other extremist groups; that is, they should suggest to the Panthers that the SDS will talk of violent actions and may provide lip service, funds, and materials (such as weapons) but the SDS is basically a cowardly, honky group, which is striving to get the BPP to do the dirty work thus exposing Panthers to needless danger.

It is believed that if the above program is instituted that a wedge can be successfully driven between the SDS and the BPP and will put an end to their recently commenced honeymoon.

Remylet to the Bureau dated 3-3-59, which suggested the formation of a dummy organization which would circularize the black population on a selected basis through the mails with factual information concerning events which occur in Boston in which militants participate.

These events are usually given publicity in the ghetto area through the "Rebellion News" or the "Bay State Banner" which publications slant the news to portray militants as being oppressed, acting in self-defense and in other ways being preyed on by whites and the white "pig" police force.

This is often the only publicity which reaches the black man and even the educated middle class and professional groups tend to believe these publications particularly when nothing counteracts it.

Considerable thought has been given to find an appropriate name for the organization and a name was sought which would have meaning for the black man. One expression often used by blacks and particularly by militants is "Tell it like it is". Boston feels the name "Tell" with the captioned "Tell it like it is" as a motto under the name "Tell, Inc." would be a very suitable name for such an organization.

It is contemplated that a newsletter type of publication carrying the above heading, would be distributed to a mailing list of over 70 prominent non-militant persons as a start. A similar number would be sent to more militant type persons. A Post Office Box would be rented and its number printed at the bottom of each newsletter and comments, pro and con, would be solicited from readers. It is believed enough material might be received through this means alone to aid in finding material for future newsletters or at least ideas which could be utilized in them. If the newsletter seemed to be successful and well received, it could be given wider dissemination.

The Post Office Box could be hired either under a pseudonym or preferably by a reliable member of the black community.

Copies of the newsletter could be made by the Xerox machine. Mailing costs would be explored through the Post Office Department if feasible.

An item which could be utilized in the newsletter is the recent take over of two rooms at Boston State University in which the door was guarded by three non-students and Black Panther Party members, [redacted] an[redacted] The fact these three are Panthers and non-students was never brought out to the general public. Re Bureau letter to Jackson dated 3/3/69.

Extremist activity instituted or attributable to the Tougaloo College Political Action Committee (PAC) has shown a downward trend in the past several weeks.

Students at Tougaloo College, [redacted] are going through a period presently where extremism is losing its popularity. This trend is partly a result of general student displeasure with the action of outside extremist-type agitators who appeared at Tougaloo College during a Black Festival held there 4/10-13/69. This festival was sponsored by PAC and the Student Government Association at Tougaloo College.

In view of the above, the Jackson Division feels at present that a counterintelligence measure directed at PAC would be inappropriate as it could have a reverse effect of rekindling interest in this group at a time when its support is waning.

The Jackson Division is following all developments regarding PAC closely and should extremism attributable to the group begin to commence again, appropriate counter-intelligence measures will be considered and submitted.

ReBulet, 4/23/69.

It is noted that in the New York area the BPP leadership has been almost completely changed since October, 1968. Many of their top people have been replaced and many of the membership have dropped out of the party completely. There has been almost a complete turnover in members.

If this turnover exists in the New York area it might also be taking place in other branches and perhaps even in San Francisco. If this situation is prevalent to any extent in other branches it might even be difficult for the San Francisco BPP Headquarters to determine who is in charge of each branch.

As the Bureau knows the NYO has conducted over 500 interviews with BPP members and sympathizers. As an effective counterintelligence measure during future interviews it is proposed that the above disorganization and dispute within the BPP itself be pointed out to all those interviewed. They could be told that in the higher echelon of the party no one trusts one another and they are out for their own self-interests.

If this is done within each branch and in San Francisco it might produce untold disunity and eventual collapse.

II. Operations Being Effected

As outlined in Seattle letter, April 11, 1969, a number of selected SAC contacts are being invited to attend a private showing of the Black Panther film "Off the Pigs". As soon as this showing has been completed the Bureau will be appropriately advised of results.

III. Tangible Results

None.

IV. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

Extensive investigation is still being conducted to identify three Negro unsubs who participated in the robbery of the Fidelity Mutual Savings Bank on March 7, 1969, in which two BPP members, [redacted] and [redacted] have already been arrested. In connection with this bank robbery former BPP member [redacted] has been tentatively identified as a participant and confidential informants advise that [redacted] and [redacted] have been expelled from the BPP for their criminal activities.

Confidential informants have advised that BPP members [redacted] and [redacted] were responsible for another bank robbery in the Seattle area during the latter part of 1968. Witnesses in connection with this bank robbery have failed to identify [redacted] who was a suspect and it is believed that the witnesses reluctance is based on fear of reprisal by the BPP.

Re Omaha airtel to Director, 1/8/69.

Since submission of the last quafterly airtel in captioned matter, no new black extremist organizations have been organized within the Omaha Division. The Black Panther Party (BPP) chapter in Omaha during the winter months was very inactive, however there have been recent indications that this group is attempting to reorganize under its [redacted] who publically stated recently that the membership of his organization consisted of only a handful.

The BPP chapter in Des Moines, Iowa, has a membership estimated at between 25 and 30 under the [redacted] who has headed this organization since its inception. [redacted] is currently being tried on a local charge of arson stemming from an October, 1968, lumber yard fire allegedly started by five individuals, three of them Panthers. [redacted] inaddition was arrested on 4/13/69, by Des Moines Police on charges including inciting a riot. These charges grew out of a racial disturbance in Des Moines on 4/13/69, following a BPP rally in a Des Moines public park.

In connection with the BPP in Des Moines, information was recently received that there is a power struggle under way in the Des Moines black community involving three elements, the BPP, a local street gang, and the legitimate counterintelligence activity aimed at disrupting the BPP. On the other hand, the Des Moines community in general does not accept the Black Panther Party as a militant revolutionary black force tied into BPP headquarters in California. In fact the Des Moines mayor and some other civic officials look upon this organization as merely another underprivileged minority group worthy of community assistance.

It is felt that the Black Panther Party in Des Moines has a propensity for violence which is indicated by some of its members having been involved in an October, 1968, lumber yard fire and a disturbance which occurred in Des Moines on 4/13/69. At the present none of the known members of the BPP in Omaha are considered to have a propensity for violence.

It is anticipated that within the near future [redacted] and the Black Panther Party in Des Moines will be the targets for counterintelligence action. Recommendations regarding such action will be submitted to the Bureau by separate communication.

This matter will be closely followed by Omaha.

There has been no information that any renegade attended the "peace" meeting originally, supposedly scheduled for 4/19/69. It is believed that such quick dissemination of this type of information may have been instrumental in preventing the various dissidents from rejoining forces with the BPP.

All offices receiving this communication should review office files concerning the breakfast program and forward specific counterintelligence proposals concerning the disruption of same.

All offices should consider but not limit themselves to such things as misapplication of funds collected, possible threats to Negro businessmen in the collection of money, using criminals as babysitters, and even the possibility that the BPP is utilizing the program to feed themselves. You should consider but not limit yourself to such techniques as anonymous communications, mass media dissemination, and the furnishing of information developed to highly placed persons on a confidential basis.

Militants Give Pupils Breakfast

By Don Reeder

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Several dozen Negro children chatted noisily in the basement of St. Stephen Baptist Church the other day while a group of young men served them a free breakfast to make sure they didn't go to school hungry.

The youths lugging the trays and wiping the long tables were Black Panthers—members of a militant Negro organization more noted for carrying rifles than toting bowls of cereal.

Pete O'Neal, a wiry, 28-year-old with a goatee and sunglasses and wearing a black leather jacket, stood at the door ushering children inside. A high school dropout who says he spent three years in the Navy and more than a year in prison, O'Neal is the Panther leader in Kansas City.

"Welcome Brother, welcome Sister," he murmured cheerfully to a pair of teenagers. "Come in and have breakfast."

"This is a community program," he said. "The Black Panthers are sponsoring it, but it's the people's program. And it's something the government should have instituted long ago. If they really wanted to feed kids, they could have done it."

O'Neal fingered a .30-caliber bullet hanging by a thong around his neck. "It symbolizes the act that political power comes from the barrel of a gun." He watched the children dig into a meal of hot cereal, sausage, toast, orange juice, hot chocolate and a vitamin pill.

He said many of them don't get breakfast at home because the family either doesn't have the money or the parents have to leave early for work.

"Children can't learn anything while their stomachs are growling," he said. "The teacher asks a boy how you divide eight apples among four people. But he's not thinking about arithmetic. He's sitting there thinking about eating those damned apples."

The Panthers' breakfast program in Kansas City started last week. O'Neal said they intend to continue it until the school terms end this spring. In the summer, he said, there will be "liberation schools" to teach children the evils of "capitalistic exploitation."

A similar Panther breakfast program is under way in Seattle, Wash., where children receive a dose of cod liver oil along with the food.

The Panthers obtain food and money for the breakfasts from Negro and white businessmen in the predominantly Negro East Side, the part of Kansas City that was rocked a year ago by a riot in which six persons were killed.

"They get rich off the black people, so it's only right that they contribute," said O'Neal. "We'd like to get so much a week from every one of 'em—maybe one cent on every dollar they make."

Donations have been received so far from about 75 merchants, said the Panther leader.

And if the businessmen refuse to contribute?

"We'll expose them to the community and organize a boycott that will run them right out of here," O'Neal replied.

Back in the kitchen, Mrs. Lena Woods, a 50-year-old grandmotherly woman who said she has operated several restaurants, helped cook sausages.

She shrugged 'off the Panthers' reputation for violence, saying, "All I know is these boys want to help. It's a fine program."

Although many merchants have cooperated with the Panther breakfasts thus far, not all of them are enthusiastic about it.

"They better not think they can come in here every week and get something," commented one businessman whose store is still blackened from a firebomb. "I can't afford it."

The Rev. Charles J. Briscoe, pastor of the Paseo Baptist Church where the Panthers also are serving breakfast, said the program is a useful stopgap until means can be provided in the homes. He said the church hopes soon to take over the breakfast project.

Re Buffalo letter to the Bureau, 4/14/69.

Per instructions set out in leads to Albany, 1/30/69, Buffalo continues to give consideration to counterintelligence matters which could possibly be applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) Branch established in Rochester, New York.

Recent contact with [redacted] disclosed that this organization has been inactive since 3/1/69. The group does not have a new headquarters location and the majority of its membership has drifted into an inactive status.

There have been no meetings of the Rochester Branch since that time and its leaders do not appear to possess strong leadership qualities necessary to run an effective organization.

Since it lacks this organized leadership against whom a planned counterintelligence project can be directed, there has been no opportunity to implement a counterintelligence program.

Buffalo will continue to follow the matter closely and will keep the Bureau advised as to its recommendations.

NOTE:

The Ad-Hoc Action Group - Citizens of Detroit was formed to protest police brutality in connection with an incident during the Poor People's Campaign in Detroit, Michigan. The group's purpose is to expose and exaggerate acts of alleged police brutality. During demonstrations the group has carried signs referring to police as "racist pigs." Detroit feels that if the group was exposed for what it actually advocates, much of its financial support would be cut off. Therefore, Detroit proposes a release reportedly from the group be sent local officials, some supporters of the group and local news media. However, the proposed release is worded too subtly to be effective.

The Ad-Hoc Action Group - Citizens of Detroit, was formed subsequent to the 5/13/68 incident at Cobo Hall, Detroit, which involved the Detroit Police Department and participants of the Poor People's Campaign. The Ad-Hoc Group charged the Detroit Police Department with police brutality in connection with the 5/13/68 incident.

[redacted] of the group's activities. The group maintains a temporary office at 5705 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan. The spacing for the Headquarters was recently offered the group practically rent free by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit. In addition, [redacted] of the Archdiocese of Detroit in the recent past personally donated $500.00 to the group and $500.00 was also donated by an unidentified inter-faith action group in Detroit. Other funds to support the group's financial needs are donated by sympathizers and people who are anti-police oriented.

The group has no membership as such, holds no regular meetings and charges no dues. When the group sponsors a demonstration, people they believe would be interested are telephonically advised through a notification list maintained by [redacted]

The group reportedly has attracted "far out" thinking clergy, young white middle income mothers from nearby affluent suburban communities who are frequently accompanied by their young children and a small number of young, shaggy haired, bearded white males.

The group's avowed purpose according to [redacted] is to act as "cop watchers", expose and exaggerate acts of alleged Detroit Police Department violence and brutality and in general to serve as a "watch dog" group bent on harassing the Detroit Police Department. Its demonstrations vary in numbers from 30 to 150, depending on the particular issues that are being protested. In the past most of their demonstrations have occurred at Detroit Police Department Headquarters, 1300 Beaubien, Detroit, and at the City-County Building, Detroit, Michigan. The group carried placards referring to police as "racist pigs", "honky cops", and depicting them generally as white racist brutes who employ gestapo like tactics against poor innocent citizens.

Detroit is of the opinion the group will cease functioning if it were not for the notariety it receives and from the physical, moral and financial support it receives from local religious groups, clergymen and sympathizers. Detroit believes that if the group was exposed for what it actually advocates, an alert, informed citizenry would cease to offer further support and as a consequence the operations of the group would be seriously hampered. As a disruptive counterintelligence action, Detroit proposes the following release be afforded distribution to interested groups and individuals as set forth below:

102

This release would be similar to the usual release sent out by the Ad-Hoc group. A Xerox copy of one of their recent releases is being submitted to illustrate how the release would be composed.

The proposed release would read as follows:

"We the concerned are vitally interested in the rights of the condemned. We the concerned are deeply involved in the rights of the denied and oppressed. Without resolving this issue in a polarized fashion between the black and white community, we wish to go on record as vigorously condemning the oft repeated acts of a white oriented Detroit Police Department which continues to pursue their vicious attacks on our black brothers without justification.

"We specifically cite the white racist attack on innocent members of the Republic of New Africa by certain officers of the Detroit Police Department during the recent Republic of New Africa Convention and the "resulting action which caused several Black Republic of New Afrida members to be 'gunned down' by white cops. What a dastardly action by those so-called 'men in blue'. When will they desist from these horrendous, unprovoked attempts to kill blacks. Here was an obvious flaunting of their civil rights by brutal Detroit cops involved in a cold blooded, savage shooting of good meaning black people. Frankly, this incident only causes us 'middle-class' whites to throw up our hands in utter disgust.

[redacted]

"This is not an isolated action. This serves to point out the continuous need for a group such as ours to act as "cop watchers". At this juncture we could care less about the problems of whites arrested by the Detroit cops for we feel certain their rights are safeguarded by white cops and white judges.

"We the Ad-Hoc Group now propose the following recommendations:

1. Public censure of the Detroit Police Department as an all white gestapo agency.

2. Remaking and reshaping of all echelons of the Detroit Police Department into an equal white-black ratio with the same ratio being put into effect in all precincts.

3. A civilian review board composed of representatives from black militant groups such as the Black Panther Party, Republic of New Africa and other recognized black organizations.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

In these times of intense social change, chaos and fear are rampant. It is critical that those who have the power and/or the ability to educate and formulate public opinion act in the interest of truth, of justice, of humanity - and not strictly from self-interest and its foundation in racism. We of the Ad-Hoc Action Group are compelled to articulate our outrage and disgust with the current policies of the Detroit News.

In all policy the Detroit News appeals overtly to the ignorance and paranoia of the white racist. It has completely abdicated its community responsibility and has in fact become a diabolical menace because of its racially inflammatory editorials, features, distorted reporting, its omissions and inuendo.

We demand accurate and objective coverage of the activities and concerns of the entire community. A newspaper cannot claim to be objective when it gives unquestioning support to all police action, especially in light of the report of Dr. Robert A. Mendelsohn, Phd., on police attitudes and tendencies in this community. (The Detroit News ignored this otherwise widely published report.) It is the duty of a newspaper to report in an unbiased manner, and in reality, the Detroit News functions as little more than a public relations arm of the Detroit Police Department - without factual evidence to support any pleasant picture of Police-Community Relations in Detroit.

In its coverage of crimes committed by blacks against whites, the Detroit News has a policy that shockingly differs from its coverage of crimes committed by whites against blacks. Murders and other crimes of violence by whites against blacks receive second-page coverage, minimal follow-up and are generally reported as isolated incidents. On the other hand, murders and other crimes by blacks against whites receive front-page, top headline coverage for several days, human interest stories on the victim's family and invariably, editorial comments on the "rising crime rate."

On June 25, 1967, a black man attempting to protect his pregnant wife from a gang of white youths was shot in the head at Rouge Park. The eyewitness story of terror by the victim's wife, Mrs Thomas, appeared only in the Michigan Chronicle - a Black newspaper. The News reported the Rouge Park incident on page 2.

"In addition, we firmly recommend students of liberal oriented groups such as the Students for a Democratic Society, etc. have a role, even though a minor one, in consulting with the civilian review board so as to assure no segment of our society is denied representation. Only after the formation of such a truly representative group as mentioned above can we achieve our goals of curbing police control.

"In conclusion, we would like to use one of the phrases heard over one of our local white conservative television stations who end the editorials by saying, "Your comments are always welcome"."

The above-mentioned release will be prepared on locally purchased commercial stationery and mailed in a locally purchased, stamped envelope.

Every precaution will be taken to see that this letter cannot be traced back to the Bureau.

No action will be taken in this matter pending receipt of Bureau authority.

Mrs. Thomas lost her baby the following week. No point of "follow-up" not noted at all in the News. The only further coverage within a full week of the incident appeared in the Free Press of June 27: an article about the release of all but one of the men held for investigation. There was no editorial comment about the judge who released them.

On November 31, 1966, a white store clerk in downtown Hudson's was stabbed by a black shoplifter. This incident received front page coverage in the News, with an additional human interest story also on the front page. On December 2 the News followed with another front page, top headline story, then on December 3 with a page 3 story, front page again on December 4, and an editorial on December 8 entitled "What's the Answer to Crime in the Streets?--It's More Policemen." The editorial read in part: "The fatal stabbing of a salesman by a shoplifter in Hudsons downtown store simply drives home the gravity of a crime problem which seems to grow deeper each month."

Why is the stabbing more indicative of a growing crime rate than the fatal shooting of a man in a park? Why does this stabbing indicate the need to fight crime while the murder of a black man by a gang of white youths does not? Why is there no call for investigation into the release of all but one of the youths?

Why has the Detroit News harrassed and vilified the good name of Recorder's Court Judge George W. Crockett, Jr. over an extended period of time. Why is his expertise in interpretation of Constitutional Law acknowledged only in out of town publications (NY Times and various Bar Association statements) and ignored in the News. It is no wonder that people with only a racist media to guide them have telephoned, telegrammed, protested and made resolutions concerning Judge Crockett. The people's response to the biased and inflammatory policies of the Detroit News is the ultimate example of the power of the media to mis-educate and mis-inform.

We accuse the Detroit News of forming and re-enforcing racial hysteria and ignorance to a point worthy of a Facist state. Regardless of motivation, we hold the Detroit News responsible for the continuing polarization of our community.

It must be understood that this is not just the tragedy of a 3rd rate newspaper also being a racist publication. This same ownership, same policy, extends to Channel 4 TV and Radio Station WWJ. The Detroit News, in this dominant position, has close to a communications monopoly on the perpetuation of this insisious racism in our community. It is not co-incidental that all 3 organs spew forth the same vile and inflammatory propaganda. This is Policy... And it comes from the top.....from Mr. Peter B. Clark.

Referenced communications pertained to a counter-intelligence program (CIP) concerning the mailing of anonymous communications to BPP chapters, calling for $500 contributions to be mailed to a rented Post Office box in Oakland, California.

A review of Bureau files failed to disclose whether San Francisco has ever commented on the merit of the suggestion propounded by the Houston Office. If not already done, San Francisco should follow the instructions in referenced Bureau letter to Houston 3-17-69. In addition, San Francisco should advise the Bureau whether a supply of BPP letterhead is available. If so, forward sufficient blank letterhead so that if this suggestion is adopted, the amount of duplication will be minimized. ANALYSIS OF PUBLICATION

Articles appearing in the 29th edition of the "The Voice of the Black Community" of intelligence interest are as follows:

An article written on page one of "The Voice of the Black Community" entitled "Millikin Hires Black Professor" indicates that MICHAEL C. ONWUEGBUZIE of Lawrence, Kansas, has been appointed an Assistant Professor of English at Millikin University for the 1969 through 1970 school year. The article describes Mr. ONWUEGBUZIE as a native of Isiele-Uku, Nigeria, and that he expects to receive his Ph. D. in English Language and Literature at the University of Kansas, where he also earned his M.A. in 1966. The article revealed that he did his undergraduate studies at Ottawa University, Ottawa, Kansas. The article further reflects that honors awarded Mr. ONWUEGBUZIE include graduation honors (Ottawa University), Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities in 1965, and University Fellowship in 1967. The article states that he speaks and reads English, Ibo, French, and German; and he served as an instructor of English at the University of Kansas in 1967 and 1968.

A second article on first page of "The Voice of the Black Community" entitled "BSO Purpose" advises that "We, the Black students of Millikin University, unite to foster culture among ourselves and to share it with the Millikin and Decatur communities. In order to attain these goals we will:

1. Bring Black students together
2. Pursue Black education and cultural enrichment
3. Orient new Black students
4. Protect Black students from discrimination
5. Serve the Black Decatur community
6. Observe Black Holidays

The name of this organization is For Soul Only.

The officers are:
Pres. Jesse Price
Vice-Pres. Fred Spottsville
Sec. Patricia Ferguson
Treas. Danny Welch
Program Chr. Marilyn Gipson
Membership is open to all Millikin University students upon approval by 3/4 of the charter members who are present. Robert Rules of Order will prevail at the meetings. This group recommends Chaplain Bodamer for its advisor."

On page two of instant newspaper an article entitled "DCCC To Select Organizer" advises that the Black Central Coordinating Committee is now in the process of screening applicants for the position of Community Organizer for the Black community of Decatur, Illinois. This article indicates that the Black Coordinating Committee came into existence as a result of the school boycott last December and has pledged itself to honorable solutions to grievances presented by Black students within the school systems and to work in the Black community in general to improve living conditions in all phases of life.

This article further reflects that the community organizer's job will be tightening up the Black community and searching out those things most needed in the Black community. This person will also be required to coordinate the endeavors of Black activists and positive direction to the Black community in general. The prerequisites of the community organizer are:

"1. Dedication and personal commitment.
2. Has the community interest at heart.
3. Person who accepts will reside in Decatur.
4. Ability to communicate with the DCCC.
5. Must be BLACK and have an understanding and compassion of the Black movement in America and a willingness and aggressive spirit to combat problems confronting the Black community of Decatur."

This article further reflects that on April 15, 1969, all applicants must be completed and screening dates for those who have applied will be each Thursday at 6:00 P.M. A selection will be made on Thursday, April 24, 1969, and all applications should be mailed to BCCC, in care of Mrs. TONI HARRIS, 1341 California Avenue. The article further reflects that the funding of the program will primarily come from white religious denominations.

On page four and five of instant newspaper is an article entitled "Black Emphasis Week - March 23-29, 1969 'Promise of a Future'". This article contains a schedule of events for the Black Emphasis Week. The schedule of events reflects that on March 26 at 11:00 A.M. ROY INNIS is giving a lecture on "Community Self-determination: an Alternative to Chaos".

An article on page five entitled "Militant Speaker" contains a biography of ROY INNIS, National Director of CORE.

This issue also contains a commentary critical of the acceptance of a guilty plea in the JAMES EARL RAY murder case. It appears on page three captioned "Black Man's Justice".

In view of the above, the Albany Division will discontinue all investigation in this matter UACB. Contact with sources in Albany will be maintained and if information is developed that the BPP again attempts to become active in this area, the case will be reactivated and the Bureau will be immediately advised. Additionally, the Albany Division will advise the Bureau on a quarterly basis regarding BPP activities.

The Albany Division presently has several formerly identified BPP members under investigation. The investigation of these members will be completed and furnished to the Bureau in the near future. The investigation regarding the possible mail drop at 12 Sheridan Place for the Albany chapter of the BPP is under investigation, the results of which will be submitted to the Bureau in form suitable for dissemination.

It is noted that the United Black Brothers of Syracuse, N.Y., may become affiliated with the BPP. Investigation to date has revealed that there is no affiliation at this time. Therefore, this organization will be investigated under their present caption and at such time as affiliation with the BPP might be made, investigation will be made along the guidelines set forth for the BPP.

by "Irving." A faction of the CPUSA intends to bring up motions supporting the program of the Black Panther Party (BPP) at the CPUSA National Convention beginning on 4/30/69. This could aid the BPP cause if adopted. We are authorizing a communication by "Irving" which points out that the BPP is viciously anti-Semitic and adheres to the principles propounded by the Chinese Communists as contrasted to the Russians. If printed, this could cause internal strife with CPUSA and ultimately deprive the BPP of needed support. New York will prepare the letter on commercial stationery and utilize a manual typewriter. ReBuairtel to New York, dated 4/10/69.

The New York Office (NYO) has carefully studied the counterintelligence proposal set forth in above-referenced airtel, dated 4/10/69. This proposal was also thoroughly discussed with agents who have handled the Communist Party, USA(CP, USA) counterintelligence program in the NYO and who have sent previous "IRVING" letters to [redacted]. In general, the NYO believes that the proposal submitted by the Bureau has merit. That is, the NYO believes that if news of a possible future alliance between the CP, USA and the Black Panther Party (BPP) could find its way into a newspaper such as [redacted] it could cause widespread disruption in both the CP, USA and the BPP, especially in view of the fact that the CP, USA is in the midst of preparations for its 19th National Convention which starts in New York City on 4/30/69, and the issue of the CP, USA supporting the BPP and possibly joining with it, may be presented to the National Convention. Such publicity would also thwart support for the BPP by the CP,USA.

AIRTEL

However, the NYO believes that it would be out of character for "IRVING" to do the in-depth research relating to the BPP as outlined by the Bureau in above-referenced airtel, dated 4/10/69. The documents concerning the BPP are not readily available in NY. Further, proving the Maoist, anti-Semitic line of the BPP through these publications is secondary to getting [redacted] to accept the fact that the CP is going to endorse the BPP line. For one thing this may never happen and also we have no documents to send to [redacted] to prove the Party position on this matter. Therefore, the NYO proposes that the designated issues of "The Black Panther" and "Combat" not be sent to [redacted]. It should be noted that [redacted] has given every indication of being a highly intelligent reporter who is well-versed in domestic subversive matters and international politics, and the NYO is of the opinion that [redacted] is probably fully aware of the tenets of the BPP.

The NYO believes that the most effective counterintelligence action which can be taken in this matter is as follows:

An anonymous letter from "IRVING" be sent to [redacted] and this letter would read as follows:

[redacted]

"I must call your attention to another very bad situation which is going to make everything even worse. You already know how the leadership is not going to tolerate Jewish "Nationalists", now they have taken an unbelievable swing to the black nationalists. Charlene Mitchell, Lightfoot and even Herb Aptheker are demanding the Party endorse the Black Panther Party program and the leadership is so anxious to stick in some revolutionary spirit into the Party they are going along, all but [redacted] who is being ridiculed as an Uncle Tom. I don't have to prove to you that the Black Panthers are a Maoist anti-Semitic gang. Dont they know which side their bread is buttered on?

122

TIRTEL

"I know you probably can't publish something on this now without some documents which I hope I can get after the 19th National Convention which will start at the Towers Hotel in Brooklyn the last day of this month, but don't try to come yourself because it is private since they don't want to throw out P. Novick in a public ceremony.

"I am happy to tell you your article had a good effect, but I am afraid it may not be good enough. It made them think a lot, and they will behave much more properly if they know the eyes of the world are on them.

"I sign my name,

"Irving"
(Signature)

Bureau authority is requested to send the above letter to [redacted]

Should Bureau authority be granted to mail the above letter, the same commercial stationery used in the past for the "IRVING" letters to [redacted] will be used, as will the same mechanical typewriter be used to prepare the letter.

The NYO will take every precaution so that the "IRVING" letter cannot be traced as coming from the FBI.

The original book is in a semi-hard back cover of a diluted washed red color, not susceptible to Xeroxing. Consequently, the first page of enclosures was Xeroxed from a tracing.

The Bureau and San Francisco Office are requested to advise Kansas City if the coloring book has previously come to their attention, and whether the printer, distributor, or artist, possible connected with national BP headquarters, is known.

[redacted] a copy of the Coloring Book is being made available to [redacted] no detail being furnished to [redacted] except the coloring book appeared to be among several copies observed at BP chapter headquarters in March, 1969. [redacted] has recently indicated concern that naive, reputable Negro clergymen are cooperating with the BP chapter in making church space available for the Panthers feeding breakfast to hundreds of hungry Negro school children in Kansas City, Mo. The Panthers' purpose obviously is to build their image in the Negro community. [redacted] contemplates educating one of the ministers by showing him a copy of the coloring book to show the dangerous, violent teachings of the BPs.

As a counter intelligence measure, expeditious Bureau authority is requested to confidentially show a copy of the coloring book to [redacted] and reliable liaison sources [redacted] to use their influence to counteract the favorable image being sought by the BP chapter in the KCMO Negro community by daily feeding in established churches of hundreds of small Negro school children.

Though it is uncertain whether any news media would publicize the material, the Bureau is requested to promptly consider making a copy of the coloring book available on the same confidential basis to the Kansas City Call, weekly Kansas City, Mo. Negro newspaper [redacted] Kansas City Star, daily Kansas City, Missouri newspaper.

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Re Jackson letter to Bureau dated 2/26/69.

The following is a counterintelligence proposal of the Jackson Division submitted for Bureau approval:

I. BACKGROUND

[redacted] who is an independent black extremist of the Jackson Division, who is sympathic with the aims and purposes of the Student Non-Violent Co-Ordinating Committee (SNCC), the Black Panther Party (BPP) and related extremist groups. He is presently unemployed and resides in [redacted]. Until recently, he was a Tougaloo College student, however, he was dismissed from school for failure to pay his bills. He is on the Jackson Division Agitator Index and is originally [redacted]

II. RECENT ACTIVITIES

In early 1969, a warrant was issued for [redacted] based on [redacted] during this attempt he was shot at, but not hit, by students; he paid a fine and was released regarding this matter.

A Black Spring Weekend was held from 4/10-13/69, at Tougaloo College and was attended by [redacted] activities at this weekend included, among other things, forums on the BPP and on the Republic of New Africe (RNA). During this weekend associates of [redacted], struck one Negro student in the face with a pistol and conducted firearms firing in woods in near area of the campus. They also generally intimidated all white students and professors on the campus.

As a result of these activities of [redacted] and his associates, 20 Negro Tougaloo College students met in the college chapel and formed a Defense Committee, as of 6:00 p.m., 4/11/69. Three pistols were handed out to members of the Defense Committee in the event [redacted] and his associates should try to take more serious action and provoke additional incidents on the campus.

Following the incidents previously related [redacted] on the school bulletin boards urging all students to remain calm despite several incidents caused by outside agitators. [redacted] personally contacted [redacted] SNCC representative [redacted] and told [redacted] to tell some o[redacted] associates who were not students and causing trouble to "cool it."

[redacted] advised during the Black Spring Weekend that [redacted]

During the weekend [redacted] and his associates were frequently at odds with RNA representatives at the school. They boycotted the RNA forum and as a protest measure fired guns in a wooded area in an extreme area of the campus.

The faculty and a great majority of the students at the school were very distressed and upset with the foolish and extremist activities of [redacted] and his associates, as was evidenced by the forming of the Defense Committee. Additionally, they felt that the programs of the BPP and its representatives and associates was a program of nihilism.

III. PROPOSED COUNTERINTELLIGENCE MEASURE

It is proposed that the following letter be typewritten on commercial paper and forwarded to [redacted] Mississippi, bearing Tougaloo, Mississippi, postmark:

"Tougaloo College
Tougaloo, Mississippi

Date

"The deplorable activities and conduct of you and your Black Panther brothers at the recently completed Black Spring Weekend have shocked the Tougaloo College community into realizing the basic errors in the intimidation methods and nihilistic doctrines which you promote. Your immature actions of discharging firearms near the campus on Saturday afternoon, April 11, further alienated you and you 'outsiders' from the spirit and tone in which all desired the BSW to take. Your recent involvement in various criminal activities in and near Tougaloo College as well as your irresponsibility in paying your school bills while at Tougaloo College further exemplify the inappropriateness of you, of all people, in any manner acting as a representative of blacks in Mississippi or anywhere for that matter. Your conduct and demeanor is representative of traits and habits we in our quest are trying to rise above.

"Accordingly, it has been determined by solidity representative elements of the Tougaloo College Student Body that you are directed to remain away from this campus until such time as your conduct and general demeanor reach the desired level. This directive also applies to your bringing any of your unruly and undisciplined associates to the campus.

"Should you feel that this is a hollow directive and not heed our diplomatic and well thought out warning we shall consider contacting local authorities regarding some of your activities or take other measures available to us which would have a more direct effect and which would not be as cordial as this note.

"Tougaloo College Defense Committee"

IV. OBJECTIVE

It is hoped that this letter, if approved and forwarded to [redacted] will give him the impression that he has been discredited at the Tougaloo College campus and is no longer welcomed there. It could discourage him from inviting out of state extremists to visit him and while here to speak at Tougaloo College. It may possibly also cause him to decide to leave Mississippi and return to his original home in Pennsylvania.

None of the above information in above proposed letter will compromise any Jackson Division informants.

JN 100-980

It is requested that the above letter be approved for preparation and execution by the Jackson Division at the earliest possible date, noting that timing in this matter is most important since the Black Spring Weekend ended Sunday, 4/13/69. This letter has been prepared in terms of the present thinking of some of the students at Tougaloo College.

Re Detroit airtel to Bureau, dated 1/13/69, captioned as above.

The period covered in instant letter is 1/13/69 to 4/21/69. The next progress letter relating to captioned matter will be submitted on or before 7/31/69.

I. Operations Under Consideration

Currently Detroit has Bureau approved counterintelligence operations either in effect or proposed on the following Detroit based groups and individuals involved within these groups:

1. Ad-Hoc Action Group, Citizens of Detroit

This group is known as a "cop watching group" which came into focus subsequent to an incident involving the Detroit Police Department and the Poor People's Campaign March on 5/13/68 at Cobo Hall, Detroit. This group attracted few participants until recently when it has been the recipient of funds from the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit as well as the use of a building for its office, which was also made available by the Archdiocese of Detroit. It has not achieved local prominence but is considered as a harassing force by the Detroit Police Department. Information relating to demonstrations sponsored by the group has previously been furnished the Bureau in form suitable for dissemination.

2. Detroit Black Panther Party

3. League of Revolutionary Black Workers

The League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW) is a black revolutionary labor union, which is attempting to oust the United Auto Workers (UAW) and Teamsters Union from their position as bargaining representatives for the black workers in automotive plants and other manufacturing and service organizations in Detroit. The LRBW in allegations made by way of pamphlets and television appearances is protesting alleged discrimination and "racism" in the automotive plants and has made demands of the companies involved to remove certain supervisors and management personnel.

The LRBW applies a name to the particular movement at each plant that they attempt to organize and always use the letters RUM (Revolutionary Union Movement) as part of the name; example, FRUM (Ford Revolutionary Union Movement).

Its leaders are well-known Detroit black nationalists and information relating to this group has been furnished to the Bureau by LHM, dated 3/20/69.

4. Republic of New Africa (RNA)

5. Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee

6. Miscellaneous Information Black Nationalist Individuals.

Counterintelligence proposals to cause disruption within the above-mentioned groups and with individuals involved within the groups consist of a variety of sub rosa techniques. The techniques are aimed at causing friction, factionalism and attempts to render the organization or group ineffective.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

The efficacy of the techniques and proposals being employed during the pertinent period are for the most part pending inasmuch as insufficient time has elapsed to accurately assess the disruptive tactics utilized.

On the positive side it can generally be assumed consternation and disruption has been effected within the ranks of the following groups and black nationalist individuals associated with these groups through tried counterintelligence action:

Black Panther Party

Republic of New Africa

Miscellaneous Black Nationalist Individuals

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

To date two Detroit daily Metropolitan newspapers, the "Detroit Free Press", with a circulation of 550,000 to 630,000 and "The Detroit News", with a circulation of 800,000 to 900,000, have printed lengthy expose type articles concerning the Republic of New Africa, (RNA).

These articles portrayed the RNA as a separatist type hate organization. In consideration of the recent shooting of two Detroit Police Department Officers in the vidnity of a National RNA Convention, Detroit, it has been observed newspaper articles have pictured the RNA as a hate group and through the continuance of such articles will further result in rendering severe criticism of the RNA.

In addition, a letter directed to Detroit Black Panther Party (BPP) members and leaders in an attempt to cause dissension between the RNA and the BPP resulted in the BPP locally disavowing any association with the RNA. Detroit sources reported the effect of the letter was realized during the recent shooting between the Detroit Police Department and the RNA at which time no vocal or physical support for the RNA was forthcoming from the Detroit BPP.

Through cooperation with [redacted] was relieved of his position with [redacted] due to an unauthorized absence from his employment.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Growth of the BPP in Detroit has not accelerated to any noticeable extent during the pertinent period. This in part can be credited to the handling, guidance and instructions afforded BPP sources by contacting Special Agents. These sources through their comments at BPP meetings, have succeeded in bringing about friction and factionalism between the top leaders and the membership. This has served as a disruptive technique and has caused in some instances concern over the quality of leadership as well as Detroit considering withdrawing from the National BPP.

Extreme caution is exercised in each instance to preclude the source from being compromised or exposed when utilizing this technique.

Although the Black Panther Party in Omaha continues to hold no regular meetings, information has been received that [redacted] its organization, is attempting to reorganize the Omaha chapter. In a recent public statement [redacted] indicated that the organization consisted of only a "handful" of members.

As for the Black Panther Party chapter in Des Moines, Iowa, members of this chapter held a rally in a public park in Des Moines on 4/13/69. An incident involving [redacted] and police officers took place at this rally and following this encounter, a racial disturbance in Des Moines ensued. This disturbance lead to the arrest of fourteen individuals, four of whom have been identified as BPP members. The Des Moines chapter is not known to have regular meetings at the present time and the overall activities of this group are unknown. Recent information was received that the BPP in Des Moines has been in conflict with a Des Moines street gang for control of the Negro community, the main point of contention being the street gang's criticism of the Black Panthers having brought police "heat" into the Negro community thereby adversely affecting the activities of this street gang.

No counterintelligence accomplishments have been obtained under captioned program during the past two week period. It is anticipated that recommendations concerning counterintelligence matters aimed at crippling this organization in the Des Moines area will be submitted in the near future.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

A review of this file has been made beginning with Buairtel 3/4/68, which set up the program and originally called for the 90-day letters.

Bulet of 11/25/68, which was sent to selected offices, required a letter every two weeks outlining counterintelligence plans and the recording of past accomplishments.

Bulet of 1/30/69, included more offices which were required to submit the bi-weekly letters.

Bulet 4/4/69, entitled, "BLACK PANTHER PARTY" set out under four paragraphs the "current regulations concerning the reporting of information on the BPP."

Under #4 is set out the requirement for the bi-weekly counterintelligence letter. No mention is made of the 90-day letter.

From these various instructions, this office has assumed that the bi-weekly letter has supplanted the 90-day letter in that its general content was similar. In view of this, San Francisco has not been submitting the 90-day letter as such, although many other communications have been furnished which took its place.

It is, therefore, suggested that the Bureau consider the bi-weekly letter as sufficient for the purposes of the program which appears to be making progress throughout the country. Bureau comment as to the acceptability of this suggestion is requested.

Per instructions set out in Bureau letter to Albany, dated 1/30/69, Buffalo has given consideration to counterintelligence matters which could possibly be applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) Chapter established in Rochester, New York.

As pointed out in referenced letter, the Rochester, New York Chapter is still very disorganized and lacks leadership against whom a planned counterintelligence project could be operated at this time.

Buffalo is in the process of contacting active members for interview to ascertain whether any of them possess potential as PRI's.

An evaluation of these individuals can be made at time of interview to determine whether any of them are actually dangerous.

Buffalo will continue to follow the matter closely and will keep the Bureau advised of its recommendations.

This press conference was in response to one held by Bobby Seale, BPP chairman, the day before at which time Seale had denounced [redacted] as an FBI informant and agent provocateur. Seale stated that [redacted] had been expelled from the BPP for armed robbery. [redacted] in return accused the Panthers of assassination and denied being an informant. [redacted] stated that the dissidents were not going to take this kind of treatment lying down. Another of the dissidents, [redacted] charged that he was thrown out because he wanted to follow the ten point program laid down by Huey Newton. He charged that Panthers changed their beliefs every day, sometimes following Stalin, Lenin or Marx and then switching to MAO Tse-tung. [redacted] estimated that more than 100 persons had been expelled from the BPP in recent months. Unidentified women said that they left the BPP in disgust when they learned the Panthers did not respect Party doctrine concerning the protection of black women.

The above situation presents a definite potential for counterintelligence which could result in the disruption of the BPP on both a national and local level. Each office receiving copies of this communication should review this material with the view in mind of disrupting its local chapter and assisting San Francisco as office of origin in a disruption of the group on a national level.

Each office should specifically comment on this turn of events as it relates to its chapter and how it could relate nationally. These comments may be placed in the next biweekly letter. Specific proposals for counterintelligence on a local level concerning this matter should be furnished the Bureau for action and San Francisco for information. This matter is being followed closely at the Bureau.

NOTE:

The information concerning a split in the BPP has given us the possibility of driving a wedge into the group itself. We are calling for all logical counterintelligence proposals from those offices having chapters in their dividion.

Authority requested to confidentially show the film "The Black Panther Party," also known as "Off the Pigs" to four contacts of the Special Agent in Charge (SAC) of the Seattle Division and to one [redacted] "Off the Pigs" is an antipolice, pro-BPP and inflammatory film which has been reviewed by the Bureau's Training Committee and approved for showing by trained FBI police instructors at briefing sessions conducted for local law enforcement officials concerning racial extremism and violence.

The SAC contacts [redacted] The trusted friend of the Bureau is [redacted] The Seattle Office has been furnishing lead and public source material to [redacted] concerning the BPP with Bureau approval. Bureau files contain no information of a derogatory nature concerning any of the aforementioned individuals.

The film "Off the Pigs" has been shown by black extremists t students at local high schools in the Seattle, Washington, area. On one occasion a local junior high school principal was pressured by extremists into closing his school so that this inflammatory film could be shown to students. It is anticipated that the showing of this film to the aforementioned individuals, all of whom are engaged in the public communications media, will result in exposing the fallacies of this film and exerting public opinion against the showing of this film to junior high and high school students.

Seattle's request to also show the antipolice film "Now" in conjunction with the showing of "Off the Pigs" is not being authorized in view of the fact "Now" has not been approved by the Bureau's Training Committee for showing under similar circumstances.

RE: Bureau letter 3/17/69, which instructs that Chicago, New York and San Francisco evaluate suggestion previously made by Houston letter, dated 2/26/69.

In view of the recent developments within the Black Panther Party (BPP), specifically the expulsion of numerous members in California and the fact that the Panther Party is obviously lacking funds at the present time, and further the fact that the Party appears to be at this time unstable, Houston believes that the suggestion previously proposed by Houston should be instituted.

It is felt that one additional paragraph should be included on the proposed letter to be sent out from the Panther Headquarters which paragraph should state "under no circumstances should this matter be discussed on the telephone as it is obvious that all Panther telephones have been bugged by the pig authorities".

It is Houston's belief that even though it is determined by the various chapters that this request for funds was not legitimately proposed by Panther leadership, it will nevertheless continue to cause misapprehension and distrust among the various chapters and within the Panther leadership.

Owens In Detroit Melee

Council Candidate Facing Loss Of Bail

By ROGER STUART

Criminal Court action was asked today to revoke City Council candidate David Owens' $25,000 bond stemming from an alleged gun battle with police last October in Homewood, and have him put in County Jail.

Asst. District Attorney Gerald C. Paris contended Owens, who was arrested Saturday night in Detroit after a shootout between police and black separtists, was in that city without the court's permission.

Owens, 32, of 7218 Race St., Homewood, was released Sunday by Detroit authorities without charges being placed against him.

His wife, Francine, and another woman, identified by Detroit police as Dolores Diggs, of 115 N. St. Clair St., Pennley Park Apartments, East Liberty, were similarly arrested Saturday and later released.

The Detroit gunfight occurred at the New Bethel Baptist Church, where the Republic of New Africa was celebrating the one-year anniversary of its inception based on a plan to get five southern states for American blacks.

In the shooting, one policeman was killed and another officer and four Negroes wounded.

Mr. Paris asked presiding Criminal Court Judge Robert Van der Voort today to set a hearing at which Owens would be compelled to show cause why his bond should not be canceled.

It was only last Thursday that Owens was indicted by the Allegheny County grand jury on charges stemming from the Oct. 9 gun battle in Homewood.

Owens faces charges in that encounter of violating the Uniform Firearms Act, assault with intent to kill, carrying a deadly weapon, pointing a deadly weapon, resisting arrest and conspiracy to do an unlawful act.

Owens was shot in the left thigh and hip during that exchange.

Carl Murphy, 32, of 7724 Fleury Way, his alleged companion, was wounded in the left shoulder, back, thigh and ankle. The hospital said at the time that one bullet passed through his lung.

Mr. Paris, who ranks as District Attorney Robert W. Duggan's second assistant, said Owens had court permission to make some travels, but not to Detroit.

Owens petitioned the court last Nov. 12 to leave town periodically on grounds such travel was essential to his job as co-ordinator of the Pittsburgh Urban League's economic development program in Homewood-Brushton.

An Urban League spokesman said yesterday, however, that Owens is no longer employed by the league because funding for that program ran out.

Mr. Paris said he opposed granting the travel petition before Judge Loran L. Lewis, who was then the presiding Criminal Court jurist.

But, he said, Judge Lewis issued an order stating that Owens could leave Pittsburgh to go to New York, North Car-

Travels Traced

A further stipulation, Mr. Paris stated, was that Owens' attorneys notify the district attorney's office when he was leaving town, how long he he would be gone and precisely where he was going.

Although Mr. Paris said Owens had asked for permission to travel to Baltimore, Washington, Petersburg, Va., and Richmond, Va., he was not authorized to visit all of them.

Nevertheless, Mr. Paris said, Owens had gone to Atlanta, and Petersburg as well as to Washington, Durham, N. C., Cleveland and Detroit.

Owens was endorsed for City Council as an independent candidate Monday night by the Pittsburgh chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA).

An ADA spokesman said Owens was recommended for the endorsement by Msgr. Charles O. Rice.

Active In FAT

Prior to joining the Urban League staff here, Owens was employed as a member of the Hill District Mental Health Team, which operated out of Western Psychiatric Clinic.

He has also identified himself in the past as vice chairman of the Pittsburgh Afro-American Institute. And both he and his wife have been active in Forever Action Together Inc. (FAT) in Homewood.

Owens' trouble with the law extends back before last October and beyond the U. S. boundaries.

A New Scotland Yard officer arrested him last Aug. 18, in London Airport, London, for unlawful possession of a .38-caliber revolver.

He carried the loaded weapon in a shoulder holster and also carried 10 rounds of ammunition for it.

Fined In Britain

The same day, he was fined 50 pounds (about $140) on the charge in Uxbridge Magistrate's Court. He left the country the same day.

Contacted last night by The Press and asked if the Wayne County (Detroit) prosecutor's office and Detroit police were correct in reporting he had been arrested Saturday in Detroit, Owens said:

"No comment."

Asked if his wife had also been arrested there, Owens again replied, "No comment."

And when asked if he had been arrested and fined in England on a gun charge, he repeated, "No comment."

Asked if he would comment later, Owens said he would follow his attorney's advice.

He said he is represented by the law firm of Teitelbaum and O'Malley.

Homewood Battle Recalled

After the Homewood shooting Oct. 9, police summarized the battle this way.

Police were called to investigate a report of two armed men on the roof at 716 N. Homewood Ave., a building housing the Pause Coffee Shop and the Homewood Savings & Loan Assn.

Officers James Dwyer and Dan Butler in a special services vehicle and Sgts. Jules Dreibhold and Frank Cunningham answered the call.

Sgt. Dreibhold said the men were seen descending from the building at the rear, in Zenith Way alley.

He said Owens and Murphy pointed their guns at the officers and said, "Back up. This is a standoff. If you don't we'll kill you."

Sgt. Dreibhold said the two men, standing 20 feet away, were ordered to lay down their guns.

"Instead, the two defendants fired and ran," he said.

In Black Power Office

The officers immediately put out an emergency call which was answered by Larry Watson and Earl Stewart in a prowl car.

The policemen were stopped by a passerby who indicated the two men had entered the Black Power office, directly across the street.

Sgt. Dreibold and Officers Watson and Stewart were confronted by Owens and Murphy holding leveled guns in the doorway of the office.

Sgt. Dreibhold said Owens pointed his rifle at Officer Watson and said, "Don't move, Larry."

The two officers opened fire, downing both Owens and Murphy.

None of the police involved was injured.

Officers later confiscated a small arsenal of guns and ammunition from the Black Power office.

On 3/14/69, the NYO mailed the anonymous letters concerning [redacted]. These letters let it be known that [redacted] was the individual who tipped off the "Pigs"; [redacted] and [redacted] were carrying guns.

New York informants in the BPP have thus far reported that [redacted] is under definite suspicion and is not to be trusted.

On 2/13/69, the NYO submitted anonymous information to the "New York Daily News" which indicated that two BPP members are employed by the NYC Department of Correction.

As yet, no action has been taken on this information.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

To date, the NYO has conducted over 500 interviews with BPP members and sympathizers. Additionally, arrests of BPP members have been made by Bureau Agents and the NYCPD. These interviews and arrests have helped to disrupt and cripple the activities of the BPP in the NYC area. Every effort will be made to continue pressure on the BPP and the RNA.

ON THE [redacted] SIU ROBBERY

Nobody has ever accused the SIU administration at Edwardsville of being brilliant, but all the East St. Louis brothers are still chuckling over that big "robbery" of the SIU office in that city.

The honkies last fall decided that they needed additional security for the East St. Louis c ampus so they hired themselves another guard. You know Whitey's fears: "Too many smart-ass niggers running around." So who does the SIU Office hire? None other than Wayman Thorton, the Vice Commander of the Zulu 1200 from St. Louis.

After waiting a discreet period of time, Brother Wayman is "caught off guard" by somebody "unknonn" to him and long before you can say"Jomo Kenyatta" the robbers escaped with about five thousand dollars. That's a lot of bread, man!

Bumbling Chancellor John S. Rendleman told the local press that he was "shocked." But like the man said, baby, you ain't seen nuthin yet!

I. Operations Under Consideration

None.

II. Operations Being Effected

Pursuant to the outline contained in Seattle letter to Bureau, March 25, 1969, and Bureau authority granted in Bureau letter to Seattle, April 7, 1969, a number of selected SAC contacts are being invited to a private showing of the Black Panther film "Off the Pigs".

III. Tangible Results

IV. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

Extensive investigation is continuing in an effort to identify all of the young Negro participants responsible for a robbery of the Fidelity Mutual Savings Bank on March 7, 1969. [redacted] have already been arrested in connection with this bank robbery and the possibility exists that other BPP members were involved and may subsequently be identified and arrested. a fingerprint of [redacted] was found on a pair of sunglasses recovered in the get-a-way car used in this bank robbery. It should be pointed out that another prominent BPP member, [redacted] is currently held by local authorities in connection with an armed robbery charge and considerable publicity has been given to the fact that [redacted] have all been arrested recently for crimes of violence and have been publicly identified as BPP members. If the Seattle bank robbery investigation is successful in identifying others who participated in the bank robbery as BPP members, there is some possibility that the results could seriously undermine BPP activities in the State of Washington.

b. NHO will continue to furnish information to area police departments regarding illegal activities of BPP and SDS members developed in the course of other investigations or from established sources. Lawful harassment and successful prosecution will tend to discredit the captioned movements by disgracing the leadership. It will also serve to keep this leadership out of detailed planning. BI-WEEKLY LETTER -- PROPOSED COUNTER-INTELLIGENCE AGAINST BPP CHAPTER -- KANSAS CITY DIVISION

No specific Counterintelligence activites are programmed against the Kansas City, Missouri BP Chapter based on the current situation and development.

The Chapter's objective of creating a local image of championing the Negro community against police tactics of arrest and harassment, appears to have retrogressed, rather than progressed, as chapter leaders have been busy alleging improper, harassing police tactics in connection with an open police surveillance of chapter headquarters and arrest of most chapter leaders and a few members.

Though favorably publicized. BP allegations in one or two instances had substantially raised some questions in the Negro community, lesser publicized Federal indictment of two chapter leaders, and local convictions-and fines of two members (appealed), counteracted the first publicity, according to knowledgeable sources.

Other than such distorted publicity, sources feel any chapter impact on the largely responsible Negro community, is insignificant. Two Kansas City Star (daily Kansas City, Missouri newspaper) reporters, handling racial matters, with typical columnist approach, have sensationalized any questionable police tactics and humanized indicated victims. Several contacts with one of these reporters indicate no favorable counterintelligence action through publicity.

The last 48-hour development reflects the BP Chapter is busy fixing up 3903 Olive (made available by the Methodist Inner-City Parish)(MICP), as chapter headquarters have been made available by MICP) apparently as a base for giving breakfasts to hungry school children, a chapter tactic to obtain donations and to regain and increase the chapter's public image of service.

No counterintelligence activity is suggested against MICP, whose two Negro clergymen officials apparently fully support chapter activities, including possible financial aid (see Kansas City LHM dated 4/10/69, Bufile 105-165706 - Sub 23, captioned "Black Panther Party Funds").

Referenced Kansas City letter of 4/1/69 reflects pending prosecutive matters, Federal or local, against two chapter leaders [redacted] and [redacted] USCs' hearings as to [redacted] and one member, [redacted] on Federal indictments have been continued to 4/16/69, at Kansas City, Missouri.

On 3/27/69, [redacted] and [redacted] were each fined $100, and placed on six months' probation on local gun charges, subsequently appealed. All the above charges relate to firearms.

[redacted] open surveillance of chapter headquarters and area activities continues.

I. Operations Under Consideration

At the present time, an organization known as the Harambee Sisters is contemplating the establishment of a freedom school in Atlanta, Georgia. Information has been developed that this organization will not call it a school as such, as they will not be able to meet with the city requirements for the operation of a school. This matter is being followed through sources and upon developing positive information that the Harambee Sisters, which is composed of former female members of SNCC, is operating, a counterintelligence effort will be recommended.

II. Operations Being Effected

In September of 1968, [redacted] both SNCC activists in Atlanta, devised a plan to secure funds from the National Episcopal Church (NEC) by utilizing the name of the Afro-American Society of Greater Atlanta (AASGA). Contact was made with reliable sources within the NEC advising them that the AASGA was a SNCC sponsored organization.

Re Buffalo let to Bureau, dated 3/24/69.

Per instructions set out in Bureau let to Albany, 1/30/69, Buffalo has given consideration to counterintelligence matters which could possibly be applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) Chapter established in Rochester, N.Y.

As pointed out in relet, the Rochester Chapter has recently completed probationary period required by National Headquarters of the BPP in Oakland, a period of six months, and is awaiting a charter as a regular BPP Chapter. As of this date, the Chapter still does not have a headquarters in the Rochester area. The Buffalo Division has not received any subsequent information since submission of relet, regarding a new location for the Rochester Chapter.

The Chapter is very disorganized and approximately one half dozen individuals are the only active members of the organization. It still lacks organized leadership, against whom a planned counterintelligence project could be operated at this time.

Buffalo will continue to follow the matter closely and will keep the Bureau advised of its recommendations.

against the US members for the killing of the panthers in Los Angeles. He stated that he would leave any retaliation for this activity to the black community and let the black community take care of the individuals responsible.

On 4/2/69, there was a friendly confrontation between US and the BPP with no weapons being exhibited by either side. US members met with BPP members and tried to talk out their differences.

On 4/4/69, there was a rally in Southcrest Park in Southeast San Diego. During this rally US members confronted BPP members and the BPP members "ran the US members off." This reportedly is a result of the receipt of cartoons by BPP members berating them and causing ill feelings toward the US members.

As a result of the above and on the same date, US members broke into a BPP political educational meeting. They stated at this time that they were looking for [redacted] and when he was not present, "roughed up" [redacted] There was a big blowup over this activity and the US members expressed violent opposition toward being called "pork chops" and "pork chop niggers" by the BPP and specifically by the BPP newspaper. The BPP members in turn strongly objected being made fun of by cartoons being distributed by the US organization.

[redacted] has advised on several occasions that the cartoons are "really shaking up" the BPP. They have made the BPP feel that US is getting ready to move and this was the cause of the confrontation at Southcrest Park on 4/4/69.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Due to the fact that the US members violently objected to being called "pork chops", a change in the order of the mailing of the cartoons was made in San Diego. One of the recently Bureau-approved cartoons depicting [redacted] holding a Black Panther off with his hand with the title "Pork Chop Karenga" was distributed on 4/7/69, due to the excellent timely release of this particular cartoon.

An extra copy of this airtel is being furnished for New York file 100-129802, "Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), Counterintelligence Program, IS - C."

Miami airtel dated 3/6/69 captioned "Communist Infiltration in Racial Matters," copies furnished New York and San Francisco, New York file 100-153735, contained information that the CPUSA Commission on Black Liberation adopted a motion that the CPUSA accept the program of the Black Panther Party (BPP), work closely with the BPP, and join it. It can be anticipated that this proposal will be presented to the CPUSA national convention which is scheduled to begin in New York City on 4/30/69.

should be taken against the proposal of the Commission on Black Liberation. The Bureau feels that the most effective means of doing this is through an anonymous "Irving" letter to [redacted] The Bureau has noted with pleasure the favorable reaction stemming from such letters in the past on the CPUSA-Jewish question. It is believed that the time is right for another such letter which would strike a double blow against the BPP and the CPUSA by emphasizing to [redacted] he anti-Semitic and pro-Chinese communist line of the BPP.

Accordingly, New York should prepare an "Irving" letter in the dialect previously used which will contain the data outlined below aimed at denying CPUSA support to the BPP and to further disrupt the CPUSA on the eve of its convention. In connection with the use of an "Irving" letter, New York should coordinate this matter with the Agent handling the CPUSA counterintelligence program.

The "Irving" letter should point out to [redacted] that there is a faction in the CPUSA, led by its former presidential candidate Charlene Mitchell, that wants to align the CPUSA with the BPP and adopt the latter's 10 point program. "Irving" should express alarm at this because of the extreme anti-Semitism of the BPP. In support of this position, "Irving" should furnish [redacted] with the following editions of the official BPP newspaper "The Black Panther" and point out the below listed articles:

11/16/68, page 9 - "Mao Condemns US-Israeli Link"
"Palestinian Commandos Attack Israeli Airport"

12/7/68, page 10 - Letter from Paul S. D. Berg, a Jew, attacking anti-Semitism in the paper.

12/21/68, pages
9 & 14 - Letters in answer to Berg attacking him and Israel

1/4/69, page 10 - "Arab Protests UN Partitioning of Palestine"

1/4/69, page 18 - "Palestine Guerrillas VS Israeli Pigs"

Copies of these editions should be obtained for forwarding by "Irving" to [redacted] with appropriate remarks and underlining on each article. In the event New York does not have copies of these editions, the Bureau will furnish them to New York on request.

"Irving" should then point out to [redacted] that the BPP ideology is Chinese communist oriented which completely contradicts the CPUSA policy of support for the Soviets who are now engaged in a serious confrontation with China. In support of this contention "Irving" could point out to [redacted] the following articles in the above-mentioned editions of "The Black Panther":

12/21/68, page 19 - "China Views US Student Revolt" dateline "Peking"

1/4/69, page 8 - "Chairman Mao's Work Published in Mexico"

1/4/69, page 11 - "Chairman Mao's Work in Columbia"

In addition, the BPP "Eight Points of Attention" and "Three Main Rules of Discipline" which appear in each edition of "The Black Panther" are taken directly from page 256 of the Red Book (Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung).

"Irving" should also point out that even the imperialistic capitalistic press recognizes the pro-Chinese beliefs of the BPP and a copy of the 12/15/68 edition of "Combat" should be furnished [redacted] This issue of "Combat" specifically points out where in the Red Book the BPP has taken Mao's statements and adopted them as BPP policy." A Xerox copy of the pertinent parts of this issue of "Combat" is attached for your assistance and you should obtain a copy of this issue to be sent to [redacted] after it has been marked and handled to give it a "used" look.

In order to effectively utilize this counterintelligence technique prior to the CPUSA convention, New York should submit its proposal in accordance with the above for Bureau approval by 4/18/69. New York should also submit its observations of this proposal along with any other proposal it feels will serve to negate CPUSA support for the BPP.

NOTE: New York has in the past effectively utilized the counterintelligence technique of having "Irving," a disgruntled Jewish member of the CPUSA, write to [redacted] in a complaining manner. [redacted] in turn uses the information furnished by "Irving" to write articles in [redacted] which have proven to be embarrassing and injurious to the CPUSA. If effective in this instance, such an article would not only further disrupt the CPUSA on the eve of its convention, but it may prove effective in forcing the CPUSA not to adopt the proposal for alignment with the BPP which is being pushed by a militant faction of the CPUSA. This would deny to the BPP any aid or support which might be forthcoming from the CPUSA.

Re New York airtel and LHM, 4/1/69, captioned COMINFIL OF SCLC, IS - C, and Atlanta letter to Bureau, 11/1/65, captioned, MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., SM - C.

The last paragraph, Page 2, of referenced New York airtel indicates that on [redacted] advised CORETTA SCOTT KING informed STANLEY LEVISON of letters she has been receiving "she said one said she should not push for January 15 being made a national holiday because persons have 'so much stuff' on MARTIN and will expose it. She added that M. L. KING's public image was different from his private image and the letter listed individuals he was involved with". S.

"LEVISON said he knew some of the individuals listed in the letter. CORETTA replied that if she was a weak-minded person, it could upset her". S.

In the event the Bureau is inclined to entertain counterintelligence action against CORETTA SCOTT KING and or the continuous projection of the public image of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. (in which LEVISON plays a substantial part) it is suggested such action might be considered utilizing the above information furnished by [redacted] in conjunction with that set forth in referenced Atlanta letter.

The Bureau's observation as to this suggestion is requested.

ReBulet to Albany, 1/30/69; and Mylet to Bureau, 3/10/69.

The status of the Nation of Islam (NOI) within the Milwaukee Division remains the same--all members are instructed to have nothing to do with civil rights leaders or any activities sponsored by such people or groups. During the recent march in commemoration of the death of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. all NOI members were specifically instructed to stay away and to have no part in any other memorial services. No NOI members have been identified as having participated in any racial disorders within this Division. For the above reasons, it is recommended that no counterintelligence program be instituted against NOI pending receipt of pertinent information which would warrant such activity.

As noted in referenced Milwaukee letter to Bureau, the Black Panther Party (BPP) has recently begun organizing in Milwaukee. A small group of members and sympathizers has been identified, through vigorous investigation by the Milwaukee Office. The identities of all such individuals have been furnished the [redacted] and they have furnished Milwaukee with any information they have. Investigation is being conducted to develop background information, especially on the identified leaders of the BPP. Information has been developed on one member which indicates he was convicted of a felony in 1957, and he has been recently identified as the purchaser of a rifle. Liaison between the [redacted] and a local sporting goods store has produced the identities of at least two BP members who have purchased rifles, apparently for use by the BPP.

Re San Francisco letters 3/24/69, and 3/10/69.

The San Francisco "Examiner" issue 3/7/69, reported on the "staged" appearances of Black Panthers in the University of California, Berkeley, California picket lines. As pointed out in letter of 3/10/69, the San Francisco Office was able to acquaint the [redacted] with the "staged" procedure and this in turn got to the press.

"Examiner" reporter WILLIAM O'BRIEN said that critical consensus on the campus was that the Panther performances was the shabbiest staged "news" event in the long strike. The arrival of eight youthful Panthers to join the picket line caused a stir among the regular marchers, since the Panthers had been notably absent on the lines up to this time.

The "Examiner" article went on to say that the camera crew tried to tell reporters on the scene that they were from television station KQED, the educational station. KQED denied being involved. The cameraman was finally identified as HIRO NARITA, known earlier from his activities in filming "Zabriskie Point" an avant garde effort to display turmoil in American youth.

The article concluded that after being filmed by NARITA the Panthers departed from the picket lines. Their behavior was likened to tame pussycats who performed to the cues of the cameraman.

contained an article in the 2/24/69 issue titled "Garrett Supports Black Separatism" According to this article he spoke before a crowd of students and prefaced his speech with instructions for the construction of incendiary bombs and hand grenades. GARRETT explained that his lessons in weapon building were designed to show blacks they could control the mechanisms of force. According to the article he also made such statements as "Black people are slaves." "We don't control our own goods and our own services." "We don't control our own minds and we don't control the mechanisms of force and violence." "Blacks cannot receive an education at a white school." "The university is the Devil's 'workshop'." 35 Black Militants in Trouble Since Last Summer—

Page 11 Press-Scimitar Memphis Tenn 2-4-69 Thursday

Invaders vs. the Law—

Box Score to Date

EDITOR'S NOTE: Testimony in Shelby Criminal Court last week revealed that the Invaders, young Memphis black militants, last summer planned the ambush shooting of a policeman in their headquarters—then a Neighborhood Organizing Project office financed by the War on Poverty program.

WOPC considered the NOP project a "bold and imaginative" program to keep militants out of trouble.

Mrs. Black

With the conviction of three Invaders on the policeman ambush charge this week, The Press-Scimitar assigned Kay Pittman Black, who has reported Invaders' activities since they first attracted public attention, to summarize how the black militants have fared with the law in their various activities.

Law enforcement officers assigned to check the Invaders now compare them to the Black Panthers in California and the Blackstone Rangers in Chicago. They say the Invaders' program in Memphis was patterned from 10 points in the Black Panthers' platform.

By KAY PITTMAN BLACK
Press-Scimitar Staff Writer

In the summer of 1968, the Invaders came into public view as a black militant youth organization in Memphis.

Today 20 known members are in Shelby County Jail, six arrested yesterday are in city jail, six more are out on bond awaiting trial on various criminal charges and four others already are serving jail sentences.

The 35 individuals involved:

• Otice McKenzie, 19, executive secretary of the Invaders, found guilty of assault to murder in the first degree in the ambush trial of Patrolman Robert James Waddell, sentenced to not less than three and not more than 10 years. McKenzie was convicted in Criminal Court three weeks ago of participating in a riot at Carver High School and given sentences totaling six years. The two sentences will be served concurrently. McKenzie was an area coordinator for the War on Poverty's Neighborhood Organizing Project in the summer of 1968. His cousin, John Gary Williams, 23, was found guilty, in the Waddell case, of intent to commit voluntary manslaughter and ordered to serve up to two years.

• Vernon (Speedy) Stevenson, 18, found guilty in the Waddell ambush of assault to murder in the second degree and given sentence of three to 10 years. Stevenson was a volunteer worker with the NOP, a $20,000 program.

• John Henry Ferguson, 20, whose prank of pointing a toy rifle at passing cars led to his arrest and to the ambush, is under sentence for more than six years for inciting a riot at Carver High School last spring, and awaits trial on five other charges, mostly misdemeanors. He is one of the original leaders. He took part in the Poor People's March on Washington.

• Ben Heard Berry III, 18, charged with assault to murder in the ambush of Patrolman Waddell. Turned state's evidence against three others accused with him in the case. His trial will come soon. In County Jail.

• John Burrell Smith, 25, sentenced to six years for inciting a riot at Carver. Faces charges on possession of marijuana and illegal possession of legend drugs, dating from a raid on Aug. 2, 1968 by the vice squad on his apartment at 1644 Hanauer, Apt. 2. Other militants, including McKenzie, were also arrested in the raid, most were charged with disorderly conduct but the case was dismissed. McKenzie and Charles Ballard were censured by the WOPC, as both were NOP workers. Smith first made news in the summer of 1967 when he and another militant were members of the Black Organizing Project, a forerunner of the Invaders, and were charged by Memphis Area-Project South board members with preaching black power while on the poverty payroll. The other was Charles Cabbage.

• Charles Lavern Cabbage, 24, one of the original leaders of the militants, under federal indictment for refusal to report for induction. Also faces trial on charges of burglary and carrying a loaded pistol. Police said he was found with a quantity of blank checks taken in burglary of the CME Publishing Co., 531 S. Parkway E. Several thousand dollars of the checks were cashed in Memphis. The CME company and church were hosts for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference Convention in Memphis, which the Invaders were accused of disrupting by SCLC vice president Andy Young. The late Dr. Martin Luther King was head of SCLC.

• Edwina Harrell, 19, who police say is Cabbage's girl friend, arrested with him in the CME Publishing Co. case, was also charged with burglary and faces trial. She and Cabbage were arrested on Aug. 27, 1968 at the Downtowner Motel. Miss Harrell has been sentenced on other charges to 60 days at the Penal Farm for defrauding an innkeeper, one year at the Penal Farm for unlawful possession of marijuana seed, and one year jail sentence for robbery with a deadly weapon, the sentences to run concurrently. On Nov. 10, 1968 she was arrested at the Holiday-Inn Rivermont, where a guest reported she was roaming the hallways, and paid a $50 fine on a prostitution charge. She was a researcher, for the War on Poverty summer program in 1968, a former student at Memphis State University and a leader in the Black Student Association there. Miss Harrell was a female leader of the Invaderettes — the auxiliary to the militant group.

• Charles Steven Ballard, 21, director of last summer's NOP, faces charges ranging from first-degree murder to carrying a pistol, in the fatal shooting of another Invader, Anthony Warren, on the night of Jan. 28, 1969. Warren's body was found the morning of Jan. 29 dumped off Weaver Road between Harahan and Cypress Creek. Arrested in vice squad raid on John Smith's apartment in August, charged with disorderly conduct, but these charges were dismissed.

• Albert Frison, 20, charged along with Ballard, in the murder of Warren.

• Charles Harrington, 20, also present during marijuana raid on Smith's apartment in August, but charges were dismissed. Charged along with Ballard in Warren murder.

• Clifford Lewis Taylor, 22, charged with shooting of Lomus Payne, who Taylor said was paying attention to his wife. The three accused of the murder of Warren, police said, had been at Taylor's house the night of the murder and an argument developed. Warren was shot in a car going south on Highway 51 near the Whitehaven Shopping Center. A .38 caliber bullet, police said, pierced his heart. Warren, also known as Roosevelt Howard, also known as Red, was arrested, along with Clifford L. Taylor, on Nov. 7, 1968 by Metro Police in Nashville and charged with carrying a pistol, possession of a stolen automobile and possession of burglary tools. He was arrested under the name of Roosevelt Howard, but police say he and Warren were the same person. He and Lewis were out on bond on those charges.

• Robert Lee (Cornbread) Wilson, 19, arrested and charged on Jan. 31, 1969, with robbery of a male Negro, carrying a pistol, robbery with a deadly weapon—a shotgun — and carrying a pistol. He was one of the Invaders who went to the meeting of the National Council of Churches in Memphis again for funding for the Invaders.

• Robert (SuperCool) Webster, 19, arrested on Nov. 26, 1968, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon, fined $50 in City Court for the carrying of the weapon, a razor, and held to state on $500 bond. On Dec. 20, 1968, he was again arrested and charged with carrying a dangerous weapon, a shotgun, and with disorderly conduct, bound to state with bond set at $1,000. Now he is also under $1,000 peace bond in connection with a disturbance at Jump & Grab Drive-In Grocery on E. H. Crump. Witnesses at the store to the Nov. 27 incident said Webster and other members of the Invaders, made threats, used abusive language and waved guns around the store.

[illegible] Hall, 19, also charged in the Jump & Grab incident. Robert L. Marable, night manager of the store, said Hall waved a pistol and threatened to "blow off our heads and burn us to the ground." He was charged with carrying a pistol and disorderly conduct. [illegible] charge Hall was already in jail unable to make $10,000 bond on prior charges of assault with intent to murder and simple assault growing out of an incident in which he challenged police to take the shotgun from him. He is awaiting trial on both counts.

Lance (Sweet Willie Wine) Watson, 20, first in the news during the Poor People's March on Washington. He got national attention while living in Resurrection City as the leader of the Memphis group of the Invaders there who marched on three Washington, D.C., schools and disrupted classes in an effort to address student assemblies. He returned to Memphis and said that he was setting up a Black United Front, patterned after the militant Black Panther organization in California, and that the BUF would serve as the umbrella organization for all of the militant groups in Memphis, the leading group being the Invaders. Says he is the chairman of the BUF and that his associate, Roy Turks, who has no record, is the director. The BUF operates out of the Invader headquarters, 271 Vance. Watson was also held to the state on charges of carrying a pistol and disorderly conduct out of the Jump & Grab incident and has been unable to make bond. At the time of the Jump & Grab hearing Watson had been free under a $250 bond set on a state charge of carrying a pistol. Watson has three children, two of whom live with their mother in Milwaukee and Lance Jr., who lives with Watson's grandmother in Memphis.

Police records show Watson was released from the state penitentiary at Nashville in 1967 after serving a three-year term on a burglary conviction. Police said he was first convicted in October 1956 at age 17, on a charge of larceny. He received a suspended sentence. He was later arrested on mischief and shoplifting charges. In May, 1961, officers said Watson was sentenced to five years in prison for grand larceny and was paroled after three years. Watson, a high school drop-out, was one of the leaders in the take-over of LeMoyne-Owen College.

• Richard Laverne Cabbage, 19, president of the Invaders. Younger brother of Charles Cabbage. He was bound to state on $250 bond on Aug. 29, 1967 on charges of carrying a pistol in an incident that grew out of a fight at Gilley's Drive In on South Third. On Dec. 20, 1968 he was charged with attempt to commit robbery in connection with the hold up of Kansas Street Package Store. The robbers were shot at and Cabbage fled the scene, police said. His brother, Van Cabbage, is minister of information for the Invaders. Van Cabbage has no arrest record.

• Arthur James (Big Doc) Norwood, 19, injured in the Kansas Street Package Store attempted hold-up. He was shot by Abraham Coffee, 77, who came from the rear of the liquor store with a loaded shotgun while three robbers were in the process of holding up the place. He is held on a charge of attempted armed robbery.

• Larry Larue Davis, 19, sentenced to six years for inciting a riot at Carver High School last spring. One of the original Invaders, he was also one of those arrested in the vice squad raid of John Smith's apartment last summer, charged with disorderly conduct with the charges dismissed.

• Robert Lewis Taylor, Jr. 22, a figure in the shutdown of LeMoyne-Owen College. On Dec. 7, 1968, following arrests for disorderly conduct, one of which was in front of the Neighborhood Organizing Project headquarters—he was charged with assault to murder. He attempted to kill one of his relatives, police said, and is held to the state.

• James Elmore Phillips, 24, treasurer of the Black Organizing Project, last arrested on Dec. 31, charged with the armed robbery of a drive-in grocery on Lamar. He was also charged with robbery with a deadly weapon and carrying a pistol.

• Carl Stephen (Green Beret) Armstrong, 22, arrested on Oct. 12, 1968 on charges of carrying a dangerous weapon, bound to state on $250 bond.

• James Edward Griffin, 22, arrested Nov. 20, 1968 on charges of carrying a dangerous weapon — a knife — fined $50 in City Court and bound to state on dangerous weapon charge. Out on a $250 bond.

• Johnnie Lee Frierson, 24, son of a prominent Nashville Negro family, arrested on Jan. 18, 1968, and held to state on an assault and battery charge, and out on $250 bond. Frierson was accused of slugging and severely injuring a white student at Memphis State. Frierson, also a student, broke the white student's jaw, police said, and so severely injured sinus bones that the student had to undergo plastic surgery.

• Louis (Louie the Lock) Welch, 28, chairman of the Invaders, participant in the take-over of LeMoyne-Owen. He was arrested Nov. 20, 1968, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon—a rifle, held to the state and is out on $250 bond.

• Winston Lee Middleton, 28, marcher with city hospital strikers. He was noticed for wearing a purple velvet Nehru jacket and carrying a horn under his arm at that time. On Oct. 27, 1968 he was charged with larceny and bound to state on a charge of fraudulent use of a credit card. Police said Middleton was accused of stealing the credit card from another Invader and run up $500 worth of bills.

• Michael Eugene Mountain, 19, held to the state on a grand larceny charge, Sept. 10, 1968, out on $1,000 bond.

Four militants were convicted Dec. 2, 1968 on charges growing out of the firebombing of a Negro slum apartment building last August and received Penal Farm sentences of from four months to a year.

Sentenced were:

• Roy Williams, 26, of 401 Laclede.
• Edward Preston, 31, of 1745 Preston.
• Charles Henry Hoy, 26, of 1295 Wilson.
• Arthur Elliott, 21, of 1108 Coppock.

Most of the arrests and criminal activity of Invaders have come since last summer when some were involved in the $20,000 Neighborhood Organizing Project grant.

Berry, who turned state's evidence in the patrolman ambush case, testified a plot was hatched to shoot a policeman at the NOP headquarters, 1310 Florida. He also said members of the Invaders kept their guns at the headquarters.

The Invaders now are trying to get a more than $50,000 grant from the National Council of Churches to set up a "Membership Leadership Conference for Black and Poor People."

Coby V. Smith presented the petition to the NCC meeting recently in Memphis.

Smith, along with John B. Smith and Charles Cabbage, was a Map-South worker two summers ago and was accused along with the other two, by board members, of preaching black power. He is now a student at Southwestern and is considered a spokesman for the Invaders.

Invader John Charles Smith, 25, is on parole. Smith was arrested on Jan. 28, on a disorderly conduct charge and forfeited in city court the following day.

He is on parole from California. The California parole came after Smith was ejected from a theater in Los Angeles. Police said he went home, got a gun, drove by the theater and shot into the entrance and hit, but did not kill, a customer.

Six other Invaders were arrested by police yesterday on charges of disorderly conduct in disturbances in front of 501 and 505 Crump Blvd.

Police said the group was stopping cars and customers in front of Gag's House of Spirits of 365 Crump and Jump and Grab Grocery, 501 Crump, the latter where trouble developed in November and led to the arrest of other Invaders.

Police said the six were ... handbills requesting the release from jail of "Sw...".

Facing city and state charges of disorderly conduct:

• Carl S. Armstrong, who is out on bond on other charges to be found elsewhere in this story.
• Eddie Tate, 21, of 426 Vance.
• George E. Pryor, 19, of 280 East Trigg.
• Gwindolyn White, 23, of 373 Pontotoc.
• Carolyn Thomas, 19, of 435 E. Vance.
• An unidentified juvenile.

BLACK NATIONALIST-HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

This is to recommend that attached letterhead paper of the Black Panther Party (BPP), including signatures of officials of the BPP, be forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for reproduction.

The BPP is a notorious black extremist organization with headquarters in Oakland, California, which advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end "oppression of the black man." The group advocates the killing of policemen and follows the doctrines of the Chinese communists.

We have conducted a continuing counterintelligence program against this notorious group and have recently come into possession of copies of BPP letterhead, printed at national headquarters in Oakland, California. In addition, one page of this letterhead contains the signatures of the "Central Committee" of this group. At this time, several CIP proposals are being considered which necessitiate the use of BPP letterhead. Prior to making recommendations concerning these proposals, it will be necessary to produce a supply of blank letterhead, including some copies with the signatures of these leaders. This has been coordinated with the Document Section of the Laboratory and the reproduction of the letterhead is feasible.

RECOMMENDATION:

If approved, that attached samples of letterhead paper be forwarded to the Laboratory for reproduction by that division. When completed, specific counterintelligence proposals will be recommended using the letterhead mentioned above.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALISTS - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

ReHOlet, 2/28/69.

I. Operations Under Consideration

By communication dated 2/26/69 the Houston Division proposed counterintelligence measure directed against the Black Panther Party (BPP) which proposal dealt with directing a communication to the various BPP chapters requesting $500 be sent to a rented P.O. Box in Oakland, California. This proposal which required the obtaining and duplication of BPP letterhead stationery as well as other details is currently under consideration by the Bureau.

II. Operations Being Effected

No specific counterintelligence operation is currently being directed against the black nationalists-hate groups in the Houston Division. It is noted, however, that with the handling of well placed informants in the Houston Division, efforts to get any black nationalist organization of any substance in the Houston Division has been controlled. In this regard, it is noted that the only black nationalist group currently operating in the Houston Division is the Nation of Islam and because of the number of informants currently utilized against this group they continue to have difficulties as regards finances and membership.

III. Tangible Results

Results of counterintelligence action in the Houston Division as pointed out above has resulted in considerable friction developing among Nation of Islam members and leaders and also a significant result is the fact that the BPP, SNCC and other black nationalist groups have not been able to organize or function to this point in the Houston Division.

In connection with the Breakfast For Children Program (BCP) every effort is being made by this office to obtain material suitable for dissemination outside official channels to prove the program is being utilized by BPP to indoctrinate the youngsters in hate and violence.

San Francisco informants and sources have been requested to obtain copies of BPP Coloring Book. To date we are aware of only one original copy of Coloring Book prepared by [redacted] being obtained in this area. It would appear that the book has been prepared by mimeograph and could be easily duplicated.

However, it has been ascertained that food handling permits are no longer required by San Francisco for individual handlers and Health Department permits are not necessary for non-commercial institutions serving food. A further check will be made in other cities where the BCP is active.

The importance of this matter has been brought to the attention of each Agent on the San Francisco Racial Squad and every effort will be made to improve the record of the San Francisco Division in this matter. BI-WEEKLY LETTER -
PROPOSED COUNTERINTELLIGENCE
AGAINST BLACK PANTHER PARTY
CHAPTER, KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

No timely counterintelligence action, other than previously recommended, is suggested against the Kansas City, Missouri (KCMO) BPP Chapter, particularly in connection with its Breakfast Program and involving possible serving of food in that program by venereally infected persons, for the following reasons:

1. According to previously reported reliable sources, KCMO BP Chapter's Breakfast Program recently ceased, prior to Memorial Day, 5/30/69, probably anticipatory to closing, for summer recess, of KCMO public schools on 6/2-4/69.

2. Though [redacted] recently admitted Gonorrhea (for which possibly he is receiving treatment) the above indicated discontinuance of the Breakfast Program and public inapplicability of local health regulations suggest no counterintelligence action.

This article concerns the pressure exerted on businessmen by the BPP to obtain food for use in providing breakfast for ghetto children in several cities throughout the country. The same issue contains an article which points out that a BPP wedding had been held in one of the churches used in the breakfast program. Instead of a Bible, the ceremony was conducted with MAO Tse-tsung's "Little Red Book." After the ceremony the "wedded couple" were serenaded by the children with a song "we want a porkchop, off the pig." 4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

On 4/28/69, the Pittsburgh City Council enacted an ordinance banning the carrying of unconcealed firearms on the streets of the city. It is noted that prior to the time this ordinance was enacted the only "gun law" in effect in Pittsburgh was the state Uniform Firearms Act, which prohibited only the carrying of concealed weapons.

It is noted that [redacted] on a charge of violation of the Uniform Firearms Act when he was observed to have a rifle in the automobile which he was driving. The charge of violation of the Uniform Firearms Act was subsequently dismissed against [redacted] inasmuch as it was determined that the rifle had not been concealed. The aforementioned city ordinance was then passed to cover such a situation.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

Attached is a memorandum for dissemination under the Mass Media Program entitled "Propaganda for Breakfast" which sets forth information concerning the Black Panther Party and its attempts to conduct a Breakfast for Children Program.

The BPP is a notorious black extremist group which advocates and practices violence. This group has initiated a program to feed breakfast to ghetto children. The announced purpose is "humanitarian." The real purpose is, among other things, to gain control of the ghetto community, poison the minds of ghetto children with antiwhite propaganda and to cloak the illegal activities of the BPP with some segment of respectability.

Attached points out that this group used threats to obtain food from businessmen and that the children are the innocent victims of this notorious scheme. It quotes the Black Panther newspaper as calling on the people to "kill" businessmen who refuse to contribute to the program. It contains information from the newspaper about the BPP conducting a wedding in one of the churches used for the breakfast ceremony, where the children serenaded the married couple by calling for the killing of policemen. It urges sympathetic priests and ministers to think twice before supporting this program.

REC 4. 2 JUN 9 [illegible]

RECOMMENDATION:

That attached memorandum and copies of pertinent newspaper articles appearing in the Black Panther newspaper be forwarded to Crime Records Division for dissemination to appropriate news media representatives.

"PROPAGANDA FOR BREAKFAST"

The notorious Black Panther Party of Oakland, California, is not satisfied with the poisoning of the minds of its members against both the black and white races; the engaging in gun duels with both black and white police officers in cities all over the country; and the urging of Negroes to withdraw from the main stream of American life. The group has added new victims in its race to oblivion. These victims are up to now innocent of all racism and knowledge of violence. These victims are the hope of future race relations between races. These victims are children. They are the children of decent black people now living in ghetto areas.

Several weeks ago the Black Panther Party instigated a program entitled "Free Breakfast for Children Program." Their plans call for the obtaining of food from businessmen now operating in ghetto areas throughout the country. This food is, of course, "donated." Churches and schools are the sites of the breakfasts and free labor is obtained from Black Panther Party workers as well as misguided ghetto mothers. This program is existing in several cities today. Several hundred children are being fed daily by the Black Panther Party. In order to better understand the reasons behind this program, we need only look to statements made by the Panthers themselves in their newspaper "The Black Panther."

The Black Panther issue of May 11, 1969, contained an article captioned "Breakfast for School Children." This article concerns the methods used by the Black Panther Party in obtaining food from white and black businessmen for use in the breakfast program. The following was set forth in the article, "the BPP has also hounded the avaricious businessmen infesting the black community who rob and steal" from the black community. The article also points out that some of these businessmen have contributed and some have "refused to cooperate." Concerning those businessmen who refused to cooperate, the article states "Therefore, we call on the masses of oppressed peoples to kill this worm of economic exploitation." The article ends up with the statement "all power to the people." The above points out the method used by this group in obtaining the food for their "humanitarian" efforts.

An example of one of the real reasons behind the Black Panther Party breakfast program is found in the same issue of the Black Panther newspaper in an article captioned "Black Revolutionary Wedding." This article points out that a revolutionary wedding took place in the same church that the breakfasts were given in Oakland, California. The ceremony between two Black Panther Party members was carried out by the National Chairman of the Black Panther Party, Bobby Seale. In place of the Holy Bible, Seale used the "Red Book, Quotations from Mao Tse-tung." The crowd attending the wedding consisted mostly of Panther members and children from the community who attend the breakfast program every morning. The article went on to state that after the ceremony the couple was serenaded by the children to the revolutionary song "We want a pork chop, off off the pig." For the information of the uninformed, "off the pig" means kill the police.

The above is a good example of what is going on during these breakfasts and illustrates the reason why the Black Panther Party started them. They were started to instill poisonous propaganda into the minds of small children. It is the same trick used by communists, fascists, and other totalitarians for centuries. The article illustrates the mockery that is being made of sympathetic ministers and priests who furnish churches for these people under the cloak of humanitarianism.

Before any additional well-intentioned, uninformed "humanitarians" attempt to aid this so called party, they had better acquaint themselves with the pressure techniques, the illegality, the violence, and the racist activities of the group itself. The attempts to poison the minds of the black children of this country will fail. But if one child is poisoned with hate through the efforts of the Black Panther Party, society must take the blame. This group must be continually exposed for what it is and not for what it is not, and that is a representative of the black man.

BLACK PANTHER REVOLUTIONARY WEDDING

On May Day, Thursday, May 1st a revolutionary wedding took place. The wedding was to unite in revolutionary matrimony, Black Panther Brother Charles Bursey and Panther Sister Shelly Sanders.

The wedding was the first of its kind here in decadent, racist America. The ceremony was performed at the Church of the Minister of Religion of the Black Panther Party, Father Earl Neil. The Church is located at 27th and West Streets in West Oakland.

The Church is also the site of one of the Black Panther Party's Free Breakfast for Children programs. The ceremony was officially carried out by the National Chairman of the Black Panther Party, Bobby Seale. In place of a Holy Bible, Chairman Bobby used the Red Book "Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung". The crowd attending the wedding consisted mostly of Panther members and children from the community, who attended the breakfast program every morning.

The marrying couple looked radiantly revolutionary in their Panther uniforms of black and Panther blue. After the ceremony, the united couple were serenaded by the children to the revolutionary song of "We want a pork chop, off the pig".

...ter-revolutionary line. Therefore you must try and split the Liberation Movement indirectly. The garbage you are peddling in this latest article is a rehash of the 'white-controlled'" Panthers, which other counter-revolutionaries have peddled before you took up the cudgel. This latest attack on the Black Panther Party is unfortunate but it is a continuation of your snide criticisms ofthem in the past. Criticisms which it must be said were not offered in a sincere or brotherly fashion.

For one who has never taken a position on the question of National Liberation in the past--beyond the "movement"--your latest column is a curious mixture of reactionary nationalism ofthe type put forth by the Wardens and Karengas masquerading as progressive nationalism and even internationalism. For whatever the shortcomings of SDS--and any serious organization will certainly have some--the attitude of a genuine revolutionary toward that organization is generally formed by the attitude that the subject organization takes toward its own mistakes. SDS appears to take a serious attitude job for the bourgeoisie, which, leads him not only to these self-contradictory positions, but to outright hostility to the question of "revolution in the mother country and national liberation in the colony."

But Julius Lester has to be viewed in hi proper context--a petty bourgeois intellectual who hates the Black workers and masses and who serves as the Guardian's alter ego. It is no accident that Lester's criminal article happens to be the longest in recent Guardian history, takes over one full page and is neatly balanced by an "editorial" "Support the Panthers." Politics have a way of being akin to a telegraph system. It is impossible to take a dual position of support to the domestic struggle against oppression and hostility to the international class brothers of the oppressed.

Sooner or later, the piper has to be paid. So it is with Julius Lester's anti-Panther, anti-Black Revolution article. We support the Black Panther Party wholeheartedly.

The agents said this would not work. The Chairman's reply was, "Get the fuck out of our office and go back to your slave-masters".

One can only guess where Victor Riesel gets his information. It would seem to the Black Panther Party that the agents sent out to co-op the Party and try to buy it off reported to their masters, "Mission accomplished" and pocketed the money and kept it for themselves, if Washington is missing some millions of dollars

San Diego, at the present time, is attempting to obtain additional information concerning [redacted] reported embezzlement of funds from the Public School Milk Fund. At the present time it is felt that any type of an attack on this activity as it relates to [redacted] might compromise the security of a confidential informant. If and when information in this regard is obtained which could be utilized and at the same time in no way jeopardize an informant, an appropriate counterintelligence request will be submitted.

[redacted] was observed by several individuals fondling a white girl on the San Diego State College campus during a rally. An appropriate letter is being prepared and will be sent to the Bureau for approval protesting this situation at BPP headquarters. The letter will indicate that [redacted] continues his association with white girls even though he has been specifically instructed to cease all of this type of activity.

Another cartoon is currently being prepared and will be submitted for Bureau evaluation upon its completion.

At the present time one additional request is awaiting Bureau evaluation concerning a cartoon which appeared in a local student newspaper.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

The Bureau-approved cartoons continue to be mailed on approximately ten-day intervals.

Information concerning child beating by [redacted] was furnished by anonymous letter on commercially purchased stationery mailed from the Logan Heights ghetto area. The letter was sent to the San Diego Police Department, Juvenile Bureau, which handles mistreatment of minor children cases. No tangible results have been observed concerning this letter aside from the fact that information was received from [redacted] indicating that a child beating complaint had been received against [redacted]

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

On 5/16/69, members of the San Diego Police Department, Vice Squad, raided the Shalimar Restaurant as a result of the Bureau approved information furnished to that detail. Two arrests were effected and a quantity of illegal whiskey was seized. The important factor in this regard appears to be that members of the BPP no longer feel secure in meeting in this location late at night. As a result they have ceased to patronize the establishment.

The current whereabouts of the vehicle belonging to BPP member [redacted] was furnished to [redacted] as per Bureau approval. [redacted] vehicle was located and repossessed [redacted] Absolutely no reference to the FBI as the source of the information as to the location of the vehicle was made.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Things currently remain in a state of complete chaos within the ranks of the BPP. This situation has been compounded by the recent murder of BPP member JOHN SAVAGE on 5/23/69. The murder is believed to have been committed by [redacted] a member of the US organization.

On the day of the murder, information was picked up by [redacted] that one [redacted] was responsible for the killing. This information was immediately disseminated to the San Diego Police Department along with the identities of the three known US members who utilize the Swahili name of [redacted] In addition, San Diego Police Department was furnished the information that of the three individuals, [redacted] could most logically be considered as the individual responsible for an act of this nature due to his past history. As a result, San Diego Police Department currently has an outstanding warrant charging [redacted] with the murder of SAVAGE. In addition, the San Diego Office is presently obtaining UFAP process against [redacted] due to the fact it is believed he has fled from the State of California.

On 5/23/69, information was also received from [redacted] that a group of BPP members were going to depart from Los Angeles en route to San Diego to "investigate" the killing of SAVAGE. This information was immediately furnished to the Intelligence Unit of the San Diego Police Department. The information proved to be reliable in view of the fact that approximately six BPP members did arrive in San Diego on 5/25/69.

At the present time the conflict between the BPP and the US organization appears to be increasing. There are reported clashes between the two groups on a frequent basis ranging from mere harassment up to and including beatings of various individuals. All of these activities are being closely followed for any potential counterintelligence activity.

Bureau authority was granted on 5/28/69 for New Orleans to prepare an anonymous letter to [redacted] and this is currently being prepared by the New Orleans Office. New Orleans believes that the above would be the first phase of three phase move on the RNA in New Orleans. The second step of this will be the interview of [redacted] concerning his knowledge of the shooting of the Detroit Police Officers on 3/29/69. This interview will be conducted in such a manner that it will appear that the source of information regarding [redacted] is an individual who is out to get him. The third step of this operations will be the arrest by FBI Agents of [redacted] who has been identified by [redacted] and New Orleans hopes to achieve the effect of having [redacted] believe that the move against [redacted] was brought about by [redacted]

TREAT AS YELLOW

PREDATORY PANTHERS

Those who live in neighborhoods infested with Black Panther Party members are finding out that this pro-Chinese Communist revolutionary group is actually a collection of thugs and hoodlums.

The Black Panther Party claims it was formed to protect Negroes from police brutality, but now the question has become, who is to protect the Negro from the Black Panthers? For the members of this group, most of whom have long criminal records, continue their criminal behavior while using Party membership as a mask for their deprivations. And their victims are not white; their activities are in the ghetto, and as is the case with ordinary criminals, the ghetto dweller suffers the most.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) recently made a point of criminality in the ghetto. An NAACP committee on crime reported, "The reign of criminal terror in Harlem must be stopped now. The lives and property of the people are in constant danger by day and night." The NAACP spoke out against "marauding hoodlums," who attack "black or white" and specially prey on "the old, the weak, and the handicapped."

Contrast the NAACP's position with that of Huey Newton, Black Panther Party Minister of Defense, now serving a prison sentence for killing a police officer. On October 21, 1967,

Newton pronounced the Panther credo, "As long as an act is revolutionary, it cannot be regarded as a crime."

Panther Crime

On January 17, 1969, Los Angeles police saw a "revolutionary act" in progress. Police spotted four men in a stolen car, and when the car was stopped one subject jumped out, fired a shotgun at police, and the car roared off again. After a short chase police successfully stopped the car and a gun battle broke out. One subject was critically wounded. The other subjects admitted they had just committed an armed robbery of a drive-in restaurant in their stolen car and were then on their way to mug Negro security officers in order to get guns. This group was led by a Los Angeles Black Panther.

In Seattle, Washington, Curtis Harris, Captain of the Black Panther Party, was arrested 11/25/68 after an armed robbery in which four shots were fired. The robbers escaped from this robbery in a red Mustang which was traced to Harris through the license number and found in front of his residence with the engine still warm. However, Harris was released when witnesses failed to identify him. Other members of the Panthers in Seattle have been arrested for armed robbery, carrying concealed weapons, theft, burglary, arson and escape from custody.

New York City Black Panthers were arrested 11/21/68 in Stamford, Connecticut, in possession of a stolen car. Guns, ammunition, handcuffs and a map showing bank locations in Stamford were found in the car. In nearby New Haven, Connecticut, two Panthers have been indicted by a Federal Grand Jury for transporting firearms across the state line.

Panthers were arrested and charged with fire bombing a grocery store in Baltimore, Maryland, in August, 1968. Two Panthers were sentenced to five years in April, 1969, for this crime. Panthers were arrested at their headquarters Des Moines, Iowa, for arson which destroyed an A & P store and a lumber yard in October, 1968. Seattle Black Panthers were responsible for an armed robbery in Eugene, Oregon, and a Panther drove the getaway car during a Brinks robbery and murder of a guard in Berkeley, California, in January, 1969.

The Lieutenant of Education of the Panthers in Seattle was arrested March 14, 1969, for robbery of the Fidelity Mutual Savings Bank in Seattle on March 7, 1969. A Panther arrested in Baltimore on February 25, 1969, was found to be carrying a .38 caliber pistol. The Captain of the Black Panther Party in Eugene, Oregon, Howard Douglas Anderson, Jr., was indicted March 24, 1969, for assault with a dangerous weapon, as was his brother, Tommy Lee Anderson.

Between November, 1968, and February, 1969, some fourteen members of the Panthers in New York City were arrested for serious crimes. Among these were [illegible] Manuel Perez, arrested for the November 29, 1968, machine gunning of the Fifth Precinct police station in Jersey City, New Jersey.

Joudon Ford, Deputy Minister of Defense of the Black Panther Party in New York, was arrested by the FBI for carrying a concealed weapon on board an aircraft. Donald Gregory Weems was arrested in Newark, New Jersey, on February 17, 1969, for bank robbery. Weems was wounded in a chase following the robbery.

Ann Stewart, who used the name Ife Balagoon, was arrested December 31, 1963, attempting the robbery of a subway station booth. She was also charged with firing a pistol during this robbery attempt. Another Panther was arrested as a deserter.

In the apartment of one arrested Panther police found a rifle, 71 sticks of dynamite, 100 instantaneous dynamite caps and 50 feet of explosive primer cord.

Six Panthers were arrested in Newark, New Jersey, on March 2, 1969, for possession of a stolen car and four Party members were charged in Chicago, Illinois, on April 11, 1969, by Federal authorities for buying machine guns.

Attacks on Police

The Black Panther Party was organized ostensibly for the purpose of protecting the black community from its "occupying army," which is what the Panthers call local police.

This "protection," in practice, has worked out to be continuous, unprovoked, and deadly attacks on police by armed Panther members. An early instance of this was an attack on Berkeley, California, police by Panther leaders Bobby Seale and Huey Newton. Police were attempting to arrest Seale and Newton for shouting obscene statements in a restaurant; the two Panthers bit and kicked the two arresting officers, a crowd collected and screamed "Cut him! Stab him!" whereupon Bobby Seale pulled out a knife and made several passes at one of the officers.

The Black Panther Party has long advocated that Negroes arm themselves. The group first got national publicity when 12 Panthers carrying rifles, shotguns, and handguns visited the California State Capitol on May 2, 1967, and forced their way onto the floor of the Assembly Chamber. Since then, especially in California, Panthers have flaunted their carrying of weapons openly in public. Oakland, California, police on May 22, 1967, were investigating a complaint against juveniles observed carrying a saved-off shotgun. The officers were accosted by three Black Panther Party members, including Huey Newton who was armed with a 9½" long blade. Newton held the knife in the face of one of the officers and threatened to cut his throat. During the arraignment of these three Panthers following their arrest, Panther leaders Bobby Seale and Bobby Hutton were arrested in the courthouse for carrying shotguns with barrels of illegal length..

On October 28, 1967, an officer of the Oakland Police Department stopped a car driven by Huey Newton for a traffic violation. While the officer was awaiting the results of a radio inquiry as to whether the car was stolen, Newton shot and killed him. Newton critically wounded the second police officer and was wounded himself. He was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and given a prison sentence of 2 to 14 years.

Police in Oakland on April 6, 1968, attempted to question the occupants of two parked cars. Among these individuals were 15 Black Panther Party members, including leaders Eldridge Cleaver and David Hilliard. The Panthers opened fire as officers approached the parked cars and a 90-minute gun battle left one Panther dead, another injured and two police officers wounded. Cleaver and six other members of the Black Panther Party were charged with attempted murder as police learned that the Panthers had been driving around in an attempt to ambush police.

On July 28, 1968, two members of the Black Panther Party in New York City threw a Molotov cocktail into an empty police car and completely destroyed it. The Panthers had telephoned police with a phony complaint and when officers arrived in response to the complaint the car was set on fire. Across the country at Seattle, Washington, on the next day, officers arrested two Panther leaders on theft charges. Following the arrest, snipers fired at police cars, injuring one officer. Another policeman was injured

A gun battle erupted in Los Angeles on August 6, 1968, when police officers approached a car at a service station. Three members of the Black Panther Party were shot and killed and two police officers were wounded. Three days later in the same city, police were fired upon by a group of Negroes, several of whom were recognized as Black Panther Party members. Police returned the fire and eight Negroes were arrested.

In New York City on August 21, 1968, firemen responding to a rubbish fire were the targets of thrown missiles. Police were summoned and as a result, three Black Panther Party members were arrested for assault. They pled guilty to assault charges on December 16, 1968.

Three members of the Panthers were arrested by Los Angeles police on August 31, 1968, after an unsuccessful attempt to ambush police officers. Shots were fired in one area in an attempt to lure police to the site but the attempted ambush failed when police approached the area from an unexpected direction.

On September 24, 1968, a Panther in Jersey City, New Jersey, stood in the middle of the street blocking a police car. When police attempted to arrest this individual a large number of Panther members burst out of a nearby building and attacked police with night sticks and sawed-off pool cues. Four police officers were injured and three

A Berkeley, California, police officer stopped a car on November 18, 1968, for a traffic violation. As the officer approached the automobile one of the occupants opened fire, sending a bullet through the clothing of the policeman. The officer returned the fire, wounding the driver of the car. All three occupants of the automobile were found to be members of the Black Panther Party.

In San Francisco, on November 19, 1968, three police officers were wounded when they stopped a truck suspected of being involved in a robbery. Seven of the eight individuals in the truck were identified as members of the Black Panther Party and the truck itself was a delivery vehicle for the Black Panther Party newspaper.

During the evening of November 29, 1968, the 5th Precinct police station in Jersey City, New Jersey, was hit by 36 shots from an automatic weapon. Three Black Panther Party members were arrested for this attack.

Seattle, Washington, Black Panther Party member Garner Earl Brooks was arrested in connection with his shooting at a Seattle police car on January 11, 1969.

On January 17, 1969, in New York City two patrolmen investigated a car parked at the side of an expressway. Two Negro men standing by the car told police they were having motor trouble; then one suddenly opened fire with a pistol. One policeman was hit and both the Negroes fled. A 19-year-old on this ambush "to prove herself." A .38 caliber revolver was found at the scene, two Panther members were identified as the assailants, and a loaded, high-powered rifle was found in the rental car used by the group. Two other Panthers had rented the car.

Criminal Backgrounds

One reason for criminal activity by the Black Panther Party is the criminal backgrounds of many Party members. The ranks of the Panthers are filled by a large number of hoodlums with long criminal records. For example, Jorge Aponte, Jr., a Brooklyn New York Panther Lieutenant was convicted of attempted robbery with a sawed-off shotgun in 1961.

Jerome Chambers, a Panther in Newark, New Jersey, has over twenty arrests, including arrests for larceny, assault, robbery, and narcotics violations. Isaiah Rowley, also of the Newark Panthers, has been arrested for armed robbery, breaking and entering, looting, narcotics violations and assault on a police officer.

Anthony Coston of the New York City Black Panther Party was arrested in 1960 for assault and robbery. Fred Alan Hampton, Field Director, of the Chicago Black Panther Party, has a long arrest record, including several arrests for mob action, aggravated assault, and robbery. Tommy Lee Horne, of the San Diego, California, Panthers, has several burglary convictions. Carver Gene Neblett, East Coast Field Marshal of

The Black Panther Party has a great attraction for young hoodlums; they can continue their criminal activities under the guise of being "revolutionaries" rather than common thugs. Like the Nazi street brawlers they like to clothe their crime in a cloak of philosophical justification.

ReSDairtel 5/27/69.

Authority is not being granted to disseminate or otherwise distribute the cartoon enclosed with referenced communication. A review of the cartoon discloses that it is too general as to content and is difficult to understand. In addition it does not appear to criticize the specific groups mentioned in referenced communication. The idea of formulating a cartoon which will lampoon various black student groups now forming coalitions on the San Diego City College campus is good. San Diego should review the local situation and if appropriate forward ideas for a specific cartoon which pits the BPP against the Black Student Council, Black Student Unions, US and the Black Student Alliances in the San Diego area. It may be that for San Diego's purposes the cartoon may show the BPP as the dominant group with the other campus organizations completely subordinate. If this type of cartoon is feasible, San Diego should forward to the Bureau for production and return for dissemination.

Take no action without specific Bureau authority.

NOTE:

San Diego furnished us with a cartoon which appeared in a student newspaper. The cartoon was apparently a takeoff on attempted coalition between several black extremist groups on the San Diego City College campus. The cartoon is vague. It is not believed that we would obtain counterintelligence results if we authorized anonymous mailings to various groups. We are instructing San Diego to consider the local situation and forward ideas regarding a cartoon that might have impetus.

Enclosed for the Bureau is one Xerox copy of a cartoon which appeared in the 5/9/69 student newspaper "The Fortknightly", a publication of San Diego City College.

As the Bureau is aware, the Black Student Council (BSC) and MAYA have formed a coalition on the campus of the University of California at San Diego. Information has also been received that the US organization is attempting to infiltrate the BSCs, Black Student Unions (BSU), and Black Student Alliances (BSA) in the San Diego area. If this attempt is successful, it will then present a three-way coalition between the US organization, various black militant organizations, and Mexican-American groups.

The enclosed cartoon is an apparent takeoff on this attempted coalition. To add additional emphasis to this situation, it is pointed out to the Bureau that during the past week a conflict developed at San Fernando Valley High School in the Los Angeles area between the Mexican-Americans and the black students.

Information in referenced teletype disclosed that officers of the BPP in the New York City area are planning and being ordered to quit their jobs and go on welfare, so that they can devote additional time to BPP affairs.

The New York Office should make a discreet survey to determine how many BPP officers are presently on welfare in New York City. As soon as this is determined, New York should make specific counterintelligence suggestions concerning the dissemination of this information to appropriate authorities and other interested persons. Handle promptly.

Counterintelligence Operations in Effect Against the Black Panther Party (BPP)

No new counterintelligence operations have been placed in effect against the BPP since date of referenced letter.

Exhaustive interviews of BPP members are being continually conducted, causing a considerable degree of consternation on the part of the leaders as to whom should be trusted within the organization.

Counterintelligence Operations Under Consideration

In addition to following the arrest of BPP members, looking for possible violations of the Antiriot and gun control laws, their every-day activities are being closely scrutinized for violations of local laws, in which case this information can then be furnished to local law enforcement officers for action.

Accomplishments Obtained

Close liaison has been maintained with the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) in regard to the recent bombing of the LAPD 77th Division on 5/26/69. On 5/26/69, the names of several possible suspects were furnished to the LAPD. One of the names listed as a possible suspect was [redacted] Information

1. Operations Under Consideration

Violations of the Anti-Riot and gun control laws by black nationalists are continuing to be followed by the Los Angeles Office to determine if these individuals might be prosecuted under Federal and State laws.

Surveys of toll calls of various black nationalist leaders are continuing under present Bureau policy with the results of these reviews being considered for action under the counterintelligence program.

The Los Angeles Office is continually alert for any situation which might arise within the black nationalist movement conducive to an effective counterintelligence operation arising from the above.

2. Operations Being Effected

The Bureau will refer to Los Angeles letter dated 3/17/69 regarding counterintelligence measures directed against the Black Panther Party (BPP).

Interviews with members of black nationalist groups are being conducted with regularity and this has caused some concern and disruption among members of the black nationalist organizations.

RE: Omaha letter to Bureau 5/19/69;

The Black Panther Party in Omaha and its affiliate at Technical High School the Black Association for Nationalism Through Unity (BANTU), have since April, 1969, concentrated their efforts against the Omaha school administration. As pointed out in referenced letter, the latter organization recently furnished a list of 23 demands to the Technical High School administration and also sponsored a boycott of this school by its students on 5/19/69, which boycott resulted in a high percentage of absenteeism on the part of the Negro student body at that school.

Now that school is out for the summer, the area of concentration of these organizations is at present unknown and remains to be seen.

Omaha is continuing to remain alert to various activities of the Black Panther Party and BANTU that might lend themselves to counterintelligence activity and it's anticipated that such situations will present themselves in the near future.

No counterintelligence accomplishments have been obtained under captioned program since submission of the last bi-weekly letter.

This matter will continue to receive close attention and suggestions for counterintelligence activity against the Black Panther Party, BANTU and the leadership of these organizations at a future date will be submitted by separate letter.

Re Baltimore letters to Bureau, 5/26, 5/12, 4/28, 4/14 and 4/16/69; Bureau letter to Baltimore, 4/25/69; San Francisco airtel to Bureau, 5/14/69; and Bureau letter to San Francisco, 5/28/69.

1. Operations Under Consideration

At the present time the Baltimore Division is obtaining the regulations from the City Health Department regarding the handling of food, etc. in connection with the "Breakfast for Children Program" now being served by the Black Panther Party (BPP) in Baltimore, Maryland.

Specific CIP proposals regarding the breakfast program will be submitted when necessary information obtained.

2. Operations Being Effected

Bureau authority was received in letter dated 4/22/69 regarding BPP sources driving a wedge between SDS and the BPP are being implemented and the Bureau will be advised of any tangible results.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

The major developments of counterintelligence interest in the Baltimore Division is to isolate the BPP from the various anti-Vietnam War and peacenik-type groups in the division.

Interest is also being directed at alienating the BPP from the Soul School as investigation within the division indicates that these two groups are not getting along.

Re SL let to Bureau, 2-26-69.

The following information is submitted regarding counterintelligence activity (Black Nationalist) for the previous 90 days in accordance with Bureau instructions:

1. Operations Under Consideration

By letter dated 5-26-69, this Division recommended that STAUGHTON LYNN's letter to the Guardian, which criticized the Black Panther Party, be given the widest possible dissemination among New Left officers and rank and file.

2. Operations Being Effected

There are no counterintelligence operations currently being effected.

3. Tangible Results

Since November, 1968, three separate counterintelligence operations by this division succeeded in driving a wedge between [redacted] of the Black Liberators [redacted] eventually seized control of the Black Liberators and this division predicted in letter dated 1-24-69, under the above caption, the Black Liberators will collapse if [redacted] takes over. He did and they did.

In a separate operation, this Division effected an anonymous letter to [redacted] accusing him of infidelity, a copy of which letter ultimately reached [redacted] Since the receipt of the letter [redacted] left East St. Louis, Ill., went directly to [redacted] and has remained there for about two months. It is presumed he is spending some of his talent and energy "patching up" the marital difficulties this letter caused.

In April, 1969, this Division created and distributed about 200 copies of Blackboard, a purported "underground" newspaper of Southern Illinois University black students. It created an apparent stir in the black community and it put [redacted] in a very poor light in the eyes of the Negro community. [redacted] was so angry about it he "blew his cool" at a meeting of ACTION (local Negro activist group) and he succeeded in getting an invitation from local Black militants "to leave town." Furthermore, the stature of [redacted] has been greatly decreased in the Negro community.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

ACTION, a local Negro activist group, together with the local chapter of Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) until recently co-published a newsletter called ACTION ATTACK NEWS which was renamed The Struggle.

Recently ACTION and YSA discontinued their cooperation in this project over some ideological dispute and ACTION now publishes it themselves, having changed its name back to ACTION ATTACK NEWS.

This matter is being explored for potential counterintelligence activity and should a satisfactory plan be developed, Bureau authority will be requested to initiate it.

This is perhaps confirmed by [redacted] who reported on May 28, 1969, that [redacted] contacted BPP Headquarters at Berkeley, California and advised the Officer of the Day that there were only five Panthers left because of all of the arrests in New Haven and the local chapter had not been able to get any help out of New York to raise funds for the defense of those arrested. Nobody knew what to do with the money on hand and they had no leadership.

APPENDIX

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, aka Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by Bobby George Seale, BPP Chairman, and Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther," which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, George Mason Murray, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "... we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

At an earlier date in [redacted], an affiliate of the Black Panther Party in Indianapolis named [redacted] was interviewed at Marion County Jail, after being arrested on a narcotics charge, and given thirty days in jail. [redacted] at that time was willing to talk with agents but very evasive, cocky, and unwilling to say anything of value. On 5/27/69, [redacted] was observed in the City - County Building, outside one of the municipal court rooms. He was approached by agents while standing apart from other BPP members who were present in the hall. [redacted] was greeted and approached with comments indicating that he had been cooperative in the past with agents. [redacted] did not act unfriendly and the other BPP members nearby were watching with great interest. Inasmuch as the BPP leaders here do not want members to talk to agents and cooperate in any way, and since they have been suspicious of all members, it is felt that this act may have had merit as a counterintelligence measure. It was noted immediately after this that the other members did not want to have much to do with [redacted] and they immediately indicated distrust toward him.

In the event any other such situations present themselves, and appear to have any counterintelligence merit, they will be utilized for the appropriate purpose. Attempts to interview any members who might talk and even those who have been unwilling to talk will be continued.

Re Cleveland letter to the Bureau, 2/20/69.

1. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

[redacted] has advised that [redacted] to [redacted] functionary in the Republic of New Africa (RNA) has pocketed about $500 in funds earmarked for the "July 23 Defense Committee". This committee is a scheme operated by [redacted] ostensibly to gain funds for lawyers fees and miscellaneous expenses in connection with petitioning for a new trial for [redacted] It appears that in the near future [redacted] will be asked for an accounting of funds garnered from his appeals and should it be a minimal amount the Bureau will be requested to approve a letter addressed to various extremists and their sympathizers pointing out the discrepancy in funds reported and those received should such a discrepancy exist after [redacted] statement concerning funds received.

2. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Informants and knowledgeable sources have advised there is no validity to the rumor that [redacted] mentioned above in item 1 is running around with a white woman.

There are no counterintelligence operations now being affected at this time.

3. TANGIBLE RESULTS

Since the date of referenced letter Cleveland has not achieved any tangible results under this program.

4. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Informant information indicating that [redacted] has pocketed funds earmarked for the legal expenses of [redacted] is a development of counterintelligence interest.

It was mentioned in referenced letter that attempts would be made to tape speeches by [redacted] Black Extremist leader of the Afro Set, a local militant black nationalist group. It was felt the inconsistency of docile statements publicly made by [redacted] who professes to be a radical militant and claims to make radical speeches could be exploited. A tape of [redacted] speech before the Cleveland City Club Forum was obtained but the content did not appear to be geared for counterintelligence measures.

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

ReWFOlet, 3/3/69.

In accordance with instructions set forth in Bulet dated 3/4/68, the following data is submitted:

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

1. As the Bureau is aware, there have been a number of instances in the recent past in which black extremists have lectured to students at Cardozo and Eastern High Schools under the guise of black studies programs. During February, 1969, [redacted], Washington, D.C. (WDC), spoke at Eastern High School, WDC. [redacted] told the students that the capitalistic system is not for black people and alleged that the U.S. Government is in the process of building concentration camps in the U.S.; that there are eight or nine such camps in existence and the Government intends to launch a program of genocide against blacks in the U.S. The talk was designed to stir up the students and it was well received. It appears that the only effective way to counteract this situation would be through a series of in-depth articles by friendly local newsmen to prevent high school students from being exposed to black extremist preachings in an atmosphere that is one-sided and unrebutted by truth.

2. In connection with the above, WFO also reported that [redacted] lectured at the University of Oregon on 2/21/69, on techniques of making firebombs and hand grenades.

3. As the Bureau is aware, dissident students at Howard University, numbering no more than about 250, were successful in taking over six buildings of the university and closing down the facilities from 5/7-9/69; thereby disrupting the education of approximately 9,000 students who did not participate in the take-over and apparently were not sympathetic to its aims. It was also noted that the dissident students enlisted the support of the Black United Front (BUF) and at least one BUF spokesman, Rev. DOUGLAS MOORE-Chairman, indicated that the BUF was behind the students and supported them. WFO proposed a letter to the editor of a WDC newspaper by "Concerned Howard University Students" to discredit the BUF as a self-styled voice of the black community of WDC.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

WFO is not currently effecting any operation under the counterintelligence program.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

1. During the course of an investigation captioned [redacted] determined that [redacted], had purchased a new automobile in September, 1967. It was further determined that [redacted] was three months behind in her payments and the loan company was looking for the car to repossess it. With Bureau permission, WFO obtained information concerning the whereabouts of the car and provided same to a confidential contact at the loan company. The car was then repossessed, which has caused [redacted] a great deal of discomfort and inconvenience.

2. [redacted] of WFO advised that [redacted] Black Panther Party in WDC, agreed to appear on an interview-type program on television station WFAN, Channel 14 on 3/6/69. The source requested background material pertaining to the Black Panther Party which could be used to formulate appropriate questions for RIPPY and others who might appear with him. With Bureau permission, public source material relating to the Black Panthers was provided. Use of this material permitted the interviewer to ask a number of questions which embarrassed [redacted] and tended to discredit him in the eyes of the viewers.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF A COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

4. The Bureau was previously advised that the New School for Afro-American Thought was involved in an internal power struggle and a moderate faction intent on stressing the educational function of the school had taken control. Recently the New School for Afro-American Thought has experienced financial difficulties and the landlord has begun proceeding to evict NSAT for non-payment of rent. It is possible that this may cause the NSAT to disband completely thereby depriving extremist elements in WDC of a meeting place.

New Orleans is authorized to send the anonymous letter set out in reairtel, [redacted]

New Orleans should prepare the letter on commercially purchased stationery and take all necessary precautions to insure that it could not be traced to the Bureau. In order to pinpoint [redacted] as the source of the letter, New Orleans might desire to include some information which would throw suspicion on him. If [redacted] owns or has access to a typewriter, consider using a similar machine to prepare the letter, or the letter might be prepared in obviously highly disguised hand printing or using words and letters clipped from a newspaper. This would be appropriate if [redacted] would know [redacted] would recognize his handwriting.

NOTE:

The Black Panther Party and the New Left organization known as the Students for a Democratic Society have been attempting to cooperate with each other. St. Louis has recommended the mailing of anonymous communications to various New Left organizations. These mailings are in fact reprints of articles appearing in a New Left publication. Enclosed for the Bureau are three copies of a letter to the editor by STAUGHTON LYND, a New Left spokesman from Chicago, Ill., which letter appeared in the 5/17/69 issue of "Guardian", an independent radical news weekly published in New York, N. Y. The St. Louis Division feels that the current "battle" which is being waged between JULIUS LESTER, black correspondent and former SNCC functionary, and KATHLEEN CLEAVER of the Black Panther Party, which is being waged on the pages of the "Guardian", is a very good subject for potential counterintelligence.

The enclosed letter by STAUGHTON LYND, which tends to put the Black Panther Party in a very poor light, especially from the point of view of the New Left, mentions the confrontation between SNCC and the Black Panther Party when armed Black Panthers charged into the office of JAMES FORMAN.

It is felt that the widest possible dissemination of this letter should be effected among all New Left officers and rank and file. It is felt that this dissemination would have a two-fold effect. First, inasmuch as LYND is one of the primary spokesmen and leaders of the entire New Left Movement, it is felt that his influence would cause the New Left rank and file to greatly decrease their support of the Black Panthers and would regard the Black Panthers with extreme suspicion. Secondly, it is felt that this dissemination will add fuel to the fire which currently exists in this Black Panther-SDS split, and it is conceivable that it would seriously wreck any degree of cooperation existing between the Black Panther Party and the white members of the New Left.

While the ultimate decision should be made by the Bureau as to how to effect this wide distribution, St. Louis is of the opinion that one of the most effective ways would Description Lynd, Chicago: In her response to Julius Lester, Kathleen Cleaver (Jan. 3) says that white radicals should not hesitate to make judgements about the black movement.

I will take her at her word. If this is her attack on Lester is shameful, a disgrace to the new left. My concern is not the substantive difference between Mrs. Cleaver and Lester. I understood Lester to be saying that white radicals must to build a movement in the white community, as SNCC has asked them to do since 1964, and should not permit [illegible] questions-on-the-political-direction-of-the-movement, or even [illegible] black movement to deter them from that task. Mrs. Cleaver's key concern is the [illegible] that accompanies her [illegible]. She calls Julius [illegible] "a snake groveling [illegible]" "a viper", the [illegible] to the "monsters" [illegible]. Che Guevara and [illegible] Cleaver calls his writings "[illegible]," "dirt"; twice she speaks of his "madness"; finally she links Lester with "punks, sissies and cowards" and says fuck them and "fuck Julius Lester."

I have been told that during a dispute between the Panthers and SNCC, Panthers with guns went into Jim Forman's office and threatened his life. This story had seemed unbelievable to me until I read Mrs. Cleaver's letter. (Perhaps Mrs. Cleaver or some other member of the Panthers can clarify this question. Was Forman threatened?) When a member of the movement speaks of a former co-worker ("... having worked with Julius Lester in SNCC," writes Kathleen Cleaver) as Mrs. Cleaver speaks of Lester, shooting each other does not seem very far away.

It was the Panthers who introduced the style of calling people "pigs." White radicals have tripped over each other, not only to justify the use of that language by the Panthers, but to use it themselves. Mrs. Cleaver's letter demonstrates what the history of twentieth century radicalism should have made evident to us long since: that dehumanizing, defamatory language ("tyrants," "fascist dogs," "pigs," "snakes," "vipers") leads to a dehumanized movement. Perhaps when you call someone a pig, the next step is to call any one who disagrees with you a pig and the step after that to make him in fact what you have made him in words, that is, inhuman by killing him.

Re Columbia letter to Bureau, 2/28/69.

I. SUMMARY OF CHANGES SINCE REFERENCED LETTER

There have been no changes with regard to the types and/or the number of Black Nationalist groups within the Columbia Division since referenced letter.

The following are the known Black Nationalist groups in South Carolina:

1. Black Awareness Coordinating Committee (BACC) South Carolina State College, Orangeburg, S. C.
2. BACC, Voorhees College, Denmark, S. C.
3. Association of Afro-American Students (AAAS) University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C.
4. Student League for Black Identity, Clemson University, Clemson, S. C.
5. Nation of Islam (NOI)

The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) still has no organization in South Carolina; however, JOHN WESLEY BATTISTE is presently in Charleston, S. C., where he is supporting the employees of the Medical College of S. C. Hospital, Charleston, S. C., in their efforts to form a union. He is the only known SNCC worker presently in the State of South Carolina.

3 [redacted] Columbia, S. C., has been reclassified 1-A and was recently ordered to take his physical examination. The possibility of his being drafted into the military service is being followed closely and [redacted] both excellent friends of the FBI and both reliable and established sources, have indicated that it is their desire to draft [redacted] since he has not been keeping up academically at the University of S. C., and if he continues to fail his subjects there, there is a good possibility that he will be drafted into the service in the near future.

4. Since practically all of the Black Nationalist Movement in South Carolina is taking place on the college campus, Columbia will initiate an intensive interview program during the summer while students are at home. Bureau authority will be obtained prior to conducting actual interviews. The purpose of these interviews will be to develop informants who will return to their respective colleges this fall and thereafter report on the activities of the Black Nationalist Movement on their respective campuses.

His activities are being followed closely with the Selective Service Board and pertinent information is discretly furnished to that board for whatever action they might desire. This action is being controlled very closely so that the Bureau will not be put in a position of trying to have an individual drafted into the service and [redacted] have taken the initiative in this matter.

ANALYSIS OF PUBLICATION

Articles appearing in the 30th Edition of "The Voice of the Black Community" (VOBC) of Intelligence interest are as follows:

The two articles contained on Page 1 of "The Voice of the Black Community" entitled "Porter and Brown Doing Their Thing" have previously been set forth under a separate LHM (Springfield File: 157-1094, entitled "For Souls Only", dated April 11, 1969).

An article written on Page 3 of the VOBC entitled, "How About This" states that the most questionable appointment made by the NIXON Administration was the one made by the Department of Justice Community Relations Service. The article reflects that BEN HOLMAN was selected to succeed ROGER WILKINS to head this agency and HOLMAN is black. The article further reflects that HOLMAN made his remark by exposing Black Muslims in Chicago for a network and his first act after taking office was to fire his Negro administrative assistant and his Negro secretary and replace them with whites. The article goes on to state that while he headed the CRS Public Relations Office, he employed an all white staff and used the consultant services of a white public relations firm to set up meetings for blacks.

A second article on Page 3 entitled, "The Chatterbox" advises that the Black Central Coordinating Committee (BCCC) is still accepting applications for the job of Community Organizer. The article reflects that if you qualify, don't hesitate to apply. The job not only supplies a livelihood, but also supplies the means for helping black people gain recognition in Decatur.

Under the same article another paragraph contains a statement that black students are getting uneasy. The article reflects that none of their demands have been met and talk is going around about doing the whole bit over again. (Decatur High School Boycott). The article states that the schools had better wake up and start keeping its promises or the black students are going to do their thing. The article also states that the support will be much better the next time because more kids are unhappy with the way things are going. Signed: A Black Student.

Another article under "Letters To The Editor" on Page 3, further reflects that very little is being done about the demands placed on the school administration during the school boycott.

On Page 6 of the VOBC, an article entitled "The Voice Intent" states "The VOICE has and will continue to bring to you news and events about local black people that we feel is in the best interest of the black community. Using this media as a source of information enhances your chances of getting a true picture of situations that might arise concerning black people." The article further reflects that any items of newsworthy interest should be submitted to the VOBC for consideration.

ANALYSIS OF PUBLICATION

Articles appearing in the 31st Edition of "The Voice of the Black Community" (VOBC) of Intelligence interest are as follows:

An article written on Page 1 of the VOBC entitled "Blacks Seek Assassins of King" indicates that a deal was made between Defense Attorney PERCY FOREMAN and the Prosecuting Attorney PHIL M. CANALE to swiftly place RAY in solitude to avoid scrutiny by an extended court trial. The article reflects that this was done in order to smother the truth about KING's assassination. The article goes on to state that RAY was involved in a conspiracy and probably served as the "FALL GUY". The article states that by making a deal to avoid a full court investigation, the racist Memphis court and federal government are seeking to avoid any threat of black outrage if the trial reveals political collusion.

On Page 2 of the VOBC, an article entitled "Decatur Or Cairo" advises that with each coming day black people become more aware of the efforts to delete them out of all forms of Americanism. The article reflects that by becoming more aware of the hypocracy that exists, the blacks are dissenting more vigorously. The article questions whether this dissent is the purpose of the concentration of military vehicles in the area bounded by Broadway Street and the IC tracks just south of Marietta in Decatur. The article also reflects that the training of personnel in this area is being watched with great concern by the predominately blacks who live in this area and questions whether this constitutes a move to contain people who are in search of a true democracy. The article goes on to state that a similar situation is existing in Cairo, Illinois where almost half its population is black but the town is completely controlled by whites. The article states that black brothers are going against the whites and the police and that the white society calls law and order containing black people by any means. The article further reflects that the Local Association for Black Action (LABA) has sent Governor Ogilvie a telegram denouncing the treatment of black people in Cairo and asking that he take whatever steps necessary to guarantee the rights of the black people and that community.

ANALYSIS OF PUBLICATION

Articles appearing in the 32nd Edition of "The Voice of the Black Community" (VOBC) of Intelligence interest are as follows:

An article on Page 1 of the VOBC entitled "Let Freedom Ring" reflects that the Black Central Coordinating Committee held a memorial for Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING at the New Canaan Baptist Church and though the crowd was not large, the people who attended, both black and white, were the people of the community who had concerned themselves with the betterment of race relations and dedicated themselves to the uplifting and liberation of black people. The article reflects that the church is small but it was filled, approximately half black and half white. The article further reflects that ARTHUR TATE represented the BCCC as Master of Ceremonies and one of the chief speakers was GEORGE S. GRAYNED.

An article on Page 3 of the VOBC entitled "Chatter Box" states that the percentages were not encouraging at the memorial for Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING. The article reflects that half white and half black attended the church when there should have been only black people. The article reflects that the black community was honoring a man who passively sought equality and justice for all of humanity, and yet the black people denied him this hour. It further reflects that blacks have also denied young militants who have attempted to achieve the same goals by other methods. The article is ended with the question, "What do you people want?"

ANALYSIS OF PUBLICATION

Articles appearing in the 33rd Edition of "The Voice of the Black Community" (VOBC) of Intelligence interest are as follows:

An article on Page 1 of the VOBC entitled "Cairo, Land of the Free?" states that the federal government in recent years has applied so much pressure on the Ku Klux Klan that they went underground. The article advises that the Ku Klux Klan is now using guerilla tactics to harass and humiliate black people of the South because they are afraid of the federal intervention. The article goes on to state that in the state of Illinois we have vigilantes patroling the streets of Cairo making no attempt to hide from the law because their actions have received the blessings of the law enforcement body. The article reflects that Father MONTROY led a delegation that came from all over the state consisting of 20 black citizens from Cairo, over 100 white clergymen, one black clergyman and other interested citizens from mid Illinois. It states that they sought and received an audience with black legislators from Illinois, asking that they do something to bring the matter to the Governor's attention. The article reflects that in the past two years there has not been one black person sit on the jury in Judge SPOONER's court in Cairo. The article further reflects that black people are threatened at the polls by loss of jobs and that the median income of the blacks in Cairo is $1600 per year. The article goes on to reflect that the young black leader of the community has stated that they are attempting to establish an interrelated black community through black co-ops and at present they have in operation a black supermarket. The article states they have also imposed a boycott on all downtown businesses and that the 17th Street Church in Cairo is the only church that will open its doors so that they might have community meetings.

The editor of "The Voice of the Black Community", HORACE G. LIVINGSTON, JR., advises that DAVE LIVINGSTON, a member of the group who went to Springfield from Decatur, asked Father MONTROY if the FBI had been called in. Father MONTROY said, "Yes, they are there, but they are investigating us for anti-riot activities."

A second article on the same page entitled "BCCC Selects Grayned" states that GEORGE S. GRAYNED has been selected by the Black Central Coordinating Committee (BCCC) for the job of community organizer in Decatur, Illinois. The article reflects that the BCCC, a committee composed of most black organizations in Decatur was formed as an aftermath of the school boycott several months ago, and since its organization it has been the general consensus of all representatives that a coordinator was needed. The coordinator was suppose to establish rapport between organizations, combine the efforts and endeavors of all black groups and direct them toward a common goal. The article further reflects that last but not least he would work in the community to develop the potential of aspirants who in the past have been denied. The article goes on to state that GRAYNED is a past employee of the Illinois Youth Commission, U. S. Department of Labor, and past president of the Local Association for Black Action. The article reflects that GRAYNED's duties begin in his new position on April 15, 1969 and his office is temporarily located in the ODO quarters on the corner of West Main and Church Streets. The article reflects that GEORGE GRAYNED is well qualified to man this position as he has played a leading role in this city in the quest for human decency and human rights. The article states he is a graduate of Eisenhower High School and has three years college education. The article further reflects that black Decatur is beginning to move toward a better life for all its citizens and establishing a community organizer is just one of the many things the BCCC has planned in hopes of creating a better atmosphere within the city.

On Page 2 of the VOBC an article entitled "As I See It" by HORACE G. LIVINGSTON, JR., states that complacency once again has taken its toll in the black community. The article reflects that in Saturday's election, T. EUGENE BLANCHARD, the only candidate on the ticket who showed any concern for black people was defeated. The article goes on to state that the election of these officials that goveru the community is the one way that the black people can decide what type of government they want. The article reflects that blacks cannot lay the blame for corrupt, inefficient, racist officials at the feet of white people if they do not use their voting strength.

ANALYSIS OF PUBLICATION

Articles appearing in the 34th Edition of "The Voice of the Black Community" (VOBC) of Intelligence interest are as follows:

The cover of "The Voice of the Black Community" is filled with large letters stating "Black Unity Must Be If Black People Are To Be, Together There Is Salvation - To Be Black Is To Be Proud, To Be Proud Is To Be Truly Beautiful".

On Page 2 of "The Voice of the Black Community" under a title "As I See It" by HORACE G. LIVINGSTON, JR., the editor of the VOBC reflects that as a people the blacks have failed miserably in Decatur in grasping how urgent the need is for unity in the black community. The article reflects that the editor will continue to write about black unity until it catches on and until they have an inter-related community dedicated to help all black people.

On Page 3 under an article entitled "Letters to the Editor", a letter signed "Burned-up" states that top level organizations in Christendom all recognize the imperative to provide funds for communities to free someone within the black community from the white man's pursestrings to organize groups within the city to bring about social changes in living conditions for the black and the poor. The article further reflects that the BCCC 21 delegates from the seven such groups have chosen a person to do this very job in their community, however, the money verbally promised by the various churches in the community has not been provided. The letter states that the funds would be given with no strings attached and that this was suppose to mean the money would be given to the blacks to "do their own thing" in their own way. The article further reflects that all the black pride and black dignity they could muster they proudly announced that their leader is to be GEORGE GRAYNED, and as soon as the news reached the ears of the "Decatur Review" and they decided to write a story in the usual white fashion, all possible rumors, scandals, and controversies were included in the article. The article reflects that as a result various members of the BCCC began getting phone calls from various white clergymen, pleading "Anybody but George". The letter states that anyone whitey doesn't want is sure to be the right man for the job.

The letter reflects that their man, GEORGE GRAYNED, is a hometown man and they are expecting him to work with groups to do the things necessary to make Decatur a better place in which to live. The letter closes with the statement, "Will it be Build, Baby, Build, or Burn, Baby, Burn?"

On Page 5 of "The Voice of the Black Community" an article entitled "In the Wilderness: Dick Gregory" contains portions of a speech given by DICK GREGORY. This article contains a statement which has quoted DICK GREGORY as saying "The Jewish reaction to black antisemitism shows the structure of the racist system. Every Jew in America over 20 years old knows another Jew that don't like niggers. So when you run across a nigger that don't like Jews, the only upsetting thing about it is that the nigger is the lowest thing on the totem pole and it's an insult." The article goes on to reflect that GREGORY states "America is an anti-semitic nation. Black folks have always wanted to be like white folks, so we picked up the bad habits with the good. Personally, I tell the kids I'm glad black anti-semitism came out because now for the first time you know it's there. Every black man in America in a large urban city done heard his momma make an anti-semitic statement. Only the white folks didn't know it, the Jews didn't know it and it was OK. But it's BEEN there and the only way to get it out is to get it in the open. That's the only thing that's going to stop it."

The article goes on to reflect that the high school kids in the country are demanding changes in their education and they will take these changes into the colleges and create problems for the future.

Re Minneapolis letter dated 3/3/69.

Since re letter there has been no racially-oriented violence in the Minneapolis Division. There has been no information developed indicating activation of any Black Nationalist-type hate groups, including the Black Panther Party. As noted before, Minneapolis does have a Nation of Islam group present, whose membership is constant, and which group has not been involved in any racial disturbances.

Minneapolis does have close informant coverage in the Negro community and will continue to follow closely the activity of the few militants in the Minneapolis Division that might possibly be involved in organizing a Black Nationalist-type hate group.

Re Jackson let to Bureau, 2/26/69.

QUARTERLY PROGRESS LETTER

The following changes in the overall Black Nationalist movement in the Jackson Division have occurred over recent months:

1) Republic of New Africa (RNA) has been attempting to organize a chapter in Jackson and has set up a consul for the RNA in Jackson.

2) Nation of Islam (NOI) representatives have been attempting to organize an NOI cell among the Negro element in the Meridian vicinity. The original organizer who is from Miami, Florida, has left the state and organizational activity has only shown very limited success to date.

3) A Black Student Union has been established at the University of Mississippi, Oxford; a Black Student Organization has been organized at Delta State College, Cleveland, Miss., and an Afro-American Society has been seeking to obtain campus approval at Jackson State College, Jackson, Miss. No extremist activities have yet been undertaken by any of these three new student groups at present.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The Jackson Division is presently studying various aspects in the operation of three NOI cells in the Jackson Division for information which could be used as a basis for a subsequent counterintelligence measure. When appropriate data developed and proposal determined appropriate, a recommendation will be submitted to the Bureau for approval in this regard.

Activities of other Black Nationalist extremists and groups are constantly being analyzed to determine if logical counterintelligence operations can be appropriate re these individuals and/or groups.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Re Jackson airtel to Bureau, 4/16/69, wherein the Jackson Division submitted for Bureau approval a recommendation that an anonymous letter be submitted to independent Jackson Division black extremist [redacted] This letter was to be written as if prepared by a [redacted] Tougaloo College Defense Committee and worded in such a manner that it would indicate the student body at TC was very upset with [redacted] activities on the campus even though not a student and were planning to take direct or indirect actions to counteract his activities if he continued to frequent the campus.

Bureau approval was obtained to forward this letter by airtel dated 4/23/69. The letter was prepared and mailed to Jackson, Miss., on 4/25/69.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

IV. OTHER DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The Jackson Division has been concentrating with informant coverage and other counterintelligence measures on the Tougaloo College Political Action Committee (PAC), a SNCC affiliate at Tougaloo, Miss. In the past several weeks, in large part due to these efforts, PAC has had a significant decrease in activities, membership and popularity on the TC campus. Informants say that PAC has reached its lowest level since its beginning a few years earlier on the campus.

[redacted]

Due to FBI spotlighting of him and his activities, and close advisement of local authorities of these activities, [redacted] was arrested on a felony charge of possession of marijuana in [redacted] He was subsequently convicted and received a fine and three-year sentence which he has appealed. Since this conviction, he has continued to be active in the Black Nationalist field in the Jackson Division; however, at a substantially subdued pace and in a manner where he tries to protect his own

Comments were to be placed in bi-weekly letter submitted regarding BPP.

It is to be noted that the Jackson Division has no known BPP Chapter and accordingly, is not submitting bi-weekly letters. No information has been developed that any BPP elements are attempting to set up any BPP Chapter in Miss.

The Jackson Division has a pending case on BPP and is continually contacting informants and sources regarding and possible BPP activity in Miss. Any information developed will be provided expeditiously to Bureau and San Francisco, as well as any information or suggestions of value regarding counterintelligence proposals against BPP nationally.

Re San Francisco airtel, dated 5/14/69.

Set forth herewith are the present developments in captioned program.

(1) Breakfast for Children. It has been learned that BPP headquarters intends to terminate this program when the spring school session comes to an end in a few weeks. Plans to resume in the fall are unknown. It is expected that "Black Liberation Schools," classes for school children, will be undertaken this summer. This will be undoubtedly an attempt to indoctrinate young children in BPP philosophy. This will be followed closely.

(2) The Stokely Carmichael expulsion letter. Just prior to departing for London and Paris this past week, [redacted], BPP, advised DAVID HILLIARD, Chief of Staff, BPP, that "something from STOKELY" had arrived but he was sending it on to [redacted] who was then in Boston. The "something" was not further explained. Boston is the center of operations of the one-time BPP [redacted] who formerly travelled as aide to STOKELY and has always been considered a close supporter of STOKELY. [redacted] is in official disfavor with the BPP and it is expected that one of the reasons for [redacted] to go to Boston was to "deal with" [redacted] and his alleged irregularities. It is not know what [redacted] ascertained from [redacted] or what action, if any, he took.

It also seems possible that [redacted] and more particularly KATHLEEN CLEAVER, who is with [redacted] might try to see CARMICHAEL, if he is still in Europe. There were, however, no known plans to do this prior to the departure of KATHLEEN CLEAVER and [redacted]

Thus, at this time, in spite of the attacks on CARMICHAEL and SNCC by BOBBY SEALE in the "Black Panther", the status of the relationship between the BPP and CARMICHAEL is not clear. CARMICHAEL's name is still on the BPP masthead as one of the officers of the BPP.

Recently, headquarters heard a report that [redacted] of SNCC was trying to speak to a political education class in New York. Headquarters stated that under no conditions should [redacted] be allowed to speak.

The SNCC group has been accused of practising cultural nationalism, an inacceptable philosophy as far as the BPP is concerned. An expulsion letter covering such prominent SNCC people as STOKELY, [redacted] would be relatively simple, concentrating on the cultural nationalism issue. However, to expel STOKELY alone, more specific issues would have to be considered and this seems more difficult to conceive when details as to why SEALE is "against STOKELY" are lacking. Although it is agreed that removing STOKELY permanently from the BPP would result in a major defection, it may be desirable to consider holding up this expulsion until more facts are known. To aid San Francisco in its composition of such a letter, suggestions from Atlanta, Boston, New York, and WFO are solicited, with emphasis on any knowledge they may have on why STOKELY and the BPP are at odds.

Concerning the letterhead paper furnished by Houston (with Central Committee signatures) and San Francisco, it seems that headquarters uses a "letterhead stencil" and runs off copies of the old letterhead when they are needed. Thus, both the signatures and the letterhead seem to be valid and in use at the present time.

Both typewriters at headquarters are inoperative at present and the Party borrows machines from various friends. Thus, letters from headquarters can be on various machines.

(3) A recent Counterintelligence operation that was very successful.

The below described episode illustrates the fact that timing and opportunity when combined with background knowledge can produce above average results. The episode was undertaken against BOBBY SEALE, when it was a question of minutes to decide what could be safely undertaken.

BOBBY SEALE was in New Haven speaking at Yale University on May 19, 1969. He was scheduled to proceed from there to Eugene, Corvallis and Portland, Oregon, and Seattle, Washington, for paid appearances.

It was only when SEALE was approaching San Francisco on his return from New Haven that it became known that a possible change in plans was coming. At almost the same time, the attention of the San Francisco Office was drawn to the Eugene bombings where BPP involvement was suspected by the public. As this was on the eve of SEALE's speech, this seemed to be very poor advance publicity for SEALE. It has been known a long time that [redacted] does not agree with BOBBY's activities in the BPP and fears for his personal safety. It was therefore determined to telephone [redacted] claiming to be a friend from Oregon, bearing the warning that it might be dangerous for SEALE to come up. This was done.

Shortly thereafter, [redacted] reported this to BPP headquarters, claiming an unknown brother had sent a warning to BOBBY from Oregon. Headquarters took this very seriously and when BOBBY arrived shortly thereafter, he decided not to go north with "all the action going on up there." He subsequently cancelled a trip to Seattle. It is believed that the above-mentioned telephone call was a pivotal point in persuading SEALE to stay home. The following positive results were gained:

1. Seale definitely passed up $1130 of badly needed cash in Eugene and $600 more in Corvallis, plus what else was to be paid in other appearances in the Northwest.

2. He "stood up" audiences expecting him.

SF 157-601
WAC:bfr

3. He caused a possible rift with his SDS partners because:

a. They went North without SEALE and collected therefore less money.

b. SEALE refused to return $150 in advance expense money paid out of his own pocket by TOM HAYDEN of SDS, SEALE saying to REESE ERLICH, HAYDEN's associate, "you paid for a good cause."

This technique can be rarely used to such advantage and in this instance, was an opportunistic endeavor seized upon at the right moment. It is suggested that Los Angeles may have a similar opportunity sometime with the [redacted] who fears for his safety and does not seem "sold" on his present actions.

Concerning the above STOKELY matter, Atlanta, New York, and WFO are requested, in addition to suggestions as to the letter, to advise if they know where STOKELY is at present and if it is possible CLEAVER could meet him in Europe. Boston is requested to advise if [redacted] is still active around Boston and if [redacted] "dealt" with him recently.

New York is to advise as to [redacted] present status with BPP although it seems clear he is still not regarded with any favor by the BPP headquarters.

By letter dated 2/26/69, the Bureau authorized St. Louis to mail an anonymous letter to the wife of [redacted] of SNCC and former [redacted] of the Black Liberators, which letter accused [redacted] of being unfaithful to his wife. In order to insure that [redacted] was aware that his wife had received this letter, a Xerox copy of it with a cover note from an anonymous friend was mailed from Cairo, Ill., by the Springfield Division on 3/17/69, which was assumed ultimately received by [redacted]

In its initial request for approval for the above action, the St. Louis Division anticipated that the above action would force the Black Liberators to spend a great deal of time attempting to discover the source of the letter, and it was also felt that the letter would cause [redacted] sufficient concern that it would detract from his SNCC activities and might force him to spend more time with his wife and children and less time in Black Nationalist activities.

been shortly after he received the letter from the "anonymous friend" in Cairo, Ill. He has remained in the Cairo area since that time and is presumably residing with his wife and two daughters there, although it is felt that the Cairo racial situation and the current dispute between [redacted] and the Cairo "White Hats" was a strong motivating factor in [redacted] going to Cairo. It is also very likely that his real purpose in returning to his wife and children was to attempt to "patch up" any marital difficulties which the letter undoubtedly caused.

BLACKBOARD UNDERGROUND NEWSPAPER

Pursuant to Bureau authority received in letter from the Bureau to St. Louis on 4/14/69, the St. Louis Division prepared 200 copies of BLACKBOARD, an alleged underground newspaper of the black students of Southern Illinois University (SIU). It was mailed anonymously by Special Agents of the St. Louis Division at Edwardsville, Ill., and copies of it were sent to virtually every black activist organization and Black Nationalist leader in the bi-state area.

The following results were noted by the St. Louis Division:

Page 10 of the 4/24/69 issued of the "St. Louis American", a weekly newspaper published in St. Louis, Mo., and oriented to the black community, contains a column by FARLEY WILSON, a black columnist for that newspaper. Midway through his column and recitation of various local events, WILSON said, "There is an absolutely scandalous 'underground' sheet floating around both sides of the river that devotes as entire section of its first page to some real dangerous allegations about a few of our 'blacker' black brothers and sisters and some so-called 'bed mating' sure hope that whoever [redacted] is printing that jazz is prepared to back it up."

[redacted] provided a Xerox copy of BLACKBOARD to the St. Louis FBI Office and advised that copies of it were all over St. Louis and East St. Louis. He stated that his sources have advised that [redacted]. He stated that although no one could publicly speak out against the [redacted] "the word was out" that [redacted] would be punished for his participation in it. [redacted] also advised that [redacted] was extremely angry about the newspaper, and he had told several people that he was going "to get" [redacted] was so angry about it that he attempted to get a local Negro radio station to give him radio time to answer the charges in BLACKBOARD.

On 5/14/69, Detective [redacted] advised that his sources stated that [redacted] had been told to "get out of town" by several black leaders as a result of his tirades against the BLACKBOARD newspaper and his outburst at the ACTION meeting.

On 5/14/69, [redacted] of the Springfield Division that [redacted] is still very angry with [redacted] for publicizing in BLACKBOARD [redacted] previous connections with the Zulu 1200, a black extremist organization in St. Louis, Mo., which is now defunct. [redacted] confronted [redacted] in person about this recently, and although [redacted] attempted to deny any connection with BLACKBOARD, [redacted] did not believe [redacted] denial. [redacted] had no information [redacted] as to any specific future action which black militants in the East St. Louis, Ill. area might take against [redacted]

[redacted]

The St. Louis Division feels, on the basis of the above, that the publication of BLACKBOARD was a most successful counterintelligence endeavor. It is felt that the effectiveness of [redacted] has been blunted, and it is unlikely that [redacted] will be able to regain their former stature. [redacted] have probably also lost some degree of influence as a result of BLACKBOARD's publication.

overthrow the Government by revolutionary means, "There seems to be little likelihood of this." All information developed to date leads to the obvious conclusion that this group is dedicated to the principle of violent overthrow and will go to any length to further this aim.

You point out that the activities of the BPP have reached the black and white communities as evidenced by their weekly newspaper which has reached a circulation of 45,000. You have previously been instructed to review your files concerning this newspaper to determine whether we could disrupt the mailings of the publication. Your answer stated that you were not in a position to do this. You must immediately take positive steps to insure that we will be in a position to accomplish CIP objectives including the disruption of the mailing of their publications. You must develop adequate informant coverage to insure that we are in a position to accomplish all of our objectives, which include steps to counteract the impact this group has made.

You state that local and national newspapers continue to publicize information concerning the BPP. This fact automatically lends itself toward mass media disseminations to capitalize on this eagerness and to isolate the organization from the majority of Americans, both black and white. The dissemination of mass media information to selected and trusted newspapermen, pointing out the violent and dangerous nature of a group, has contributed measurably to the decline of the Ku Klux Klan in the United States. Newspapers will print derogatory information much easier than they will print commendatory information, especially if the organization is by its nature violence-prone. For your information, the San Diego Office has waged an effective CIP against the BPP which has measurably resulted in declining activities and considerable disruption.

It is noted that BPP leader Bobby Seale speaks in schools and universities and receives fees of up to $1,000. This raises counterintelligence opportunities, among which are anonymous disseminations of derogatory information to universities and misuse of funds received.

As it concerns the BPP, you point out that results achieved by utilizing counterintelligence ideas such as publicizing the evils of violence, the lack of morals, the widespread use of narcotics and anonymous mailings, have not been outstanding. This is because a typical black supporter of the BPP is not disturbed by allegations which would upset a white community. You must recognize that one of our primary aims in counterintelligence as it concerns the BPP is to keep this group isolated from the moderate black and white community which may support it. This is most emphatically pointed out in their Breakfast for Children Program, where they are actively soliciting and receiving support from uninformed whites and moderate blacks. In addition, we have received information from San Francisco and other offices indicating that BPP officials are extremely suspicious of each other as to monies received. This also is a fertile ground for CIP and should be explored.

ReSFairtel states that nation-wide mailings to BPP chapter offices would automatically indicate that the FBI was the source. Mailings originating from Oakland, California, would logically be attributed to someone either at national headquarters of the BPP or a dissident who has recently resigned and had access to the records.

You state that the Bureau under the CIP should not attack programs of community interest such as the BPP "Breakfast for Children." You state that this is because many prominent "humanitarians," both white and black, are interested in the program as well as churches which are actively supporting it.

Airtel to SAC, San Francisco
RE: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM,
BLACK PANTHER PARTY
100-448006

You have obviously missed the point. The BPP is not engaged in the "Breakfast for Children" program for humanitarian reasons. This program was formed by the BPP for obvious reasons, including their efforts to create an image of civility, assume community control of Negroes, and to fill adolescent children with their insidious poison. An example of this is set forth in the May 11, 1969, issue of "The Black Panther." Page seven contains an article captioned "Black Panther Revolutionary Wedding." The article points out that two members of the Panthers were married at a church in Oakland, California, which is participating in the Breakfast Program. The crowd consisted mostly of Panther members and children from the Breakfast Program. Instead of a Bible, Bobby Seale used the "Red Book Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung" to perform the marriage. After the ceremony, the children sang "We Want a Pork Chop Off the Pig."

The CIP in the San Francisco Office must be re-evaluated. During the reevaluation, give thorough consideration to the adequacy of the personnel assigned. Insure that you are utilizing the best personnel available in this program. Advise the Bureau of the results of your reevaluation by June 9, 1969.

Referenced airtel mentions several specific CIP proposals now pending. Instructions will be furnished pertinent offices by separate communication.

NOTE: San Francisco has furnished an evaluation of the CIP in that office as it affects the BPP. That office is not in line with Bureau objectives in the use of counterintelligence. We are calling attention to their derelictions and point out various situations where they should have proposed counterintelligence. We are calling for a reevaluation of the whole thinking behind counterintelligence in the San Francisco Office.

Re Buffalo letter to the Bureau, 5/12/69 and Bureau letter to San Francisco, 4/23/69.

There has been no change in the status of the Rochester Branch of the Black Panther Party (BPP) subsequent to submission of Buffalo letter, dated 5/12/69.

The Rochester Branch, according to [redacted] has been inactive for almost three months, and according to BPP [redacted] will have to be reorganized before any activity can be resumed in the Rochester area.

As yet, the Branch has not located a new headquarters site, is disorganized and lacks a leadership against which a planned counterintelligence project could be operated.

Re Bureau airtel dated 5/2/69.

The object of this letter is to analyze the Counterintelligence Program of the Bureau as so far practised and to suggest lines of procedure for the future, in an attempt to seek avenues of improving our efforts and results, as well as to comment on three suggested projects.

(1) The Black Panther Party (BPP)

The Department of Justice has considered the BPP as a violence-prone organization seeking to overthrow the government of the United States by revolutionary and violent means. While there seems to be little liklihood of this, the BPP has stirred up Negro communities with threats of violence, and it reportedly has a stock-pile of weapons which cost a considerable sum to accumulate. The Party today is mainly composed of Negro youths from the streets, male and female, school truants and drop-outs, many with criminal records or tendencies, with a weakness for narcotics and sexual promiscuity. Violence comes naturally to them. The "Black Panther" newspaper features articles on violence, carries pictures of guns in prominent places, and prints revolutionary slogans. Behind this facade of militancy is a never-ending cry for justice for the Negro, job opportunities, and the familiar allusions to 400 years of slavery, etc. The Party in its daily work, maintains it is attempting to improve the lot of the Negro people. Many Negroes, of course, do not believe that the methods used by the BPP in the past are the proper ones to achieve the desired objectives. However, while the Negro community does not agree in the main with the expressed views of violence, it, along with much of the white community, does support such programs as the breakfasts for children, legal aid to arrested Negroes, etc. Their success in reaching the communities, both black and white, can be measured by the following:

A. The weekly newspaper circulation has increased to over 45,000.

B. The local and national news media continue to attend press conferences called by the BPP and to publish and publicize what was said there. For instance, "Time" magazine is sending out teams of prominent newscasters, such as ERIC SEVAREID and JOHN CHANCELLOR to interview black leaders for a TV special. They want to interview BOBBY SEALE and DAVID HILLIARD. They must certainly know of the revolutionary position of the BPP, yet they are willing to give it additional publicity. The BPP espouses the cause of Communist China and attacks the "revisionist clique" of the U.S.S.R. BOBBY SEALE and others of the BPP share platforms with leaders of the New Left. SEALE is in demand as a speaker in schools and universities, both domestic and foreign, where he asks for and receives a fee of $1000 for remarks which by now seem repititious.

The above is mentioned to emphasize the wide-spread, international publicity given this group at a time when the membership nationally is probably less than 1000 and even more likely to be perhaps only 500. The Panthers right now are not many people and perhaps also do not represent many people, as far as most of their actions are concerned. However, they do represent an idea, or a voice in the ghetto, and are often called upon by Negro residents, to come quell a disturbance in a playground or talk to someone alleging police brutality, even if the caller is not a BPP member.

The above is set forth to show the following summary:

A. The program and the complaints of the BPP are clearly defined in their literature and in the well-publicized appearances of the leaders.

B. In spite of or possibly because of its violence-preaching, it has struck the notice of the United States and world press.

C. Some sort of militant organization, if not named the BPP, will continue to attract these same people.

(2) The Role of the FBI to Counter This Particular Group.

The FBI has actually few laws to use in its investigative efforts concerning the BPP. Most of the violations of law incurred by members or sympathizers are of a local nature. However, as a result of intensive investigative efforts, a considerable amount of knowledge has been accumulated by the FBI concerning the BPP. Therefore, it is believed that based on this knowledge, effective counter-intelligence methods to disorganize and disrupt the BPP can be devised. To date, utilizing ideas drawn from the past, such as publicizing the evils of violence, the lack of morals, the widespread use of narcotics and alcoholic beverages, anonymous mailings, etc., results have not been outstanding. The typical black supporter of the BPP is not disturbed by allegations which would upset a white community. The various field offices have used imagination and have strenuously tried to bring forth worthwhile ideas to assist in the project. However, most of the plans have been along the lines of harassment, which, while perhaps causing temporary distress or extra work for a BPP worker, have not had any lasting effects. SEALE and HILLIARD remain firmly in control of the BPP structure. There have been serious defections and expulsions, many caused by personality clashes. Others arose from disciplinary action during the purges of January, 1969, when many criminal types were expelled. It is believed the personality issue will be always present and occurs regularly without outside inspiration.

The various offices have been interviewing former or present members of the BPP. Agents attempt to show a picture of FBI integrity and fairness, of success against the Klan in the South, etc. It is believed that to have even a chance of success, the FBI must not be completely equated with the "pigs" (local police). At times a Negro will agree that the FBI is different; one being interviewed for the first time by the FBI stated he thought that the Agents had "class." It would appear desirable for the FBI to maintain some of this image to help our future relations with these people. It is, of course, agreed at the outset that the vast majority of Negro militants classify the FBI as "pigs" also, and their opinion cannot be changed.

This leads to the recommendation that counterintelligence work should be of such a nature that it does not convey the impression that:

1. It originated with or can be attributed to the FBI or

2. The FBI is working against the aspirations of the Negro people.

This would mean that nationwide mailings to addresses where only a nationwide organization like the FBI could have knowledge, should be avoided.

Expensive mailings such as the San Diego caricatures are a borderline case, as at first the BPP blamed the us organization but later on blamed the CIA or the FBI. The caricatures caused anger but had no permanent, known effect.

Secondly, attacking programs of community interest such as the breakfasts for children should be avoided, since many prominent "humanitarians", whites as well as blacks, have become interested in this program and churches are actively supporting it.

Examples of successful counterintelligence were the publicity given the withdrawal from the bank of $30,000 by KATHLEEN CLEAVER, the publicity that the BPP had used funds from the Huey Newton Defense Fund to travel to Mexico, the expulsion of Deacon Alexander from the Los Angeles BPP because he was a member of the CPUSA, and the publicity given the "recruiting" of BPP members as "extras" for a filming of a Berkeley demonstration.

Emphasis should be directed to the "wrong" side of the BPP, violence, taking money from the "brothers", using the Party for personal gain, etc.

Needless to say, the Bureau should in no way be responsible, and thus be blamed, for any counterintelligence tactic which results in death or serious injury to a member of the black community.

As to the specific projects of the Bureau at this time, there are three which are under consideration and will be treated herein.

1. Breakfast For Children. This program is being promoted nationwide by the BPP (see Bureau letter, 5/1/69). It is not believed that this program to date lends itself to "disruption" at this time. The Party is very careful to maintain the "voluntary" aspect of the donations. Complaints of pressure of unauthorized demands so far have been dealt with quickly by headquarters. The members of the BPP get up very early in the morning to prepare the breakfasts, they work hard at getting supplies, and there is no indication of misapplication of the proceeds. In the absence of any information to date that the program is more harmful then beneficial, counter measures should be very carefully considered before being applied. It would not benefit the Bureau to sabotage such a program. San Francisco has interviewed a [redacted] who is active in the breakfast program. [redacted] displayed sympathy for the program. Further efforts of this nature at Sacred Heart Church or any other church are not recommended.

2. A second project was proposed by Houston. This involved renting a Post Office Box by [redacted], and then sending a letter in the name of the paper demanding $500 from the various chapters. This idea would arouse speculation by the recipients, but it is believed that they would only pick up the telephone and inquire as to what was going on. The Party uses the telephone to transact its business and the newspaper office regularly telephones all over the country asking for money. Therefore, it is believed that this plan would have no deleterious effect on the operation of the BPP or its newspaper, and its adoption is not recommended.

3. The third plan concerns the proposed forged expulsion of STOKELY CARMICHAEL from the BPP. It is believed this idea is a good one and the following variation is suggested. Instead of writing a letter to all offices of the BPP announcing the expulsion, it is recommended that a letter from BPP headquarters signed by the leading figures be sent to CARMICHAEL himself at SNCC headquarters. Included in the expulsion would be fellow SNCC members, [redacted] The grounds would be cultural nationalism. It is to be noted that [redacted] has already resigned from the BPP, [redacted] is up on charges to report to headquarters for discipline and CARMICHAEL is in official disfavor as a "one-time" Black Panther, to quote the Party newspaper. A letter limited in circulation would not be attributed to the FBI "pigs," and CARMICHAEL might accept it as a true document, even if the Party headquarters were to deny sending it.

The Bureau should note that CARMICHAEL for unknown reasons is still carried on the "Black Panther" masthead as Foreign Minister, notwithstanding the attacks on him in the paper.

The type of typewriter used at BPP headquarters varies. [redacted] advise that sometimes they use personally owned machines, sometimes they go over to the Berkeley "Barb" to write on their machines. Some machines are in the homes of leaders or are generally scattered around. Therefore, there is no definite information of value to this project available.

It is not believed that we should ask our newspaper contacts to print a fictitious, forged letter in the guise of a bona-fide document. Such tactics compromise both the Bureau and the newspaper.

WAC:bfr

In furtherance of this plan, Atlanta, Boston, New York, and WFO are requested to give their opinion as to the best place to address a letter to the above three and if, in their opinion, the letter should be to all three collectively or separately. Since all three are "cultural nationalists" and ~~SNCC~~ is "out" with the BPP, it would seem that treating them together might be the best procedure.

The San Francisco Office is currently attempting to secure a BPP letterhead for use in this project.

San Francisco is withholding submission of the draft letter of expulsion pending a decision on the above suggestion.

(BREAKFAST FOR CHILDREN PROGRAM)

ReBulet to Baltimore 5-1-69.

Referenced letter requested consideration for specific counterintelligence proposals concerning the disruption of BPP breakfast programs now being served in the cities covered by recipient offices.

Information has been received recently that various personnel in national headquarters of the BPP are infected with venereal disease. In view of this, each office receiving this letter should discreetly contact pertinent local authorities or otherwise obtain local health regulations regarding the handling of food. This information should be used in your consideration of specific CIP proposals regarding the breakfast program. Take no action without specific Bureau authority.

NOTE:

The BPP has started a breakfast for ghetto children program. They are teaching these children to hate white men in conjunction with these breakfasts. We are attempting to formulate specific counterintelligence techniques to disrupt this nefarious activity. We are instructing various offices to obtain local health regulations as it concerns food handling in view of recent information that several members at national headquarters have a social disease. We are furnishing this information to the offices covering these breakfast programs and instructing them to use this information in their consideration of counterintelligence proposals.

Re San Francisco letter, 4/21/69.

Submitted herewith is the regular bi-weekly airtel on captioned matter.

There have been no new developments in the San Diego caricature mailings.

Concerning the dissidents, [redacted] has been asked to rejoin the BPP; he was seen in the crowd at the May Day Rally at the San Francisco Federal Building. [redacted] testified at the recent Federal Grand Jury, mostly about the murder of [redacted] which he already had accused, in the press, the BPP of perpetrating. He was not very informative about earlier BPP activities.

This is pertinent when discussing New York suggestion of 4/30/69, wherein it was pointed out that the Party leadership was in confusion due to the frequent changes. Everyone in the BPP knows this, and it is a cause of resentment on the part of many rank-and-file members against SEALE and [redacted] However, the latter two are firmly in control, the press looks to them for interviews, and they do not seem to care how many members drop out or are expelled. has said the BPP would function with as few as 12 members if need be. It could be said that on the surface, the Party is near collapse with many offices closed. However, they still print and sell 45,000 copies weekly of their newspaper, so their message has appealed to some segments of the Negro community.

As to the Denver suggestion of 5/2/69, last paragraph, many BPP members, including dissidents, were given subpoenas to appear at the Grand Jury. Even the dissidents went to the BPP attorney for coaching [redacted] and took the 5th Amendment routine. It is not believed that it would be of any value to claim that they did give valuable information.

Regarding Bureau suggestion of 4/22/69, that we utilize the fact that BPP is not bailing out certain members when arrested, the Party usually does "go bail" when a member is arrested, if it has the money. Right now, BOBBY SEALE is trying to get expense money from a speech at Yale to give to the bail bondsman for some of the New York "21." In those cases where bail was not forthcoming, the principal subject being [redacted] their angle was used, possibly to advantage. [redacted] has been reasonably cooperative during interviews, but has not furnished much of value.

Regarding Bureau suggestion of 4/24/69, that we consider how to misdirect mailings of BPP literature, it does not appear that this office is in a position to do this at this time. It is agreed that failure of mail material to arrive would cause confusion and extra work for the National Distribution Office. This matter will be followed for future possibilities.

San Francisco has a deadline of 5/14/69, to submit plans to "expel" STOKELEY CARMICHAEL from the BPP. At that time, an analysis of the potential of the Counterintelligence Program to achieve positive results as opposed to programs of harassment which eventually might embarrass or discredit the name of the FBI will be made. Also, at that time, the counterintelligence idea against the "Breakfasts for Children" program and an analysis of the Houston proposal to rent a post office box and seek nationwide contributions to the BPP publications will be taken up.

The Memphis Office is at the present time giving consideration to instituting an interview program of all members of the Invader organization at Memphis, Tennessee, and coordinating this interview program with the [redacted] Through [redacted] services have been offered to the Bureau in any way the Bureau feels is best suited to make use of [redacted] knowledge re this Invader organization. By separate communication, Bureau permission is being requested to place in operation the following counterintelligence program by the Memphis Office. It is desired that two BuAgents familiar with Invaders at Memphis begin an interview program of all Invaders and that on the morning when an individual Invader is interviewed by the two BuAgents it is planned to have a followup interview on that afternoon by a [redacted] and [redacted] The following morning it is anticipated that the BuAgents will return and a reinterview of this Invader will take place. The hope of such an interview program is that in prior interviews with members of the Invaders, there is a tendency on their part to deny any connection with the Invader organization and the resulting interview boils down to an argument and in many cases it is impossible to get the Invader to admit membership in such an organization. By having [redacted] interview the Invader subsequent to the interview by BuAgents, it will be impossible for the Invader being interviewed to deny membership in the Invader organization when confronted with a person who has [redacted]

The followup interview by BuAgents is hoped to produce persons who will be convinced that their best interest in this matter will be to act as informants for the Bureau.

The Memphis Office is continuing its routine interview of rank and file Invader members and it is believed that within the near future one or more of the interviewees will be convinced to act as informants against this organization.

The above-mentioned interview program in conjunction with [redacted] not only is expected to result in the development of good racial informants within the Invader organization but it is believed that such a program will tend to disrupt the Invader activities, cause some Invaders to drop out of the organization, and create a feeling among the Invaders that their activities are under constant observation [redacted] the FBI. In connection with this program, certain designated key persons within the Invader organization are not to be included in this Invader program in the hope of creating suspicion on the part of rank and file Invaders as to why these persons were not interviewed hoping to create suspicion that one or more of these persons not interviewed is in actuality working for the Memphis PD and/or FBI.

Interview Program

As set forth above, the Memphis Office is continuing its interview program whereby routine interviews are being conducted with rank and file members of the Invaders. At the present time, it appears ~~that one~~ possible informant has been developed through this program.

In addition, information is continually being leaked to [redacted] and she is continually urged to write articles pointing out the criminal activity of the Invader organization in an effort to discredit this organization.

The Memphis Office is in constant communication with [redacted] and exchanges information on a daily basis re black power activities at Memphis along with SDS activities and New Left activities. This exchange of information has resulted in numerous arrests on the part of the Invaders and members of SDS at Memphis. This counterintelligence program will be continued.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS

Information has been received from various leaders of the Invader organization indicating that their operations are being seriously hampered by the distrust and lack of confidence in the Invader organization by the rank and file Negro resident of Memphis. Information has been received indicating that the counterintelligence activities directed against the Invaders has resulted in many of their leaders who are out on bond to be most circumspect in their criminal activities and their black power activities through fear of being arrested by the Memphis PD. Information has been received indicating that most of the leaders are convinced that based on interview program of the Memphis Office that not only are all of the leaders of the Invaders under constant surveillance by the FBI but that their telephones are tapped, their mail is opened, and that within their ranks are several informants. This has tended to curtail activities with regard to black militancy on the part of the Invader organization.

The articles written by [redacted] depicting the Invaders as a criminal group of thugs has been most beneficial to the Memphis PD inasmuch as many Negro citizens have called in to the PD and furnished information re Invaders almost without exception stating that after reading the articles by [redacted] they are now convinced that the Invaders are only interested in criminal activity and are not interested in elevating the Negro race.

Every care is being exercised to insure that information furnished to [redacted] is of a nature which could be obtained at public meetings or through public sources. She is continually cautioned to insure that the source of her information is not attributable as the FBI.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

One of the most effective deterents yet developed at Memphis directed toward disruption of the Invader activities was [redacted]

[redacted] informants within the Invader group have advised that it has been brought to the attention of the rank and file member of the Invader that these calls are now known by the Invader group to have originated from [redacted] and there is a considerable amount of distrust on the part of the Invader group toward the three designated persons who have been called by [redacted] In addition, [redacted] has as a policy on several occasions when the opportunity presented itself approached these three persons when on the street, appeared most friendly to them, and in leaving has mentioned that they should keep in touch more frequently. This also has been a topic of discussion among the Invaders and has created considerable distrust among the individual members of the Invader organization.

According to [redacted] this program will be continued.

The Memphis Office is remaining alert to any counterintelligence program which might tend to disrupt or neutralize the black militancy of the Invader group. The Bureau will be kept advised of all developments.

These interviews would again be followed by FBI interviews in order to preclude the Invaders member denying his membership, which has happened in the past.

Interviews of subjects are not, strictly speaking, a counterintelligence operation, although this action often neutralizes members of an extremist group. Memphis should proceed with interviews of rank and file members on SAC authority as provided by the Manual of Instructions. Initial interviews of officers, however, require Bureau authority and this authority should be requested in the usual manner.

For the information of Memphis, the fourth line of the counterintelligence caption should be the target of the counterintelligence action or the purpose of the action. Thus, the fourth line of the caption in this case would be Invaders.

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU:

Bureau authority is requested to implement the following counterintelligence program directed against the black militant group at Memphis, Tennessee, known as the Invaders. The Memphis Office has been conducting routine interviews of rank and file members of the Invaders in an effort to disrupt their activities and to develop informants within this group.

Invaders to date by BuAgents in the majority of cases have resulted in the Invader member denying his membership in the Invaders resulting in an argument in an effort to convince the Invader that the FBI knows of his activity and membership in the Invader group. It is believed that an interview by [redacted] of the [redacted] following the initial interview by BuAgents would put the Invader in a more receptive mood insofar as a followup interview is concerned by BuAgents. As of this date no tangible results have come to the attention of the NYO.

3. Tangible Results

On 4/15/69, the NYO mailed out two letters to the Episcopal Church. The purpose of these letters was to try to prevent the Episcopal Church through one [redacted] from giving $34,000 to representatives of SNCC.

On 5/8/69, it was determined that [redacted] resigned from his position with the Episcopal Church two weeks previously due to some disagreement with church officials.

Therefore, it appears that this counterintelligence measure has borne some fruit.

A RNA member called [redacted] to verify meeting and [redacted] stated that she did not schedule any meeting on that date. They deduced that the police had the stamp duplicated and scheduled the meeting to get all RNA members together so they could make a mass arrest. [redacted]

At another meeting of RNA all members were requested to submit handwriting specimens with their own pens and in the exact words used in the postcards. The RNA officials are trying to determine if this "trick" could have been pulled by a RNA member.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interests

As the Bureau is aware, the NYO has conducted many interviews with members of the BPP, RNA, Black Militants and other sympathizers. It is felt that these interviews have helped to alert the Black Militants to the idea that the FBI, as well as the local police, are interested in their activities. This has helped to disrupt the BPP and RNA in this area. Every effort will be made to keep the pressure up on these militants.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Whenever possible, Miami is utilizing interviews with NOI members and other black nationalists as counterintelligence measures. This is done very subtly. Care is taken to insure that these interviews will not cause any embarrassment to the Bureau.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

The recent removal of [redacted] the NOI in Miami can be attributed at least in part to counterintelligence programs of the Miami Office, particularly to a letter submitted, on Bureau authority, to ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, accusing [redacted] with extra-marital activities, and two statements made during interviews with NOI members capitalizing on a known personality conflict between [redacted] and other NOI officials.

It is noted the letter sent to ELIJAH MUHAMMAD was placed in the mail at Miami on 3/13/69 and [redacted] was notified of his removal as [redacted] replacement [redacted] was not assigned to Miami until [redacted] indicating a decision was made to relieve [redacted] of his duties before a replacement had been chosen. Re Omaha letter to Director 5/5/69.

The BPP in Omaha, as noted in referenced letter, recently sponsored the organization of Black Association for Nationalism Through Unity (BANTU) at Technical High School, Omaha. The latter organization recently furnished to the Technical High School administration a list of 23 demands and planned a boycott of Technical High School by Tech students on 5/19/69 in commemoration of the birthday of MALCOLM X. At a BPP rally held 5/18/69 in an Omaha public park BPP and BANTU officials called on the Negro community to observe 5/19/69 as a holiday. Approximately 60 per cent of the Negro student body at Tech High School complied with this request and were absent from school on that date.

Omaha is remaining alert to various activities of the BPP and BANTU that might lend themselves to counterintelligence activity and it is anticipated that such situations will arise in the very near future.

No counterintelligence accomplishments have been obtained under captioned program during the past two-week period.

This matter will continue to receive close attention, and suggestions for counterintelligence activity against the BPP or its leadership at a future date will be submitted by separate letter.

Re Chicago letter 4/30/69, under the first of the above two captions and Chicago letter, 5/1/69, under the caption as carried above.

The referenced letter of May 1, 1969, was directed toward inhibiting the embryonic alliance formed locally recently between the Black Panther Party (BPP) and the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). It was suggested that efforts be made to exploit the coalition by depicting the working relationship as an effort on the part of SDS to utilize the BPP as a mercenary group fighting a black war for white liberation.

A careful review and analysis of BPP activities locally since relet of April 30, 1969, reflects that the tenous working relationship between these two groups continues to exist and the activities and programs as recommended in Chicago letter of May 1, 1969, continue to be valid. Chicago will await the Bureau's response to this recommendation prior to initiating any efforts in this direction.

In recent weeks also the local BPP group has effected a similar coalition with the Young Lords, a near north side Puerto Rican youth gang and the Young Patriots, the latter an off-shoot Jobs or Income Now (JOIN), an SDS affiliated group of young whites. Chicago will follow this and related developments closely and as the opportunity presents itself will submit appropriate counterintelligence suggestions.

Bureau letter 5/1/69, to Baltimore, copy to Kansas City, Seattle, and San Francisco, requested counterintelligence proposals to disrupt the national Black Panther Breakfast Program, and referred to Associated Press article dated 4/20/69, in the Washington Post, Washington D.C., as to the Kansas City, Missouri, (KCMO) BP Chapter's participation in that program.

The Kansas City Office is alert to counter-intelligence areas mentioned in Bureau letter.

Generally, the small Black Panther Chapter's activity is image building (1) primarily as publicized benefactors of the poor, by feeding hungry school children, (2) less effectively, as vanguards of Black Liberation, protecting Negroes against police harrassment and white discrimination. Item (1), to date, presents some vulnerability to counterintelligence action through educating and using selected Negro leaders to reveal to others and to publicize the concealed revolutionary character of the Black Panthers and various members. Item (2), to date, presents less vulnerability for counterintelligence action due to small chapter membership, inaccessibility to the chapter's bank account data, and some publicized pending local and Federal prosecutions against the chapter's tight-knit leadership; prosecutions involve past possession of guns, rather than threats or armed violence.

It appears that numerous Black Panther chapters are participating in the national Black Panther Party Breakfast Program, with more or less favorable publicity, as a recent April issue of The Black Panther newspaper, official publication of the National Black Panther Party, devoted several pages to photographs and articles on numerous cities where BPP chapters are participating in their local areas in the "breakfast program".

Counterintelligence proposals as to the Kansas City, Missouri, BPP chapter's "breakfast program" were made in paragraphs four and five, page two, of Kansas City Air Mail letter, 4/22/69, to the Bureau, dual captioned as instant letter. The Bureau's views on those proposals will be appreciated.

Pages three, five and six of Kansas City Letterhead Memorandum, 4/28/69, captioned Black Panther Party, Kansas City Division, reflected among other things, the problem of countering favorable publicity, and of educating the naive, as well as the fact that Time Magazine may feature a favorable article as to the Kansas City, Missouri's chapter's participation in the "breakfast program".

Paragraph one, page two, of Kansas City letter 4/11/69, to the Bureau, captioned Counterintelligence Program, Black Nationalists - Hate Groups, Racial Intelligence, points up the problem of favorable counterintelligence action through publicity handled by news reporters who sensationalize questionable police tactics and who humanize so-called victims, such as Black Panthers. In Kansas City, Missouri, the Kansas City Star, leading white daily newspaper, and a few so-called respectable Negro leaders have the "soft glove" policy of keeping communication open with the Black Panther chapter, so as not to jeopardize future contacts and news releases.

Paragraph four, page three of Kansas City Letterhead Memorandum 4/28/69, captioned Black Panther Party, Kansas City Division, reflects the concern on 4/25/69, of three top Negro leaders in Kansas City, Missouri, over the delayed, difficult process of educating the naive and others to the concealed unpublicized violent doctrines of national BPP represented by the local BP chapter.

On 5/1/69, the problem of local counter-publicity and educating the naive was again confidentially expressed separately by the same three top-concerned Negro leaders, knowledgeable liason sources in Kansas City, Missouri.

The next day, a courageous editorial dated 5/2/69, denouncing the BP, appeared on the front page of the Kansas City Call, weekly Negro newspaper, Kansas City, Missouri, copy of which is attached for information of the Bureau, San Francisco, Baltimore and Seattle. The BP chapter's only open reaction to the editorial was a peaceful visit on 5/3/69, to the Kansas City Call offices by two Black Panthers; they were not threatening, but indicated future good relations with the Call might be jeopardized by the Calls oposition.

In view of the Calls editorial position, and along the lines of previous counterintelligence recommendations (4/22/69, above) to release certain material to [redacted] it is further recommended that a copy of attached letter [redacted] to Mr. (NIKITA) KRUSHCHEV, then Premier of Russia, be confidentially released to [redacted] for possible publication after first clearing with the Sheriff's Office, Stockton, California (see attached copy of Sacramento letter, 4/4/69, enclosing copy of [redacted] letter).

If the Bureau approves this specific recommendation, it is suggested the Sacramento Office be advised to clear release of [redacted] letter to [redacted] with the Sheriff's Office, and advise Kansas City.

Due to national publicity, attending the national BPP Breakfast Program, the Bureau undoubtedly has considered the inherent difficulties of a national counterintelligence program to counter the flood of BPP image seeking propoganda, by releasing documented public source data as to the revolutionary objectives of the national BPP. However, such releases by high authorities for local dissemination could not be ignored (e.g., statements by the President, the Attorney General, testimony of the Director), such as the quotes of Mr. JUSTICE THURGOOD MARSHALL in the Kansas City Star, 5/5/69, though MARSHALL in his position could hardly name the Black Panthers (copy attached for Bureau).

Militants Can't Win, Negro Justice Says

New Orleans (AP)—The first Negro member of the U. S. Supreme court says black militants who defy the law should be made to face the consequences.

"Anarchy is anarchy," Justice Thurgood Marshall said yesterday, "and it makes no difference who practices it. It is bad; it is punishable and it should be punished."

Marshall spoke at the centennial celebration of predominantly Negro Dillard university.

"You can't use color for an excuse for not doing what you should be doing," he declared.

"Race is not an excuse for not keeping up your house properly, nor is race an excuse for not keeping your children in school, even though they may still be segregated."

Marshall said he realized that "so far as race problems and minority rights go, the problems are not yet solved and I have no idea when they will be, but there has been some progress."

"The needs are here," he added. "But nothing will be settled with guns, firebombs or rocks. The country can't survive if the perpetrators go unpunished. It's that simple."

Urging Negroes to reject black militant leadership, Marshall said:

"We should stand up and say, 'Look, man, you do what you want to do and I'll do what I want to do. But don't tell me I have to do what you want me to do just because you said it.'"

Justice Marshall

The associate justice called for leadership through education, and said students demanding black studies and African culture should not discard other studies and cultures.

"You are not going to compete in the world until you have training exactly like everyone else, and, hopefully, better," he said. "Because when you're a Negro, you've got to be better."

The Democratic Way For Most Blacks

The black community of Kansas City can no longer sit silently by and, by its silence, give the impression that the Black Panthers speak for black citizens when they call for the overthrow of the form of government which we have in the United States.

The vast majority of Negro, or black, citizens do not favor and will not participate in a movement which would attempt to change the democratic system which, though not perfect, offers opportunities to citizens, white and black alike, that no other system yet developed by man can match.

Negro citizens as a whole do not see threats of violence and gun-play and the disruption of established institutions as a means of achieving their goals. Rather, they will continue to fight for their rights and for justice and fair play through the democratic processes as outlined in our constitution.

The opportunities for Negro youth to achieve under the democratic system are greater by far today than ever before in our history.

This country, at long last, is moving forward, not backward, in race relations and human justice. While there still are many improvements to be made, the desired changes can be made through reasonable and legitimate processes without resort to futile talk about overthrowing our democratic government.

BLACK NATIONALIST-HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE (BLACK UNITED FRONT)

Enclosed for the Bureau is a proposed "Letter To The Editor" which has been prepared on unwatermarked plain bond paper which is directed to the "Evening Star" newspaper. A carbon copy of this letter is attached to the airtel for ready reference of the Bureau.

As the Bureau is aware, dissident students at Howard University, which numbered no more than approximately 250 students, last week were successful in taking over approximately six buildings of this University and closing down the facilities from 5/7 through 9/69, and thereby disrupting the education of approximately 9,000 students who did not participate in the take over and apparently were not sympathetic with its aims and purposes. It is also noted that the dissident students enlisted the assistance of the Black United Front (BUF) and at least one of the spokesmen for the BUF, namely, Rev. DOUGLAS E. MOORE-Chairman, indicated the BUF was behind the students and would support their differences with the HU Administration. The basis for the contents of the "Letter To The Editor" is available from public source material particularly newspaper accounts of the events.

WFO feels the contents of the "Letter To The Editor" are self-explanatory and are intended to discredit the BUF as a self-styled voice of the black community of Washington, D. C. and will hopefully result in diminishing the stature of the BUF particularly in the eyes of the HU students.

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU

The Bureau is requested to consider arranging to have the contents of the enclosed letter published in a friendly newspaper. It is noted that the draft is directed to the Editor of the Washington Evening Star. As the Bureau is aware, "Letters to the Editor" mailed to a newspaper must contain a bona fide name and address before the newspaper will print the same, although pen names can be utilized. The general format of this letter suggests it was prepared by a group of HU students not involved in the takeover and therefore it is signed "Concerned Howard University Students."

You must impress upon [redacted] the fact that the Bureau is not to be divulged as the source of this information. Based upon available information, [redacted] is not identifiable in Bufiles.

Referenced airtel requested Bureau authority to contact the State Attorney General's Office in an effort to obtain a search warrant for the residence of a BPP member [redacted] who allegedly has possession of a sawed-off shotgun. This type of request should not be handled as counterintelligence and should be furnished the local agency as a matter of liaison. NOTE:

San Diego has requested permission to disseminate information to local child welfare agencies which points out that a BPP leader in San Diego has been mistreating the child of a female acquaintance. We are authorizing this dissemination but instructing that it should be by anonymous communication and not personally delivered. This is in view of the possibility that unidentified persons in the welfare agency could become cognizant of the source of this information. San Diego has also requested permission to furnish whereabouts of [redacted] and the location of his automobile to a trusted contact of the San Diego Office, who works for the [redacted] delinquent mortgage on this vehicle. The employee, [redacted] has been contacted on previous occasions and is considered trustworthy and reliable. We are authorizing this dissemination. San Diego has requested permission to furnish the State Attorney General's Office with information concerning the possession of a sawed-off shotgun by a BPP member. We are pointing out that violations of local law should be furnished appropriate local authorities as a matter of course and not under a counterintelligence program. While the possession of a sawed-off shotgun is not a violation of Federal law, circumstances could result in such if the gun had been transported interstate. We are instructing San Diego to remain alert for indications of a violation of Federal law.

Re Seattle letter to Bureau, 4/28/69.

In response to Bureau instructions contained in Bureau letter to Baltimore, 11/25/68, the following information is being furnished.

I. Operations Under Consideration

Four of the most militant and dangerous Black Panther Party (BPP) members are in custody at the present time. [redacted] are currently in custody awaiting charges for participation in a [redacted] charge and are currently awaiting sentence. An exhaustive file review of the remaining BPP members is currently being under taken by Seattle Division in an effort to select individual BPP members who might be appropriate targets for operations directed toward developing them as informants. The Bureau will be advised by appropriate means when and if a logical BPP member has been selected for possible development as an informant on BPP matters.

II. Operations Being Effected

A private showing of the Black Panther film "Off the Pigs" was arranged for [redacted] and his response to this showing was favorable and he indicated that an appropriate editorial comment concerning the BPP in Seattle might possibly be arranged at a time when it would prove most effective against the BPP. The Seattle Division does not feel that an editorial at this time would be appropriate in view of the fact that two BPP members will

These two individuals were re-arrested after information was developed that several potential witnesses in this bank robbery trial had been threatened and when this was brought to the attention of Judge GOODWIN, a bench warrant was issued and subjects were subsequently arrested.

Information has been received that [redacted] was probably responsible for the robbery of the Liberty National Bank earlier this year and after he has been sentenced by local authorities on this armed robbery charge, consideration will be given to interviewing him concerning this bank robbery and concerning any other information he may have concerning BPP activities.

Re Bureau 0-1 received 5/9/69, concerning Bureau letter 1/24/69.

The referenced letter concerned an editorial from "The Crisis", NAACP magazine condemning black nationalist extremists.

The Bureau letter of 1/24/69, was a follow-up to an airtel of 1/7/69, which suggested the editorial might be of use in contacting potential sources. The Bulet of 1/24/69, suggested that a ROY WILKINS article on the same subject might be more pertinent for an anonymous mailing.

San Francisco letter dated 2/13/69, paragraphs one and two appears to have answered the above inquiry. In this letter, San Francisco recommended mailing the WILKINS' article as well as another one by CARL ROWAN. This was subsequently done.

It is not believed that the "Crisis" editorial would be of much use at this time, as the militants do not agree with the NAACP approach, and have so stated many times publicly.

The enclosed letterhead was prepared by the Laboratory and is being furnished San Francisco for future use. This material should not be utilized without prior Bureau authority. The Bureau is maintaining a supply of both signed and unsigned BPP letterhead for future counter-intelligence proposals.

San Francisco should furnish a suggested expulsion letter pertaining to Stokely Carmichael. If it would be easier to expel an additional BPP leader while expelling Carmichael, you should do so in the suggested mailing. For your consideration in establishing reasons for the expulsion, you should consider the possibility that the apparent breach between Carmichael and Bobby Seale is the fact that Carmichael is now apparently convinced that the so-called black revolution will take time. Seale and the rest of the Panthers are activists and need action to keep their organization alive. Carmichael has in the past several months intimated that this black revolution could even take generations. This could easily be part of the breach between the two. Money could logically be another reason why Carmichael and Seale are at arms length. Handle promptly.

Authority is not being granted to mail the communication suggested by you in referenced letter. Obscenity should not be considered in the mailing of anonymous communications under the CIP. In addition, the communication appears too strong to be mailed to moderate black businessmen.. Your attention is directed to the 5/11/69 issue of "The Black Panther" newspaper, page 8, which contains an article entitled "Breakfast for School Children." You should review this article and consider a mass media dissemination. The article may accomplish the same purpose as your suggested letter. Take no action without specific authority of the Bureau.

A review of referenced letter disclosed that members of the BPP caused a newspaper article to be printed which pitted the local hoodlum element against the BPP. NOTE:

New Haven has proposed the anonymous mailing of a letter to a selected group of moderate black businessmen in the Bridgeport, New Haven, and Hartford and Middletown, Connecticut areas. This letter contains an obscene word and points out that if black businessmen do not support the BPP, they will have to "face the black people." We are turning this suggestion down. The communication appears to be too strong when directed to moderate black businessmen. We are calling New Haven's attention to a recent article in the BPP publication which threatens businessmen and may accomplish the same purpose as the New Haven recommended letter. We are also calling New Haven's attention to a situation existing in New Haven whereby the local hoodlums and the BPP are critizing each other. We are calling for a suggested counterintelligence proposal concerning this.

Memorandum

TO : Director, FBI (100-448006) DATE: 4/28/69

FROM : SAC, New Haven (157-785) (P)

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST-HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Re New Haven letter to Bureau, 4/10/69, and Bulet to San Francisco, 4/23/69.

In accordance with Bureau instructions, the following information is set forth:

1. Operations Under Consideration: (a) Bureau authority is requested to mail, under anonymous cover, the attached open letter to selected Black businessmen in the Bridgeport, New Haven, Hartford, and Middletown, Conn., areas.

It is felt that such a letter would have the effect of:

1.) Conveying a threat to the Black money structure which could eventually support the Black Panther Party (BPP) movement if it can ingratiate itself with the more affluent Black businessman; 2.) Prodding the moderate Negro businessman in the above areas into action with the legitimate civil rights organizations and anti-BPP groups in their respective areas; 3.) Creating a distrust within the BPP itself. By sending the letter unsigned, it would be difficult to attribute the composition to any one individual, since the statements contained therein are from several BPP public statements. If the BPP holds true to form, it should initiate its own investigation to attempt to determine which one or group of its members has embarked on this campaign without proper authority.

Minimum security requirements considered for this program are:

1.) That no businessman designated to receive this letter be known to be associated with the BPP; 2.) that the stationery utilized be of commercial grade purchased locally; 3.) that the letters be mailed simultaneously at branch Post Offices in ghetto areas; 4.) that the letter be prepared with other than a Bureau typewriter; and 5.) that typographical, spelling and grammatical errors be included to lend authenticity to the letter.

1-New Haven
LWH/lrf (4)

If this recommendation is approved by the Bureau, immediate ground work will be undertaken in order that the letter may be sent at the appropriate moment.

2. Operations Being Effected: As authorized by the Bureau, this office is continuing to furnish [redacted] with public source type data concerning the Black Nationalist movement in Connecticut.

3. Tangible Results: Whether it can be attributed to this office's CI program, loss of drive, or lack of community support, it appears that the New Haven branch, which is considered to be the State headquarters, of the BPP is in a state of flux. A significant number of reports have been received indicating plans for the BPP State headquarters to be returned to Bridgeport or relocated in Hartford.

4. Developments of CI Interest: (a) In mid-April the City of New Haven condemned the Hill Parents Association building which housed the state BPP offices. All BPP administrative activity now appears to be carried out at 283 Putnam Avenue, which is a two-family house. (b) The New Haven Journal-Courier, (daily morning newspaper at New Haven, Conn.,) carried an article entitled "War on Drugs Mapped by 300 Hill Residents," on 4/22/69 which quoted JOSE B. GONZALVEZ, Captain BPP, Connecticut, as saying that, "it would be necessary to stop the Mafia from bringing drugs into the black community. The Panthe may print posters with the faces of large operating drug pushers and the caption 'Wanted by the people.'" [redacted]

(d) The expulsion of [redacted] from the BPP has had no reported effect on the local BPP chapter. Similar action on the part of [redacted] could have far-reaching effects within the Connecticut chapter. (e) It would appear that the BPP, both on the national and local level, has no qualms about purging its leaders and rank and file members for violating the Party's code of conduct. The result of these actions could obviously have many effects. If the BPP has gone on record in taking action against prominent members for alleged indiscretions or suspected informant activity, this propensity for action on the part of the party could conceivably be used against it by starting a rumor campaign against selected leaders and members.

A detrimental effect of such actions could be the formation of splinter militant groups which could conceivably be more prone toward violence than the BPP. Admittedly, the group would be much smaller and lack national leadership. It could, however, be typically composed of the less intelligent and more reationary individuals lacking the discipline imposed by the BPP. Informant coverage would be a monumental task.

New Haven is following all reports of internal strife within the BPP. Those matters which can logically be persued will be brought to the attention of the Bureau by separate communications prior to initiation of any CI action against the BPP in this area.

TELL IT LIKE IT IS TELL INC.
P.O. BOX

For over two years now we blacks, in Roxbury, North Dorchester, or wherever we may live in Greater Boston, have been bombarded with atrocity stories concerning black victims, with tales about lax, inefficient and corrupt police work in the black community, and in general, stories indicating unfair treatment of blacks by whites. This so called "authentic" information reaches us through the media of "Muhammad Speaks" (the Muslim newspaper) and "Rebellion News" which taken on their face value can be largely ignored as obviously prejudiced. A third community newspaper, the Bay State Banner, however, would appear to be more worthy of belief.

What has puzzled some of us is the failure of any efforts to repudiate these stories. We have recently asked ourselves are these stories all factual? Is it true that being BLACK in Boston is this bad? We readily agree that being a member of the black minority group is no bed of roses. Being born a member of any majority group has its advantages but is being black truly as bad as the black news media portrays it? Being black, we also are aware that not all white people like us or consider us their equals. But is this generally true? On reflecting on our own personal experiences we concluded it is not.

We also agree that police work in the black areas could stand improvement. But is this because the police dislike us? Or could there be other explanations such as an overworked, unpaid police force coupled with a not overly cooperative black community. We think that to some extent this is true.

Personal investigation on our part into some of the publicized atrocities have been embarrassing to us as we have found many of the facts surrounding these appear to have been misrepresented in the three newspapers mentioned above.

We feel these papers appear to be either deliberately presenting a false picture or are failing to properly investigate the facts in the cases publicized. This is all to often true of many of our daily newspapers.

We believe that when events take place in our community in which blacks are involved and in which blacks are in the wrong the community should know the facts, and we should not blame what we look on as the establishment. When the establishment is wrong, that also should be known.

This newsletter has been born to try to present a true picture to the community of what is taking place in it. Our motto is "Tell it like it is," and we will try to live up to it. Our effort is financed entirely by our own little group which will be run on the proverbial "shoe string." We intend to circulate this newsletter to a few people in various strata of the community and ask that it be read and passed on. We expect and ask for criticism from readers and also look for information which readers believe would be of interest to the community.

Re Omaha letter to Director 6/2/69.

From 4/13/69 through the end of the school year the Black Panther Party chapter in Des Moines, Iowa, organized a "Breakfast Program for Children" at two churches in Des Moines. This program was kicked off on 4/13/69 by the Black Panther Party with a rally at Goode Park, Des Moines, at which requests were made for donations of money and food for this program.

Once this program was instituted and publicized it received favorable comment and support from both the black and white communities; and the "Des Moines Register", a daily Des Moines, Iowa, newspaper, praised the Panthers for this program noting that when the Panthers instituted this type of program in the black community they had, in effect, achieved something the Des Moines School Board had been unable to accomplish.

It is to be noted that this acceptance of the Black Panther breakfast program in the Des Moines area is not unusual inasmuch as the Des Moines community has not looked upon the existence of the Des Moines Black Panther Party as a threat to either the black community or the Des Moines community in general. The Panthers have enjoyed favorable press comment, as well as favorable comments by [redacted] notwithstanding the other activities they have undertaken in Des Moines.

In view of the foregoing, it would be most difficult to undertake any kind of counterintelligence activity relative to the Black Panther Party breakfast program, and no recommendation in this regard is being submitted.

ReOMlet 6-16-69.

Referenced letter pointed out that the BPP Breakfast for Children Program was well received in Des Moines and was praised by various civic organizations and the press. It is apparent that the counterintelligence program of the Omaha Office has not been effective and needs a fresh approach.

The BPP has extorted food for this program from local businessmen all over the country and most probably in Des Moines also. The children receiving the food also received "political training." In some cases they sang "Free Huey." In other cases they use BPP coloring books which show youngsters shooting policemen and contain such statements as "the pig is afraid of black children because they are brave warriors."

The Omaha Office should review its files for information of the nature set forth above in an effort to formulate an effective counterintelligence against the breakfast program.

The Bureau is presently preparing a communication with illustrative enclosures for the assistance of all offices which have a breakfast program.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)
RACIAL MATTERS
(BREAKFAST FOR CHILDREN PROGRAM)

The Kansas City, Missouri, (KCMO), BPP Chapter's "Breakfast For Children Program" began about mid-April, 1969.

On April 11, 1969, the "Kansas City Times", daily KCMO newspaper, quoted Pete O'Neal, head of the KCMO BPP Chapter as saying school children's breakfasts would be afforded at St. Stephen Baptist Church and the Pasco Baptist Church, KCMO; various news media, after April 14, 1969, favorably publicized the Chapter's program of feeding hundreds of hungry school children on school days in KCMO in cooperation with various Negro church clergymen making their churches available.

On April 17, 1969, [redacted] informed that Pete O'Neal said his chapter fed 400 children breakfast that morning, and that he, (O'Neal), would be interviewed and photographed April 18, 1969, by "Time" magazine for an article on the Chapter's breakfast program. O'Neal indicated he was instructed by national BPP headquarters to stress in the interview the theme, "We do not fight racism with racism. We fight racism with solidarity."

on April 25, 1969, deplored the naivete of certain Negro clergymen and others, recently, in swelling the public image sought by the BPs, by claiming that they are benefactors of the poor (hungry school children), and that they are the innocent victims of prosecution. These sources noted the delayed process of educating the naive and many in the Negro community to the concealed and unpublicized violent doctrines of the national BPs represented by the local BP Chapter.

An article in the "Kansas City Times", April 17, 1969, related that Henry Finley, Chapter Captain, in a speech at the St. Paul School of Theology - Methodist, Kansas City, Missouri, urged financial support of the BP Chapter to fight poverty and to carry on the Chapter's free breakfast program for hungry school children.

On April 27, 1969, [redacted] informed that the BP Chapter sponsored a peaceful, previously publicized public indoor rally at the Gregg Community Center, Kansas City, Missouri, Saturday afternoon, April 26, 1969, for 200 to promote financial and volunteer support of the Chapter's program of feeding hundreds of "hungry" school children. The Chapter announced the Wayne Miner Housing Project as a third site for programmed feeding.

On April 7 and 28, 1969, [redacted] informed that Pete O'Neal and the BP Chapter began and continued to use premises at 3903 Olive, Kansas City, Missouri, as a supplemental base for operation of the Chapter's "Breakfast Program For School Children". These premises, [redacted] stated, were made available to the Chapter by the owner, the Methodist Inner-City Parish, 1717 East 12th, KCMO, which also had provided in February, 1969, the premises for the Chapter's headquarters, 2221-2223 Lydia, Kansas City, Missouri.

The above breakfast program of feeding hungry school children at St. Stephen and Paseo Baptist Churches, both reputable Negro churches, and at the Wayne Miner Housing Project, a leading city Negro housing project, was discontinued prior to Memorial Day, May 30, 1969, according to [redacted] and [redacted] apparently in anticipation of summer recess of public schools in KCMO, the week of June 2, 1969.

(BREAKFAST FOR CHILDREN PROGRAM)

The same [redacted] with reliable contacts at the 3 specified feeding centers, said their contacts negate any specific indication of indoctrination of the fed hungry school children with black extremism. However, sources observed young hungry children fed by the BP breakfast program will remember, "The Black Panthers fed me."

Though diversion of some donations forthe BPP's breakfast program to other BP activity or members appears probable, specific confirmation of such diversion has not been developed. Access to the Chapter's bank account has been denied. If the account becomes accessible in the future, it will be carefully analyzed.

But, given any future access to the Chapter's bank account, a recent development promises little specifics [redacted]

[redacted] informed during the breakfast program that it was apparently financed by publicized Chapter solicitations of cash, food, and vitamin donations from various merchants, stores and suppliers, largely in the Negro community. Though some rumors of pressure tactics were received as to stated solicitations, few were indicated specifically as extortionate, all by [redacted] whose preliminary hearing on charges involving "robbery attempts" May 20, 1969, has been continued in a KCMO County Magistrate's Court from June 5 to June 13, 1969. The preliminary hearing is to determine any basis for binding [redacted]ver to Circuit Court on a felony charge.

[redacted] stated he has gonorrhea.

[redacted] informed on June 12, 1969, that an application dated April 23, 1969, was approved the same date by the KCMO City Department of Health to permit the serving of food at St. Stephen's Baptist Church (in connection with the BPP Chapter's breakfast program). The permit was issued to the

[redacted]

[redacted] as an organization, church and [redacted] rather than to individual servers of food.

[redacted] said a city ordinance requires such permit's issuance to the operator of any "established food service" (regularly scheduled food service), gratis or for a consideration.

[redacted] said if the City Department of Health receives a complaint or report that a food server in an "established food service" to which a permit has been issued, is venereally infected, a health inspector immediately contacts the person allegedly infected to recommend medical treatment of the venereal condition. But, no other action is possible with regard to the ordinance on the basis that a venereal disease is not transmittable through food handling, and since the Health Department's permit is issued to the operator of the "established food service", rather than to the server who may be venereally infected.

[redacted] further stated it is his belief that like permits were also issued to the Paseo Baptist Church and to someone operating the Wayne Miner Housing Project's food service both in connection with the BP breakfast program but [redacted] has been unable to verify issuance of such permits to date.

[redacted] endeavoring through a confidential source to determine whether a physician's report has been rendered to the City Health Department for treatment of Pete O'Neal, BPP Chapter head, for a venereal disease.

APPENDIX

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, aka
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966 in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by Bobby George Seale, BPP Chairman, and Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther," which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, George Mason Murray, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman Mao Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature Mao's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

in Effect Against the Black Panther Party (BPP)

No new counterintelligence operations have been placed in effect against the BPP since date of referenced letter.

Interviews with BPP members continue on a regular basis and this has caused considerable consternation as evidenced by threats made recently by a BPP member against FBI agents when they attempted to interview him.

Remylet to Bureau, 3/3/69.

No counterintelligence programs have been effected in connection with the black nationalist groups of the Buffalo Division since submission of referenced letter.

The black nationalist movement in the Buffalo Division consists of the Nation of Islam (NOI), which maintains a mosque as MM 23 at Buffalo and an auxiliary mosque at Rochester, New York as MM 23B. The membership and the activities at MM 23 and MM 23B are stable and excellent coverage of these activities has resulted.

The only other black nationalist hate group existing in the Buffalo Division is the Rochester, New York Chapter of the Black Panther Party (BPP). Counterintelligence measures in connection with the BPP are furnished the Bureau under separate caption.

Agents having responsibility for these black nationalist groups are continually vigilant for opportunities to effect some form of counterintelligence.

For the information of the Bureau, during April, 1969, a fairly militant Buffalo group known as "Us Now", a young Negro federation taking membership from YMCAs and YWCAs and neighborhood clubs published a manifesto which they called "Black Summer, 1969." This manifesto, directed to City and County officials, presented a number of non-negotiable demands in connection with employment, recreation, and summer educational programs for which they demanded a response by 6/1/69. The 6/1/69 ultimatum date was given extensive publicity in Buffalo Negro press and a representative of "Us Now" publicly stated that they could not accept responsibility for events in the Buffalo community if their demands were not met. Signs and wall scribbling, such as "June 1 whitey," during late April and May, 1969, appeared frequently throughout the ghetto area. Eventually the entire East Side of Buffalo was alarmed over the prospects for a racial disturbance about 6/1/69.

The Buffalo Office, in keeping with racial intelligence responsibility during 5/69, conducted a series of interviews with rank and file members of "Us Now" regarding contemplated 6/1/69 plans of this organization. In addition, a close liaison was maintained with and interviews conducted of responsible liaison sources of area civil rights organizations regarding "Us Now." As a result of extensive interviews, it is considered the "Us Now" leadership was kept off balance and liaison sources contacted, in turn, asserted themselves effectively to produce a noteworthy result as no racial disturbances occurred in the Buffalo area 6/1/69.

A concerted and continuous effort will continue in an effort to develop a productive counterintelligence program within the black nationalist organizations of the Buffalo Division.

The July 15, 1968, edition of the "Courier-News" revealed that Nearo Villiams, Jr., who had been working for the Youth Committee of SCAP for two or three weeks, protested police brutality in Somerville following an incident the previous night. Williams was described as the spokesman of a group of members of the black community meeting at SCAP headquarters.

SOMERSET COMMUNITY ACTION PROGRAM (SCAP)

The April 3, 1969, issue of the "Somerset Messenger Gazette" contained an article captioned, "SCAP Director Charges Distortion of Statements." This article revealed that Theodore Taylor, Executive Director of SCAP, charged that remarks he made at a recent human relations workshop at Somerville High School had been misrepresented in an unsigned flyer being circulated in Somerville.

He charged certain members of the Board of Education and some faculty members with distortion and quoting his position out of context.

Taylor was first quoted in the circular with saying that Somerville schools were not doing a good job and that the students will erupt. Taylor stated he stood behind these statements.

The circular also quoted Taylor as stating, "Will you listen when they hit you with a 2x4 plank? And they are going to hit you with one.....Do you think your students believe the lies you're telling them? Do you think they are satisfied with all that stuff about the American flag? If the situation erupts in Somerville, I will use my energies to direct the students to turn on the schools."

Taylor explained this quotation by saying, "I had roughly five minutes to speak to a group of 200 people and I chose to shake them and make them aware of what I had anticipated developing in their school system." He stated that the reference to the 2x4 plank was not intended as a literal assault.

APPENDIX

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, Also Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by Bobby George Seale, BPP Chairman, and Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther," which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, George Mason Murray, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

1. Operations under consideration. All counterintelligence programs previously under consideration are being held in abeyance until such time that the leadership of the Connecticut Black Panther Party is reestablished and the Party again becomes dynamic. Situations which arise which would avail themselves to counterintelligence exploitation will be given close scrutiny by supervisory personnel and the Bureau advised.

2. Operations being effected. Per Bureau authority, copies of the 5/29/69 issue of "The Black Panther" have been distributed to [redacted] as authorized by referenced airtel.

The "Daily World", an east coast Communist newspaper, in the 6/3/69 issue, contained an article on the trial of the BPP defendants charged with the murder of ALEX RACKLEY, in which the newspaper quotes the [redacted] as stating that the police version of the homicide is a "frameup" and that the prosecutor is using biased procedures in circumventing a probable cause hearing.

On 6/3/69, this article was discussed with State's Attorney ARNOLD MARKLE, who expressed great interest in it and requested a copy of the article to show the Judge in this case. Attorney MARKLE felt sure that the judge would be interested in learning that [redacted] had discussed the case with reporters from the "Daily World".

On 6/4/69, a copy of the "Daily World" was delivered to the office of ARNOLD MARKLE, who assured that he would not divulge the FBI as the source of information.

5. Developments of CI Interest. The 6/14/69 issue of "The Black Panther" carried an article which lambasted police and federal authorities for the "illegal" actions that these agencies have taken against the BPP. Of note is the described FBI role in this alleged "repression." According to this article, the FBI has acted illegally in conducting raids on BPP headquarters in Denver and Chicago in searching for fugitives wanted by Connecticut authorities in the murder of RACKLEY.

Re Chicago letter (quarterly progress) dated 3/13/69.

Set forth hereinafter is the periodic progress letter concerning captioned matter, as directed in Bureau airtel March 4, 1968, under the captions as instructed:

1. Operations under Consideration

In connection with captioned matter, Chicago is under Bureau instructions to submit on a two week basis a counterintelligence proprosal regarding the Black Panther Party (BPP). Bureau letter to Baltimore and various other offices advised that in the quarterly progress letters it would be sufficient to note the dates on which these letters were submitted.

Since relet therefore, such letters were submitted on the below listed dates:

March 24, 1969
April 11, 1969
April 30, 1969
May 19, 1969
June 3, 1969
June 17, 1969

Additionally, on May 1, 1969, a letter was submitted under the above captioned, and that of COINTELPRO - NEW LEFT, which had reference to encouraging and exploiting a split between the BPP and the Students for a Democratic Society.

It might be noted at this point that Chicago continues to regard the local BPP as the focal point for counterintelligence in this field. The letter of June 17, 1969, requests Bureau authority to attempt to publicize cartoon depictions of the BPP in a subservient position to the SDS.

Within recent weeks a relatively small, but highly vocal group of young Puerto Ricans has emerged in the Spanish speaking community, utilizing the name Young Lords. Essentially a youth or street gang in nature, it has adopted the pose of a political organization, and an affiliation with the BPP has arisen. It appears that the real nature of this group, and those associated with it, are not generally recognized by the responsible elements in the community, and the file of this group, and of those persons in and associated with it, are being reviewed with the end of developing a suitable counterintelligence program. A recommendation will be provided the Bureau in the event an effective action can be formulated.

2. & 3. Operations being Effected and Tangible Results Obtained

Chicago at present has in effect the program authorized by the Bureau May 21, 1969, to instruct selected BPP informants for use in creating a rift between the BPP and SDS. It is as yet to early to determine what, if any, effect will be forthcoming. This program additionally has become somewhat complicated by the disruption which has been created in the BPP locally by the June 4, 1969, raid of the Chicago Office on the BPP headquarters, and subsequent Chicago Police Department arrests of some sixteen BPP members, on a variety of local charges.

This program is being pursued very carefully, in light of the Bureau's observations in letter of May 21, 1969. Tangible results subsequently obtained will be provided the Bureau.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

The emergence of the Young Lords has been previously referred to. Also of interest is the disruption of the regular and normal functioning of the BPP, through effective and vigorous enforcement of criminal statutes violated by them on a local and federal level. Most recent information from BPP sources reflects the organization to be purging its ranks, in an effort to weed out infiltrators; also reflects that there may be beginning to emerge in lower levels of BPP ranks a dissatisfaction with the current leadership. This situation will be followed closely and where a counterintelligence avenue appears to offer itself, a suitable recommendation will be forthcoming.

No counterintelligence action will be taken by Chicago without Bureau approval.

ReSDairtel 2/20/69 captioned as above and pertaining to the mailing of caricatures.

The cartoons produced and anonymously distributed by the San Diego Office have been of great value in the counter-intelligence program to date. It is reasonable to expect that they will continue to be of value in this program.

Recent issues of "The Black Panther" newspaper contained articles concerning the "National Revolutionary Conference for a United Front Against Fascism." This conference will be held in Oakland, California, at BPP headquarters from 7/18 - 21/69. This conference will not only include black extremist groups, but will also include New Left organizations. The aims of the conference will be to develop a "united front against fascism."

It would be to our advantage if this conference was a failure. One of the ways it could fail would be to split the New Left and the BPP. Information has been received indicating that the BPP will allow the white groups to function only in a subordinate position. Statements of this nature have been made. One BPP speaker went so far as to tell white New Left leaders that the cooperation between the white groups must be complete and this included the "use" of the females in the white groups.

100-448006

The above raises some interesting ideas which may assist us in our responsibilities under the counterintelligence program. San Diego is requested to consider and if feasible produce a caricature or a series of caricatures which would point out the intentions of the BPP to use white female members and even wives of members of New Left groups. It is anticipated that these caricatures could be mailed on an anonymous basis to various leaders of the white groups.

The comments and suggestions of the San Diego Office in this endeavor are solicited.

NOTE:

The San Diego Office has previously submitted and subsequently utilized caricatures of BPP members on an anonymous basis. These caricatures not only poke fun at BPP members but, they succeed in furthering a split between the BPP and other black extremist groups. We are requesting San Diego to produce, if possible, a set of caricatures which might be used to alienate New Left groups from a forthcoming BPP conference.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

For the information of the Bureau, rumors have been received from time to time that the US organization is holding occasional firearms practice sessions. All efforts to verify this information through informants have, thus far, met with negative results.

Reliable information has been received, however, that members of the US organization have purchased ammunition at one of the local gun shops. On 6/5/69, an individual identified as [redacted] purchased 150 rounds of 9 mm ammunition, 100 rounds of .32 automatic ammunition, and 100 rounds of .38 special ammunition at a local gun shop. [redacted] was tentatively identified as the individual who was responsible for the shooting of BPP member [redacted] in Los Angeles on or about 3/14/69.

In view of the above information and the possibility that members of the US organization are in fact holding firearms practices, Bureau permission is requested concerning the following activity:

It is requested that permission be granted to handload approximately 15 rounds of .38 ammunition, 9 mm ammunition, and .32 automatic ammunition with an extreme overload of fast-burning pistol powder releasing pressure in the neighborhood of 100,000 pounds per square inch. These loads would contain hollow point bullets.

It is pointed out to the Bureau that the average weapon will sustain pressures of approximately 80,000 pounds per square inch maxinum. Pressures exceeding this amount will cause severe irreparable damage to any weapon through which this ammunition is fired.

Four or five rounds of each caliber of the "special" ammunition would then be placed in a plastic bag similar to the type utilized for the wrapping bread, and abandoned directly in front of the US organization headquarters in such a manner as to make it appear that the ammunition had been lost.

A comparable bag of ammunition would be prepared and "lost" directly in front of the BPP headquarters.

It is felt that the ammunition should be found almost immediately by a member of one of the above organizations and subsequently utilized either in firearms practice or in an attempt to assassinate a member of one of the opposing groups.

It is not felt that the ammunition, if utilized in a hand gun, would cause any severe personal damage to the individual using it. It would, however, cause the weapon to be rendered completely useless on a permanent basis.

It is further indicated that by loading the shells with hollow point ammunition there will be more of a tendency for the user to save this ammunition for utilization in an assassination attempt directed either at a member of an opposing group or at a member of law enforcement. In the event such ammunition is designated for this type of use, it is pointed out that a life could be saved and possibly that of a police officer due to the fact that the overloaded ammunition would not function correctly.

The ammunition would be dropped in front of the appropriate headquarters in such a manner that the arrival at its destination would be completely anonymous in nature.

The suggestion set forth in referenced airtel must be turned down. The preparation and subsequent delivery of "hot" ammunition is dangerous insofar as the product could easily find its way into the possession of an innocent person. Once this ammunition is dropped in front of Black Panther Party (BPP) headquarters there is no more control by Bureau Agents.

JAM:ra (4)

NOTE:

San Diego has requested permission to overload pistol and revolver ammunition so that when discharged, it would destroy the weapon. This ammunition would be placed in bags and anonymously abandoned in front of both the BPP headquarters and US headquarters in San Diego. San Diego believes that the ammunition would be found immediately by a member of one of the groups and subsequently utilized in firearms practice or assassination attempts. We are turning the suggestion down as the results cannot be assured and a loss of control would take place as soon as the ammunition is abandoned. Innocent children could pick up the bags and subsequently be injured.

The instructions set forth in referenced Bureau letter 6/17/69 should be followed and an expulsion letter pertaining to Stokely Carmichael submitted.

The expulsion of Stokely Carmichael from the BPP would materially affect the black community. Carmichael is well thought of among many members of the black race. The BPP has a definite need for associating itself with persons having a following like Carmichael has.

Recent developments indicate a need for you to expedite the expulsion letter. In view of this and if not already done, you should submit this letter to reach the Bureau by 7/1/69. The forthcoming Revolutionary Conference being sponsored by the BPP 7/18 - 21/69 wherein white revolutionaries are being invited, could serve as one of the reasons why Carmichael is being expelled from the BPP. As you will recall Carmichael, when he took over the Student Nonvident Coordinating Committee (SNCC), took steps to separate and release from SNCC all white workers.

The publicity given to the expulsion of Carmichael could be to the effect that Carmichael was adamant against associating with the whites whereas present BPP leaders are weakening in their antiwhite stand, therefore, a split developed and Carmichael was dismissed.

NOTE:

ReBulet instructed San Francisco to prepare, if possible, a counterintelligence letter expelling Carmichael from the BPP. San Francisco raised a question in a later communication and we are reiterating instructions set forth in Bulet 6/17/69. San Francisco advises that since Stokely Carmichael's name was not listed as an officer in the last issue of the Black Panther Party paper, he was probably dismissed already. In spite of San Francisco's observation we believe we should still carry on this action because it could be highly effective in splitting the Black Panther Party membership.

There has been no change in the status of the Rochester Branch of the BPP since the submission of remylet.

It has been ascertained that the Rochester Branch subsequent to 3/1/69, when the group vacated its headquarters at 400 Joseph Ave., had arranged to hold meetings at the Montgomery Neighborhood Center, 10 Cady St., Rochester, N.Y. The Center's calendar of activities for March, 1969, reflected seven dates in March when BPP meetings had been scheduled, however these meetings never took place, due to failure of members to show up for the meetings. The Rochester Branch has been described as an organization having a hard core leadership of three members, these being [redacted] They are described as individuals who do a great deal of talking but very little acting. The Rochester Branch, based on numerous interviews with individuals familiar with the local group, is ineffective and has very little following in the Black community.

The Rochester Branch BPP has not undertaken any activity of any type since the BPP sponsored demonstration at Rochester Inner City School 4, in February, 1969. It has not maintained a headquarters since 3/1/69, and membership has dwindled to the three leaders mentioned above, who have recently been more involved in personal problems of earning a living than in involvement with BPP activity.

(OO: DETROIT)

The following counter intelligence has been utilized successfully in Detroit to create disruption and dissension within the Detroit BPP for the purpose of further reducing its effectiveness.

Informants and sources have been instructed, when feasible, to inject into their conversations with Detroit BPP members statements which could result in creating fractionalism and distrust among the general membership and between the members and the leaders. An example of this has been to be critical to a party brother of an action taken by a leader in the handling and accounting of party funds in the BPP Breakfast Program. Stress has been placed on possible diversion of such funds for the leaders personal use or gain especially when one of the leaders has expressed no interest in advising the members of how the funds have been utilized. Another opportunity to be critical of the local party leadership occurred following a Detroit PD raid and arrest of BPP individuals which occurred at local party headquarters. The criticism in this instance was the lack of security planning by local leaders to prevent a surprise raid by the police or other individuals. Further issue was made of the selection of the headquarters site, the physical set up, and how the police were able to confiscate stolen property at party headquarters. Stress was placed on the possibility of an informant working within the local headquarters presumably one of its officers working in conjunction with the police and setting up the raid. It is to be noted that during the Detroit Police raid on local party headquarters, none of the top party leaders were arrested. Following the reported suicide of MICHAEL BAYNHAM, Minister of Defense, Detroit BPP, sources reported there were numerous rumors and stories in local BPP circles as to what actually happened to BAYNHAM. To further cloud and confuse the facts surrounding BAYNHAM's death, sources theorize he actually died at the hands ofa highly placed Detroit BPP leader whom BAYNHAM had discovered stealing party funds. Another theory offered was that BAYNHAM was a suspected police informant and it was felt that his death would "shake up" the party locally causing them to clean house and fall in line with National Headquarters BPP policies. Sources advised that as a result of theimplication of these actions, the Detroit BPP has been split wide open. Members are suspicious of each other; they are vitally concerned for their own safety; and as one source stated members are "looking over their shoulder" expecting bodily harm to come to them. Many members have expressed that they want out of the BPP and desire to sever their ties with the BPP.

Sources have been instructed that when they are making statements aimed at causing disruption they are to deal with issues that in no way would expose them as being informants and from which they would not be the victims of any retalitory action by the BPP.

[redacted]

In connection with the BPP within North Carolina, it should be noted that [redacted], is a fugitive of the Charlotte Police Department on conspiracy to commit armed robbery and armed robbery charges. Without his leadership the group's activities have been curtailed. At the present time in Charlotte a civil suit is pending against law enforcement officials charging harassment of persons seeking to become members of the BPP and the USA has recommended no further contact with [redacted] associates until civil action is adjudicated.

The obtaining of background data continues, however, and Charlotte will submit a proposal concerning counterintelligence operations as soon as the civil suit is adjudicated in Federal Court.

The BPP since its inception in Detroit, has experienced considerable difficulty in operating in a fluid manner. Some of the difficulty stems from its lack of qualified and capable leaders. The organization has furter been hampered by a lack of direction and almost total absence of interest by the general membership. Additional complications have beset the group inasmuch as it has not had available adequate orders to operate for any reasonable length of time. Further it has suffered due to the dirth of operating capital.

Detroit proposes utilizing the following cointel technique as a disruptive measure within the Detroit BPP. The cointel would be in the form of an anonymous letter sent to a representative number of Detroit BPP leaders and members. A copy of the letter is set out below.

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

Who's next? You, me, who knows. Are you concerned? I am. How come our brothers are being murdered and arrested and our headquarters are raided by the pigs? Who tells the pigs about the location of our headquarters, our leaders, our members, and our activities? Who tells the pigs about the travel of our leaders and other brothers who are trying to flee and hide from the pigs? How is it when we have such great security, trusted leaders and members, the pigs are still able to bust us whenever they please? How can the pigs get such privileged information enabling them to obtain search warrants so that they can "legally" vamp our headquarters? Who issues orders for the execution of our brothers? How about our brother who got it in New Haven and the "suicide shooting" of Brother Baynham in Detroit? The pigs call it 'suicide' but where is the gun he killed himself with? Who's kidding who? Isn't it bad enough that we have to fight the outside pigs yet alone worry about the pigs inside our party. When you got a pig hiding in your midst you've got to find him and eliminate him before he eliminates you. Who is the pig here who has caused the murder of one of our brothers and caused all the trouble we've had here? Are the pigs local or national? And is he controlled at our local or national headquarters? We got pigs among us alright or else we wouldn't have lost Brother Baynham. Nationally our brothers are grabbed by the pigs in cities like Denver and Salt Lake City. How would the pigs know where to find one of our brothers in Salt Lake when we don't have a chapter there? Looks like the pigs are feeding each other doesn't it? Why the purge of Brother Calli and Brother Diggs here? Why is it us party members are always suspected and purged when the party control is with our leaders? Let's take a closer look at our leaders because this is where the power, money, and control is? This is where we'll find the pigs who give assistance to their brother pigs. Speaking of leaders, why not start with chief pig Hilliard. How clean is he? I want to work for the party because I'm young dedicated and believe in the cause but I don't want to die or be a "suicide" death for the pigs fat. Let's live by our motto "all power to the people not just the leaders".

The letter would be typwritten and prepared on commercially purchased paper and mailed from one of the more predominantly Negro communities in the Detroit area. The benefits to be gained by the communication are not commensurate with the inherent danger of exposing a source of this Bureau. Detroit should remain alert for additional counterintelligence techniques.

NOTE:

Detroit has proposed a counterintelligence suggestion which if successful would cause members of the BPP in Detroit to look upon local BPP leader as an informant. We are turning this suggestion down in view of the fact that it could cause an investigation by the BPP into informants within the group. We are pointing out that the benefits do not outweigh the dangers in attempting such action.

(1) Operations under consideration:

[redacted] Oregon, who has previously been mentioned under this caption, was, until recently [redacted] ced [redacted] 1. [redacted], completely mismanaged the operation of Black-fashions which resulted in its being closed recently by its benefactor who estimates that he will sustain a loss of $20,000 for this operation.

The U.S. Postal Inspectors are currently conducting an investigation of the operation [redacted] for possible mail fraud violations and it appears that mail orders received by [redacted] from various parts of the country were never filled and the money received with these orders was embezzled [redacted]

Postal investigation has shown that [redacted] and his partner failed to pay for merchandise they ordered and are behind in wages owed to female Negro employees.

Portland suggests that the US Internal Revenue Service, the Oregon State Collector of State Income Tax, and the Oregon State Department of Labor be furnished with information concerning [redacted] the conduct [redacted] looking toward an inquiry being made into possible State or Federal tax violations on the part [redacted] and possible violation of State labor laws.

(2) Operations being put into effect:

Portland, in conducting background investigation of known members of the BPP at Eugene and Portland, Oregon, has endeavored to make a determination as to subjects' current Selective Service status.

In this connection, it was determined that [redacted] Oregon, was in violation of Selective Service Act for failure to register for Selective Service. He was arrested at Eugene, Oregon, 5/22/69. [redacted] an active [redacted] BPP a [redacted] was found to be [redacted] for failure to report for a physical examination and induction. [redacted] was taken into custody on 5/23/69 at Eugene, Oregon.

[redacted] active member of the BPP at [redacted] and mentioned above as being in possession of dynamite, was charged in a Federal complaint 5/22/69 for violation of Title 18, Section 245, U.S. Code, based on a threat [redacted] made [redacted] Oregon, which juror was [redacted]. Similar charges were brought by the Lane County District Attorney at Eugene and on 5/23/69, COX was arrested by the Lane County SO which facilitated a detailed search for dynamite at the COX residence; however, none was located.

Searches made incidental to the arrest of [redacted] produced two shotguns and ammunition, but no explosive devices were located.

All three of these men were considered as suspects in the series of bombings occurring at Eugene, Oregon, on 5/19-20/69, and being in possession of their current Selective Service status greatly aided in the conduct of the bombing investigation.

A separate investigation at Portland, Oregon, of [redacted] has determined that [redacted] is not registered for Selective Service in the State of Oregon. Additional investigation is being conducted looking toward an ultimate prosecution of [redacted] for violation of the Selective Service Act.

[redacted] first came to the attention of this office when he was identified by an informant as being in possession of molotov cocktails, which led to his arrest by the Portland PD.

(3) Tangible Results of Counterintelligence:

There is attached hereto a xerox copy of an article appearing in the "Oregon Daily Emerald", the official campus newspaper at the University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon. This article clearly sets out the disruption the arrests of [redacted] have caused within BPP circles in Eugene, Oregon.

Blacks issue statement

Editor's note: The following is a statement from Howard Anderson and Ray Eaglin on supporting two University students and an LCC student who are on trial in Portland on charges of violating draft laws.

We cannot claim victory in the Pacific Northwest while sounding retreat in the South. And yet it is absurd to geographically label a cancerous society as north and south--the south being South Africa, South America, Southeast Asia and South Eugene. Isn't it so true and painful that the South is the Canadian border onward.

The arrest of Bill Green, Julies Hurst and Artie Cox by the FBI and the Eugene police department, is clearly and obviously another attempt to suppress Black people.

The FBI and their puppet support wing of the local police department have tried every illegal means at their disposal to eliminate the Black Panther Party of Eugene and the nation.

Green is from Washington, D.C. and Hurst is from Portland. Was it coincidence that the war-mongering draft boards in the Opinion

District of Columbia and in Portland simultaneously swore out warrants to arrest these brothers? No, it was not. The order of the day nationally is to intimidate, suppress, arrest and murder all people who are aware, concerned and reacting to the digital oppression that this tyrannical society continues to hammer upon the people.

The FBI is supposed to be a super home grown spy organization. Their mission is to protect and guard the people's rights, often at the expense of maiming and incarcerating the people. Who is going to protect the people from the FBI?

Mr. Hoover, the 74-year-old federal chief, still lives with his mom. He apparently needs some fetish form of protection. His national mandate to his cadres is to continue supporting all forms of suppression.

The federal government kicked its way into Vietnam, Laos, Thailand, Cambodia, the Congo, Berkeley and Hurst and Green's homes. Apparently, they have the consent of their president. We don't think draft warrants justify door-kicking and armed weapons.

We think the FBI and the local cop and robber band represents clear and present danger. It is part the emergency state. It is now necessary for the governor of this state to call out the National Guard to apprehend the midnight desperados who ride around in unmarked cars with loaded pistols and riot guns, kicking in doors. Green and Hurst are being held in Portland mainly because they are aware of the heinous attitudes of the harrassers of people. The unusually high bails are in vogue. They are repressive. The dogmatic disposition of the federal judges in Portland who refuse to lower these repressive measures are responding with seventh century logic. This is your action in government. We would like to also congratulate Chief Ellsworth of Eugene and his storm troopers for the outrageous roles they played during the heat and lateness of the night.

We don't know if the chief lives with his mom, but all indications are pointing to some apron-string obsession of anti-people, anti-logic and pro-murder.

ENCLOSUR

Artie Cox was said to have threatened the life of a postman. According to Dep. Dist. Attorney John Moore, the police department's Minister of Reason and Doubt, Cox threatened a postman who was a juror at a local trial of a Black man. According to Judge Rodman, this is the same juror who told the bailiff during a recess period at that trial that Cox was "a liar" when he said that he lived at an address that showed only Dennis White. Judge Rodman conferred with the postman, the prosecutor, the defense attorney, and the defendant for the purpose of declaring a possible mistrial. It was proved that Cox was not lying, but rather the United States postman, who apparently memorized his beat, was outraged at the fact that more than one Black man lived at the same address. We are sure that Judge Rodman will testify when the postman is sued for defamation of the character of Cox.

As far as threatening a person's life, Nikita Khrushchev said that he was going "to bury" this country with his bombs and missiles, and yet the FBI, the CIA and the entire police forces of this country had him in their midst and failed to apprehend and charge him for threatening the lives of an entire nation. And who is going to arrest the United States Congress for failing to legislate appropriate laws to eliminate poverty, hunger, and disease?

Then there is a third force in this blitz-krieg attack on the people: the University which pays $47,000 a year for protection and other war games to the local police department—the same police department that protects only itself.

We are not anti-law or anti-institution. We are opposed to those people who are by law and statutes responsible for carrying out the laws presently on the books.

The basis for that opposition is that if all those laws were enforced, the FBI, the CIA and their local pawnbrokers would all be in jail—and to us that is too many lawabiding, righteous representatives of the people in jail. Peace to the people at home and abroad.

High bails, unreasonable searches and seizures, war and murder cannot stop the will of the people. Our struggle is against war, fear, ignorance and a police society. This cancerous society is not yet fit for people.

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
(BLACK PANTHER PARTY)

The following proposal is suggested as a means to cause the Black Panther Party (BPP) rank and file to lose confidence in the BPP National Committee and chapter leaders who support the National Committee.

It is suggested that in interviews with members of the BPP, particularly those who at least express a sincere interest in the principles set down by HUEY P. NEWTON, it be hinted that there is a possible conspiracy going on at the National Headquarters between CHARLES GARRY, BOBBY SEALE, and DAVID HILLIARD to keep NEWTON in jail. This theme could be developed further by asking if there is any truth to the rumor that NEWTON has said, "There is no Black Panther Party." Numerous approaches can be used to further the theme, the following are merely a few.

Asking whether GARRY has really kept NEWTON in jail because of legal moves he did not use to get the bail set during appeal. That this was done with the approval of SEALE and HILLIARD but only if they continued to get part of the funds from the Newton-Cleaver Defense Committee. That these funds have been channeled through GARRY's law firm and placed in a secret account in Switzerland so that when things go bad for SEALE and HILLIARD in the States they can get away.

Foreign travel of SEALE can be referred to above to lend credence to the story.

EX-110

JUL 2 1969

SPECIAL AGT. IN CHG. SEC'T.

Also, it can be noted that the major theme of the BPP is free HUEY, but if HUEY were free the theme would die. And, it is easier to get funds for the party as long as HUEY is in jail.

Prior to NEWTON's conviction, BOBBY SEALE said that the sky would be red if HUEY was convicted. Question whether this was bad timing because of the intimidation involved which forced the court to convict him of something just to show the Panthers that the courts would not be intimidated. Consequently, the jury convicted NEWTON of the charge of involuntary manslaughter, when it had only talked about murder before. It could had been bad timing, or it could have been intentional. The skies did not turn red as SEALE claimed; in fact, SEALE said cool it, so the appeal would not be affected.

It could also be brought up that ELDRIDGE CLEAVER got wise to GARRY, SEALE and HILLIARD and kept his own separate loot. And when it came time to put his legal problems back in GARRY's hands, he felt he had better get out before he rotted in jail like NEWTON.

To carry off the basic proposition that the BPP leaders are trying to keep NEWTON jail, interviewing agents will necessarily have to judge the situation for themselves. An antagonistic Panther will not allow the necessary dialogue. Rank and file Panthers are usually more willing to talk if the circumstances are right. Everything depends on presentation. If the interviewee thinks he thought of the conspiracy, then the rumor is started.

It is felt where sympathy for the Panther program has grown it is usually because the intentions expressed are popular in the ghetto community, but the actual programs of the party are merely hate and violence. If the party leaders appear to be taking advantage of the ghettos also then the luster will be lost. If a rumor of this nature were to filter its way up from the rank and file of the BPP, reflecting that the party officials are stealing from the party and their "Brothers" and keeping NEWTON in fact a "political prisoner" for their own purpose, much might be done to promote greater factionalism and dissension.

It is felt that if such a rumor could be started at several chapters across the country, each rumor could lend credence to the other. It is believed that such a plan could best be put into effect following a major meeting of the party such as the United Front Conference to be held in Oakland in July, 1969.

The above recommendation is presented for the Bureau's consideration.

The ideas set forth in relet are appreciated and most timely. The method by which you propose that they be carried out cannot be adopted. The planting of ideas in the minds of members of the Black Panthers by interviewing Agents is dangerous. The FBI could easily be exposed as the source.

Los Angeles should review the ideas set forth in relet especially as they pertain to Charles Garry, Bobby Seale, and David Hilliard and prepare a specific counter-intelligence proposal designed to creating a breach between the BPP and Garry. Consider such things as anonymous communications and anonymous telephone calls as well as cartoons and other logical methods of transporting your idea.

NOTE:

Los Angeles has suggested some good counterintelligence ideas. That office suggests that a breach be created between the BPP and its attorneys. The suggestion takes the form of such things as misuse of funds and conspiracy to keep Panther leader Huey Newton in jail. Los Angeles also suggests that Bureau Agents be authorized to plant these ideas within the BPP while interviewing subjects. We are pointing out to them that the ideas are good but the method cannot be authorized. That office is being instructed to consider the usual counter-intelligence methods and submit a proposal.

Re Bureau airtel dated 3/4/68, and mylet dated 4/10/69.

I. Operations Under Consideration

Recently the Afro-American Society of Greater Atlanta (AASGA) under the name of "The H. Rap Brown Recreational Center" began operating a pre-school age day school at 649 Beckwith Street, Southwest, Atlanta, Georgia. Information has been developed that this was to be a joint operation entered into by the Harambee Sisters and the AASGA; however, considerable dissatisfaction in the operation of the school has developed between these two factions and it is believed from sources that as soon as some definite information is received upon which a counterintelligence program can be developed, it will be advantageous to attempt to disrupt this school through a counterintelligence operation, so as to dilute the school's effectiveness in the neighborhood in which it is operating.

II. Operations Being Effected

On May 18, 1969 [redacted] Marietta, Georgia, appeared at the First Presbyterian Church in Atlanta and [redacted] read a portion of JAMES FORMAN's "Black Manifesto" to the congregation. A number of well known leaders in the local Negro community have condemned the "Black Manifesto" although these leaders are not aware of the identity of the individual appearing at the church on May 18, 1969. It is anticipated that some of these leaders will be furnished with the identity of the individuals involved, which will tend to further discredit the reputation of the organizations with which they are associated.

III. Tangible Results

Based on contact with sources within the National Episcopal Church (NEC), which organization had made a grant of $34,000 to the AASGA, this sum was recalled by the NEC, however, it has been reported that the NEC did make a grant of $5,000 to the AASGA. The counterintelligence operation instituted in this instance resulted in a loss of $29,000 to the AASGA.

IV. Development of Counterintelligence Interest

The recall of the $34,000 grant by the NEC has caused the AASGA a real problem in financing their operation at the day school located in the ghetto area of Atlanta.

5) Article appearing in the 6/15/69 issue of "The New York Times," a New York City daily newspaper of general circulation entitled "Black Panthers Serving Youngsters a Diet of Food and Politics."

6) One copy of the "Black Panther Coloring Book."

The above enclosures are being furnished recipient offices in view of the fact that these offices have had Black Panther Party (BPP) breakfasts for children at least on one occasion. In some offices the "Breakfast for Children" program is continuing even though school is out for the summer. It is reasonable to expect that this program will be continued by the BPP in the fall. It has given the BPP a new impetus. They have obtained excellent press coverage which has most probably recruited or lined up persons for recruitment as a result of this program.

The reasons behind this program are obvious. The BPP needs a connection with "the people." They are able to poison the minds of small children who take this hate into their homes. The food used is usually obtained as a result of semi-extortion and veiled threats. The Party uses naive thinking clergymen in their breakfast program. As a result, churches are usually locations of the breakfasts.

Effective counterintelligence can successfully disrupt the Black Panther Party in its vicious attempts to poison the minds of children through its "Breakfast for Children" program. The enclosures being furnished each office have been reproduced on unwatermarked paper and contain no identifying information. They should be reviewed for counterintelligence merit. Specific proposals will be entertained at the Bureau concerning anonymous mailings of this material and other pertinent material to persons and places involved in this program. These mailings should be considered for such people as clergymen, lay leaders of the churches involved, political leaders, and other pertinent persons. Take no specific action without prior Bureau authority.

BI-WEEKLY LETTER
PROPOSED COUNTERINTELLIGENCE
AGAINST BPP CHAPTER
KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

Instant letter, due 7/6/69 is submitted early, in view of intervening holiday and weekend.

No specific counterintelligence action other than previously recommended is suggested against the Kansas City, Missouri, BPP chapter at this time.

However, a Special Agent handling BPP matters in the Kansas City Division recently suggested certain counter-intelligence action. These suggestions are enumerated as follows, not as recommendations, but with comments, for the Bureau's consideration:

1. During the spring of 1969, a fracas occurred in the Inferno Lounge, Kansas City, Missouri, between a white member of the organized Italian criminal element and a member of the Kansas City, Missouri, BPP chapter, with resulting subsequent reports of ill feeling between these groups and fear of said organized criminal element by the Black Panthers.

It was suggested that adroit planting of questions by Special Agents with ghetto and criminal sources as to the reported ill feeling would cause the Black Panthers to become apprehensive and reserved, fearing retaliation from the organized criminal element.

Comment: It appears uncertain that such counter-intelligence action would produce direct, adverse effects on BPP chapter activity, warranting such action.

2. Distribution of the following cartoons (an example prepared by [redacted] attached; or by the Bureau's Cartographic Section, based on experience in other field divisions) would depict Black Panthers in Negro communities, in an unfavorable light:

a. A Black Panther taking off a Ku Klux Klan garment (enclosure).

b. Three Black Panthers seated at a table;

One says, "Let's Feed the School Children."

One says, "Let's Kill the Pigs."

One says, "Let's Rob a Liquor Store."

Such a cartoon could be captioned "Will the Real Panther Stand Up?"

ReKClet 7-3-69.

The thoughts expressed in relet were appreciated. Logical counterintelligence pitting the organized crime element and the BPP is feasible and logical but the use of informants and sources to plant questions of ill feeling between these two elements should be avoided. There are ways of bringing the desired antagonism to bear. Things such as anonymous communications whereby a Panther blamed for causing the arrest of a hoodlum or vice versa is one example. Kansas City should consider above and if feasible, submit a specific counterintelligence proposal.

Referenced letter contained a cartoon depicting a similarity between the Panthers and the Klan. This cartoon is of excellent quality and it is believed that it can be utilized with effective results. It is believed that it might be more effective if additional descriptive matter such as the initials KKK were placed on the hood. Kansas City should consider this. In addition, Kansas City should furnish the Bureau with a specific counterintelligence proposal utilizing this cartoon.

Re Denver letter to Bureau dated 6/2/69, and Bulet to Denver dated 6/18/69.

Recent arrests at Denver, Colorado, on June 5, 1969, of Black Panthers [redacted] for murder and kidnaping issued at New Haven, Connecticut, received extensive television and newspaper coverage at Denver and the headline on page one of the "Denver Post," daily newspaper, of June 5, 1969, related the fugitive status of these two subjects with the BPP of Denver.

It is felt this publicity portrayed the BPP in its true light with damaging effect to the BPP and a further alerting of the general public to the danger of this extremist organization.

On June 18, 1969, the "Denver Post," in a page one article reported the recovery of a cache of rifles stolen from a Denver loan shop on June 15, 1969. The article, which was accompanied by photographs of Denver police making the recovery, included statements by the Denver police that Black Panther documents were found at the scene of the recovery.

Information leading to the recovery of these weapons was furnished to the Denver Police Department by the Denver FBI Office on the night of June 17, 1969. The above items represent recent local action directly involving the Denver Office whereby counterintelligence has been used to thwart the activities and aims of the BPP.

On June 26, 1969, the "RON KARENGA" caricature was mailed at Boulder, Colorado, in commercially purchased, unmarked envelopes to the Denver Black Panther headquarters, 34th and Franklin Streets, Denver, to [redacted] and to [redacted] These three addresses have been published in recent newspaper articles at Denver.

Any information received as to results of this mailing will be submitted to the Bureau.

At the present time, the Denver Office is investigating an ITSP case in which Denver Black Panther [redacted] is a strong suspect. This case, which is currently carried as UNSUB; Theft of 10 Texaco Money Orders at Denver, Colorado, 3/4/69, has been designated by Bufile 87-104722, Denver file 87-13401. Investigation is being directed toward obtaining sufficient evidence on which [redacted] and other subjects can be charged under the Federal statute. It is to be noted that [redacted] is regarded as one of the more dangerous members of the BPP at Denver who has threatened police officers and is currently awaiting trial for assault on a Denver police officer. It is felt that efforts to prove criminal violations by individual Panthers, such as the ITSP case on [redacted] could, if successfully prosecuted, result in a weakening of the BPP organization.

The above represents the current status of counter-intelligence activity directed against the BPP at Denver.

In view of the fact that the Bureau must maintain a non-partisan position in regards to labor union matters and that any possible hint of Bureau support of the UAW could prove highly embarrassing, it is not felt at this time that counterintelligence techniques against the LRBW are warranted.

Should LRBW activity at local automotive plants increase, Detroit will reconsider instituting counterintelligence techniques.

Re Detroit letter to Bureau, 4/22/69, captioned as above.

The following is a 90-day progress letter submitted per instructions in Bureau airtel to Albany, et al, dated 3/4/68. The period covered in instant letter is from 4/22/69 to 7/1/69.

I. Operations Under Consideration

1. Republic of New Africa (RNA), and National Black Economic Development Conference (NBEDC)

The RNA and NBEDC, originator of the "Black Manifesto", Detroit office of origin on both organizations, are presently the most prominent black militant groups functioning in this area. [redacted] local controversial, outspoken black attorney, whose RNA advocates black separatism. The factors of the NBEDC have been picketing the Federal Building, Detroit, during the first three days of July, 1969, in protest of a Federal Grand Jury who has been subpoenaing NBEDC sponsors. There have been wide spread rumors of an open rift betwe[redacted]nd the demands set out in the "Black Manifesto".

On 7/2/69, protestors supporting the "Black Manifesto" picketed the Federal Building, Detroit. During the demonstration [redacted] appeared at the Federal Building where he publicly denounced the NBEDC as "counter-revolutionary idiocy". This situation appears to offer an opportunity to create friction between local leaders of the RNA and NBEDC. Further, for the most part, Detroit leaders of the NBEDC are local black militants.

2. Detroit Black Panther Party

Recently the Detroit Black Panther Party suffered the loss of MICHAEL BAYNHAM, local Minister of Defense. His death has been described as a suicide but because of the many unusual aspects of his death, party members locally suspect foul play. This, coupled with other internal problems of the Detroit BPP, has caused the party to halt its operations at least temporarily. Further, counter-intelligence techniques will be proposed to prevent it from becoming a significant force in Detroit.

3. Ad-Hoc Action Group, Citizens of Detroit
Black United Fund (BUF)
League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW)
Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC)

These groups have achieved no measure of success in their attempts to act as disruptive forces in the area. BUF and SNCC are defunct and activities of the LRBW have practically ceased. Generally speaking, individuals involved with these groups have now associated themselves with NBEDC.

4. Miscellaneous - Black Nationalist Individuals

Consideration has been given to the utilization of CIA techniques on individuals functioning within the RNA and the BPP.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Detroit is currently awaiting Bureau approval on a counterintelligence proposal submitted relating to the Detroit BPP. In addition, another counterintelligence technique is in the process of being prepared, which hopefully will result in creating a wide split between factions of the RNA and the NBEDC. Continuous attention is being directed to the effective use of a source at the Detroit News, a daily Detroit newspaper.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

The BPP in Detroit has ceased to function pending a review of its organizational problems and the selection of new leaders. The organization was visibly shaken by the death of one of its top leaders. Other problems confronting the group have been a raid on its headquarters by the Detroit Police Department, finding adequate quarters, and the mishandling of party funds. Informants within the local party have caused immeasurable chaos, suspicion, and distrust between the members and leaders. As a result of their actions, the BPP, locally, has been rendered useless.

Re San Diego letters to the Bureau 3/12/69, 3/26/69, 4/10/69, 5/5/69, and 6/5/69, San Diego teletype to the Bureau 6/25/69, Chicago teletype to the Bureau 6/26/69, and San Francisco airtel to the Bureau 6/27/69.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

At the present time there is one request awaiting Bureau evaluation concerning caricatures.

San Diego is considering the preparation of a follow-up booklet, assuming that Bureau approval will be received concerning the current booklet of caricatures, similar in composition to the one presently awaiting evaluation. This booklet, however, will be designed to attack the virility and manlihood of the various BPP members.

Consideration is also being given toward attacking the chairman of the San Diego chapter of US, Incorporated [redacted] file is presently being reviewed to determine where he is particularly vulnerable.

In addition, consideration is being given toward utilization of the suggestion made in referenced San Francisco airtel to the Bureau dated 6/27/69, in subsequent caricature preparations.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

The Bureau-approved letter directed to DAVID HILLIARD concerning the activities o[redacted] regarding [redacted] affinity for white girls has been prepared and mailed to Oakland on commercially purchased stationery.

No tangible results of this mailing has thus far been observed.

In addition, an intensive interview program is being conducted concerning BPP members, primarily as their activities concern possible violations of anti-riot laws. It is difficult to assess the value of these interviews although it is believed that they are very beneficial and result in limiting the activities of the various BPP members.

During the past 90-day period the following activities have been effected in addition to those above:

1) A total of eight Bureau approved cartoons have been mailed to a total of 28 individual BPP members. In addition, these cartoons were mailed to seven BPP headquarters offices and four underground newspapers throughout five field divisions.

2) A Bureau-approved anonymous telephone call was placed to [redacted] advising [redacted] that [redacted] named [redacted] as a police informer to protect his own hide.

3) Information was furnished to the Vice Detail of the San Diego Police Department concerning illegal operations at the Shalimar Restaurant, a local BPP hangout.

4) Information was confidentially furnished to the Intelligence Unit, San Diego Police Department, concerning the renting of a new meeting place by the BPP.

5) A Bureau-approved anonymous letter was sent to the San Diego Police Department concerning alleged child beating by [redacted]

6) A list of BPP offices, addresses, telephone numbers, and local leaders was sent to the Bureau and 17 field offices.

7) The following information, which is of counterintelligence interest and which does not require Bureau approval due to the fact that it involves a local crime, was furnished to the San Diego Police Department:

A. [redacted] was identified through his Swahili name as the possible killer of [redacted] BPP member.

B. Physical description, identifying data, and home address concerning [redacted] was furnished San Diego Police Department.

C. Information concerning the planned BPP caravan to Los Angeles on 4/30/69, was furnished to the San Diego Police Department. (This dissemination received prior Bureau approval).

D. San Diego Police Department Narcotics Bureau has been advised of the possession of narcotics and dangerous drugs by members of the BPP on a current and continuing basis whenever such information was received.

E. Information has been disseminated to the Intelligence Unit, San Diego Police Department, concerning pressure applied by BPP members for the solicitation of contributions which could logically result in extortion charges.

F. Information furnished to the San Diego Police Department concerning a BPP plan to kill police officers from ambush which resulted in such an attempt on 6/29/69.

G. San Diego Police Department was advised that prominent members of the black community have been listed for assassination by the BPP.

H. Background and descriptive data was furnished to the San Diego Police Department concerning [redacted] victim of shooting incident in San Diego, possibly by BPP members.

146

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

On 3/5/69, [redacted], was returned to Chino Prison to begin serving a one to five year sentence.

A felony warrant charging [redacted] with being a convicted felon in possession of a firearm, was obtained at Los Angeles by the San Diego office of the State Attorney General on 3/7/69.

On 3/10/69, [redacted] was arrested by the warrant obtained by the State Attorney General's office with the assistance of the San Diego Police Department.

At the same time the felony warrant was obtained concerning [redacted] a misdemeanor warrant was obtained for [redacted] in connection with and as the result of his purchase of the hand weapon found in [redacted] possession on 1/24/69.

On 1/25/69, Bureau approved anonymous telephone call was placed to [redacted] accusing [redacted] of being a "police agent." On 3/5/69, [redacted] along with [redacted] approached [redacted] in the presence of several other BPP members and told [redacted] "We know that either you, [redacted] is a police agent and I can prove it." [redacted] at this time was disturbed to the point of visible shaking and replied, "Well then it's [redacted]

The Bureau approved cartoons reportedly have the BPP members "completely paranoid, shook up and afraid."

[redacted] has been forced to cease her association with the BPP by her parents.

[redacted] was forced to move out of her mother's home.

Due to the fact that [redacted] has himself been accused of being a police informer from several quarters, he has launched out at numerous individuals, accusing them of being informers.

On 3/19/69, [redacted] was expelled from the BPP after having been accused by [redacted] of being a police informer.

147

On 3/25/69 [redacted] was arrested by the San Diego Police Department on information furnished by the San Diego Office of the FBI advising of [redacted] current whereabouts.

[redacted] has been expelled from the BPP under suspicion of being a police informer.

A one hour television tape was scheduled for taping on 4/1/69 at a local television station by members of the BPP leadership. Due to the widespread dissension and suspicion within the party, however, only one individual, [redacted] appeared for the taping. As a result the scheduled television taping was called off.

On 4/4/69, there was a rally in Southcrest Park in Southeast San Diego. During this rally US members confronted BPP members and the BPP members "ran the US members off." This reportedly is a result of the receipt of cartoons by BPP members berating them and causing ill feelings toward the US members.

As a result of the above and on the same date, US members broke into a BPP political educational meeting. They stated at this time that they were looking for [redacted] and when he was not present, "roughed up" [redacted]

Concerning the distribution of the Bureau-approved cartoons, the San Francisco Division has reported that the San Diego caricatures which have arrived at various locations have surprised and angered the BPP recipients.

[redacted] as a result of the Bureau-approved anonymous telephone call to him, has joined forces with [redacted] has beaten up [redacted] in the BPP office in San Diego due to the fact that he suspected [redacted] of being a police informant.

On 5/16/69, members of the San Diego Police Department, Vice Squad, raided the Shalimar Restaurant as a result of the Bureau approved information furnished to that detail.

On 5/23/69 [redacted] vehicle was located and repossessed by CMAC.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The split between the BPP and US organization in San Diego continues to widen and to become more violent with no hope of reconciliation foreseen in the immediate future.

US appears to be emerging as the dominant group in the San Diego area and if there was a direct confrontation between the two groups at the present time, US would undoubtedly emerge as the victor.

Informants have reported on a rather frequent basis that both the BPP and US have been receiving individuals belonging to their respective organizations from out of town. These individuals, of whom it is estimated that 20 belong to the BPP and 15 belong to the US organization, are reportedly from Oakland and Los Angeles.

INFORMATIVE NOTE

Date 6/26/69

The Black Panther Party (BPP) has previously announced that a conference between various New Left and black extremist organizations would be held in July at Merritt Junior College, Oakland, California, from 7/18-21/69.

Attached relates to a suggestion by San Francisco aimed toward disrupting the conference and denying BPP permission to use Merritt Junior College. A trusted friend of a Special Agent of that office has volunteered to raise the question of whether BPP has received permission to use the facilities of the college.

We agree with the action proposed by San Francisco. This affords an excellent opportunity to disrupt this conference which could result in a coalition of these groups. There is no chance of embarrassment and the Bureau will not be divulged as the source in this matter.

Re: Bureau airtel to Albany, 3/4/68

The following is a ninety day summary of activities within the New Haven Division relating to captioned program:

1. Operations Under Consideration

Due to the total disruption of the Black Panther Party (BPP) as a result of the arrest of the State BPP leadership and due to the fact that other black nationalists organizations within the State remain in a dormant state, no immediately operations are under consideration.

2. Operations Being Effected

b7C, b7D As authorized by the Bureau, New Haven will continue to furnish public source data to [redacted] New Haven will remain alert for those incidents or circumstances which may lend themselves to counterintelligence exploitation.

3. Tangible Results

As a direct result of action taken by FBI, New Haven, and the New Haven Police Department in connection with the homicide investigation of ALEX RACKLEY, the overall effective leadership of the BPP has been seriously disrupted. In addition, the leadership of the BPP may on some future date be prosecuted under the Smith Act - Overthrow of the United States Government. In addition to the above, thirty four arrests have directly or indirectly resulted from the investigation of the RACKLEY murder.

The above was the result of the finding of the body of ALEX RACKLEY, a member of the New York City BPP, in a swamp near Middlefield, Connecticut, on May 21, 1969. RACKLEY had been shot in the head and the chest with a large caliber weapon. The investigation conducted by the New Haven Police Department with FBI, New Haven, assistance developed that RACKLEY had been murdered by other BPP members who believed him to be a police informant.

Nine New Haven Panthers were arrested in Connecticut and State authorities requested UFAP process against [redacted] a New Haven Panther, and [redacted] and [redacted] and have been described as enforcers for BPP national.

b7C

Information was received that [redacted] was being held at the BPP political jail in Chicago because he had raped a Detroit Pantherette. Based on this information, the Chicago Division raided the BPP headquarters on June 3, 1969, in an effort to locate [redacted] however, he could not be found. There were found a number of rifles and shotguns as a result of the search of the BPP headquarters and eight BPP members were arrested on the charge of harboring and possession of illegal weapons.

b7C

Evidence secured during the raid contained documents which indicated that the BPP has made plans to physically take over various State and local governments throughout the State of Illinois. This information has been furnished to the Department of Justice, which is considering prosecution under the Smith Act.

The Denver Division, on June 5, 1969, received information from informants which resulted in the arrest at BPP headquarters at Denver of [redacted] of Washington, D.C., a key black extremist and [redacted] was arrested on June 5, 1969, on the charge of theft of Government property. This arrest was brought about when information was obtained that [redacted] went to the residence of [redacted] and Special Agents, in an attempt to apprehend [redacted] went to [redacted] apartment where an M-1 rifle, ammunition and a tape recorder, bearing a sticker which indicated that it was the property of the National Science Foundation, were located. The items were confiscated and it has been determined that the rifle had previously been reported stolen from the United States Navy, Treasure Island, California.

b7C [redacted] was arrested by FBI Agents in Salt Lake City, Utah, on June 6, 1969.

As a result of the various raids and arrests, the FBI has acquired voluminous evidence and valuable intelligence data and has placed a burden on the National Headquarters of the BPP to provide defense funds for those arrested. The events which followed the New Haven incident has had a disruptive effect on the entire BPP leadership throughout the United States. It is worthy of note that Chairman BOBBY SEALE has publicly stated that in the recent past "40" BPP leaders have been arrested in the United States.

1. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Boston had under consideration a publication to be known as Tell, Inc. Bureau letter dated 5-18-69, rejected this proposal. Boston is currently reassessing this plan looking for a satisfactory method of distribution which would insure it not being traced to the Bureau.

Boston is also aware that [redacted] a militant Negro on the Boston Agitator Index, is in poor financial condition. Two years ago [redacted] obtained a two million dollar loan from the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston to a company [redacted] Financial Aids and Investment Techniques (FAIT).

Through a personal contact of [redacted] in New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, an effort is being made to have New England Mutual Life Insurance Company demand an accounting from FAIT. If this is done there is no possibility of this being connected to the FBI and it would embarrass [redacted] and make his financial condition known and possibly prevent the granting of other loans [redacted] is seeking.

2. OPERATIONS IN EFFECT

All Agents handling racial matters are aware of the extreme importance of knowing of any BPP activity in this Division. They have been instructed to investigate every possibility of BPP activity. The Bureau and San Francisco will be kept advised of all BPP developments in the Cincinnati Division.

Comments Re Counterintelligence Program

As soon as identities of members of the possible BPP Chapter in Columbus, Ohio, are obtained, Cincinnati plans an interview of all members to develop sources and/or to plant distrust among the group so that it will wither and die.

The attention of the Boston Office is directed to the 6/28/69 issue of "The Black Panther." Page 14 contains a telegram addressed to the BPP signed [redacted] "Internal Organizational Secretary" of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). As you are aware, the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) was expelled from the recent SDS convention because that group would not vote full support for the BPP. The telegram set forth in the BPP newspaper raises an interesting counterintelligence possibility. It is to our benefit that PLP and if possible the SDS do not cooperate with the BPP.

The following is a telegram which should be anonymously sent by the Boston Office by means of a pay telephone by a mature and experienced Agent.

"Chairman Bobby Seale, Black Panther Party

Referenced SFairtel 6-18-69 set forth 4 counterintelligence proposals in one communication. To facilitate handling, avoid confusion, and to produce the best results, it will be necessary to submit each proposal separately.

As regards suggestion number 4 set forth in reairtel 7-3-69, the publicity generated by Stokely Carmichael's wife makes such communication unnecessary.

As regards suggestions 1 and 2 set forth in reSFairtel 7-3-69, San Francisco should review the enclosures to reBulet to determine if information contained would assist in these counterintelligence proposals.

As stated above, it will be necessary for San Francisco to direct a separate communication to the Bureau requesting permission to make the anonymous telephone calls.

Re Bureau airtel 4/24/69, under the above caption.

Enclosed are nine (9) glossy photographs, 8" x 10" in size, taken by Chicago as a result of the raid 6/4/69, by Chicago SA's on Chicago Black Panther Party (BPP) headquarters.

These photos are numbered one through nine on the reverse side. Photographs one through eight were taken at BPP office space, 2350 W. Madison Street, Chicago, while photograph number nine was taken in the Chicago Office. This photograph depicts all the weapons which were seized at the time of the raid.

It is recognized by Chicago, that the bulk of these photographs are not those specified by the Bureau as the type desired, i.e., sniping attacks on police, scenes of racial violence, etc., however, such photographs are somewhat difficult to obtain. As the Bureau has been advised, Chicago has previously reviewed the material available at the Graphic Arts Unit of the Chicago Police Department, and periodically brings this review up to date.

The material which is enclosed is the best available at present to Chicago, of possible interest along these lines. The photographs are largely self-explanatory, however, it might be noted the iron bar

Re Bureau letter to San Francisco, 4/23/69 and mylet to Bureau, 6/23/69.

There has been no change in status of the Rochester Branch of the BPP since the submission of mylet of 6/23/69.

Based on information received from [redacted] and b7D other sources, the Rochester Branch has officially ceased to exist.

b7D [redacted] reported that the Rochester Branch had its charter rescinded a few months ago.

b2,b7D [redacted] tended to corroborate the above information. The information received indicated that there was a breakdown of communications between the Rochester Branch and the New York State offices. It was further ascertained that the Rochester Branch was disbanded [redacted]

Inasmuch as there appears to be no organized BPP Branch in the Rochester area at the present time, there is no active leadership against which a planned counter-intelligence program could be adopted.

For the information of the Bureau, copies of the Black Panther Party (BPP) newspaper are being circulated in the Negro communities of Dade County. It can be anticipated, with the circulation of this newspaper, that a chapter of the BPP will eventually be organized in Miami.

[redacted]Sr. has been a Liaison Source of the Miami Office since November, 1964. He can best be described as a voice of moderation in the [redacted] of Miami and to a large degree is responsible for the [redacted] in Dade County.

Several weeks ago, [redacted] who met with President NIXON in Washington, D. C. [redacted] is a loyal and trusted friend of the Miami Office and was last contacted on July 8, 1969, when he was furnished a recent copy of the Black Panther newspaper.

In view of the circulation of the Black Panther newspaper in Miami, [redacted] contemplates the preparation of an editorial for the "Miami Times", a weekly Miami, Florida newspaper of which he is Editor, with a large circulation in the Negro communities of Dade County. [redacted] said he would try to exploit the propaganda that appears in the Black Panther newspaper and to point out that this is not the type of organization that is needed in Miami. [redacted] advised that he hopes that he can set the record straight as far as the BPP is concerned and through his editorial would probably receive "letters to the Editor" regarding the organization and whether or not a chapter is being formed in the Miami community.

Re Portland letter to the Director, 6/24/69.

Background

By letter dated 6/23/69, captioned "Highlights of Extremist Investigations, Racial Matters," the Bureau forwarded to all Continental Offices an article which appeared in the "Washington Post," on Thursday, 6/19/69, captioned, "Panthers: Are a Recital of Fear and Crime." This article covered testimony of two dissident Panther members.

Suggestion

Portland suggests that the Bureau consider anonymous mailing of copies of this article to individual Negro ministers and ministerial associations in cities where Black Panther Parties (BPP) are active, particularly in the area where BPP is operating "Free breakfast programs."

Effect

This article would serve to inform a select group of ministers about "Black Panthers" which ministers through gullibility have unwittingly assisted BPP operations.

The suggestion set forth in relet is being utilized at this time by several offices. Portland should review its files pertaining to the BPP to determine whether the BPP in Portland has any plans of operating "Breakfast Programs" or "Liberation Schools." If such plans do exist, you should consider utilizing the anonymous mailing of newspaper articles previously furnished your office.

NOTE:

Sometime ago we furnished various field offices with copies of newspaper articles which criticized the BPP "Breakfast for Children Program." Portland submitted a general suggestion that the Bureau consider the anonymous mailing of copies of these articles to various Negro ministers and churches in cities where the BPP is active. We are advising them that this is being done in specific cities and instructing them to review Portland files to determine if such mailings are favorable in that city.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

A review of the situation surrounding captioned organization discloses that the BPP appears to be in trouble, both financially and politically. The apparent causes are varied. Numerous arrests by both local police agencies and the FBI have injured not only the physical ranks of the BPP but also its image throughout the country. Its invincibility was challenged and struck down as a result of the arrests. Stokely Carmichael has resigned from the organization and has obviously taken with him a segment of Panther support. The immorality of BPP leaders David Hilliard and Bobby Seale, and the drinking of Seale, have contributed to a decline in morale within the national leadership.

The BPP from the very beginning has stressed the theme that the black man alone shall rule, no white man was to be trusted, and no white man would ever be allowed in the organization. At this time the BPP is so desperate that it is seeking alliances with white groups such as the Communist Party and the Students For a Democratic Society.

The above presents only a few of the weaknesses in the Black Panther Party throughout the country. At this time it is most imperative that we capitalize on these weaknesses. The disruption of this organization through counterintelligence should continue and even increase as the weaknesses appear. In submitting your future counterintelligence proposals, consideration should be given toward exploiting the above weaknesses and others as they appear. The full cooperation of recipient offices is needed so that the threat posed by the BPP can be eradicated.

RE: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
100-448006

As the BPP grew in size, and activity increased, its actions were watched by an ever increasing number of people. At that time its viciousness became apparent and its decline began. We must, therefore, concentrate our counterintelligence on the national organization in addition to the chapters. This group, like other political type organizations, depends on its public image for existence. As such, exposure can injure its image and cause disruption on a national scale.

NOTE:

The Black Panther Party is believed at this time to be in trouble. We are pointing out some of the apparent weaknesses of this group to the field offices most active in the counterintelligence program. We are instructing them to consider these weaknesses in future counterintelligence.

Succinct summary of Black Nationalist Movement in the Indianapolis Division follows:

A. Nation of Islam (NOI)

The NOI in the Indianapolis Division has approximately 140 members at present. This figure represents no change from the date of the last letter, as no significant changes have taken place. There are two numbered mosques, number 31 in South Bend, and number 33 in Gary. In addition, there are five other temples or mosques, located in Evansville, Fort Wayne, Muncie, Indianapolis, and East Chicago, Indiana. The three largest units are South Bend, Gary and Indianapolis, with about 50,45 and 27 members respectively.

The NOI at Muncie has about 5 or 6 members, but have lost their meeting place and have not had meetings recently. The other units with the exception of the three largest, each have about 6 members and are struggling for existence.

There has been no known proposed violence or problems caused by the NOI to date in the Indianapolis Division. There is always the possibility the NOI might cause trouble, although their potential at this time does not seem great. The leaders of all of the temples and mosques in the Indianapolis Division adhere to the teachings of ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, their leader.

B. Radical Action Project (RAP)

The Radical Action Project also known as the Black Radical Action Project is still located at 2264 North Meridian Street, in Indianapolis, Indiana. The RAP is presently at the end of their funds, not having received any funds since using up their last grant from the Episcopal Church which was not renewed. [redacted] are now the only persons who are at RAP Headquarters. The rest of the staff of RAP are no longer working as they do not have funds to pay them, and [redacted] are working without pay at present. Their primary function has been to maintain the Afro-American Bookstore which RAP operates however, it has been losing money on a regular basis and their debts are accumulating so it will not continue to operate much longer unless funds are received.

RAP has operated within the framework of the law in the past and have attempted to establish Negro owned businesses, help Negroes to find employment, and have taken a strong stand against police brutality and harassment. They frequently complain to the police department when black persons are arrested and to date have posed no real threat of violence. The potential however exists as long as they continue to operate. It appears they may be non-existent in the near future.

C. Black Panther Party (BPP)

The BPP continues to be the most active organization in the Indianapolis area, and operates from their headquarters at 113 West 30th Street, Indianapolis, Indiana. Chairman of the BPP in Indianapolis is [redacted] Their membership is presently about twelve to fifteen active members at most, with [redacted] being the main leaders and speakers.

253

The BPP in Indianapolis has the most potential for violence of any of the organizations; however, to date have not actually started any trouble. The BPP recently has been attempting to start a Breakfast for School Children Program and has been looking for a new headquarters location; however, neither has been successful to date. The activities of the BPP are followed in a bi-weekly letter.

1. Operations Under Consideration

The plans under consideration at this time are to continue interviewing all members and affiliates of the black extremist groups. The interviews in the past have been very effective in most groups, with the BPP being the exception as members of the BPP will not talk with agents, except on a rare occasion. The BPP would also like to relocate their headquarters and as a counter-intelligence move when location is being considered and is known, Indianapolis will attempt to see the location is not available to them.

2. Operations Being Effected

Contact with [redacted] has been continued. [redacted] is with the Episcopal Church and has a great deal of influence in the church. The Episcopal Church in New York City in 1/68 gave a grant of about $47,000 to the Radical Action Project in Indianapolis. [redacted] pondered in his own mind if the grant should have been given to RAP and if it should be renewed for another year. The matter was discussed with STEEG, and he came to the conclusion RAP should not be refinanced and used his influence to see that the Episcopal Church did not renew the grant this year.

3. Tangible Results

As a result of contact with [redacted] and the grant not being renewed RAP now has no funds, their staff has been let go, they are two months behind in rent, no one is receiving any salary, the membership has dwindled to where the organization has become almost non-existent, and the bookstore is putting them farther in debt each month it is operated.

4. Developements of Counteriatelligence Interest

None other than those mentioned above.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
NEW LEFT MOVEMENT

Enclosed for the Bureau are three copies of Storm Warnings, a "right-wing pamphlet" prepared by the St. Louis Division.

BACKGROUND

The enclosed pamphlet was prepared by the St. Louis Division utilizing the terminology and illustrations of a typical "right-wing" publication. This area has been the scene of some degree of "right-wing" activity directed against local New Left groups and peace organizations. The St. Louis PD are currently investigating acts of vandalism committed by unknown persons against the St. Louis Peace Information Center.

While no real organized "right-group" group in the area has any apparent strong public support, the two communities of Hazelwood and Florissant in St. Louis County have traditionally been fertile grounds for the John Birch Society, etc... The illustrations in Storm Warnings have been culled from a patriotic flyer called The American Revelation which is printed and distributed in Hazelwood.

The purpose of Storm Warnings is to alert the reader to both the known and the relatively unknown agitators in the St. Louis area. It is sprinkled with factual inaccuracies and exaggerations in order to carry out the theme as a typical "right-winger" might write it, and also to eliminate any suspicion that any official investigating agency assisted in the preparation. It is not felt that Storm Warnings contains any information which an astute "right-winger" might not learn or guess on his own.

RECOMMENDATION

St. Louis purposes to prepare 100 copies on commercial paper and mail them anonymously from Hazelwood, Mo. to various "right-wing" organizations and individuals in the area.

The enclosed samples were prepared on Xerox machine although the 100 copies will be prepared on multilith machine.

It is anticipated that the mailing will accomplish the following desirable results:

1. It will alert the "right-wing" groups to the relatively unknown agitators in the area.

2. It may detract from the support and influence of such notables as [redacted] the various legitimate organizations in which they hold membership.

3. It will concentrate the public opposition against the key Communists and Militants in the area and help them to focus on "the enemy".

4. Should this pamphlet come to the attention of the New Left (as it well may) it is felt that deciding how to deal with it and discussing the effect of it will keep the New Left in time-consuming efforts that will detract from the energy and time usually spent in plotting, recruiting and fund-raising.

Bureau authority is requested to initiate the above-described counter-intelligence project.

NOTE:

St. Louis has suggested the anonymous mailing of a pamphlet to various organizations and individuals in the St. Louis area. This pamphlet is unidentified as to origin and contains information regarding the activities of Communist Party, New Left and BPP members in the St. Louis area. The pamphlet is phrased the same as if it was prepared by an unknown right-wing group and exposes various activities of these leaders in the St. Louis area. The suggestion if adopted would provide a good method of exposing the activities of these people to local officials, the public and each other to their detriment. We are requesting additional facts prior to considering the use of this pamphlet.

He said that he is still extremely interested in the program and that as soon as sufficient personnel is available this will be the first of the documentary type programs to be handled. He said that he would estimate that this program would not be prepared and ready for showing until early in 9/69.

Miami Office does not feel that these two counter-intelligence programs will conflict. It appears that should the "Ft. Lauderdale News" prepare an article on the NOI, it would be published prior to the program by WCKT TV and could be of great assistance in the preparation of that TV expose.

In connection with the BPP Breakfast for Children Program which operated in Des Moines, Iowa, between April, 1969, and the end of the school year, this program has not continued through the summer months and at present there is no indication that the BPP in Des Moines plans to reactivate this program after school begins in September. While this program was in existence no information was developed that the BPP in Des Moines attempted to extort food or funds for this program from local businessmen in the community. In the event this program is reactivated in September, Omaha will attempt to formulate an effective counterintelligence against same.

At present, individuals involved in the BPP in Des Moines, Iowa, are attempting to secure space to be used as BPP headquarters, their former headquarters having been condemned by the city because of the extensive damage to the headquarters caused by an explosion in April, 1969. Sources have advised that the BPP in Des Moines has all but disintegrated during the summer months and has been involved in no activities.

As for the BPP chapter in Omaha, this group has neither held regular meetings or been involved in any activity during the summer months. No counterintelligence accomplishments have been attained under captioned program since submission of referenced Omaha letter. This matter will continue to receive close attention and suggestions for counterintelligence activities against the BPP and its leadership at a future date will be submitted by separate communication.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

This is to recommend that an anonymous telegram be sent to BPP headquarters from the Progressive Labor Party (PLP), which organization is engaged in a theoretical struggle with the BPP and was recently thrown out of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) for failure to support the BPP. The telegram will continue the strife existing between the three groups.

The BPP is planning a conference called "The National Revolutionary Conference for a United Front Against Fascism" to be held from 7/18-21/69. They are attempting to solicit white groups to participate and, subsequently, cooperate with the BPP. At a recent New Left convention, members of the SDS voted to support BPP programs, as well as the forthcoming BPP conference. Considerable argument took place prior to this vote and SDS expelled the PLP because members of that organization did not want to support the BPP. At this time there is considerable chaos within SDS and PLP.

The June 28, 1969, issue of "The Black Panther," a BPP publication, contained a telegram from SDS pointing out that the PLP was expelled from the convention, and SDS would support the BPP and its conference. It is believed that considerable disruption would take place within the BPP and SDS if an anonymous telegram was sent from a fictious committee of the PLP. The telegram is in answer to the SDS's communication and points out the improbability of cooperation between PLP and BPP as well as BPP immorality. The telegram can be sent from a telephone pay station in Boston, Massachusetts, without fear of embarrassment to the Bureau.

Re Indianapolis letter to Bureau 6/30/69 and Bureau letter to San Francisco 7/2/69.

The Indianapolis Chapter of the Black Panther Party (BPP) has in recent weeks been collecting or attempting to collect funds for the purpose of starting a Breakfast for School Children Program. At least one church has been contacted by the BPP in an attempt to obtain a place to have their breakfast program. The church advised the BPP that they would have to get the proper permits such as food handlers' permits, etc., if they wanted to use the church facilities. The church contacted was the [redacted] which is about one block from BPP Headquarters.

Inasmuch as they have contacted at least one church, it is felt they will continue to either get that church or one of the other churches near their headquarters. In referenced Bureau letter, the Bureau advised that certain articles were available for use as counterintelligence against the BPP. It is felt that since the BPP is currently trying to locate a place to have their Breakfast Program, it is felt that if a copy of each of the articles enclosed in referenced letter were sent to each of the four churches which are close to BPP Headquarters that this might have a good effect as a counterintelligence move against the BPP. It is felt by the Indianapolis Division that a quick counterintelligence move might successfully bring to a halt their attempts to establish a breakfast program. The Indianapolis Division, therefore, will be submitting a letter requesting the authority to anonymously send literature concerning the BPP Breakfast Program to the four ministers of the churches that are most likely to be used by BPP.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

No operations are currently under consideration. BPP meetings are currently being held to designate new leadership following a recent power struggle [redacted] and his followers and BPP members desiring new leadership. As soon as the new leadership is determined, Cointelpro operations will be considered.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

None.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

None.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

At the current time the Seattle Chapter of the BPP is in the middle of a power struggle to determine the eventual leadership of the organization. Operations of Seattle Chapter BPP have been disrupted and BPP membership is believed to be at an all-time low. As pointed out in previous communication, four of the most prominent BPP members are currently in custody and a struggle for leadership among the remaining leaders has split the Seattle Chapter BPP into several factions.

Re Detroit letter, dated 6/20/69, and Bureau letter, dated 7/3/69.

Detroit proposes utilizing the following counter-intelligence technique as a disruptive measure within the Detroit Black Panther Party (BPP). The counterintelligence technique would be in the form of an anonymous letter sent to a representative number of Detroit BPP leaders and members. This letter will be signed "A Concerned Sister" with the expectation that it will cause suspicion of [redacted], a Detroit BPP leader, as the author of the letter. The letter will read as follows:

"Dear Brothers and Sisters:

"Who's next? You, me, who knows. Do you really believe Brother Baynham blew his brains out. Do you believe he shot the top of his head off and then took the time to hide the gun in a safe hiding place so that the pigs couldn't find it. The pigs call it 'suicide' and none of the local brothers or sisters challenge this. Who's kidding who. Why was Brother Baynham's rich black blood splattered all over a dirty room in a lousy racist city. Was this 'suicide' and the 'mercy killing' of one of our other brothers in New Haven arranged by Chief Executioneer Hilliard. Why doesn't Chief Brother Hilliard speak out on our lost brothers.

This letter would be typewritten and prepared on commercially purchased paper and mailed from one of the more predominantly Negro populated communities in the Detroit area. Enclosed for Bureau are three copies and for Chicago one copy of xeroxed newsclipping from "MUHAMMAD SPEAKS".

BACKGROUND

ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, leader of the Nation of Islam, has written a scathing article regarding beards which appeared on Page 5 of the July 4, 1969 issue of "MUHAMMAD SPEAKS". The article addresses itself to all Black Men and attacks beards as "germ-carriers", "unsanitory" and "non-modern". The article is illustrated with a very unflattering picture of a bearded Negro with flies buzzing around his mouth.

Many Black Militants throughout the United States prefer to wear a beard and a list of them would probably include [redacted] It is not felt they would react favorably to reading the above described article.

RECOMMENDATION

St. Louis Division proposes that Chicago, who is office of origin for the NOI, prepare reprints of the above described article and mail it anonymously to all bearded Black Militants throughout the United States. Should this suggestion be adopted, the Bureau would have to instruct all divisions having Black militant activity to send the names and addresses of all such bearded extremists to the Chicago Division.

ReSLlet 7/16/69.

Recommendation in relet that an article by Elijah Muhammad, leader of the Nation of Islam (NOI), which appeared in the 7/4/69 issue of "Muhammad Speaks," be distributed to all bearded black militants throughout the U.S., is not being approved.

You have indicated that dissemination of this article, which is critical of the beards being worn by black militants, would increase irritation between the NOI and other black militant groups. You have also indicated that it would injure the degree of cooperation between these groups and the NOI and should detract from the favorable light which many blacks regard "Muhammad Speaks." Inasmuch as the article has already appeared in the above-mentioned issue of "Muhammad Speaks," it is felt that further distribution to militant blacks would not have sufficient effect to justify the expenses of the program.

ReBulet to San Francisco, 7/2/69 and Bulet to NY, 7/10/69.

Inasmuch as the NYO enjoys excellent high level liaison with the [redacted] it is proposed at this time that in order to thwart the BPP in the breakfast and luncheon program it has sponsored at the All Saints Roman Catholic Church School the following steps should be taken:

1. A direct contact to be made through the established liaison source by a mature and experienced Special Agent who is familiar with various aspects of racial matters with a representative of the office [redacted] At that time the following documents will be exhibited and discussed:

A. An article appearing in the 5/11/69 issue of the "Black Panther" entitled "Breakfast for Children"

b. An article appearing in the 5/11/69 issue of the "Black Panther" entitled "We want an End to the Robbery by the White Man of the Black Community"

C. An article appearing in the "Black Panther" entitled "Black Panther Revolutionary Wedding".

The discussion of the above mentioned documents will pertain to the fact that they represent the true feelings and attitudes of the BPP toward the people of the community and that the breakfast and luncheon program is just used by the BPP as a vehicle to assemble and train children in the violent and subversive ideals of that organization.

2. The NYO further suggests that during the aforementioned proposed conference the following matters be brought to the attention of the [redacted] in a general sense without any specific documentations:

A. The possibility that the membership of the NOI Mosque Number 7 located in Harlem, NYC, may take exception to the facilities of a Roman Catholic Church being used to dispense the "White Man's food" to black children and may consequently resort to violence in some form to stop this.

B. The idea that whatever food is being distributed by the BPP most likely was obtained from local store owners through open or subtle extortion methods.

It is the opinion of the NYO that the above outlined proposal of a direct contact with the [redacted] outweighs any attempt by anonymous or surreptitious means to disrupt the BPP in their breakfast for children program being operated in All Saints Roman Catholic Church in New York City.

The NYO feels that said proposal can be presented in a manner which would show concern for the Church's position in this sensitive matter without causing embarrassment to the Bureau.

It is hoped that the end result of this proposal would be the withdrawal of the use of Church facilities by the BPP in New York City.

15

On 7/1/69 the NYO orally [redacted] information to the effect that a breakfast and luncheon program sponsored by the BPP was scheduled to commence on 7/7/69, at All Saints School and it is felt that if the above outlined proposal is approved it will definitely cause some action to be taken to impair the BPP's use of church facilities in the future.

(BPP)

Re San Diego letter to the Bureau 7/1/69, and San Diego airtels to the Bureau 7/14 and 15/69.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

At the present time there are three requests awaiting Bureau evaluation.

[redacted] is still being considered as a target for the Counterintelligence Program.

If the Bureau approves the request contained in San Diego airtel to the Bureau 7/14/69 concerning an attempt to have US evicted, and if this attempt is successful, consideration will be given toward precluding the US group from renting another meeting place.

Interviews of BPP members and select, suspected US members is continuing.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

An intensive interview program directed at BPP members continues to be effected. Emphasis in these interviews is directed toward violations of the Anti-Riot Laws.

No results have thus far been observed concerning the Bureau approved anonymous letter sent to [redacted] concerning [redacted]

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

— No additional tangible results have been observed in addition to those which appear in referenced San Diego letter dated 7/1/69.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

At the present time San Diego is experiencing a near riot situation including confrontations between the San Diego Police Department and various black citizens. There is no indication at this point that any of the difficulties have been sponsored or organized by either the BPP or US. It is logical to assume, however, that members of both of these groups are participating in the confrontations on an individual basis.

[redacted] to the effect that a contingent of BPP members are planning on travelling from Oakland to San Diego in order to participate in any forthcoming disorders.

Attempts are being made to verify this information at the present time. In the event the information is factual, determinations will be made regarding the mode of travel utilized by these individuals. In the event that they travel by air and are in possession of weapons, appropriate action will be made to effect their arrest and prosecution.

In the event they travel by means other than aircraft, the San Diego Police Department will be apprised of their mode of travel and anticipated arrival time. Efforts will then be made to cause their arrest by the local San Diego authorities prior to their ability to participate in any disorderly conduct.

The entire racial situation in San Diego is not good at the present time and is being followed very closely in order to capitalize on any potential counterintelligence activity. Appropriate requests will be submitted, if needed, concerning any anticipated counterintelligence action to be taken.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "... we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

NOTE:

Chicago has prepared three cartoons which are entitled "The Taming of the Panther," "The Black Panther - House Cat for the White Liberals" and "Follow Me." The first cartoon portrays a member of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) taming a wild Panther with a whip. The second cartoon portrays a white leftist with a Black Panther as a house cat. The third cartoon is the picture of an SDS member riding on the back of a Panther yelling "Follow me." These cartoons were designed to antagonize the BPP and points out that the white leftist movement is leading them. We have been exploring the possibility of furnishing these cartoons on an anonymous basis. Chicago recommends that anonymous copies be furnished

Remylet 4/14/69.

San Francisco letters or airtels entitled "COUNTER-INTELLIGENCE PROGRAM; BLACK NATIONALIST-HATE GROUPS; RACIAL INTELLIGENCE, BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)" of 4/21/69, 5/5/69, 5/14/69, 6/5/69, 6/18/69 and 7/3/69 have set forth the progress and plans of San Francisco in above captioned matter.

Since submission of last bi-weekly airtel, 7/3/69 Prime Minister STOKELY CARMICHAEL of BPP has tendered his resignation and it would appear that the mailing of an expulsion letter to CARMICHAEL would not be necessary.

By UACB radiogram 6/25/69, San Francisco reported the plan to [redacted] the use of Merritt Junior College by BPP for the United Front Against Fascism to be convened 7/18/69. This was done. We can only presume the matter was effective because the BPP has now rented Oakland City Auditorium at a cost of over $1000 for this conference.

Re San Francisco airtel, 6/5/69.

Enclosed for the Bureau is a copy of proposed letter and a photostat of a handbill.

San Francisco has no Counterintelligence projects presently under operation and there have been no accomplishments in this field since submission of reairtel.

With the close of the school year the Breakfast for Children Program (BCP) ceased operations in this area last week except at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in San Francisco. Inquiry at that church resulted in the receipt of information that the BCP would be continued as long as possible. The Bureau has been advised that health permits are not necessary for those employed in this operation in San Francisco.

The 6/14/69 edition of "The Black Panther" appeared without the name of STOKELEY CARMICHAEL in the masthead. The position of Prime Minister was set forth but no name appeared below the title. Apparently CARMICHAEL has been read out of the BPP and it is not believed anything could be accomplished at this time by directing a letter to him to that effect.

Bureau authority is requested for the following counterintelligence projects:

1. Inquiries have failed to indicate any further distribution of the BPP Coloring Book in this area. The Bureau has previously been furnished a copy of this book by the Kansas City Division. Due to the particular vicious nature of the book it is believed that a normal person might become incensed if he were to realize the book might be used in connection with the BCP. We have received no definite information to this effect. Nevertheless it is suggested that San Francisco be allowed to reproduce the copies of the coloring book by Xerox and mail them anonymously to persons who might take action to disrupt the BCP or at least cause them to refuse to offer cooperation to the BPP in the future.

If permission is granted a copy of an unsigned letter will be prepared on a personal typewriter. Paper and envelopes utilized will be purchased locally and the letters will be mailed from a Post Office near the recipient in order that no connection can be made with the mailing and the FBI.

A copy of the proposed letter is included as an enclosure.

Following are the proposed addressees:

[redacted]

54

In the event this mailing is approved San Francisco also requests permission to mail to the same individuals after a week interval, a copy of the handbill distributed by BPP at picketing of Safeway Market and in another week, to the same individuals, a current copy of "The Black Panther." It is believed that fair appraisal of this material would convince anyone of the unreasonable demands of the BPP and their violence prone nature. A photostat of this handbill is also enclosed.

2. Bureau permission is also requested to make at least five phone calls to both National Headquarters of BPP at Berkeley and at San Francisco Headquarters. A different Agent will be utilized to make successive calls to each office. It is contemplated the caller will not identify himself but will merely ask if the BCP is in operation (at National Headquarters is it in operation in Berkeley; and at San Francisco is it in operation at Sacred Heart). The caller will advise that he was approached for a donation the previous day or night and no names will be utilized. It will be explained that the caller merely wants to verify if the solicitation the previous day was legitimate.

It is felt these calls might cause some suspicion that some of the members are pocketing donations for their personal use. No names will be utilized.

Reference is made to Denver airtel, 6/9/69. San Francisco feels obliged to point out the possible danger of planting the idea in the BPP that a certain member, now separated from the BPP, furnished information allowing the successful apprehension of two BPP members wanted for murder. The fact that those people were wanted for murder indicates the possibility of BPP taking violent action against this individual. Even if such action could be justified against an active leader it is not felt that Bureau should become even remotely involved in furnishing anonymously incorrect information that might lead to the homicide of a young teenager who has apparently separated from the BPP.

Copy of letter to accompany BPP Coloring Book with no heading or date.

Dear Sir:

I appreciate the necessity of both educating and properly feeding the young people of our community. I also realize the good intentions of some of the people who have aided in the Black Panther Breakfast Program.

There is attached a coloring book prepared by the Panthers for the indoctrination of those young children. Are you able to review this book and then conclude that aiding such a project is either a legitimate charitable venture or of help to the young impressionable people involved? Is not the price of teaching youngsters to kill police officers too high to pay for such a program?

Re New York report of [redacted]
6-23-69, in the case captioned "Jewish Defense League, Radial Matters," New York file 157-3463.

A review of referenced report disclosed that the Jewish Defense League (JEDEL) is a militant Jewish defense organization which teaches its members the art of self-defense and the use of small arms. This organization was formed to "protect Jews from those who threaten them in any way." Its militancy is due to its desire to protect itself from all forms of anti-Semitism, both "black and white" It rejects all "hate" and "illegality."

A review of the above report presents an interesting counterintelligence possibility. It appears that this organization will act when notice of anti-Semitism is received. It appears that it will also act when presented with evidence of hate activity. The report points out that members of the organization care about "The American Dream." It is believed that JEDEL has financial backing.

New York should review referenced report with a view in mind of establishing an anonymous source within JEDEL. In other words, it may be possible to establish a rapport between someone in a leadership capacity and an anonymous person. We would then be in a position to furnish JEDEL with information we wish to disseminate and for other counterintelligence activity. The person furnishing the information would, of course, be fictitious. The information would, of necessity, have to be factual. New York should forward a suggested initial communication establishing the necessary connection between JEDEL and the fictitious source.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

Re Bureau letter to San Francisco dated 7/2/69.

The above-referenced letter enclosed a copy of five different articles for possible counterintelligence use. The Indianapolis Chapter of the Black Panther Party (BPP) has in recent weeks been collecting, or at least attempting to collect, funds for the purpose of establishing a Breakfast Program to help clean up their image in the community. As a result, at least one church, the Second Christian Church, 130 West 29th Street, Indianapolis, has been contacted in an attempt by the BPP to locate a place to have their Breakfast Program. The church informed the BPP that if they desired to use the church kitchen and facilities that the BPP would have to get certain permits and licenses and that if the BPP would obtain them, then they would consider letting the BPP use their facilities. They have not been recontacted since that time by the BPP, but anticipate being called upon again.

It is also likely that the BPP might call upon several other churches near their headquarters in looking for a place for the Breakfast Program. It is felt that copies of the articles enclosed in referenced letter would be most helpful in discouraging these churches from allowing the BPP to use their facilities for the Breakfast Program.

The Indianapolis Division is therefore requesting four copies of each article contained in referenced letter, on

We have previously furnished various field offices Xerox copies of newspaper articles which appeared in the BPP newspaper as well as one article published by the "United Press International." These articles pointed out the hideous nature of the BPP and its "Breakfast for Children" program. One of the articles described a "Panther wedding" where the children sang songs like "Off the Pig." Indianapolis has advised that the BPP is presently attempting to collect funds for the purpose of establishing a breakfast program in Indianapolis and have contacted several churches in an effort to obtain facilities for these breakfasts. Indianapolis has recommended that copies of these articles be anonymously mailed to the ministers of the churches. To white FBP members only!!

In order to establish good rapport and harmnious working relationships with the BPP and to correct obvious deficienties, the following rules of conduct should be observed:

1. All Panthers and members of the Negro race will be called Black OR THEIR GIVEN NAME. Under no circumstances should any racial slur be used or derogatory comment be made.

2. The word "boy" must never be used refering to the Negro for obvious reasons.

3. All ideas orginating from the Negro should be welcomed and praised even if they have no value. The parise should not be overdone, but is useful in building confidence and trust.

4. In all contacts with the Negro, as in the planning and execution of plans, all details should be spelled out to insure nothing is overlooked. Firm friendly guidence is necessary to achieve our goals.

5. The Black man should be always considered as correct in any conflict with the White society. The proper emotion should be shown and the proper action taken.

6. The FBP goal, as far as the Panthers are concernd is to forward the Revolution. The Panthers must never become aware whose revolution is being considered!

Remember! In order to insure our success, we must be able to control the Black mass. After this memo is read, it shoud be destroyed.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALISTS - HATE GROUP
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Within the State of Indiana, a unique situation exists concerning white hate type groups, such as the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (KKK) (United Klans of America, Inc.) wherein each organization is striving for quasi respectability by decrying the tenets of similar organizations, such as Minutemen or National States Rights Party (NSRP). Members, regardless of stature within their organization, are extremely vocal in denouncing their like or competing group for advocating or practicing violent methods to achieve their means.

It has been observed that a suggestion to members of the KKK that their organization and goals are synomous to those of the Minutemen or NSRP, brings a ready denial and the stated belief that such association, true or supposed, could drastically reduce their membership and hamper recruiting efforts, inasmuch as beliefs of the competing organization, quite opposite to theirs, desired to change the existing laws and constitution by means other than.

Re Bureau letter to San Francisco, dated 7/10/69.

San Francisco has reported that with the close of the school year the Breakfast for Children Program (BCP) has seized operations in the area but has been surplanted in some degree by the BPP Liberation Schools. BPP leaders have also indicated intentions of re-instituting the BCP program in the future.

Inquiries in the San Francisco Division have indicated that the BPP Coloring Book received very limited distribution but due to the particularly vicious nature of this publication, it is believed that it can still be utilized in above captioned program.

Bureau authority is therefore requested to furnish a xeroxed copy of the BPP Coloring Book to the addressees hereinafter set forth. In the same letter it is also requested that authority be granted to forward the addressees a copy of "The Black Panther", weekly newspaper of the BPP, dated 7/5/69. Re Indianapolis letter to Bureau, 7/14/69.

A coalition of the various black groups in Indianapolis initiated a breakfast program for underprivileged children. The coalition call themselves "The Black Coalition." The breakfast program has been held now for about two weeks at St. John's Missionary Baptist Church, 17th and Martindale in Indianapolis. The breakfast program is funded primarily by St. John's Missionary Baptist Church and other churches with some support from the black militant groups in Indianapolis. Members of these groups are responsible for fixing and serving the breakfast to the children. Included in these groups is the Black Panther Party.

On 7/19/69, a photograph appeared in "The Indianapolis Recorder," a local Negro owned and operated weekly newspaper. The photograph was of several Black Panther Party (BPP) members serving breakfast to some children. The caption to the photograph stated the BPP had initiated the program and gave the BPP in Indianapolis credit for the program, without mentioning the other local black groups.

Also they were not allowed to speak to the children with any political or black hatred talk. The children were fed and several members of the BPP were helping to fix the food, serve and clean up after the breakfast each morning. [redacted] stated this did not give the BPP a chance to talk to the youngsters. Immediately following the breakfast, the children are taught Bible stories through film strips, [redacted]

[redacted], he stated he was not going to allow the BPP to take credit for the breakfast program or to use it for the purpose of indoctrination by the BPP. [redacted] felt that since the only thing BPP members were doing was working fixing food and cleaning dishes of which he was sure they would soon get tired, he expected the BPP to soon quit participating. Natural Allies of Black Panthers

THE Black Panther Party begins a national conference in Oakland tomorrow, reveling, no doubt, in its designation this week by J. Edgar Hoover as representing "the greatest threat to the internal security of the country" among black extremist groups.

The record supports the F.B.I. chief's statement that members of the Black Panthers have "perpetrated numerous assaults on police officers and have engaged in violent confrontations with police in cities throughout the country." In the past half year alone, scores of Panthers have been arrested in various cities around the nation on charges ranging from possession of concealed weapons to arson and armed robbery.

Present emphasis in Panther policy is on coalition with other radical groups, white or black. An announced goal of the Oakland convention is to establish a "united front against fascism."

The Panthers have been working with groups such as the Students for a Democratic Society, organizations to which they refer as "white worker alliances."

At least, among the white extremist groups, the Black Panthers have found their natural allies.

But they will find few other citizens —black or white—who will subscribe to a doctrine of arson, robbery or other violent acts under the excuse of countering "fascism." Violence, after all, is a basic weapon of fascism.

Re Omaha letter to Bureau, 7/14/69.

As noted in referenced letter, the BPP in Des Moines, Iowa, is attempting to secure space for use as its headquarters, its former headquarters having been condemned by the City of Des Moines because of the extensive damage to it caused by an explosion in April, 1969. Sources continue to advise that the BPP in Des Moines has all but disintegrated during the past few months and has been involved in no activity.

On 7/22/69, it was determined that the BPP in Omaha had been evicted from the building housing its headquarters since the organization had paid no rent on this space since September, 1968, however, the BPP moved back into this building on the same date. At present, this matter is in the hands of the Omaha City Attorney who will decide further action to be taken in this matter.

The Omaha BPP has not been involved in any organizational activity since 5/18/69, when it held a rally in an Omaha city park. Recently received information indicates that there are only between six and ten members of this organization and they are involved in no organized activity.

No counterintelligence accomplishments have been obtained under captioned program since submission of referenced Omaha letter.

This matter will continue to receive close attention and suggestions for counterintelligence activities against the BPP and its leadership at a future date will be submitted by separate communication.

RE Baltimore letter to Director, FBI, dated 7/14/69 and Bureau's letter to San Francisco, dated 7/11/69.

During the two-week period 7/23/69 - 8/4/69, there were no specific counterintelligence measures taken against the Black Panther Party (BPP).

It is to be noted that the Baltimore Chapter of the BPP is currently undergoing a change of leadership and the members are uncertain as to the status of the Baltimore Chapter. The activities of the Baltimore Chapter are presently at a minimum and meetings are not being held on a regular basis.

In view of the above, no specific recommendations are being directed against the BPP at this time.

Re Jackson letter to Bureau 5/27/69.

The following items of counter-intelligence interest are forwarded for info of the Bureau and receiving offices:

The Jackson Division on 7/30-31/69, conducted a Police-Community Relations Two-Day Seminar at the Jackson Police Academy under the sponsorship of the Jackson, Miss., Police Department. Among topics discussed by FBI instructors with the crowd of over 65 officers in attendance, were Black Nationalist groups and the fact that police officers should be alert to any criminal activities or acts of violence perpetrated by Negroes affiliated with black extremist groups.

In the early morning hours, 7/31/69, two of the officers who attended the session on 7/30/69 were on duty in the vicinity of a Negro ghetto area of Jackson. They observed a 1960 Chevrolet with three bearded militant looking Negro occupants cruising suspiciously in the vicinity of a large gun shop in the ghetto area. The officers stopped this car on a traffic violation. Subsequent inquiry by the officers with the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) revealed that the car was stolen from New Orleans, La., on 7/29/69. Officers in searching the car found a fully loaded .30 caliber semi-automatic M-1 carbine and a bolt action rifle as well as burglary tools. The three were booked on possession of burglary tools and related local charges and during the booking process [redacted] the driver of the car when it was stopped, admitted he was a writer for "Muhammed Speaks", a Nation of Islam (NOI) publication and related Black Nationalist affiliations.

[redacted] is known to the New Orleans Division of the FBI as a Republic of New Africa (RNA) activist from New Orleans, La., who is on the Security Index and the Agitator Index of that office.

The Jackson Division confirmed from contact with the New Orleans Division that [redacted] was a convicted felon. Additionally, the New Orleans Division advised that [redacted] had been arrested and convicted on criminal trespassing charges recently in New Orleans stemming from his participation in the presentation of the "Black Manifesto" at the First Presbyterian Church in New Orleans in May, 1969.

Based on the above info and interview by Bureau Agents of the three individuals arrested, Federal complaints were authorized and warrants issued on 8/2/69, charging [redacted] with ITSMV and with a violation of the Gun Control Act of 1968.

[redacted] who was with [redacted] in the car, was also charged with ITSMV charges.

[redacted] was charged with misprison of a felony for failing to make known to proper authorities his knowledge concerning [redacted] involvement in transporting a stolen vehicle across state lines. [redacted] was the third occupant of the auto.

This threesome was afforded a hearing before the U. S. Commissioner, Hattiesburg, Miss., on 8/2/69, and were remanded to the Forrest County Miss. Jail, Hattiesburg, on Federal charges in lieu of $5,000 bond on each charge. After

Federal process was obtained and the threesome had their hearing, a press release was issued by the SAC, Jackson regarding the matter. Newsmen who had heard about the Black Nationalist affiliations concerning [redacted] inquired of the FBI regarding these affiliations; however, were referred to local officials and their own sources in New Orleans to determine these affiliations and to possibly determine any prior convictions on the part of [redacted] The newsmen had heard that [redacted] had Black Nationalist affiliations from talking with police officers who had talked with the threesome following their arrest. Subsequently, several representatives of the news media issued news articles and TV and radio reports regarding the arrest of the threesome, including in this report information from their sources in New Orleans who confirmed prior arrests [redacted] part and other information regarding Black Nationalist affiliations of [redacted]

As a result of the above news cast and news articles much unfavorable state publicity was obtained regarding [redacted] his companions, and the Black Nationalist Groups [redacted] is affiliated with. The Associated Press and United Press International also ran stories on the threesome's arrest.

[redacted] came to Jackson, Miss., by auto on the evening of 8/1/69, to check into local charges regarding the threesome. When she heard that the local charges would probably be replaced by Federal charges, she decided to leave Jackson immediately and return to New Orleans. This information is being used by Jackson Agents to discredit RNA leadership through Jackson sources by showing this leadership "deserting their compatriots when the going gets rough".

Info copy of this letter forwarded to New Orleans as OO regarding [redacted] and [redacted] info copy to Detroit as OO regarding the RNA; info copy to Chicago as OO in the NOI.

Crisscross patrols were established to effect arrests in the vicinity of the Laguna Mountains. The plans for the training session, however, did not materialize.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The racial situation in San Diego has returned to near normal after the riot situation of 7/13/69. Post mortem analysis of the riot indicates that it was spontaneous in nature and was not promulgated by any particular group.

PROPOSED COUNTERINTELLIGENCE
AGAINST BPP CHAPTER,
KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

Re Bureau letter, 7/2/69, with enclosures, to San Francisco and various offices, Kansas City letter, 7/22/69, to Bureau, and Bureau letter, 7/25/69, to Kansas City.

Due to widespread national publicity given the BPP Coloring Book, a careful study for some weeks in depth of factors and personalities in Kansas City, Missouri, (site of the only Kansas City Division BPP Chapter and a past local Breakfast Program) suggests very limited, if not questionable or detrimental, effects from a counter-intelligence distribution now of the BPP Coloring Book and related national and local news items critical of the BPP Breakfast Program.

The above conclusion is based on data, available to the Kansas City Office, namely (1) no local or national distribution of the Coloring Book, or of BPP propaganda for children in connection with the Breakfast Program, is known or documentable as proven; in fact, San Francisco reports are to the contrary, as well as substantial proof of publication or distribution of the Coloring Book or such propaganda with approval and support of the national BPP; (2) widespread national publicity as to the Coloring Book and Breakfast Program are now "old hat" locally. An anonymous attempt to couple the Coloring Book with the discontinued Breakfast Program in Kansas City, Missouri, as a counterintelligence action to educate key "naive" Negro ministers who supported the Breakfast Program in Kansas City, Missouri, based on the lack of proof mentioned above, could backfire with defensive publicity.

Such types of defensive publicity are exemplified by the attached copies of news items in the Kansas City Times, 8/2 and 8/4/69, and the Kansas City Star, 8/3/69, daily Kansas City, Missouri newspapers.

Also attached is an article dated 7/10/69 from the Kansas City Star.

The Kansas City Division will be alert to recommend counterintelligence action in future developing situations, should the BPP "Breakfast Program", "Liberation Schools", and "Health Clinics" resume, start or get underway.

With reference to Bureau letter 7/15/69, relative to a counterintelligence proposal for utilizing a previously submitted cartoon for anonymous distribution in the Kansas City area, no recommendation is being made for such distribution at this time due to the summer cessation of the Breakfast Program and the widespread sensational type of publicity, attached, which should depict for intelligent readers the true character of the BPPs. A recommendation as to possible future distribution of such cartoons will be made when it is considered timely.

CONCERN OVER NEGRO'S IMAGE

Chief C. M. Kelley Explains Quote About Black Community

INTEREST IN RAPPORT

He Says Police Have Worked Hard to Build Relations

C. M. Kelley, Kansas City police chief, expressed concern yesterday that the image of the city's black community might be damaged by a Black Panther claim that Negroes are "ecstatic" over the death of John Edward Dacy, policeman.

Dacy was killed July 21 when he entered a jewelry store and loan company during a robbery. Three persons are being held in the slaying.

In National Publication

The claim of ecstasy was made last week in an article published in the Panthers' national publication and carried over the byline of the deputy health minister of the Kansas City Black Panther chapter. Other black leaders subsequently denied the claim.

Kelley, interviewed after the article appeared, was quoted as saying: "I certainly hope none of our fine citizens in the Negro community suffer because of this."

Herman Johnson, metropolitan chairman of the N. A. A. C. P., said in reaction to Kelley's statement that the Negro community would be angry if the police chief meant other blacks would be hurt in the war of nerves between the Panthers and the police.

Kelley said yesterday that the quote, while accurate, was incomplete. Not included, he said, was a comment that Negro citizens might suffer from reflections of adverse comment on the article.

(The reporter who covered the story for The Star corroborated last night Chief Kelley's statement that the quote was incomplete.)

He Fears Stereotyping

He said a psychological process called "stereotyping" could cause persons to generalize on the characteristics of a small group, projecting these traits to others who share the same color or background. He continued:

An example is to classify all policemen as thieves because one of them is found guilty of theft. To say all Irish are hot-headed because some anger quickly. To say all Negroes are violent and irresponsible because some advocate an illegal means to obtain what is thought to be just retribution.

I was quoted recently in an article, reflecting my thoughts regarding an item which appeared in a Black Panther publication. I at first considered remaining silent and would have done so except I thought my comments might help put this whole matter in a proper perspective. I did say, and mean it sincerely when I was quoted: I certainly hope none of our fine citizens in the Negro community suffer because of this.

What I also said but what was not included in the quote was that people are prone to stereotype this kind of action and I was afraid our good Negro citizens would suffer from reflections of adverse comment and interpretation I knew had already been made. We have met with numerous groups of the black community. I thought we understood one another and I feared such a rapport as we may have established would crumble through careless and thoughtless utterings of a very few. I regret any misunderstanding arose.

I do not, however, feel that I contributed to the misunderstanding and I did not have any other thought in mind except to try to protect the many Negroes who are just as law abiding, just as anxious for peaceful recognition of the rights of all men as am I. No threat to anyone was inferred or intended.

Insofar as the comment about the action of the Panthers being tantamount to a declaration of war, I appear there also to have been grossly misunderstood. I do fear that such threats as issued by the Panther group might precipitate an armed confrontation between the police and that group. We do not want this, will try desperately to avoid it, and, as I said in the interview, will not be pushed into initiating it.

It has occurred in some cities however and I wanted to point this out as an unfortunate concomitant to violent threats and show of force. I had hoped this would stimulate a greater degree of reasonableness and deliberation on the part of all concerned. I still hope this is true and I repeat that the Kansas City, Mo., Police department feels its responsibilities keenly as conservators of the peace and will not engage in unbridled retaliation through violence.

We intend, however, to maintain our pledge to keep the peace.

(A Member of The Star's Staff)

The head of the Black Panther party chapter here now openly identifies himself as a Marxist-Leninist and predicts an "armed revolution" in Kansas City and nationally.

"We are Marxist-Leninists," Pete O'Neal, the 28-year-old Panther leader said in an interview today. "We follow the doctrines laid down by Mao Tse-tung. If you want to call that Communist, go ahead."

'To Free Black Colony'

O'Neal, who took the reins of the Panther chapter here in late January, had until now avoided open espousal of Marxist-Leninist views, in so many words.

"The purpose of the Black Panthers," he said, "is to liberate the black colony and stimulate the revolution of the mother country."

He was asked what he meant by "revolution."

"Taking the power out of the hands of the few and giving it to the many," he replied.

He was asked how this would be done.

Sees Armed Revolt

"By armed revolution," he said. "There's a holocaust coming. People are going to die. They're going to litter the streets."

An ex-convict, O'Neal admits to having been a man of basically criminal intent until the riots in Kansas City in April of last year. Then he became "aware," as he puts it, of the black man's plight in society and the responsibility he feels he has to rectify the wrongs visited upon blacks by the "racist power structure and their army, the police department."

Shortly after becoming a Black Panther here, O'Neal denied any Communist leanings, stressing that he was concerned with local problems confronting blacks.

Asked in February why the Panthers studied and quoted Mao and Che Guevara, O'Neal replied: "A person can quote Jesus Christ and not be a Christian. I'm sure a person can quote Mao Tse-tung and not be a Communist . . . Mao and Che are revolutionary people and we are revolutionary people. These people have been successful in the revolution, and this is basically why we study their tactics. We are studying their tactics, not their ideologies."

Books he cited then as having had the most influence on him were "The Autobiography of Malcolm X," "Malcolm X Speaks" and Eldridge Cleaver's "Soul on Ice."

Carries 'Red Book'

Now, five months and considerable study later, he carries the so-called "Red Book," titled "Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung" with him at times and is able to quote some passages directly from the book without opening it. He also has started reading "Das Capital."

The kind of society he envisages for the United States if "the revolution" is successful is "socialist," but not necessarily like that of any country in existence today.

It would certainly not be like that of the "revisionist" Soviet Union, which he views with contempt as having practically become an ally of the United States.

Nor would it have to be identical to the system in Red China, he said, although he was quick to express admiration for that system, observing: "The people of China are freer today than any black man in America."

Trial-Error Period

He conceded that a period of trial-and-error would probably occur after the revolution here and that not everything would necessarily work smoothly at first.

But those who are now oppressed, he said, would finally be free.

Free from what, he was asked.

"Oppression," O'Neal said. "Hunger. Want."

He said he does not see the struggle as racial in nature but as between the "haves and have-nots." Many white "John Browns" will be fighting side by side with the Panthers when the revolution comes.

Asked how the revolution might start, he said one small incident in a single city could set it off, spreading from one city to the next.

Lists Possible Motives

O'Neal is far more convincing when he talks of the plight of the black man in Kansas City than when he discusses the evils he sees in capitalism. His manner raises the question of just why now, he has chosen to identify himself with an ideology that is alien to most blacks as well as whites in this country.

At least four motives seem possible:

O He means it all, every word of it.

O He feels he should believe it and through study is attempting to embrace the ideology.

O He feels he must espouse such beliefs to stay in harmony with the Black Panther party nationally.

O He sees the vocalization of such beliefs as another strategic means of provoking the "oppressive power structure" into more repressive activity against him and the Panthers—thus engendering more grassroots support for his organization in the black community.

"I hold that it is bad as far as we are concerned if a person, a political party, an army or a school is not attacked by the enemy," Chiarman Mao said in 1939 (pg. 15 of the "Red Book"), "for in that case it would definitely mean that we have sunk to the level of the enemy.

"It is good if we are attacked by the enemy, since it proves that we have drawn a clear line of demarcation between the enemy and ourselves.

"It is still better if the enemy attacks us wildly and paints us utterly black and without a single virtue; it demonstrates that we have not only drawn a clear line of demarcation between the enemy and ourselves but have achieved a great deal in our work."

WOULD SOFTEN PANTHER VIEW

Black Leaders Believe Most Decry Dacy Slaying

DEPLORE KELLEY STAND

Police Chief Criticized for Reaction to Article

By Charles Hammer
(A Member of The Star's Staff)

If black people in Kansas City have any emotion about the recent slaying of John Edward Dacy, a white patrolman, that emotion is regret, the Metropolitan N. A. A. C. P. chairman said yesterday.

Herman Johnson, N. A. A. C. P. leader, said the Black Panthers are wrong in stating in their national publication that black people here are "ecstatic" about the death of the officer.

As Small Minority

"There are 110,000 black people in Kansas City and about 15 Black Panthers," Johnson said. "I don't know of anyone else who feels the way they do about someone's death."

The article celebrating the murder of the officer appeared over the byline of Miss Andre Weatherby, deputy minister of health of the Kansas City Panther chapter. She has spoken at Black Panther rallies here. The article was endorsed Friday by Pete O'Neal, Panther leader in Kansas City.

Critical of the Panther report, Johnson also reacted sharply to a statement by C. M. Kelley, Kansas City police chief. After reading the article by Miss Weatherby, Chief Kelley commented:

"I certainly hope none of our fine citizens in the Negro community suffer because of this."

Johnson said the black community will be angry if Kelley means that others will be hurt in the police campaign against Panthers.

In Long History

"They've been beating up people down here for a long time—long before we had Panthers and articles such as this one in the Panther newspaper," Johnson said.

"Criminals have been shooting at police for years, but that doesn't mean you go after the whole black community just because you can recognize them by their color."

He noted that police have complete intelligence information on virtually all Panthers and their associates, including names, addresses and photographs.

"If the police feel the Black Panthers have declared war, then let them fight the Black Panthers—not everybody else.

"If a white person kills a policeman, then a white person has killed a policeman. But if a black person kills a policeman, then the whole black community is subject to retaliation. This is what we mean by racism."

Makes an Objection

Leon Jordan, leader of the Freedom, Inc., political club, also objected to Chief Kelley's statement concerning injury to other Negro citizens. He said the black community here will never learn to live with Chief Kelley or with Joseph Kelly, president of the police board.

He said he also agrees with Miss Weatherby's implication that much has been taken from black people.

"I'm for getting it back, but not that way—through robbery," Jordan remarked. "The Panthers have many fine thoughts, but the methods they suggest is what bothers the Negro community.

"The killing of that officer, the killing of any man, diminishes me."

He said the Panthers are setting the scene for a confrontation in which many Negroes will be killed, and he hopes they will not be out of town when it occurs.

An Expert Label

"These guys have a couple of guns and intend to fight people with tanks. Violence—hell, they can't go against the white man on violence. He is an expert at it.

"My great grandfather was born in this town, my grandfather, my father and me. I know that my people are the ones who will be killed."

Jordan said black leaders are asked to try to stop the Panthers when what is needed is a stop to the white money which keeps them going.

"We have information at this point that one organization sends $5,000 a month," he said. "The black community hasn't been putting up this money. They've bought cars. They've bought everything."

He said much of the help comes from "old-time liberals, who sent money to keep Martin Luther King marching through Georgia."

Not Same Philosophy

Jordan said this is a new era, and the Panthers are not of the philosophy of Dr. Martin Luther King, jr.

"Whether these liberals know it or not," Jordan said, "they're helping keep our people downtrodden today."

The Rev. Phil Lawson, director of the Methodist Inner City parish, has been in close contact with the Panther party since it was founded early this year and has supported certain of its programs. He was asked whether he believed, as the article indicated, that black people were "ecstatic" about Patrolman Dacy's death.

"I'm not ecstatic about the death of any man," he replied. "I'm not sure the killing of individual police officers or anybody else helps anyone."

He said, however, that he sees little difference in the use of force by society through the police and use of force by individuals.

Two Sides Seen

"I would assume that if the men commiting the holdup had been shot," he said, "there would be no concern for these men or their families. That indicates a perversion."

He said he agreed with Miss Weatherby's implied concept that every human being is entitled to his share of the fruits of society.

"But armed robbery is not right," he said. "This is the method of violence. You're giving property a higher value than human life."

While he said there are aspects of the article he does not approve, he said he was not discouraged with the Panthers.

"They see into some issue deeper than other people," he said. "I am more disappointed with Kelley's statement. Chief Kelley is a person with political and military power. He has an army, weapons and the legal right to declare war. Pete O'Neal has none of that."

Always the Victims

Mr. Lawson said that in the past black people have been the principal victims of violence, lynchings, race riots and police beatings. He said this makes today's violent talk by blacks more understandable, even if it does not excuse placing guilt for past wrongs on an individual such as Patrolman Dacy.

"He was a human being, cut up into the same kind of bags as the rest of us," Mr. Lawson remarked. "I don't blame Officer Dacy anymore than I blamed the men who held up the stores for all the wrongs of society. He's a product of our society the same as they are."

The Rev. A. L. Johnson, pastor of Zion Grove Baptist church and president of the Council for United Action, said the impact of the article on Patrolman Dacy's family concerns him.

"It would be quite disturbing to the man's family," Mr. Johnson said, "but I hope they would realize it was not the mass of black folks speaking. There are those who still have hopes we can live in this society as human beings together."

Mr. Johnson said many, if not most, black young people are being attracted to the Panther philosphy, but most black people do not condone violence.

"There's a lot of injustice, and I am ready to fight it, but my methods are different," he said. "Lots of policemen have bad attitudes, but this boy's name didn't register with me. He was within his rights. He was trying to do his duty in preventing a holdup."

PANTHER VIEW OF DACY DEATH

National Paper Carries Letter Praising Slaying of Officer

DISTURBING TO POLICE

Kelley Says the Article May Undo Efforts at Co-Operation

By Harry Jones, jr.
(Staff member of The Star's Staff)

This week's issue of the Black Panther party's national newspaper carries an article from Kansas City reporting "ecstatic" reaction to the fatal shooting here last week of Patrolman John Edward Dacy.

Two young men, presumably members of the Black Panther chapter here, were seen selling the newspaper on the third floor of police headquarters about noon yesterday. Police Chief C. M. Kelley's office is on the third floor.

Endorses the Story

Pete O'Neal, head of the Panther chapter here, said he sold a copy of the newspaper to Judge Richard L. White at the municipal court yesterday morning and told him there was an interesting article on page 15, the page on which it was carried. Last night O'Neal endorsed the article completely.

Chief Kelley said last night the police officers share a disgust over the article and added, "I think that this type of thing indicates practically an open declaration of war."

The article is by-lined "Sister Andrew Weatherby, deputy minister of health of the Panther chapter here. Miss Weatherby has spoken at Panther rallies in Kansas City.

The article appears beneath a photograph of Dacy lying on a stretcher outside the store in which he was shot. The cutline beneath the photograph reads "Kansas City Fascist Pig Performing His Final Duty."

Seen as Terror Act

The headline over the article reads, "Off-Duty Pig's Last Act--Terror." The article reads as follows:

TO: National Headquarters
FROM: Kansas City Chapter
DATE: July 22, 1969
SUBJECT: Death of the Oppressor

The people of Kansas City are in an ecstatic state today following the execution of a pig. Three (3) unknown heroic brothers had the pleasure of "offing a pig."

The late pig, John Edward Dacy, 21 year old slum lord, was shot by three black brothers. In the same area where he owns property, Dacy was a well known pig and well known exploiter of black people. The brothers, were in the process of getting back what was stolen from Jo-Ann Loan Company, 3033 Main Street, when Super Pig Dacy, who was on-duty, made the fatal mistake of trying to stop them. The brothers retaliated by firing on the pig three times, striking him in the head and upper body with a .22 caliber piece. Persons on the scene reported that pig Dacy fired two shots from his "off-duty weapon," a .38 caliber revolver. "Dead-eye" Dacy was not able to hit anyone.

The Kansas City Pig department, with their great degree of technology, and after calling in a task force of 80 extra men, cannot locate the brothers who are still free. "Right on!" Chief Clarence M. Kelley, Chief of the Kansas City Pigs, has intensified the force but the people are protecting the brothers.

The people of Kansas City, Missouri are saying aloud, "No more occupation of our community." They are tired of the pigs that are there to contain them and carry out their fascist acts. The brothers by their revolution act of offing the pig and beating the heat, set an example for others in the black community. Chief Kelley and his sty of pigs will not find the brothers and while they are looking they had better beware. The people are at large, and "today's pig may well be tomorrow's bullet-cured bacon."

To all the oppressors of the people beware. Dacy was an off-duty pig; the next pig may be on-duty. As Huey mentioned in Correct Handling of a Revolution: the pig may well be sitting at a counter drinking a cup of coffee and come to grips. The brothers are ready and they will deal with the fascist pig.

ONLY ON THE BONES OF THE OPPRESSOR CAN THE PEOPLE BE FOUND--ONLY THE BLOOD OF THE OPPRESSOR CAN FERTILIZE THE SOIL FOR THE [illegible]

Sister Andrew Weatherby
Deputy Minister of Health
Kansas City Chapter
Black Panther Party

Since the Panthers established a chapter here in late January, they and the police have been engaged in a tense war of nerves.

Questions to Visitors

The police at first placed Panther headquarters under 24-hour-a-day surveillance, stopping and questioning almost everyone, black and white, who left the building. They cut down this practice after a few weeks, but the surveillance of known Panther members has continued. Arrests have been numerous.

The Panthers regard this as police harassment.

Their actions against the police have been provocative from the start. They openly call the police "pigs" and at times tried to "patrol" the police in the Negro community. They posed for photographs with rifles at a press conference.

At a Panther rally on the steps of the federal courthouse building in early May, 22 men and four women Panther members repeatedly chanted verses punctuated with the exclamation, "Off the pigs!" which was shouted with the right hands upraised, fists clenched.

Provocation to Peak

In terms of provocative acts by the black activists, however, this article carried with it the strongest emotional sting yet.

Chief Kelley, when asked for his reaction to it, grimaced and pulled a copy of it from a pile of papers on his desk.

While some persons may look upon the article as "just a bunch of rhetoric that really doesn't mean what it sounds like it means," Chief Kelley said, it is bound to have an effect on the officers.

He said the police department had worked hard to bring about better understanding between officers and the Negro community.

"But this type of thing, among those officers who are coming to a point of understanding, is going to destroy all they've been taught," he said. "They're going to be saying to themselves, 'Wait. What I've been taught is entirely wrong.'"

The article also will engender a new sense of fear among many policemen, he said.

He objected to the apparent backing he said the article gave to bandits, and said the viewpoint therefore was "antisocial" and "outlaw."

Backing for Banditry

"You have to stop holdups," Kelley said. "It's not just a matter of property. It's a matter of law and order and justice and tranquility and peace. Yet this condones holdups."

After saying he believed the article indicated "practically a declaration of war" by the Panthers, the chief added:

"We certainly won't ourselves do anything to start such a war, but the activities of the Panthers certainly should be better understood by the people in light of what they say.

"All of us share a disgust about this type of thing. While we don't want to start trouble, this seems to mean they're trying to invite trouble.

"I certainly hope none of our fine citizens in the Negro community suffer because of this."

Backed by O'Neal

O'Neal, reached last night at the Panther headquarters, spoke strongly in endorsing the article.

"We believe every word of it," he said.

He said the police "escalated" matters on July 23 when a large number of policemen surrounded a home occupied by several Panthers at 3963 Olive street, hoping to enter the house in search of one of the persons being sought in connection with the Dacy shooting.

A police helicopter also was used, he said.

Neighbors in the area demonstrated overwhelming support for the Panthers that night, O'Neal said, by training firearms on the police from windows and rooftops in the event trouble broke out.

Chief Kelley said several Panthers were present, but did not confirm the reputed show of support.

He said several patrolmen had reason to believe that a juvenile being sought for questioning in the Dacy shooting had run to the house when he fled police. The youth was thought to associate with Panthers.

Wait on Evidence

Chief Kelley said the patrolmen contacted superiors concerning a search warrant, but were advised they probably did not have sufficient evidence for a warrant.

The youth turned himself in at police headquarters the next day, and is one of two juveniles being held in the shooting, Chief Kelley said. He said the youth was not a Panther.

An adult also being held has been charged with first-degree murder and robbery.

O'Neal said two policemen made threats when they were not admitted to the house, adding that these two "could be next." Both officers are Negroes.

Asked if the Panthers were endorsing holdups in the article, O'Neal replied that robbing a place such as Jo-Art's for a small amount of money was a trivial thing to do, "but we understand black people reacting to oppressive conditions."

"If you're going to liberate something from the oppressor," he said, "it should be from something like City National or Commerce Trust."

Re Springfield letter to Bureau dated 6/2/69.

Enclosed for the Bureau and surrounding offices is one copy each of two photographs described below and one copy each of interoffice memo from the Olin-Matheson Company at Alton, Illinois, concerning a powder sample identification conducted on below-described material.

For the information of surrounding offices, referenced letter advised the Bureau that on March 21, 1969, a ghetto informant of the Springfield Division made available for inspection a majority of the personal property of Springfield Agitator Index subject [redacted] which property had been abandoned [redacted] Obtained as a result of the inspection of [redacted] property were several items of counterintelligence value, including the following:

(1) One projectile marked "CTG 40 mm Practice M 385" and "Empty OT MA-SP-255B." This shell, which is approximately 4½" long, appears to have been tampered with including the insertion of a copper colored ring around the middle of the shell. (See photo)

(2) Three boxes weighing a total of approximately 40 pounds containing black inch-long pellets, resembling a type of insulation for copper wiring, etc., with perforations. (See photo). Of the three pellets shown in the photograph, one is on its side with a yellow stripe running lengthwise. The second has been broken in half showing the core of the pellet and is photographed from above. The third is also photographed from above but is intact. (X)U

At a later date [redacted] volunteered that on a recent trip to East St. Louis, Illinois, he had seen several boxes of what he termed "compressed gunpowder." When asked to describe the items, their description exactly fit the pellets mentioned above in #2. (X)U

At that time, through an established contact of the Alton, Illinois, RA, a test was run on the pellet at the Olin-Matheson Plant in Alton, a copy of the results of which is enclosed for each office.

ENC

It is the opinion of the Springfield Division, after igniting several of the above-mentioned gunpowder pellets, that they are highly flammable and would make excellent primers or fuses for homemade type explosives. Because of their flammability, the ghetto source mentioned above, who furnished the pellets, requested they be taken from his premises, which they were, and have been stored in an appropriate storage vault at the Illinois National Guard, Camp Lincoln, Illinois (X)U

The Bureau is requested to advise if they have received any previous inquiries concerning the above items (1 & 2), especially with reference to their being in the hands of black militants in other Field Divisions.

Receiving offices are requested, where feasible, to exhibit photographs to racial informants in an effort to determine if the use of these items is widespread by black militants.

SUBJECT Powder Sample Identification

A member of your staff delivered a sample of powder for identification. The sample was identified as an artillery or cannon-type propellant. Propellants of this general type are utilized in the BALL POWDER process at East Alton. It is ground and the deterrents removed by an extraction process in order to recover the nitrocellulose for subsequent processing into BALL POWDER. Such powders are government surplus stocks and most likely were manufactured at government installations during World War II or the Korean conflict. Following are known government owned-contractor operated facilities in the country which have the capability of producing this type of powder:

Badger Army Ammunition Plant, Baraboo, Wis.
Radford Army Ammunition Plant, Radford, Va.
Sunflower Army Ammunition Plant, Lawrence, Kan.
Indiana Army Ammunition Plant, Charlestown, Ind.
Alabama Army Ammunition Plant, Childersburg, Ala.

The Hercules Powder Co., Kenvil, New Jersey, a commercial supplier, also has the capability of producing such powders, as well as the Naval Powder Factory, Indian Head, Maryland, which is government-owned and operated. Of course, the powders could be stored at many other locations and loading facilities scattered throughout the country.

The Ordnance Ammunition Command located in Joliet, Illinois engineers all activities in these areas and should be able to supply more detailed information. There are storage facilities located in the same area, which may contain powders of the type in question.

152

New Haven, Connecticut
August , 1969

[redacted]

I am sorry for not having written sooner, however, I have expended considerable time and effort in gathering facts concerning a matter which is of interest to all of us who are alumni of Yale. Frankly, I am extremely alarmed with our administration in allowing the BlackPanthers to openly operate on campus.

A series of events have taken place in recent months involving this organization which are repugnant to me; however, because of my sensitive position, I am unable to identify myself, and must remain anonymous.

Earlier this year, officials of our Medical School invited representatives of the Black Panther organization to participate in a lecture at Winslow Auditorium concerning the Black Panthers and American health. During a dissertation by two Panthers, a Mr. Gonzalvez and Mrs. John Huggins, those in attendance were encouraged to support a Black Panther sponsored free medical clinic for colored people. In its own right this would on the surface appear to be a generous undertaking to the community by Yale. However, recent events would indicate that this was merely a ploy by the Panthers to cajole Yale into providing financial assistance to a clinic which in the event of armed revolution would provide secret medical care for wounded members of the Black Panther Party. I feel this is well documented based on the following information.

On May 17th, a Black Panther all-day retreat was held on the campus in Linsly-Chittenden Hall. It was attended by approximately fifty persons from throughout the State and was presided over by national leaders of the Black Panther Party from California. Rory Hithe gave a speech on the discipline and assassination of Black Panther informers. Mrs. Huggins was also present. You will recall that her former husband, John Huggins, Jr., was murdered in a racial dispute at UCLA in January of this year. You will also recall that Huggins' father is the Manager of the Fence Club.

During the evening of May 19th, with the permission of our administration, Mr. Bobby Seale, National Panther leader from California, appeared at Battel Chapel for a speech. He received several thousand dollars for this appearance. Men and women who attended were searched for weapons at the door. Throughout the speech, persons in the audience smoked, and the speech by Mr. Seale was punctuated with numerous vulgarities and obscenities of the worst sort. Among those in attendance was our "Chaplain" Bill Coffin who appeared not to be the least bit concerned by Seale's foul language.

I feel it is a sad day in America when an individual is not allowed to enter a house of worship until searched and a speaker is allowed to flagrantly use obscenities and four-letter words before the altar of God. I am also distressed to think that Yale would allow individuals of his calibre on our campus. Certainly the administration was aware of the past reputation of Mr. Seale as well as known acts of violence committed by the organization he represents.

On May 22nd, three days after Mr. Seale's appearance here, the New Haven Police Department raided the Black Panther headquarters in New Haven and arrested three Panthers in connection with the torture and murder of a reported Panther from New York City. Subsequently, additional Panthers were arrested and according to the local press the victim had been held captive and tortured for several days prior to his death. Undoubtedly, Mr. Seale was in town at the time he was held captive and possibly when he was murdered. Is it possible he knew about this situation? I cannot help but wonder if he gave the orders for execution.

I fail to understand the purpose of bringing these people to our institution. Are they teaching or setting an example for our youth who are very easily influenced at this age? Are they here for educational purposes? It appears Mr. Seale's qualifications for teaching relate only to revolution and violence. At one point in his speech he stated that the "kids" have to be taught how to use guns so they can "kill the racist pigs" when they come into their neighborhoods. Was Mr. Seale here to give guidance concerning poverty programs? During his speech he did not present one single suggestion aimed at overcoming our national or local poverty problems. In short, he contributed nothing toward our educational processes. No one in our community benefited from his appearance.

Most disappointing of all was the fact that the reputation of Yale was tarnished by this and other events. This reputation was achieved through the efforts of great men like Hale, Vanderbilt, Calhoun, Pierson and others and not the likes of Mr. Seale.

I contend that the above events have brought immeasurable notoriety to our institution. My advanced age and conservative image leave me helpless - but the above events call for action on the part of each and every thinking alumni. I feel great damage has been done and unless appropriate steps are taken in high places to prevent recurrences of similar situations, Yale's reputation may be further tarnished. Of additional concern is the fact that appearances of persons like Mr. Seale and the offering of Yale facilities to militant groups such as his could lead to violence and destruction not only in the community but also on the Yale campus.

I submit this letter for your consideration. Yale is not the first school to have been duped by these people. Possibly you can help prevent further disasterous mistakes - poor and weak decisions and "fuzzy" thinking by college administrators throughout the country.

Again my apologies for finding it necessary to remain anonymous.

As always, "For God, For Country and For Yale," I remain,

Sincerely,

A Fellow Alumnus

On 7/29/69 [redacted] indicate that the BPP has totally disintegrated as a force in the black community in Des Moines, Iowa.

On 8/4/69 [redacted], head of the Des Moines chapter, and [redacted], Deputy Chairman of the Kansas City BPP, made available the following press release to the news media in Omaha, Nebraska:

"The Assistant Chief of Staff, June Hilliard, National Black Panther Party, Berkeley, California - hereby declares the following:

ST-117 REC 43

"'There is no longer an official chapter of the Black Panther Party in Omaha, Nebraska. Further, Eddie Bolden, so-called leader of the Party here, was expelled from the Party in March and was not to function in any capacity, ~~in the name~~ of the Black Panther Party.

2 AUG 14 1969

'Bolden was expelled for his counter-revolutionary activities and his working and assisting with government-sponsored programs, which mislead the people moving them deeper into oppression and despair, and his reluctance to follow Party line and relate totally to serving the "needs" of the people. Eddie Bolden has been propagating lies in reference to receiving specific direction from National Headquarters concerning the so-called Party in Omaha. He has purposely misled brothers and sisters who appear sincerely interested in serving the people.

'We are not opposed to "those" brothers and/or sisters who are enthusiastic about "serving the people", whole body and soul, and we further encourage such action. However, they are not authorized at this time, as an official "Organ" of the National Black Panther Party.'"

On 8/5/69 DAVID LEWIS ANDREW RICE, [redacted] appeared on the 10:00 p.m. news on Omaha television stations and stated that a new party called "The United Front Against Facism" was being formed. RICE would answer no questions about the BPP or the former captain of the Omaha BPP chapter, EDDIE BOLDEN.

In view of the above, Omaha feels that concrete recommendations cannot be made at the present time regarding counterintelligence measures aimed at crippling the BPP.

This matter will be followed closely and suggestions for counterintelligence action against the forming of a new BPP or its leaders will be submitted by separate letter.

L.A. FRIENDS OF THE PANTHERS

At the United Front Against Fascism Conference, held in Oakland last weekend, a leaflet was circulated, viciously attacking Professor Don Freed, organizer of the L.A. Friends of the Panthers. The leaflet, headed "Don Freed Is A Pig," maliciously accused him of being an informer for the Pig Power Structure. Similar attacks have been waged against such people as Professor Leon Nower, head of the San Diego Friends of the Panthers, and Professor Paul Zilsel, of Cleveland, who also is organizing in support of the Black Panther Party.

Who are these people? And why have they suddenly become the focal poin of such vilifying accusations? These men are indicative of the growing masses of white-middle-class people who are attempting to expose the true nature of our decadent society.

Don Freed has been a strong supporter of the Black Panthers. He was instrumental in forming the Newton & Cleaver Defense Fund, and more recently, the L.A. Friends of the Panthers. An attack on Don Freed is an attempt to create disunity within the white community, and is also a direct assault on the Black Panther Party.

It is very important for the people to understand that once you start, as these men have, to become a moving force against incipient fascism in America, you are an immediate threat to the Power Structure. These men are exercising their democratic rights to expose and oppose the oppressive system that exists in our country.

In forming the Friends of the Panthers, these professors have succeeded in creating a link between the poor and oppressed white people, and the Black Panther Party. We recognize the Panthers as the vanguard in the revolutionary struggle against fascism in America.

We support the Panther Ten-Point Program and are attempting to work in a parallel fashion with them in their fight against racism and imperialism. We also support fully their program of Decentralization of Police and will work along with them to implement this program.

Therefore, we too have become a threat to the Power Structure. Leaflets will continue to be circulated in a vain attempt to destroy the Black Panthers by discrediting men who, like these professors, have organized and raised the level of consciousness of white people in order to join in the struggle for liberation.

The reactionary forces will make a last desperate struggle to maintain the status quo and suppress all progressive movements in our country. But they cannot frighten us away with leaflets, threats or terrorists tactics. For it is the mere existence of these tactics that exposes their inner weakness, while at the time, acts as a force to unify the masses to oppose these reactionary forces and put and end to the power of Finance Capital.

Re: New Haven letter dated 7/31/69.

1. Operations Under Consideration

By separate communication New Haven Office has requested permission to mail anonomously a letter setting forth BPP activity on the campus of Yale University which has been sanctioned by the administration of Yale, to [redacted]

2. Operations Being Effected

Public Source information regarding the BPP remains to be furnished to Bureau-approved news media contacts.

3. Tangible Results

None.

4. Developments of CI Interest

During the evening of August 6, 1969 a convoy of four automobiles with Field Marsha[redacted] and other BPP members were observed by FBI Agents leaving a Hiroshima demonstration held on the Green in New Haven. A telephonic check with the Seattle Office during the night and early morning of August 6-7, 1969, revealed that one of the automobiles, a black over red 1969 Pontiac bearing Washington State licenses, was possibly occupied by UFAP-Forgery Fugitive [redacted] and had been rented in Seattle, Washington by a Negro female resembling [redacted] on June 13, 1969.

This automobile was observed in front of a New Haven BPP member's residence on the morning of August 7, 1969, however, before surveillance could be established contact was lost.

The facts of the case were presented to AUSA [redacted] New Haven, who advised that he would authorize ITSMV charges against all occupants of the vehicle.

All in service radio units of the FBI were alerted and the car was observed proceeding North on Route 84, near Vernon, Connecticut.

With Connecticut State Police assistance, the car was stopped and the following individuals charged with ITSMV violations:

[redacted] who was using the alias [redacted]

The San Francisco Division telephonically advised that they had learned that with the exception of [redacted], the other individuals were in the "training cadre" of the Boston Chapter of the BPP.

During the Commissioner's hearing held on the evening of August 7, 1969, [redacted] threatened [redacted] who was present at the hearing as a witness and affiant by using the words, "We're going to be back and we're going to get everybody."

[redacted] was immediately advised of this statement and he filed the additional charge of intimidating a witness against [redacted] and the warrant was issued on August 8, 1969.

[redacted] was required to post a $15,000 bond on the ITSMV charges and $6,500 on the intimidation charge. [redacted] was required to post a $15,000 bond, [redacted] a $7,500 bond, and [redacted] $5,000 bond.

Search of the automobile yielded the taped conversation of what is believed to be a BPP meeting held in New Haven on August 6, 1969, by [redacted] and members of the New Haven and Boston Chapters.

Also recovered was what is believed to be the membership list of the New Haven Chapter.

Re Kansas City letter 8/4/69 to Bureau.

No new developments of interest as to current potential targets for counterintelligence action have appeared in the past two weeks except for the following:

[redacted], that the Kansas City, Missouri BPP chapter has renovated a second floor space at 4200 E. 31st Street, Kansas City, Missouri, for proposed operation of a BPP Free Health Clinic. Leaflets, apparently distributed by the BPP chapter recently to Kansas City, Missouri, hospitals, name the clinic as "The New Bobby Hutton Community Free Health Clinic," to be serviced gratis by professionals (doctors). Those requiring clinic care were asked to contact BPP chapter headquarters at 2905 Prospect, Kansas City, Missouri.

The "Kansas City Times" newspaper of 8/18/69 contained an article captioned "Panther Clinic Fete." According to the article the Kansas City chapter of the BPP were opening the Hutton Free Health Center at 4200 E. 31st Street and were holding open house from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on 8/18 and 19/69. This is to recommend attached item concerning Leroy Eldridge Cleaver, fugitive leader of the extremist Black Panther Party (BPP), [redacted] on a confidential basis for lead purposes.

Cleaver, Minister of Information of the BPP, is a fugitive from justice, having jumped bond in California. Cleaver has appeared in Algeria, stating he resided in Cuba prior to coming to Algeria. We have received information that Cleaver is unable to return to Cuba because of a rape charge against him there. In addition, Cleaver appears to a source to be mentally ill; his long history of sex crimes would certainly indicate this, and this may be another reason why he cannot return to Cuba.

Furnishing the above information [redacted] on a confidential basis would not jeopardize any Bureau sources and, if verified by the news media source, would expose this BPP leader as a degenerate who has continued his criminal behavior after his involvement in the revolutionary, black extremist, BPP.

ACTION:

That attached item exposing Cleaver be furnished on a confidential basis by the Crime Records Division [redacted] for verification through his contacts in the foreign press who might have access to data in Cuba.

What Cleaver did not say was that he cannot return to Cuba. Cleaver is a convicted rapist, and now there is reportedly a rape charge outstanding against him in Cuba.

Besides continuing his degenerate activities after taking a leadership position in the Panthers, sources close to Cleaver indicate he is mentally ill, which is certainly borne out by the nature of his crimes. This may be another reason why Cleaver has become persona non grata to Castro.

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Is Anyone for Coloring?

A FEW WEEKS ago it got out that a publication existed called the "Black Panther Coloring Book." Ordinarily, when the word spreads that an interesting book exists, the publishers rush to make it available to the general public.

But in this case the response was to suppress the publication; indeed, to refuse to make it available to anyone at all. So successful was the suppression of the Black Panther Coloring Book that even industrious journalists were unable to put their hands on a copy, so that, very quickly, it moved out of the news.

AN ANTI-LEFT newsletter called Combat (a subsidiary of National Review) got hold of a copy of the Coloring Book and reproduced it on the assumption that the contents of the Coloring Book are of enormous public interest, as indeed they are. They bear on the question of what is the proper attitude of the public, and of the government, towards the Black Panther Party. Ought it to be an attitude of toleration, or of patience, or of — what?

There are 22 full page drawings, with captions. One shows a jackbooted pig, dressed in the full paraphernalia of the policeman. The caption is: "This is a pig. He tries to control black people." The pig-policeman rises up taller than the surrounding skyscrapers in another picture, a pistol in one hand, the other stretched out to receive a bribe. A white businessman, also a pig, is vacuuming money out of the black area of the city. Caption: "The pig tries to protect the white stores in black communities that rob black people."

Next is a Black Panther (the human being) followed by a little boy and little girl. His pistol is ablaze, and one sees that the slug has entered the throat of the pig policeman, and blood is spattering out — "Black brothers protect black children."

The little children learn quickly. The next tableau shows a pig policeman his hands held high at the beckoning of a pistol which is almost as big as the little boy who levels it at his head.

There are another half dozen pictures, all of them drawn in the style of primitive proletarian art, all of them to the same purpose: all of them depicting heroism as the act of killing policemen.

Now there appears to be some confusion concerning the exact provenance of the pamphlet. A Catholic priest in San Francisco, where it was first distributed, rushed to aver that it was not an official publication of the Party, that it had been distributed only for the sake of "evaluation," whatever that means. But a defector from the Black Panthers testified that the book was authentic, that he himself had worked in the print shop where it was produced.

AT THIS POINT the leadership of the Panthers, who have been soliciting respectability, denounced not only the pamphlet, but the defector, insisting that he had become an agent provocateur: i.e., that he had been planted inside the Black Panthers in order to discredit them. And back and forth and forth and back, reeling the mind.

When Bobby Kennedy was assassinated, he appeared in the official Black Panther newspaper lying in his own blood, his features drawn over into the shape of a pig. The good priest in San Francisco will have a difficult time shriving the Black Panthers. Those who wish to see what it is all about will be sent a free copy of the reproduction of the Coloring Book. Address Communications Distribution Inc., Box 182, Murray Hill Station, New York 10016, and draw your own conclusions.

Authority is granted to anonymously mail the photostat of a column by William F. Buckley, Jr. as requested in referenced airtel to those persons mentioned in referenced communication. Your reproduction of this article must contain no identifying data. San Francisco must insure that strict security will be maintained, and the Bureau not divulged as the source. NOTE:

We have previously authorized San Francisco to anonymously mail copies of the BPP Coloring Book along with a particularly obnoxious issue of a Panther publication to seven persons in the San Francisco area. These persons were priests, ministers, and businessmen who had cooperated with the Black Panthers in the Panther "Breakfast for Children Program." This was an attempt to disrupt the Breakfast Program and to prevent the formation of Panther "Liberation Schools" which were being planned. As a continuing disruptive technique permission is requested now to anonymously mail copies of an article printed in a San Francisco newspaper by conservative writer William F. Buckley, Jr. This article points out the vicious nature of the Panthers and the ridiculousness of the BPP Coloring Book. We are authorizing this proposal. There is not a chance that the Bureau will be divulged as the source with resultant embarrassment.

BUDED 8/29/69 Black Nationalist Hate Group

ReBuairtel to Chicago and other offices, dated 8/21/69.

The following plans are submitted for Bureau's and other offices' consideration.

The first plan is more limited in scope and is based on the assumption that it makes no difference whether the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (NMC) meets the Black United Front's (BUF) demands or not, and on the fact that the National Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO) has already agreed to lend its support to the NMC without any conditions attached. The NWRO is essentially a Black organization of welfare recipients. It would seem sufficient to arrange for the NWRO to receive copies of the actual BUF demands upon the NMC, either anonymously or otherwise, to start NWRO people to thinking, "Why should we poor assist the NMC for nothing when the 'fat cats' at BUF are getting paid for the promise of their support?" Logically, the NWRO should come to the conclusion that it should make similar demands on the NMC on condition that if its demands are not met, it will withdraw its support. Even if the NWRO does not reach this conclusion, it is certain that many of its members will be resentful of BUF and the NMC. On the other hand, BUF should resent the NWRO demanding its share of the "loot". This could also alienate other Black groups who may be planning to support the NMC.

The NMC will be placed in the untenable position of either meeting the demands, which would obviously weaken the organization financially and otherwise, or if it refuses, lose the Black support which it seeks. It is conceivable that the resulting situation might force the NMC to cancel its mass rally on Washington, D. C., 11/15/69.

In order to implement the foregoing, WFO would utilize sources and other means to agitate within the BUF, insisting its demands are reasonable and due the Black community; therefore, the NMC must meet them. Within NWRO it would be argued that "we" poor people need help much more so than does BUF; that the NMC must help us, too, if it wants our support.

Field offices having NMC representation would utilize their sources in splitting the NMC. Some sources would be directed to argue that to meet the demands is "pure extortion". Others should take the position that it is the duty of white liberals everywhere to support the needs of the Black community that this is one of the paramount goals of liberals, to fight for the eradication of racism, ghettos, poverty and inequalities between Blacks and whites, wherever they exist. Through mutual respect and cooperation, both can be more effective in their struggles against The Establishment.

This division of opinion should create serious schisms within the NMC Steering Committee and between the organizations which it represents.

The second plan contemplates that the NMC will meet in part, at least, the BUF demands, and would not preclude execution of the first.

WFO contemplates the enlistment by the Bureau of a [redacted] who would be fed sufficient material and leads with which he could write a special feature "expose" of the "blackmail" of the NMC by the Black militants. Even if the NMC refuses to meet any part of the demands, it would seem that a newsworthy story could be written concerning the attempted "extortion".

Assuming that the "expose" is written and picked up on one of the wire services, it would serve the purpose of alerting Black militant groups in other cities to the possibility of milking white liberals in their community. For example, the Black Panthers in Chicago might get the idea that they could demand and get money for their support of the October 11, 1969, demonstrations in connection with the conspiracy trials. This could be repeated in other areas such as New York, Los Angeles, et cetera. The resulting bickering, resentment and distrust could be fomented by sources with the hope that the New Left and the Blacks become so ineffective they will be devoting all their time and energy defending themselves. At the very least, it should turn around the tendency for groups such as the Students for a Democratic Society and the Black Panthers to unite for common goals.

Re Baltimore letter to Director, FBI, 8/4/69.

During the two-week period 8/4-15/69, Baltimore did not take any specific counterintelligence measures against the Black Panther Party (BPP).

For the information of the Bureau, the Baltimore Chapter of the BPP remains without significant leadership [redacted].

It has been brought to the attention of the Baltimore Office that the BPP headquarters has been playing a record by ELDRIDGE CLEAVER very loudly and disturbing the neighborhood. A private citizen made an anonymous phone call to the Baltimore Police Department complaining about the noise. As a result of this complaint, Baltimore Police Officers were dispatched to BPP Headquarters and attempted to gain entrance peacefully to tell the residents to turn down the volume of the record player. The officers were not admitted and they left the area.

[redacted] (C)

It is being suggested by Baltimore that when it is know that the BPP members are playing their various propaganda records or attempting to broadcast to the neighborhood the BPP message, that an anonymous phone call be made to the Police Department complaining of the noise.

Re Omaha letter to Bureau, 8/11/69.

As noted in referenced letter, a press release was made in Omaha on August 4, 1969, by Assistant Chief of Staff JUNE HILLIARD, National Black Panther Party, stating that there no longer was an official chapter of the Black Panther Party in Omaha and EDDIE HOLDEN had been expelled from the party and was no longer connected with the BPP.

Since that time information has been developed that HILLIARD, while in Omaha, gave instructions that two "brothers" should be sent to Oakland, California, for training however, these instructions were later changed to send two "brothers" to Kansas City for training.

Although the BPP in Omaha is considered defunct by National Headquarters, it appears that this chapter at a future date will be reactivated possibly under the leadership of [redacted] who, according to Kansas City, recently arrived in Kansas City, Missouri, to attend a BPP training school.

In view of the foregoing Omaha does not feel that concrete recommendations could be made at the time re counterintelligence measures aimed at crippling the BPP.

This matter will continue to be closely followed and suggestions for counterintelligence action against the new BPP chapter, if formed, and its leadership, will be submitted by separate communication.

Re Jacksonville letter to Bureau, dated 8/29/69.

As a counterintelligence measure, it is desired that certain self-appointed leaders of the black militant group in the community be discredited before reaching any prominent stature. In this regard, the following suggestion is being set forth for consideration and approval:

On 7/28/69, [redacted] advised a large group of individuals representing themselves to be members of the Florida Black Front (FBF) and led by [redacted] appeared at 11:00 AM, 7/20/69, at the Day Spring Baptist Church, Jefferson Street. Approximately sixty Negro Baptist pastors were attending their weekly meeting of the Baptist Brotherhood, consisting of Negro Baptist pastors from Jacksonville and adjacent counties. The group made a demand of $1000. as an immediate grant for Welfare Mothers Organization efforts. Pastors were not permitted to leave for over three hours, at which time they agreed to the payment demand.

Arrest warrants were initially issued for fourteen individuals, the majority of whom are employed with or in conjunction with Greater Jacksonville Economic Opportunity (GJEO), a project financed by Office Economic Opportunity (OEO), in conjunction with the City of Jacksonville.

Charges have been dropped or dismissed against all defendants, with the exception of [redacted] organizer for the FBF and [redacted], an organization under GJEO; [redacted], FBF, [redacted] Project Unity, and [redacted] a group working with youth groups under GJEO; and [redacted]

1) COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Due to the fact that the Black Student Association (BSA) - Memphis State University (MSU), is not a functioning organization during the summer months, no counterintelligence operations are under consideration directed against the BSA at MSU.

The black militant group known as the Invaders is not operative at the present time. Its headquarters are closed and no meetings are being held. LANCE "SWEET WILLIE WINE" WATSON, along with five other Invaders, is engaged in protest demonstrations at Forrest City, Arkansas, and informants have advised that due to arrests of numerous members of the Invaders and constant surveillance and observation of Invaders by local law enforcement officers, this organization does not presently exist as a functioning unit. Informants have advised that WATSON plans to return to Memphis in the Fall of 1969 and attempt to reactivate this Invader organization.

In view of the above, no counterintelligence operations are under consideration directed against the Invaders other than a continuing interview program directed against all rank-and-file members of the Invaders and those BSA members who are not in school at the present time.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

A succinct summary of Black Nationalist Movement in the Indianapolis Division follows:

A. Nation of Islam (NOI)

The NOI in the Indianapolis Division presently has approximately 160 members, which is a slight increase since the date of the last letter. Temple Number 31 in South Bend, Indiana, continues to be the largest having about 70 to 80 members. Mosque Number 33 at Gary, Indiana, is the second largest with 40 members, and Muhammad's Mosque in Indianapolis is third largest with 27 members. Muhammad's Temple, East Chicago, Indiana, has six members; Muhammad's Temple in Evansville, Indiana, has five to six members; Muhammad's Mosque of Islam in Fort Wayne, Indiana, has five to six members, while Muhammad's Mosque in Muncie, Indiana, is no longer meeting for lack of a meeting place. The exact number of members presently in Muncie, Indiana is unknown. Each of the mosques or temples averages from four to seven visitors in addition to the members at their meetings.

There are only two designated temples in the State of Indiana those being Temple No. 31 in South Bend, and Mosque No. 33 in Gary, Indiana. Known Muslim businesses now operate at Muncie, and Indianapolis, Indiana. All of the leaders of the temples and mosques in the Indianapolis Division continue to adhere to the teachings of ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, their leader and preach according to the following: the white race has upset the peace of the Aboriginal People by exploitation, robbery, murder and death, inasmuch as it is the nature in which they were made; that the only white people who are allowed to use one of the names of ALLAH (GOD) are those who have accepted Islam; that under Christianity the black brothers and sisters will not go to heaven, but under Allah, you will have heaven right here on earth.

No known or proposed violence or problems have been caused by the NOI in the Indianapolis Division and their potential does not seem a threat at this time. There is always a possibility however that the NOI might change due to some incident and cause trouble although not expected.

B. Radical Action Project (RAP)

The Radical Action Project (RAP), also known as the Black Radical Action Project, is located at 2264 North Meridian Street, Indianapolis, Indiana. The RAP is presently without funds, and the organization as such has become essentially defunct. Only two individuals, [redacted] Organizer of RAP, remain with the organization and they operate the Afro-American Bookstore which is owned by RAP. The bookstore is kept open by them and occupies most of their time even though the bookstore is not making money. Both individuals are in a bad way for funds for personal use and [redacted]

[redacted] has been speaking at various rallies, etc., and has been pushing for unity among the black groups and their white allies, but has been unsuccessful in uniting the groups. RAP has operated within the existing legal structure and to date has posed no real threat of violence. It presently appears RAP will fold in the near future without funds.

C. Black Panther Party (BPP)

The BPP in Indianapolis operates from its headquarters at 113 West 30th Street, and persists in being the most active of the black extremist groups in Indianapolis at least with a potential for violence. [redacted] remains as [redacted] of the BPP in Indianapolis; however, he will soon be [redacted] In addition, he has [redacted] is no longer Minister of [redacted] and has been suspended from the BPP. [redacted], Minister of [redacted] has been removed from his position by [redacted] The BPP in Indianapolis has approximately 15 active members.

The BPP has had problems financially since their inception in Indianapolis and they presently have a conflict in the Chapter over misuse of funds, violation of BPP rules by members, and personality conflicts among leaders. As a result, the Indianapolis Chapter is in a state of confusion and members show distrust towards each other. The Chapter has requested assistance from National BPP Headquarters and two individuals from the Chicago Chapter of the BPP have been sent to Indianapolis to help with settling disputes and problems and to report to National Headquarters.

The BPP in Indianapolis, along with a coalition of the black groups in Indianapolis, has started a Breakfast for School Children Program, however the BPP has not been allowed to teach BPP ideas and doctrine to the children and are not allowed to put up posters, etc. by the other groups.

The BPP have not been responsible for any trouble in Indianapolis to date; however, it is still felt that they possess the most potential for violence of any of the black groups. The BPP is followed regularly in a bi-weekly intelligence letter.

1. Operations Under Consideration

Interviewing all members of black extremist organizations active and inactive members alike, will be continued, as it is felt that this is the most productive method of producing possible informants as well as a way of learning information of value for intelligence purposes. While the BPP as a rule will not talk to agents and little success has been recognized in recent attempts to interview BPP members, it does keep the leaders of the BPP worried and unsure if someone is talking to the FBI and they do not know about it. Interview of the members also serves as a way to help determine the feeling in the black community and to help evaluate individuals potential for violence.

2. Operations Being Effected

Refinancing of RAP by the Episcopal Church was discouraged and any sources of funds for RAP are being discouraged causing RAP to continue in their financial troubles. Anonymous mailings of several articles on the BPP breakfast program and organization along with the BPP Coloring Book were made to several ministers in the black community near BPP Headquarters to help discourage their support of a Breakfast for School Children Program run by the BPP.

In addition in all interviews attempts to intensify the jealousy among various organizations and members are played upon. This is serving to keep the black groups from uniting whereby they might pose a more serious threat to the peace and safety of the community.

3. Tangible Results

RAP is suffering from lack of funds and will logically be folding in the near future. The BPP, along with the black coalition, which is a group of black organizations, have started a Breakfast Program, however the BPP has been allowed only to help fix food and to clean up after the breakfast, and can not teach the children or display any posters, etc.,

228

concerning the BPP. In addition, the Chairman of the BPP, [redacted] has expressed concern that attempts to interview members of the BPP are continually being made, and a distrust and conflict has arisen among members of the BPP.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

Same as those listed immediately above.

ReWFOlet dated 6/2/69 and WFO airtel dated 8/22/69 to Bureau captioned "COINTELPRO - NEW LEFT".

In accordance with instructions set forth in Bulet dated 3/4/68, the following data is submitted:

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

As the Bureau is aware, [redacted] of the Black United Front (BUF) in Washington, D. C. (WDC) recently sent a letter to a representative of the New Mobilization Committee against the War in Vietnam (NMC) demanding that the NMC make a good faith payment of $25,000 to the BUF to obtain the support of the BUF for the anti-war demonstration being planned by the NMC for 11/15/69. This demand of the BUF has caused considerable confusion in the NMC which is now divided into factions, one which opposes any payment, the other which supports the idea of the payment. The NMC is further confused by the fact that it is already in debt for previous anti-war demonstrations and has no money readily available to make any payment to the BUF. Further, members of the BUF Central Committee, who supported [redacted] proposal to demand the money from NMC, have privately agreed, according to WFO sources, to provide only token assistance if the money is paid by NMC and to oppose and work against the 11/15/69 demonstration if payment is not made.

WFO is not currently effecting any operation under the counterintelligence program.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

As the Bureau is aware, WFO was closely following the activities of the United Black Brotherhood (UBB), an organization originally formed b[redacted] to be the Washington Chapter of the BPP but which failed to get approval of the BPP National Office. [redacted] subsequently took over this group and said that the UBB would be a front for the Black Guard (BG) of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM). [redacted] that UBB members were going to Richmond, Virginia, to take part in a demonstration there. [redacted] that some firearms would be taken by the group. Cooperation between the FBI and local authorities brought about the arrest of this group in Petersburg, Virginia, at which time, four long guns were seized from the group. Although charges against the group were subsequently dropped, the firearms seized were not returned.

Because of the arrests noted above and intensive interviews of UBB members prior to and following the arrest, the UBB has ceased to function as an organization in WDC. Their office has closed and various members indicated a dissatisfaction with the group and its aims.

Re San Diego letter to the Bureau 8/4/69.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

A complete review of activities concerning the BPP is being conducted at the present time due to the numerous changes which have been inherent in BPP activities in the San Diego area. This review is being conducted to determine specifically where the BPP is presently most vulnerable.

[redacted] formerly of Los Angeles, has [redacted] of the San Diego BPP and information concerning him is being reviewed to determine how he can most effectively be attacked.

Reports received concerning the National Revolutionary Conference Against Fascism at Oakland on 7/18-21/69, are being reviewed to determine if any potential exists for counterintelligence activity related to this conference.

[redacted] has been an open advocate of the BPP "Breakfast Program" and the BPP activities in general. He has additionally provided sanctuary for BPP members and allowed them to utilize his church for overnight lodging. Requests aimed at neutralizing both [redacted] and the "Breakfast Program" are being prepared and will be submitted promptly.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

The only operation presently being effected in the San Diego Division is the continuance of the intensive interview program of BPP members.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

No tangible results have been noted since the date of referenced letter.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

Conflicts between the BPP and rival US Organization in the San Diego area continue and appear to be increasing.

On 8/14/69, according to a BPP bulletin, members [redacted] were shot at by US members.

On 8/15/69, [redacted] a member of the BPP, was shot and killed in the San Diego area allegedly by members of the US Organization.

In addition, there have been other unverified reports of shootings and beatings, including a beating of [redacted] the San Diego BPP. The beating was, however, at the hands of other BPP members and is believed to be a result of what has been referred to as unacceptable conduct on the par[redacted] No additional information concerning this beating has been received.

Numerous efforts on the part of leading Negro businessmen in the San Diego area to effect a reconciliation between the two factions have been unsuccessful to date. Whenever it appears that a reconciliation is imminent, another beating, shooting, or killing erupts to nullify all efforts in this regard.

All of the above mentioned activities are being closely followed for any potential counterintelligence activity. In the event any instance occurs which would lend itself to this program, the appropriate counterintelligence action will be requested.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

During the past 90-day period, a fictitious name telephone call was placed to [redacted] protesting the occupancy of the building at 6181 Imperial by the US Organization. Results of this phone call appear in the Tangible Results section of this letter.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

On 7/24/69, a Bureau-approved fictitious name call was placed as mentioned above. Upon receipt of the information, [redacted] appeared surprised and disturbed over its content and related that [redacted] were quite elderly and could not sustain any financial loss inherent from their building being occupied by a militant group.

Although it cannot be specifically determined that the telephone call was responsible, the following day the US Organization was furnished with an eviction notice ordering them to vacate the premises at 6181 Imperial.

US has now obtained new quarters and moved into a building located at 4183 Market.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

As mentioned above, a 14 year old girl who is a member of the US Organization has become pregnant. A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, has stated that the US members utilize the female members of the organization as community property and it was the result of this type of activity which was culminated in the girl's pregnancy.

Information has also been received that the BPP is talking about killing [redacted] In this regard [redacted] is reportedly attempting to obtain assistance to do the killing.

The San Diego Police Department Intelligence Unit has been apprised of the alleged threat against [redacted]

The conflict between the US Organization and the BPP continues to widen at the present time and in the Los Angeles-San Diego area has thus far resulted in the murder of four BPP members, all allegedly at the hands of members of the US Organization. There continue to be numerous WFO is of the opinion that the release of either of these items would result in acute embarrassment to the BUF and cause internal dissention within its ranks. It will, in all probability, cause Black leaders to view each other with suspicion and could possibly result in [redacted] resigning from the BUF.

As the Bureau is aware, the timing of the release of these stories is of paramount importance and the number one story should be released immediately after the BUF confronts church groups and while the story is still fresh in the minds of the public.

The second item should be released about one week before the NMC comes to Washington, D. C., in order to counter activities of that organization as well as to embarrass the BUF or at such time as WFO learns that [redacted] have received letters from the NMC stating that the NMC does not plan to compensate the BUF for those NMC followers who visit WDC for the proposed peace demonstration.

BUF WAGES FRAUDULENT CAMPAIGN AGAINST LOCAL CHURCHES

According to a woman member of the Black United Front who "was there when [redacted] called the first meeting to form the Front", the current BUF campaign against white religious groups in the Washington area is a fraud.

The lady who desired to remain anonymous told a (name of newspaper) reporter that at a meeting held on September 18, 1969, at the Douglas Memorial Methodist Church, 11th and H Streets, N.E., some shocking statements were made by BUF officials.

Chocked with emotion, this lady who "attends church every Sunday, rain or shine", stated that the [redacted] in announcing plans at the September meeting to move on churches and synagogues in the Washington area stated the BUF did not contemplate receiving money from the churches , but planned to use the confrontations as "a political thing to show churches are wealthy racist organizations".

The lady related that at this point in the meeting a young woman said "when we make demands they should be so large the churches will be unable to pay" and suggested the BUF ask the synagogues for $4 billion and Protestant churches for $2 billion, "just to make sure they will be unable to meet the terms". [redacted] is alleged to have replied the amounts to be demanded had not been set but would be quite high.

The woman further alleged that when [redacted] was asked what would happen if one of the churches offered a substantial sum such as $25,000 he replied: "The BUF would have no choice but to accept the money."

Describing the atmosphere as anything but religious, the woman, close to tears while relating this story, remarked: "I don't know how that preacher can make a sermon in his church on Sunday and then go out and demand money from other churches when he knows in his own heart he's playing games."

The BUF has demanded reparations from several area churches beginning on September 7, when a group of 50 blacks stood before the congregation of the Resurrection Lutheran Church in Arlington and demanded 15 per cent of the capital budgets of Arlington churches and synagogues. They sharply criticized the churches' all-white congregation, particularly [redacted]) who is a member.

This was followed on September 21, by a "black man's manifesto" read at St. Stephen and the Incarnation Episcopal Church, demanding $25,000 cash and 50 per cent of the annual income of the church for what was termed church-sanctioned racism.

On September 22, at a press conference held shortly after 8:00 p.m., on the steps of B'nai Israel Synagogue, 4606 16th Street, N.W., a representative of the BUF asked the Washington area Jewish community to pay $10 million in reparations while on Sunday, September 28, [redacted] asked the National Presbyterian Church for $2 million in reparations at a talk at the 11:00 a.m. service that date.

MEMBER OF BUF EXPRESSES SHOCK AT HOBSON STAND

Washington, D. C., Oct.--An official of the Black United Front, obviously angry, expressed shock at a report he had received that [redacted], militant black leader, had agreed to speak at a November rally of the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam to be held in Washington, D. C., only if the NMC promised not to take up a collection for the BUF.

Clearly upset and bitter over [redacted] decision, the BUF official, who asked his name not be used, stated the BUF, recalling the violent confrontation between police and members of the black community which took place the day Resurrection City was invaded and torn down by Federal and local authorities, had asked the NMC for a payment of $25,000 to compensate blacks should a recurrence of such brutal attacks take place.

The BUF official stated it was feared white radicals would create a confrontation which would spill over into neighborhoods populated by blacks who comprise over 70% of the population and result in indiscriminate tear-gas attacks on demonstrators which would work undue hardship and suffering on innocent black people.

The BUF official stated [redacted] actions clearly revealed him to be an "Uncle Tom", willing to sell out the interests of the black community to white intellectuals and radicals, thus exposing his black brothers to a violent confrontation with the police should disorders take place during peace movement demonstrations. He expressed dismay Hobson would place political expediency and personal gain before the welfare of the black community and wondered if Hobson was, indeed, a suitable candidate for the District of Columbia School Board during a critical period in which the needs of black children was of paramount importance.

Referenced SFairtel and LHM pointed out that about 5,000 pounds of clothing were given away in New York City on 9/28/69. During this giveaway the BPP distributed propaganda material. Information appearing in this LHM disclosed that the news media gave this event considerable coverage.

Referenced NYairtel and LHM disclosed that approximately four tons of clothing, stored in Flushing, New York, was given by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to a Chicago-based hate group known as the "Young Lords." The Young Lords turned this clothing over to the Panthers for the giveaway.

The above presents an interesting possibility for effective counterintelligence against the BPP. New York should assess the press and TV publicity given this program and thereafter forward a specific counterintelligence proposal designed to negate this publicity. Handle promptly.

APPENDIX

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Also Known As
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it".

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 2106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

A source advised in May 1969 that the LACDBR has expanded its former scope of interest relating to the foreign born, and has become a militant general defense organization allegedly seeking to safeguard the rights of all individuals, including the foreign born, as well as those seeking to avoid military service in the Armed Forces of the United States.

The LACDBR is a non-membership organization which is represented by an Administrative Board of about 125 individuals form loosely organized area committees interested in the work of the LACDBR. These board members are invited by ROSE CHERNIN, Executive Director of the LACDBR, who is the guiding, dominant, and motivating force behind the LACDBR. The "New York Times" city edition Tuesday, April 20, 1965, Page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP, which had been known as the Progressive Labor Movement.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962, by MILTON ROSEN and MORTIMER SCHEER after they were expelled from the Communist Party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line".

A source advised on June 3, 1968, that the PLP held its Second National Convention in New York City May 31, to June 2, 1968, at which time the PLP reasserted its objective of the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism. This is to be accomplished through the Party's overall revolutionary strategy of raising the consciousness of the people and helping to provide ideological leadership in the working class struggle for state power.

The source also advised that at the Second National Convention MILTON ROSEN was unanimously re-elected National Chairman of the PLP and LEVI LAUB, FRED JEROME, JARED ISRAEL, WILLIAM EPTON, JACOB ROSEN, JEFFREY GORDON and WALTER LINDER were elected as the National Committee to lead the PLP until the next convention.

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor", a bimonthly magazine; "World Revolution", a quarterly periodical; and "Challenge-Desafio", a monthly newspaper.

The August 1968, issue of "Challenge-Desafio" sets forth that "above all, this paper is dedicated to the fight for a new way of life-where the working men and women own and control their homes, factories, the police, courts, and the entire Government on every level".

The source advised on June 3, 1968, that the PLP utilizes and address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn, New York, and also utilizes an office in Room 617, 1 Union Square West, New York, New York.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, GUS HALL, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated that the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected Chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, near the conclusion of the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised on July 26, 1968, that JARVIS TYNER continues in his position as Chairman of the DCA.

This fourth source also advised on July 26, 1968, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

This fourth source further advised on July 26, 1968, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

Re Bureau letter, 8/14/68.

On 9/23/69, the Philadelphia Office secured and executed a warrant of arrest for Philadelphia BPP Caption [redacted], charging him with Possession of Stolen Government Property, namely, an M-14 rifle found in [redacted] living quarters. That arrest has created immediate confusion and disorganization as well as suspicion in the BPP ranks. Sources report that at the present time the chapter is attempting to regroup and that help has been requested of National Headquarters.

The Philadelphia BPP has announced that two of its members are running for City Council seats in the November elections in this city. They are trying to institute a Free Health Clinic and have indicated that a building has been secured to house this project. Also, current efforts are being made to revitalize the Breakfast Program which has been steadily decreasing in attendance.

Philadelphia feels that the time is particularly opportune for dissemination of information to the "Philadelphia Inquirer". Black Panther Party Referenced Detroit airtel sets forth details of a Bureau-approved letter sent out to members of the Detroit BPP and made to appear as though it had been sent by [redacted] one of the leaders of the Detroit BPP. Since this letter went out quite recently (9/17/69) the results are not completely discernable at this time; however, it is clear that the letter has caused a good deal of consternation and distrust among the members of the Detroit BPP and has resulted in [redacted] having been branded as a police informant by the BPP National Headquarters, which, in turn, will almost certainly result in her being purged from the party. This disruption has come at a time when the Detroit chapter of the BPP can least afford it: since the "execution of its former Minister of Defense, the Detroit Chapter has been closed on orders from the national party. It has only recently received permission to reactivate itself but is not yet allowed to use the name Black Panther Party. As soon as some of the leaders, presently in California undergoing political reindoctrination, return to Detroit, the party here will reopen for a 30-day trial period under the name "United Front Against Fascism". If, during this time, it proves itself worthy, it will be permitted to reassume the BPP standard.

Detroit believes that this chapter of the BPP will fail to achieve the cohesiveness and support it previously enjoyed. To insure this, Detroit will watch the direction taken by the "new party" and submit counterintelligence proposals for its disruption.

League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW)

Referenced communication concerning the LRBW indicates that on 6/25/69 a commercial checking account was opened by the Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM) at the Bank of the Commonwealth, Detroit, Michigan. The check used to open this account was in the amount of $5,000.00 and drawn on the account of the Inter-Religious Foundation for Community Organization, Inc. (IFCO).

DRUM is a branch of the LRBW. Clearly, the LRBW is a union organization; in fact, it offered a slate of black candidates in recent union elections at two Chrysler plants in the Detroit area.

The Detroit Counterintelligence Program might profitably utilize this information by providing for its indirect dissemination to the UAW and Teamsters Unions in Detroit. Hopefully, this would result in the unions leveling a fusillade at the LRBW for operating as a labor union while being financed by a tax-exempt religious organization which would:

1. Bring pressure on DRUM and the LRBW from the United States Department of Labor to file an annual report concerning funding and organization. (Through liaison with the Labor Department, it has been determined that this report has not been filed).

2. Serve to discredit IFCO with the white church groups which supply it with funds.

3. Instill doubts in the minds of the rank and file of LRBW and DRUM concerning the honesty of its leadership; and possibly with good reason, since initial checks with the DRUM account at the Bank of the Commonwealth seem to indicate that a portion of the $5,000.00 was used for the personal expenses of the union officers.

SUBJECT: COUNTER INTELLIGENCE - PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
(ROBERT FRANKLIN WILLIAMS)

This is to request approval for the attached memorandum and letter to be given by the Crime Records Division to a friendly news media.

Robert Franklin Williams fled this country in 1961 following his indictment by the State of North Carolina on kidnapping charges growing out of a racial incident in Monroe, North Carolina. Williams resided in Cuba until 1966 when he moved to Peking, China. Shortly after arriving in Peking, he wrote a letter to Fidel Castro bitterly complaining of his treatment while in Cuba but pledging his continuing support for the Cuban revolution. The Cuban Embassy in Peking, China, refused to transmit the letter by diplomatic channels to Havana, Cuba, and Williams sent it to friends who distributed it in the U.S.

Williams returned to this country in 9/69 at Detroit, Michigan, where he is presently on bond pending legal actions against him on a Federal Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution - Kidnapping warrant and a kidnapping indictment in the State of North Carolina.

It is felt that publication of this letter will show the public the true nature of Williams and his revolutionary thinking. It will help counteract statements he is now freely making to the press to the effect that he only wants to help the Negro cause in this country. Although copies of this letter have been received by the Bureau from sources, its distribution has been sufficiently widespread so as not to compromise any of these sources.

ACTION:

If approved, refer to the Crime Records Division for its consideration with regard to making attached available to a cooperative news media on a confidential basis.

Robert Franklin Williams, in 1961, led militant civil rights activities in Monroe, North Carolina, which led to armed conflict between whites and blacks. During one such incident a white couple was held for several hours in Williams' house. As a result Williams, along with several others, was indicted on a charge of kidnapping. When Williams could not be found by local authorities, a Federal warrant was issued charging him with Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution - Kidnapping.

Williams fled to Cuba where he and his family resided until 1966. He continued to publish "The Crusader," a hate type newsletter in which he advocated that Negroes arm themselves and fight in the streets for their freedom. He also appeared on Radio Havana over which he broadcast the same type of propaganda.

In 1966 Williams and family moved to Peking, China, claiming that he was no longer safe in Cuba and he was not being given support in his fight for Afro-American freedom. In China he continued to publish "The Crusader" and in 1968 he visited Tanzania where he met with U. S. leaders of the Republic of New Africa, a black separatist organization, which had elected him as its president. In 1969 he again returned to Tanzania and from there returned to the U. S., landing in Detroit, Michigan. He was arrested upon his arrival and released on bond.

According to news releases since his return to U. S., Williams has been quoted as saying he returned because it's time for the Negro to serve notice he is no longer running and he (Williams) wants to help his people in their struggle for freedom. In a letter dated August 28, 1966, upon his arrival in Peking, China, Williams wrote Fidel Castro bitterly complaining of treatment afforded him in Cuba. He expressed his gratitude to Castro and the Cuban people for assistance in his escape from U. S. and stated he would always be a friend of the Cuban Revolution. He protested that he had not been given the proper support in his campaign for the Afro-American struggle. He accused Castro's subordinates of conspiring against him and claimed these officials showed no interest in the Afro-American struggle. He concluded by stating it was his revolutionary duty to report to Castro the sabotage being directed by Cuban officials against the Negro freedom movement in the U. S.

Peking, China
August 28, 1966

Dear Fidel:

First of all, I want to thank you and the Cuban people for assisting me when I was escaping from the United States. I will always be grateful to the Cuban people and I will always be a friend of the Cuban Revolution. In fact, this is the very reason why I take the liberty to write you this letter from my second exile. The reason that I bother to bring these matters to your attention, or later to the attention of the public if necessary, is because I find it impossible to believe that Commandante Valdes, Peniero and others close around you have fully, truthfully and faithfully informed you of these ignominious experiences that I encountered while living in Cuba.

Shortly after my arrival in Cuba I requested support for the Afro-American struggle in the U.S.A. I first requested an information office with the purpose of acquainting the peoples of Latin America, Asia and Africa with the revolutionary potential of the Afro-American struggle and the brutal nature of U.S. racism and its relation to U.S. imperialism. This revolutionary request was never granted. I also requested permission and facilities to broadcast both long and shortwave, especially to the Afro-American people in the U.S.A. After much bickering and red tape I was finally allowed to proceed with the broadcast from Radio Progresso, however, the facilities of Radio Havana, which was to be the short wave broadcast in the name of Radio Free Dixie, were completely denied. I was told that this was because Radio Havana is the official voice of the Cuban Government and that the Cuban Government could not be identified in this way with the Afro-American struggle. I was never allowed the use of the shortwave facilities which would have enabled me to reach the great masses of our people all over the U.S. and especially on the West Coast where there is a heavy concentration of my fellow workers and followers. We would have also been able to reach the people of Africa, Latin America and other places where the people manifested great interest by the letters that we received. Also I made a request from the government and the Party for a certain amount of dollars that would have enabled me to subscribe to the newspapers, magazines and other publications that were necessary for me to maintain a close relation with our struggle. Finally the Party had allocated $200 dollars a month. I was told this by Commandante Peniero's office, and that this $200 dollars was to allow me to subscribe to papers, magazines and to buy phonograph records so that I would have the latest music from the United States to use on Radio Free Dixie to increase our listening audience. The $200 dollars a month was to be used by somebody who was working at the United Nations and the things would be sent to me often in the pouch from the U.N. However, I never received any of the $200 dollars a month nor the publications.

Later I was able to get donations and contributions from upporters inside the United States for publications, records nd materials that I needed for my work. Also, many of the listeners f Radio Free Dixie donated musical recordings currently popular mong the Afro-American masses to be used on Radio Free Dixie.
owever, these publications and records when sent were taken from he mail, taken from the Post Office and sometimes when things were ent by boat they were taken from the boat. And there were instances hen even personal things purchased by persons in our movement in he States and sent to me were deliberately taken. They were taken rom the pouch and taken from the Foreign Ministry. When I went to he Foreign Ministry to complain, I was always given the excuse hat they did not know who was responsible for this and that they id not know who was taking these things out of the pouch. So, this andicapped our struggle very much. Later, I discovered that some f the newspapers and recordings were showing up other places and hey were showing up more and more in the Foreign Ministry. The oreign Ministry, the officials there, were allowing mercenaries, hieves and pirates to practice piracy against our struggle and gainst the property of our struggle and the things we needed to ork with. Also this was a way to cripple our broadcast and to wea-en our publication and to keep us behind so that we could not keep p with the news. I even complained to the Party about these disonorable practices being carried out. There were many other Amerians living in Cuba and they were able to use the pouch. The Amigos e Cuba, an organization of Americans living there, was able to eceive things from the pouch. Many of them and their representatives ere able to travel in and out of Cuba to make purchases in the nited States and Canada and to have these things sent back by ship nd they were able to receive all kinds of things that did not have anything to do with struggle. Even after I found it impossible to rely on the Foreign Ministry, the pouch and the Mambisa shipping lines, I requested through Commandante Peniero's office that my wife be allowed to go to Canada so that she could contact our friends and purchase the records and pick up the magazines and books and all the things pertaining to our struggle that we needed. I was repeatedly told that this would be impossible because there were so many repatriates returning to Cuba that there was no room on the ship for her to travel. I found out later that this was untrue because other Americans were traveling from Havana to Canada and into the United States and back to Cuba at will and as much as they wanted to. I later discovered that this was just a plot to try to wreck our struggle and to crush our organization, and was done in conjunction with forces inside the U.S., including the U.S. Communist Party which was opposed to our method of struggle and which advocated a policy of nonviolence in support of Rev. Martin Luther King.

After our program Radio Free Dixie, became very successful and it was noted throughout the world that it was a successful broadcast that had great impact on the Afro-American masses in the U.S., after many international publications in the United States, Latin America, Asia and Africa had written a great deal about the impact of our program the power was reduced so low that our listeners inside the U.S. could not hear the broadcast. Some who could hear Radio Free Dixie heard it coming through the station at Santa Clara. The Havana transmission was so weak that sometimes they could not even hear it in Florida. This was direct and deliberate sabotage committed to protect U.S. racism and imperialism from being exposed for its brutal racist crimes against the Afro-American people. It was also done at the instigation of Americans living in Cuba. They were the first to advise that this radio program should be abolished. In order to maintain a false image as supporters of our cause, while at the same time dealing it a crippling blow, Radio Difusion reduced the power of the facilities over which we were broadcasting.

Our publication, The Crusader, had become popular throughout the world and was being used as a manual on armed self-defense by freedom fighters throughout the United States, however, the more popular it became the more difficulty we experienced in getting it printed in Cuba. There was always some excuse about paper, or we had to go through a lot of red tape which would make it impossible to publish some issues while others came out extremely late. We found it impossible to continue publishing under these conditions. We also had the case where some copies of The Crusader were forged and distributed throughout the world. This forged copy was an attack on the Soviet Union and surreptitiously anti-China and was designed to make my exile in Cuba difficult. I reported this to the Party and had hoped that I would get some cooperation to help facilitate my making a public announcement on it or a statement that the October 1965 Special Edition of The Crusader was not published by me and that it was a forged copy not published by friendly forces, but I was unable to get any cooperation from the Party as far as making this public announcement.

In many instances also our mail was held up. It was on some occasions sent back to the United States but the people in the States continued to contact me. Some sent the letters back by people traveling to Cuba to show that the Habana post office had stamped them return to sender address unknown. On some occasions long distance telephone callers were informed that I was unavailable. This completely severed the lines of communications between my co-workers and me. After the request for my wife to go to Canada and take care of the business there was denied I asked that some members of our organization and Negro journalists be allowed to visit Cuba. This was also denied. All Negro journalists who applied for visas to enter Cuba were denied visas while white reactionary journalists from the capitalist press were being admitted from all over the world. The Foreign Ministry systematically barred all Negroes, who were coming to confer with me in relation to our struggle, out of Cuba. Some Negro members of our organization, traveling on our money got as far as Prague and were barred from Cuba and were forced to return to the U.S. after their funds were exhausted. This caused us to spend a lot of dollars, dissipating our funds. There were other cases wherein many of our people went to Mexico hoping to come to Cuba to confer with me about the struggle and set up communication lines so that we could coordinate our efforts, but all of this was sabotaged and all of the plans frustrated by officials and functionaries of the Cuban Government especially those in the Foreign Ministry and Commandante Peniero's office. Commandante Peniero's office was one of the main factors in bringing about the frustrating conditions of our struggle, the very man that had been assigned by you to take care of me.

The only official in the Cuban Government who showed any genuine interest in our struggle and who had really promised to help was Commandante Che Guevara. Commandante Guevara called me into his office and told me that he believed that my policy of self-defense was correct and he showed me an editorial in the newspaper Hoy, an editorial in support and praise of Rev. Martin Luther King. He told me that he disagreed with that view and that he had some disagreement with some of the officials of the government and that he was going to help me all that he could. He told me he was going to the interior of Cuba and promised he would return in one month and telephone me as soon as he arrived in the city. However, he stated that while he was gone it would not be necessary to wait the full thirty days for solution of some of the minor problems that I had. He said that Captain Arrogones would take care of my problems while he was away. Later, I discovered that Captain Arrogones was unavailable. After thirty days Commandante Che Guevara failed to return to Havana. So I did not get any help from the Cuban Government and I did not receive attention as far as the problems of my struggle were concerned. My interview with Commandante Che Guevara was one day before the letter that you read from him over radio and television was dated. On the day before that letter was dated he gave me the understanding that he was going into the interior and that he was not leaving the country again, but that he would return to Havana, contact me and give me the needed assistance when he returned. Despite the fact that I had seen Commandante Guevara the day before the letter was dated to you, in which you said that he had gone and joined another revolution, I find this hard to believe after he told me that he was coming back in thirty days and that he had me waiting for him and relying on him to give assistance to our struggle, the reason that I bring this up at this time is because I wonder if "Che" did not meet with foul play in the interior and that may be the same people who contrived his dissappearance may be planning to do away with, you in the same manner.

During the time of the Tri-Continental Conference, Afro-American journalists tried to come to Cuba to cover the Conference. These journalists also had been to Cairo, they had been accepted there as journalists and were given cooperation there and were able to write about the Afro-Asian Conference and to bring the information back to the Afro-American people. When they tried to enter Cuba they were denied the right to come and they were told that they could not come because they were American journalists, however representatives from the Worker (official organ of the C.P. USA), from a Jewish publication and other white Americans were allowed to come to Cuba as guests of the government and they were admitted to the Tri-Continental Conference. (Also, I was living in Havana at the time and as a representative of the Afro-American people and I was not given an invitation to attend the Tri-Continental Conference. I was barred from the Conference and was only admitted after the question had been raised by some of the delegates from Africa, and only after they had asked why I lived in Havana and I was not inside the Conference halls and that there were others there who did not have as much in common with the peoples of the Conference as I did. Later they were told in the Conference by Captain Osmany Cienfuegos that I had been invited to the Conference but that I had refused to pick up my invitation, that I was refusing to attend and that I was boycotting the Conference. So the Africans came back and told me this and to me that I should come into the Conference and that they had been told that I had an invitation and wouldn't accept it. I told them that this was not true. They then said that they could not see why a man in a high position like Osmany would tell a lie about a little thing like that. I told them if they were so sure I would go with them to see. We went to the Conference headquarters and no credentials had been made out and there was no invitation there for me but this was a scheme to keep all Afro-American revolutionaries and other true revolutionaries out of the conference. The conference was being manipulated especially to keep Afro-Americans out and this was being done by officials of the Cuban Government and not by the conference as a whole. I found this to be incompatible with your policy, the policy that you had always advocated. I know that you have always advocated a policy of racial equality and brotherhood and I do not see how this could have been done with your knowledge.

While in Cuba all of my work for the Afro-American struggle was sabotaged. Some of it was sabotaged by Cuban functionaries who unwittingly were led to carry out sabotage against our struggle by agitators from outside. Some of these people who agitated most against our struggle and against my work in Cuba were Americans who had been brought there as so-called technicians and advisors who spread all kinds of vicious lies and misled some honest Cuban officials who really thought that these American members of the U.S. Communist Party were beyond reproach. Some of these people are highly suspects as agents of the U.S. Government and the C.I.A. yet they were able to do a very effective job. They were able to completely sabotage and derail our struggle. They were able to do what the racist and imperialist government of the United States was never able to do while I was there and that was to demoralize me and to frustrate my efforts to the point that they were all but ineffective.

Also during the Tri-Continental Conference, one of the persons who was invited there was a fellow who came from Tanzania, Africa named D.H. Mansur. Mansur was invited and was supposed to be a newspaperman working for "Uhuru". He had been to Cuba the previous year. At that time he was traveling in the company of a military delegation and someone introduced to me as the vice-minister of Defence, all from Tanzania. He was housed along with vice-minister and the military delegates in the Cuban protocal house. I did not know him previously but during that visit he was brought to my house by representatives of ICAP along with two men, the vice minister and one of the military officials. Mansur told me at that time that there was a possibility that Tanzania would establish diplomatic relations with Cuba the following year and that he was going to be appointed the ambassador to Havana.

On his second visit, during the Tri-Continental Conference, Mansur stayed at the Hotel Capri and was given special privileges and was able to summond Osmany to the hotel whenever he saw fit. He was also seen and I personally saw him with Commandante Peniero. He told me that since I was having difficulty in Cuba that if I wanted to see anybody in the government, other than Fidel Castro, that he could arrange it for me. He said that Fidel Castro was the only official in the Cuban Government that he could not arrange an interview with for me. He also told me that officials of the Cuban Government were soliciting people to try to smear me and make me look bad and that they were deliberately working against me and that he would advise as a friend that I try to leave Cuba. When I had met Mansur the previous year when he was visiting with the military delegation and the vice minister of Defense of Tanzania he appeared to be a revolutionary person and was supposed to have been working with Cuban officials.

D.H. Mansur told me that he expected to go through New York for some business that he had to take care of in the United Nations soon. I asked him how soon and he replied that he was not sure when but wanted to know why I had asked. I told him that I had something that I wanted to send to the States. He replied that if I had anything to send that I could send it by the "Chief of Secret Police" of Tanzania who was in Cuba on a secret mission and was supposed to leave within a couple of days. He told me that this chief of the secret police was in Cuba attending the Tri-Continental Conference but that the Cuban government did not know his true identity but that whatever I wanted to send would be alright to send by him because he would be traveling with diplomatic immunity to the United Nations. I then told him that I may want to send some money to the Negroes in the United States, a personal contribution that I was making to them. He said that he thought that this minister would take it but that he would talk to him first. He later returned and said that the minister would leave in two days and that if I had whatever I wanted to send ready on the night before he left that there would be no problem. He said that the man was alright, he had diplomatic immunity and that he was there in Cuba on a secret mission. The night before the "minister" was supposed to leave I brought $1550 dollars and a letter written in code and gave it to Mansur to be sent to some Afro-American people working in the struggle to help them out. I took the envelop containing the messsage and the money to the lobby of the Hotel Habana Libre. I gave Mansur the envelop and the money and he went upstairs while I waited in the lobby for his return. He stayed upstairs for about 15 minutes and returned in the company of Commandante Peniero and the man he had pointed out to me as the Chief of the Secret Police of Tanzania. Mansur and Peniero walked to a deserted side of the hotel that led to the cafeteria and talked for three or four minutes, then the two of them passed back through the lobby and went out of the hotel through the door leading to the Polinasia Dining room. Even though he knew I was there waiting for him, he did not return that night. The next day when I saw him, I asked him why did he not return. He said for me not to worry and voluntarily injected that he had not discussed my business with Commandante Peniero because "I know those people don't like you and are working against you, but the 'red beard' is a friend of mine and I went out to talk to him." He said that his friend 'red beard' was the head of the Cuban secret police.

He told me later, after the Tri-Continental Conference that he served as guide and translator for Osmany and other Cubans who were visiting and working in Africa. He also told me that the Cuban Government, in conjunction with the Soviet Government was trying to break relations and wreck the union between Tanganyika and Zanzibar, because the Cubans, Soviets and East Germans wanted to use Zanzibar as a base to operate in Africa to try to subvert the African governments. He said that there were two factions in the government in Dar es Salaam and that one faction, backed by Cuba and the Soviets, was working against President Nyerere and they wanted to bring up the union because they felt that Zanzibar would be more useful to them as an independent country.

Mansur also stated to me that the Cuban Government was responsible for a lot of trouble in the Congo, Leopoldville. That they had sent many black Cuban troops there disguised as Congolese and that these black troops fought in the Congo and had a base in Tanzania where they received their food and supplies and often came for rest. He went on to say that the Cuban Government was using these black troops in Africa to engender political influence on behalf of the Soviet Union and that most of these troops were massacred, slaughtered because the imperialists discovered their presence. He claimed that the Cubans and Russians were giving pro-Moscow African leaders weapons to fight against the nationalists, and that instead of fighting against the imperialists that they were fighting against the revolutionary nationalists in the Congo in order to prevent a nationalist revolution that would not have been under the influence and domination of the Soviet Union.

I asked Mansur why he had turned against the Cubans since his last visit and he said it was because he found out that the Cubans were no good after working with them directly through the Embassy of Cuba in Dar es Salaam. He claimed that Cuba had a black Cuban there as ambassador that had to take orders from a white Cuban who was the first secretary and that this proved the Cubans to be racists who did not believe in equality of the black man but were using black puppets to further their own political interests, and those of the Soviet Union. I asked him why he had come to Cuba and he said that the Party had brought him there to work as an adviser on African affairs and to set up broadcasts to Africa in Swahili over Radio Havana. He started the broadcasts and often laughed about it afterwards because no one in Radio Havana understood what he was broadcasting in Swahili. I discovered him to be very reactionary and he laughed about the bad conditions he created in Radio Havana and how he had alienated and antagonized a lot of the workers there. He told me that the director of Radio Havana asked him what could Cuba do to counteract the Chinese influence in Africa and that he should work for them in trying to do so.

Mansur, while living in the Hotel Capri, created a lot of friction between himself and the Cuban workers. He struck a Cuban waiter with his fist in the Capri dining room because the waiter did not serve him " fast enough " and then had the Party make the victim apologize to him! He was extremely rude with the workers. He demanded that the director of the Hotel Capri secure a prostitute for him. When he was informed that prostitution had been abolished in Cuba by the Revolutionary Government, he told the director that that was a lie and that most any Cuban woman on the street would sleep with him for money. He then called officials of the Party and told them that he wanted one of the chorus girls working in the show at the Club in the Capri. The officials of the Party forced an unwilling show girl to submit to his demands for a prostitute in order to pacify him.

I told Mansur that I had never known a guest of Cuba to come there before and get away with such shameful conduct and abuse and I asked him how could he get away with such action. He replied that he had information on officials of the Cuban Government and the subversive activity that they were carrying on in Africa and that they dared not bother him. He ostentatiously went into the hotel bar and invited many people to drink with him and told them to drink all they wanted because it was free and being paid for by the Cuban Government.

While Mansur was using these threats to divulge this so-called secret information, to intimidate high officials of the Cuban party, he boasted that this information had already been sold to Finnish television men who were then visiting Cuba and that in the future it was going to be published under a pseudonym.

After one week of observing Mansur's reactionary conduct, I became apprehensive of his trustworthyness and called New York and discovered that neither the money nor the letter had arrived there. I went back to D.H. Mansur to ask him about the "Chief of the Secret Police" who was supposed to have taken the money and communique to New York. He said that if the message and money had not arrived yet that may be the man did not go directly to New York, and that maybe he went first to some other place, or maybe he stopped over in Mexico. I said well maybe that was possible. I waited another week and called New York again to find out that no such person had come to the Tanzanian Mission to the United Nations, so I went back again to D. H. Mansur. He then said that he had to personally go to Tanzania himself to get the money because he did not want anyone to think he was a thief. In the meantime becoming more suspicious of Mansur, I sent cables off to Minister "Babu", with whom I was acquainted and to President Nyorere. Minister "Babu" responded immediately replying that Mansur did not represent the Government of Tanzania and that he had no official position in the Government of Tanzania. When I went to Mansur and faced him again he broke down and started crying, begging for me to please shoot him. He promised that he would get the money back and that he would even get the Cuban Party to pay it back. He begged me not to involve his government and his president in this matter because the Government of Tanzania may kill his family or put them all in prison and kill him or put him in prison. I told him that all I wanted was the money and the message back, that this money was supposed to go to our people in New York and that we had sent a secret coded message and I wanted to know what he had done with the communique. He then said that it was possible that he gave the money and the communique to a Cuban official. I then said to him that in that case there would be no problem because if he gave it to a Cuban official that we would be able to get it back because I thought they would cooperate with me. He then stated that he did not think we could get it back because the Cuban official that he gave it to may have been working with the CIA. I kept insisting that I wanted the money back and the message and he continued crying and then suggested that I go together with him to the British Reuters news service and the Associated Press office in Havana and that he would write a confession in the presence of the agents there saying that he had received the money from me and that the money had been lost and that he would be responsible for making restitution. I asked him why did he want to go to the British and Americans who were our enemies and the enemies of his country, especially since his president had denounced the activity of the A.P. there in Tanzania as a subersive counterrevolutionary agency working against the government. He said that President Nyerere only denounced one correspondent of the A.P. and that the reason he wanted to go there and get them involved was because he was working with the two news services and that this would be a form of collateral or assurance for the money. I then asked how could he be a loyal supporter of his government and his president while working for the British and American news agencies.

His sinister manoeuver was obvious. The fact was that the coded message, sent along with the money, was signed by a code name and the person to receive it was also designated by a code name. Legally there was no evidence to connect Afro-American freedom fighters with Cuba or with me. It was obvious that Mansur and other agents had devised a conspiracy to create a state of hysteria and journalistic sensationalism by attempting to link U.S. civil rights forces with foreign interests and portray me as an intermediary of foreign intrigue and subversion.

Mansur had told me that Cuban Government officials were plotting to get rid of me and that I should not rule out the possibility that they would readily murder me and that, though I may doubt that they were capable of this, he could assure me that they were capable of this because he worked for and had close contact with them. He said that they were soliciting others, including himself, in their malicious campaign to discredit and silence me. Obviously he assumed after telling me all this that I was sufficiently against the Cuban Revolution to the extent that he could afford to admit to me that he was working for the British and Americans.

When the African students studying in Havana, who were also friends of Mansur, were informed that Mansur had stolen money entrusted to him for the Afro-American movement, they confronted him as a delegation to investigate the veracity of the charges. Mansur confessed to them that he had had the money but not being aware of its source of origin he became frightened at the amount and had turned it over to the Cuban authorities.

An african woman freedom fighter, wife of a diplomat, reported to me that Mansur had approached her and some of her Cuban friends and tried to bribe them into taking him to places where he claimed he had heard from foreign sources that Lesbian women frequented. She said he told them that he had plenty of money, ostentaticusly flaunted Cuban bills in 50 peso denominations, and said he would pay them if they would take him where he could take pictures showing this type of life in Cuba. These women were shocked and became highly suspicious of his mission in Cuba, Mansur had told me that he had forced African freedom fighters from Angola out of Dar es Salaam by publishing photographs he had taken of them in undesirable places enjoying night life. It was more than obvious that he was seeking pictures of African freedom fighters that he could use to compromise and blackmail them on the continent.

After I began to question Mansur more about the money and the coded message and discovered all of these things about him I found that he had suddenly requested permission to leave the country even though he was supposed to remain there another month to set up the Swahili broadcasts and to await the arrival of two other Tanzanians to take over from him. Despite the fact that his services were supposedly indispensable to Radio Havana, he was hurriedly sent on a trip to the interior of Cuba by party officials. When I discovered that he was back and planning to leave right away, I called Commandante Vallejo.

During the interim, I had talked to a Congolese women freedom fighter who was in search of Mansur whom she thought to be a true African brother and revolutionary, to give him confidential information and organizational communiques to be taken by him to Dar es Salaam to be sent to revolutionary forces inside the Congo. In order to prevent her from becoming another victim of D.H. Mansur, I related to her what he had done about our message and money that were sent to our friends in the United States and disclosed to her the secrets that Mansur was openly telling about the Congo. She became horrified and after a long discussion on the matter, the Congolese revolutionary stated that they had been trying to ascertain how the imperialist forces obtained information about their movement and the arrival of black Cuban soldiers in the Congo. She said that Mansur represented the missing link that they had been searching for, and that it was now obvious to her that he was the man who had caused many revolutionaries to be massacred and their campaign to be frustrated. I immediately called Commandante Vallejo again and asked for an urgent emergency conference.

Commandante Vallejo came to my house and I told him that I had talked with the Congolese freedom fighter and that we were both convinced that Mansur was an agent of the imperialists and was the one responsible for the massacre of Congolese and Cuban revolutionaries in the Congo by revealing secrets to the imperialists. I showed him the cable from Minister Babu of the Tanzanian Government. I discussed all of the afore mentioned facts, at length and asked him to report this directly to you, Fidel. I also asked Commandate Vallejo to prevent Mansur from leaving Cuba until he could be questioned more by me and the Cuban officials about the theft of the money, my missing communique and his direct connections with the A.P., Reuters, officials of the Cuban Communist Party and the circle of Finnish television men, whose woman informer claimed to be an intimate girl friend of yours, Fidel. Commandante Vallejo informed me that the matter would be investigated and that he would take it directly to Fidel.

He left hurriedly. The following night at 12:30 A.M. two men from G-2 came to my house. In a belligerant manner they demanded that I tell them what I had told Commandante Vallejo. I inquired as to what office they were from and they said Commandate Peniero's office. I told them to tell Commandante Peniero that I did not deal with crooks and that anything I had to say I would tell to Fidel. One of the men stated that they did not have to stay there and listen to my insult and that Mansur was a "good revolutionary friend of Cuba" who only "talked too much." As the two security men left my house, one was heard to say that Williams had better "watch out." It was obvious that Vallejo, who had been appointed by you personally to aid me with my problems was not reporting my problems and information to you but instead was turning my complaints over to the same man that I was complaining against for sabotaging our struggle or allowing it to be sabotaged by his subordinates. After I revealed that I had become convinced that Commandante Peniero and Captain Osmany were working with subversive elements and sheilding agents of the U.S. and British imperialists I was unable to make contact with Commandante Vallejo again. He refused to see me and refused to relay my messages to you. I was unable to see any responsible official in the Cuban Government and D.H. Mansur was sped out of the country by official representatives of the Cuban Government. I continously sent telegrams, made telephone calls and requests to talk to you, Fidel. I also called President Dorticos' office and the office of Dra. Celia Sanchez seeking an audience that I was never granted. I could only see the same people from Peniero's office who had all along been instrumental in helping to sabotage my work in Cuba. I was only granted audiences with petty functionaries from Peniero's office who displayed an attitude of indifference and laughed at the whole affair as if it were some comedy, but this was a serious matter to our struggle and it should have been a serious matter to Cuba, because I could not understand how a government or an official of a government like Vallejo, Peniero or Osmany could see Cuban soldiers, even if they were black, wiped out, salughtered and massacred in the Congo and here was the man who was responsible for it right there in Cuba and they refused to apprehend him or to even take him into custody and question him. Here was a man whose pretentious masquerade as a representative of his government had been officially unmasked and they refused to do anything about it. Here was a man who had stolen $1550 dollars from a struggle that Cuba claimed to be supporting and they refused to bring this thief in, even for questioning, which meant that he, as well as other pirates, as well as Cuban pirates, had the right to practice piracy against our liberation struggle. He had impunity granted him under the power and authority of the Cuban Government. So the fact was that even though this man was a thief, it made no difference, he was an honored guest who among other things had stolen from the Afro-American struggle which these officials of Cuba were opposed to and to which they had been in opposition all along and had done everything they could to sabotage. One of the main characters in this sabotage was Commandate Peniero. We expected more consideration from Commandante Vallejo but we found him to be working hand in glove with Commandate Peniero and Captain Osmany.

I think it also important to note that much of the secret organizational information that I had filed with Commandante Peniero's office was later cynically cited to me by an official of one of the so-called free world embassies in Havana. It was also positively obvious that through Commandate Peniero and

Commandante Vallejo a flippantly promiscuous north American woman was transmitting all confidential matters related to her by them pertaining to my activities to this same so-called free world embassy.

I had had much more difficulty before then. I had been invited to Sweden on a speaking tour and I had asked for permission to leave Cuba but permission was never granted, no cooperation was given me whatever. Finally, the people working with the Party had begun to do all manner of things to handicap and hinder our struggle and their actions were beginning to become antagonistic whenever I had contact with them. During my last months in Cuba, hostility toward me by members of the Party became very intense. They displayed much resentment toward the fact that I was receiving a small stipend in Pesos as the government's support of me and my activities in behalf of the Afro-American struggle. Due to the fact that this stipend was used to make me appear a part of the new class of those enjoying the dulce vida in Cuba, while at the same time piratical Party officials were robbing us of the direct material support received from the revolutionary people of the United States and deliberately and viciously sabotaging all our efforts in our struggle, I refused to continue accepting this stipend from the Party.

Despite the fact that I had evidence that D.H. Mansur was a thief, a charlatan, an unprincipled counterrevolutionary and an admitted agent of the imperialist forces, and I had personally found him to be unscrupulous, anti-socialist, anti-Nyerere and an outright bandit of the worse sort, functionaries of the Party and of Commandante Peniero's office insisted that he was an "honest man", a "revolutionary" and a guest of the Cuban Government who just "talked too much." From Mansur's point of view he felt safe and secure in the fact that he had connections with officials high in the Cuban Government. He suggested to me that if I wanted aid, any sepcial favor or permission to leave Cuba that I had better direct my efforts more toward Captain Osmany Cienfuegos because his power was on the rise and Fidel's was on the decline and it would be only a matter of time before Fidel would be completely powerless.

I can't believe that Osmany, Peniero and Vallejo, I do not believe that they have accurately, truly and faithfully informed you of what was and is transpiring because I can not conceive of your being aware of this matter and of all of these things that were going on, not only against our struggle but also against the Cuban Revolution, ar, the Cuban people and remain indifferent.

I write you this correspondence now because of my support of the Cuban people and the Cuban Revolution. As desperately as the 1550 dollars were needed by impoverished Afro-American freedom fighters; I know that it is now an irretrievable loss and that those racist officials of the Cuban Government, who so effectively sabotaged our struggle were glad that we lost the money and they deem it a great victory for whatever cause they serve. The only ones who could possibly profit from this are those who work for the CIA and U.S. imperialism.

I deem it my revolutionary duty to bring these facts to your attention. I want to be sure that you know this because I also see in this a conspiracy against the Cuban Revolution and yourself and I am convinced that if you are, and remain, unaware of these corrupt and sinister machinations taking place around you, you will soon be in the same predicament as Nkrumah, Ben Bella or Sukarno and the Cuban Revolution will be subverted and destroyed from within.

I think that you owe it to the cause of the Cuban Revolution and to revolutionaries throughout the world and especially to the revolutionaries in Latin America and the western hemisphere to let us know if these reactionary scoundrels of your government were acting in accordance with your concept of revolutionary conduct as a part of your ruling clique or whether they were usurpers engaged in unscrupulous subversive activities contrary to your beliefs and ideas.

Again I say that I support the Cuban Revolution and I am grateful for the hospitality and friendship that the Cuban people have shown me. I hope that these demoralizing and agonizing experiences do not indicate a new fascist tendency on the part of the Cuban Revolution. The only complaint that I make to you is on behalf of my people, the Afro-American people who are engaged in a struggle for survival, liberation, equality and freedom inside the USA. I make this complaint to you because of the fact that your government has allowed saboteurs to sabotage our struggle and have set us back for a number of years and have allowed them to frustrate and demoralize our people in our struggle against our oppressive enemy. I also make this complaint as a revolutionary obligation to the Cuban people themselves who have sacrificed their lives, their blood and their loved ones and gone to great lengths to promote the Cuban Revolution and to make it a living reality. I think that I owe it to them that I bring this matter to your attention so that you may deal personally with it or place it into the hands of the people so that they may know about the characters and personalities of these persons who are supposed to be leaders of the Cuban Revolution, people like Commandante Vallejo, Peniero and Osmany.

They should know the caliber of these men who represent them before the world, these men who are either outright thieves and crooks themselves or who keep company with and give aid and comfort to crooks who are enemies of the Cuban people and revolutionaries throughout the world.

Personally my stay in Cuba turned out quite well and my stay in Cuba as far as my relationship with the Cuban people was quite enjoyable, but I deeply resent the fact that a revolutionary government that came to power through revolution would sink to the level that it would give aid and comfort to imperialist agents, thieves and pirates who practice piracy against freedom movements, freedom fighters and those struggling for liberty and equality.

There are many other things that I feel should be brought out, things I should say to you but I am not sure that this correspondence will reach you, but if it is impossible to reach you this way, I feel that it is my revolutionary duty to reach you in whatever manner I possibly can, even if it must be through the mass media of the world.

I am doing this completely on my own initiative. I have not discussed this with any other official or individual nor with members or officials of my organization inside the United States. This is a personal matter that I am taking upon myself and I assume full responsibility. I feel that this is my duty because I feel a personal obligation, a personal duty and a personal loyalty to the Cuban Revolution and the Cuban people and I hope that I will be more fortunate in reaching you than I was in the more than four years that I resided in Cuba.

I hope at least this time you will feel that what I have to say is important enough for a personal response and I hope you will not commit this very important and serious matter to the hands of the same racist, degenerate, counter-revolutionary agents of U.S. imperialism who are responsible for frustrating and subverting that part of the Afro-American freedom struggle that was being conducted from the revolutionary territory of Cuba.

Revolutionarily yours,

Robert F. Williams

ACCOMPLISHMENTS OBTAINED

Sources have reported no overt reaction due to operations now in effect in the Los Angeles area. It should be noted, however, that a severe split has occurred between the leaders of the Los Angeles BPP and it is believed that the continuous interviewing of present and past BPP members has helped create this gulf. Attempts will be continued to widen this gulf.

Authority is granted Newark to mail the cartoon submitted in referenced letter. The cartoon, which was drawn by the Newark Office, is satisfactory and needs no duplication. In reproducing this cartoon, Newark should insure that the paper and envelopes used do not contain any traceable markings. When mailing this cartoon, care should be taken so that the Bureau is not disclosed as the source and strict security is maintained. Newark should advise of any results received from this mailing.

NOTE:

Newark has proposed the mailing of a cartoon ridiculing members of the black racist organization known as US. The cartoon is of a pig and recognizable of BPP art. Newark wishes to anonymously mail copies of this cartoon to about 15 BPP members in the Newark area in an effort to build up resentment between the panthers and US. The cartoon is designed to appear as if members of US had created same. It states that US represents the "people" instead of the BPP. Newark requested that the Bureau Laboratory reproduce this cartoon in a crude manner. We are instructing Newark to utilize its own cartoon as it meets the needs and reproduction by the Laboratory is unnecessary in this instance.

This board has the ght to arbitrarily revoke or suspend parole on any individual. At the same ne, the Adult Authority maintains—falsely—that Cleaver has the oppor- n[illegible] defend himself at a hearing. This is how it works:

"[illegible]arolee is served with violation charges, is interviewed, is given a earing (before the Adult Authority itself, the charging party) at which the arolee may 'plead' to the parole violation charges, and is afforded an op- ortunity to present his defense."

"At the 'hearing' a parolee is denied the right to counsel, may not ave an independent and impartial officer to conduct the hearing and make ecision." (Petition for Hearing in the Supreme Court, p. 17)

Not only does the Adult Authority hold secret hearings, but it also [illegible]es to notify persons under its jurisdiction of its procedures, or of its [illegible]dable definitions of what constitutes a parole violation. This secrecy and [illegible]gueness is in direct violation of federal law which requires agencies to [illegible]blish their procedures "for guidance of the public."

"Petitioner (Cleaver) is immediately and seriously prejudiced by the Adult Authority's unlawful refusal to publish its regulations, since he is to be imprisoned by virtue of an action which the Adult Authority still seeks to garb in this 'veil of secrecy.' (Petition for Hearing in the Supreme Court, p. 12)

[illegible], the Adult Authority acted unjustly and illegally. Its decision was an outlaw decision. Cleaver had no chance of obtaining "justice" from these Star Chamber proceedings. Why then wouldn't the U.S. Supreme Court hear Cleaver's case? There are, we believe, three reasons why the case wasn't accepted. The first is that any fair minded court would obviously have released Cleaver, thereby setting a precedent. The second is that thousands of cases of alleged parole violation from all over California and other states would be subject to reversal. Thirdly, the illegal functioning of the Adult Authority would come under attack. The U.S. Supreme Court just couldn't afford to consider the Cleaver case during this turbulent period.

Eldridge Cleaver is a victim of naked, shameless political persecution. As Judge Sherwin puts it:

"... The uncontradicted evidence presented to this court indicated that the petitioner had been a model parolee. The peril to his parole status stemmed from no failure of personal rehabilitation, but from his undue [illegible] in pursuing political goals, goals which were offensive to many of SOUL ON ICE?

"IT IS ONLY A MATTER OF TIME UNTIL THE QUESTION OF THE PRISONER'S DEBT TO SOCIETY VERSUS SOCIETY'S DEBT TO THE PRISONER IS INJECTED FORCEFULLY INTO NATIONAL AND STATE POLITICS, INTO THE CIVIL AND HUMAN RIGHTS STRUGGLE, AND INTO THE CONSCIOUSNESS OF THE BODY POLITIC. IT IS AN EXPLOSIVE ISSUE WHICH GOES TO THE VERY ROOT OF AMERICA'S SYSTEM OF JUSTICE, THE STRUCTURE OF CRIMINAL LAW, THE PREVAILING BELIEFS AND ATTITUDES TOWARD A CONVICTED FELON." (SOUL ON ICE, P.59)

Eldridge Cleaver made the decision to politically exile himself November 27th, on the basis that the Adult Authority made an outlaw decision, and that he had been denied his constitutional right to due process of law.

The revocation of Cleaver's parole was illegal, because no parole violation was committed.

The Adult Authority parole board has tried to maintain that Cleaver violated his parole by having a rifle in his possession, and by associating with individuals of bad reputation. This contention, we will show, is false. The Adult Authority version contradicts the Superior Court order itself:

his contemporaries. Not only was there absence of cause for the cancellation of parole, it was the product of a type of pressure unbecoming, to say the least, to the law enforcement paraphernalia of this state."

Cleaver is in political exile because a man of his convictions cannot get justice here. Indeed, if we are to give more than lip service to the concepts of freedom and justice we must support him. The work to get him discharged from parole must continue. An intense publicity campaign is necessary now to bring to the public the legal defense and arguments which were carried to the courts with no satisfaction. We must all work together to focus attention of this case. This is not an issue of one man's freedom, but a broad struggle which affirms the right of all of us to speak

At a meeting of the Washington Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, held the evening of 9/22/69, [redacted] advised it was announced that the Steering Committee of the NMC had contacted [redacted] BUF member and civil rights activist and asked him to speak at the rally planned for WDC on 11/15/69.

According to [redacted] expressed his willingness to speak, but stated he was aware of the demands made by the BUF on the NMC and would not speak, allow his name to be used, or sit on the platform if any collection was taken up at the rally. The Steering Committee voted to accept [redacted] terms and have also secured the appearance of Mrs. CORETTA KING at the rally. The NMC now believes that the BUF will be most reluctant to cause any trouble.

The Steering Committee will advise [redacted] by letter, with copy sent to [redacted] stating no collection will be taken up, but stating a rock and roll concert will be held and the BUF will be given a part of the profit

WFO is of the opinion that a carefully prepared and properly worded news release passed on to reporters or columnists known to be friendly to the Bureau could result in acute embarrassment to [redacted] and cause internal dissention within the ranks of the BUF.

In this connection the article could be worded as coming from a leader of the black community, holding a high office in the BUF who leaked the story to the news media and who accuses [redacted] of revealing his true colors as an "Uncle Tom" who has sold out the interests of the black community to white intellectuals and white radicals and thus exposed his friends to a violent confrontation with the police, should disorders such as took place after Resurrection City happen during the course of the peace march.

The article should be so written that the "BUF Official" expresses his dismay that [redacted] would place his political future and personal gain before his black brothers, and allude that [redacted] may not be the best possible candidate for the D. C. School Board.

If the Bureau is of the opinion that such a counterintelligence project, calculated to tarnish the image of [redacted] and create internal dissention within the ranks of the BUF is desirable, WFO is prepared to forward such a release,or if the Bureau so desires, the release can be prepared at the Seat of Government.

No counterintelligence action will be initiated without prior Bureau approval.

CHARLES GARRY, an attorney of San Francisco, Calif., often represents BPP members in Court and presently plans on accuming the position of counsel for BOBBY SEALE at the Chicago trial of the eight individuals indicted under ARL Statutes. GARRY was hospitalized over the last weekend but hoped to be at the trial in about ten days.

GARRY becomes incensed when his connections with the CP are publicized.

Chicago, if possible, should request Bureau authority to furnish this material to a cooperative news source or give consideration to asking permission to mail the material anonymously to a Chicago news source who might utilize it in a column.

Page 1165 of Report on Hearings before the Committee on Un-American Activities, House of Representatives, First Session of Eighty-fifth Congress held in San Francisco, California, June 18-21, 1957, contained testimony of Dr. Jack Patten, former Educational Director of the Professional Section of the Communist Party (CP) in San Francisco which identified Charles Garry as a CP member of the legal profession in San Francisco.

Page 1290 of this report contains testimony of Mrs. Dorothy Jeffers who was a former Treasurer of a Professional Section of the CP in San Francisco. Mrs. Jeffers identified Charles Garry as a member of the Professional Section of the CP and his wife Louise Garry as a CP member.

Pages 1301-1314 of this report contains testimony of Charles Garry wherein he refused to answer questions regarding the Professional Section of the CP.

Report of the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities to the 1959 Regular California Legislature, Sacramento, 1959, on Pages 133 and 134 contains the following:

"Charles R. Garry, also identified as a member of the Communist Party, has been practicing law in San Francisco since about 1938. He has represented the Civil Rights Congress, the Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, has been affiliated with a wide variety of Communist fronts, has acted as counsel for a number of Communist-dominated unions, and has, in short, followed the general pattern of activity that runs like a common denominator through the careers of the other lawyers in this State who have been identified as party members. He, of course, belongs to the National Lawyers Guild, having joined it immediately upon being admitted to the Bar, has served as its executive board member in San Francisco, as President of the San Francisco Chapter, as a delegate to its national convention, and a member of its national executive board.

"In 1948, Mr. Garry was a candidate for election to the House of Representatives from the Fifth Congressional District on the Independent Progressive Party ticket. It will be recalled that this organization was described in the first section of this report, and was headed state-wide by Mr. Hugh Bryson, former president of the Marine Cooks & Stewards Union.

"Mr. Garry has, like his comrades in the legal profession, sent numerous petitions to the United States Supreme Court in an effort to influence its decisions. Obviously, all of these petitions sought to mold the court's opinions in consonance with the Communist Party line, and while some of the other Communist lawyers sent an occasional petition, Mr. Garry's have been especially numerous and vehement. He has taught in the Communist school in San Francisco, has also been quite active in the International Workers Order, a sort of Communist insurance concern operated on a nationwide basis which attracted a great many racial minority groups. This organization, though now defunct, was an extremely rich and potent organization. While it was being suspended from operating in California because of its subversive nature, and pending a revocation of its certificate of operation, its entire file was stolen from the office of the California Insurance Commission, and so far as we know it has never been recovered."

WILLIAM PATTERSON

AND CHARLES GARRY

This is an interview by David Hilliard and Bobby Seale of Charles R. Garry, Black Panther Party Attorney, and a very close brother, a revelation by brother, William Patterson, Defense attorney for the Scottsboro Case, he's been in the struggle for quite a few years. And the first question that I would like to ask them for their response - I would like to ask both of you this question - What do you think about the upcoming conference to be held here in Oakland, California, for a UNITED FRONT AGAINST FASCISM in AMERICA?

ATTORNEY GARRY: I will give you my opinion, I'm Charles Garry, as to the need and the necessity for a get together of all people who are against oppression and harassment. The answer is, that if we don't do it, if this is not done and it's not done immediately, the same things that happened inside of Germany and fascist Italy, and fascist Japan, and fascist Spain are going to happen here. This may be our last opportunity to be able to get together and to tell men and women of good will throughout the United States the dangers of what fascism is. I don't think that the people of the United States really understand what fascism is. I think they believe that this is something foreign, they believe that this is something that exists outside the United States. We've got to tell them that although we fought fascism in Europe, that we permitted for hundreds of years, fascism to prevail in the South against black community. Now it's going beyond that; it's becoming more diabolic in our present day practice. We have every reason to believe that the Black Panther Party is being persecuted by the United States Government more radically and more violently than any other group in American life heretofore. So therefore, unless the people who are against the oppression, who understand and will fight against fascism, unless they get together now, they may not have the opportunity later. - Bill, you're an old soldier in this field, you've been at it now since the late '20's. Your wisdom and your experience is so direly needed. What do you say

WILLIAM PATTERSON: I'm of the opinion that we are passing through a very grave period in American history. If anyone had doubts as to the growth and development of fascism, and toward a police state in our country, they would not have to give more than superficial attention to the attacks being made against the Panthers, the Panther Party, against militants and progressive social forces all over our country. This is not only an attack instituted by the government on a city-wide, a state-wide and a national basis, but it is also represented by the attempts being made to build up a "white backlash" in America and to pit Americans who are white against those who are black and demanding only their constitutional rights and respect for their dignity as human beings. This conference should call together every progressive strata of the American population. It should place special emphasis upon activizing labor. It should reach through those who are fighting on the peace front and those who are fighting against poverty. Especially must this call be made to all Americans, regardless of color, creed or political persuasion, who are against the inhuman treatment to which black America has been exposed for four centuries. I for one have been greatly heartened by this step taken by the Black Panthers. I believe that those who are in anyway in opposition to any position that the Panthers may have taken, see in this step forward, an appeal to America as a whole, particularly that phase of America that is interested in the National Liberation Struggles of the peoples of the world. The time is short and yet those who will give their support to this tremendous campaign must everywhere move into action immediately. There is no time to waste. I'm in agreement with you Charlie, that this is a matter of historic importance. Not only to all progressive Americans, but as well to the peace of the world.

chairman: O.K., I would also like to ask you Charles and Brother Patterson, both of you are lawyers, how do you see the courts or the court system terror with the fascistization of America presently and futuristically?

WILLIAM PATTERSON: It is my thinking that the courts are being used by city, state and federal governments as a weapon of persecution in so far as blacks, men and women are concerned. I would like to say, that while I am by profession a lawyer, I am not and have not been for almost 40 years a practicing attorney. But I have been deeply impressed by the magnificent struggle that Charles Garry has made in this fight to save the life of Huey Newton and to preserve his freedom. To bring the attention to America, white America, that for a black man today to secure a jury of his peers is an impossible thing. I want, as a black man, as a fellow American and as a human being, to thank Charles Garry for what he's done in this instance, for he has shown clearly the manner in which the courts are not trying to secure the freedom of a man, regardless of his belief, if he is guilty of no crime, but in which they are being used to persecute a people seeking human dignity and freedom.

CHAIRMAN: In all of your experiences, both of you, we would like for you to explain how fan-

[illegible] democratic rights in fight [illegible] crucial capitalism?

WILLIAM PATTERSON: American Imperialism faces the growing wrath of the American people. This is seen in the fight that American has made for [illegible] in the fight that is being made for the use of billions for murder on a foreign field and the denial of food, clothing and an education to millions of Americans. Its only answer is Terror, its police have become a weapon of terror, to force upon Black people in particular a denial of their constitutional rights and dignity as human beings. Its courts have become institutions of terror, become institutions engaged in a conspiratorial attempt to deny human beings their rights. Thus we can see, in the activities taking place on a national scale the mounting danger of fascism in America; a danger that arises out of the unwillingness of those who govern this country to grant to the American people the rights that are theirs.

ATTORNEY GARRY: I'd like to add a few words to what Bill Patterson just stated. I recall in the early '30's when the President of the United States, a man by the name of Herbert Hoover, who could not see the needs of the hunger and the depression that this country went through, I'm suggested that people get out and sell apples on the street corners, and when a group of World War I veterans who had fought and were gassed and other things in Flandersfield and in the battlefields of France, they decided to take their grievances and march on Washington. The then President couldn't think of any other way of handling the matter except having General MacArthur turn the hoses upon the men who were expressing the dissent of not being satisfied with hunger. Today we're faced with another serious matter. The United States Government today is carrying on what we call illegal and oppressive, inhuman warfare on people of color in Vietnam. The American people are dissatisfied with this conduct to such an extent that President Johnson did not have the nerve to run for re-election. The congress throughout the United States are complaining about the treatment that the young are getting. People of color, both black brown, red, the third world liberation movement are dissatisfied with the kind of conduct they're receiving. This government does not have the answer of solving this problem because they can't solve it because the economy is run by the few. The capitalist society is running the economy of this country, therefore, they will not, and cannot solve the problems, so they resort to what they call "use of violence". The violence is put on the people in the campuses, the people in the ghetto and the people in the rural working areas, as Cesar Chavez is witnessing in California. They are faced with what they call "law and order" which is law and order with force and violence on the part of the establishment. And they use the courts through the district attorneys, and through the police department to harass the leaders of these people's movements throughout the United States. And it's because they are using the arms of the judiciary and circumventing the intent of justice, fascism is on its way here. And I don't see a way of stopping it, unless lawyers who believe that the constitution of the United States was meant for all of the people, unless the labor unions wake up and recognize that what's happening to the black ghetto, and to the brown people and to the people of the third world liberation movement, and the farm workers and the students, unless the labor unions awaken to their responsibility, they're going to find later on, that it's going to be too late, there's not going to be any labor movement. These are the areas which I'm just gently touching, and I hope that in the coming days we will be able to project the importance of being able to fight back in a manner that will produce results, and stop this holocaust that we're in.

DAVID: O.K., This is the final question, and possibly the question that's caused most controversy lately, most controversy lately in regards to the Black Panther Party, and the question is do you see any connection with the recent testimony given by a member of our Party for a period of three months, Larry Powell. Do you see a relation to the Matusco testimony of hearing with the Mac Carthy Committee, I believe?

ATTORNEY GARRY: Yes, I certainly do. Mister [illegible] trained and to testify to the laws of the government would be [illegible], until he got convicted. Mister, I believe, in the Jinx of [illegible] he repealed it all and he took the book called False Witness, he admitted that he had been convicted wrongfully by the United States Government at that time. At the present time the same thing is happening. The Black Panther Party set forth rules of discipline for its members, one of them was that they were not to use any terroristic action against people of the community, that they were to obey the laws and carry on political direction as planned. And when the members who had been expelled because of their misconduct and conduct that's contrary to the best interest of the Black Panther Party, particularly for criminal acts against individuals of the community, when they're expelled it seems that the Oakland Police Department and the District Attorney of Alameda County immediately embraces this person and makes them part of their own establishment. You can draw all kinds of inferences from what I said. Will do you want to add anything?

WILLIAM PATTERSON: I would like to say just this, I'm in full agreement with the remarks just made by Charlie Garry. I would want to say that the relationship between the testimony given by the Powells and that which had been given by the admitted stool-pigeon Matusco is quite similar, but what we must see in both is the conspiratorial action of the government. Of course, the government is in a position to buy many of those who are weak-minded, to seduce many of our lads and young women who are seeking a new life. It's to be expected that some of them would betray their fathers and their mothers and their own future. We must understand that this reflects the corrupting force of the kind of government under which we live. We condemn these people, we pity them, but our condemnation and our hatred is reserved for those corrupting forces that are doing this thing, destroying the integrity and the inherent honor of black youth and white youth and seeking to use their false testimony the basis for the prosecution of the militants in our country.

CHAIRMAN: Thank you. Thank both of you.

BPP National Headquarters in Berkeley, Calif., are in frequent telephonic contact with leaders and Officers of the Day for these chapters. An expulsion letter directed to these individuals would have no effect inasmuch as they could immediately ascertain the communication was not legitimate. For the same reason, it would not appear that any attempt should be made to direct letters to individuals in this area who are in immediate contact with the National office. However, there is a possibility that expulsion letters directed to BPP members who are not in close contact with the National office, accusing them of Black Nationalism, may produce some disruption and defection among the existing membership. San Francisco contemplates the preparation of an expulsion letter for mailing to such BPP members. The letter would be prepared over the signature of DAVID HILLIARD, Chief of Staff, and mailed from Berkeley, Calif.

Chicago, Seattle, Boston, Kansas City, New York and Los Angeles, are requested to furnish San Francisco a list of those members of BPP still known to be active in their respective area along with their mailing addresses. This list should not include prominent members of the chapter who are in close contact with the National office.

On receipt of replies to this communication, San Francisco will furnish Bureau a copy of expulsion letter and request that copies of the letter be prepared at the Laboratory over the signature of DAVID HILLIARD for mailing from Berkeley, Calif.

ReBulet to San Francisco 9/12/69.

Since receipt of Bureau letter 7/11/69, the following counterintelligence action has been taken by this office in attempt to disrupt the BPP. Prior to the convening of the BPP sponsored United Front Against Fascism (UFAF) in Oakland 7/18-20/69, the Alameda taxpayers associates protested the use of the Merritt Junior College auditorium by the BPP, and, as a result, the organization was forced to spend $1,000 for rental of the Oakland City Auditorium. A copy of the BPP Coloring Book along with the July 5, 1969 issue of "The Black Panther" were anonymously mailed to seven addressees who were aiding or in a position to aid the BPP Breakfast for Children Program. The same addressees were later mailed a copy of an article concerning the BPP and the Breakfast for Children Program by WILLIAM BUCKLEY, JR.

During the previously mentioned UFAF conference at Oakland, a confidential informant was utilized to seed DeFremery Park at Oakland, Calif., with a leaflet prepared by the Los Angeles Division concerning [redacted] who is a friend of the Black Panthers.

San Francisco has also ascertained that [redacted] is a BPP member and was driving a truck utilized [redacted]

Court records and coroner records have been checked and this office is presently attempting to ascertain a way of informing the victim's mother, without further grievance to her, of the location of BPP bank accounts.

This office has kept in mind the possibility of using a new black extremist group in an attempt to cause further defection from the BPP. To this end, the following former BPP members in the San Francisco area have been interviewed since 7/11/69:

[redacted]

Almost without exception, the aforementioned individuals have left the BPP because of personality conflicts with BOBBY SEALE rather than their objections to the ideology of the Panthers. No information has been received to date of any new black extremist group attempting to recruit ex-BPP members in this area. To date, no specific proposals have been made concerning the Bureau aiding in the formation of a new organization made up of these ex-BPP members because their general background would indicate that they would not be conducive to being properly supervised in such an undertaking.

Re San Francisco airtel dated 9/8/69.

By airtel dated 9/15/69, San Francisco requested Bureau authority to anonymously advise landlord of GAIL SPILLARD, who is active in the BPP National Distribution Office, that she was renting an apartment from him under an assumed name. Permission was also requested to forward the landlord anonymously a copy of an article in "The Black Panther" signed by SPILLARD.

This office has continued efforts to determine the best means of advising executor or administrator of ERNEST JORNER concerning BPP bank accounts. JORNER was a young Negro male who was killed in a truck driven by [redacted] The truck is used by the BPP Distribution Office. Review of records of Office of Coroner indicated that an inquest was held in this matter on 9/11/69, and despite the fact that [redacted] did not appear, the Coroner's Jury found, "We find no evidence of criminal responsibility on part of the driver".

This is to recommend attached mass media item be furnished a cooperative news media source in Washington, D. C., on a confidential basis. Item relates that the Black United Front (BUF) has demanded a "tax" of a dollar per demonstrator (or a lump sum of $25,000) be paid by the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (NMC) in order to hold an antiwar demonstration November 15, 1969, in Washington, D. C. NMC officials have rejected this demand.

Publicity about this situation would cause dissension within the BUF, since the rank and file membership are not aware of this BUF demand advanced by [redacted] of the BUF. Publicity about this in Washington, D.C., would also help neutralize this demonstration by alerting potential demonstrators to the possibility of trouble arising at the demonstration. This counterintelligence action would also further the rift between this antiwar group and the black community.

ACTION:

BUF "TAX" ON ANTIWAR RALLY REJECTED

The Black United Front (BUF) has demanded a "tax" of a dollar per demonstrator be paid by the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (NMC) in order to hold an antiwar demonstration November 15, 1969, in Washington, D. C. NMC officials have rejected the demand.

[redacted], chairman of the BUF, presented the demand to NMC with an alternative payment of $25,000 and three printing presses. [redacted] told NMC officials that the demonstrators would think they were in Vietnam themselves, as a result of action by Washington, D. C., "youths" recruited by [redacted] if the demand was not met. The "tax" was levied because [redacted] feels any trouble in connection with the demonstration would reverberate on the black community.

[redacted] was seconded by [redacted] of the BUF who asked NMC leaders whether they wanted the demonstrators to be met "on the highway or in the city?" Fearing for the safety of demonstrators [redacted], Dave Dellinger and [redacted] of the NMC offered $10,000 to BUF even though the NMC is several thousand dollars in debt. The BUF would not negotiate the price.

The NMC and its Washington, D. C., chairman, Abe Bloom, now have decided that [redacted] hasn't got the support of the whole BUF and the NMC will not pay the "head tax" as a matter of principle. The "matter of principle" is in spite of NMC's previous offer to negotiate the price.

Re Bureau letter to San Francisco, 9/12/69.

The building housing the Des Moines Chapter of the BPP in June, 1969, was declared a health hazard by the Des Moines City Health Department and was thereafter abandoned. Telephone service to the Des Moines chapter was terminated at the end of June, 1969. During July, 1969, [redacted] of the Kansas City BPP was in contact with the National Office of the BPP to attempt to reopen the Des Moines BPP Office. [redacted] was recommended by [redacted] to assume leadership role in this organization. [redacted] in August, 1969, advised he had reopened the Des Moines BPP Office, however, informant considers current status of Des Moines BPP to be a "single man operation."

JUNE HILLIARD, Assistant Chief of Staff, National BPP Headquarters, in August, 1969, announced that the Omaha BPP Chapter had been disbanded and its leader, [redacted] expelled from the BPP, however, he announced that the BPP might reestablish a Omaha Chapter at a future date.

In late August, 1969, an organization known as United Front Against Fascism (UFAF) was formed in Omaha and this organization has been described as a replacement for the BPP. The activities of this group are being closely followed.

During the summer months of 1969, the BPP Chapters in Des Moines and Omaha were completely inactive and as a result of this inactivity and the status of the two chapters as indicated above, no positive steps could be taken to exploit the weaknesses of the BPP.

San Francisco has received no information to date indicating the possibility that HUEY P. NEWTON is going to be expelled from the BPP or that ELDRIDGE CLEAVER is disenchanted with BPP leadership and will join a group of ousted members of the BPP to start a new organization.

On the contrary, each weekly issue of "The Black Panther" features both NEWTON and CLEAVER. It does not appear logical that either NEWTON, the head of the BPP, or CLEAVER would be expelled by an anonymous letter. CLEAVER, in recent conversations with BPP Headquarters, has been very cordial and ELBERT HOWARD, Editor of "The Black Panther" was recently in the orient and planning on visiting CLEAVER before his return to the United States.

It is believed that anonymous letters directed to either HUEY P. NEWTON and ELDRIDGE CLEAVER would have no effect while the BPP paper continues to eulogize them each week.

The situation of the Kansas City, Mo. Chapter of the BPP does not lend itself to specific counterintelligence action. Kansas City, Mo. BPP is a small group, consisting of approximately 17 members, and has received little support from the black community. Recent emphasis upon attempting to gain support through the founding of the Bobby Hutton Free Community Health Clinic has resulted in utter frustration. The black community has not utilized the facility and has taken scant notice of its existence. The present drive to re-establish the Children's Breakfast Program has met with indifference by the black community.

The recent disclosure through the public news media by [redacted] that he is a Maoist and Marxist communist has resulted in many moderate black and white sympathizers turning their backs on the group. This disclosure was widespread and no action deemed appropriate by this office.

ST-109 REC-96

The obvious weaknesses of the Kansas City BPP group have been exploited through frequent personal contacts with black citizens and potential Black Panther members in the normal course of business. When agents are interviewing citizens in the black community, interviewees usually ask questions concerning the Black Panthers. Agents have referred these persons to the published article concerning the Black Panthers' communist beliefs and practices. This has resulted in no embarrassment to the Bureau as the statement by [redacted] was widely publicized and available to the community.

Another tactic utilized by the Kansas City Division is through agents assigned to Black Panther matters familiarizing themselves with the "Mao Red Book";and during interviews with suspected and potential members, agents use quotes from this book to show the discrepancies in teachings by the Black Panther leaders. This has tended to degrade Kansas City, Mo. BPP leaders somewhat and may be a partial cause of lost membership in the Kansas City Chapter.

All agents are aware of the necessity for exploiting the weaknesses of the Kansas City, Mo. BPP, and that potential for action in this matter will be aggressively pursued.

[redacted] is a supporter of the Friends of the Panthers and additionally, supplies a great deal of financial support in the BPP. It is felt that any prosecution or exposure of either [redacted] will severly hurt the BPP. Any exposure will not only deny the Panthers money but in addition, would cause other white supporters of the BPP to withdraw their support. It is felt that the Los Angeles chapter of the BPP could not operate without the financial support of white sympathizers.

[redacted] is currently attempting to purchase two machine guns and two passports from an unknown individual. This investigation is being conducted by Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms, Los Angeles, and close liaison is being maintained.

Interviews of local BPP members are being conducted and all local violations reported to the appropriate law enforcement agency. As a result of reports of local violations, the leadership and membership are constantly being arrested. These arrests constitute not only a morale factor but a financial drain on the resources of the BPP. Due to these arrests, the LA-BPP has a serious split in the membership and the leaders of the LA-BPP are unsure as to whose orders to follow.

Referenced Los Angeles letter to Bureau requested Bureau authority to mail a copy of an item entitled "Report on Background and Activities of Ron Karenga" to RON KARENGA, head of the US organization. It is felt that when KARENGA knows that the BPP has this item in their possession, the gap between the US organization and the BPP will widen.

ReBulet to SF 9/12/69, and Bulet to SF 7/11/69.

Exploiting the weaknesses of the Black Panther Party (BPP) in the Indianapolis Division has been done in several ways since receipt of referenced Bureau letter 7/11/69. Some of the weaknesses exploited include: (1) financial, (2) suspicion of one member for another, and (3) exposing BPP programs.

The first weakness of the BPP was that of financial, which was dealt with in several ways. The BPP in Indianapolis has always had financial problems, and has been continually low or overdrawn in their bank account which has been monitored by the Indianapolis Office. Since it was determined the BPP did have financial problems, it was learned the BPP owed the Indiana Bell Telephone Company for several months of telephone service, and Indiana Bell was encouraged to remove the service from BPP Headquarters. The service was in fact cut off at BPP Headquarters on or about 9/15/69.

In addition, the BPP has been receiving their office space rent free, but are now faced with relocating as the owner of the building is selling the property. The owner, who is selling, has been encouraged to move the BPP out as soon as possible and without funds, the BPP has been unable to locate another site for their headquarters, and will be put out of their present headquarters any day.

Other weaknesses that have been capitalized on include interviews of members wherein jealousy among the members has been stimulated and at the same time has caused a number of persons to fall under suspicion and be purged from the Party. Along with interviewing these members, [redacted] in Indianapolis, was finally interviewed in August 1969, after many previous attempts had failed. After several contacts, [redacted] advised he desired to purge himself of the charge of contempt of court against him in San Francisco, California, and that [redacted] is holding a press conference on 9/23/69 and renouncing the BPP and resigning as [redacted] in Indianapolis. His leaving the BPP has taken a number of members with him who had been considering leaving, but were staying because he was staying. As a result of his leaving the BPP is faced with losing their leader and a number of members, having to locate a new headquarters and obtain funds by some means. [redacted]

The BPP in Indianapolis also attempted to start a Breakfast for School Children Program and anonymous mailings were made to ministers of churches in the area of the BPP Headquarters, and they were not allowed to establish a program in that area. They did go to the other side of town and in conjunction with several other organizations, set up a breakfast program; however, the individual with whom they obtained the facilities was contacted by the Indianapolis Office, and he in turn, did not let the BPP put up any photos or posters and did not let the BPP talk to the children about the BPP program or teach hate. As a result the BPP soon dropped out of the program and left it with the other organizations to operate.

The BPP in Indianapolis is now in a precarious position in a struggle for existence and their new Chairman is a former BPP member who was purged and now has been asked to come back by the remaining few members. [redacted], the former Chairman, advises that the BPP National Headquarters will most likely not approve their choice as Chairman, and someone will be sent from National Headquarters to run the Chapter. If National Headquarters does not send someone, [redacted] advises the Chapter is likely to fold in Indianapolis in the near future.

ReBUlets to San Francisco, July 11 and September 12, 1969.

BPP activities in the Seattle Division have been almost non-existent during the summer months of 1969. The Seattle BPP Chapter is currently involved in a power struggle amid the leadership and, in addition, has given indications of promoting future programs along political lines rather than continuing the more violent confrontation-type tactics. At this time, the Seattle BPP Chapter attracts very few members to regular meetings and is having considerable difficulty financing even the most modest political programs. In addition, the Negro population of Seattle has rejected BPP programs but has supported the more legitimate demands of other non-militant Negro groups.

Since reBUlet of July 11, 1969, Seattle BPP members through their own mis-calculations and ineptness have almost removed this group as a problem in the State of Washington.

At this time it would not appear logical to promote the formation of any group composed of ex-BPP members in the State of Washington. The Seattle Division will continue to follow this situation closely and will immediately advise the Bureau of any COINTEL potential arising from this situation.

Referenced airtel indicated the Black United Front in making reparation demands from churches were making their demands so exorbitant that the churches could not possibly make the payments. [redacted] of the Black United Front, admitted these demands were political in nature to show religious institutions were racist in nature. WFO suggested that a carefully worded news release following a confrontation by this group with a church would tend to embarrass Reverend Moore and the Black United Front.

Re WFO airtel and LHM dated 9/18/69, captioned "BLACK UNITED FRONT (BUF), RM".

In view of the remarks of the [redacted] at the BUF meeting held Wednesday evening, 9/17/69, at the Douglas Memorial Methodist Church, wherein he admitted that the current campaign being waged by the BUF in demanding reparations was political in nature, in order to show that religious institutions were racist in nature and that the BUF would make exorbitant demands which the churches could not possibly meet in order to prove this point, WFO is of the opinion that the Bureau can profit from these statements by showing the true nature and character of the BUF.

WFO is of the opinion that a carefully prepared and properly worded news release passed out to reporters or columnists known to be friendly to the Bureau could result in acute embarrassment to both [redacted] and the BUF.

In this connection the news release should be timed for release following a BUF confrontation with a church group.

FASCIST PIGS DENY FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

This Capitalist System has corrupted the minds of the poor and oppressed people of the world. The Black Panther Community News Service, recognizes that misinformation is the raw material for funny ideas.

On the morning of August 1, 1969, many Panthers left the San Francisco Branch of the Black Panther Party to go into the streets to inform the masses of the fascist conditions that exist in this decadent American society.

In the early morning hours, the San Francisco Bus Terminal is a central location for city workers. We proceeded to this location, along with four other Panthers with papers . On arrival we split up into different areas. We stationed ourselves at the two doors through which the workers pass, for arrival and departure of buses. We sold papers there for about one hour. The workers were steadily buying papers. The fascist State pig saw this and ordered us to move. We went down to the sidewalk where another brother was selling papers, off of the so-called State Property. We sold papers and educated the workers there for one hour.

Brother Harold Holmes had to return early in order to teach the young minds of the revolutionary brothers and sisters, at the San Francisco Liberation School, which is located at 1642 Ellis St. In the Fillmore District. We also wanted to return to continue to sell the remainder of our papers on Sutter & Fillmore. We walked up to where we could catch the bus back. when we saw two brothers from Vietnam, also waiting of the bus. Naturally they wanted a paper, and were interested in hearing about the Black Panther Party. Harold gave them a paper and told them that the war they had fought was an uniust war, and now they have to join a just war.

At that time the Fascist State Pig came out and told us to come down to his office. We asked him for a reason and he gave none. We then informed him of our Constitutional Rights, as he didn't appear to know them. Ignoring this, he grabbed Harold by the back of his jacket and pushed him into the Terminal. He also grabbed Gail's arm and pushed her into the terminal with the attempt to get us downstairs. On our way downstairs the two soldiers and a bus driver followed us down. The three brothers questioned the pig, which is their Constitutional Right, as to why and where he was taking us. He told them to shut up and to get out or he would arrest them. Recognizing that his oink was invalid, they continued to follow us to the Pig's office. As we proceeded to the Pig's office, a pregnant sister saw the harassment by the pig and took interest.

In the office, Pig Montgomery, asked us for our I D. We had none. He then told us we were under arrest for non-possession of identification. He asked for our names. We told him. He asked for our address. We told him. He asked if it was an apartment or a residence. We told him that we took "five". The fool pig thought it was the apartment number, showing that he didn't know the fifth amendment. He still continued to ask and harass us about further information. We kept telling him we took the fifth amendment. He told us he didn't want to hear that "five" bit . The sergeant pig came in and checked on the address and said, "That's the Black Panther Office". That's when further harassment was shown. When they took us to the back of the office, Harold tried to give the sister, standing in the doorway, the papers so the pig wouldn't get them because, they take them and don't give them back. The pig snatched the papers out of the sister's hands and then told us to go in the back. Montgomery searched Harold like a freak and then threw him into the cell. Then pig Montgomery told us to take off our coats. He searched them also.

The pig sargeant, then called down to City Prison and said, "We got some Black Panthers down here." When the pigs came down there with the pig wagon, Montgomery told them our charge was 647-E. Gail heard them say, in reference to Panthers. "Oh' yeah, they're some smart bastards. Pig 1106 then came to handcuff Gail &

Sharla together. He asked pig Montgomery if Sharla was a girl or a boy. Sharla has a large natural, was wearing large earrings, and her measurements are 36-23-38 so you can see the harassment right there. Pig 213 then handcuffed Harold. We could see that the handcuffs hurt by the expressions on Harold's face. They put all three of us into the pig wagon en route to city prison on Bryant St.

After we had arrived in the basement of the pig pen, pigs 213 and 1106 asked each other for the rubber hose. They also commented on Eldridge and asked when he would be back. We went up to the floor on which they booked us and put us in jail. As they were booking us the typist asked what we were charged with. Pig 1106 said it was either 647–E, or 647–C. He also said that it didn't matter because they could add a couple of more charges onto that. They took our finger prints and mugshots and put us in the tank with about 20 other sisters. Harold was confined for further abuse by the pigs for not having his draft card with him.

The pig, Montgomery, told us we had been charged with non-posession of identification. Not until we reached the bail bondsman's did we find out what 647–E. was. It wasn't for non-posession of identification it was for loitering.

Chairman Mao says that it is good if we are attacked by the enemy, since it proves that we have drawn a clear line of demarcation between the enemy and ourselves. It is still better if the enemy attacks us wildly and paints us as utterly black and without a single virtue; it demonstrates that we have not only drawn a clear line of demarcation between the enemy and ourselves but acheived a great deal in our work.

The Black Panther Newspaper is the most vital tool for organizing the masses. Right on!

Attached is a letter authorizing the New York Office to mail an anonymous communication, purportedly from the father of a black extremist, to a leader of a Jewish group called the "Jewish Defense League" (JEDEL). This communication seeks to establish a relationship between the sender and JEDEL for the purpose of furnishing JEDEL with instances in anti-Semitism by the Black Panther Party (BPP) and other extremist groups.

JEDEL is a Jewish vigilante-type organization formed and operated in New York City. Its aims and purposes are to protect Jewish people from all sorts of anti-Semitism. At this time its aims and purposes are not of an illegal nature and apparently not political. The Black Panther Party, as well as other extremist groups are anti-Semitic in nature. Many instances of anti-Semitism by the BPP have been noted. This information, when placed in the hands of JEDEL, could easily operate against the best interest of the BPP with resultant disruption.

JEDEL is apparently financially well-off and has access to newspaper coverage. It is our intent to create a fictitious source of information who will furnish public source data to Rabbi Meir Kahane, a director of JEDEL. It is expected that the information will ultimately be published and cause embarrassment to the BPP and other extremist groups.

New York has proposed the mailing of an anonymous letter from a pro-Jewish Negro father of a BPP member. The letter is addressed to Rabbi Kahane and professes sympathy and friendship for the Jews and criticism of the BPP. It leaves the way open for additional communications.

Re Omaha letter to Bureau, 9/8/69.

As noted in referenced letter, the Omaha Chapter of the BPP was disbanded in August, 1969, and there were indications that the BPP might at a future date attempt to reactivate this chapter. Since that time, an organization known as United Front Against Fascism (UFAF) was formed in Omaha and the leader of this organization, [redacted] announced the UFAF was replacing the Omaha BPP and would work closely with the Kansas City BPP.

Concerning the Des Moines, Iowa, chapter of the BPP, [redacted] of this organization since its inception in the Summer of 1968, recently announced that he had secured new office space for the Des Moines Chapter and was in the process of reorganizing the chapter.

In view of the above information, Omaha does not feel that concrete recommendations can be made at this time re counterintelligence measures aimed at crippling the BPP or the newly formed UFAF.

This matter will continue to receive close attention and suggestions for counterintelligence action against the above organizations and its leadership will be submitted by separate communications.

On 8-21-69 and 8-31-69, joint rallies were held in Boston by the Black Panther Party (BPP) and the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), with the SDS, according to leaflets, being the organizing group. The themes of the rallies, however, was in defense of the BPP and denounced arrests of BPP members throughout the U. S. Both SDS and BPP speakers appeared at each rally. Mutual support and cooperation between the two groups appeared to exist and according to informants, is continuing.

Fines and money for bond has without question placed the Boston BPP in serious financial trouble. Since August, 1969, Boston Panther members have been involved in five separate arrests by FBI (New Haven) and Boston Police Department (Boston airtel and LHM to Bureau 9-19-69 BPP caption). According to [redacted], BPP rent has not been paid since June, 1969.

Boston informants advise that as yet, no evidence of an Ex-Panther organization in Boston has appeared and that former BPP members who were "purged" in May, 1969, are not seen with, and have no association with the current membership. This is to advise of the success of a recent anonymous mailing made in Detroit, Michigan, and aimed toward causing disruption amongst the leadership of the Black Panther Party (BPP).

In an effort to neutralize the activities of the notorious BPP, an ever increasing counterintelligence effort has been waged. In line with this program and, by letter dated 9/15/69, the Detroit Office was authorized to mail an anonymous letter to selected Detroit BPP leaders and members. The letter was signed "A Concerned Sister" and raised the proposition that the death of BPP member Michael Baynahm was not by suicide but in reality a murder arranged for by national BPP headquarters. Baynahm was found dead several weeks ago. Police investigation resulted in a determination that he had committed suicide. BPP in Detroit has been concerned over his death and nervous in view of recent Panther murders throughout the country. In view of this and in order to disrupt this group, authority was given Detroit to mail this communication so that suspicion might be thrown on a female member.

Detroit has advised that this letter is causing considerable consternation, both in Detroit and with national BPP leaders. Two women are suspected and national headquarters ordered members to stay away from one of these persons inasmuch as she was "probably a police informant." We will continue to wage effective counterintelligence operations against this organization.

Re Bulet to San Francisco, 9/12/69.

The self-styled Black Panther Party (BPP) group at Portland is not recognized by National Headquarters, BPP. This group is essentially inactive and the current leader, [redacted], is currently on $25,000 bond awaiting local prosecution on charge of rioting and inciting to riot.

The BPP group at Eugene, Oregon, composed primarily of University of Oregon students has been inactive during the summer months and has been torn with internal factionalism. The captain of this group, [redacted], has two local felony charges and one misdemeanor charge now pending against him which hopefully will put him out of circulation in the near future.

A recent shooting incident in which [redacted], Eugene BPP Field Lieutenant, was seriously wounded will undoubtedly further disrupt the Eugene group.

In view of these developments no positive steps have been taken to exploit the weaknesses of the BPP; however, developments at Eugene are being followed to determine if the BPP group re-organizes with the start of the current school year.

No positive counterintelligence measure has been devised by this office since receipt of Bulet dated 7/11/69.

Informants have provided no information to indicate that the BPP members in this division have been made aware of the organization's liaison with white groups or the efforts of some ex-BPP members to form a new party. Consequently, no logical counterintelligence measure which could exploit these weaknesses has been devised.

Informants advise that the two BPP chapters in this division, Sacramento and Vallejo, have sunk to such a low level of membership and activity that they are concerned with this matter and their own problem of survival. This matter has been and will continue to be followed closely and logical counterintdligence proposals which can exploit local BPP weaknesses will be presented for the Bureau's approval.

This division has ex-BPP members, many of whom were leaders, who could be used as scape goats in a counterintelligence measure based on allegations of an attempt to organize a new party. However, until reports of such a party are received from some source other than an anonymous mailing, it is not believed it will be credible.

ReBulet to San Francisco 9/12/69.

Since Bureau letter to San Francisco dated 7/11/69, counterintelligence activity by Newark has consisted of anonymous mailings and interviews of BPP members.

Newark believes that interviews, particularly those of rank and file members, have been very effective and contributed to the decline in BPP activity.

Counterintelligence targets have dwindled in the Newark Division as the BPP has declined to one small chapter in Jersey City, N.J. The average attendance at meetings of this chapter currently averages 7 to 9 members.

There is no indication that this one remaining chapter in New Jersey is seeking any working alliance with any white organizations.

In regard to the possible formation of any new organization comprised of former BPP members, Newark would propose a continuation of counterintelligence activity similar to that used with apparent success against the BPP, namely anonymous mailings and an aggressive interview program.

RePDlet 9/22/69.

The comments of the Portland Office as set forth in referenced letter are appreciated and well-founded. Portland should review pertinent files and submit a specific counterintelligence proposal concerning the anonymous mailing of "Guardian" articles. If successful, consideration will be given for utilizing this type of proposal in other offices.

NOTE:

Portland has suggested that reprints of articles appearing in the "Guardian" be anonymously mailed to both members of the BPP and members of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). These articles point out recent splits between the SDS and the BPP at a leadership level. Portland believes that these articles would spread the news of these splits to rank-and-file members of these groups. We are calling for a specific proposal as to mailing in the Portland area.

Re Portland letter to Director, 9/2/69.

Background

The "Guardian" dated 8/16/69, carried an article captioned "Panther Leaders Blast SDS." According to article Black Panther Party (BPP) chairman BOBBY SEALE and Chief of Staff DAVID HILLIARD have characterized SDS as fascist organization.

It is noted that some SDS members in Oregon have subscribed to the BPP official publication, "The Black Panther," and have made financial contributions to the BPP.

Suggestion

It is suggested that reprints of the "Guardian" article be obtained to be mailed anonymously to SDS members many of whom are probably unaware of current dispute between SDS and BPP on leadership level over SDS refusal to endorse all aspects of a nation-wide petition campaign for community control of local police departments. It is proposed that each reprint carry an additional message such as "Don't support Black Panthers by financial contributions and don't support their anti-white publication "The Black Panther." If you now receive "The Black Panther" you are urged to cancel your subscription."

Effect

Parts Mailing of the article would let SDS members in all ~~states~~ of the country know that BPP leadership has described SDS as fascists and would serve to inform SDS members that there is a split between SDS and BPP at leadership level. Such a mailing could have an affect of ReBulets to San Francisco, 7/11/69 and 9/12/69.

Since referenced letter dated 7/11/69, the NYO has taken the following steps to exploit the weakness of the BPP:

In the later part of August, 1969, an official of the Roman Catholic Church in New York City was advised of the BPP sponsorship of a "Breakfast for Children Program" held in a Roman Catholic Church in the Harlem, New York City area.

This program was promptly discontinued on 8/29/69, according to [redacted] who has furnished reliable information in the past.

Since July, 1969, a confidential source of the NYO has been attempting to determine if any members of the BPP have been or are at present receiving welfare benefits from the City or State of New York. Such information could be used to show the dependence of individual BPP members on the "facilities of the establishment" and, therefore, be exploited in a Counterintelligence measure directed towards a weakness within the BPP as a group.

During July and August, 1969, various leaflets authorized under the COINTELPRO - New Left (Bufile 100-449698) (NYfile 100-163303) were directed at selected BPP members and other Black Militants within the New York City area.

The leaflets graphically depict white members of Students for a Democratic Society and the Third World Revolution among others, in a position exploiting the Black Man and his organizations.

In regards to the Bureau's request that specific proposals concerning the formation of a "new organization made up of ex-BPP members" be submitted for consideration and approval, the following is submitted:

It has been the experience of the NYO through the continuing investigation of the BPP that the average length of time of membership of any one individual in the BPP has been relatively short. Therefore, the NYO has acquired background data and other information on at least 50 individuals who are former members of the BPP even though they were members for a limited period.

It is suggested that some of the above individuals be sent a letter from the "Ad Hoc Committee of Back to Black". This committee would claim that due to the BPP's preoccupation with the teachings of MAO TSE TUNG, CHE GUEVRA, and HERBERT MARCUSE, a Chinaman, and two whitemen, as well as a new found interest in fighting Fascism with the help of white students, that it, the BPP, no longer represents the aspirations and desires of Black people but has been taken over by the white man of his own interests.

The letterhead of the "Ad Hoc Committee" would include the names of present and ex-members of the BPP from the various BPP chapters around the country and would utilize as an address a Post Office Box at an appropriately located city within the United States.

It is felt that the above proposal would have some disruptive effect on the BPP in its activities in the New York City area even if limited to causing a denial of authenticity of the "Ad Hoc Committee of Back to Black" by current or ex-BPP members.

CONFIDENTIAL

REPORT ON BACKGROUND AND ACTIVITIES OF RON KARENGA

First substantiated knowledge of Ron Karenga (real name Ron Everett) begins when he is a student at Los Angeles City College. He is a very successful student and first black President of the Student Body. At this stage of his development he is torn between the Nation of Islam or the followers of Elijah Mohammed, the philosophy and movement of Malcolm X and is considering the possibility of patterning a local black nationalist organization in Los Angeles after the Afro-American Association led by Donald Warden in Oakland, California.

Upon completion of an Afro-American degree at L.A. City College, Karenga enrolled at UCLA where he earned a degree in political science, graduating cum laude. He then completed his masters degree at UCLA, also in political science, again graduating with honors. Upon graduation from UCLA, in an organizational sense Karenga became involved in what was known as the Afro-American Association which was a take-off of the Oakland operation of Donald Warden as opposed to a more orthodox approach such as the Muslims or the one advocated by Malcolm X. From the outset the Afro-American Association was split between other members of the organization and Karenga, based upon Karenga's egotism and his -- as described by one participant in that operation -- "dictatorial attitude." Key people in the Afro-American Association in addition to Karenga were:

Hakim Jamal, a first cousin to Betty Schabazz, wife of Malcolm X. Jamal eventually broke off from the Afro-American Association and formed his own Malcolm X Foundation.

John Floyd, who in the year 1967 was the head of a Black Panther political party which was not a part of the known Black Panther party. Floyd, who is an accredited teacher, left that operation to take a teaching position at Westminster Neighborhood Association, a poverty program in the Watts area. Floyd left that operation to become active in the Black Congress and edited their newspaper, "The Black Voice."

Robert Williams (known as Robaire) who has been and was the leading exponent of leftist philosophy within the Afro-American Association. Robaire Williams broke away from the Afro-American Association and formed his own leftist organization. On Thanksgiving Day of 1967, when Harry Edwards was organizing the Olympic boycott in Los Angeles, there was a bloody encounter between the followers of Robaire and Karenga. Several people were shot at that time. Robaire is alleged to have been caught by his membership molesting an eight-year-old child and is alleged to have been beaten severely by his own men and chased from the City of Los Angeles.

Ayuko Babu (real name Anthony Ashley). Babu was also on the staff of Westminster Neighborhood Association in Watts as a street worker. He left that assignment and became a field organizer in Los Angeles for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee. Following the collapse of SNCC, Babu enrolled at Cal State, Los Angeles as a pre-law student. He is now enrolled in a special law program at UCLA and was involved directly with the student movement at UCLA without becoming involved in the power conflict between US and the Black Panthers. Babu recently went to Cuba and was expelled from the country along with several Black Panthers who were expelled from the country. Babu disclaims any working relationship with the Panthers and any direct involvement with those Panthers that just coincidentally, he says, were involved in the same flight to Cuba. Babu is believed by the Los Angeles Police Department to have been an eyewitness to the shootings as UCLA. However, he disclaims this.

Tut Hayes, background and origins unknown. He was a functioning member of the Afro-American Association and still claims membership in that organization, was very active in the Black Congress, often challenging Karenga's position in that organization. Hayes is never seen without one or sometimes two or three walkie-talkies, tape recorders and other types of communicating devices. It is strongly believed by many that he is a direct link with the Los Angeles Police Department. While developing the Afro-American Association as an organizational front, vocationally Karenga was employed by the Los Angeles City schools as a teacher. The Watts riots of 1965 proved to be the disintegrating factor of the Afro-American Association as the organization broke up with great bitterness and great animosity over discussions of such matters as who would be the one spokesman for militancy before TV cameras and to the press, whether all of the members were free to make whatever statements they wanted to make, and other matters of that general nature. Again, it was a matter of Karenga feeling, according to discussions with people of the old Afro-American Alliance, that he should be the spokesman for the group. In October of 1965 the group officially folded and Karenga started his US organization. He was still on the payroll of the city schools. Originally he experienced great difficulty in the Watts area as the parochial groups in Watts felt that he was not within the Watts community and could not speak for Watts.

At this time -- and this is in the fall of 1965 and the spring of 1966 -- an organization called the Temporary Alliance of Local Organizations (TALO) was formed by the militant and moderate civil rights groups to face some of the problems of the black community. After a very brief and non-productive history, TALO disintegrated.

About this time Walter Bremond, who was ultimately to become the head of the Black Congress, came into Los Angeles with what was known as the Social Action Center (not related to the USC Center for Social Action). Funds for the Social Action Center were provided by the organized church structure. Karenga was one of the first consultants hired by the Social Action Center. This was the beginning of the relationship between Karenga and Bremond. The Social Action Center was an attempt to organize the black community somewhat along the principles advocated by Saul Alinsky Sol Levensky. The Social Action Center lasted for approximately one year and upon failure of the Social Action Center the Black Congress was formed.

Karenga and Walter Bremond were the chief organizers of the Black Congress with Karenga playing a behind-the-scenes role and pushing Bremond to the forefront. The Black Congress advocated the principle of operational unity. Operational unity was a concept whereby the militant and moderate organizations were supposed to arbitrate their differences and form a united front in the black community. The roster of the organization did involve groups from all points on the spectrum; however, at times of crisis or confrontation the group usually assumed a militant posture. It is interesting to point out that the lease on the Black Congress building, which is a sizable piece of real estate in South Central Los Angeles, is in the name of Ron Karenga and US organization. The Black Congress, from its inception to the death of Martin Luther King, was a limited group speaking only to itself -- with a functional group basically composed of activists who were in the covenant and would just go from one activity to another. However, following the death of Dr. King the Black Congress was given credit for keeping Los Angeles cool.

At this point media took a particular interest in the Black Congress and they were immediately projected as a viable and effective organization. Again, in August of last year following the Watts Festival where there was encounter between the community and the police department, the Black Congress was given credit for containing the magnitude of what happened in the following days. At this point moneys and other resources from the outside community began to pour into the Black Congress. Walter Bremond was projected as the head of the Black Congress. However, it was widely known that Ron Karenga was really the controlling factor.

In the fall of last year, which would be 1968, the Black Panther Party withdraw from the Black Congress. The reason given was that the Black Congress was showing favoritism to Ron Karenga and to US and that resources made available to the Congress were distributed according to the two-man dictate of Walter Bremond and Ron Karenga. It is at this point of resignation that the original friction between the Black Panther Party and US organization became a matter of public discussion. It is at this time also that community observers predicted an imminent shoot-out between the two groups. In the meantime Karenga had developed a high acceptability among many segments of the community. He was suddenly placed on various boards -- the California State Assembly Advisory Committee on Urban Affairs, the Community Advisory Group for the BSU at UCLA, Advisory Board of one of the preliminary groups of the Urban Coalition. He was widely used as a paid consultant on minority problems, not only in Southern California but throughout the country. He also developed a working relationship with U.S. Congressman Augustus Hawkins, who is the only black congressman west of the Mississippi.

A key project entered into with Hawkins is called UJIMA Village, a proposed shopping center and living complex to be built in South Central Los Angeles. The name UJIMA -- which is a Swahili word crudely translated meaning togetherness -- was object to a very intense confrontation between Karenga's forces and more conservative lay members of the community. Congressman Hawkins sided with Karenga and influenced the neighborhood groups to accept the name UJIMA. Walter Bremond was also a member of this advisory group for UJIMA. Another prominent figure in this group and in other groups involved with community projects is Dr. Alfred Cannon, a psychologist at UCLA and a friend of Karenga's.

The Black Panther Party came into Los Angeles approximately the summer of 1966. Immediately upon the Panthers' setting up an operation in Los Angeles there was a competition between the Panthers and US organization for the black student unions at the high school and college levels and among organized youth groups. Prior to the coming of the Panthers, US organization was the one major group dealing with the youth groups and with the BSU's. There had been minor but insignificant efforts put forth by Robert Williams (Robaire) noted previously in this report as a founding member of the Afro-American Association and also noted to have had a shoot-out with Karenga on Thanksgiving of 1967.

When the Panthers came to Los Angeles, this was the first real competition that Karenga's organization had at the high school, college and youth group level. Karenga, however -- in a comment to one of the officials of the Black Panthers -- noted at the time that the Black Panthers joined the organization that they could never establish a power base in Los Angeles because this was "his country." However, step by step the Black Panther Party gained members in the Los Angeles community and by virtue of having members who were actually students enrolled on college campuses began to exert very strong influence with the BSU's. Noting this, early in 1968 Karenga began to hype his people into the EOP Program and other programs like the High Potential Program at UCLA. Congressman Hawkins' office, Dr. Al Cannon, Walter Brenond and the name and image of the Black Congress were used to help get members of Karenga's organization enrolled on the various college campuses.

In the early summer of 1968 SNCC withdrew from the Black Congress and got its own office space and office staff. The Black Student Alliance, which is a council of representatives of all BSU's in Southern California, also withdrew from the Black Congress. It was assumed at this time by many observers -- and I would put myself in that category -- that the student movement had taken a very strong pro-Panther position and that the student movement not only had made a choice between the Panthers and US but had also developed extreme bitterness and hostility toward Ron Karenga. This is illustrated by Professor Harry Truly, who at that time was a professor at Cal State, L.A., who had been instrumental in establishing the Black Studies Program at Cal State, in developing the whole concept of black student unions in Southern California and who was the head of the Black Student Alliance. At the point of the Black Student Alliance resigning from the Black Congress, Truly publicly denounced Karenga and began a strong association with Eldridge Cleaver and the Black Panther Party in Oakland. Truly subsequently resigned from Cal State Los Angeles as a professor and went to teach at Claremont College in nearby Pomona. It is strongly rumored that Karenga's organization had threatened Truly's life and that he left the city apparently for his own safety. Just a few weeks ago before giving final examinations at Claremont College -- which was incidentally around the time of the slayings at UCLA -- Truly walked off the campus of Claremont College and his whereabouts are alleged to be unknown.

A first example of the effects of the split is a situation I was directly involved in. Following the incident at Valley State College, I organized a community meeting to allow the students of Valley State College, which is in the San Fernando Valley and far removed from Central City Los Angeles, to inform the community of the situation and problems at Valley State. I financed this rally and made all the arrangements. However, I had an agreement with the Black Students Union of Valley State College that I would not interfere with the program content of their rally, nor the personalities to be involved.

The rally was held at the Pasla Auditorium. It was held the Friday after Thanksgiving. I utilized the ressources of the Los Angeles Sentinel newspaper and Radio Station KFJ to develop an audience for this affair. Very early in the evening of the rally I realized that a situation of confrontation was evident. Black Panthers were there in large numbers selling Black Panther newspapers and distributing literature of the Black Panther organization. It was quite obvious to me that there was a congenial relationship between the students of the colleges and universities and the Black Panther Party. All of the speakers on the program were pro-Panther in their orientations with one exception. That exception was Ayuko Babu, also mentioned earlier in this report as a co-founder with Karenga of the Afro-American Association and who recently was expelled from Cuba. Babu's position was a position of neutrality whereby he was appealing for unity among all the brothers in the movement. There was a lot of misunderstanding on the part of some present as to what Babu was speaking of when he was speaking of the need for unity. It is apparent now that with his involvement he was more aware of the pending crisis than many of the observers in the community. Now, approximately ten minutes before the program was to start a contingent of approximately 35 of Karenga's people arrived in the auditorium en masse. There were both male and female in the group. There were groans and other expressions of disfavor from people in the audience upon their arrival. I was then approached by Karenga's organization to use my influence to get them a speaker on the program. I held to my position of non-interference. Karenga's people then assigned one monitor to stay at the meeting and the rest of his people left. That monitor assigned to monitor this meeting was Claude Hubert, who is alleged -- according to Grand Jury indictment -- to be the trigger man in the UCLA slayings.

The next real indication of a brewing confrontation between the Black Panther party and US occurred approximately three weeks prior to the UCLA slayings. At that time a rally was held at South Park to raise funds through the Black Student Alliance for college students arrested in various campus confrontations. At that particular time some six Los Angeles area colleges were involved in confrontations between BSU's and college administration. Again, I had personal involvement in this matter by using Radio Station KGFJ to build up an audience for this rally. Coincidentally, my residence is directly across the street from South Park and throughout the morning of the rally Karenga's organization was observed scouting the area. Upon the beginning of the program at South Park where representatives of the BSU's in confrontation were speaking, again the flavor was pro-Panther.

Having observed Karenga's organization scouting the Park throughout the morning, it was very strange to me that at the beginning of the program none of his people were present. However, soon after the program began, his members began to drift in two and three at a time. It is necessary to clear up that South Park has an open speaking forum with an open-air stage and seating arranged in a fan shape from that stage. The Park seats approximately 700 people and all the seats were filled; there was a sizable standing room audience. As Karenga's people began to come in one by one, they spread themselves in a semi-circle surrounding the outer perimeter of the seats. Normally Karnga's organization wears what is called the buba as the top outer garment. On this particular day each of his members had on coats over their bubas and it was assumed by most that they were armed on this occasion. Upon the appearance of approximately 20 of Karenga's men, Al Prentice "Bunchy" Carter, one of the slain Panthers, called a conference of about eight of the top lieutenants of the Panther Party, including John Huggins, the other slain Panther, and Sherwont Banks, Southern California head of the Panther Party. Following this conference, Black Panther members were dispatched around members of US organization. Several people at this point began to leave the Park. However, no incident occurred.

The next knowledge of anything involving the Panthers and US that is known is the Wednesday before the shooting at UCLA, at which time it was noted that Karenga was booed off the campus of UCLA and told by the students that he did not represent their interests. Following that Wednesday night, a top-scale secret meeting was held by Karenga's organization in the Black Congress building. An unusually heavy guard was posted around the building and all members of the Black Congress not members of US organization were asked to leave the building. The following Friday the incident occurred at UCLA. One bit of information presented to the Los Angeles Grand Jury and substantially verified by myself is that one of the statements that led to the indictment was by a student of UCLA, who told the Grand Jury of hearing a representative of Karenga's organization state on the Wednesday prior to the shooting: "If something goes down at UCLA, we are going to have to off Bunchy."

Now the slaying at UCLA points up a very serious breach between Karenga's stated philosophy and his actual activities. It is known and substantiated by Los Angeles Police Department intelligence reports that Karenga transports his sinbas and others to a shooting range in Palmdale, California, twice weekly. The Stiner brothers and Claude Hubert, the alleged trigger men, are known to be the top marksmen of the US organization. Karenga also has his men go through extensive judo training and karate training. It is known and conceded that Karenga's men are always armed, and there is no record of any of his men ever being picked up on a concealed weapons charge.

An incident which occurred in Newark, New Jersey, told to me by Louis Lomax, has it that while Karenga and a group of ten of his members were in a motel in Newark, New Jersey, the cleaning maid found guns in the motel room and called the Newark police. A call from Newark to Chief of Police Tom Reddin in Los Angeles simply produced a statement by Reddin that he was aware that the group was armed and to leave them alone. Following the shooting at UCLA and during the Grand Jury investigation which led to the indictment of five US members, there was a confrontation outside the courtroom between approximately ten members of US and four members of the Black Panther Party. The US members threatened the Black Panther members and backed them against the wall through a series of karate-type moves. At the point that the Panthers began to defend themselves, the Los Angeles Police Department -- which had been witnessing the whole situation -- stepped in and threatened to arrest the members of the Black Panther Party for disturbing the peace. The Black Panther Party is of the opinion that US organization has the protection of the police and that the police are using US organization to provoke the Panthers into a move so that the Police Department can wipe out the Black Panther movement in Los Angeles. The Panthers point out that to date no weapons have been seized from US organization, though US is carrying weapons around daily.

There is a number of alleged beatings of Black Panthers by US members since the UCLA shooting. Raymond Hewitt, alias Masai, who was a member of Robaire's organization, noted earlier in this report and wounded in the Thanksgiving shoot-out, also earlier reported here, who is now a top official in the Black Panther Party of Southern California due to the deaths of Carter and Huggins, was assaulted on last Tuesday by four members of US organization. Los Angeles Police Department ambulance service refused to take him to the hospital, saying that he was not sufficiently injured and he should see a private physician. The Black Alumni Association of UCLA has issued a public statement asking for more police protection for black students on UCLA campus from intimidation by US organization.

US organization, at that point, has little community support. In fact, Karenga had developed a sizable following in the community by virtue of his intellectualizing of black awareness. However, many people in the community saw Karenga as a peaceful intellectual militant. This situation has changed. It is very doubtful at this time that Karenga will be able to function effectively in the town again. This opinion is based upon conversation with activists in the movement, leaders of 13 BSU's in Southern California and with the guys in the streets -- meaning the hustlers, the ex-convicts, some of the street gangs and others. It should be noted here that Al Prentice "Bunchy" Carter was a 16-time loser and whereas the Police Department is considering the possibility of retaliation on the part of the Black Panther Party, their great fear is the street element would make moves to advance Carter's death. For that reason there is a fear that Karenga's life is in jeopardy and in danger in the City of Los Angeles.

At this point it is estimated that Karenga's membership is actually around 100. There are, however, others who are not members of US organization but who are influenced in a programmatic way by the teachings of Karenga and the rituals of the organization. About one-third of these 100 people are female members of the organization indoctrinated to be docile and submissive. Approximately 40 of these are simbas or young lions. The organization holds Sunday meetings known as soul sessions. They also have weekly meetings known as advocacy, at which time their beliefs in the doctrines and rituals of US organization are reinforced. Earlier in the development of the organization rituals were highly cultic, but lately the organization has taken on many of the characteristics of the black church and added rock and roll music and other social patterns of the black community. The organization uses the publication called "The Quotable Karenga" as the textbook of its ideology.

Karenga has led many members of his organization into community organizations, businesses and political campaigns. To do this he has abandoned the custom of having all of his men wear bald heads. They are not forced to wear bubas at all times now. The ladies in his organization are not asked to wear traditional African garb and in fact are now allowed to wear miniskirts and dress fashionably. Karenga's mode of operation is one of taking the high road verbally, speaking of peace and cultural nationalism. However, while saying this, his organization is paramilitary in nature and is known to deal in intimidation and physical assault.

It is strongly believed that Karenga is on the payroll of Mayor Sam Yorty and it is to be noted that Mayor Yorty issued a major proclamation recently alleging a communist conspiracy in the colleges and in the black community in terms of the black movement. The statement was released on a Thursday. On the Sunday prior to that release Karenga held a major lecture at the Black Congress building entitled "The Red Book -- Its Relevance or Irrelevancy." The content of that lecture was highly synonymous with the content of the Yorty report. Karenga has developed the technique now of being behind the scenes and directing people who have legitimate acceptance in the community.

In terms of payroll, a projection of Karenga's expenditures for the year 1968 would be as follows: In rent for himself and members of his organization for three apartments in an apartment building on 10th Avenue he is paying $500 a month totally, or $6,000 a year. For two apartments in a building on 8th Avenue he is paying $250 a month, or $3,000 a year. For two offices -- one on 83rd & Broadway, the other at 4020 Buckingham Road, he is said to have an approximate expense of $350 a month for each, which comes to approximately $8,400 a year. His standard salary for those members of his upper organization on payroll is said to be $80 a week, of which there are at least 12 known to be on this payroll, which would be approximately $50,000. This does not include living expenses for Karenga and other organization expenses.

For instance, at the Black Power Convention just held in Philadelphia no less than 23 US members were present. Of these 10 are known to have gone by plane and it is known that four were taken to the airport by Willard Murray, black administrative assistant to Mayor Sam Yorty. Others are known to have traveled across the country in Volkswagen bus. It is also widely rumored that Karenga has other properties purchased through funds gained through the US movement.

Karenga now has an alliance with LeRoi Jones of Newark, New Jersey. They put together a political program in Newark which was assisted by Watts through a benefit. They are moving on several fronts nationally. One is alleged to be in East St. Louis where seven traveling salesmen were shot some three weeks ago. They were shot by a group called the Mighty Warlords. The leader of the Mighty Warlords is the boyfriend of the sister of Harry Edwards. Harry Edwards is a native of East St. Louis, a member of the Black Panther Party and advisor to the Mighty Warlords. Ten days prior to the shooting Edwards had come into East St. Louis from Cornell University to meet with the Warlords. It is strongly believed that there is a direct relationship between the Black Panther-US feud in Southern California and the East St. Louis shootings. My investigation has revealed that the Los Angeles Police Department has had a man in East St. Louis for ten days. That man, upon returning to Los Angeles, met with me and in our discussions it became apparent to me that there is a direct relationship and that the Los Angeles Police Department is very aware of this.

There has been some discussion about a school that Karenga holds. The only school that I am familiar with is the Saturday morning school for young children held at the Black Congress building, which is an indoctrination into the rituals of the US organization and does not make an attempt to deal with black awareness on an objective plane. There is also the possibility that Karenga is seeking scholarship aid for members of his organization on the EOP program and other college entrance programs for minority students.

It is alleged also that Karenga is a hyp and that he ia also a homosexual, and it is alleged in connection with this that L.A. Police Department uses these two factors to control Karenga.

At the present moment Karenga has been seen in public once since the assassinations at UCLA. The Grand Jury was not successful in trying to subpoena him during its hearings, the result of which five of his members have been indicted for conspiracy to commit murder. According to spokesmen of the L.A. Police Department on Thursday -- the official Los Angeles Police Department position on Ron Karenga is that his whereabouts are unknown.

Reurairtel 9/8/69.

San Diego is authorized to send the letter set out in reairtel to Ron Karenga, head of the organization US, with the following changes noted below.

The Bureau feels the letter as set out should be more general in nature. To accomplish this, San Diego should delete from paragraph two, line four, "which was attended by 10 of the brothers." Also delete the signature, making the letter anonymous.

Since we do not know the exact method of communication between Karenga and the head of US's women's auxiliary, it is felt we should not use her name as the signer of the letter. Deleting the phrase set out above will make it less certain this letter was written by a person at the meeting in question.

San Diego is authorized to send the amended letter, unless there is a compelling reason not to utilize the above changes. In that case, the Bureau should be so advised. Take the usual precautions to insure this letter cannot be traced to the Bureau.

Letter to SAC, San Diego
RE: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM,
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
(US)
100-448006

For the information of Los Angeles, the letter to be sent the head of US complains about the presence of three white men at an US meeting, which is contrary to the policy of the head of US, Ron Karenga. Los Angeles should be alert for results of this letter.

NOTE:

This letter might thus cause problems for the leadership of the San Diego chapter; however, as set out, the letter was specific in nature and was signed. Karenga could thus have checked with the alleged signer of the letter to determine it was fictitious. US is a black extremist organization with headquarters in Los Angeles, California.

For the information of the Bureau, on [redacted]

In a notebook found in the possession of a known US member, KARENGA has written that, concerning white people, they are divided into known categories. The "faddist" who is a white liberal that wants to identify with whatever field is a fad, the "guilt ridden" who is described as a white boy who says that white people have treated black people like animals and he wants to help black people obtain their freedom, and numerous other categories.

KARENGA has also talked on numerous occasions that no white people are to be allowed at any meetings of US. In view of the fact that three white individuals attended a meeting of US, presumably at the invitation of [redacted], it is felt that the following letter directed to RON KARENGA might be beneficial in casting doubt upon the reliability and subordination of [redacted]. Maulana:

We here in San Diego have a potential problem I wish to advise you of which seems to demand some kawaida.

[redacted], who has always preached that no white devils will be allowed in the hekalu, has not only acted contrary to his teachings, but has invited some white faddists to a meeting which was attended by 10 of the brothers.

These guilt ridden faddists, representing themselves as ACLU attorneys, presented the classic example of the type of white men you have taught us about.

Nothing but evil can possibly come from their invited presence among the bloods. I do not have the authority to do anything about the situation and two of the Simbas with whom I have spoken about the situation are too fearful of [redacted] and [redacted] to do anything about it themselves. You, Maulana, are the only one who can straighten this problem out for us.

Mumminina Ajabu

For the additional information of the Bureau [redacted] mentioned above is [redacted] in San Diego. [redacted] is the spokesman for the [redacted] of the US organization.

It is felt that the above letter will tend to instill some doubts in the mind of KARENGA concerning the credibility of the leadership of the San Diego US chapter and might possibly result in what the leadership would consider unjustifiable criticism.

Bureau permission is requested to type the above letter on commercially purchased stationery and mail it to RON KARENGA in Los Angeles.

Re Denver letter of August 14, 1969.

No specific proposal is being made at this time. The Denver Black Panther Party is on the verge of collapse. Since referenced letter [redacted] have been expelled. The Denver Black Panther Party is now completely dominated by the West Coast group and is receiving very little help from the Negro community. This is due in part to a disagreement with Denver's only [redacted], who made the statement the Panthers should be run out of town.

[redacted] The Panthers printed slanderous statements against [redacted] who in turn has threatened to sue the National Headquarters of the Black Panther Party. [redacted] also claims threats have been made against him which he reported to the Chief of Police of the Denver Police Department.

Re San Diego letter to the Bureau 8/29/69, San Diego airtel to the Bureau 8/29/69, San Diego airtel to the Bureau 9/8/69, Bureau letter to San Diego 9/9/69, and Bureau letter to San Diego 9/11/69.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

At the present time there are two requests for counterintelligence action awaiting Bureau evaluation. Both of these requests concern the US organization.

[redacted]

In view of the recent killing of BPP member SYLVESTER BELL, a new cartoon is being considered in the hopes that it will assist in the continuance of the rift between BPP and US. This cartoon, or series of cartoons, will be similar in nature to those formerly approved by the Bureau and will be forwarded to the Bureau for evaluation and approval immediately upon their completion.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED [redacted]

One of the Bureau approved anonymous telephone calls has been placed to [redacted] protesting the BPP Breakfast Program and [redacted] participation therein. This particular call, originally scheduled to be third in a series of three calls, was made first due to the fact that this particular call appears to be more timely at this time in order to achieve maximum affect. Tangible results concerning this activity appear in the next section of this letter.

The intensive interview program of BPP members is continuing in the San Diego Division. The specific tangible results thus far observed concerning the interview program are very difficult to assess.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

The BPP Breakfast Program appears to be floundering in San Diego due to lack of public support and unfavorable publicity concerning it. It is noted that it has presently been temporarily suspended. Therefore, it was felt that placing the above mentioned anonymous call to the Bishop at this particular time might be a significant factor in precluding the resumption of the program. The information to the Bishop appeared to be favorably received and he seemed to be quite concerned over the fact that one of his Priests was deeply involved in utilization of church facilities for this purpose. This matter, of course, will be closely followed for further anticipated developments concerning the Breakfast Program.

Shootings, beatings, and a high degree of unrest continues to prevail in the ghetto area of southeast San Diego. Although no specific counterintelligence action can be credited with contributing to this over-all situation, it is felt that a substantial amount of the unrest is directly attributable to this program.

[redacted]

148

[redacted]

Information concerning the possibility of US headquarters being bombed on the weekend of 8/30/69, was furnished to the San Diego Police Department prior to the actual bombing. It is felt that the furnishing of this information might have been a major factor in precluding any injury of innocent persons at the time the actual bombing took place.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The "gang type" war between the BPP and US continues at the present time.

It also appears there is increased unrest within the ranks of the BPP in San Diego and reports have been received concerning very severe punishments being administered to members who do not perform as the leaders of the party believe they should. For example, [redacted] has reportedly been severely beaten by BPP officials for failure to return gunfire at the assailant at the time JOHN SAVAGE was fatally shot. [redacted] was "beaten up" for failure to abide by instructions given her by visiting BPP members of the Los Angeles area. Other similar incidents have also been noted, all apparently in an effort to establish more rigid discipline within the ranks of the party.

On 8/30/69, the new US headquarters building at 4183 Market Street, San Diego, was bombed through utilization of a pipe bomb. The device was made of 1½" pipe, capped at both ends, and filled with shotgun powder. No injuries were sustained but damage was extensive. No suspects have been arrested. However, it is believed that the BPP is responsible for the bombing. Efforts are being made to determine how this situation can be capitalized upon for the benefit of the Counterintelligence Program and any possibilities will immediately be submitted for approval by the Bureau.

Re Los Angeles letter to the Bureau dated 8/25/69, and Bureau letter to Los Angeles dated 7/30/69.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS IN EFFECT AGAINST THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY

Counterintelligence operation mentioned in referenced communication has been placed in effect against the Black Panther Party (BPP).

Members of the BPP continue to be interviewed in the hope that this program will cause some concern and disruption among the members of the BPP.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

All arrests of members of the BPP continue to be followed looking for violations of the anti-riot and gun control laws to determine if any of these individuals might be prosecuted under Federal and State laws. Logical sporting goods stores and firearms outlets have been contacted and liaison is being maintained to attempt to determine which members of the BPP are buying firearms.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS OBTAINED

Sources have reported no overt reactions due to operations now in effect in the Los Angeles area.

Re: New Haven letter, 9/3/69.

1. Operations Under Consideration

No definite counterintelligence program is being considered pending reorganization of the Connecticut chapters.

2. Operations Being Effected

As authorized by the Bureau, New Haven will continue to furnish public source data to approved press representatives. New Haven will remain alert for those incidents or circumstances which may lend themselves to counterintelligence exploitation.

The New Haven Division is pursuing those investigations which will lead to successful prosecution of BPP members and leadership at the Federal or local level.

[redacted] BPP, Boston, was apprehended on a Federal Bench warrant at BPP New Haven Headquarters by FBI Agents, assisted by U.S. Marshals and local authorities, on 9/12/69, on charges of threatening a Federal officer and intimidating a witness. The bench warrant was issued following the return of a two count indictment by a Federal Grand Jury on 9/11/69 (New Haven file 26-15342 refers).

This arrest enabled the apprehending Agents to search BPP New Haven Headquarters to perform a cursory search for weapons. None were located, leading to the conclusion that either BPP New Haven members have not acquired any weapons or that more probably these weapons are stored in another location.

3. Tangible Results

Of counterintelligence interest is the fact that reliable informants have advised that BPP New Haven had planned to rent a store for a BPP office sometime in September. [redacted] during the arrest by FBI Agents on 9/12/69, was also arrested by New Haven police for breach of the peace, and abusing a police officer for his conduct at the time of the arrest. A $200 bond was set by the New Haven authorities and was posted by the BPP New Haven. A reliable source advised that the BPP had intended to use the $200 used for [redacted] bond for the rent of another apartment to use as a "crib" and were not now financially able to rent the apartment.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

It is apparent that BPP National has elected to reorganize BPP New Haven, probably in anticipation of the upcoming murder trial involving Chairman BOBBY SEALE and other Panthers. By separate communications, the Bureau has been advised that several BPP functionaries from the New York, Boston and Baltimore areas have been ordered into New Haven to organize.

One recently arrived Panther from Boston, [redacted] has been delegated to establish a Breakfast for Children Program in New Haven. To this end [redacted] has initiated a program of sending letters and personally visiting several businesses in the New Haven area to solicit donations. This program will be aggressively followed and exploited if possible.

ReNYairtel and LHM dated 8/25/69 captioned "Black Panther Party (BPP), Newark Division, RM; [redacted] RM - BPP."

Referenced LHM concerned a copy of an official BPP paper reportedly issued by Bobby Seale. The statement is believed to be the official BPP reply to plans of [redacted] to initiate a new and separate movement labeled "Black Nationalist Party." Among other things, Seale's statement accuses [redacted] of bloving up the New Jersey branch of the BPP and other provocative actions. In addition, it alleges that Stokely Carmichael is behind this new organization.

REC-68 100-[redacted]-1279

The above statement represents an excellent opportunity to completely divide the BPP. San Francisco should forward a cohesive counterintelligence proposal designed to split the BPP on a nationwide basis. As office of origin San Francisco is expected to formulate and otherwise lead the counterintelligence program. In considering the proposal requested in above, Enclosed for San Francisco is one copy of referenced communication.

Baltimore recommends that anonymous letters be mailed to Huey P. Newton indicating that Black Panther Party funds are being used for personal reasons. Anonymous communications are difficult to manage when being mailed to a jail as in this matter. This is due to the fact that most jail officials will forward mail only from specific mailers. Baltimore should review files and otherwise consider recommending of specific counterintelligence proposals in an effort to accomplish the same purpose.

Referenced communication pointed out that Eldridge Cleaver has grown disenchanted with the BPP and is considering a return to the United States for the purpose of starting a new group. San Francisco should consider this information and if logical, forward a suggested anonymous letter expelling Cleaver from the BPP. Take no action without prior authority.

For the information of the Bureau, [redacted] Christ the King Roman Catholic Church, 32nd and Imperial, SanDiego, California, has indicated an open advocacy of the BPP Breakfast Program and the black militant movement in general. He has utilized his church as a sanctuary for BPP members and has alleged that the San Diego Police Department is racist and is creating terrorism in the San Diego area.

Bureau authority is therefore requested to place three anonymous telephone calls to [redacted] of theSan Diego Diocese.

The first call would protest [redacted] using the church as a sanctuary for black militants and for the furtherance of the programs of black militant groups.

The second call, placed on a Monday, would protest homilies given by [redacted] in which he advocates support of black militant groups.

The third call would specifically object to the utilization of the church for the BPP Breakfast Program in which the caller would indicate that in theory this program has merit but in San Diego is simply being utilized as a media of propaganda for the militant BPP.

All of the above calls will be made from "parishioners" objecting to the use of their church to assist a black militant cause. Two of the callers will urge that [redacted] be removed as Pastor of the church, and one will threaten suspension of financial support of the church if the activities of the Pastor are allowed to continue.

Fictitious names will be utilized in the event a name is requested by [redacted].

The calls, if approved, will be placed approximately four days apart.

It is felt that complaints, if they do not effect the removal of [redacted] from southeast San Diego, will at least result in [redacted] becoming aware that [redacted] is cognizant of his activities and will thus result in a curtailment of these activities.

Re NY report of [redacted], captioned "JEWISH DEFENSE LEAGUE, RACIAL MATTERS", NY file 157-3463; Bu letter to NY, 7/25/69.

Referenced report has been reviewed by the NYO in an effort to target one individual within the Jewish Defense League (JEDEL) who would be the suitable recipient of information furnished on an anonymous basis that the Bureau wishes to disseminate and/or use for future counter-intelligence purposes.

NY is of the opinion that the individual within JEDEL who would most suitably serve the above stated purpose would be Rabbi MEIR KAHANE, a Director of JEDEL. It is noted that Rabbi KAHANE's background as a writer for the NY newspaper "Jewish Press" would enable him to give wide-spread coverage of anti-Semetic statements made by the BPP and other Black Nationalist hate groups not only to members of JEDEL but to other individuals who would take cognizance of such statements.

In order to prepare a suggested initial communi-cation from the anonymous source to Rabbi KAHANE which would establish rapport between the two, it is felt that this contact should not be limited to the furnishing of factual information of interest to the aims of JEDEL because the NYO does not feel that JEDEL could be motivated to act as called for in referenced Bureau letter if the information gathered by the NYO concerning anti-semitism and other matters were furnished to that organization without some embellishment.

For example it is felt that JEDEL is aware of the majority of information concerning the factual views of the BPP and other Black Nationalist groups through public sources of information such as the BPP newspaper, "The Black Panther", and to furnish such information from an"anonymous source" would either be dismissed by JEDEL as trivial or attributed to some other party who may have an interest in causing JEDEL to act against such groups as the BPP.

In view of the above comments the following is submitted as the suggested communication to be used to establish rapport between the anonymous source and the selected individual associated with JEDEL:

"Dear Rabbi Kahane:

I am a Negro man who is 48 years old and served his country in the U.S. Army in WW2 and worked as a truck driver with "the famous red-ball express" in Gen. Eisenhour's Army in France and Natzi Germany. One day I had a crash with the truck I was driving, a 2½ ton truck, and was injured real bad. I was treated and helped by a Jewish Army Dr. named "Rothstein" who helped me get better again.

Also I was encouraged to remain in high school for two years by my favorite teacher, Mr. Katz. I have always thought Jewish people are good and they have helped me all my life. That is why I become so upset about my oldest son who is a Black Panther and very much against Jewish people. My oldest son just returned from Algers in Africa where he met a bunch of other Black Panthers from all over the world. He said to me that they all agree that the Jewish people are against all the colored people and that the only friends the colored people have are the Arabs.

I told my child that the Jewish people are the friends of the colored people but he calls me a Tom and says I'll never be anything better than a Jew boy's slave.

Last night my boy had a meeting at my house with six of his Black Panther friends. From the way they talked it sounded like they had a plan to force Jewish store owners to give them money or they would drop a bomb on the Jewish store. Some of the money they get will be sent to the Arabs in Africa.

They left books and pictures around with Arab writing on them and pictures of Jewish soldiers killing Arab babys. I think they are going to give these away at Negro Christian Churchs.

I though you might be able to stop this. I think I can get some of the pictures and books without getting myself in trouble. I will send them to you if you are interested.

I would like not to use my real name at this time.

A friend"

It is further suggested that a second communication be sent to Rabbi KAHANE approximately one week after the above described letter which will follow the same foremat, but will contain as enclosures some BPP artifacts such as pictures of BOBBY SEALE, ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, a copy of a BPP newspaper, etc. It is felt that a progression of letters should then follow which would further establish rapport with the JEDEL and eventually culminate in the anonymous letter writer requesting some response from the JEDEL recipient of these letters.

Re San Francisco airtel dated 8/26/69.

On 8/27/69, newspaper column of WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY was mailed anonymously to seven addressees who have had some connection with BPP Breakfast for Children Program.

This office has suggested the anonymous furnishing of information concerning BPP bank accounts to the mother of a young boy killed by a truck utilized by the BPP. San Francisco was instructed by the Bureau to determine another way in which the information could be furnished without causing further distress to the mother of the deceased.

A further review of San Francisco Police records in this matter reflect that police reports concerning the accident of [redacted] were furnished to the District Attorney's Office and that office shortly after the accident advised that they were taking no further action and were so informing the office of Coroner. On 9/5/69, [redacted] reported that Coroner's Office has now issued a subpoena for [redacted] and it would therefore, appear that the matter may be reopened.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

Internal struggle within the Black Panther Party (BPP) at Charlotte, N. C., appears to be dividing the group. Members continue to be arrested on local charges resulting in cost for bond and attorney fees, however, prosecution has not been completed. The civil suit by the BPP at Charlotte against law enforcement agencies as mentioned in Charlotte letter dated 6/24/69 has not been adjudicated.

In connection with the Counterintelligence Program - New Left (Charlotte file 100-10483) and the article appearing in the 8/16/69 edition of the "Guardian"concerning the split by the BPP and SDS, Charlotte has received Bureau permission to furnish [redacted] with this information in an attempt to cease the co-operation between SDS and BPP in the Charlotte Division. Although the matter is being handled as an operation of the Counter-intelligence Program - New Left, it will have a direct result concerning the Criminal Informant Program of the Black Nationalist - Hate Groups if successful.

[redacted] our Pastor at Christ the King on 32nd and Imperial, has reached what I consider almost a psychotic state concerning his fight for what he refers to as the plight of the black man. I personally support equal rights and privileges for all people, but [redacted] has gone far beyond what would be considered the efforts of a rational individual.

For example, he has on a couple of occasions, allowed members of the violence prone Black Panther Party to use our church as a "sanctuary." The Lord only knows from what [redacted] believes these individuals need a "sanctuary." He alleges that our fine San Diego Police Department is composed of a bunch of racists and often used his office to promulgate the demands of the militant groups.

Your Excellency, approximately 80% of our church is non-black and I would venture to guess that roughly 95% of the financial support comes from this group. In talking with other parishioners, the general feeling is that if [redacted] is not replaced as our Pastor immediately, one of two things will happen. Either all financial support normally designated for the church will be channeled to individual charities outside of the San Diego area and/or the parishioners will fulfill their spiritual requirements in some other church.

I have been a member of Christ the King for many years now, as have the majority of our parishioners. We would certainly not want to do anything which would in any way jeopardize the continuance of what we have come to regard as "our church." I sincerely hope that you will be sympathetic to our grievances and will conduct your own inquiry to personally evaluate the mental condition and activities of our Pastor. Please help us Excellency, you are the only one who can preserve what we have for so many years cherished.

ReBuairtel 8/20/69.

It is to be noted that the current relationship between members of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and the Black Panther Party (BPP) in the Denver area appears to be much more friendly than outlined in reairtel. The Denver BPP, led by [redacted] combined with the Denver area SDS membership to hold a rally at the City-County Building, Denver, Colorado, on 8/6/69, for the purpose of demanding the freedom of Black Panther Party members HUEY NEWTON, [redacted] and [redacted] and former SDS affiliate [redacted] Then, on 8/8/69, the Denver SDS and BPP membership again joined forces for a rally and march in Denver to voice several additional demands. Since the BPP campaign, which the SDS refused to join, commenced in July it would appear that these two groups in the Denver area have overcome their differences on the matter.

Denver is doubtful that a counterintelligence maneuver directed at the dispute arising out of BPP petition campaign described in reairtel would have the desired effect; however, if the Bureau so desires a letter over the facsimile of [redacted] signature - [redacted] being one of the principal leaders of SDS in the Denver area - can be prepared for mailing to [redacted] Such letter would indicate withdrawal of support of SDS in the Denver area for Denver BPP activities due to the "stab in the back" given SDS by the Panthers when the Panthers indicated that the SDS were national socialists who were attempting to dictate to the Panthers, as per the recent article in the "Guardian." Such a letter, to be effective, would have to be mailed very soon since the "Guardian" article has been in print for ten days already.

Denver sources and informants reporting on SDS who are presently in the Denver area during summer vacation are not at this time in a sufficiently influential position to spread dissension among SDS membership regarding the BPP statements.

Re Omaha letter to Bureau, 8/25/69.

As pointed out in referenced letter the BPP in Omaha, Nebraska is considered defunct by BPP National Headquarters although there was some indication that this organization might be reactivated at a future date under new leadership. In connection with the BPP in Des Moines, Iowa, this organization has been mostly inactive for several months and information was also received that this organization was defunct. It was recently learned that [redacted] in Kansas City, Missouri, had been in contact with [redacted] of the Des Moines BPP and these two individuals were instructed to attempt to reactivate the BPP in Des Moines. To date no information has been received that [redacted] were successful in their efforts to reactivate the Des Moines Chapter.

In view of the foregoing, Omaha does not feel that concrete recommendations could be made at this time re counterintelligence measures aimed at crippling the BPP.

This matter will continue to be closely followed and suggestions for counterintelligence action against the new BPP Chapters, if formed, and its leadership will be submitted by separate communications.

ReNYlet to Bureau, 5/23/69.

1. Operations Under Consideration:

The NYO is presently considering an attempt to contact and establish some rapport with the Jewish Defense League (JEDEL) in order to be in a position to furnish JEDEL with information the Bureau wishes to see utilized in a counterintelligence technique.

The aforementioned contact with JEDEL will be made by an anonymous letter sent to someone in a leadership capacity with that organization.

A suggested communication establishing the necessary connection between JEDEL and the fictious source will be sent to the Bureau by separate cover letter for the Bureau's consideration and approval.

The NYO is also considering preparing a letter entitled "A Black Man's Letter from Cuba" which will deal with the dissatisfaction of members of the Black Panther Party in Cuba today. This letter will be forwarded to the Bureau for their comments and approval before any decision is made as to its distribution.

2. Operations Being Submitted

On 6/20/69, an anonymous letter was sent to the United Federation of Teachers in New York City after Bureau approval was granted on 6/13/69.

As of this date, no tangible results have come to the attention of the NYO.

The NYO on 9/8/69, obtained a suitable copy for reproduction of an article that appeared on page 12 of the 5/17/69 issue of "The Guardian", a New York, New York radical newspaper, for mailing to those individuals whose names appear are a list furnished to New York by the St. Louis Office by letter dated 6/27/69.

This mailing will take place during the weeks of September 7 and 14, 1969.

The NYO has alerted logical informants to determine the current attitude of the Black community in the NYC area toward [redacted] to enable the NYO to determine if there is a counterintelligence aspect that could be capitalized on in regard to [redacted] being shot and seriously wounded by an unknown assailant on 6/7/69.

[redacted]. Such information could be utilized in effecting a counterintelligence proposal which would discredit the BPP in the New York area.

After receiving prior Bureau approval, [redacted] of the Nassau Catholic Archdiocese of New York, was contacted on 8/22/69 and discreetly advised of the "Breakfast for Children Program" conducted by the BPP which was being held at All Saints Roman Catholic Chuch in NYC.

3. Tangible Results

[redacted], who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that the "Breakfast for Children Program" sponsored by the BPP and staged at All Saints Roman Catholic Chuch in NYC had been discontinued on direction of the Church authorities.

Therefore, it is felt that some of the counterintelligence measures of the NYO have borne fruit.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interests

Due to a reorganization of the Republic of New Africa (RNA) Consulates in the NYC area as well as a lack of RNA activity the plans to schedule RNA meetings as set forth in reNYlet to Bureau have been held in abeyance until a more suitable opportunity arises.

The NYO continues to remain alert for indications of situations where counterintelligence techniques may be utilized and will immediately inform the Bureau of such happenings.

New York is aware of the necessity for the Bureau to consider and recommend any specific counterintelligence proposals and, therefore, this office will be guided accordingly.

It is not believed that an anonymous phone call should be made to the mother of the child killed by [redacted] This could cause her extreme mental distress. The idea of furnishing information concerning BPP bank accounts to representatives of the victim should be followed up.

San Franciso should attempt to determine another way in which this information can be furnished and which will not cause further distress to the deceased victim's relatives. It may be that an executor or administrator has been appointed to conduct a wrongful death action on behalf of the deceased. This information could anonymously be furnished to these representatives and be incorporated in any law suit maintained. San Francisco should give this matter some additional thought and advise the Bureau of the results. Take no specific action without prior Bureau authority.

NOTE:

[redacted], a BPP member, killed a young 10-year-old boy, while driving a truck owned by the editor of a Black Panther publication. [redacted] backed over the boy in a gas station and crushed him. San Francisco recommends that information pertaining to known bank accounts of the BPP as well as the fact that this truck is connected with the BPP be made known to the victim's mother by means of an anonymous phone call. We are turning this down to obviate the possibility of causing this mother additional grief. We are pointing out to San Francisco that the idea is good and other methods of forwarding this information should be pursued.

Re Portland letter to Director, 6/24/69.

BLACK NATIONALIST MOVEMENT IN THE PORTLAND FIELD DIVISION; CHANGES

The Black Panther Party (BPP) at Portland, Oregon, continues to be essentially inactive and ineffective. The current captain of the BPP group at Portland, [redacted] is on $20,000 bond awaiting local prosecution on the charge of inciting to riot and riot as an outgrowth of the disturbances during June in the Albina District, [redacted] predominantly Negro section of Portland, Oregon.

The BPP group at Eugene, Oregon, which had become extremely active during the first half of 1969, has been hampered by internal strife within the organization and a struggle for power.

(1) Operations Under Consideration

By referenced letter, Portland made counterintelligence suggestions regarding [redacted] an activist at Portland, Oregon. The Bureau, in response to this suggestion, requested Portland to prepare pertinent information suitable for dissemination to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and to make specific proposals to furnishing information to the Oregon Department of Labor. This has been held in abeyance in that since the recommendation was made, [redacted] has moved to St. Paul, Minnesota, and investigation is being conducted there to establish his residence and activity. When this has been established, consideration will be given to carry out the counterintelligence program aimed at [redacted]

An article appeared in the "Oregon Journal," a Portland daily newspaper on 8/8/69, concerning [redacted] student at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, who has been working during the summer in Portland's Negro community under the sponsorship of the Urban League. In this article, [redacted] was quoted as saying he believes that the Black Panther Party represents the black community's best hope for achieving change and he considers the BPP to be the "power structure" best fitted to confront white institutions.

The Dallas Office has been requested to furnish background information on [redacted] and to establish prior connections with the BPP. Portland will consider utilizing this information for counterintelligence purposes. Portland has made counterintelligence suggestion regarding widening the rift between SDS and the BPP.

(2) Operations Being Put Into Effect

By letter dated 7/9/69, Portland suggested anonymous mailing of copies of an article appearing in the "Washington Post," for June 19, 1969, captioned, "Panthers: Are a Recital of Fear and Crime."

By letter dated 7/28/69, the Bureau advised Portland that this suggestion is being utilized at this time by several Offices where "breakfast programs" or "liberation schools" are being conducted. For the information of the Bureau neither of these programs are underway in Portland, and Portland is not in a position to assess the effectiveness of this program.

(3) Tangible Results of Counterintelligence

Portland in dealing with black militants whether or not affiliated with an organization has determined the individual's Selective Service status.

196

In this connection it was determined that [redacted], a young Negro militant, had not registered for Selective Service. [redacted] first came to the attention of this Office when he was identified by an informant as being in possession of Molotov cocktails which led to his arrest by the Portland Police Department.

On 8/25/69, [redacted] was arrested by the FBI, charged with violation of the Selective Service Act, and was released on $1,500 bond.

[redacted], BPP, at Eugene, Oregon, received investigative attention during an extensive investigation into a series of bombings occurring in Eugene, Oregon, 5/19-20/69. [redacted] was arrested by the Lane County Sheriff's Office, Eugene, Oregon, on 5/23/69, on a local charge, and during the search incidental to this arrest, a rifle was found which [redacted] admitted being the owner. Subsequently, [redacted] was arrested by Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, IRS, in that it had been determined that [redacted] purchased this weapon knowing that he had been convicted of a felony.

Shortly after midnight, 8/26/69, [redacted] Field Lieutenant, BPP, Eugene, Oregon, was shot and wounded under mysterious circumstances in a Eugene public park. Information had been received from [redacted] and highly reliable San Francisco sources that [redacted] had developed between [redacted] of the Eugene BPP, and various members of the Eugene BPP, in particular [redacted].

Following the shooting, [redacted] failed to cooperate with the Eugene Police Department and has furnished conflicting information regarding the shooting. All information points to the belief that this shooting was engineered by [redacted] or someone acting in his behalf. Portland will follow the developments surrounding this shooting in order to take advantage of information that could further disrupt the BPP group and spread distrust among its members.

On 8/13/69, [redacted] had submitted to a pre-induction physical at Portland, Oregon. [redacted] although a college student at the University of Oregon (UO), Eugene, Oregon, obtained a score of one out of a possible 100 on the AFQT test. In completing a medical history form, [redacted] claimed to have many afflictions, including those known only to females.

The Jacksonville Division covering [redacted] Selective Service Board has been furnished with complete details and have been requested to review [redacted] file and discuss with the appropriate USA.

(4) Development of Counterintelligence Interest

No additional pertinent information.

[redacted] Information has been recently received that [redacted] a Pittsburgh black militant leader who has in the past been involved in a gun battle with Pittsburgh Police officers, is being considered as a possible part-time instructor at the University of Pittsburgh in a Black Studies Program. being considered by the University. This office is considering appropriate counterintelligence action to preclude [redacted] from obtaining this position.

[redacted], a Pittsburgh Agitator Index subject, has been named coordinator of a drive to recruit black students for scholarships at the University of Pittsburgh. Counterintelligence action to neutralize [redacted] in this position is being considered by Pittsburgh.

2. Operations Being Effected

Public source information concerning both [redacted] and [redacted] mentioned above, has been furnished to [redacted] an established and reliable source at the "Pittsburgh Press," and he has agreed to utilize this information at the first appropriate opportunity.

Bureau authority has been previously requested to alert [redacted] to the fact that [redacted] is being considered for the position of part-time instructor at the University of Pittsburgh with the suggestion that his newspaper may desire to expose [redacted] background.

There have been no tangible results realized under the Counterintelligence Program during the current period.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

Racial demonstrations and activities during the past several weeks have consisted of demonstrations by black groups to attempt to obtain additional job opportunities and union membership for black workers in the construction industry. Developments in this situation are being closely followed by Pittsburgh to determine if the movement becomes directed or influenced by any militant black nationalists and, if so, consideration will be given for appropriate counterintelligence action.

There have been no further significant changes in the overall Black Nationalist movement in the Pittsburgh area since the submission of referenced letter.

QUARTERLY PROGRESS LETTER

During the past three months, activities by Black Nationalists at colleges and high schools in Mississippi have been nonexistent since schools, for the most part, have only had activities limited to summer school with small attendance thereat.

[redacted] the main Black Nationalist extremist in the Jackson Division, has been restricting his activities to running a liberation school six days a week for children, ages 10 - 14, in the Georgetown ghetto area of Jackson.

[redacted] independent extremist, has, except for two-day visit in August, been away from the State of Mississippi since May, 1969. He has been active in other States, especially Pennsylvania, in promoting the "Black Manifesto." In this latter regard, he has presented the Manifesto at churches and before church groups.

Muhammed's Mosque, a Nation of Islam group at Jackson, continues to be attempting to obtain membership and funds in the Jackson area. Their efforts in this [redacted] regard have been minimal and the leadership is very discouraged.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

With school commencing in September, 1969, attention will be directed toward Black Nationalist student groups at colleges and high schools in Mississippi for any indications that they are being dominated by black extremists or preaching black extremist activities. Any positive information developed in this regard will be carefully scrutinized for possible counterintelligence actions.

The Jackson Division is continuing to follow closely developments regarding the possible withdrawal of funds from the Jackson Human Rights Project, which is the name given to activities of [redacted] and associates in the Jackson area. Any derogatory information developed regarding [redacted] which is of public knowledge, will be channelized to appropriate authorities following normal procedure for counterintelligence measure dissemination.

While NOI activities in the State are being closely followed, it is felt that counterintelligence actions at present could possibly serve to unify these elements at a time when they are experiencing serious internal difficulties in the recruiting and finance areas.

[redacted]

205

[redacted]

II. OPERATIONS BEING AFFECTED

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

(a) The Jackson Division, on July 30 - 31, 1969, conducted a police - community relations two-day seminar at the Jackson Police Department, at which about 65 officers attended. Among topics discussed by FBI instructors were Black Nationalist groups and the fact that police officers should be alert to any criminal activities or acts of violence by Negroes affiliated with black extremist groups.

In the early morning hours of July 31, 1969, two of the officers who attended the session on July 30, 1969, were on duty in a Negro ghetto area of Jackson. They observed three bearded, militant-looking Negroes in an older model Chevrolet cruising in the vicinity of a large gun shop in the ghetto area.

After closely observing this car for a few minutes, it became apparent to the officers that the individuals were "up to no good." They subsequently stopped the car on a traffic violation and thereafter determined that the car was stolen from New Orleans, Louisiana, and that one of the occupants was a convicted felon in possession of a fully-loaded carbine. These three individuals were subsequently identified as being affiliated with the RNA in the New Orleans, Louisiana, area.

The driver of the vehicle was charged with ITSMV and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon; one of the passengers was charged with ITSMV and the third passenger was charged with misprison of a felony. All of these charges were Federal charges.

[redacted]

216

Subsequently, the Negro charged with misprison of a felony was identified from fingerprints at the FBI Identification Division as being identical to [redacted], a Federal fugitive from the Pittsburgh Division, sought for almost a year on bank robbery charges.

All of the above three individuals are still in Federal custody in lieu of $5,000 bond on each charge. Jackson informants in the RNA have been publicizing, discreetly, their "shock and amazement" that such hard core criminal types had been allowed into the RNA, thereby reflecting the RNA in a bad light in the South.

All of the above arrests were given wide dissemination in press releases over local and national news media channels.

(b) In early August, 1969, [redacted] contacted the Jackson FBI Office and indicated he was doing a background investigation on [redacted], Jackson SNCC leader, and his associates. This investigation was being conducted on behalf of the Episcopal Church in Jackson in that [redacted], under the guise of the Jackson Human Rights Project, had received authority for a grant of over $6,000 for this project. Only about $2,200 had been actually given to [redacted] when Episcopal Church leaders heard rumors that much derogatory information was circulating regarding [redacted] and his activities. [redacted] asked if the FBI had any information regarding derogatory information concerning [redacted] and his associates.

[redacted] was referred by the FBI to several police sources, white and black community leaders, and anti-poverty workers who possess information regarding [redacted] and his associates, which included [redacted] independent extremist, and J[redacted] at Tougaloo College.

207

[redacted] said when he completed his investigation, [redacted] Subsequently, on August 13, 1969, [redacted] completed a four-page letter containing extensive derogatory information regarding [redacted] and his associates, which he had developed from contacts he was referred to by the FBI. He advised this letter would be forwarded to Episcopal Church leaders in Jackson and in New York and would possibly be a basis for discontinuance of further funds to [redacted] and his associates.

IV. OTHER DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTERESTS

(a) On May 24, 1969, [redacted], Jackson liaison source and Episcopal Church leader in Jackson, contacted the Jackson FBI office and indicated he was interested in background information on [redacted] independent extremist, who he said had been traveling throughout the United States and confronting church groups with the "Black Manifesto." He said his inquiry was being conducted as Episcopal Church leaders wanted to be aware of his background should he approach any Episcopal Churches.

[redacted] was referred to several public sources which were in possession of or contained derogatory information regarding [redacted] to include arrests, affiliation with black extremist groups, and unfavorable publicity received from his attempted "take-over" of church meetings and services in Pennsylvania and elsewhere. He said he would research these references and extract pertinent information which he would use to prepare a report regarding [redacted]

208

[redacted]

On August 27, 1969, [redacted] was contacted and referred by the FBI to an article appearing in "The Jackson Daily News" on the evening of August 26, 1969, which reflected an Associated Press release describing [redacted] take-over of a National Student Association Convention at El Paso, Texas, and demanding funds for Negroes at this gathering. [redacted] was again most appreciative of this information, said he would research it further, and advise his superiors accordingly.

Re Bureau airtel to Albany, 3/4/68.

The following is a ninety-day summary of activities within the New Haven Division relating to captioned program:

1. Operations Under Consideration

The New Haven, Hartford, and Bridgeport, Connecticut, Chapters of the Black Panther Party (BPP) remain disorganized and without proper leadership. Counterintelligence operations, therefore, are being considered as the opportunity arises.

2. Operations Being Effected

As authorized by the Bureau, New Haven will continue to furnish public source data to approved press representatives. New Haven will remain alert for those incidents or circumstances which may lend themselves to counterintelligence exploitation. One example of this was an anonymous letter mailed to WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR., setting forth Yale University sanctions of BPP activities on the Yale campus during May 1969.

The New Haven Division is remaining alert for violations committed by members of the BPP and is aggressively conducting such investigation to uncover criminal violations. During the preceeding ninety day period, investigation conducted by the New Haven Division has led to the arrest of BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, Chairman of the BPP for Murder, Conspiracy to Murder, Kidnaping, and Conspiracy to Commit Kidnaping; [redacted] of the BPP along with four other members of the Boston Chapter, on ITSMV charges; and [redacted] on violation of the State Firearms Control Assistance Act.

(3)

14 SEP 7 1969

58 SEP 15 1969

3. Tangible Results

On the national level the arrest of SEALE has certainly disrupted the entire BPP organization and caused an additional drain of the BPP funds.

On the local level, continual pressure on the rank and file members as well as the leadership by the FBI and local authorities has sparked a flurry of demonstrations and an influx of BPP organizers. It is worthy to note that the majority of the Black community and white community is not giving the Party any visible support. In short, they are apparently having to "go it alone" without community assistance.

4. Developments of CI Interest

The arrest of SEALE and his anticipated extradition will undoubtedly bring more BPP national representatives into the New Haven area. In fact, reliable informants have already begun to report that several noted BPP functionaries have already arrived.

According to these informants, the BPP leadership is concerned with finding the "leak" within the remaining New Haven Chapter. Informant coverage to date has reflected that if the informant is found, he will be executed in a fashion similar to the murder of ALEX RACKLEY.

New Haven is anticipating an emergence of renewed militancy of the Party in the New Haven area within the upcoming quarter. It is expected that this militancy will be headed not by local members of the BPP but by the National leadership and functionaries from surrounding state chapters.

Remylet to the Bureau, 6/17/69.

There have been no counterintelligence programs or operations in connection with Black Nationalist groups of the Buffalo Division since submission of referenced letter. The racial situation in the Buffalo Division has been relatively quiet during the reporting period and no effective counterintelligence devices have presented themselves. A significant change in the Black Nationalist organizations in the Buffalo Division has occurred with the deactivation of the Black Panther Party (BPP) Chapter at Rochester, New York.

The only Black Nationalist organization with organized membership in the Buffalo Division is the Nation of Islam (NOI), which operates the Mosque as Muhammad's Mosque Number 23 (MM #23) at Buffalo and an auxiliary Mosque at Rochester, New York, as MM #23-B. The membership and activities at MM #23 and MM #23-B are well known and informant coverage is most adequate.

Agents having responsibility for coverage of Black Nationalist groups in the Buffalo Division are continually vigilant for organizational efforts of Black Nationalist groups and for opportunities to effect some form of counterintelligence. A watchful and continuous effort to develop an effective counterintelligence program with the Black Nationalist groups continues in the Buffalo Division.

The letter questions the death of a BPP member who is believed to have committed suicide some time ago. This communication raises the possibility that national BPP leaders were the cause of this so-called suicide. We are authorizing this communication. BLACK PANTHER PARTY
DETROIT DIVISION
(OO: DETROIT)

Detroit proposes utilizing the following counter-intelligence technique as a disruptive measure within the Detroit Black Panther Party (BPP). The counterintelligence technique would be in the form of an anonymous letter sent to a representative number of Detroit BPP leaders and members. This letter will be signed "A Concerned Sister" with the expectation that it will cause suspicion of [redacted], a Detroit BPP leader, as the author of the letter. The letter will read as follows:

"Dear Brothers and Sisters:

Who's next? You, me, who knows. Do you really believe Brother Baynham blew his brains out. Do you believe he shot the top of his head off and then took the time to hide the gun in a safe hiding place so that the pigs couldn't find it. The pigs call it 'suicide' and none of the local brothers or sisters challenge this. Who's kidding who. Why was Brother Baynham's rich black blood splattered all over a dirty room in a lousy racist city. Was this 'suicide' and the 'mercy killing' of one of our other brothers in New Haven arranged by Chief Executioneer Hilliard. Why doesn't Chief Brother Hilliard speak out on our lost brothers.

"All power to the people.

"A Concerned Sister"

Copies of this letter will be sent to leaders and members who would be most susceptible, based on intelligence data received from Detroit sources. A copy would also be sent to National BPP Headquarters, San Francisco, addressed to HILLIARD.

This letter would be typewritten and prepared on commercially purchased paper and mailed from one of the more predominantly Negro populated communities in the Detroit area. Every precaution will be taken to see that this letter cannot be traced back to the Bureau. No action will be taken in this matter pending receipt of Bureau authority.

Re Los Angeles letter to Bureau, 6/3/69.

For information concerning the counterintelligence program directed against the Black Panther Party (BPP), the Bureau's attention is directed to Los Angeles letters dated 6/3, 6/16, 6/26, 7/16, 7/25, 7/30 and 8/26/69. In accordance with Bureau instructions, the counterintelligence operations against the BPP are not being set forth in this letter.

1. Operations Under Consideration

The Los Angeles Office continually follows the violations of the anti-riot and gun control laws by black nationalists looking toward prosecution of these individuals under Federal and State statutes.

A continuing survey of the telephone toll calls of various black nationalist leaders is being made under existing Bureau policy to determine what counterintelligence programs might be put into effect.

2. Operations Being Effected

The interview program within the black nationalist movement is being continued on a regular basis and this has caused some concern and disruption among the members.

3. Tangible Results

The membership of the "US" organization has dropped approximately 50 per cent, which is believed to be due in part to the interview program.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

It has been noted that RON KARENGA, head of the "US" organization, has moved his residence three times within the past five months to avoid harassment by the police and possibly to avoid a confrontation with the BPP. Consideration is being given by the Los Angeles Office as to what benefit could be derived through a counterintelligence program of making known KARENGA's current address to the Police Department and possibly to rival black nationalist groups.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

Informants, who attend meetings at Muhammad's Mosque, Nation of Islam, Birmingham, advised attendance at meetings continues to decrease. They attribute this, to a large extent, to the demand for money in the form of dues, donations, participation in sales drives of "Muhammad Speaks" and ELIJAH MUHAMMAD's books, and support of the Shabazz Restaurant where prices are high compared to other eating places.

Mentioned in referenced letter of 6/2/69, was the possibility of counterintelligence operation in connection with recent coalition of the three main East St. Louis negro youth organizations into the Black Organizations United (BOU). In recent weeks, however, sources have advised that BOU was never able to function and is, for all practical purposes, defunct.

BLACK NATIONALIST ORGANIZATIONS

Since submission of referenced New Orleans letter there have been several significant developments in Black Nationalist field in New Orleans. They are as follows:

A. Republic of New Africa (RNA)

On 6/7/69 [redacted] traveled to South America under the auspices of UNICEF. From there she traveled with several companions to Cuba where she allegedly met with FIDEL CASTRO. During [redacted] absence, [redacted] in the Southern Region was left in the hands of [redacted] was arrested on 6/11/69 after he participated in the reading of the "Black Manifesto" at a church in New Orleans. Subsequently, RNA leadership in Detroit and New Orleans became alarmed with [redacted] activities because the national office of the RNA had distributed a press release condemning the "Black Manifesto". During the same period, [redacted] Southern Region, continued to alienate individuals in the New Orleans area and was involved in several sexual escapades with young female members of the RNA. As a result of these escapades and his egotistical attitude, [redacted] no longer was effective as an organizer in the South. In late June, he and his girl friend, [redacted], left New Orleans to take up residence in Detroit where he was subsequently appointed [redacted] for the RNA. [redacted] is currently convinced that [redacted] is an informant for the FBI and should he return to New Orleans, he would be completely ineffective.

The Bureau previously furnished to the field copies duplicated on unwatermarked paper which contained no identifying information of articles from "The Black Panther" newspaper to be used in the counterintelligence program directed against the Black Panther Party (BPP) and its "Breakfast for Children" program. These articles clearly show the hatred of the white man by the black community as put forth by the BPP. This authorizes MI to anonymously furnish copies of these articles to the churches and main offices of grocery stores who have cooperated with the BPP in the MI area in sponsoring the "Breakfast for Children" program. In neutralizing the "Breakfast for Children" program, we do not desire to prevent needy children from these breakfasts but are attempting to prevent the poisoning of the children's minds by hard core BPP members who always conduct "Liberation School Classes" in connection with these breakfasts. The school classes endeavor to impress upon the minds of the young children the aims and objectives of the BPP.

ReBulets captioned as above and dated 7/2,11/69.

As noted in relet of 7/11/69, Milwaukee has developed info that the BPP is operating the Breakfast for Children Program in Milwaukee. BPP members have approached numerous churches about using their facilities for this program but to date they have been unsuccessful.

In addition, the BPP has solicited money and food from numerous grocery stores in the Milwaukee area. Milwaukee sources indicate that the BPP may be receiving as much as $500 per week in money and food contributions.

It is felt that copies of the articles attached to relet should be mailed anonymously to main offices of grocery stores which are already involved or who may become involved in contributing to the breakfast program. It is also felt that copies should be sent to churches in the area which are being approached by the BPP for the purpose of obtaining facilities for the breakfast program.

Since the Breakfast for Children Program and other BPP activities have been widely publicized in Milwaukee, there would be no reason for recipients of the above material to identify the Bureau as the source.

Re Miami airtels to the Director (copy to Chicago), 8/22/69, and 8/25/69.

Referenced airtel dated 8/22/69 reflects Miami has the authority to assist [redacted] WCKT-TV, a local Miami station, in preparation of a documentary-type expose of the NOI in the south Florida area, the objective being to show how the NOI takes money from the black people of the Miami area and gives nothing in return. Miami requested the Bureau and Chicago to furnish photographs or films of NOI meetings, conventions, or other affairs.

[redacted] objectives are not clear in that it cannot be determined whether his expose is to be confined to the Miami area or is to be national in scope. However, the following is set forth for consideration:

It would appear that [redacted] would desire to present a current picture of the actual inner workings of the NOI. He mentions exposing misuse of donations and receipts from the sale of "Muhammad Speaks" (MS). This is most difficult to do from interviews of the membership as they consider donations they make much as would regular church goers. It is recognized ELIJAH MUHAMMAD and other NOI leaders live lavishly. This has been exposed and is well known. It had no discernible effect on the NOI membership. It is known, and has been reported in semi-annual NOI reports available to Miami, that the NOI, for the past several years, has been using cash accrued from land appreciation, donations, and receipts from the sale of MS to buy farms in both Georgia and Michigan, to buy buildings in Chicago, and converting same into restaurants, stores, etc.

Investigation has determined these are registered in the names of Progressive Land Developers, Incorporated, and/or United Dynamic Corporation, both incorporated in the State of Illinois and both having prominent NOI leaders as members of the Board of Directors.

Enclosed for Miami is a Xerox copy of an article entitled, "Black Muslims Set Their Sights on the Supremacy of Capitalism" by WILLIAM JONES, which article appeared in the "Chicago Sunday Tribune," 1/26/69, page 1. This article sets forth full details regarding the NOI's use of monies received. It is felt the pertinent development is the NOI using non-religious corporations to invest the monetary receipts - the investments not being titled under the name NOI, Muhammad's Temple Number 2, etc. When ELIJAH MUHAMMAD becomes incapacitated or passes on, what happens to these holdings insofar as the membership is concerned?

[redacted] may desire to contact the "Chicago Tribune" as to whether he can use the above article.

Chicago has not for several years conducted any photographic surveillances of NOI conventions, etc., due to racial tensions. It would appear [redacted] could obtain such photographs from issues of MS which are available to Miami. It would further appear [redacted] could purchase ELIJAH MUHAMMAD's LP records, which are advertised in MS weekly or could contact Radio Station WFAB, Miami-Ft. Lauderdale, for taped speeches by MUHAMMAD as his tapes are advertised as played thereon at 5:30 a.m. each Sunday. It is also noted MUHAMMAD's books, "Message to the Black Man" and "How to Eat to Live," are both advertised in MS. Of course, MS is the best source of NOI activity.

It would appear [redacted] might consider direct contact with various NOI ministers in the Miami area as past experience has shown they welcome chances to be interviewed. If former members who are willing to discuss the situation could be located, this should be considered.

At the present time, Chicago does not desire to rehash some of the exposes that occurred around the time of the defection of MALCOLM X LITTLE as top level sources could be endangered and future activities thereof curtailed.

Referenced Miami airtel dated 8/25/69, reflected [redacted] is attempting to locate statements of prominent government and police officials regarding dangers created by the NOI. Again, Chicago agrees that the constant hate teachings against the white race is most undesirable. This is especially true as it relates to the children of the membership who are indoctrinated from birth on to hate the white man.

In an effort to keep [redacted] proposed documentary current, the following observations are set forth:

Report of [redacted] dated 6/20/69, pages 49 - 53, copy available to Miami, sets forth full details regarding ELIJAH MUHAMMAD's statements concerning his version of law and order; sets forth data regarding a meeting of the minds between the NOI and the Chicago Police Department; and relates details concerning plans by the National Society of Afro-American Policemen, New York City, to honor MUHAMMAD and the NOI in June, 1969. While this is in no way meant to infer the NOI is a useful, integral part of our society, it does infer a step forward may be occurring insofar as the NOI and police cooperation are concerned.

Several years ago, Chicago utilized a local Federal Judge to speak out against the NOI. He has not been utilized in this regard since the murder of MALCOLM X LITTLE as it was not the Bureau's desire to involve him in a name-calling contest. It is felt this trend should continue.

As you are aware, the NOI has carefully avoided any and all contact with other Black Nationalist groups and their involvements other than to call on them to join MUHAMMAD, the only divinely inspired leader of the black man.

Chicago is not in possession of information as to whether the NOI Temple in Miami is operating a University of Islam for children of its membership, but whether it does or not, [redacted] may desire to consider interviews of NOI leaders in Miami regarding the indoctrination of the children, specifically, as it relates to their feelings towards the white man, the United States Government, etc.

[redacted] may also desire to consider interviews of various local southern Florida police chiefs for their comments in this regard and also interviews of local prison officials relating to NOI activities therein.

Re Chicago letter (quarterly progress) dated 6/18/69.

Set forth hereinafter is the periodic progress letter concerning captioned matter as directed in Bureau airtel dated March 4, 1968, under captions as instructed:

1. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

In connection with captioned matter, Chicago is under Bureau instructions to submit, on a two week basis, a counterintelligence proposal regarding the Black Panther Party (BPP). Bureau letter to Baltimore, dated April 25, 1969, advised that in the quarterly progress letters it would be sufficient to note the dates on which these letters were submitted.

Since referenced letter, these letters have been submitted as follows:

July 9, July 13, and August 12, 1969.

Chicago continues to regard the local BPP as the focal point for counterintelligence. In this field, Chicago continues to analyze the available current information regarding local BPP activity in a continuing effort to determine what, if any, such information may be of any assistance in the development of a counterintelligence effort.

In recent weeks a highly vocal group of young Puerto Ricans calling themselves the Young Lords have undertaken action in the north side Puerto Rican neighborhood. This group is basically a youth gang, however, they have become active in neighborhood matters particularly urban renewal problems for the area. Information available concerning the Young Lords and its leaders is being reviewed with the end in mind of the possibility of developing a suitable counter-intelligence program concerning this group. When and if a suitable recommendation is developed, such will be provided to the Bureau in the event an effective action can be formulated.

2 and 3. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED AND TANGIBLE RESULTS OBTAINED

Chicago at present has in effect the program authorized by the Bureau July 31, 1969, to mail copies of cartoons prepared to further efforts to create a rift between the BPP and Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). It is, as yet, too early to determine what, if any, effect will be forthcoming.

This program is being pursued very carefully, in light of the Bureau's observations in letter of July 31, 1969. Any tangible results subsequently obtained will be provided the Bureau.

4. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The recent statement of DAVID HILLIARD, BPP, Chief of Staff, that the BPP will take action against SDS if they make "one more counter-revolutionary statement" would appear to indicate a widening of a rift between the BPP and SDS. This situation will be followed closely and where a counterintelligence effort would appear to have reasonably tangible potential, a suitable recommendation will be submitted.

No counterintelligence action will be taken by Chicago without Bureau approval.

Re Baltimore letter to Bureau dated 8/20/69.

During the two week period 8/18/69 - 8/29/69, there were no specific counterintelligence measures taken against the Black Panther Party (BPP).

[redacted] advised that although it has not been officially announced that MELVIN NEWTON, a member of the BPP and the brother of HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, has been kicked out of the BPP and that HUEY P. NEWTON is possibly going to be kicked out of the Party in the near future, it is recommended that anonymous letters be sent to HUEY P. NEWTON in jail to the effect that the Party leadership is using funds raised for the Huey P. Newton Defense Fund for the selfish means of the high-ranking BPP leadership. It could also be mentioned that the orders that HUEY has been disseminating from his prison headquarters are being distorted to meet the desires of the present leadership.

[redacted] also advised that ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, Minister of Information of the BPP, has grown disenchanted with the BPP leadership and the running of the Party and is soon to return to the United States and join a group of ousted members of the BPP and start a new organization. It is recommended in line with the aforementioned anonymous communications, that rumors should be started to the effect that CLEAVER is not in agreement with the present leadership and that he is going to resign from the Party prior to his own announcement of breaking away from the BPP.

No action will be taken until approval is received from the Bureau.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Re SL let to Bureau, 6/3/69.

The following information is submitted regarding the counterintelligence activities (Black Extremists) by the St. Louis Division in the past 90 days:

1. Operations Under Consideration

By letter dated 7/11/69, this Division sent in a pamphlet entitled "STORM WARNINGS" which was prepared by the Division as though a "right-wing" organization locally had published it. It exposed and ridiculed local Black Extremists and Communists. Certain questions were raised by the Bureau in regard to the pamphlet and revisions are being sent by St. Louis with a view toward obtaining Bureau authority to initiate this counterintelligence program.

2. Operations Being Effected

By letter dated 6/3/69 to New York, the Bureau authorized New York to send an anonymous mailing of STAUTON LYNN's letter which criticized the Black Panther Party. St. Louis letter to Bureau dated 6/27/69 provided New York with a list of 42 individuals and groups to which New York was to mail the letter. St. Louis sources have not reported any of the individuals or groups receiving this letter but New York may not have completed this activity inasmuch as St. Louis included one of its confidential postal boxes in the list given to New York, and no such letter has been received at this box.

3. Tangible Results

The counterintelligence program regarding the "Blackboard" newspaper handled this spring by this Division apparently completely "destroyed" [redacted] as a racial figure of any consequence. [redacted] who was an extremely active and vocal leader prior to this activity, is practically an "unknown" and has been completely neutralized.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

ACTION, a local Black activist group whose membership includes both Negroes and whites, is at the present time the only Black group of any significance other than the NOI. This Division is considering the best way to exploit differences among the membership with a view toward decreasing the group's effectiveness.

With the new school year starting soon, various Black and white student groups will be watched most closely for any attempts at violence. Any such group will be a target for counterintelligence activity and Bureau authority will be requested when positive plans are developed.

ReBulet 7/29/69 and SLlet 8/29/69.

A review of referenced SLlet failed to disclose whether the production and distribution of this pamphlet would be a criminal violation because the author and publisher are unidentified. In many jurisdictions it is a violation to produce and mail anonymous communications of a nature such as the proposed pamphlet. It is not desirable that local authorities should ever have to conduct an investigation as a result of counterintelligence activity. St. Louis should determine this fact and advise the Bureau.

[redacted]

NOTE:

St. Louis has proposed the anonymous mailing of a pamphlet to approximately 50 persons and organizations in the St. Louis area. This pamphlet will be entitled "Storm Warnings" and is designed to look like a Right wing publication. The pamphlet itself includes public source information on various leftists, student agitators and members of the Black Panther Party. Prior to authorizing this communication we are requesting information as to whether the production and subsequent mailing of this type of pamphlet is in and of itself a violation of any local criminal statute.

Remylet, 7-11-69, and Bulet, 7-29-69.

The pamphlet "Storm Warnings" has been reviewed by the St. Louis Division. Since the pamphlet will be mailed in Missouri to persons in Missouri only, the statutes of that state are at issue. Missouri statutes, Sections 559.410, 559.430, and 559.440 concern libel and define same as the "malicious defamation of a person which is made public." There is no doubt that "Storm Warnings" would fall in that category. However, the statutes further stipulate "truth is a complete defense" against any libel charges. Since each statement in the pamphlet contains a basis in fact any libel action is, therefore, negated. There are two additional factors which make any libel action unlikely. 1) The victims cannot take legal action against an unknown publisher (of Storm Warnings) and 2) Since the victims realize that the remarks are largely true, they would be very reticent to further publicize the statements by instituting legal action.

In view of the above, St. Louis requests that authority be granted to initiate this counterintelligence activity, with the following changes to be made:

Paragraph entitled "YUSUF SHABAZZ" to be deleted and the following substituted:

to jam the demands of the Marxist "Black Manifesto" down the throats of innocent Christian church-goers.

[redacted] who has never worked a day in his life, wants the White Community to hand him $500,000 cash "or else" so he can finance his expensive habits. Even members of his own race find him obnoxious; he has been booted out of CORE for running up a $300 telephone bill calling his girlfriends throughout the country.

Paragraph entitled [redacted] will be changed so that last sentence will read:

"He is in the thick of every anti-U.S. demonstration and usually accompanied by his young Japanese 'girl-friend', a teacher at Webster Groves College."

Re Bureau airtel to all offices dated 4/24/69.

Enclosed for the Bureau are six 8 x 10 photographs numbered 1 through 6 on the reverse of each photograph, which were furnished to the Memphis Office by [redacted]

Photograph #1 depicts demonstrators in the front of Clayborn Temple, 280 Hernando, Memphis, on the late afternoon of 11/10/69. It was this group which some 15 minutes after the photograph was taken threw rocks and bottles at police officers maintaining a barricade one block north of the location of this photograph which resulted in the arrest of 53 demonstrators, the use of teargas to repel the demonstrators, and led to subsequent localized looting and destruction of property at Memphis.

Photograph #2, #3, and #4 reflect damage done to buildings and to a motorcycle which was firebombed after the above group was repeled by teargas by the Memphis Police Department.

Photographs #5 and #6 reflect Negro school children running from Manassas High School on the morning of 11/17/69 at the urging of the NAACP which is attempting to boycott Memphis City Schools. These Negro youths caused some damage to school property upon leaving the school and required the Memphis Police Department to break up the groups into small groups and to prevent these Negro children from marching on downtown Memphis, Tennessee.

For the information of the Bureau, the enclosed newspaper article appeared in the 10/25/69 issue of the BPP. The article, which is an attack on RON KARENGA of the US organization, is self-explanatory. RON KARENGA

LEROI JONES

BLACK THING CO-OPTED

Ron "Malingering" Karenga, founder and misleading bourgeois priest of the US organization and cultural nationalism, must be described as being synonymous to the lying, murdering, demagogic pigs of the USA's organization, the CIA. But perhaps he is one lower than the usual run of the mill pig, because he has sold out and he is still selling out. He is using his Black skin and the foul knowledge embodied in his bald head to mesmerize Black people, to lead the people into believing a dashiki is more powerful than a pig's speeding bullet. The reason that pork chop nationalists have been able to get people to support their banner, which is manifested in a teaspoon of apolitical rhetoric, is because Black people are looking for something, for anything functional to eliminate the oppressor country fascists that have gone crazy, misleading, denying, and murdering them.

When rebellion sprang out in the colony, it was very beneficial for some greedy, articulate, nigger with a beard, bald head, and shades to take to the podium expounding on a Black-and-proud line, with slogans appealing (not necessarily helpful) to oppressed ears. This has been the basis for the coming together of the cultural nationalists in the Black colony of Babylon. In the outstart, the pig power structure saw this as [illegible]. They (the pigs) knew that Black people were growing in a new direction, even though the direction is one they were used to [illegible]. It was expressing itself in more violent terms. So the fascists put blood money into the colony and the pork chops slid into the melting pot. Now they are full-fledged pigs, out to corral and pacify a new wave called the "Black thing". The aim is to turn it toward Black capitalism.

So with the help of pig money, the cultural nationalists are sponsoring Black. When we have the occasion to check out various news media, Blackness is now in vogue. It has become as commercial as Coca Cola, an inroad to capitalism.

But the aim of double O agent Karenga and his elite core is not to make Black capitalists out of Black people, but to keep them at the "buy Black" level, that is customers. So this is the purpose of their doctrine: to build a character around Blackness deeply embodied with 16th century Africa and western styled bubas with matching bell bottoms, hoping that they can build a brainwashing or charisma to make Black people believe being Black, living Black, buying Black, etc. is the essence of liberation. But we say to Karenga, and Jones, and all the rest of their misleading fools who oink at the people, that we are hip to you and will not allow you to erroneously lead the people down the road to capitalism. We have experienced pig capitalism; and for what it's worth we can forget it!

Re Bulet to Baltimore 11/3/69.

Philadelphia sources familiar with certain aspects of the BPP activities of the Philadelphia Chapter have advised that no information thus far has come to their attention indicating that the Philadelphia BPP Branch is sending taped reports to BPP National Headquarters. These sources report that the only tape available to their knowledge at the Philadelphia BPP Office are taped speeches by such BPP officials as ELDRIDGE CLEAVER and HUEY NEWTON. Philadelphia sources have been directed to be alert for information indicating that such taped reports are made and if so to determine by whom they are made and when they are sent along with full description of the materials involved. Any pertinent information received will be immediately directed to the Bureau and San Francisco.

For the information of the Bureau, at the present time in San Diego a group of approximately five members of the BPP along with five female members of the party are utilizing BPP headquarters for a sex orgy on almost a nightly basis.

During these orgies, the partners are changed approximately three times during any given evening. This has led to a great deal of consternation and internal strife within the party as the result of jealousies concerning various partners.

[redacted] Bureau permission is requested to furnish the above information to the San Diego Police Department, Intelligence Unit, and to determine whether or not that department would have any legal basis for conducting a raid.

It is not felt that furnishing the above information to the San Diego Police Department on a confidential basis would in any way jeopardize any specific source of the FBI.

ReSClet to Bureau, 10/16/69.

Sacramento has no accomplishments to report during the past two-week period and has no counter-intelligence measures under consideration at this time.

As was pointed out in relet, this office has been endeavoring to develop a logical counterintelligence program; however, the BPP in this division has been almost dormant and no reasonable measure has been devised.

As will be reported in the next BPP report, the three BPP chapter headquarters within this division have closed. Chapters in Fresno, Vallejo and Sacramento are apparently in serious financial and organizational difficulty and have been forced to give up their headquarters. The Breakfast for Children Programs and the Liberation Schools which had been operating in Vallejo and Sacramento have also been eliminated. At present the BPP is not known to be operating in an organized fashion from any other headquarters location. This apparent complete disorganization of the Party at present makes it impossible to develop a logical counterintelligence program, inasmuch as many members have drifted away and the Party is not operative.

This matter will be closely followed and every effort will be made to develop a suitable counterintelligence measure if it appears that the Party is becoming reorganized within this division.

Re: San Francisco airtel to Bureau, 10/29/69, captioned "BLACK PANTHER PARTY-NEW HAVEN DIVISION, RM," and Bureau letter, 11/5/69.

Information contained in re San Francisco airtel regarding [redacted] displeasure with [redacted] was reviewed in the New Haven Division upon receipt for possible counter-intelligence exploitation. It is felt, however, that the time lag involved in following upon this information was excessive and would therefore be ineffectual and possibly expose the original source of information.

From information received, it would not appear that BPP Headquarters is at the present time presently displeased with [redacted] activities on the whole, but rather the incident reported caused [redacted] some displeasure towards [redacted]

The New Haven Division proposes a telephone call purportedly from [redacted] and BPP member, at such time that [redacted] would be out of the company of the BPP-New Haven leadership and rank and file. This call would criticize [redacted] for "not relating" to the local situation and being more concerned with demonstrations with Yale and MIT white radicals. [redacted] has been placed at the recent disturbances at Yale and M.I.T.

Enclosed to the Bureau and San Francisco is a letter which the New Haven Division proposes to mail to [redacted], who is [redacted] New Haven, Conn.

The letter as submitted under the captioned program is recommended in an attempt to possibly [redacted] and/or cause pressure to be exerted on [redacted] church to the extent that he will refrain from [redacted] Conn., in its endeavors.

[redacted] themselves [redacted] New Haven refrained from using this exact terminology in order to conceal this source. It is felt from an analysis of the proposed letter that if approved it will not compromise our sources or informants and therefore SAC New Haven recommends the letter be adopted as submitted.

Dear [redacted]

It pains me to have to write this letter to call to your attention a matter which, if brought to public light may cause the church a great deal of embarrassment. I wish to remain anonymous with regard to the information because in divulging it I may have violated a trust. I feel, however, that what I am writing is important enough that my conscience is clear.

You probably know that [redacted] has been involved in anti-war movements here in New Haven. This, [redacted] feels, is her right as guaranteed by our Constitution and although some do not agree with her viewpoint, this has never been a cause for concern among those who know her.

[redacted] latest escapades, however, are known to a select few, and needless to say those of us who are aware of the situation are deeply concerned as loyal Americans and Christians.

Specifically, I am referring to the fact that [redacted] I recently heard through a close friend of [redacted] that he is a revolutionist who advocates overthrowing the Government of the United States and that he has turned over a sizeable sum of money to the Panthers. I can present no evidence of fact, but is it possible [redacted] is being influenced by Communists? Some statements he has made both in church and out have led me to believe he is either a Communist himself, or so left-wing that the only thing he lacks is a card.

I consider myself a liberal, as do many of the people in the church. [redacted] however, has taken not one but many steps beyond liberalism and I sincerely question his loyalty.

I beseech you to counsel with [redacted] and relay our concern over his political philosophies, which, among other things, involves association with a known revolutionist, [redacted] head of the Black Panther Party in New Haven. I truly believe [redacted] to be a good man, but his yearning to help his fellow man may have caused him to go overboard and he now needs a guiding light which only you can provide.

Markle Turns Down Meeting On Panthers

By DAMIAN FORMISANO
Register Staff Reporter

State's Atty. Arnold Markle today refused to meet with a local group seeking release on bail or recognizance of the 12 Black Panther party members charged here with murder.

In an early morning confrontation at his office in the State Courthouse, Markle said he was barred from talking with the group and cited Superior Court Judge Aaron Palmer's recently issued order against pre-trial statements by those involved in the case.

After hearing these remarks from Markle, the five-member group, which included the Rev. Wade Eaton and Dr. Robert Abramovitz, then left the office to hold a press conference.

Over the weekend, the group reportedly received a telegram from Markle in which he declined to meet with them. Last Friday, Markle said he knew the group was coming to his office and he couldn't stop them from coming.

The delegation is representative of some 14 New Haven groups which claim the confinement of the 12 defendants without bail is unconstitutional.

The 12, including two men who are still fighting extradition in Colorado, are charged with having participated in the murder last May of alleged Black Panther informer Alex Rackley.

Rackley, 24, was reportedly kidnapped from New York City, taken to a New Haven apartment and tortured at a "kangaroo trial" by the defendants. He was then allegedly taken to Middlefield, slain and his body dumped into a swamp.

The 10 Black Panther party members being held in Connecticut, in connection with the murder, are now being held in various jails throughout the state.

MOVEMENT LIBERATION FRONT

The first source, whose reliability is not known, on [redacted] furnished a copy of a single mimeographed sheet published by the "Movement Liberation Front" (MLF). This sheet describes the objective of the front as organizing the "Movement" around ways of dealing with the legal system. It states that the MLF believes that the radical movement has been failing in its methods of dealing with the increasing repression. It states that the MLF was working with the International Liberation School organized in Berkeley by Tom Hayden and Stewart Albert, in starting a course in law as it effects the movement. It stated that the MLF also works with other community groups involved with radical politics by providing legal seminars and issuing a legal service of press releases on legal topics for the underground press. This mimeographed sheet stated that a project of the MLF has been preparation of a Radical Defense Handbook, which devotes itself to various legal and extra-legal tactics, and that the tone is set in the opening preamble which it quotes as follows: "...the legal system ... is one more institution to discredit and delegitimatize ..."

A review of a copy of the Radical Defense Handbook reflects the following additional comments printed in its introduction:

"Judges get appointed to the bench after years of faithful service to the local, regional, state and in higher courts national political machines. They are with rare exceptions the reliable instruments of the power structure. The exceptions find themselves excluded from judging political cases. The courts are our enemies just as the police and the regents are."

Another section of the introduction to the Radical Defense Handbook reads as follows:

"As long as people are willing to recognize the legitimacy of the legal system's authority over them, then--or as long as they refuse to deal with it--they make it quite easy for the courts to control people and crush movements. If, on the other hand, we view this as one area around which to organize, and one more institution to discredit and delegitimatize as we are doing with the colleges, high schools and political parties--ONE MORE BATTLEGROUND--these cases can be turned to our advantage."

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, aka
Black Panther Party for
Self Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by Bobby George Seale, BPP Chairman, and Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther," which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, George Mason Murray, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students For A Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxism-Leninism. MICHAEL KLONSKY, National Secretary, in March, 1969, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa, and Latin America with the black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam, and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the world-wide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other hand, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" reflects the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.

[redacted] said the BPP was a responsible organization and in referring to Bobby Seale's outburst at the "Chicago Eight" trial, he said that Seale just got sick and tired of this "horse manure" and called the judge "a Fascist racist and a low-down scoundrel".

[redacted] followed [redacted] nd started by saying that they had a right to rebel; that they were prepared to die and kill to protect self and family; and that the Party was moving in the direction of community control because it was the only direction they could take.

[redacted] promised a firing squad for "warring" Nixon, the "permanent elimination" of Governor Reagan, and a war in America. He voiced hatred for "Fascist racist judges", pigs and the University of California Board of Regents. He said, "We'll eliminate these people permanently and wage revolution if they stand in the way of our progress." He said, "We'll give the President another Vietnam here" and followed with the statement that the President did not deserve anything short of a firing squad.

Approximately 1,500 people attended the appearance at SSC, the vast majority being white. Present at the UCD affair were from 400 to 500 people.

These are photographs of an incendiary device discovered on November 1, 1969, in a second floor dressing room of Frederick and Nelson, Inc., a large downtown Seattle department store.

This device was found by a store detective at about 11:30 AM, November 1, 1969, after the dressing room had been occupied by a young Negro girl, about 16 years old. Her identity is unknown. The Seattle Fire Department is investigating the matter, but no suspects have been developed to date.

Four Western Winchester .38 caliber, 158 grain bullet, cartridges were pressed into the Sterno compound with the bases toward the bottom of the can. A fifth cartridge, of the same make, was laid on top of the compound. The device was not fired and the store sustained no damage. [redacted] Seattle Fire Department, is of the opinion that had the can been lighted, the cartridges would not have exploded, because the alcohol fumes would have burned over the opening of the can and would not have been in direct contact with the cartridges; he does not believe the heat below the flame would have been sufficient to set off the cartridges. This is based on previous tests he has conducted.

It is requested that the Photographic Laboratory develop the above mentioned film and furnish [redacted] at the Bureau, Division 5, with 8" X 10" prints to be used as visual aids. Re Bureau letter to San Francisco, 11/3/69, and Kansas City teletype to the Bureau and San Francisco, 10/16/69, captioned "BLACK PANTHER PARTY-Travel of Leadership; RM; [redacted] RM-BPP"

[redacted] BPP, announced to local news media that he had information that Chief of Police CLARENCE KELLEY, Kansas City, Mo. PD, knowingly supplied guns to right wing organizations. [redacted] subsequently travelled to Washington, D.C. 10/13/69, and disrupted the Senate Sub-Committee hearing, chaired by Senator RIBICOFF. News accounts reported that RIBICOFF told [redacted] to first present his alleged evidence to committee aides. [redacted] refused to give his alleged information and subsequently returned to Kansas City. To date, he has not disclosed this information. 54 NOV 20 1969

For the information of the Bureau and San Francisco, on 10/10/69, it was locally publicized in Kansas City newspapers that [redacted] was allegedly wounded in the right arm. This and subsequent local news items attributed conflicting statements to [redacted]. In one, [redacted] claimed a Minuteman shot him from a passing car. In another, [redacted] indicated this statement was untrue. The above news accounts and those relating to [redacted] trip to and from Washington, D.C. strongly suggest that [redacted] made all of his news releases, without foundation, to hold up Chief of Police KELLEY, Kansas City, Mo. PD, to ridicule and to publicize [redacted]. It is noted the 10/25/69 issue of The Black Panther newspaper contained an article re this incident, which claimed the shooting was done by agents of the police to prevent [redacted] from testifying in Washington, D.C. (Another example of conflicting statements by [redacted].)

It is noted that [redacted] was accompanied to Washington, D.C. by two trusted associates, and he was accompanied to San Francisco by a trusted associate. It is assumed he has explained his position to the BPP leaders in San Francisco. The article in The Black Panther newspaper indicates BPs presently are blaming the establishment for attempting to stop [redacted] from testifying.

In view of the above, the opinion of the Kansas City Office is that an anonymous telephone contact with the National BPP to discredit [redacted] may now be questionable as [redacted] has undoubtedly explained his activity on 10/16/69 to National BPP, and could use [redacted] and [redacted] as supporting witnesses re [redacted] conduct in Washington. Though such an anonymous telephone contact could not be traced, both National BPP and [redacted] and his local associates would probably suspect the anonymous call to be the product of BPP defectors or law enforcement. [redacted] probably would use any knowledge of such a call to enhance his position with his own small chapter staff and membership.

An anonymous call just prior to [redacted] arrival with [redacted] at National BPP headquarters 10/16/69 would certainly have been more timely. However, there appears to be a substantial question that such a call would have resulted adversely to [redacted] or his chapter, again due to the small, close-knit leadership staff and membership of the local chapter.

Re San Diego letter to the Bureau 10/6/69.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Four requests for counterintelligence action are presently awaiting Bureau evaluation.

One of these requests concerns an anonymous letter directed to BPP headquarters, Oakland, objecting to BPP headquarters, San Diego, being utilized for sex orgies. Another concerns a letter to BPP headquarters, Los Angeles, objecting to activities of [redacted] in San Diego.

The third request concerns an article which appeared in the BPP newspaper of 10/25/69. This article attacks [redacted] A request has been made to mail the article to [redacted] and urge retaliatory action.

The fourth request concerns a possible raid conducted on BPP headquarters, [redacted]

Newark is being requested by separate communication to determine if [redacted] is prohibited from travelling outside the immediate Newark area by any court order and/or probation or parole department order. If it did, Bureau permission will be requested to invite [redacted] to speak at Los Angeles and/or San Diego areas. And, if the invitation is accepted, would result in the violation of the above mentioned conditions and possibly be culminated in the arrest of [redacted]

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Bureau approved information regarding the incorporation of US, Incorporated, has been furnished to [redacted]

On 11/7/69, [redacted] advised that he has made appropriate inquiries concerning whether or not this group has filed the necessary forms and expects results of his inquiries in approximately two weeks. [redacted] stated that he has requested information as to whether or not US filed the appropriate forms for the years 1967 and 1968.

No results have thus far been obtained from the Los Angeles Division concerning any reaction to the Bureau approved anonymous letter mailed to [redacted] concerning the white men who attended an US meeting.

Results are being observed concerning the Bureau approved information furnished to [redacted] of Governor REAGAN's office. The Bureau is requested to see the following section of this letter for results thus far observed.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

Since the Bureau approved telephone call was placed to [redacted] concerning [redacted] being a "pig", the accusations against [redacted] have continued by various members of the BPP, [redacted] The results of these accusations came to a climax about two and one half weeks ago and approximately two weeks ago [redacted] was kicked out of the BPP for being a "pig" and for "not relating right." At the present time, the San Diego members of the BPP are looking for [redacted] who is in hiding, apparently for the purpose of beating him up.

On 11/4/69, local news media carried a story reflecting that State Senators and Representatives in California have launched a statewide investigation into the misappropriation of funds designated for the various state colleges. This investigation follows, within one week, information received from [redacted] of Governor REAGAN's office, that she had made the Bureau approved confidential information available to the Governor on a confidential basis. It is felt that the Bureau approved information furnished to [redacted] on 9/19/69, contributed greatly or was solely responsible for the above mentioned investigation presently being conducted by the state.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

At the present time things are unusually quiet in the Southeast section of San Diego. No recent conflicts have been noted between the rival militant US and BPP groups. There is, however, some internal strife within the BPP concerning the sex orgies at BPP headquarters. Counterintelligence action has been requested in this regard.

[redacted] and [redacted] both appear to be out of the BPP at the present time. BPP members are reportedly looking for [redacted] in an effort to administer a beating to him.

A copy of NEWTON's visiting record is being furnished to the San Francisco Office.

Information appearing in referenced airtel was not furnished to [redacted] however, he was questioned as to the possibility of NEWTON making a tape and having it smuggled out of the prison. [redacted] advised that because of court rulings, attorneys are allowed to bring tape recorders into the institution and to tape interviews with the inmates. He noted that the recordings are supposed to be for legal work and the institution does not play them back or know the contents of the recordings because it is considered priviledged communication between attorney and client. He noted that one of NEWTON's attorneys, [redacted] always brings a recorder to the institution.

[redacted] also noted that NEWTON could make a tape in the institution and pass it to an attorney. NEWTON is searched before he talks to visitors and his attorney, and stripped search after visits. He further noted that visitors pass through a metal detector before visiting inmates.

NOTE:

St. Louis recommended sending an editorial from a Negro newspaper to white members of ACTION. ACTION is a black activist group which has demonstrated to end the Veiled Prophet Ball, a St. Louis socialite institution. The editorial in the Negro newspaper, according to St. Louis, criticizes this effort; however, the editorial actually criticizes the Veiled Prophet Ball and the logic behind the militant's actions at the same time. Thus it is doubtful that a mailing of this editorial to white members of ACTION would affect that group's campaign.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

Enclosed for the Bureau are two Xerox copies of an editorial which appeared in the St. Louis American, a local weekly Negro-oriented newspaper on 10/30/69.

BACKGROUND

As the Bureau is aware, the Veiled Prophet Ball, an annual event which begins the St. Louis social season, has been the subject of bitter attack by ACTION, a local black activist group, for the past several years. In recent years ACTION has participated in demonstrations and disruptions aimed at ending both the Veiled Prophet Ball and the Veiled Prophet Parade. The membership of ACTION has been attempting to convince St. Louis residents, primarily the black community, that the Veiled Prophet Ball is a "white racist institution".

The enclosed editorial appeared on page 8 of the October 30, 1969, edition of the St. Louis American. It criticizes the black militants who have been attempting to disrupt and distort the Veiled Prophet Ball and points out that the event is not really distasteful nor detrimental to the black community.

Although ACTION is a black activist group its membership includes several whites. These individuals have been successful in convincing a few white churchmen to side with ACTION in calling for an end to Veiled Prophet "racism".

RECOMMENDATION

The St. Louis Division proposes to anonymously mail copies of this editorial to all white members of ACTION as well as white ministers who have publicly stated their support of ACTION's demand for an end to the Veiled Prophet Ball. It is unlikely that these people would have had the opportunity to read this editorial inasmuch as the St. Louis American is a Negro newspaper with a relatively limited circulation. It is believed that the editorial from a Negro editor would have a great deal of influence on their thinking in regards to the Veiled Prophet Ball. It is conceivable that the editorial may even convince them to withdraw their support of ACTION's demands and the resulting loss of support could, therefore, result in a lessening of racial tension next year at the time of the Veiled Prophet Ball.

Bureau authority is requested to initiate the above counterintelligence operation. The number of mailings, which would not exceed 30 in number, would be affected through the use of commercially purchased stationery. St. Louis informants and sources should be able to furnish the results and reaction of the individuals involved concerning this counterintelligence operation.

EDITORIALS

WHY NOT FIRST DIG THE TRUE HISTORY OF THE VEILED PROPHET?

In this day of supposed "enlightenment" over things historic—especially where there is a shadow of blackness—there was something immature and asinine about the protest of the group of good Episcopalians against the Veiled Prophet celebration here in St. Louis. Their criticism of the annual affair has a ring to it, but their "reasons" are not based on the historic facts. It is tectotally wrong to associate the Veiled Prophet and its matrix the New Orleans Mardi Gras with any Southern plantation way of life.

The critics of the Veiled Prophet at least should check the history, or we allow those who seek to disrupt and distort any and all of the "establishment's" show-offs without a constructive program to offer in substitute. For years on years the Veiled Prophet and its model the Mardi Gras have been severely criticized. But never for portraying or upholding the old slave South and its crinoline-magnolia-crepe-jasmine fiction.

A quick search will reveal that the St. Louis Veiled Prophet affair began in 1878. A more thorough search will also reveal that this was a time of the rise of organized labor, and that the new social affair had anti-labor overtones. At that time struggling labor did not regard the Negro, and called him a "black scab". The idea was an imitation of the New Orleans annual Mardi Gras without the Catholic Lenten season feature. However, the New Orleans pre-lent celebration that indulged in festivities that would never have been permitted on the plantations, was in fact preceded by a similiar celebration in Mobile, where it was originated. Both of these antecedents used foreign names and terms that would be an insult, to any plantation owner. In Mobile it was "Comebellion de Rakin". . .and in New Orleans it was "mystic Krewe, with Comus, Momus, Nereus and their train of revelers -- all called Mardi Gras". . .The plantation owners could not even pronounce those "furrin" words. . .

In St. Louis the modification was towards the Masonic mysteries and the terms of the "hot sands of Arab" were used -- thus the mystic ruler with the title "The Mysterious Veiled Prophet of Khorassan."

Coming back to our first insinuation that the St. Louis Veiled Prophet affair is distasteful to Negroes because it connotes the old plantation way of life. . .This is also a faulty conclusion because, facts have it out, the plantation per se is not the real bias. There are two ready examples.

A close study of American plantation life (and you would encourage our young black intellectuals to dig this!) will show that the planters modeled their way of life on the Greek State. The reputable historian V. L. Parrington confirms this.

> "Many Southerners gave up the idea of becoming imperfect feudal lords and tried the experiment of becoming imperfect ancient Greeks. . .Caught between two forces of a Jeffersonian democracy and a slave economy, Southern thought found in Greek ideal the most natural compromise. Since manual labor was black, a white skin was a guarantee against serfdom, and the common race prejudice was accounted sufficient to draw even the poor whites to the support of slavery. The Greek ideal of a muscill helot class to support their ruling class met the double needs of the Southern plantation economics and cultural claims. . ."

In further acceptance of this Greek "concept" the plantation owners went in for a whole-sale architectual change, building plantation mansions with great white Corinthian and Doric columns—which is known in our American history as the "Greek Revival" era.

Now, my dears, would it be logical to accuse our various Greek fraternity and sorority black members of aping and following a system that is distasteful to all Negroes because of its plantation connection? By no means! The plantation use of the Greek way of life really the ultimate test of the virtues of the Greeks. Nor would we be in asking for the abolition of the Veiled Prophet affair—it does not even accommodate the old plantation concept and its solid Greek "muscill" acceptance.

The second observation on our St. Louis Veiled Prophet situation is the very obvious one. For a number of years now the A. M. E. group has led the confrontation of the Veiled Prophet celebration parade and grand ball. But the thrust of the action now has been "let us inside—let us blacks participate!" And they have had their own annual Black Veiled Prophet celebration. They have been criticized for this as a free country, and we support their privilege protests. But what of this new emphasis? Is it being distasteful and hurting all blacks' morale? Is it in such a deleterious affair? Why imitate it? Isn't the basic fault and insult early declared and the protest now on this point? . . .

We are all a part and parcel of the American people, with all the brain-washed fantasies about "race" and "race" the overwhelming majority of us "black folks" is going to continue reproducing and dying right here in the U. S.—and we should continue to participate in its vanities and social amenities. Have ever been privileged to attend an after-demonstration of the "primitive" brothers and count the "blue-eyed blonds" there. That's another stubborn fact that no compromising history shall veal. . .And right here, what of it! . . .

As for the local Veiled Prophet, this aging editorial continues to think it is frothy and [illegible] fancy which is prescribed manna for our American people at large. There are thousands, regardless of racial affiliation, who get a real joy pleasure out of the show. But there are thousands who [illegible] it by without a care, one way or the other. And who could less? . . .

Re Miami airtel to the Bureau, 10/15/69, and Miami letter to the Bureau, 10/23/69.

RECOMMENDATION FOR LETTERS OF COMMENDATION

The purpose of this communication is to recommend individual letters of commendation for [redacted] of the Miami office for their outstanding performance and results obtained in a counterintelligence undertaking involving the production of a 30-minute color television documentary, produced by [redacted]

BACKGROUND

The Miami Division instituted this counterintelligence undertaking, with Bureau approval, for the purpose of exposing the operations of the NATION OF ISLAM (NOI) in the Miami Division, with particular emphasis upon the fact that exorbitant sums of money were being extracted from individual members as well as the community without any benefits being derived loca

The Counterintelligence Program, Black Nationalist Hate Groups is coordinated by [redacted] The NOI is assigned to [redacted] Both are under the [redacted]

This counterintelligence undertaking was developed and carried out through the efforts of these individuals and through their personal contacts and relationship with [redacted]

The necessary information was developed and presented in such a manner that the station could obtain public source material from which to produce this film without the Bureau's interest becoming evident. Each and every film segment produced by the station was submitted for our scrutiny to insure that we were satisfied and that nothing was included which could in any say be contrary to our interests.

The final 30-minute color documentary evolving out of those efforts was captioned "Fear of the Secret Dark" and was presented [redacted] to insure maximum exposure. The station not only utilized prime time but also did considerable local advertising prior to the showing of this program, which had an audience rating in excess of 200,000.

The local interest created by this program far exceeded the station's expectations and the station has since received numerous favorable comments, along with requests that copies of the documentary film be made available for local showings.

The program did an outstanding job in accomplishing the goals desired in exposing the NOI, its background, ideology and exploitation of the black community.

The immediate tangible results obtained indicate that considerable dissension has been created in the local Mosque, which should be highly significant in its ability to extract money from the membership and/or increase its membership. Further, information has just been received that the local minister has been transferred.

As a result of the creative abilities of these Agents, another highly successful counterintelligence undertaking has been accomplished by the Miami Division. The efficient manner in which this undertaking was accomplished and the results obtained in this coordinated effort are most noteworthy.

In further appreciation of the assistance received in the producing of this film, [redacted] has made available to the Bureau at no cost a 16 mm copy of the original Cinescope tape. This film has been forwarded to the Bureau with referenced Miami letter of 10/23/69.

It is recommended that individual letters of commendation be directed to [redacted] for their outstanding contributions in this highly successful counterintelligence accomplishment.

All three of the above Agents are within the Bureau's desired weight range.

ADDENDUM: Domestic Intelligence Division, 10-29-69, TJD:drl:

The Domestic Intelligence Division concurs with the recommendations of the Special Agent in Charge, Miami. By memorandum G.C. Moore to Mr. W. C. Sullivan dated 10-21-69, prepared by TJD:ekw, captioned as above, the facts of this operation were set out and the valuable results were described. The Director noted "Excellent" on this memorandum.

We authorized Miami to cooperate with an established source [redacted], to prepare program exposing black extremist Nation of Islam (NOI). The program resulted in much favorable comment by the audience; NOI leaders plan a rebuttal in the NOI newspaper and attendance by visitors at weekly NOI meetings has dropped 50 percent since the program. This was the result of personal contacts by three Special Agents with the [redacted] (handles the counterintelligence program), and [redacted]. (Racial [redacted] are recommended for commendation for their handling of this excellent operation [redacted]

Recent communications received at the Bureau indicate that various BPP branches are forwarding taped reports to national BPP headquarters at San Francisco. In an effort to determine if this procedure will lend itself to successful counterintelligence operations, it is requested that the recipient offices determine the following.

1. If BPP branches in your territory are sending reports on tape to national headquarters or to other branches.

2. If tapes are generally dictated by the same person, if so, who?

3. The extent of use, that is, are tapes sent on a regular basis or sporadically. If regularly, are they sent out on a particular day of the week?

4. Full description of tape utilized including brand, size, etc.

Remyairtel dated 10/20/69.

Investigation has indicated that no citation was issued in the automobile accident involving [redacted]. The accident occurred in Berkeley, California and the pedestrian involved was not injured. There is no possibility of counterintelligence action in this matter and it is not being further pursued. No suit has as yet been filed concerning the auto fatality involving [redacted] but the matter is being followed.

San Francisco still has pending the preparation of expulsion letter to be mailed to members who are not close to national headquarters. On 10/30/69, auxilliary offices were requested to respond to San Francisco airtel dated 9/26/69, concerning this matter.

The only other counterintelligence project under consideration involves ascertaining by the Los Angeles Division of the possibility [redacted] has been smuggling tape recording of HUEY NEWTON from jail.

ReSlairtel 10/31/69 captioned "Speech of Fred Hampton, Chairman, Illinois Black Panther Party (BPP), Normal, Illinois, 10/29/69, RM; IS - SDS."

Reairtel noted that at a speech by Fred Hampton, Chairman of the Illinois Black Panther Party (BPP), attendees were required to submit to comprehensive searches of their person without prior notice. The searches were conducted by white persons dressed in hippie clothing.

Chicago and Springfield should submit recommendations for counterintelligence action to exploit this situation, and possibly to prevent future searches of this type, which interfere with our coverage of public speeches by black extremists. Consideration might be given to preparing letters to campus or local newspapers protesting "facist and police state tactics." The use of white hippies as security for the appearance of a Black Panther leader might also be appropriately brought to the attention of BPP headquarters. Chicago and Springfield should give this matter imaginative thought and submit recommendations as soon as possible. No counterintelligence action should be taken without Bureau authority.

The following successful counterintelligence action taken by the NYO with respect to the Black Panther Party (BPP) Breakfast Program is set forth for information purposes.

On 10/28/69, information was received that [redacted] had contacted [redacted] somewhere in New York, and made arrangements to institute a Breakfast Program at the church.

Investigation by the NYO determined that the church referred to was probably [redacted] and the priest possibly one Father [redacted]

[redacted] was interviewed by [redacted] and [redacted] He stated that he had been approached by one [redacted] from the BPP on 10/27/69. She requested space at [redacted] in order that the BPP could serve free breakfast to the local children. She said the food would be solicited from local merchants, the BPP would serve it and the BPP would clean the premises after breakfast.

[redacted] stated that he readily agreed to the program but stipulated to [redacted] that no political overtures could be made to the children. She agreed and he approved of the program which was to begin on 11/3/69. [redacted] stated that he was aware of the reputation of the BPP, but felt that he could oversee the program and control it fully.

REC 85

The interviewing agents proceeded to fully discuss the BPP with [redacted] It was pointed out to him that while, as he stated, he is aware of the BPP reputation, such action on his part would provide the BPP with an aura of respectability. The agents related to him the problems which could arise should he one day decide to discontinue the program after it started. Children would have been indoctrinated with BPP ideology, others in his school would be recruited into the BPP, parents would be discontented with a discontinuation of free breakfast and local merchants would be chagrined at possibly being forcibly persuaded to give free food to [redacted]

[redacted] appeared apprehensive at the possible repercussions of such a program and stated that he knew of no way to call it off at this late date.

He was advised that another Pastor, in a similar situation, called a meeting of his Parish Council (PC) submitted the BPP program to them and by unanimous vote the PC voted against the idea.

[redacted] thanked the agents for their consideration of his problem and expressed his appreciation for the FBI alerting him to what could have been a disasterous situation. In conclusion, he stated that he would call an emergency meeting of his non-existent Parish Council and advise the BPP of the decision not to have a BPP sponsored Free Breakfast Program.

On 11/3/69, [redacted] was recontacted at which time he stated that the BPP Free Breakfast Program did not begin as planned on this date nor would he permit it at [redacted] in the future.

Remylet 10/15/69.

Nothing has transpired with the Denver group of the BPP in the past two weeks.

There is very little activity in the Denver group and it appears, according to informants, that the Denver group will disband after [redacted] and [redacted] are extradited to New Haven, Connecticut, to stand trial for the [redacted] murder. They are currently incarcerated in Denver County Jail without bond.

The Denver group is currently being controlled by out-of-town members of the Panthers who are getting no support and their own morale is at a low ebb. It is felt that there is nothing Denver can do at the present time to make matters in the Denver group any worse than their own current position.

If, in the meantime, anything transpires in the matter of counterintelligence, the proposal will be submitted to the Bureau at that time.

In view of the above information, Denver will discontinue its biweekly letter under instant caption, UACB.

The audience rating for this show was in excess of 200,000.

The program received considerable advance publicity through the local newspapers' Sunday TV Section and through a preview which appeared in the TV Section of the Oct. 8, 1969 edition of the Miami Herald. The program also was the subject of numerous spot announcements, as well as news reports for the days immediately preceeding Oct. 9th.

[redacted] advised on 10/14/69 that considerable problems were experienced in the preparation of the program. The refusal by NOI officers and members to be interviewed created a serious lack of visual material believed to be necessary for this type of program and consideration was given to dropping the program, [redacted] they did go through with the program. He said that he is very happy that this program was presented, as it turned out, in his opinion, to be an excellent program, one that has done a service to the community and has reflected favorably on the public image of [redacted]

[redacted] said that the audience response was much greater than had been anticipated and that telephone calls received at the conclusion of the program were so numerous that the switchboard was unable to handle all the calls. He said that if this had been anticipated, extra help would have been assigned to the switchboard so that all phone calls could be handled. He said that approximately 100 phone calls were handled, and all, with the exception of one or two, commented very favorably on the program. He estimated at least 40 - 50 phone calls were unanswered because the switchboard operators could not handle them..

[redacted] also said that several community leaders have made favorable comments to him, as well as other executives, and the owners of that TV station, concerning this program.

[redacted] further advised that at least three local organizations have asked to borrow the film of this program for showing to their members as a public service. He also advised that the Broward County Sheriff's Office has requested its use for showing to their officers and in connection with their community service program.

[redacted] hat this expose [redacted] He said that this program [redacted] The NOI leaders have not denied the facts as presented on this program, but have attempted to justify its points, which they believe present the NOI in an unfavorable or embarrassing light. He said that Mosque 29 officials, in an attempt to offset the unfavorable publicity received through this program, are planning to request permission from ELIJAH MUHAMMAD to prepare a three-part series for "Muhammad Speaks" to justify the NOI activities as reported in this program.

[redacted]

A member of Mosque 29, when interviewed by Special Agents on 10/13/69, said he believed the program would hurt recruiting efforts of this Mosque, although he did not believe it would have any effect on current membership.

[redacted] most of these people have had very little contact with the NOI. They have had a rather favorable impression of that organization because of the clean, neat appearance of members they have seen selling "Muhammad Speaks". He said that through the program they have learned of some of the facts of the NOI and therefore now look upon that organization in a much less favorable light.

The program showed that the leaders of this organization were people of questionable character, it showed the militancy of some of the NOI teachings and the ridiculousness of other teachings. It also clearly showed the large amount of money taken as contributions from the members, through which they received practically no benefits. It pointed out the luxury in which some NOI officials lived.

The Miami Division feels the results of this program are outstanding and should be a definite deterrent to the operation of this organization in the Miami area. The Miami Division also feels that this highly significant counterintelligence undertaking will be of extreme value in its interview program and it will be used during interviews with potential NOI informants.

[redacted] advised that the station was going to the expense of having copies made of this program and that one copy will be made available to the Bureau to show their appreciation for Bureau assistance in preparing the program. He said this film should be available around the 21st of October and when obtained it will be forwarded to the Bureau.

This is to advise of highly successful results of counterintelligence exposing the black extremist Nation of Islam (NOI) in Miami, Florida.

We previously authorized the Miami Division to cooperate with [redacted] The NOI is a pseudo-religious organization which preaches hatred of the white race. This documentary expose of the NOI was shown [redacted] and the audience rating for this show was in excess of 200,000.

[redacted] was elated at the response. The station received more favorable telephone calls from viewers than the switchboard could handle. Community leaders have commented favorably on the program, three civic organizations have asked to show the film to their members as a public service, and the Broward County Sheriff's Office plans to show the film to its officers and in connection with its community service program.

This expose showed that NOI leaders are of questionable character and live in luxury through the large amount of money taken as contributions from their members. The extreme nature of NOI teachings was underscored. Miami sources advised the expose has caused considerable concern to local NOI leaders who have attempted to rebutt the program at each open meeting of the NOI since the program was presented. Local NOI leaders plan a rebuttal in the NOI newspaper. Attendance by visitors at weekly NOI meeting has dropped 50%. This shows the value of carefully planned counterintelligence action.

EXTORTION TACTICS IN JACKSON?

Dear Jack Sunn:

I have an uneducated adult relative by marriage who has told me very reluctantly that he began attending Nation of Islam "Muslim church" group meetings in the recent past held weekly at a building on Farish Street in Jackson. This relative says the all black group has several leaders who all are from outside Mississippi originally and there seems to be "more chiefs than Indians."

They demand $6 to $7 per week dues and preach segregation of races, give anti-white sermons, advocate that blacks avoid Army service and have guards posted at meetings. Due to the high "donations" demanded and apparent suspicious goings on regarding meetings and funds collected he stopped attending meetings. He was harassed, badgered and intimidated at his home and work by strongarm men associated with the group's leaders who tried to force him to pay dues and help in raising funds.

After his repeated protests they finally left him alone.

Is there anything that can be done to prevent these outsiders from preying on poor uneducated citizens in Jackson? I understand the group is still active in town. —P. C. R.

You should have your relative and anyone else known to be so treated to relate his experiences to local law enforcement agencies who will be especially interested in any force or extortion methods used to coerce persons to work or to pay "dues" or "donations" against their will; also reputable community leaders in the area should be advised about operations of this nature so that they can educate unsuspecting persons in advance.

1. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The New Haven Division remains alert for counterintelligence possibilities in the BPP Breakfast for Children Program. It should be noted, however, that apparent lack of support by local businesses has inhibited the effectiveness of this program. One Boston source advised recently that eggs would be brought to New Haven from Boston, probably for use in the Breakfast program.

2. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

As authorized by the Bureau, New Haven will continue to furnish public source data to approved press representatives. New Haven will remain alert for those incidents or circumstances which may lend themselves to counterintelligence exploitation.

The New Haven Division is pursuing those investigations which will lead to successful prosecution of BPP members and leadership at the Federal or local level.

3. TANGIBLE RESULTS

The Human Relations Council of Greater New Haven, Inc., charged on October 20, 1969, that the 13 BPP members arrested in connection with the murder of ALEX RACKLEY had been "tried and convicted by the press." Singled out for this attack was the "New Haven Register," which carried a full front page account of the details available to the press immediately following the arrests.

SUBJECT: COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE - BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

This is to advise of the results of a counterintelligence endeavor recently undertaken by the New York Office, which will result in an added expense of thousands of dollars in the shipment of the Black Panther Party (BPP) newspaper publication.

The notorious extremist BPP ships its publication on a weekly basis through [redacted] These papers are packed in wine boxes and sealed with brown paper. Up until recently, [redacted] charged the BPP a general rate for printed material. The New York Office had conversations with [redacted] and beginning at this time, the BPP will be charged the full legal rate allowable for newspaper shipment. Officials advised that this increase is $7.50 per 100 weight. This will amount to an increase of around $300 weekly in shipments to New York City alone. [redacted] will impose the full legal tariff on all shipments throughout the country by the BPP. Consideration is being given to a lawsuit to collect past tariffs due.

This counterintelligence endeavor by the New York Office will definitely have an adverse effect on the amount of incendiary propaganda being published by the BPP. The group suffers from a constant shortage of funds. This additional charge will undoubtedly hinder the future growth of the BPP.

Retel requested that San Francisco take necessary steps to insure that the rate charged the BPP for [redacted] shipments of "The Black Panther" newspaper from San Francisco to all points have full newspaper tariff imposed rather than general printed matter rate.

[redacted] advised on 10/15/69, that there is a different [redacted] rate for general printed matter and for newspapers coming in to San Francisco from New York and other eastern points. He stated that the only [redacted] rate applicable to newspapers that can be imposed at San Francisco is the rate for printed matter, which is $18.85 per hundred weight.

[redacted] explained that [redacted] rates are based on competition and other factors which cause them to vary considerably in different areas and when going in different directions. He pointed out that when shipping from New York to California there is both a general printed matter and a rate for newspapers which is much higher. However, he emphasized this is not true when shipping from California to New York.

[redacted] also stated that the rates quoted by [redacted] are exactly the same as the rates quoted by [redacted] carriers in San Francisco.

In view of the above no further contacts being made in this regard.

Since you have no indication at this time that the BPP chapter in Baltimore is delinquent in payment of any of its utility bills, it does not appear that any counterintelligence measure is indicated at this time. Should you later develop information through established sources of your office that the BPP branch in Baltimore is delinquent at any specific utility company, you should then submit specific recommendations regarding action to be taken.

NOTE:

In relet, Baltimore speculates that the BPP chapter in Baltimore may be running low on Money and if this is the case it is possible that the utility bills may go unpaid. Baltimore suggests contact with the gas and electric companies there to determine status of BPP account and if unpaid, arrangements be made to turn off utilities. This is all a speculation on the part of Baltimore Office and in the absence of more concrete information, further action is not warranted at this time.

Re Baltimore letter to Bureau, 9/3/69.

Periodic checks in the vicinity of Black Panther Party (BPP) headquarters at 1209 N. Eden Street, during the months of September and October, reflects that the BPP was not using their record player for the purpose of broadcasting in the neighborhood.

[redacted] of the Baltimore BPP, was arrested by local police and turned over to the FBI on a Federal warrant issued in California charging subject with UFAP - Burglary. [redacted] remains incarcerated at this time.

The arrest of [redacted] left the BPP without [redacted] in the Baltimore area.

It is felt at this time that with the BPP being without [redacted] and the coming of cold weather, the possibility exists that the Baltimore Chapter may be running low on money. If this is the case it is possible that their utilities bills may go unpaid.

It is, therefore, recommended that a discreet contact be made at the Baltimore Gas and Electric Company to determine the status of the BPP account.

If it is found to be unpaid and the company were to turn the utilities off, this could have the effect of splitting the chapter by not having a central meeting place.

Baltimore will not take any specific action until advised by the Bureau.

ReBulet to NY, 10/9/69.

Referenced Bureau letter indicated that NY should assess the press and television publicity given to the "BPP Clothing for Children Program" in the New York City area. In particular it was pointed out that a SF source made mention of the presence of the news media being present at a place in NYC where on 9/28/69, members of the BPP distributed not only clothing but also propaganda material.

[redacted] who has furnished reliable information in the past, [redacted] that while there were representatives of the news media present at the aforementioned giveaway on 9/28/69, to his knowledge it received only minimal reporting by the newspapers and television stations within the metropolitan NY area, to wit a single mention in the "Amsterdam News", a weekly newspaper with circulation generally limited to the Black population in the Harlem, NYC area.

NY remains constantly alert for any favorable publicity given in the local news media to the activities of the BPP and other Black Nationalist and Hate Groups but in this instance it appears that the "BPP Clothing for Children Program" is not receiving sufficient press or newspaper coverage to enable NY at this time to foreward to the Bureau a specific counterintelligence proposal designed to negate favorable publicity received by that program.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

Reurlet 10/20/69.

Enclosed for information of San Francisco is a copy of relet which sets out a proposal for an anonymous letter to be mailed to BPP headquarters from Los Angeles. Los Angeles earlier had suggested such a letter as a disruptive technique.

Los Angeles is requested to advise further as to its objective in this anonymous mailing. From prior correspondence (Los Angeles letter 9/24/69 under above caption) it appears that [redacted] who are mentioned in anonymous letter, are active in setting up new organization of ex-BPP members in Los Angeles. It does not appear that the action you propose would have any particular divisive value unless the individuals attempting to set up this new organization are currently considered loyal BPP members by national headquarters and unless their activities in trying to set up this organization are unknown to headquarters. You also mentioned [redacted] in your proposed anonymous letter. Advise as to the significance of including his name. Clarify above and advise Bureau and San Francisco promptly.

NOTE: Los Angeles has suggested an anonymous letter be directed to a national BPP official, proportedly from an ex-Panther still sympathetic to the BPP. The letter names three individuals in Los Angeles and suggests they are recruiting ex-Panthers to join a new organization. As outlined in above letter, the objectives of Los Angeles are not entirely clear. Further information is being requested of LA.

There has been no change in activities of the Black Panther Party in Des Moines, Iowa, since submission of referenced letter and no information has been developed that would indicate the newly formed United Front Against Fascism (UFAF) in Omaha has been active.

In view of the foregoing, Omaha does not feel that concrete recommendations can be made at this time regarding counterintelligence measures aimed at curtailing the [illegible] of the BPP.

Some time ago various field offices were furnished reprints from newspaper articles throughout the country which condemned the BPP and pointed out the various atrocities committed by members of the group. ReBulet 7/2/69 with enclosures.

An article entitled, "Panthers Issue Plea For Help," appeared in the "Milwaukee Sentinel," daily Milwaukee, Wis. newspaper, dated 10/9/69. The article indicated that seven members of the Milwaukee BPP attended a meeting of women's society of the Chapel Hill United Methodist Church, Waukesha, Wis., on 10/8/69. Their attendance was described by the article as a "self-proclaimed mission to inform, educate and solicit help from affluent suburbanites for their 'imprisoned brothers and sisters.'"

LOVETTA BROWN, Field Lt. for the Milwaukee BPP, served as spokesman for the BPP group and told the meeting, "America is going to a fascist state controlled by avaricious people. The state is rising above the people in America and oppressing them."

She stated further, "Maybe you live in this place and don't have the police brutality we have in the black community but the fascist pig cop is the main tool that the ruling element uses to control the masses."

She concluded by saying that the main objective of the BPP is full employment for all blacks and removal of all capitalists from the black community "so we can be independent and determine our own life style."

100-448006-1360

The article indicated that there was "recurrent applause" during BROWN's speech.

BPP members in Detroit feel that National BPP Headquarters regard them as little more than newsboys. This is especially evident in the fact that the Detroit Chapter has been closed since 6/69 by order of the National Party; however, the one function that the Detroit Chapter was allowed to continue was sale of the BPP newspaper.

This pamphlet could obviously originate in Detroit--and thereby point to [redacted] if other Chapters of the BPP are similarly disenchanted with the BPP newspaper program, it could be made to appear as though it originated in another city and sent to other Chapters, including Detroit.

Recent attempts were made in Milwaukee by the BPP to form a coalition of various radical groups under the name of People's Alliance (PA). Representatives from the BPP, CP, SDS, Brown Berets and other groups met in an attempt to establish a defense fund and provide legal counsel for members of the various organizations.

The Brown Berets (BB) subsequently pulled out of the PA because they refused to be associated with CP-inspired activities. They also expressed a general distrust for the SDS and BPP groups.

Nevertheless, numerous contacts by the BPP with representatives of the BB indicate the desire of the BPP to form a coalition between the groups but the BB remains hesitant to participate in any such agreement. They express a desire to remain separate in order to best accomplish the goals of the Spanish community without outside interference.

The PA has continued to weaken since the BB pullout. Milwaukee confidential sources indicate a growing rift between the SDS, the CP and the BPP. The BPP points out that its members have been anxious to cooperate and establish a successful coalition; however, the other groups have not done their part. SDS and the CP members have been accused of being all talk and no action. SDS members, on the other hand, have expressed a feeling of "intellectual superiority" over other groups and feel they should dictate policies and activities.

The BPP has shown a desire to be in the controlling position on the PA, as well as other rallies sponsored in conjunction with SDS at Milwaukee and Madison, Wis., while SDS appears to have the same idea. As a result, relations are becoming continually more strained between the two groups.

Obvious weaknesses are beginning to appear in the Wis. BPP organizations as a result of the above rifts, coupled with internal financial and leadership conflicts. Nevertheless, no info has been received of attempts to form a new organization made up of ex-BPP members.

It is recommended that BB, BPP and SDS informants be instructed to encourage distrust of one group for another and discourage cooperation among the groups at every opportunity. Primary targets should be the Latin American suspicion of all outside groups and the BPP lust for control of all coalitions and activities.

All Milwaukee sources have been alerted to the possible organization of a new black militant organization to replace the weakening BPP, and Bureau will be immediately advised of any such attempts.

Re Los Angeles airtel to Bureau captioned, "BLACK PANTHER PARTY, RM - BPP", dated 9/15/69 and Bureau letter to Los Angeles 9/29/69.

It is felt that efforts to utilize for counter-intelligence value information emanating from [redacted] will prove unproductive. It is felt that to anonymously provide the information to clergy, businesses or educators in the black community would serve no end, as immorality, infidelity and common-law marriages among the lower class Negroes are commonplace occurrences, perhaps to the extent of being the norm.

To disseminate such information within the BPP would be fruitless, as not only is there no stigma attached to sexual promiscuity, but it is expected and even honorable conduct for a true "revolutionary".

In the same regard, it would not be productive to apprise white sympathizers and supporters of the BPP of such conduct as, again, there is no stigma attached, and in all probability, they are both aware of it and/or indulge in similar activity to an equal degree.

Los Angeles will give further attention to the possibility of exploiting counterintelligence value of this information and if, in the future, an appropriate opportunity arises, it's usefulness will be maximized.

Re Jackson letter to Bureau dated 9/2/69.

Enclosed for the Bureau and Chicago is one copy each of the 10/7/69, edition of "Ask Jack Sunn" from the Jackson Daily News.

The following pertains to a counterintelligence proposal under consideration by the Jackson Division:

I. Background

Muhammed's Mosque, Jackson, Miss., is a Nation of Islam (NOI) group of 12 to 15 members which has been active in the Jackson area for approximately one and one-half years. It is the only mosque in Mississippi, although there are two small NOI cells in Ocean Springs, Miss., and Meridian, Miss. Muhammed's Mosque, Jackson, Miss., holds general meetings on Sundays at 2:00 p.m. at the Farish Street Negro Y.M.C.A. where it rents a room. Guards are placed at all entrances to the room during the meeting.

[redacted]

III. Confidential Contact, Jackson Office

174

[redacted] He has in the past been utilized by the Jackson Division with Bureau approval to handle confidential [redacted] of various [redacted] favorable to law enforcement and the Bureau's interest.

The column "Ask Jack Sunn" is a daily column in the Jackson Daily News, which is extremely popular with readers in Jackson, Miss., and also throughout Mississippi. [redacted]

IV. Proposed Letter

It is proposed that the following letter, which would be handwritten by a senior steno in the Jackson Office, be forwarded to the Jackson Daily News with a bogus signature and no return address:

"Dear Jack Sunn,

"I have an uneducated adult relative by marriage who has told me very reluctantly that he began attending Nation of Islam 'Muslim Church' group meetings in the recent past held weekly at a building on Farish St. in Jackson. This relative says the all black group has several leaders who all are from outside Miss. originally and there seem to be 'more chiefs than Indians.' They demand $6 or $7 per week dues and preach segregation of races, give anti-white sermons, advocate that blacks avoid Army service and have guards posted at meetings. Due to the high 'donations' demanded and apparent suspicious goings on regarding meetings and funds collected he stopped attending meetings. He was harassed, badgered and intimidated at his home and work by strong arm men associated with the group's leaders who tried to force him to pay dues and help in raising funds. After his repeated protests they finally left him alone. Is there anything that can be done to prevent these outsiders from preying on poor uneducated citizens in Jackson? I understand the group is still active in town.

"Signed: Mrs. Pearline C. Rogers"

Immediately after the letter is mailed, [redacted] will be contacted by Jackson Agents and advised that Jackson sources have advised that a relative of a Muslim has forwarded some type of letter to JACK SUNN complaining about the Muslim activity in Jackson. At this time [redacted]

If this is agreeable with [redacted] he following answer would be provided to him after a day's delay to allegedly prepare answer:

"You should have your relative and anyone else known to be so treated to relate his experiences to local law enforcement agencies who will be especially interested in any force or extortion methods used to coerce persons to work or to pay 'dues' or 'donations' against their will; also reputable community leaders in the area should be advised about operations of this nature so that they can educate unsuspecting persons in advance."

The ultimate result would be that the letter and the answer would be published prominately in a "Ask Jack Sunn" column. (Only initials of letter contributors are published.)

V. Objective

The objective of the above letter would be to reflect the NOI mosque in Jackson and its leadership in an unfavorable light and to alert the community to the existence of a NOI group in the Jackson area; additionally it could have an effect on Muslim recruiting and fund-raising activities in the Jackson area.

VI. Recommendation

The Jackson Division feels that the above proposal can be accomplished without any danger to Jackson sources due to the unspecific nature of the contents of the letter and the fact that it is written by a person allegedly not directly associated with the NOI.

Bureau approval is requested for the preceding proposal to be undertaken.

Information copy being furnished Chicago as they are office of origin in NOI.

INTEREST IN THEATER STRIP

Dear Jack Sunn:

Being a theater buff, as I am sure you and many others must be, will you please tell me why, oh why, is the very fine comic strip "On Stage" carried in the Sunday paper and not during the week? The space used for the strip on Sunday is completely wasted as it is impossible to keep up with the story by reading only the Sunday part. Please use your influence to get this "adult" comic used all seven days of the week. J.M.C.

Many comic strips actually use two different story lines—one for the daily strips and a different one for the Sunday strip. This is true of "On Stage." Each Sunday story is self-contained. General interest, or the lack of it, usually determines the editors' selection of features.

WHITFIELD TAUGHT SCHOOL

Dear Jack Sunn:

In reference to former Governor H. L. Whitfield, he was Principal of Steen's Creek High School, Steen's Creek, Mississippi, (now Florence High School). I also knew his father and many other things about this fine man. J. D. M.

Fine. Now if you and anybody else can dig up more facts about Governor Whitfield, we know that Reverend Bill Paker, pastor of Calhoun City Baptist church, will be glad to hear from you.. Write to him. He needs a lot of information.

PROBLEMS IN BROADCASTING

Dear Jack Sunn:

We have AM and FM radio in Jackson. AM broadcasts are continuously (and jerkily) being interrupted by commercial "messages" which, we understand, pay the rent, salaries, dividends, etc. of the broadcasting facility. On the other hand, FM is not so often interrupted with these "messages." Is this because of FCC regulations, lack of interest by advertisers, tax write-off or (gasp) altruism? You're glad I answered this question aren't you? Also, we have noted that Houston, Texas, which can never, by any stretch of the imagination, be considered a modern Athens, culturewise, has one FM station that programs nothing but serious music an ocasional "scholarly" jazz program, news and comment. We speculate whether one adventurous local FM station might not please a considerable segment of the public by trying something similar

The FCC does not regulate the number of commercial announcements on FM, per se. Yes, there is less interest by advertisers in FM broadcasting because there are fewer FM sets then AM (the big difference being in automobile penetration), therefore there are fewer listeners. There ain't hardly no altruism in the broadcasting industry. Competition is too tough, especially in markets the size of ours. We like to think of the Jackson market as being more "couth" than some other areas of this size, but a look at relatively small membership lists of the Symphony Orchestra, the Music Association and the Opera Guild should give us pause for reflection. Two of these groups have to be heavily subsidized by "angels." Operating an FM station in a market our size is indeed adventurous, financially at least. Add to that, a "cultural" format, and the manager wishes he could skip the board meetings! Let's see—what was the question?—yes, we wish there was a classical music FM station here but we wouldn't want to own it. That is, if we were trying to make money. And if it's any comfort to you, the ROCK FM stations aren't doing much better.

STADIUM NEIGHBORHOOD PARKING

Dear Jack Sunn:

First, I would like to say I appreciate your column in the Jackson Daily News as some of the things you say are really good for my State Capital. So, here I come. I am asking this for several reasons. Every time I go to a sporting event at the Memorial Stadium I have to pay $1.00 to park on property the taxpayer is already paying for each year. Where does the money go? If we have to pay for it, how is it the State Highway Department Office put up a chain behind their office and let in State employes only without a charge? The State employes can afford to pay for parking as well as the rest of the people. Who says what and when and how about this? S. S. S.

1. We have been told that when the Memorial Stadium was built, money was not provided for parking facilities and the upkeep of same. The revenue from parking charges is used for manning the lots when events are held, for surfacing new areas and the preparing and extending of old portions of the parking area. 2. We presume you are referring to the area behind the State Highway Department Laboratory on the northeast corner of North West and Woodrow Wilson. The Highway Department tells us that their parking area became unmanageable during sporting events at the Stadium, as the Stadium Commission had no jurisdiction over it and therefore could not charge for parking there, and the Highway Department could obviously make no charges for the use of state owned land. As a result, parking permission tickets were issued to Highway Department employes on a first come, first serve basis.

JACKSON'S BASEBALL ERA

Dear Jack Sunn:

I enjoy your column and think you are performing a real service to your readers. My question: When was the last year that Jackson had a professional baseball team? J. P. R.

1953 was the last year of professional baseball. The Senators at that time were managed by Willis Hudlin.

Exhaustive interviews of suspected members of the LABPP continue and are serving to create distrust among activists and the defection of peripheral members.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The proposal suggested in referenced Los Angeles letter dated 9/24/69, is being forwarded in a separate communication. Per Bureau instructions in reference Bureau letter dated 10/9/69, further consideration is being given documents mentioned and a proposal will be forthcoming.

A survey of toll calls of selected LABPP leaders continues, with the result of these reviews being considered for counterintelligence proposals.

The Los Angeles Division continues to follow arrests of members of the LABPP for violations of Anti-Riot and Gun Control laws, to determine if any of these individuals might Sacramento has no accomplishments to report during the past two-week period and has no counter-intelligence measures under consideration at this time.

This office has been endeavoring to develop a logical counterintelligence measure aimed at creating a rift between the Black Panther Party (BPP) and the Brown Berets (BB) organizations. Recently the BPP has been almost dormant and has had little or no contact with the BB or the rest of the community. Consequently, a logical counterintelligence measure has not yet been developed.

Re San Francisco airtel to the Bureau 9/26/69.

With regard to the San Francisco Division's preparation of expulsion letters to be directed to individual members of the BPP not in close contact with the BPP National Headquarters, Berkeley, California; in order to produce disruption and defection from the national membership, it is felt that due to Los Angeles' geographical proximity to San Francisco, [redacted] and the minimal distance and continuous contact between the separate sections of the Los Angeles BPP, the effort may prove unsuccessful. It is felt that due to the extensive communications between the local Los Angeles BPP sections, the spontaneous expulsion, without forewarning, in the form of suspension, rumor of current disfavor or explanation, of members of the Los Angeles BPP, especially if in significant numbers, might promptly come to the attention of local leaders who could readily investigate and confirm the legitimacy of action allegedly taken. Should the effort fail to produce the desired results, it is felt that the failure could well result in increased suspicion or compromise of the use of letters over the signatures of BPP leaders, or anonymous letters in general, as a counterintelligence tool.

In compliance with San Francisco's request if Bureau approval is obtained, Los Angeles will attempt to prepare a highly selective list of individuals who are considered to be peripheral members of the party, and who have minimal contact with active members and leaders.

[redacted] was referred by Agents of the Jackson FBI Office to Associated Press Release of 3/29/69, regarding [redacted] and his releasing numerous members of the Republic of New Africa (RNA) in Detroit, Michigan, after some of them were involved in a shoot out with police officers, during which one policeman was killed. [redacted] as also referred to an article in a recent issue of Ebony (which had been provided to Jackson Agents by a Ghetto informant), which also contained information regarding Judge CROCKETT and his involvement with the RNA in Detroit.

[redacted] CROCKETT since he was appearing at Tougaloo College, which had been the scene of past extremist agitation in Mississippi. Tougaloo College is an almost entirely Negro private college of about seven hundred students, located five miles north of Jackson, Miss., in a rural area. It has been a staging area for Civil Rights and extremist Negro activities since the early 1960's.

The Jackson Daily News is the only statewide evening paper distributed throughout Mississippi, and it has the largest reading audience of any evening newspaper in the State of Mississippi.

Tougaloo Speaker Is Judge Who Has Detroit In Uproar

Tougaloo College, heavily endowed by wealthy liberals and fat, tax-exempt foundation funds, doesn't spend much money on its physical facilities, but it offers scholarships to students from various parts of the world as well as in this area. Apparently, it spends considerable money to import speakers—some of whom are rather controversial.

The predominately black institution just north of Jackson earlier this year hosted Herbert Aptheker, one of the top drawer Communists in the nation who recently held the rank of theoritician of the Communist Party United States of America, as a featured speaker, but he didn't make a great impression on the students and visitors. At least on the surface.

Whether there was any connection with Aptheker's visit or not, a few weeks later there was a sort of secret pow-wow at Tougaloo. It was a "closed society" meeting for radical-minded blacks only, the sort of huddle that liberals and advocates of "academic freedom" allegedly despise.

In the current issue (October) issue of the Reader's Digest in an article entitled "Intelligence Report on Today's 'New Revolutionaries'" by William Schulz, it is reported briefly on page 121 what took place at similar closed session in recent past:

"At Tougaloo College in Mississippi, students from Negro colleges in the South and East attend a closed-door 'defense workshop', discuss the elimination of mayors and police chiefs, the kidnaping of college authorities, the instruction of ghetto residents in the manufacture of Molotov cocktails and use of firearms."

So much for the Reader's Digest article (and it's excellent reading).

With a short of publicity flourish, Tougaloo College has announced that its key speaker for its Founders' Day convocation at 3 p. m. next Sunday, Oct. 12 will be Detroit Judge George W. Crockett, Jr. The news report on Judge Crockett gave an impressive list of education credentials, service with the National Youth Administration in Washington in the late thirties, as an attorney with the U.S. Department of Labor and as an executive in the labor movement when he moved to Detroit in 1944 where he has been active in civic and political affairs.

But Judge Crockett has been making the headlines in Detroit for some time, recently as a sort of judicial friend of black people in general and in one specific case a most generous judge in a riot involving a cop-killing group of rifle-carrying members of the Republic of New Africa, the extremist group that has declared independence from the United States and wants to set up a black nation in five southern states, including, and starting with, of course, Mississippi.

A glowing article in a recent issue of Ebony magazine also states that Judge Crockett was the man who held "Operation Mississippi" meetings in his home in Detroit, came to Mississippi in 1964 as a legal assistance chief in the freedom rider episode.

Ebony reported: "It was he (Crockett) who asked Michael Schwerner, Andrew Goodman and James Chaney to go to Philadelphia, Miss., to check out the burning of a black church. They were lynched and buried in an earthen dam, and Mississippi brutality was brought once again to the attention of the world."

In a lengthy and glowing article about Judge Crockett and his swift decree freeing the cop-killing Black Republic extremists, Ebony quotes Judge Crockett: "I'm a black judge and I never allow myself to forget that fact."

So much for the Ebony article.

Detroit newspapers have deplored the racist attitude of Judge Crockett, his pearcing accusations of police officers and his superliberal attitude toward those who run afoul of the law, including murder.

The Associated Press reported out of Detroit a riot on Saturday, March 29, eve of Palm Sunday. A sizeable group of rifle-carrying members of the Republic of New Africa had ended a "closed society" pow-wow at a church. After the meeting some of the fellows were seen on the street with rifles and other armaments. Police went to investigate and the group opened fire, killing one officer Michael Czapski. Several other participants were injured.

Police arrested 135 persons and began making nitrate tests to determine if their guns had been fired. Judge Crockett heard about these tests and ordered all but eight of those arrested free while Officer Czapski's body, with seven holes in his chest, was being hauled from the murder scene.

Additionally, Judge Crockett cited Williams L. Cahalan, Wayne County prosecutor, for contempt for his insistence in an investigation of the incident, for it had been found that nitrate tests revealed the guns had been fired recently. In citing Cahalan for contempt, Judge Crockett released the remaining eight and said the tests were unconstitutional because they were conducted before the accused had a chance to consult an attorney. Meanwhile, funeral rites were being planned for the slain policeman.

This report is merely to fill out a few gaps in advance publicity on Judge Crockett's convocation engagement at Tougaloo.

There may be absolutely no connection with the secret meeting of advocates of the ilk of the Republic of New Africa held earlier at Tougaloo, but the honored speaker next Sunday is rated as a benefactor of this element in connection with the brutal death of a Detroit policeman on the eve of Palm Sunday this year.

By letters and letterhead memoranda dated 10/7/69 and captioned "BLACK UNITED FRONT, BM", WFO reported an incident which occurred at the Black United Front (BUF) meeting held on 10/1/69. The incident involved an individual identified as [redacted] accompanied by two individuals subsequently identified as [redacted] and [redacted] taking over the meeting in order for [redacted] to have an opportunity to present his side of a disagreement he was having with [redacted] During the incident, [redacted] discharged a gun inside of the church in which the meeting was held and accused [redacted] who was conducting the meeting, of fire bombing an automobile that he [redacted] had been using but which was not his. The three individuals were subsequently [redacted] being charged with assault with a deadly weapon and the others being charged with carrying deadly weapons, to wit machetes.

To date WFO has not observed any WDC newspaper reporting the incident or arrests of the individuals. WFO believes that publicizing the above incident would cause considerable embarrassment to the BUF and might possibly cause some individuals to stay away from future BUF meetings when they become aware that such activity has taken place at meetings in the past.

Information has been received from Denver informants and San Francisco highly confidential informants that the Denver group of the Black Panther Party (BPP) is practically bankrupt and is in desperate need of funds. The only available funds are what they receive from the sale of the BPP newspaper, the circulation of which has dropped in Denver. The San Francisco Office advised Denver that even paying a $50 bond because of the arrest of [redacted] in Denver was of great concern to the Denver finances.

It is suggested that [redacted] without jeopardizing himself, immediately advise and help assist BPP members in Denver into committing minor offenses such as traffic violations where fines would have to be paid. Because of the timing involved it would be impossible to request Bureau authority on each occasion of a minor offense. If this technique is agreeable to the Bureau, Denver requests that action be taken immediately by this office without notifying the Bureau of each violation that may occur.

STOKELY CARMICHAEL

Stokely Carmichael is a well-known black extremist who formerly served as National Chairman of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), currently known as the Student National Coordinating Committee. He left SNCC in August, 1968, and became Prime Minister of the violence-prone Black Panther Party (BPP).

Carmichael and his wife, well-known African folk singer Miriam Makeba, left the United States in December, 1968, and currently make their residence in Conakry, Guinea.

In late June, 1969, Miriam Makeba returned to the United States alone, reportedly for the purpose of arranging future professional appearances in the United States. On July 3, 1969, just prior to her departure to rejoin Carmichael in Guinea, she announced his resignation from the BPP because of his disagreement with that organization's change in policy in accepting and enlisting support from radical white individuals and organizations.

Makeba recently returned to the United States and is residing at the residence of Carmichael's mother, 1810 Amethyst Avenue, Bronx, New York. She anticipates remaining in the United States until November, 1969, and is engaged in arranging a number of professional appearances while here.

The fact that [redacted] was believed to be a homosexual has previously been furnished to racial informants of the Boston Division without revealing the source of this information. They have been encouraged to pass along this information at opportune times to other members of the BPP and black extremists in Boston in order to undermine [redacted] status with the BPP.

In view of the confidential nature of the records of the Selective Service System, Boston is unable to recommend any further special counter-intelligence proposals by which this information concerning [redacted] homosexuality could be utilized.

Since [redacted] is currently assigned in the New Haven Division on a temporary basis as a BPP organizer, New Haven is requested to also consider all possible opportunities where this information could be utilized. As stated in referenced Bureau letter, however, no action should be taken without specific Bureau approval.

On 9/24/69, the Bureau granted authority to anonymously mail an article from "The Black Panther" to the [redacted] along with a note saying that [redacted] was his tenant utilizing a different name. This has been done. Effect of the mailing is as yet unknown.

As of 10/3/69, no suit has as yet been filed against [redacted] or the BPP in the accidental death of [redacted]

On 9/29/69, documentation on CP membership of [redacted] BOBBY SEALE in the Chicago AKL trial, was furnished Bureau and Chicago. Chicago was advised to request Bureau authority to distribute the material to cooperative news media in that city.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The BPP in San Diego is being forced to move from their headquarters, 2952 Imperial, due to being $400 in arrears in rent. Informants advise the BPP leadership is considering renting a house at 311 Boundary in San Diego. Attempts are being made to determine the owner of this property. Depending upon the identity of the owner, Bureau authority may be requested to attempt to block the renting of this house by the BPP.

Informants report that [redacted], a BPP member, receives approximately $178 per month from the Welfare Department. BPP headquarters in Oakland has reportedly demanded that the entire check be forwarded to BPP headquarters. [redacted] explained to headquarters that she and [redacted] were married and have a small child to support. The BPP then directed [redacted] to send $74 of her check to BPP headquarters each month.

This situation is being carefully scrutinized to determine if any counterintelligence action can be utilized without jeopardizing the security of any informant. If this can be accomplished, appropriate requests will be submitted for Bureau evaluation.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Bureau approved anonymous telephone calls were placed on 9/16, 22, and 24/69, to [redacted] protesting the activities of [redacted] and the attempted furtherance of the BPP Breakfast Program by [redacted] During the telephone conversations with [redacted] he appeared quite concerned over the situation in that parish, and stated that he was looking into it.

In addition, on 9/18/69, the letter as outlined in San Diego airtel to the Bureau 8/29/69, and approved in Bureau letter to San Diego 9/9/69, was mailed to [redacted]

For tangible results observed in this regard, see the following section of this letter.

Bureau approved information was furnished to [redacted] Representative of Governor REAGAN's office, regarding use of the Black Student Council (BSC) office at San Diego State College (SDSC) by the US organization in obtaining supplies and utilization of the mimeograph machine. [redacted] is presently attempting to determine if any school financial sources are being used for purchase of supplies and operation of the mimeograph machine in the BSC office at the college. If school funds are being utilized to support the BSC at SDSC, [redacted] will so advise the Governor and recommend that appropriate action be taken to preclude the continued use of those facilities by a black militant group.

The Bureau approved letter to [redacted] is being prepared on commercially purchased stationery, incorporating the changes pointed out in referenced Bureau letter to San Diego 9/17/69.

Bureau approved information regarding the incorporation of US, Incorporated, has been furnished to [redacted] is presently attempting to determine whether or not a Form 1120 has been submitted by that organization as required by law. Upon determination of this fact, the Bureau will be contacted for any further action which appears logical.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

On 10/1/69, a pretext telephone call was placed to the rectory of [redacted] at which time [redacted] advised that [redacted] was no longer at that parish and had been permanently transferred to the San Francisco Bay Area.

In addition, [redacted] who has a close friend in the chancery office, advised that [redacted] has been transferred to a "rehabilitation center" for appropriate counselling after which he will be transferred to a location somewhere in the State of New Mexico for permanent assignment. This information was volunteered when a routine inquiry was made at the Police Department concerning what, if any, current activities [redacted] was engaged in.

In view of the above, it would appear that [redacted] has now been completely neutralized.

The BPP Breakfast Program, without the prompting of [redacted] has not been renewed in the San Diego area. It is not anticipated at this time that any efforts to re-establish the program will be made in the foreseeable future.

[redacted] on 9/25/69, reported that the parishioners of [redacted] participated in a vote and solidly defeated a proposal to reinstitute the BPP Breakfast Program.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

[redacted], both of whom are believed to be underground members of the BPP, have been declared "pigs" by the BPP office in Los Angeles. As a result, both of these individuals have fled from the San Diego area, are in hiding, and their whereabouts are unknown.

At the present time, nine of the sixteen active BPP members in the San Diego area are in custody on various charges.

[redacted] has reportedly fled from the San Diego area due to extensive efforts by the [redacted] on information furnished by the San Diego FBI office to effect his arrest. The latest information concerning [redacted] whereabouts reveals that he is believed to be hiding out in the area immediately north of the San Francisco Bay Area. It was not possible to cause [redacted] arrest while he was in the San Diego area as to do so would have [redacted]

BLACK NATIONALISTS - HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

Reurairtel 12/1/69.

Enclosed is a copy of the Black Panther Party (BPP) letterhead stationery in possession of the Bureau. It does not appear that this stationery would be currently in use by the BPP as some of the officials listed as members of the Central Committee no longer are members.

You should obtain several blank pieces of the letterhead stationery presently in use by the BPP National Headquarters. On one type your proposed expulsion letter exactly as you desire it to appear. The signature will be added by the laboratory. Date the letter sufficiently far in advance to allow for time consumed in mailing to Bureau, preparation in the laboratory and mailing back to your office. A date two weeks in advance would probably be about right. Furnish several blank pieces of stationery for possible laboratory use.

The letter you prepare will be reproduced by the laboratory after addition of the signature and sufficient copies will be run off for the mailing. You should advise as to the method that would ordinarily be utilized by BPP headquarters in reproducing the letter, i.e. Xeroxing or some other method. It is assumed that BPP headquarters would not type each letter separately in a mailing of this nature.

Furnish FBI number of individual who will be shown as signer of the letter to facilitate locating fingerprint card of that person for signature comparison.

Advise as to whether you desire each letter signed individually or whether only the "master letter" need be signed and the signature reproduced along with the text of the letter.

Upon completion of the letters at the Bureau they will be returned to you for addressing and mailing.

NOTE:

San Francisco has submitted a counterintelligence proposal which involves the mailing of expulsion letters to approximately sixty members of the BPP in various parts of the United States as a disruptive measure. The letters are to be prepared on BPP stationery with the simulated signature of a BPP national official. The laboratory has prepared similar reproductions of BPP stationery and officials signatures in the past. As pointed out in this letter, we need additional information before going ahead with preparation of the letters. For information, copy of letterhead stationery is attached to this yellow.

Re San Francisco airtel, 9/26/69.

By referenced airtel, San Francisco requested pertinent offices to furnish a list of those members of the BPP still known to be active in their respective areas, along with mailing addresses. This list was not to include prominent members of the chapters who are in close contact with the National Office.

It was felt that a mailing of the expulsion letter to a large number of BPP members who are not in close contact with the National Office, accusing them of black nationalism may produce some disruption and defecting among the decreasing membership.

It is, therefore, suggested that the following letter, addressed to individuals hereinafter set forth, be prepared at the Laboratory on BPP letterhead paper available there and signed by [redacted]

It is believed that the signing of the letter by only [redacted] will be more logical at the present time than attempting to prepare a communication for signatures of the Re Omaha letter to Bureau, 12/1/69; and Bureau letter to Omaha, 12/10/69.

As noted in referenced Omaha letter, the BPP in Des Moines, Iowa, is non-existent; and the BPP's successor in Omaha, United Front Against Fascism (UFAF), has only 8 to 12 members whose only activity to date has been the selling of "The Black Panther" BPP newspaper and the publication of a UFAF newsletter. In addition to this information, indications are that the UFAF is planning to start a liberation school at its headquarters in Omaha in the near future.

In response to referenced Bureau letter, the identities of the leadership of the UFAF are known to the Omaha office. Omaha is presently giving consideration to some type of counter-intelligence activity aimed at disruption of the UFAF newsletter or its distribution and counter-intelligence measures directed against the leaders of this organization.

Close attention will be afforded this matter in order to produce effective results. Proposals for counter-intelligence activity will be submitted to the Bureau by separate communications in the very near future.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Activities of the former members of the now defunct BPP in San Diego are being closely followed to determine the current status of these individuals. All possibilities for counterintelligence action will be explored and appropriate requests submitted to the Bureau.

One proposal is presently awaiting Bureau evaluation.

Attempts are being made to determine if the BPP has actively made efforts or has been successful in establishing an office of the BPP on the University of California at San Diego (UCSD) campus under the direction of [redacted] If it is determined that they have established such a unit, appropriate requests will be submitted.

Efforts are also being made to determine if the US group is attempting to infiltrate the various Black Student Council and/or Black Student Union organizations on the various campuses. If it is determined that they are, appropriate requests will be submitted to the Bureau.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

The Bureau-approved anonymous letter to [redacted] head of the US organization in Los Angeles, along with the newspaper clipping has been mailed. No results have thus far been observed. Internal Revenue Service is continuing their investigation through the efforts of [redacted] is continuing his efforts to determine if the US organization is in violation of income tax laws.

Investigation is being conducted by both the San Diego Police Department Intelligence Unit and San Diego Police Department Forgery Detail concerning the purchase of [redacted]. For tangible results see following section of this letter.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

On 12/12/69, information concerning purchases of [redacted] were disseminated to the Intelligence Unit of the San Diego Police Department on a UACB basis.

As a result, the [redacted] has established a surveillance of [redacted] These surveillances are in effect as of the present time. It was also subsequently determined by the San Diego Office that the check which was submitted for payment of [redacted] was paid for with a forged check in the name of [redacted] In view of the fact that this activity encompasses a local crime, the information was disseminated to the Forgery Detail of the San Diego Police Department. That detail is currently conducting a joint investigation with the Intelligence Unit of the Police Department in an effort to identify the female who was with [redacted] who submitted the check for payment, and thereby obtain forgery warrants charging both the girl and [redacted]

It is also felt that the racial briefing sessions being given by the San Diego Division are affording tangible results for the Counterintelligence Program. Through these briefings, the command levels of virtually all of the police departments in the San Diego Division are being apprised of the identities of the leaders in the various militant groups

It is felt that, although specific instances cannot be attributed directly to the racial briefing program, police officers are much more alert for these black militant individuals and as such are contributing to the over all Counterintelligence Program directed against these groups.

Just prior to the raid on the headquarters of the BPP in San Diego on 11/20/69, the San Diego Police Department was advised of the extensive fortifications and sand-bagging effected at BPP headquarters. As a result the San Diego Police Department tactics concerning the raid were changed whereby two plainclothesmen initially gained entry into the headquarters after which they immediately brought in reinforcements. This tactic was used rather than storming the front of the building. As a result, no officers were injured and no exchange of gun fire resulted as may have been the case if the police department had not beenaware of the fortifications incorporated in the headquarters building.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The situation in southeast San Diego remains quiet at the present time. Unconfirmed reports have been received that the US organization, particularly, is attempting to infiltrate and obtain members in the various black student council and black student union organizations on various campuses. Efforts are being made to determine the reliability of these unconfirmed reports.

Delay in submission of this letter is occasioned by the fact that the Agent to whom this case is assigned has been involved on a full time basis with the investigation of the extensive Civil Rights investigation concerning [redacted] along with numerous racial briefing sessions throughout the San Diego and Imperial County areas.

As per Bureau instructions, this letter does not contain counterintelligence action directed at the BPP.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

US, Incorporated, and the individual leaders of that organization, are considered the prime target for this phase of the Counterintelligence Program.

Attempts are currently being made to determine the source of income for [redacted] to determine if any counterintelligence action is appropriate. Along these lines, consideration is being given toward requesting the Bureau to obtain copies of the individual income tax returns submitted in an effort to determine if declarations being made for revenue from speaking engagements are being reported by them.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

During the previous 90 day period, the following Bureau approved activities have been effected:

Bureau approved information was furnished to [redacted] regarding use of the Black Student Council (BSC) office at San Diego State College (SDSC) by the US organization in obtaining supplies and utilization of the mimeograph machine.

The Bureau approved letter to [redacted] was prepared on commercially purchased stationery, incorporating the changes pointed out in referenced Bureau letter to San Diego 9/17/69.

Bureau approved information regarding the incorporation of US, Incorporated, has been furnished to [redacted]

A Bureau-approved anonymous letter mailed to [redacted] concerning the white men who attended an US meeting.

A Bureau-approved anonymous letter to [redacted] leader of the US organization, along with a newspaper clipping out of the BPP newspaper, has been prepared and mailed.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

On 11/4/69, local news media carried a story reflecting that State Senators and Representatives in California have launched a statewide investigation into the misappropriation of funds designated for the various state colleges. This investigation follows, within one week, information received from [redacted]. It is felt that the Bureau approved information furnished to [redacted] contributed greatly or was solely responsible for the above mentioned investigation presently being conducted by the state.

As a result of the Bureau approved information being disseminated to the Internal Revenue Service, that department is conducting investigation of the US Organization to determine if they are in compliance with existing income tax laws.

Information concerning the possibility of US headquarters being bombed on the weekend of 8/30/69, was furnished to the San Diego Police Department prior to the actual bombing. It is felt that the furnishing of this information might have been a major factor in precluding any injury of innocent persons at the time the actual bombing took place.

The situation in southeast San Diego remains quiet at the present time. Unconfirmed reports have been received that the US organization, particularly, is attempting to infiltrate and obtain members in the various black student council and black student union organizations on various campuses. Reurairtel 12/3/69 concerning letter to newspaper regarding [redacted] to be sent over fictitious signature.

San Diego has apparently misunderstood the Bureau's objection to the mailing of this letter as set forth in Bulet of 11/28/69. The reason it was not previously approved and is not now being approved is that the letter itself makes no reference to the fact that [redacted] are members of the BPP, consequently, as a counterintelligence measure directed at the BPP it has no value since it does nothing to put the BPP in a bad light with the reading public. If you were in possession of public source information showing that [redacted] are members of the BPP, then this could be included in the letter to the newspaper to show the tie-in between [redacted]

It is suggested you hold this matter in abeyance until such time as [redacted] are publicly identified as members of the BPP at which time you should resubmit your proposal including a specific reference in the letter to their association with the BPP.

It is noted in referenced Bureau letter to San Diego that authority is denied to send a letter over the fictitious signature as outlined in referenced San Diego airtel to the Bureau. The reason given for the denial is no tie-in with the content of the proposed letter and Black Panther Party (BPP) activities.

It is pointed out to the Bureau that [redacted] at BPP headquarters for assistance.

It is also noted that after the shooting incident the night of [redacted] are believed to be members of the Marxist-Leninist group on the UCSD campus.

In view of the above, it would appear that the letter, as proposed in referenced San Diego airtel to the Bureau, would be germain in both the Black Counterintelligence Program and Cointelpro - New Left.

Bureau permission is therefore again requested to send the above-mentioned letter as proposed in referenced San Diego airtel.

The speech by FRED HAMPTON, Chairman of the Illinois Black Panther Party (BPP) at which attendees were required to submit to comprehensive searches of their person, received unfavorable press coverage in the "Vidette," Illinois State University student newspaper and the "Daily Pantagraph" daily newspaper of Bloomington, Illinois.

On 11-14-69 HAMPTON again spoke, this time at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Illinois. Attendees were not subjected to any type of search.

Agents of this Division working with the BPP have made the following suggestion concerning possible counter-intelligence measures:

When a BPP leader is scheduled to speak at a college or university that the college administration be shown the text of the last address as well as leaking to the press that everyone was or is searched that attends these speeches.

The San Francisco Division may also be able to have the National Headquarters of the BPP asked if their Illinois Chapter is so weak that they need to fear white college students who attend their speeches, otherwise why search them.

Reurairtel 12/1/69.

Your suggested letter, to be mailed over the name of BPP [redacted], has been reviewed and, while it contains good counterintelligence possibilities, Bureau approval is not being granted at this time for the suggested mailing.

The following general observations are made for your future guidance:

You are correct in directing your counterintelligence efforts against [redacted] if you can neutralize his activities in the early steps of his recruiting efforts, you may prevent establishment of a BPP chapter [redacted] with the resultant saving in future investigative time.

You are also correct in directing your efforts towards choking off any support the BPP may possibly receive from Negro businessmen or clergy in the area. In this connection, you should be aware that other offices have anonymously mailed copies of the Black Panther Coloring Book and clippings from the "Black Panther" newspaper, which are particularly obscene or violent in nature, to responsible Negro businessmen and clergy. The Coloring Book is particularly vicious and a note can be included stating in effect that this is the type literature and teaching the Negro children are being exposed to when they attend the BPP Breakfast for Children program.

If there is a known source of funds to the BPP in Augusta, consider counterintelligence measures directed at drying up this source.

Any information developed concerning violations of the law by BPP members should be promptly furnished to appropriate authorities. The resulting arrests and bail or fines will divert BPP funds which would otherwise go into expanding their activities.

Concerning the content of your proposed letter, the following specific observations are made:

The letter is not prepared in the usual jargon of the BPP. A review of the "Black Panther" will familiarize personnel with many of the terms used by and the manner of writing of BPP members. For example, a very common closing in many of their letters is the phrase, "All power to the people!"

The letter is too well typed. It gives the appearance of being prepared by a stenographer. It appears more misspellings would be appropriate; however, if the writer is known to be a well-educated or otherwise literate person, then the misspellings would not be in order.

The derogatory references to [redacted] while effectively written, should be deleted. It is very possible that a letter such as this could be circulated in the Negro community or possibly even published in a newspaper. It would not be proper for the Bureau to create suspicion or mistrust of the activities or personnel of another governmental agency.

Finally, the question arises as to the advisability of typing [redacted] name at the end of the letter as opposed to his hand-written signature. If any of the recipients of the letter challenge [redacted] he will obviously deny authorship of the letter. If the letter bears a good facsimile of his signature, his denial will be less believable. Review the above suggestions and observations and if after further consideration you desire to go forward with the mailing of such a letter, resubmit your proposal in line with the above comments.

In future communications utilize the caption of instant letter. Also, when making a specific counterintelligence proposal, designate a copy of your communication for the San Francisco Office so that they may be aware of the activity involved and be in a position to evaluate the proposal as well as the results which may come to their attention through their coverage of the national headquarters of the BPP.

Secure Bureau approval before instituting any counterintelligence measures.

NOTE: Savannah Office has proposed an anonymous letter over the name of a BPP [redacted] The letter is directed to whom it may concern and attacks several of the Negro clergy and businessmen in the Augusta area for failing to cooperate with the writer in his BPP efforts. BPP activity is just getting underway in the Savannah Office and this is their first counterintelligence proposal. The above suggestions and observations, both general and specific, are being furnished Savannah to assist them in establishing an effective counterintelligence program.

To whom it May Concern: Augusta, Ga.

While being in the Richmond County Jail I have had time to think--time to think about who is my friend and who are the Uncle Toms here in Augusta.

I came to Augusta and have been [redacted] and have got to know many of the so callee black leaders. First I talked with [redacted] It was obvious from the beginning that [redacted] has betrayed the black man in Augusta and is interested only in his church and getting wealth to the hurt of the poor black in Augusta. He drives a big car, gets fatter and fatter, cooperates with the establishment, turns his back on the needs of the poor and is interested only in [redacted]

I started a breakfast program with [redacted] his church. At first this program looked like it would get going and give a real service to the needy, hungry, poor children in the community of [redacted] showed his true colors before the program got going. He wanted to feed not the poor children who were going to school hungry, but to feed his own vanity and desire for glory. So he gets in touch with the news media and promotes [redacted] and his church, not the breakfast program. All at the same tiem [redacted] draws a big salary with the center, drosses like the establishment, and lives in all the comfort of the capitalist while the children still go hungry to school.

When it becomes obvious who [redacted] is working for, I start working with [redacted] on a greakfast program out of his church. This program did not last as long as the first one, and [redacted] starts talking out of both sides of his mouth. Before a week is over, he gives some lame excuse why he cannot do the breakfast program [redacted] He shows which side of the fence he is on and everyone soon knows he is on the side of the pigs, the establishment, and the captilist, while the poor children still go to school hungry.

[redacted] are two of the biggest double crossers of the whole black community. They try to use me to do their dirty work, while they sit back and talk bit but take no action. They also draw big salaries and live like the slumlords and the pigs. Take away there big salaries and see where they stand. Also they take in [redacted] who says he is a Panther one day and deny it the next day. [redacted] has shown where he stands after getting a taste of the big money. He is a two faced pig and should go on down and join the pig force. [redacted] should know I have a few friends who keep me informed of his true colors, and where his first love is.

Then there is [redacted] He is the slumlord of the slumlords. How many of the poor black people in the community has this pig lover cheated and swindled. He wants to be a big time politician, not for the black community but to help [redacted] only. He is no better than slumlord [redacted]. He is worse because with his black skin he is a sheep in wolf clothes. [redacted] owns all this property [redacted] but what is he doing to seek better housing, better food, better clothes for the poor? Nothing, but he is out to take away what the poor folks have by charging high prices in all his business establishments. He is no better than Olds and all the other pigs.

These are only a few of the pigs here in Augusta. You see one of them and you see a true Uncle Tom. So, I call on all the Folks here to help me expose them for what they are. They can't be counted on for help in the black community. They can be counted on to line their pockets with the money of this captilist society, That's all.

Houston currently has no specific counterintelligence operations under consideration other than the continued utilization of well placed Houston informants. As the Bureau is aware, because of the successful operation of these Houston informants, Houston SNCC and Houston BPP activities have ceased and the only black nationalist organization currently operating in the Houston area is the NOI.

II. Operations Being Effected

No specific counterintelligence operations are currently being effected at this time other than the continued efforts with informants to preclude any black nationalist organization obtaining a foothold in the Houston area.

Results of past counterintelligence action in the Houston Division as pointed out above has brought about a highly desirable situation in the Houston area, in that there is currently no black nationalist organization operating in Houston other than a small NOI group, and at the present time it appears that with the handling of the informants and the current climate in Houston, no black nationalist activity of significance is likely to develop.

Reurlet 12/12/69.

Your interest in submitting the counterintelligence proposal contained in relet is appreciated; however, authority is not granted to implement your suggested plan. There are several objections. The "Reader's Digest" article is lengthy and probably would not be read in its entirety by recipients. Also the article points out that the BPP has taken violent retaliatory measures against businessmen who have not "contributed" to the Panthers. This could have an undesired effect on businessmen reading the article by causing them to succumb to Panther solicitations to avoid any possible violence directed at them. Further, to utilize [redacted] in the distribution of the reprints would be exposing a Bureau counterintelligence technique to an outside source which, of course, should not be done.

As an alternative it is suggested you give consideration to determining through your sources the identity of the businessmen who are contributing to the BPP Breakfast for Children Program and, thereafter, anonymously mail to them copies of the Black Panther Party Coloring Book which shows the vicious nature of this organization. A note can be included with the mailing stating that this is the type of teaching the children are receiving at the Breakfast for Children Program.

Secure Bureau approval prior to instituting a specific counterintelligence measure.

Enclosed for the Bureau are pages 121 through 126 containing an article captioned "Intelligence Report on Today's 'New Revolutionaries' " from the October, 1969, "Reader's Digest".

As indicated in referenced letter, the BPP has recently opened an office in Albany and has attempted to solicit funds from merchants in this city. It is felt that if their efforts to obtain financial support are unsuccessful, the possibility of success in their future endeavors will be greatly minimized. In view of the above, the following information is set forth:

[redacted] On 11/19/69, he voluntarily appeared at the Albany Office of the FBI and furnished information concerning the attempts of the BPP to solicit funds from the merchants of that area. During subsequent contacts he has referred to the enclosed article which affords accurate portrayal of BPP efforts to raise money through their breakfast program and other related activities. He has also personally brought the solicitation attempts of the BPP to the attention of the local Chamber of Commerce.

It is recommended this source be approached to determine if he would be agreeable to having reprints of this article disseminated by the local Chamber of Commerce to all on their mailing list. It would be pointed out to him this would be upon his own initiative and that the FBI could not be involved under any conditions although reprints of this article would be supplied to him by the Bureau.

In their efforts to destroy forever America's "decadent society," student activists and black extremist groups have turned increasingly to dangerous acts of violence. Here is a documented—and frightening—account of who they are and how they operate

Intelligence Report on Today's "New Revolutionaries"

By William Schulz

At New York University, members of the Students for a Democratic Society slip into an auditorium where the Ambassador from South Vietnam is scheduled to speak. At a given signal, they storm the stage, manhandle the Ambassador and flee the hall. The young activists then proceed to another room, batter down the doors and forcibly prevent New York Times columnist James Reston from delivering his speech.

During a period of agitation by student radicals in Claremont, Calif., a secretary at Pomona College removes a bulky package from a college mailbox. As she does, the box explodes, blinding the woman in one eye, causing loss of two fingers and badly disfiguring her face.

At Tougaloo College in Mississippi, students from Negro colleges in the South and East attend a closed-door "defense workshop," discuss the elimination of mayors and police chiefs, the kidnaping of college authorities, the instruction of ghetto residents in the manufacture of Molotov cocktails and use of firearms.

These recent incidents, by no means isolated, are graphic illustrations of a new breed of revolutionary violence that is gravely threatening America. Its iron-fisted methods, often masked behind a shield of legitimate concerns, are doing severe disservice to honest protest in our society. "This has gone beyond the issues," says Prof. Harvey Mansfield of strife-torn Columbia University. "It is naked force against the democratic process."

The FBI supplies grim statistics: in 12 months more than 225 campuses were rocked by organized terror and violence; campus radicals accounted for more than $3 million in damages as research labs, ROTC buildings, even auditoriums were bombed; police in more than 40 cities were the target of guerrilla attacks.

Not surprisingly, apprehensive citizens in all parts of the country are asking: Who are the New Radicals? How do they operate? Who is financing them? How extensively are they assisted from abroad?

Here, then, is an intelligence report based upon months of nationwide research and the accumulation of documented findings by Congressional probers, U.S. law-enforcement agencies, and state and local authorities. In the words of Sen. John McClellan (D., Ark.), whose U.S. Senate Permanent Investigations Subcommittee has conducted extensive hearings: "The public now deserves to be acquainted with the cold, irrefutable facts."

Alliance of Terror. The revolutionary menace consists of a highly dangerous minority of perhaps 20,000 activists embedded within an overall movement of 200,000 radical dissidents. At the core of the movement, security officials agree, are two groups, one white and one black, both with grandiose plans for the overthrow of a "decadent" American society. They are:

• The Students for a Democratic Society, activated in 1962 by a handful of students from less than a dozen campuses. Today, SDS claims 70,000 followers on 350 campuses, and its national leaders—virtually all non-students—proudly rattle off a string of revolutionary victories scored last year at schools from Harvard to San Francisco State.*

• The Black Panther Party, a virulent, self-styled "armed revolutionary vanguard." In less than two years, the Panthers have mushroomed from a 125-man contingent based solely in Oakland, Calif., to a nationwide operation with 60,000 sympathizers and chapters in two dozen cities. "Schooled in the Marxist-Leninist ideology and the teachings of Mao Tse-tung," reports the FBI, "Panther members have perpetrated numerous assaults on police officers and engaged in violent confrontations with police throughout the country."

Throughout the early part of 1969, national leaders of SDS and the Black Panther Party held top-secret strategy sessions to discuss plans and coördinate strategy. The meetings were hardly surprising, for the extremist blacks and the revolutionary whites have much in common: a hatred for present-day America, an idolization of Fidel Castro and Mao Tse-tung, an abiding faith in violence as the means of destroying American society.

Bombs and Bombast. Thus, last fall, activists attending the SDS national council meeting at Boulder, Colo., were supplied copies of a pamphlet that set forth detailed instructions on the manufacture of fire bombs, train mines, even hand grenades. This and other manuals were circulated widely among SDS and other activists from coast to coast—with predictable results.

At Washington University in St. Louis, a 22-year-old SDS member, Michael S. Siskind, was arrested and convicted of the attempted fire bombing of an ROTC installation. At Ann Arbor, Mich., a bomb ripped through the local offices of the CIA, causing extensive property damage, and SDS claimed credit. Finally, a 26-year-old Army deserter, SDSer Cameron D. Bishop, became the first campus radical to make the FBI's Ten Most Wanted List—charged with the dynamite sabotage last January of defense-plant transmission-line towers near Denver. "It's not reform we're after," one SDSer told reporters at last summer's national convention in Chicago. "It's the destruction of your stinking, rotten society—and you better learn that fast."

The pronouncements of Black Panther leaders are strikingly similar. "Let us make it clear that the Panthers do not seek the objective of civil or legal rights," announced the party's minister of education, George Mason Murray, while visiting Cuba in August 1968. "We are organized like guerrillas," he said. Their purpose: to assassinate police, blow up bridges, burn factories.

This is not mere rhetoric. Panther members receive detailed instruction in the revolutionary use of "anti-property and anti-personnel grenades and bombs." Senate testimony reveals that last year, in Mobile, Ala., Panther Field Marshal Donald Lee Cox held classes for young Negroes in the manufacture and use of acid bombs. Result: a wave of terrorist bombings, mostly of Mobile business establishments. At least 58 of the bombings were attributed to such explosives.

From Havana With Hate. Substantial quantities of revolutionary propaganda are imported from China and Cuba by the Panthers and various New Left groups. One widely circulated tract, originally published in Cuba, advocates extensive sabotage, the derailing of trains, the use of fire bombs, homemade flamethrowers and explosive booby traps. Finally, "advanced instruction" in the revolutionary arts is available outside the United States.

Twenty-year-old Christopher Z. Milton told the SDS national convention this year that he spent three years behind the Bamboo Curtain, where he was a member of the revolutionary Red Guard. New Yorker

Robert Steele Collier, 32, visited Cuba in 1964 as part of a tour organized by the pro-Peking Progressive Labor Party and paid for by the Castro government. While in Cuba, Collier is reported to have received training in explosives from a major in the North Vietnamese army. He returned home, established contact with Cuban U.N. diplomats, and was a leader of a Black Liberation Front set up to carry out terrorist acts.

Collier mapped ambitious plans to blow up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell—but was "betrayed" by an undercover policeman who had infiltrated his group. Convicted of conspiracy in June 1965, he was sent off to federal prison—only to be released with time off for good behavior in March 1967. The "rehabilitated" Collier went on the New York City payroll as a recreation supervisor and moved into the Black Panthers. In April 1969 he was behind bars again—one of 21 Panthers charged with conspiracy to bomb department stores and to murder police. Collier is only one of hundreds of young Americans who have traveled to Cuba in recent years. In August 1968, for instance, 34 SDS members made their way to Cuba via Mexico. Part of the group of SDSers met with Huynh Van Ba, of the National Liberation Front of South Vietnam, who urged them to marshal U.S. anti-war sentiment, organize draft resisters, and solicit funds for the Vietcong.

Fat Cats and Foundations. The dollars that fuel the New Left and Black Power movements come from a variety of sources—foreign and domestic, legal and illegal. Many New Leftists come from affluent homes with indulgent parents whose generous allowances cover travel and minimum living expenses. Operating costs of the movement are high, however. Just to maintain the SDS national office, for instance, costs more than $80,000 a year.

Some of this is covered by membership dues and the sale of literature. But nearly 60 percent of the SDS budget comes in the form of contributions—including substantial amounts, curiously, from wealthy benefactors. As FBI director J. Edgar Hoover told Congress, four individuals—a Cleveland industrialist, the wife of a millionaire Chicago attorney, a New England heiress, and a wealthy New York lecturer and writer—have contributed a total of more than $100,000 to New Left activities.

Several tax-exempt foundations have helped finance the New Left. Hoover disclosed that one such group, located in New York, has supplied more than $250,000 during the past seven years to individuals and groups, most of which have had close ties to the New Left or Communist Party-U.S.A.

Piece of the Action. All too frequently, report experts, campus unrest is also financed by unsuspecting students and taxpayers. For example, at San Francisco State College (enrollment 18,000), several hundred student radicals took advantage of campus apathy and captured the student government in a little-noticed election.

Once in control of the $400,000-a-year associated students fund, derived from required student fees and some bookstore profits, the radicals ousted the business manager and his staff, slashed allocations for traditional activities—athletics, service clubs, various extracurricular groups—and embarked on a wild orgy of revolutionary spending. From then until State Attorney General Thomas Lynch impounded the fund last February, they approved pay and allowances for each other, purchased guns, commissioned "Hate Whitey" movies for ghetto showings, hired Panthers as lecturers.

The militants discovered other sources of money, including funds available from government agencies to Bay Area colleges, which were to enable them to conduct Community Action programs in the slums. College radicals promptly maneuvered themselves and their allies into many of the 300 to 500 work-study student jobs, each paying up to $3.50 an hour. These work-study students, operating in pairs throughout the ghetto, organized protest marches and school boycotts, picketed defense plants, fomented rent strikes and promoted "lie-ins" to halt troop trains.

The use of anti-poverty funds for disruption and violence is not confined to the Bay Area. Indeed, from coast to coast, black and white extremists of all descriptions have managed to grab a piece of the action:

Item: Black Panther leaders Bobby Seale, Huey Newton and George Murray all spent time on the anti-poverty payroll. In Jersey City, that city's chief Panther kept his anti-poverty job even after he was arrested for assaulting a policeman.

Item: In New York City, officials put up $30,000 for a "Free Store," designed to aid hippies and other "alienated youth." Free Store facilities were used to distribute leaflets on the manufacture of fire bombs and to recruit demonstrators for the 1968 Democratic national convention in Chicago.

Item: Little more than a year ago, Cleveland police walked into an ambush in the steaming Glenville ghetto—and were cut down one by one by trained marksmen. In 30 minutes, two patrolmen and a lieutenant were dead, 14 more were wounded. The leader of the uprising, black militant Fred (Ahmed) Evans, had received nearly $7000 in local anti-poverty funds—and boasted he had used part of the money for purchasing the murder weapons.

Capacity for Chaos. The largest source of Panther funds is not the poverty program, however, but the armed robberies and the shakedowns committed in the name of revolution. The Panthers' so-called "Breakfast Program" is a perfect example.

Tough young recruits swagger

through the ghetto informing merchants that the Panthers are running pre-school chow lines for underprivileged black kids. Contributions — in the form of foodstuffs or money — are demanded. "You wouldn't want someone to burn down your store," smiled one Los Angeles Panther.

The merchants get the message. In the San Francisco area, an auto dealer who refused to give the Panthers money arrived at work the next day to find his plate-glass windows shattered. A Chinese grocer in Oakland who refused to continue donations saw his place badly damaged by fire. In Harrisburg, Pa., "uncooperative" merchants were fire-bombed. "Most merchants are petrified," explains an East Coast police official. "So they kick in — $25, $50, $100 a week."

Such "voluntary contributions" finance an insidious program of revolutionary indoctrination. Impressionable school-age children — second, third and fourth graders — are fed not only bacon and eggs (usually in church basements) but massive doses of racist propaganda. A coloring book that shows blacks mutilating policemen with guns, knives and hatchets has been distributed in at least five different programs.

Other Panther projects are financed by armed robberies, as ex-Panther Larry C. Powell told the McClellan Subcommittee. As a member of the elite black guard, Powell related, he had been assigned to one of the "rip-out" squads that carried out the daily robberies ordered by the Black Panther Party Central Committee. Stores were carefully targeted — "A place wasn't worth robbing unless it had $500 or more" — with one third of the take going to the Panther treasury and the other two thirds split among the robbers.

The Panthers are no more representative of American blacks than the Students for a Democratic Society are of the country's seven million collegians. But both groups have a capacity for disruption that far exceeds their numbers. By carefully selecting issues — from the Vietnam war to "police brutality" — and by exploiting them fully, they have stirred to action thousands who would not normally become involved. And the havoc they have wreaked has had far-reaching consequences. It has jeopardized the struggle for civil rights, severely disrupted the normal processes of our academic system and posed a major threat to the continued existence of our democratic system.

Fall Fancy. Autumn is the peacock of the calendar: strutting, preening, wheeling and dipping its way through September and October and even into November, clearly mindful of all the attention that is turned its way.

Investigation by the Oklahoma City Division has developed no information indicating the existence of a Black Panther Party branch in this division at the present time.

In August, 1969, a group of young Negroes under the [redacted] attempted to form a branch of the BPP in Oklahoma City. This group was never authorized as a BPP branch by the National Office of the BPP and their only known method of contact with the BPP headquarters during the time the group was in existence was by telephone. This BPP group in Oklahoma City participated openly for a few days in the demonstrations in connection with a strike of sanitation workers in Oklahoma City. During the first week of the strike the Oklahoma City Police commenced a physical surveillance of [redacted] and resulted in his leaving the State of Oklahoma. Following the departure of [redacted] from Oklahoma City, there has been no further activity of the Black Panther group in Oklahoma City.

Investigation of the activity of this Black Panther group by the Oklahoma City Division and by the Oklahoma City Police Department has developed no information indicating that the group ever utilized tapes to send reports to national headquarters.

It is noted that the Columbia Division submitted a proposal concerning the making available information concerning MXLU to [redacted] It is noted that the Bureau did not grant authority to carry out this plan due to the possibility of embarrassment. It is noted that the Bureau suggested that, in view of the fact that [redacted], had advised the BPP Headquarters that he had had difficulty in distributing the BPP Paper in Charlotte, and was quoted as saying that some of the "niggers" in Charlotte say that [redacted] is a Communist, that the paper is a Communist paper, this line of thinking should be further engendered in the responsbile Negro population. However, due to lack of BPP activity at Charlotte, Charlotte has suggested that no efforts be made to publicize the BPP at this time. It is noted that the only active group actually seeking affiliation with the BPP is now located at Winston-Salem, N. C. On the development of the appropriate means, efforts will be made at Winston-Salem, N. C., to publicize the connections of the BPP with foreign Communist Nations and the BPP support of racial violence in the United States.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Bureau permission has been received to furnish public source type data concerning [redacted] and black extremist activities to [redacted] of the [redacted]

Preliminary discussions have been held with [redacted] however, to date he has not completed his article concerning [redacted] and is withholding further preparation pending developments in MXLU.

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

As noted in Charlotte letter to the Bureau dated 9/23/69, [redacted] This resulted in the stopping of demonstrations which could have led to violence in two situations.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The internal struggle within the BPP at Charlotte, N. C., resulted in a blanket denunciation of that group by the National Office of the BPP through an article in the Black Panther Newspaper.

The civil suit by the group at Charlotte against law enforcement agencies has not been adjudicated. Contacts with the USA's Office for the WDNC has determined that as of 12/8/69 no date for hearings in this matter has been set.

ReBulets, 11/3/69 and 12/5/69.

Relets requested information concerning the mailing of tapes from various BPP branches to BPP Headquarters at San Francisco, California.

[redacted] advised that to their knowledge, no tapes were ever made of Political Education classes at the Milwaukee BPP Chapter. Both indicated, however, [redacted] instructing Milwaukee to make recordings of speeches given by the Milwaukee BPP members. Nevertheless, sources were not aware of any instances wherein recordings were actually made for the purpose of sending them to National Headquarters.

[redacted]

Both sources indicate that since the Milwaukee BPP Chapter was dissolved, on approximately 11/4/69, no contact with National Headquarters has been made. The Milwaukee BPP Chapter remains disillusioned with National Headquarters, as they feel they were unjustly treated by the national leaders. Since the chapter has split up into 3 splinter groups, no organized Political Education classes or speeches have been given by any of the remaining members. Sources remain alert for tapes being sent to National Headquarters and are aware of the Bureau's interest in these tapes.

[redacted] was contacted and advised that [redacted] has never made any recordings of Political Education meetings or speeches and no tapes have been mailed to National Headquarters, to informant's knowledge. This source also is aware of the Bureau's interest in this regard and will remain alert for any such mailings.

In view of the disorganized state of the BPP in Milwaukee, and the lack of contact with National Headquarters, no further counterintelligence measures are being submitted. It should be noted that Milwaukee has previously recommended that this Division be authorized to instruct informants to continue to discourage contact with National Headquarters and further disruption of the existing BPP-oriented groups.

Re Bureau letter to Baltimore, 11/3/69.

No information has been developed by the Omaha Division to indicate that the United Front Against Facism, the successor organization to the BPP branch in Omaha, Nebraska, has been forwarding taped reports to National BPP Headquarters in San Francisco.

As has been previously pointed out to the Bureau, the BPP Chapter in Des Moines, Iowa, continues to be inactive and for all intents and purposes does not presently exist.

Concerning the UFAF in Omaha, this group has worked under the jurisdiction of the Kansas City Chapter of the BPP since its organization in August, 1969, following the disbanding of the BPP Chapter in Omaha on instructions of National Headquarters. There is no indications at the present time that taped reports of UFAF activities are being furnished to Kansas City.

This matter will continue to be closely followed and the Bureau and San Francisco will be immediately advised on receipt of information by Omaha that taped reports are being forwarded by the UFAF to either BPP Headquarters in San Francisco or the Kansas City Chapter of the BPP.

Re Chicago letter dated 9/2/69 (quarterly progress).

Set forth herewith is the periodic progress letter concerning captioned matter.

I. Operations Under Consideration

The Bureau has previously advised that it would be sufficient to note the dates on which letters have been submitted in captioned matter, regarding counterintelligence proposals concerning the Black Panther Party (BPP) for the period covered by the quarterly letter.

Since the date of referenced letter, these letters have been submitted as follows:

October 17, 1969; November 17 and 25, 1969.

Chicago continues to analyze the available current information regarding local BPP activity in a continuing effort to determine what, if any, such information may be of assistance in the development of a counterintelligence effort. The BPP continues to be considered the focal point for counterintelligence.

II. and III. Operations Being Effected and Tangible Results Obtained

Reference has previously been made to the specific counterintelligence actions initiated by Chicago. No information has been received reflecting tangible results of these actions.

Chicago has also continued to advise local authorities of instances where BPP members appear vulnerable to arrest on local charges. In this regard, Chicago letter to the Bureau dated November 21, 1969, captioned "Black Panther Party (BPP), RM" is concerned with the location in Chicago of weapons reportedly purchased legally by local BPP members. This information has been furnished to local law enforcement officials. Officials of the Chicago Police Department have advised that the department is currently planning a positive course of action relative to this information.

Information has regularly been disseminated by Chicago to other Bureau offices for local dissemination in instances where Chicago BPP have travelled elsewhere. Local BPP members have made a number of trips to Illinois State University at Normal, Illinois. Prior knowledge of the presence of these subjects, their identities and purpose of trip has been of value in alerting local authorities to the potential for violence represented.

IV. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

Recently FRED HAMPTON, Deputy Chairman, Illinois BPP and [redacted] called a general meeting of the Chicago Branch of the BPP at which time HAMPTON announced that everyone, but himself and [redacted] were purged from the BPP.

A counterintelligence recommendation was submitted by letter dated November 25, 1969, relative to this action.

This situation is being followed closely and where any further counterintelligence avenue appears likely a suitable recommendation will be made.

No counterintelligence action will be taken by Chicago without Bureau approval.

Regarding the remainder of local Black Nationalist groups and individuals, their activities are fragmented and limited. Chicago continues to follow such activities in the event information is developed which would indicate a counterintelligence effort would appear to have reasonable potential.

The People to Free the Panthers, according to a handout announcing the People's Rally, "is a group of people who realize the political nature of the present case against the Chairman of the Black Panther Party and the fourteen other members of the Party imprisoned in Connecticut."

Police estimated the crowd to be approximately 2,000 individuals, mostly caucasion and under twenty-five (25). Twenty-one buses brought the majority of the demonstrators into New Haven. The demonstration was orderly with the exception that the participants took a roundabout way to their final destination, the Superior Court Building, and as a result tied up traffic already complicated with heavy traffic to the annual Yale-Harvard game.

Minneapolis is continuing to emphasize quality informant coverage and will continue to enlarge coverage of Negro community. Portland's suggestion in Portland letter to Bureau, 9/22/69, is under consideration pending a specific counter-intelligence proposal concerning anonymous mailing of "Guardian" articles. Portland intends to propose that a companion anonymous mailing be considered utilizing an article appearing in the "Black Panther," 10/18/69, in which EUGENE CHARLES, Lieutenant of Illinois chapter of the BPP was extremely critical of MARK RUDD and the Weathermen faction of SDS.

Portland will make a counterintelligence proposal regarding Chief of Staff DAVID HILLIARD's article appearing in the "Black Panther" for 11/22/69, which is an unparalleled attack on the President of the United States.

RACIAL INTELLIGENCE

The following information is submitted regarding the counterintelligence activities (Black Extremists) by the St. Louis Division in the past 90 days:

1. Operations Under Consideration

None.

2. Operations Being Effected

By letter dated 10/1/69, St. Louis Division withdrew its recommendation for authorization to distribute anonymously copies of the pamphlet entitled "Storm Warnings", in view of the fact that the background information requested by the Bureau would involve contacts with over 100 separate municipalities, and it is not deemed economically feasible to complete this survey.

By letter dated 11/6/69, the St. Louis Division requested authorization to distribute copies of an editorial which appeared in a local newspaper, which editorial was critical of ACTION, a local black activist group, and ACTION's opposition to the Veiled Prophet Ball. By letter dated 11/17/69, the Bureau declined to authorize the mailing of the above-described material.

There were no other counterintelligence activities for which St. Louis requested authorization during the pertinent period.

3. Tangible Results

In response to a St. Louis request, the Bureau on 6/3/69 authorized the New York Division to send an anonymous mailing of [redacted] letter which criticized the Black Panther Party. These letters were apparently not mailed until the last week of September, 1969, and apparently the time lapse between the date of [redacted] letter and its anonymous dissemination in the St. Louis area was sufficient to blunt the effectiveness of this particular article. While no specific information has been received from informants and sources as to the actual comments from the local New Left figures, it is apparent that there is no strong support in the St. Louis area among the New Left extremists for the Black Panther Party. This is further evidenced by the fact that there has been no serious attempt of any kind to formulate a Black Panther Chapter in this Division despite the fact that the St. Louis metropolitan area has a high Negro population and presumably has sufficient black militants who might be interested in such an organization.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

ACTION, described above, continues to be the only black group of any significance other than the Nation of Islam in the St. Louis Division. This Division is continuing to research various counterintelligence activities which would be effective against this organization, and when another specific plan is developed, Bureau authority will be requested to initiate same by separate communication.

Re New Haven letter 11/3/69.

1. Operations Under Consideration

None.

2. Operations Being Effected

As authorized by the Bureau, New Haven will continue to furnish public source data to approved press representatives. New Haven will remain alert for those incidents or circumstances which may lend themselves to counterintelligence exploitation.

The New Haven Division is pursuing those investigations which will lead to successful prosecution of BPP members and leadership at the Federal or local level.

As authorized by the Bureau, on 12/3/69 an anonymous letter was mailed to the [redacted] Connecticut, concerning [redacted] and his connection with the BPP.

3. Tangible Results

None.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interest

On 12/2/69, a reliable New York source reported that the New Haven Chapter had been ordered to implement "Mandate Three." Another reliable New York source advised that in essence Mandate Three is an order to "shot to kill' anyone entering a BPP office who is not known to be a member of the BPP.

The 12/3/69 issue of the New Haven Journal Courier, daily morning newspaper New Haven, Conn., contained an article entitled, "Panther: Police Seeking to Drive Us From City", which reported a press conference held by BPP Captain DOUGLAS MIRANDA at BPP Headquarters, 35 Sylvan Avenue, New Haven. Black Panther Party Member.

MIRANDA said that the step-up in the alleged harassment of the New Haven BPP is due to the party's active effort toward "community rehabilitation" and is an effort to drive the party from the New Haven area.

MIRANDA said that he had received information from what he termed a reliable source that police, Federal marshals and FBI agents would raid the headquarters before the end of the week.

The New Haven Office is not aware of any anticipated arrests of BPP members in the near future by Federal or local authorities.

The motive or reason for the ordering of "Mandate Three" and the press conference, supra, is unknown. There is a possibility that the BPP is initiating a counterintelligence program of its own in order to obtain public sympathy.

IV. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The most interesting aspect concerning counterintelligence interest at this time, centers around the possibility that the BPP in San Diego has been dissolved. This reported development is being closely followed by the San Diego Office, and continued counterintelligence requests will be submitted to insure that if, in effect, the Party has been dissolved, it will be difficult for them to resume operations.

It is also interesting to note that probably as a result of the above activity, there has not been any recent conflict reported between the BPP and US, Inc., in the San Diego area.

I. SUMMARY OF CHANGES SINCE REFERENCED LETTER

None.

The following are the known Black Nationalist Groups in South Carolina. All are connected with educational institutions except the NOI.

1. Black Awareness Coordinating Committee (BACC) South Carolina State College (SCSC), Orangeburg, S. C.

2. BACC, Voorhees College, Denmark, S. C.

3. Association of Afro-American Students (AAAS), University of South Carolina(USC), Columbia, S. C.

4. Student League for Black Identity (SLBI), Clemson University, Clemson, S. C.

5. Nation of Islam (NOI).

II. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

1. The new NOI Mosque which will also serve as a school, The University of Islam, is scheduled to be completed by June, 1970. Columbia will request permission to alert City Inspectors to insure that all building codes have been complied with.

Columbia is following his activities to look for ways to neutralize his possible effectiveness with groups and to cause him embarrassment. Columbia is also going to interview this subject to determine his potential as an informant, since it is known that he has no financial security and that he is discouraged with his progress as a potential militant leader.

III. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

[redacted]

2. Columbia continues to maintain close contact with established sources in positions of authority at universities and colleges to be aware of the activities of potential extremist groups and individuals. Columbia also continues to suggest to security officers at these schools to keep close contact with school officials so they will have a close working relationship and will become more and more conscious of racial problems and security type problems as well as their usual criminal type work.

IV. TANGIBLE RESULTS

None.

It should be noted that the Columbia Division is extremely quiet with regard to any activities of Black Nationalist-Hate groups and at present there are no known hate groups, other than the NOI, within this division.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Bureau approval was obtained 10/20/69, to prepare a spurious letter exposing extortion-type tactics used by Muhammad's Mosque, Jackson, Miss., in obtaining dues from members and in seeking assistance of members in fund raising endeavours; letter was allegedly prepared by a relative of a disenchanted member of the mosque and this spurious letter was sent 10/27/69, to the Jackson Daily News for publication in the column "Ask Jack Sunn". b7C
b7D

After publication, an original of the news clipping containing the letter and the answer were mailed anonymously from three different addresses in Mississippi, to ELIJAH MUHAMMAD, Muhammad Speaks, and Muhammad's Mosque Number Two, all in Chicago. (U)

The purpose of the publication of the letter in the Jackson Daily News was to publicize in a derogatory manner that there is an NOI Mosque in Jackson, Miss.; the purpose of mailing the letter to three different addresses in Chicago was to show the national NOI representatives that the mosque in Jackson, Miss., was receiving poor state wide publicity. (U)

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

CONFIDENTIAL

Several white Mississippi residents have [redacted] expressed interest and concern that an NOI Mosque is attempting to become established in Jackson, Miss. This is to recommend the attached mass media item be furnished to a cooperative news media source on a confidential basis.

The item relates to hate-filled "season's greeting cards" currently being advertised for sale by the Black Panther Party in their newspaper. These cards, filled with inflammatory slogans such as "Revolution In Our Lifetime," depict police as pigs and urge the use of guns, dynamite and hand grenades. It is imperative that the public continue to be made aware of the vicious nature of the Black Panther Party and this presents a timely opportunity to expose their extremist radical nature.

Also attached for information is a copy of "The Black Panther" in which this advertisement appears on page 18.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS - HATE STYLE

"Revolution In Our Lifetime"

"The racist dog policeman must withdraw immediately from our communities . . ."

"An unarmed people are slaves . . ."

These and similar inflammatory captions are emblazoned across the face of the latest hate-filled offering of the violent Black Panther Party. These black radicals are now peddling their own revolutionary season's greeting cards at $1.00 a box. The greeting cards, of poor quality prepared in black and white by their "Minister of Culture," are advertised for sale in the latest issue of "The Black Panther" newspaper.

In one hate card a child is shown telling his father what he wants for Christmas - machine gun, hand grenades and dynamite! Another depicts a young boy, gun in hand pointed at Santa Claus's head saying "We want an end to the robbery by the capitalists of our Black Community." Police are represented as pigs being chopped by bullets and dynamite!

It is ironical indeed that in the season which resounds to "Peace on earth" and "good will to men" some will open their greeting cards to see a drawing of a black baby clutching a gun while someone proclaims "We will fight from one generation to the next."

There is very little activity in the Denver group and it appears according to informants that the Denver group will disband after [redacted] are extradited to New Haven, Connecticut, to stand trial for the ALEX RACKLEY murder. They are currently incarcerated in Denver County Jail without bond.

The Denver group is currently being controlled by out-of-town members of the Panthers who are getting no support and their own morale is at a low ebb. It is felt there is nothing Denver can do at the present time to make matters in the Denver group any worse than their own current position.

1. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Tampa letter to the Bureau, 10/16/69, captioned [redacted] indicates that Local Board #4, Freeport, N.Y., had received a letter dated 9/22/69 from [redacted], advising that [redacted] in his fourth year and resides on campus. Inquiry at New College indicates that [redacted] is in fact not attending school and not residing at the college. The New York Office has been requested to contact [redacted] for the full circumstances surrounding the letter supposedly from [redacted] attendance and residence at the school. The possibility exists that [redacted] is in violation of the Selective Service Act for furnishing false information or certificates to the Local Board regarding his attendance at New College.

[redacted]. The other founder of the organization, [redacted] is presently in jail.

2. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

At the present time Tampa has mosques of the NOI located in Tampa, Melbourne, Ft. Myers and St. Petersburg, Fla. The Tampa Mosque has a membership of 15-20 members whereas the other mosques have memberships of 4 to 6 members each. These mosques have had no effect or support within the community.

The Junta of Militant Organization (JOMO) in St. Petersburg, Fla. has 8 to 10 members and the [redacted], is out of jail on appeal.

[redacted] has not been involved in militant activities within the recent past.

UMOJA, a black militant organization formed in Clearwater, Fla. has not been able to gain support in Clearwater and is not regularly holding meetings.

There are no active black student groups on campuses within the Tampa Division or are there any chapters of the Black Panther Party within the Tampa Division.

[redacted] Negroes of college age but was convicted in [redacted] without a license and presently is out on an appeal.

In view of the situations related above, it is felt that counterintelligence operations against any of these groups possibly could have an adverse effect and give some publicity to groups which have been unable to gain support in the community.

3. TANGIBLE RESULTS

No tangible results.

4. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

As noted above, black nationalist organizations within the Tampa Division have been unable to gain any support within their communities. Tampa is aware that this situation could change at any time as a result of escalation of an incident and accordingly, during the continuing investigation of these organizations the possibility of counterintelligence measures will be closely followed.

The Counterintelligence Operation proposed in Los Angeles letters to the Bureau dated 10/20, and 11/26/69, is being held in abeyance pending Bureau approval.

Exhaustive interviews of suspected members of the LABPP continue and are serving to create distrust among activists and the defection of peripheral members.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

A survey of toll calls of selected LABPP leaders continues, with the result of these reviews being considered for counterintelligence proposals.

The Los Angeles Division continues to follow arrests of members of the LABPP for violations of Anti-Riot and Gun Control laws, to determine if any of these individuals might be prosecuted under Federal or State laws. Liaison with logical sporting goods stores and firearms outlets continues in an effort to identify members of the LABPP purchasing firearms.

This is to recommend attached mass media item be furnished a cooperative news media source in Washington, D. C., on a confidential basis. The item relates that the Black United Front (BUF) has demanded a "tax" of a dollar per demonstrator (or a lump sum of $25,000) be paid by the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (NMC) in order to hold an antiwar demonstration 11/15/69 in Washington, D. C., and in spite of this, Julius Hobson, a prominent BUF member, has agreed to speak at this NMC demonstration.

In addition, the NMC has procured the appearance of Mrs. Coretta King at the rally and the group now believes that the BUF will be reluctant to cause any trouble if the "tax" is not paid.

Publicity about this situation in Washington, D. C., would further the rift between the antiwar group and the black community and would help neutralize the demonstration.

ACTION:

That Crime Records Division furnish attached item to a cooperative new media source in Washington, D. C. on a confidential basis.

ANALYSIS OF PUBLICATIONS

Articles appearing in Volume 1, Issue No. 59, of "The Voice of the Black Community" (VOBC), dated October 9, 1969, of intelligence interest are as follows:

An editorial appearing on Page 2 of VOBC entitled "As I See It", alleges that Mr. NIXON is attempting to force the appointment of Judge HAYNESWORTH to the Supreme Court Bench. It further states that "even though HAYNESWORTH is a known racist, a union buster and a user of his position for personal gain, NIXON is still telling the country to accept him."

An article appearing on Page 4 of VOBC contains alleged statements of Mayor RICHARD GORDON HATCHER, Gary, Indiana, to the effect that the election of several "law and order candidates" in primaries in New York, Los Angeles, and Minneapolis showed an alarming trend toward conservatism that may well include a federal plan to put dissentors in concentration camps. The article goes on to state that in his regular address to the Gary City Council, HATCHER said that he was disturbed by frequent rumors among black leaders that the federal government has approved $50 million to renovate Job Corps camps around the country despite President NIXON's assertion that he was planning to phase out the Job Corps. The article carries a direct quote as follows: "That can lead to one of several conclusions, the most frightening of which is that those camps are being prepared for dissidents, perhaps Black and white."

In Volume I, Issue No. 58, VOBC, Thursday, October 16, 1969, no articles of intelligence interest are apparent.

Articles appearing in Volume I, Issue No. 58, Thursday, October 24, 1969, of VOBC, are as follows:

An article appearing on Page 1, entitled, "Janitor Accused of Pushing and Kicking Black Girl", alleges a discrepancy in a story printed in the Decatur Herald-Review".

ENCLOSURE

with a story obtained by the editor from one of the participant's mother and grandmother. The story alleges that a white student was let into a restricted area at Thomas Jefferson High School to get pop. Black students attempting to do the same thing were blocked at the door by a white janitor. Through a joke, cold cream on the hands of one of the girls got on the janitor and he shoved her against the wall and kicked her. After shoving another of the girls her sister allegedly jumped in and scratched him. The editor states that a recent article in the "Decatur Herald-Review" reported that three girls had attacked the janitor at Thomas Jefferson School. The article states that "in the past years incidents like this have been publicized degrading black people and we had no means of rebuttal. This isn't true today for the VOICE is on the scene telling it just like it is."

Volume 2, Issue No. 8, Thursday, October 30, 1969, of VOBC, contains no articles of intelligence interest.

Articles appearing in Volume 2, Issue No. 9, Thursday, November 6, 1969, of VOBC, of intelligence interest are as follows:

An article appearing on Page 3, entitled "Seale Depicts Image of Blacks in America", contains an artists conception of Black Panther BOBBY SEALE gagged and shackled to a chair. Underneath the picture is a statement as follows: "This picture of Bobby Seale portrays the predicament of Blacks in America today. Those Blacks speaking out for the rights of black people are being gagged. Those blacks doing something physical about the problem are being shackled."

Articles of intelligence interest appearing in Volume 2, Issue No. 10, November 13, 1969, are as follows:

An article appearing on Page 1, entitled "Many Discrepancies Unfold in Sangster Trial" alleges as its purpose, giving the public an opportunity to know the many contradictions in the trial of WILLIE T. SANGSTER, and also the caliber of the witnesses testifying on both sides. The article, apparently written by the editor, HORACE G. LIVINGSTON, states that he witnessed the events in the courtroom and he is reporting what he saw and heard. The editor refers to the testimony of GEORGE GRAYNED, who he says testified that he drove SANGSTER to the hospital at 4:30 on the day of the robbery, December 16, 1969, and went with him to visit his wife. The editor states that GRAYNED later left and did not return until 8:00 PM to pick up SANGSTER.

The editor also states that a Northtown parking lot attendant gave a statement after the robbery indicating that the man was between 18 and 24 years old, wore a dark coat, and weighed approximately 130 pounds. The article then said that he could not identify pictures of SANGSTER at Headquarters, or pick him out of a line-up. The article then said that yet in open court he made positive identification. The article also contains the alleged testimony of Dr. LEWIS KIRK of Adolph Meyer Zone Center who recalled meetings with SANGSTER on the day of the robbery, which lasted from 1:30 to 4:10 PM. Then there is alleged testimony of Mrs. ALMA TATE, Zone Center employee, who stated that she left work and went directly to Decatur Memorial Hospital to visit Mrs. SANGSTER at 4:30 PM and arrived 10 or 15 minutes later and saw SANGSTER in his wife's room at that time.

The article does not contain any indication as to testimony concerning the time of the robbery.

The only significant change in the Black Nationalist Movement in this division is the fact that the three Black Panther Party (BPP) branches have given up their headquarters and stopped participating in the Breakfast for Children Program and the Liberation School Program.

No specific operation is now under consideration. The almost complete lack of activity by the BPP and the very limited activity of the Nation of Islam (NOI) have made development of a meaningful counterintelligence program particularly difficult. Consideration is given to any information received concerning these organizations having potential counterintelligence action but thus far, no worthwhile program has been developed.

ReNYlet to Bureau, 9/5/69.

1. Operations Under Consideration

The NYO is presently considering an attempt to disrupt the distribution of "The Black Panther", the BPP national newspaper, in the New York City area.

In order to accomplish the above proposal, it is necessary that the NYO thoroughly analyze the means and methods of distribution of "The Black Panther" in order that a logical and practical plan may be submitted to the Bureau.

Upon completion of the aforementioned study, a plan will be submitted to the Bureau by separate cover letter for the Bureau's consideration and approval.

The NYO is now considering the fact that since several current issues of "The Black Panther" seem to be more concerned with combating Fascism than with bettering the plight of the Black man and that handbills be prepared to that effect which would be distributed in known areas of BPP activity.

2. Operations Being Submitted

On 11/20/69, an anonymous letter was sent to [redacted] after Bureau approval to do so was granted on 9/23/69.

The delay in mailing the anonymous letter was because of the recent Mayoral campaign in New York City. It was felt that an earlier mailing of this letter might make it appear to be politically motivated and, therefore, cause it to lose its hoped for effectiveness.

On 10/28/69, information was received that the BPP had contacted an official of St. Anthony of Padua, a Roman Catholic Church in NYC, with the hope of instituting a "BPP Free Breakfast Program".

On 10/29/69, SAS of the NYO contacted a priest at the above mentioned church and discussed with him the background and ideals of the BPP.

During the months of September and October, 1969, [redacted] could furnish no information which would identify any members of the BPP as being the recipients of welfare benefits. It is planned to utilize any positive information obtained from this source as a counter-intelligence proposal which would discredit the BPP in the New York area.

Also during the period of September through November, 1969, several confidential sources, who have furnished reliable information in the past, and who are familiar with some aspects of racial activities in the New York City area advised that generally [redacted] among the Black community and exerted no influence on their activities. Therefore, it is felt that there is no pertinent counterintelligence aspect that could be capitalized on in regard to [redacted]

On 11/7/69, the NYO submitted a list to San Francisco (re their file SF 157-601) of individuals known to be active in or at least closely associated with the workings of the BPP in the NYC area. This is to be utilized in a counterintelligence technique emanating from San Francisco.

3. Tangible Results

On 11/3/69, SAS of the NYO again contacted the priest previously mentioned at [redacted] Church and learned that the "BPP Free Breakfast Program" was not instituted at that church and there were no plans to permit it to operate in the future.

It is felt that the above situation is indicative of the proper utilization of counterintelligence measures by the NYO.

4. Developments of Counterintelligence Interests

The activities of the Jewish Defense League as reported in the local news media are being closely monitored so that an appropriate "second anonymous communication" may be submitted to the Bureau for their suggestions and approval.

Activities of the Republic of New Africa in the NYC area continue to be in a state of flux. When their activities achieve some semblance of stability, consideration will be given to the submission of logical counterintelligence proposals dealing with this organization.

The NYO is aware of the necessity for the Bureau to consider and recommend any specific counterintelligence proposal and will, therefore, remain alert for indications of situations where counterintelligence techniques may be utilized and will immediately inform the Bureau of such happenings.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM
BLACK NATIONALIST-HATE GROUPS
RACIAL INTELLIGENCE
BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

Reurlet 12-1-69.

You stated in relet that the United Front Against Fascism (UFAF), the successor to the Black Panther Party (BPP) in Omaha, is composed of approximately eight to twelve members, and their only activities have been to sell "The Black Panther," BPP newspaper, and publication of a UFAF news letter.

While the activities appear to be limited in the Omaha area, it does not necessarily follow that effective counterintelligence measures cannot be taken. As long as there are BPP activities, you should be giving consideration to that type of counterintelligence measure which would best disrupt existing activities. It would appear that some type of counterintelligence aimed at the disruption of the publication and distribution of their literature is in order. It is also assumed that of the eight to twelve members, one or two must certainly be in a position of leadership. You should give consideration to counterintelligence measures directed against these leaders in an effort to weaken or destroy their positions. Bureau has noted that you have not submitted any concrete counterintelligence proposals in recent months. Evaluate your approach to this program and insure that it is given the imaginative attention necessary to produce effective results. Handle promptly and submit your proposals to the Bureau for approval.

Re Omaha letter to Bureau, 11/17/69.

The BPP in Des Moines, Iowa, continues to be inactive and for all intents and purposes does not exist. The United Front Against Fascism (UFAF), the successor to the BPP in Omaha, Nebraska, is composed of approximately 8 to 12 members and its only activity to date has been the sale of "The Black Panther," the BPP newspaper, and the publication of a UFAF newsletter.

In view of the foregoing, Omaha does not feel that at the present time it can make concrete recommendations regarding counterintelligence measures aimed at crippling these organizations.

This matter will continue to be closely followed and suggestions for counterintelligence action against the above organizations and their leadership will be submitted by separate communications.

ReWFOlet, 8/29/69.

In accordance with instructions set forth in Bulet dated 3/4/68, the following data is submitted:

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

It was recently determined by WFO that the Center for Black Education, 1435-37 Fairmont Street, N.W., [redacted] failed to obtain an Occupancy Permit for his school as required by D. C. regulations. Further, it was determined that it would require a special exception to existing zoning laws in order for the school to obtain such a permit. WFO is considering a number of ways in which to exploit this situation.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

During the past three months, WFO has proposed a number of press releases designed to discredit certain black extremists in WDC. These included Reverend DOUGLAS MOORE and the Black United Front (BUF), JULIUS HOBSON, member of the D. C. School Board and [redacted]

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS

An accurate appraisal of tangible results of the operations effected under Section II above is difficult. However, the following are noted as possible results of the Cointel action: (1) JULIUS HOBSON was defeated in his bid for re-election to the D. C. IV. DEVELOPMENT OF A COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

There are no significant developments of a counterintelligence interest to report at this time.

Re Albany letter to Bureau, 8/21/69.

1. Operations Under Consideration

The Albany Chapter of the BPP has recently opened an office at 163 South Pearl Street, Albany, N. Y. Although there is a telephone in the office, it is not in service and the Albany PD has made arrangements to be notified if and when it is connected. The PD has indicated they are considering technical coverage if the phone is connected but this has not been definitely resolved as of this time.

During the night of 11/20/69, two plate glass windows were broken at the above location. In view of this, it is felt the owner of this property may not desire to continue renting to such a group. In addition, an attempt by the BPP to solicit funds from merchants in Albany has met with organized resistance from the merchants. No suggestions have been submitted to the Bureau as of this time since it appears the BPP is encountering resistance in this area. This matter will be closely followed, however, and if this organization becomes active in the area, specific suggestions will be submitted to the Bureau.

Re: Bureau airtel to Albany, 3/4/68.

The following is a ninety day summary of activities within the New Haven Division relating to captioned program:

1. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The New Haven Division has and will continue to recommend anonymous mailings regarding prominent sympathizers to the Connecticut Black Panther Party. It is felt that operations of this nature will cause embarrassment, not only to those individuals concerned, but to the Black Panther Party as well.

The New Haven and Hartford Branches of the Black Panther Party are engaged in a breakfast for children program and these programs are being closely watched for possible counterintelligence exploitation.

2. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

As authorized by the Bureau, the New Haven Division will continue to furnish public source data to approved press representatives.

On August 29, 1969, an anonymous letter was mailed to [redacted] and mailed from New Haven. This letter pointed out activity of the Black Panther Party on the Yale campus and the apparent condonement by the Yale authorities.

Further, as authorized by the Bureau, an anonymous letter will be mailed in the near future to the Bishop of the Hartford Diocese of the Episcopal Church concerning [redacted] a Black Panther Party sympathizer.

The New Haven Division remains alert for Federal, state and local violations committed by members of the Black Panther Party and is aggressively conducting such investigation to uncover criminal violations.

3. TANGIBLE RESULTS

None.

4. DEVELOPMENTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INTEREST

The New Haven Division continues to note the rebuilding of the Black Panther Party within the State of Connecticut. The Black Panther Party, [redacted] has held numerous demonstrations and have been in frequent contact with the Students for a Democratic Society, the Communist Party and other left-wing organizations.

Recently, five New York Panthers, who were transferred to New Haven for an indefinite period, returned to New York and are reportedly going to be replaced by West Coast Panthers.

The New Haven Division expects a continued increase in Black Panther Party activity as the trial of the "Connecticut 14" approaches. This activity will undoubtedly include a large influx of out-of-state Panthers.

Re Bureau letter dated 11/6/69 to Springfield.

The Black Panther Party (BPP) in the Chicago, Illinois area in general encourages the technique of "comprehensive searches of their person without prior notice" at functions in which they participate, however, this is not done on all occasions.

Review of material furnished by Chicago area BPP sources tends to indicate that BPP members accompanying BPP speaker act as security guards for that speaker. If the speaking engagement is local, generally if search conducted, it is done by BPP members. If engagement is outside Chicago area, no search is conducted by BPP members as speaker is generally appearing for a fee.

Chicago of the opinion an anonymous letter to a campus, local newspaper or the BPP headquarters protesting "fascist and police state tactics" would have no effect on whether or not BPP members conducted a search at the function where a Panther was speaking. It is further noted that the use of white hippies as security for the appearance of a Black Panther leader would not matter to the BPP inasmuch as those members accompanying the Panther speaker act as speaker's security and would consider white hippie searchers as searching persons for their own protection and not BPP speaker protection.

Review of this material also indicates that where searches have been conducted by the person sponsoring BPP speaker, the accompanying BPP members have at times requested those individuals carrying cameras and evidently known to searchers, to place these cameras under their chairs, not to use them or chance being forcibly removed from the room.

No information has been developed to indicate that BPP branches in this division have submitted reports to National BPP Headquarters on magnetic tapes. Sources have not determined that the local chapters possess tape recorders at present.

When the Sacramento BPP Headquarters was raided by the Sacramento PD on 6/15/69, a tape recorder was found and seized. However, this was apparently the private property of [redacted] claimed the recorder several months after it was seized. This was subsequent to the time that [redacted] was expelled from the BPP and presumably the recorder is still in his possession.

90-DAY PROGRESS LETTER:

I. COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Due to the inactivity of the Black Student Association (BSA) at Memphis State University (MSU), and the black militant organizations at Memphis known as the Black Knights and the Invaders, no counterintelligence operations are presently under consideration by the Memphis Office directed against these three organizations.

It should be noted that the Invader organization at the present time is practically non-existent. It presently consists of [redacted] and some five followers, exerts no influence in the community, and for its very existence has affiliated itself with Local 1733 of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) union, which has been conducting a strike at a private hospital at Memphis, Tennessee, in an effort to unionize employees at this hospital.

Informants have advised that BSA organization at MSU, which took part in and led the take-over of MSU President's Office in the spring semester of 1969, has no militant plans and is presently operating as a social group only.

Informants and interviews with members of the Black Knights indicate that this organization is non-violent at the present time and has taken part in no

III. TANGIBLE RESULTS OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS

The furnishing of selected information to [redacted] has resulted in some excellent disruption of the Invader organization. As an example, information was furnished to [redacted] when the Invader organization, led by [redacted] was in Forrest City theoretically conducting non-violent demonstrations at Forrest City. During this time [redacted] was arrested and charged with assault with a dangerous weapon (a knife) and attempted robbery of a grocery store, and [redacted] for these offenses. This information, which was furnished to [redacted] Memphis, Tennessee, where [redacted] offered the support of his organization to daily marches and demonstrations being conducted by the NAACP and AFSCME against the Memphis Board of Education. At this meeting at Clayborn Temple, at which [redacted] offered the support of his organization, [redacted] who had been furnished information regarding [redacted] organization, to which question [redacted] replied, "Yes." The second question was, "Isn't it true that [redacted] a member of the Invaders, is presently [redacted] peaceful demonstrations?" [redacted] got angry at such a question and was laughed off of the speaker's platform by the assembled people, and his services were not utilized in the demonstration conducted by the NAACP the following day.

Information of this nature will continue to be furnished to [redacted] in an effort to discredit [redacted] and the Invaders.

The Memphis Office will continue to remain alert to any counterintelligence operations that may be utilized to disrupt or discredit both the Invader organization and the Black Knights organization at Memphis. The Bureau will be kept advised of all developments.

I. OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Consideration is presently being given to requesting Bureau authority to contact health, building and zoning authorities to request extremely close inspections of NOI headquarters in Miami and Fort Lauderdale, Florida, for possible violations of local ordinances that may result in closing these headquarters or necessitating costly repairs.

II. OPERATIONS BEING EFFECTED

Sources have reported that since this program, Miami's NOI Mosque had to discontinue its "mission type" meetings held weekly in the Coconut Grove area of Miami because of a lack of attendance. Prior to the expose, these meetings averaged from 30 to 40 visitors; since the program they average only 8 to 10 visitors. Sources have also reported there has been a definite decrease in attendance at regular NOI meetings in Miami. This decrease includes both visitors and members. The program had such an effect on NOI leadership in Miami that it is mentioned and attempts are made to refute information set forth in the expose at almost every NOI meeting since it was presented.

OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

At the time of submission of reference letter and up until a few weeks ago, a situation was prevailing on a local level wherein [redacted] was becoming disenchanted with the Black [redacted] and allied himself with [redacted] a local extremist movement not unlike [redacted] to take action against local government regarding the activities surrounding the July 23, 1968 confrontation between an extremist group and local police which resulted in what has been commonly known as the Glenville shoot out.

It is apparent the monetary return from sympathizers and backers of the July 23 Defense Committee did not materialize and this caused the zeal of [redacted] to cool.

It was felt the disenchantment with the July 23 movement by [redacted] after some funds had been raised could be exploited by a friendly newspaper source.

The lack of interest in this group by extremist elements and those on the fringes, even when many became aware that money already funneled to this group had been misappropriated, blunted any effect this proposed counterintelligence activity might have had if implemented.

Henry brothers' rift causes split in RNA

By MICHAEL MAHARRY and DON BALL
Detroit News Staff Writers

A dispute over tactics and control of the Detroit-based Republic of New Africa (RNA) has split the black separatist group and left Richard and Milton R. Henry, the brothers who founded it, on opposite sides of the fence.

The conflict has been variously described as anything from a "power struggle" to a "misunderstanding."

It came to a head this week when Milton Henry, a Pontiac attorney and first vice-president of the RNA, suspended his brother, Richard, from positions as RNA minister of the interior and Midwest regional vice-president.

Richard, known in the RNA as Brother Imari, claimed that "subversive" members of the organization deliberately fed misinformation to Milton, creating a "misunderstanding" which led to the suspension.

OTHER SOURCES, however, indicated Milton Henry is trying to purge his brother from the organization because of personal and political differences.

These sources say Richard, as speaker of the RNA's legislative body, was trying to take control of the organization's military arm, the Black Legion.

Although admitting that his suggestions for recruitment and use of a 100,000-man "defensive force" were not accepted by Milton Henry and other RNA leaders, Richard Henry denied any intention of trying to usurp power from his brother.

"I love and support my brother," Richard said, "and I will continue to do so."

Dispute by Henry brothers causes split in black RNA

Richard added, however, that he felt his brother was being duped by a small minority of RNA members who have opposed him (Richard) since the "nation" was founded 21 months ago with the avowed aim of establishing a separate black nation in the southern United States.

"Milton is a victim of their subversion—not a part of it," he said.

Asked to explain his reasons for the suspension, Milton Henry told The Detroit News:

"I absolutely cannot comment on this. Much as I would like to answer these charges, I cannot discuss the internal affairs of the republic in public."

Richard said he did not know why he had been suspended from the RNA cabinet.

"BUT I HAVE BEEN pursuing certain policies that have upset some people in the republic, and this may be the reason," he said.

One of those policies, he said, involved the establishment of the 100,000-man force which would serve as a "deterrent" to prevent hostile acts against the RNA by the U.S. government or other segments of white society.

Richard expressed confidence that the "citizens" of the RNA would support him against those who engineered his suspension. He predicted that he would be vindicated before the next legislative convention, which he said would be held in the next two months.

He added, however, that he did not plan to press for the creation of the 100,000-man army.

"SPEED AND SECRECY were essential for its success," he said, "and it cannot work now that the plan is out in the open."

Asked how the plan had gotten "out in the open," he said: "I just told you about it."

Although Richard Henry denies it, other RNA sources claim the dispute over the size and deployment of the Black Legion is simply the last straw in a long-simmering feud between him and Milton.

Nothing better illustrates the apparent differences in the philosophies of the Henry brothers than their occupations outside the RNA.

Milton is an attorney. He hews to a legalistic approach for the establishment and operation of the RNA.

Richard has been employed for most of his career as a civilian employe of the armed forces, first for the Air Force and then the U.S. Army Tank - Automotive Command (ATAC) in Warren.

WHILE MILTON was in England using legal means to free RNA President Robert Williams from a London jail, Richard was confronting Edward I. R. MacGregor, the British consul general in Detroit, and threatening military action if Williams was not freed.

Richard says he took the action only after the Detroit consulate of the RNA voted to do so. He admits that the local commander of the Black Legion was angered by his action. Significantly, he made no mention of any approval by his brother for the move.

Richard states flatly that the course of the RNA from its founding days to the present followed the blueprint he laid out in his pamphlet, "War in America, the Malcolm X Doctrine."

Military might plays a major role in the pamphlet.

IF RNA LEADERS decide to change direction and shelve the man responsible for the original plan, Richard said, it would be nothing new in the history of governments.

He admits the minister of defense, Mwcusi Chui, of Dayton, Ohio, as well as the commander of the Black Legion in Detroit, were "disturbed" by his threat of military action against the British.

Since then, the organizations' three regional vice-presidents have been removed from the chain of command over the RNA military, Richard Henry revealed.

Control of the Black Legion may have been one of the key items slated for discussion at a legislative convention scheduled for the first weekend in November in Pittsburgh.

RICHARD AS SPEAKER of the RNA's national council of representatives, was in New York earlier this month to work out details of the convention with other legislative leaders.

Milton, however, issued an executive order this week canceling the convention.

"All citizens must abide by this order for the preservation of the republic," he said in a letter mailed to all RNA members.

Richard countered by saying it was "constitutionally impossible" for a member of the RNA executive branch to cancel a meeting of the legislative branch. He said a legislative convention would be held.

THE PROPOSED convention could decide who will win control of the RNA.

Members have been given a choice: Obey Milton's order or follow Richard and attend the convention.

Their decision could determine whether the RNA will follow its present policies or become more militant and more militaristic.

Formed by the Henry brothers in Detroit almost two years ago. The RNA proclaims its members to be citizens of an independent nation.

THEY HAVE petitioned the U.S. government and the United Nations, demanding that the states of Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and South Carolina be turned over to the RNA, along with $400 billion in reparations.

Members of the republic refuse to discuss membership figures, but outside observers set the national "hard-core" membership at about 200, plus perhaps 10 times that many who have attended RNA meetings and express sympathy with its cause.

In addition to Detroit, with an estimated 50 hard-core members, chapters (called consulates in the RNA) are active in New York (with about 10 members), Brooklyn (15 members), Boston (10), Washington (12), Dayton (20), Cincinnati (eight), Chicago (eight), New Orleans (20) and Phoenix (15).

DESPITE ITS MILITANT posture, the RNA has had only one brush with violence in its 21 months of existence.

On Saturday night, March 29, one police officer was shot to death and a second wounded when they stopped to question a group of RNA "legionaires" carrying rifles outside Detroit's New Bethel Baptist Church, 8450 Linwood, where the RNA was holding a national conference.

Police reinforcements entered the church and arrested everyone in the building. Two RNA members are now awaiting trial on charges growing out of the shooting of the two officers.

One of the many paradoxes of extremism is the [redacted] similarities appearing in organizations on both the far left and far right. A good example is how the traditional anti-Semitism of organizations like the American Nazi Party is parroted by organizations such as the Black Panther Party (BPP) and the Nation of Islam (NOI), two black extremist organizations. It is curious that publications such as the "Fiery Cross," a Klan newspaper, and "The Thunderbolt," official newspaper of the National States Rights Party, a Nazi-type organization, call for the destruction of the State of Israel in the same demagogic manner as articles appearing in "The Black Panther" and "Muhammad Speaks," official organs of the BPP and the NOI respectively.

[redacted]

"The sisters here in San Diego have a complaint. We're all sick and tired of [redacted]. He keeps holding trials for us for little things that don't amount to nothing and then he sentences us to sleep with him as punishment. Sometimes the punishment lasts for four or five nights. It isn't that we don't like this type punishment except that [redacted] is such a dirty pig.

"We're all willing to take orders about party matters but this don't have anything to do with the Panthers. He only does it because it is the only way he can get a sister to go to bed with him and he ain't worthy of being called a Panther."

Signed "Power to the Vanguard"

"P.S. I can't sign this because if he found out he'd have me offed or even worse sentence me to ten nights with him next time."

Re San Diego airtel to the Director dated 11/12/69; and Director letter to San Diego dated 11/18/69.

For the information of the Bureau, the proposed annonymous letter concerning [redacted] will, if approved, be sent to [redacted] in Los Angeles due to the fact that [redacted] appears to be the individual to whom the majority of grievances of the San Diego Branch are normally taken.

In regard to the Bureau's comments concerning the grammatical characteristics of the proposed letter, it is pointed out to the Bureau that the majority of individuals within the Black Panther Party in San Diego are reasonably well-educated. The majority of correspondence submitted by these individuals, which has been seen by the San Diego Office, appears to be rather well written. However, Bureau evaluation is requested concerning the following letter instead of the letter as contained within the referenced San Diego airtel to the Bureau:

Re San Francisco airtels to Bureau, 11/3 and 11/7/69.

In ReSFairtel of 11/7/69, San Francisco Office requested permission to advise the San Francisco Police Department (SFPD) Intelligence Unit of BPP proposed request for authority to use a building owned by the City of San Francisco on a rent-free basis for their Breakfast Program. It is believed that such a contact with the SFPD could forestall the use of the building by the BPP since their request for the rent-free use of it is based upon their claim that their Breakfast Program is a non-profit activity operated for charitable purposes.

San Francisco has also previously suggested investigation by the Los Angeles Office to determine if [redacted] is responsible for smuggling tape recordings prepared by HUEY P. NEWTON out of the California Mens Colony where NEWTON is imprisoned. Results of these inquiries have not been provided the San Francisco Office to date.

Re Los Angeles letters to the Bureau dated 10/16, 10/20, and 11/3/69; Bureau letter to Los Angeles dated 11/5/69.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS IN EFFECT AGAINST THE LOS ANGELES BLACK PANTHER PARTY (LABPP)

The Counterintelligence Operation proposed in Los Angeles letter to the Bureau dated 10/20/69, is being held in abeyance pending Bureau approval.

Exhaustive interviews of suspected members of the LABPP continue and are serving to create distrust among activists and the defection of peripheral members.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS UNDER CONSIDERATION

A survey of toll calls of selected LABPP leaders continues, with the result of these reviews being considered for counterintelligence proposals.

The Los Angeles Division continues to follow arrests of members of the LABPP for violations of Anti-Riot and Gun Control laws, to determine if any of these individuals might be prosecuted under Federal or State laws. Liaison with logical sporting goods stores and firearms outlets continues in an effort to identify members of the LABPP purchasing firearms.
